FORMER PRINCELY STATES

THE integration of what used to be called Princely India with the larger India was completed in 1950

When the process of merger was complete the position of the former 552 Princely States was as follows 216 states with an area of 108,739 sq miles and a population of 19,158 000 were merged with the Governors States Sixty one States with an area of 70,769 sq miles and a population of 7 305,000 were converted into Centrally administered Chief Commissioners States And 275 States with an area of 217,358 sq miles and a population of 40 156 000 were merged into States Unions under Rajpramukhs

The number of Centrally administered units formed out of the old Princely States was 7 Himachal Pradesh, Kutch Bilaspur, Bhopal, Tripura, Manipur, and Vindhya Pradesh

The number of States Unions formed out of the old Princely States was 5 Saurashtra Rajasthan, Madhya Bharat, Patiala and East Punjab States Union, and Travancore Cochin

The total area affected in all was 387,893 sq miles and the population 60,783 000

There were only three former States which retained their old frontiers Hyderabad, Jammu and Kashmir and Mysore

Today the position is the same with two exceptions 1 Ten of the States which at first merged into Vindhya Pradesh were later merged with Uttar Pradesh 2 Out of the seven Centrally administered area three obtained legislatures with a partially responsible Ministry in 1952 These three were Bhopal, Himachal Pradesh and Vindhya Pradesh Himachal Pradesh and Vindhya Pradesh have Lieutenant Governors

PROPERTY AND PRIVILEGES

Every Covenant between a Ruler and the Government of India contains a clause fixing the Rulers privy purse which is calculated to cover the expenses of the Rulers and their families including such expenses as those on residence, marriage, ceremonies, etc

The privy purse is guaranteed by Article 291 of the Constitution, the money being a charge on the Consolidated Fund of India, subsequently to be recovered wholly or partly from the States Governments

The basis of calculation is the revenue of the State For the first lakh the Ruler is allowed 15 per cent, for the next four he is allowed 10 per cent, above 5 lakhs 7½ per cent, the maximum being 10 lakhs This maximum is exceeded only in the case of the Rulers of some of the major States recognized as viable, and even here it is agreed that the amount is to be paid only during the life time of the present Ruler

The total annual privy purse commitments amount to 5 8 crores at the present time When the amounts guaranteed to certain rulers during their life time are refixed the total annual expenditure on this account would be reduced to 4 crores Then there are the savings resulting from fixing the privy purses which will, it is calculated, amount to about two crores exclusive of the savings in Vindhya Pradesh, Patiala and East Punjab States Union, Baroda and Kolhapur

Here, for instance, is a list of the annual pensions which are to be paid to some of the Rulers of the former States during their life time only Jaipur, Rs 18 00 000 Jodhpur Rs 17 50,000 *, Bikaner, Rs 17,00 000 Patiala Rs 17 00,000, Baroda, Rs 26,50,000 Travancore Rs 18 00,000 Indore, Rs 15 00 000 Hyderabad Rs 50 00,000 Mysore Rs 26,00 000 Gwalior, Rs 25 00,000, Bhopal, Rs 11 00 000

Here is a list of other Princes with privy purses amounting to Rs 10 lakhs and over

Kolhapur 10 00 000, Mewar 10 00 000, Nawanagar 10 00,000 Bhavnagar 10 00,000 Rewa 10 00,000

The question of private property was settled by the States Ministry on an ad hoc basis, mainly through discussion between the representatives of the Ministry, the Rulers concerned, and the representatives of the Governments of the States or Provinces No uniform system was followed in settling the question The criterion applied was that if a building, for instance, was used exclusively by the Ruler or his family, it was considered to be his private property and if it was used for public purposes, it automatically became the property of the State

The main features of the settlement are The Ruler is entitled to retain the palace in which he lives He can also have one more residential building only, either at a sea side resort or at a hill station All buildings in excess of these are to be made over to the State

In no case is the Ruler allowed to retain any land except where there is positive proof that the land is his ancestral property Even here, he is subject to the tenancy laws of his State and has to pay taxes like any other landowner Generally no forest areas have been given to Rulers, though limited rights of grazing and obtaining fuel have been recognized in some cases Shooting rights are conceded in well defined areas subject to the laws in force in the place The principle involved in agricultural land is that the Ruler is not entitled to any income besides the privy purse In fact, wherever proprietary right over land is recognized it is done mainly on the ground that many ex-rulers have the time and the resources to undertake modern and mechanical methods of farming The States Ministry has however restored to the States administrations thousands of acres of such land and in the case of one Ruler, 154 big villages have been taken away and handed over to the State

The States Ministry declined to recognize the grant of lands made by Rulers to their relatives or others on the eve of integration or merger of their States In cases where such assignments were made long before the integration, the property becomes subject to land assessment and tenancy laws of the Union or of the province

Several Rulers are stated to have parted with their money and investments without demur For example, the Maharaja of Gwalior made over to his Government Bombay Improvement Trust scrips bearing an annual interest of about Rs 50 lakhs Similarly, the Gangajali (reserve fund) of Rs 1,62,37,000 was also given to the State The Maharaja of Baroda agreed to create a trust with a corpus of Rs 2 crores the income from which was to be available for works of public utility in the territory of the former Baroda State and the advancement of education

Jewellery—priceless sapphires, emeralds, diamonds and pearls were all divided into two categories Those actually used by the Ruler himself and those used as regalia at State functions A list was then made of the jewels falling into the latter category and though the Ruler could keep this jewellery in his custody the Union Government or the Provincial Government, as the case may be, were given the right of inspection and check up

The Rulers had a civil list reserve funds intended to relieve the State of the expenditure in connection with marriages, etc This was allowed to be retained by the Rulers

Temples and properties attached to them are constituted into trusts Temples situated within the palaces were classed as personal property

Half the number of cars of Rulers, some of whom maintained fleets of 50 and more, were assigned to the State and are now being used by Ministers and other State officials

Some Rulers were generous enough to make over to the State larger slices of property than they were obliged to do under the terms of the agreement The Maharaja of Travancore for instance granted to the State property to the extent of as much as 20,000 acres

There are some 35 palaces and houses belonging to Rulers in Old and New Delhi about which no decision was taken Some of the States administrations claim them as State property while the Rulers challenge the claim

The States Ministry arranged for the payment of pensions "in deserving cases," which include the aged mothers of certain Rulers, widowed sisters and other near relatives having no personal property

The final result of the award is that most of the Rulers have been left with one fourth of what they considered as their private property, the rest going to their Government

When the administration was taken over the new Governments inherited cash balances and investments of the value of nearly Rs 70 crores During the settlement of the private properties the Rulers gave up their claims to approximately another 4 5 crores Other property given up includes palaces, buildings, stables, garages, shops and aeroplanes

There is a clause in every Agreement which says that all the rights and dignities (enjoyed till then by the Princes) would continue under the new constitution These Agreements are excluded from the jurisdiction of law courts by Article 363 while Article 362 requires every legislative or executive authority to give due regard to the clauses of the Agreement in the exercise of its functions Some of these rights have already been outlined Others may be mentioned here The Princes are guaranteed succession according to law and custom Then there are minor rights and dignities which vary from State to State and are exercisable both inside and outside the State No exhaustive list has ever been drawn up of such privileges and dignities, though some like the use of red plates on cars, immunity from civil and criminal jurisdiction and exemption from customs duties are well known

GENERAL ELECTIONS

Elections were held in Princely India on the same basis of adult franchise as in the former British Indian provinces

The Congress emerged as the largest single party in all Princely States except two It did not succeed in obtaining an adequate majority in PEPSU and Travancore Cochin Unions with the result that ministerial stability in these two Part B States could not be guaranteed

The Congress and other political parties faced bitter opposition from Princes or the candidates belonging to royal families Actually the Congress suffered serious reverses in Rajasthan at the hands of Princes and other royal candidates The late Maharaja of Jodhpur provided the spearhead of electoral opposition and the present Chief Minister of Rajasthan, Mr Jai Narain Vyas was defeated by the Maharaja in person in two constituencies

This provoked political agitation on the part of Congressmen and other candidates who alleged that the Princes had exploited their power, prestige and position for political advantage at the polls It was even alleged that some of them had won elections by means of a campaign of terrorism against the voters

Princely participation in the elections led to a more serious complication in Saurashtra The Congress was returned with an overwhelming majority but after the elections the Congress Ministry had to carry out vigorous investigations into the manner in which some members belonging to royal families had supported Congress opponents

It was alleged that these Princes had helped and supported notorious dacoits of the State in launching a campaign of terrorism against the voters in a desperate effort to dislodge the Congress Ministry and take power Among the Princes and members of royal families who were arrested in this connection were Prince Nirmal Kumar Sinhji of Bhavnagar, Prince Fatehsinhji of Limbdi, a Girasdar leader, Prince Kalika Prashad, younger brother of Maharaja of Morvi, Thakur Chandrasinhji of Dhrol, a member of the Saurashtra State Assembly and Mr Harisingh Gohel, former president of Rajkot Municipality and Secretary of Girasdars Association

* Died in aircrash The present ruler gets Rs 10 lakhs

In PEPSU also the Congress and other parties faced considerable opposition from princely candidates, prominent among them being the Nawab of Malerkotla but the Congress concern in this States Union was due to the fact that the Akali Dal and other opposition parties had reduced its chances of securing an absolute majority

Despite this, the Congress in PEPSU did better than was predicted and managed to form a Ministry with the support of a few independents who came forward to support the Congress

If in PEPSU the right wing parties had snatched away a good number of seats from the Congress, in Travancore-Cochin Union it was the left wing parties that registered an unexpectedly large number of successes The Congress itself was a divided house in Travancore Cochin but it managed to emerge from the elections as the largest single party With the support of a few independents the Congress formed a Ministry though its tenure of office was very precarious

In the second general elections in PEPSU and Travancore Cochin the Congress did well in the former and took office, while in the latter it was defeated though it emerged as the largest single group

HYDERABAD STATE

Capital Hyderabad

Districts Aurangabad, Bhir, Parbhani, Nanded, Gulbarga, Raichur, Osmanabad, Bidar, Medak, Mahbubnagar, Nalgonda, Nizamabad, Hyderabad, Warangal, Kareemnagar, Adilabad, Khammam

Hyderabad State, formerly known as the Nizam's Dominions, forms the eastern portion of the Deccan The State lies between 15°10′ and 20°40′ N, and 74°40 and 81°35′ E, covering an area of 82,168 square miles The population according to the 1951 census is 18,655,108 The languages spoken are Telugu, Marathi, Kanarese, Hindi, Lambadi and Urdu

About two thirds of the State consists of an extensive plateau with an elevation varying from 1,250 to 3,000 feet above sea level The remaining portion lies at a lower altitude reaching down to 350 feet above sea level

The river system of the State consists of two great basins, that of the Godavery and the Krishna The former with a length of more than 600 miles in the State has a number of tributaries, the chief of which are the Painganga, the Wardha and the Parentha from the north, and the Manjera and the Maner from the south The Krishna forms the boundary of a number of Districts in the State and also part of the southern frontier of the State Among its tributaries the most important are the Bhima, the Musi on which the capital stands, and the Tungabhadra, which forms the southern boundary of the Raichur Mudgal Doab The State, specially the Telingana region, abounds in tanks and artificial lakes constructed mainly for the purpose of irrigation

The State may be divided into two fairly definite regions, the western, generally called Marathwada and the eastern called Telingana, although the State contains some Kanarese speaking population as well If a line were drawn from the confluence of the Tungabhadra and the Krishna in the south to the confluence of the Manjera and the Godavery in the north, and extended right up to the Hyderabad-Berar boundary, this would serve as a good demarcation of the two tracts The two regions differ not only linguistically but also in their physical formation, for the Marathwada is covered by trappean rock, while the Telingana has granitic and calcareous formation The western trap or black cotton soil region (which is continued northward in Berar) is the land of wheat and cotton, while the granitic Telingana is the land of rice and jowar Moreover, the former is covered with luxurious vegetation, cliffs, crags and undulating hills, while in the granite and limestone region the hills are bare of vegetation and the land is covered with huge fantastic tors and boulders Also as the soil in the east is sandy, the rivers dry up in hot weather, necessitating the storage of water in tanks and artificial lakes for purposes of irrigation

POLITICAL SET-UP

Since, H E H the Nizam agreed to integrate Hyderabad State with the Indian Union the contemplated elections to form a constituent assembly were cancelled, and instead General Elections were held under the new Constitution of India The new Legislative Assembly consists of 175 members including 31 members of Scheduled Castes and 2 of Scheduled Tribes The State returns 25 members to the House of the People out of which 4 seats are reserved for Scheduled Castes The elected members of the Legislative Assembly have returned 11 members to the Council of States

Almost all the local bodies have been reorganised so as to be representative in character

Besides the two Corporations of Hyderabad and Secunderabad, there are 26 Municipal Committees, 125 Town Committees and 16 District Boards functioning at present in the local administration of the State

CIVIL DIVISIONS

For purposes of revenue administration the State is divided into 17 Districts and 138 Taluqs (including 9 Mahals, i e Sub-Taluqs)

Each District except Khammam is under a Collector assisted by a Revenue Assistant, and each subdivision consisting of two to four taluqs is placed in the charge of a Deputy Collector Khammam is placed under an Additional Collector with the over-all supervision of the Collector, Warangal

The names of the Districts, Taluqs and Mahals into which the State is divided are as follows —

Aurangabad District Aurangabad, Kannad, Vaijapur, Gangapur, Bnokardan, Ambad, Patthan, Jalna, Jafferabad, Khuldabad and Sillod

Bhir District Mominabad, Manjgaon, Gevrai, Bhir, Ashti, Patoda and Kalji

Parbhani District Parbhani angakhed, Pathri, Jintur, Hingoli, Basmat and Kalamnuri

Nanded District Deglur, Kandhar, Billoli, Nanded, Hadgaon, Bhokar, Mukhed and Mudhole.

Gulbarga District Aland Gulbarga, Chitapur, Afzalpur, Shahpur, Jeevargi, Tandur, Seram, Kodangal Chincholi, Yadgir and Shorapur.

Raichur District Raichur, Gadwal, Alampur, Manvi, Deodrug, Lingsugur, Gangavati Sindhnur, Kopbal, Yelburga and Kushtagi

Usmanabad District Latur, Tuljapur, Usmanabad, Kalam, Omerga, Owsa, Bhoom and Parendah

Bidar District Homnabad, Udgir, Ahmedpur, Nilanga, Bidar, Zahirabad, Naryankhed, Suntapur and Bhalki

Medak District Medak, Siddipet, Sangareddi, Vikarabad, Narsapur, Gajwel and Andole

Mahbubnagar District Mahbubnagar, Makhtal, Pargi, Shadnagar, Wanaparti, Kalwakurti, Atmakur, Nagarkurnool, Kolhapur and Achampet

Nalgonda District Bhongir, Jangaon, Miriyalguda, Devarkonda, Rammannapet, Huzurnagar, Nelgonda and Suriyapet

Nizamabad District Nizamabad, Kamareddi, Armur, Yellareddi, Bodhan and Banswada

Hyderabad District Hyderabad West, Shahabad, Hyderabad East, Medchal and Ibrahimpatan

Warangal District Warangal, Parkal, Mulug, Mahbubabad, Borgamphad, Yellandu, Paloncha, Khammam and Madhira

Karimnagar District Jagtiyal, Sirsilla, Huzurabad, Parkhal Metpalli, Mahadeopur, Karimnagar and Sultanabad

Adilabad District Adilabad, Kinwat, Boath, Nirmal, Asifabad, Sirpur, Rajura, Chinnur, Laksettipet, Khanapur and Utnur

The total population of the State as has already been stated is 18,655 108 There are over 22,000 villages Hyderabad City, the capital, has, according to the last census in 1951, a population of 1,085,722 (includes Secunderabad), Warangal 133,130, Aurangabad 66,636, Gulbarga 77 189 Besides Telugu, Kanarese, Marathi and Urdu, which are the chief languages of the State, there are languages so geographically apart as Tamil, Punjabi, Malayalam, Rajasthani, Gujarati and Bengali

COMMUNICATIONS AND TRANSPORT

The City of Hyderabad is the railway communications centre From here lines radiate east, south, west and north The line which goes east passes through Warangal and joins the Madras Calcutta line at Bezwada The line which goes south connects with the Madras Bombay line at Guntakal The western line links up with the Madras Bombay line at Wadi The northern line goes northwest rather than north and joins the main Bombay Bhusaval line at Manmad The total mileage open for traffic is 139,566 This Railway is now in the Central Railway system

The Railway used to operate a Road Transport Service covering 5,116 miles, which has now been converted into an R T Corporation This includes suburban and district services A large fleet of buses is maintained for this purpose

The State has 6,176 miles of road of which 5,368 miles are metalled 746 miles murum road, 51 miles C C road and 10 miles tar road In addition to the above, a further length of about 400 miles of other roads is under construction

Hyderabad City is connected by air with Bombay, Nagpur, Madras and Bangalore There are 2 major aerodromes in the State - Begumpet and Hakimpet aerodromes There are also one intermediate aerodrome, 4 minor aerodromes and 2 landing strips

Hyderabad City has an automatic telephone system with one main exchange and three satellite exchanges and with 1,798 connections in the City and in the suburbs

Besides the above, there are Telephone Exchanges at Warangal, Janogan and Bhongir, connected to Hyderabad by long distance lines There are also Telephone Exchanges at Raichur Nanded, Nizamabad, Latur, Jalna and Aurangabad These Exchanges have also been connected to All India Trunk to encourage business and thus enhance trade

Thirty eight Public Call Offices are working in Hyderabad, Aurangabad, Bhongir, Bidar, Bhir, Jangoan, Jalna, Kurnool, Kurnoolpeta, Kurnool Chowk, Naravanguda, Raichur, Trimulgherry, Warangal, Secunderabad S O, Kingsway Post Office, Bolaram Bazar Post Office, Trimulgherry Post Office, Gulbarga, Jadcherla, Khammameth, Nizamabad, Sailoo, Nanded, Peddapalli Perbhani, Nalgonda, Mahboobnager, Barsi, Gadwal, Shahabad, Latur, Karimnager, Hingoli, Alland, Yadgiri, Osmanabad, and Sirpur Kagaznager These stations put through Trunk Calls, all over India and foreign countries

Eleven Radiophone Stations have been opened at Hyderabad, Munirabad, Aurangabad, Raichur, Kothagudam, Nizamabad, Nizamsagar, Nanded, Osmanabad, Bidar and Adilabad These stations put through Trunk Calls, in addition to accepting messages from the public where there are no telegraph offices

Seventy seven Combined Offices have also been opened in Hydera bad to facilitate the receiving and sending of telegrams to all places Besides this a Phonogram system has also been introduced in the State which enables telephone subscribers to send and receive their messages over their telephones

The telephone system was taken over by the Indian Posts and Telegraphs Department on April 1, 1950

There are two radio broadcasting stations, one at Hyderabad and the other at Aurangabad, the latter being a regional station Both these are now controlled by A I R

MINERAL RESOURCES

Hyderabad has long been known for gold diamond and iron mines, the Konasamudram steel known as Indian wootz was used in the manufacture of the world famous Damascus swords

At present coal is mined at Kothagudium Tandur Sasti and Yellandu and the output from all the coalfields in 1952 was 14 34,194 tons

Gold was being mined at Hutti in Raichur District and the Hutti (Nizam s) Gold Mines Ltd , which had a successful career for nearly 20 years closed down its operation in 1920 after the first world war Gold mining has been revived at Hutti and a new company the Hyderabad Gold Mines Ltd , was formed to work the mines Production started in October 1948, and output of gold in 1952 was 9,291 53 fine ounces

The world famous Golconda diamonds were mined along the Krishna valley particularly round about Partial in Warangal District In the nineties of the last century, the Hyderabad Deccan Co worked the Partial mines and collected about 3,444 stones weighing 2 085 carats Since then there has been no serious effort to prospect or mine for diamonds

The iron ores of Hyderabad are mostly siliceous low grade ores and are abundantly found in Adilabad Karimnagar, Warangal and Raichur Districts The quantity of iron ores available in these localities is estimated at about 40 million tons ranging upto 40 per cent iron , the richer ores do not occur in large quantities anywhere The Hyderabad coals are non coking and the exploitation of the iron ores has to wait modern developments in the technique of iron smelting

There are abundant ceramic raw materials likeKaoline white and refractory clays felspar and quartz suitable for the manufacture of pipes pottery porcelain sanitary ware, refractory bricks as well as glass The clay deposits of Adilabad and Bidar Districts supply raw material for local consumption About 1,957 tons of white clay were quarried in 1952

The Muscovite (ruby) mica deposits of Kallur, and graphite mines in Palonchа in Warangal District, produce marketable quantities of the materials Abrasive materials like corundum, garnet staurolite and other valuable minerals like zircon kyanite and andalusite are found in parts of Warangal District About 1,000 lb of mica was produced in 1950

Stray deposits of chromite occur in Madira taluq while old workings for copper have been noted in Raichur Gulbarga, Warangal and Nalgonda Districts Extensive old workings also occur near Yellamballu not far from Kothagudium collieries Iron pyrites, a source for sulphur in sulphric acid manufacture, is found as thin layers and lenses in the coal seams at Tandur and Kothagudium but only about 30 to 40 tons of the mineral can be collected in a month from both the collieries

Soapstone or steatite deposits in Karimnagar District are worked by Sirpur Paper Mills which quarried 205 tons of the material in 1952, for use in their factory Coloured clays ochres, lithomarge and bole suitable for paints and distempers are found in commercial quantities in various parts of the State During 1950 39 tons of red ochre was extracted

The building stones of Hyderabad are perhaps one of the most important and useful mineral assets of the State The hard, durable and varied coloured granites yield unlimited supplies of excellent building material for heavy construction and decorative work They take a smooth and fine polish The lime stone deposits supply large quantities of flag stones for flooring and roofing and also for construction purposes These limestones are available in different colours, take a fine polish and provide excellent material for flooring and design work The Government controlled limestone quarries produced about 2 00 438 tons of flagstones and 45 764 tons of building stones in 1952

Marble in white, grey, yellow, black and streaked varieties is obtained in large quantities in Warangal District The quarries worked successfully in the recent past, and there is a large scope for the development of this industry on a large scale Marble is also burnt for making superior quality lime About 44 tons of marble were extracted in 1952

The limestones are suitable for cement manufacture The Associated Cement Co , Ltd , at their Shahabad Works, use the locally available limestones and shale as raw material In 1952 the output of cement was 1,88,720 tons and the company quarried 2 24,723 tons of limestone

FORESTS

The State possesses 9,455 square miles of forest The forests in the east are good, while those in the west have little economic value The principal forests are situated in the Districts of Adilabad, Warangal, Karimnagar and the Amarabad Taluq of the Mahbubnagar District Forests capable of producing fine timber are confined to the eastern parts of Adilabad, Karimnagar and Warangal Districts along the river Godaveri The State has 7,304 acres under afforestation and 1,000 families are engaged in afforesting the waste belts of the Marathwada Districts

AGRICULTURE

Agricultural conditions differ considerably in the three main regions of the State In the Telingana tract, which is generally full of hills and valleys, wet cultivation is carried on a large scale, the water being supplied by tanks and irrigation reservoirs The number of major tanks is 8 000 and of minor 25 000 Conditions in the Marathwada country are quite different as the rainfall is less and the soil so rich that the ryots are never anxious to grow wet crops In some places advantage has been taken of the water obtainable from rivers and wells, and garden crops which are more profitable than dry crops, are extensively grown Conditions in the Karnatak tract are much the same as in the Marathwada, and the ryots are not anxious to grow rice This is the reason why the Telingana people generally have rice and the Marathwada and Karnatak people wheat or jowar

There are usually four crops in the year in the Telingana, namely, kharif, rabi, abi and tabi, but in the Marathwada where irrigation sources are very limited only two crops are raised namely kharif and rabi These are known as dry crops because they are cultivated without the help of artificial irrigation and depend on the monsoon rains The principal kharif crops are yellow jowar, bajra cotton, sana kodru, til, groundnut castor, kangi, maize and pulses such as moong, urad, toor and kulthi The principal rabi crops are cotton, white jowar, chenna (Bengal gram), karad wheat, linseed, chillies sugarcane and tobacco

Hyderabad is second in the Indian sub continent only to the pre partition Punjab and Madras in the number of horses and sheep The State has excellent indigenous types of cattle, classified as the Krishna Valley type the Red Khandari type the Deoni type, and the Malvi type Buffaloes however form the main source in most Districts for the supply of milk and ghee There is a special breed of buffaloes in the western tracts of the State and these are a very satisfactory source of supply of both milk and ghee Stud bred stallions have been posted in the Marathwada tracts while the Stud Farm at Hingoli has been transferred to the Army A sheep breeding farm has been established at Mahbubnagar Cross breeding with the Bikaner type is making good progress

Main food crops of the State Rice Wheat Barli, Jowar Bajra Maize Ragi and other small millets

Main cash crops of the State Groundnut Castor Linseed, Sesamum Sugarcane Cotton and Tobacco

Total production of Food Crops 16,66 519 tons

Production of individual food crops in 1951 52 Rice (4 36 197 tons) Wheat (45 541 tons) Barley (3 057 tons) Jowar (9 64,948 tons) Bajra (1 04 707 tons) Maize (35 047 tons), Ragi (14,496 tons) Other small millets (62 526 tons)

Production of individual cash crops in 1951 52 Groundnut cake (5 76 087 tons), Castor (60,648 tons) Linseed (31 315 tons) Sesamum (48 868 tons), Rape and Mustard (442 tons) Other Oilseeds (56 147 tons) Sugar cane (2 16,053 tons), Cotton (4,30 012 Bales), Tobacco (4,910 Tons)

JAMMU AND KASHMIR STATE

AREA 92 780 sq miles, Population 4 41 millions (1951), Capital Srinagar

The Jammu and Kashmir State constituting the extreme western section of the Himalayas, lies between 32°17′ and 36°58 north latitude, and 73°26′ and 80°30′ east longitude The total area of the State is 92,780 sq miles—55 sq miles less than the area of Hyderabad, and the population 4,410,000 with an average density of 48 per sq mile For administrative purposes, the State is divided into three provinces Kashmir, Jammu and the Frontier

Non Muslims form about 23 per cent of the total population—a percentage slightly higher than the one which Muslims formed in India before the partition Culturally both Muslims and Hindus belong to the same group Consequently, they speak the same language and have common customs and conventions, and sometimes even places of common worship

About 10 3 per cent of the total population is urban There are 2 cities, 37 towns and 8,740 villages in the whole State

In recent years, the State has made all round progress To give a fillip to State Trade, a network of Kashmir Arts & Crafts Emporia has been established in important cities in India These account for Kashmir goods worth about 17 lakhs annually The State owns a transport fleet of nearly 500 vehicles Distribution of essential commodities within the State is made mostly through multi purpose co-operative societies This has resulted in all areas of the State being fully served with essential supplies and elimination of the black market The State runs two Radio Stations in Srinagar and Jammu From the point of literacy, the State is well ahead of many former States in India, with a University of its own established in 1949 In 1951, there were 2,216 educational institutions in the State including seven colleges one of them being exclusively for women A Kashmiri script has been evolved for the first time in history Text books in Kashmiri have been introduced in elementary schools

The State occupies an important position in the political geography of India as it has common frontiers with China, the U S S R , Pakistan and Afghanistan

EARLY HISTORY

About the beginning of the 14th century Rentchen Shah, a Buddhist fugitive from Tibet happened to capture power and occupy the throne of Kashmir He then wanted to change his religion and adopt Hinduism The Brahmins of the State refused to accede to his request. He therefore embraced Islam, and started a regular campaign to kill the Brahmins

After Rentchen Shah came a long succession of Sultans who for more than two centuries, ruled Kashmir with an iron hand They were followed by the Mughals Then the Afghans captured power in 1750 In 1819 the Afghans were ousted by the Sikhs

Gulab Singh the great great grandfather of the present Sadar i Riyasat, Karan Singh ascended the throne in 1846 Gulab Singh was one of the most important generals in Maharaja Ranjit Singh's army, and after Ranjit Singh s death, became the Prime Minister of the Sikh dominion At the time he had absolute control over Jammu, Ladakh and other adjoining territories and had spread his conquests to Kashmir to the extent that by 1846 he was the virtual ruler of that land That year, in return for his neutrality during the Sikh wars and also for the payment of a small sum of Rs 75,00,000 the British signed a treaty with him whereby they recognized his sovereignty over Kashmir This treaty is called the Treaty of Amritsar It is against this treaty which is described as a sale deed that sentiment in Kashmir is very strong and that the ex Prime Minister of Kashmir Sheikh Mohammad Abdulla led an agitation

Kashmir State has a delightful climate, though winter months are very cold The maximum recorded temperature of the Kashmir Valley is 99 3 degrees and the minimum 11° In Jammu the temperature in summer goes upto 115°, or sometimes even higher, but comes down to 30° and even to 20° during winter in some parts of the State The average rainfall for the whole of the State is 28 45"

Forests hold an important place in the economy of the State They yield fine wood of many varieties, medicinal herbs and also provide game and fodder for the cattle The forest operations do not extend to the Frontier Province which forms three-fourths of the total area of the State In the two remaining provinces, 10 865 sq miles or about 50 per cent of their total areas constitute forest land

Agriculture is the main occupation of the people But the soil is not very fertile Only 5 6 per cent of the total area is cultivable, and the remaining portion is full of mountains and deserts The total amount of land actually under cultivation in the State is about 2,300,000 acres The main crops grown are rice and maize, and in Jammu wheat and maize The State on the whole is deficit with regard to food supply

The Government passed the Big Landed Estates Abolition Act' in 1951, by virtue of which the right of ownership held by a landlord owning more than 22½ acres is extinguished and is thereafter vested in tillers of such lands In pursuance of this Act, the Government has distributed the land held by big landlords (as defined in the Act) among the tillers and thus landlordism, to a large extent, has been abolished in the State

The Land Compensation Committee appointed by the Constituent Assembly presented its report to the Assembly in the last week of March 1953 The Constituent Assembly accepted its recommendations and unanimously passed a resolution on March 31, 1953, that no compensation be paid for land expropriated under the Big Landed Estates Abolition Act

INDUSTRY, MINERALS

Woollen textile manufacturing is the biggest single industry in the State It gives employment to about 300,000 people, including both part time and whole time workers Kashmir woollens, such as shawls, carpets, namdas and gabbas have a world wide popularity During the 18th and 19th centuries especially Kashmir shawls had a wide demand in England, and, as it was expressed at the time, 'adorned the proud est beauties in Europe and the rest of the world'

Next in importance comes the silk industry Kashmir filatures are the largest in the world for a single unit of production, and produce one of the finest quality silks

Papier mache, silver ware, and wood-carving are among the other minor industries of the State

Woollen manufactures, silks, forest products such as timber, herbs, some chemicals, furs and skins, and fruit and vegetables are the main items of export, whereas foodstuffs, textiles, sugar and tea, spices and hardware form the main imports into the State

The following is a list of the minerals found in the State Coal, Lignite (possibilities of petroleum), Bauxite, Iron ore, Copper ore, Lead, Zinc, Nickel ore, Manganese, Gold, Arsenic, Chromite Ochre, Gypsum Graphite, Kaoline, Bentonite, Fuller's Earth, Marble, Slate, Steatite, Serpentine, Baryles, Corrundum (Sapphire and Ruby), Beryl and Aquamarine and Tour mallin There are other minerals too, suitable for glass manufacture But it is not known, whether the exploitation of all these minerals is an economic proposition Coal, Lignite and Iron ore and some other minerals are supposed to be in existence in fairly large quantities

Tourist traffic is one of the main sources of income both to the State and the people It is estimated that before the trouble started in Kashmir, about 40,000 people used to visit that place annually, spending about Rs 1,50,00,000 during their stay of a few months in the Valley Great efforts are now being made by the State to develop this traffic to the maximum possible extent.

To evolve an integrated plan for the progress and prosperity of the State, the Government set up a Planning Committee A Five Year Plan for the development of the State has been prepared The total expenditure under the Plan is estimated at Rs 13 crores —7 crores will be met from Central Assistance Programme and 3 crores from the State Revenues

TRANSPORT

The total mileage of roads maintained by the P W D is about 2,650, out of which 562 miles are metalled, 620 unmetalled and the remaining mileage bridle paths The Five Year Plan provides for the construction of 233 miles of new roads and upgrading of 225 miles of existing roads Jammu is connected with Srinagar by a fine motorable road of 203 miles Being navigable the rivers in Kashmir Valley play a great part as means of transport

The Pathankot Jammu road, 65 miles long, built in three months at a cost of about Rs 3,00,00,000, was opened for traffic by the Prime Minister of India, on July 7, 1948 Considering the sort of country in which it was built the road is regarded as a very remarkable feat of engineering Three important bridges on the road, 2,800 ft , 2,000 ft , and 1,000 ft long were also declared open on July 7, 1948

For the 1953 54 budget receipts were estimated at Rs 479 54 lakhs and expenditure at Rs 469 01 lakhs

A sum of Rs 65 35 lakhs was provided for capital expenditure Besides this provision was made for Rs 204 13 lakhs under the 7 crore part of the Five Year Plan by debit to funds provided from Central assistance

The main sources of income are customs,* land revenue, forests, profits of silk reeling (which is a State monopoly), courts, etc , and the main items of expenditure are salaries, public utility works, education, sanitation, irrigation, electricity, etc

POLITICAL SET-UP

Kashmir acceded to India on October 26, 1947 Simultaneously, to fulfil one of the conditions of the acceptance of accession by the Government of India, the Maharaja invited Sheikh Mohammad Abdulla, President of the All Jammu and Kashmir National Conference, to form an interim Government, and to carry on the administration of the State The interim Government later changed into a full fledged Cabinet, with Sheikh Abdulla as the first popular Prime Minister

The Maharaja withdrew from the State and handed over power to his 21-year old son who was to act during his absence as a constitutional ruler The latter, Yuvraj Karan Singh, formally took over from his father on June 20, 1949

For the first time in history, the people of Kashmir elected a sovereign Constituent Assembly which met in Srinagar in October-November 1951 The Constituent Assembly had before it four main tasks, (1) to devise a Constitution for the future governance of the country, (2) to decide the future of the ruling dynasty, (3) to decide whether or not compensation should be paid to the landlords whose lands had been transferred to the tillers and (4) to declare its mind on the future affiliations of the State

On November 20, 1951 was promulgated the Jammu and Kashmir Constitution (Amendment) Act which amends 42 Sections of 78 clauses of the old constitution By this the State attained complete and unfettered responsible democratic government

*Now abolished See below

The new enactment transferred power from the ruler to the popular Government and gave legal recognition to the principle of full, responsible Government which, in theory only, was enforced by the Maharaja's proclamation of March 5, 1948

Independence of the judiciary was fortified further by extending the normal tenure in keeping with the law in other parts of India The Board of Judicial Advisers was retained

The enactment also amended the oaths of office for Ministers and Judges Unlike the old oath under which one had to swear and owe allegiance to the Maharaja, his heirs and successors the new one specified allegiance to the Constitution of the State as by law established

The amended Constitution authorised the Constituent Assembly to convert itself or set up another body to discharge the functions of the State Legislature until the new one was elected The Government would be collectively responsible to that Assembly which would be unrestricted in its powers The Legislature will have the right to legislate for all parts of the State, even Azad Kashmir The Government has been given extra territorial jurisdiction not enjoyed by any other State in India

The report of the Basic Principles Committee was presented to the Constituent Assembly on June 10, 1952 On June 12 the Assembly adopted the recommendations of the Committee and passed a resolution terminating hereditary rulership in the State and making the office of the Head of the State (Sadar i Riyasat) elective The resolution added

"The Head of the State shall be a person recognised by the President of the Union on the recommendation of the Legislative Assembly of the State

The resolution fixed the term of the office of the Sadar i Riyasat at five years On 14th November, 1952, the Legislative Assembly elected Yuvraj Karan Singh as the first Sadar i Riyasat He was sworn in on November 17, 1952

The constitutional position of Kashmir is now based on the Delhi Agreement between Mr Nehru and Sheikh Abdulla concluded in 1952 July

The provisions as set forth by the Drafting Committee were accepted by the Kashmir Constituent Assembly on February 15, 1954

They were to be brought into force through an order of the President under Article 370 of the Indian Constitution on April 13

Kashmir is now legally a part of India while retaining certain autonomous rights The division of powers between the Centre and the State are clearly demarcated and there is no concurrent list Residuary powers vest with the State The emergency powers of the President will be exercised only on the advice of the State Government Though citizens of Kashmir will be citizens of India also, within the State they enjoy a special position in respect of Government service and purchase of immovable property

The Supreme Court of India will serve as the Appellate Court for Kashmir It will have the power to interpret the constitution of the State It will thus have the power to enforce the fundamental rights accepted by the State—rights with safeguards for land reforms and such security measures as the Public Security Act

As in the rest of India the Centre and not the State will levy income tax and certain excises, and also customs duties

INDIAN INSTITUTE OF CULTURE

6 North Public Square Road, Basavanagudi, Bangalore City

Objects (1) To establish a Centre affording opportunities for cultural and intellectual development, (2) To spread correct ideas on education, especially of adults and of youth (3) To promote exchange of thoughts among the various States of India and other countries of the world towards establishing true national and inter national concord and co operation

For the furtherence of these objects, the Indian Institute of Culture has had since August 1945 a Cosmopolitan Home, and since the opening of its free public library in July 1947, has had a regular weekly programme of lectures on a wide variety of cultural subjects, alternating with discussion group meetings, at each of which an outstanding recent book is orally reviewed and then discussed or a paper specially sent for the purpose is read and its points considered

In 1951 a new building was erected in the Institute's grounds, housing the growing free library and offices and providing an auditorium seating 300

Numerous lectures, papers read and book reviews have appeared in The Aryan Path, the Institute's monthly organ

Membership is open to all

Honorary Secretary, Dr I S Doraswami, M Sc, Ph D, F A Sc

INDIAN INSTITUTE OF SCIENCE

Bangalore 3

The Institute owes its origin to the munificence of J N Tata, whose plan for establishing a Research Institute, was brought to fruition after his death by the generosity of his two sons, Sir Dorabji Tata and Sir Ratanji Tata, supported by the Government of India and the Government of Mysore The Institute began work in July 1911 with the two fold object of advanced instruction and research in science and engineering

The departments of the Institute provide facilities for post graduate research in Inorganic Chemistry, Physical Chemistry, General Chemistry, Organic Chemistry Bio chemistry, Physics, Aeronautical Engineering Internal Combustion Engineering, Metallurgy, Power Engineering (Electrical, High Voltage, Mechanical, and Civil and Hydraulic Engineering), Electrical Communication Engineering, and Chemical Technology and Chemical Engineering

There is also provision for post graduate instruction in Aeronautical Engineering Internal Combustion Engineering Metallurgy, Power Engineering (Electrical Mechanical and Civil and Hydraulic Engineering), Electrical Technology, Electrical Communication Engineering and Chemical Engineering, and for background teaching in Economics and Social Sciences, French and German The departments are well equipped and have adequate staff

The Library of the Institute contains about 47,625 volumes of current journals and books

Conferments Diplomas (D I Sc) are awarded by the Council on the recommendation of the Senate to students who have completed satisfactorily courses of studies approved by the Senate

Associateships (A I Sc) equivalent to 1st Class M Sc, degree of a University are awarded by the Council on the recommendation of the Senate to students possessing prescribed minimum qualifications who have devoted a minimum of five consecutive terms entirely to research and have presented a thesis of the work done during the period

Memberships (M I Sc) equivalent to the Ph D, degree of a University are awarded by the Council on the recommendation of the Senate to students who are Associates or who hold Diploma of the Institute in Power Engineering or a 1st Class M Sc, or M Sc, by research and who have devoted three terms entirely to research and have submitted thesis of the work approved by the Senate

Fellowships (F I Sc) equivalent to D Sc, degree of a University are awarded by the Council on the recommendation of the Senate and with the previous approval of the Visitor to members who have spent three years at the Institute or in actual practice and have done original and valuable research work or made an outstanding contribution to the advancement of scientific or industrial knowledge and to Associates who have spent four years at the Institute or in actual practice and have produced similar work or made similar contribution

Honorary Fellowships of the Institute may on the recommendation of the Council, be conferred by the President of India who is the Visitor of the Institute on persons who have attained eminence in the field of science or industry or who have rendered signal service to the Institute

Six HT-2s lined up at Palam airfield.

First INDIAN AIRCRAFT

NOW IN SERVICE WITH THE IAF

The all-metal basic trainer HT-2 designed and built in India is a two-place low-wing monoplane, outstanding in its class HT-2 is of full aerobatic category and possesses excellent flying characteristics The aircraft is powered by a Cirrus Major III Engine of 155 h p

Next aircraft of our own design would be the HT-10 an advanced military trainer This is now under development

We are also building

VAMPIRE JET FIGHTERS under license

Our facilities are also utilized for the overhaul and repair of

DAKOTAS, LIBERATORS, DOVES, TEMPESTS, Etc.,

on behalf of the IAF, Indian Airlines and operators Overseas.

HINDUSTAN AIRCRAFT LTD.

BANGALORE, INDIA

Picture showing single and double deck bus

STURDY BUSES

Built from ALL-METAL KITS

Transport operators can now erect fully assembled buses in their own workshops using HAL prefabricated kits There is no need to send their chassis to the body-builder's works

With its low maintenance cost the all-metal body will last as long as any modern heavy-duty chassis

Advantages :

(1) Robust all-metal construction in superior steel and aluminium

(2) Light weight construction ensures economy of operation

(3) Easy Meccano Assembly of body from Prefabricated Components

(4) All kit components jig built and interchangeable

(5) Superior design and Engineering Technique

(6) Attractive appearance

OUR OTHER IMPORTANT ACTIVITIES

Manufacture of all-steel railcoaches—over 450 already completed and delivered to Indian Railways

Manufacture of Locomotive spares

Test Laboratory

We also solicit other Commercial manufacture orders requiring high-grade Ferrous and Non-Ferrous castings

The Sirhand Canal which takes off from Ruper Headworks feeds Punjab and PEPSU territory The total authorised full discharge of Sirhand Canal is 9,040 cusecs The details of PEPSU area which is irrigated from this project are given below —

On Patiala branches 1,990,000 acres

On Punjab branches 593,000 acres

The Bhakra Nangal Project is a multipurpose river valley project

The project envisages the construction of a dam about 680 ft high at Bhakra on Sutlej river 40 miles north of Rupar and construction of Nangal Dam, about 8 miles below Bhakra Dam It is proposed to take off Nangal Hydel Channel having an authorised full supply discharge of 12,500 cusecs from Nangal Dam for irrigation of area of the different partners This project will also enhance supplies in Sirhand Canal from 9,040 cusecs to 12,500 cusecs at Rupar It is expected that the project will be completed by the end of 1959 Total PEPSU area which will be benefited from Bhakra Nangal Project will be 1 345,000 acres gross In addition it will also enhance the supplies in old Sirhand Canal system by about 40 per cent The total discharge available for PEPSU area from the project will be about 4,500 cusecs The total cost of the Irrigation part of the project is Rs 111 82 crores and the total liabilities of PEPSU are about Rs 23 50 crores The entire project is being financed through loan from the Government of India and will be completed by the end of 1959

Bein River Project It is proposed to harness the water of Bein River by taking out channel from the existing barrage on the river near Kapurthala and to irrigate about 40,000 acres of land The total cost of the project is Rs 8 88 lakhs, it was to be completed by the end of 1953-54

Narnaul Bund Project. It is proposed to construct a small earthen dam at the confluence of the two small monsoon streams about 2½ miles south-west of Narnaul It is a famine-protection scheme and will supply water for rabi sowing and Kharif maturing to an area of 6,700 acres The total cost of the project is Rs 6 37 lakhs The project was to be completed by the end of 1953 54

Tube-well construction under T C A The existing water allowances on Sirhand Canal system is 1 69 cusecs per thousand acres of C C A which is very low and therefore, most of the areas remain unirrigated In certain tracts, viz Dhuri and Pail, the subsoil water level has risen very high and water lodging trouble has started It is therefore, proposed to install 300 tube wells in Dhuri Malerkotla Pail tehsils supplementing the canal irrigation The total area under the scheme will be 2 4 lakhs and about 80 per cent of this will get water for irrigation This area will be taken off from the Canal system Total cost of the project is 1 93 crores and it is being financed through loan from the Central Government

The project has been finalised and a contract has been signed with Messrs Harold T Smith Inc for its execution

With the completion of Bhakra Dam, about 4,500 cusecs of additional discharge will be available in PEPSU for irrigation purposes The Bhakra Nangal Project will increase the food production in PEPSU by 2 5 lakh tons and the production of cotton by 1 6 lakh bales

The increase in foodgrains on account of other projects will be as below —

Bein River Project 2,000 tons

Narnaul Bund Project 4,000 tons Also a large increase in sugarcane production

GEOGRAPHY

The Aravalli mountains intersect the country from end to end by a line running north-east and south-west The heights of Mount Abu are close to the south western extremity of the range, while its north eastern end may be said to terminate near Khetri almost on the borders of Delhi

There are two main regions, one to the north west of the hills and the other to the south-east On the whole the north west region is sandy, ill-watered and unproductive, it improves gradually as we move from west to east In the extreme west it is mere desert, while towards the east it is comparatively fertile and habitable The only river of any consequence here is the Luni The great desert forming the whole of the frontier between Rajasthan and Sind is covered by sand hills on which grows a kind of coarse grass in the dry season and in the rains slightly richer vegetation The cultivation is everywhere poor and precarious Along the base of the Aravalli range the land is well cultivated

The region south east of the Aravallis is higher, more fertile, and very diversified in character It contains extensive hill ranges, long stretches of rocky wold and woodland The region is traversed by many rivers and in some parts there are wide valleys, fertile table lands and great stretches of excellent soil The chief rivers are Banas and Chambal

There are no natural fresh water lakes in Rajasthan, the only considerable basin being the well known salt lake at Sambhar There are, however, numerous artificial sheets of water in the eastern half of the State The oldest and the most famous are in Mewar, the Dhebar Lake, the Raj Samand and the Pichola Lake at Udaipur city

Rainfall is very unequally distributed through out Rajasthan The summers are very hot hot winds and dust storms are common The winters are very cold The change of temperature between day and night is sudden, excessive and very trying

MINERALS, MANUFACTURES

The most important mineral in Rajasthan is coal, but it is of inferior quality It is generally mixed with the Bengal variety before use Other ores are copper, iron, cobalt but all are present in small quantity The rocks of Rajasthan are rich in building material Limestone is abundant One variety is a fine grained crystalline marble, another variety, the Jaisalmer marble as it is sometimes called is well adapted for fine carving Sandstone is plentiful almost everywhere, varying greatly in texture and colour Fuller's earth occurs in parts of Bikaner and gypsum in Jodh pur Rajasthan has vast salt resources

The more important industries are the weaving of muslin, dyeing and printing of cotton cloths, manufacture of carpets, rugs and other woollen fabrics, enamelling, pottery, and work in ivory, lac, brass, steel, stone, etc Jaipur is pre-eminent for enamelling on gold The best pottery is also produced in Jaipur Brass and copper utensils of daily use are manufactured everywhere Sword blades daggers knives are manufactured in Jhalawar

Among the chief exports are salt, wool, woollen fabrics, raw cotton, oilseeds, opium, ghee, marble and sandstone, hides, printed cloths, camels, cattle, sheep and goats The main imports include food grains, cotton goods, sugar, tobacco, metals, timber and kerosene oil The principal trade centres are the capitals of the former States.

LAND TENURE

Land Tenure Systems in the State

About 41 Tenures of Jagir Land (Section 1 of R L R and R J Act, 1952)

Laws Governing each of these Tenure Systems The Bundi State Tenancy Act, The Bikaner Tenancy Act, 1945, The Marwar Tenancy Act, 1949, The Jaipur Tenancy Act, 1945, The Jaipur State Grants Land Tenures Act, 1947, The Rajasthan Protection of Tenants Ordinance, The Rajasthan Revenue Courts (Procedure and Jurisdiction) Act, 1951, The Rajasthan Produce Rent Regulating Act, 1951, The Rajasthan Agricultural Rents Control Act, 1952

These Tenancy Acts will be repealed when the Rajasthan Tenancy Bill becomes an Act

Brief Summary of the more important provisions of each of these Tenancy Acts Different Tenancy Acts of covenanting States which are in force at present, will be repealed when the Rajasthan Tenancy Bill is enacted This Bill aims at introducing uniform Tenancy Law for the whole of the State and will remove the diversity of conditions prevailing in different parts of Rajasthan in respect of Land Tenures and relations of tenant and landlords

Law passed for expropriating, non proprietary rented class (Zamindari, Jagirdari abolition) The Rajasthan Land Reforms and Resumption of Jagirs Act, 1952 has been enacted for the resumption of Jagir Lands, with the exception of jagirs utilised for the maintenance of any place of religious worship or for the performance of religious service and such jagirs, the income of which does not exceed Rs 5,000 It also contains provisions for allotment of Khudkast land to Jagirdars and for other land reforms, like grant of Khatedari rights to jagir tenants

Main provisions of this Law especially about compensation

Every jagirdar whose jagir land has been resumed has to file within 2 months from the date of resumption, a Statement of claim for compensation in a prescribed form before the Jagir Commissioner On receipt of the statement of claim the Jagir Commissioner shall determine the amount of compensation Principles governing the determination of compensation are —Basic year, Gross income, Calculation of income from rent Net income and amount of compensation money Broadly, the compensation payable to Jagirdar shall be 10 times his net income

Persons who will be expropriated under the Law All Jagirdars and their dependants except those who have got income less than Rs 5,000 from their jagirs

Area of the land that will be released in consequence 82,000 sq miles comprising jagir area in the State

Proportion of this Land to the total area of the State About 40 per cent

Persons to whom this land is to be allotted The landless peasants for Khudkast

This Law has been put into operation with effect from 18th February 1952, but the jagirs have not been resumed due to writ petitions filed by the jagirdars challenging the validity of the Rajasthan Land Reforms and Resumption of Jagir Act 1952 in the High Court of Judicature, Rajasthan The case is still sub judice

Source of acquisition of compensation money From the resources of the State with the assistance of the Central Government

How the tenants are helped to acquire the land so released Rules regarding allotment of land to landless tenants are under contemplation according to which they will be allotted vacant land on application to the local Revenue authorities

Electric power for Rajasthan from Bhakra Nangal Project will be received at Sri Ganganagar and Ramgarh Rajasthan is a partner in the electricity part of the Bhakra Nangal Project, the other two partners being Punjab and PEPSU It is a multi purpose project

The electric power will be generated at Nangal Power Houses No 1 and 2 and Power House at Bhakra Dam This work will be done on a common pool basis In Rajasthan, transmission and distribution of the electric energy will be done for catering the load The works on the generating stations started in 1950 The works for transmission and distribution of electric energy in Rajasthan was expected to commence in 1953 54 and will continue till 1963 64 Major transmission and distribution lines will be completed by 1955 56 and extensions and augmentations of these lines will continue till 1963-64 Total firm power amounting to 105,000 kW would be available in post Bhakra stage

The generation of electrical power will be in three stages The two power stations with an ultimate capacity of 72,000 kW will be situated on Nangal Canal taking off from the Sutlej river at a point 8 miles below the proposed Bhakra Dam and ultimately joining the main river

Electric power from Sri Ganganagar and Rajgarh will be transmitted for distribution to 39 towns and rural areas catering to a load of 10,000 kW It is expected that load will grow very rapidly once the importance of electric light and power is appreciated

The main transmission of the electric power will be made on 66 and 33 kV and the distribution voltage will be 11 kV Length of the new transmission lines will be as follows —

66 kV lines	295 miles
33 kV lines	145 miles
11 kV lines	370 miles
Total	810 miles

The shares of the partners are as follows —

Punjab	62 4 per cent
PEPSU	22 4 per cent
Rajasthan	15 2 per cent

It is expected that financial help from the Central Government would be available in the form of loan In addition to this the Rajasthan Government will finance the project from State funds,

Summary of the total capital cost upto the end of the year 1963 64 of the whole project for Rajasthan is given below —

Common pool pro rata share of Rajasthan	Cost in lakhs of rupees
Production	Rs 187 400
Transmission	, 166 240
Total	Rs 353 640
Rajasthan
Transmission	Rs 241 962
Distribution	233 424
Total	Rs 475 386
Grand Total	Rs 829 026

Estimated rise in output after completion It would be possible to cater a load to the extent of 15 000 kW by the end of the year 1963 64

Chambal River Scheme The planning of this scheme is under finalisation It is a multi purpose type and will serve about 14,000 sq miles and a population of 20 millions in Rajasthan and Madhya Bharat In total 81 localities will be served by this scheme out of which 29 localities fall in Rajasthan

The project has been divided into three stages The first stage will have two Dams with one Power Station near the first dam i e Gandhisagar Dam, the barrage together with the entire canal system and a part of the transmission system 60 000 kW of power will be developed It is expected that the first stage will be completed by 1957 58 The second and third stages consist of three dams with a Power Station at each and a barrage, with the necessary canal and transmission systems

The cost of works is as follows First stage Rs 33 75 crores, Second stage Rs 8 05 crores Third stage Rs 7 50 crores Total Rs 49 30 crores

This will increase power to 200 000 kW The Gandhisagar Dam will be situated at a distance of 5 miles downstream of Chaurasigarh Fort where the boundary between Rajasthan and Madhya Bharat runs through the centre of the river The power potential of the site is 60 000 kW at 60 per cent load factor

The Rana Pratap Sagar Dam will be located at a distance of 22 miles downstream of the Gandhisagar Dam The power potential of the site is 80 000 kW at 60 per cent load factor

The Kotah Dam will be the third in series and will be built in the river gorge about 10 miles above Kotah City with a power station at its foot It will be possible to generate about 60,000 kW at 60 per cent load factor

The project will be financed by the Madhya Bharat and Rajasthan Governments

The load to be catered in Rajasthan by this project —

	Effective demand in kW
Stage I	10 700
Stage II	31,000
Stage III	38,500
Total	80,200

LAND TENURE

Saurashtra is in the forefront among States in respect of agrarian reforms The most important step in this direction was taken by passing three bills to abolish Zamindari and Barkhali systems

The three bills are the Saurashtra Land Reforms Act 1951, the Saurashtra Barkhali Abolition Act 1951 and the Saurashtra Estate Acquisition Act, 1952 The first two came into force on 1st September 1951 and the third in January 1952

The Saurashtra Land Reforms Act, 1951 deals with the agricultural land of talukdars, bhagdars, bhayats cadets and mulgirasias who were the landholders claiming some kind of proprietory interest in the land The second deals with agricultural lands of Barkhalidars whose interest is specifically limited to the usufruct of land The third provides for acquisition by the State of assets other than agricultural land namely waste land, whether cultivable or uncultivable grass land, gauchar roads, rivers etc

Special features of the Acts 1 The representatives of both Girasdars and cultivators help the Government officers in the work of implementation 2 No liability or burden is incurred by the State 3 Those who were tenants at will so far as also those who were superior landholders become occupants of the State and except to a very small extent in respect of land held originally by Girasdars as Gharkhed, there will be no tenants as such The net result of the implementation is that not only the intermediaries are abolished but also that the old tenancy system is almost abolished

With a view to preventing fragmentation of holdings the Government have moved a bill in the legislature This is intended to prevent small fragments of land and thus to ensure the proper size of the holdings necessary for economic and efficient use of land

The Government aims at prohibiting future tenancies after a certain date and to ensure that the system of exploitation by middlemen does not come into being again in some guise or the other A bill has been drafted and circulated for public opinion and in a year or two the principle that land must belong to the tiller and that the owner of the land must till the land personally will have been fully implemented Exceptions will be made in favour of widows minors infirm and those serving in the Armed Forces in the country

ANDAMAN AND NICOBAR ISLANDS

Capital Port Blair

The Andamans are a group of islands of various sizes large and small lying in the Bay of Bengal about 780 and 740 miles from Calcutta and Madras respectively The main part of the group is composed of five large islands, viz, North Andamans, Middle Andamans, South Andamans, Baratang and Rutland Islands generally known as the Great Andamans In cluded in the Great Andaman group are also 204 islets, the two principal groups being the Ritchie Archipelago and the Labyrinth Islands To the south of the Great Andamans is the island of Little Andaman The extreme length of the Great Andaman Islands is 219 miles and the extreme breadth 32 miles, the total land area being approximately 2 508 sq miles These Islands have several very good harbours—Port Blair, Port Cornwallis Mayabunder and Elphinstone Harbour The headquarters are at Port Blair

The Nicobar Islands, are situated to the south of Andamans 75 miles from Little Andaman There are 19 islands 7 of which are uninhabited The total area is about 635 sq miles The islands are usually divided into three groups (Southern, Central and Northern) the chief island in each being Great Nicobar, Camotra with Nancowry and Car Nicobar There is a fine land locked harbour at Nancowry between the islands of Camotra and Nancowry

POPULATION

The total area of Andaman and Nicobar Islands is 3 215 sq miles and the total population according to 1951 census excluding the aborigines is 30 971

Some of the islands are not populated at all some only sparsely while Car Nicobar is densely populated The total population of the islands of the Andaman Group excluding the aborigines was 18 939 in 1941

The population of the Nicobar group was 12 009 The original inhabitants of the islands are of a small Negrito type who live in the forests by hunting and fishing They have no fixed habitation, and do no cultivation , their civilization is about that of the Stone Age Their numbers are not known as they prefer to avoid all contact with civilization

The climate can be said to be temperate as the heat during the dry months is bearable because of the cool breeze from the sea The temperature generally varies from 65° to 95° The average rainfall is about 130 inches, and rain falls from six to eight months in the year The islands have no such season as winter The one great disadvantage is the humidity which varies from 79 per cent to 87 per cent and has an enervating effect

HISTORY

Very little is known about these islands earlier than the year 1789 when the first attempt to colonise these islands was made by Captain Archibald Blair, R N and a colony was established at Port Blair This colony was later moved to what is now known as Port Cornwallis in North Andamans and after a chequered career covering only 7 years the colony was closed in 1796 due mostly to sickness and trouble from the native inhabitants The present colony was actually opened in the year 1858 for the accommodation of a large number of prisoners following the uprising in India used to be called the 'Great Mutiny'

From 1858 to 1942 the islands were used by the Government of India as a penal settlement for convicts serving life sentences and long terms

The islands were occupied by the Japanese in March 1942 and re-occupied by the Government of India in October 1945 The Japanese built a small jetty at Malacca and roads in Car Nicobar which they developed as a supply base

With the re occupation of these islands the penal settlement was abolished

Some displaced families from East Bengal are being settled in Andamans The administration is making all efforts to help these families by giving them land rehabilitation and tacavi loans Extra working members of families are given employment in the Labour Force and Public Works Department

AGRICULTURE INDUSTRY

In the year 1951 52, 38 090 tons of timber and timber products and 44 738 bags of match splints were shipped to India and the revenue from the sale of timber and timber products amounted to Rs 64 45 174 Coconut and rubber are other sources of income

The islands are slowly being made self sufficient in paddy and rice and now grow approximately half their annual requirements No proper survey of the mineral resources of these islands has yet been undertaken

Coconuts are next to timber the most important among the produce of the islands and a major item in the diet of the inhabitants In the Andamans coconuts are mostly confined to the South Andamans Exports which go to Calcutta and Madras generally are in the form of nuts and copra

There is plenty of scope for fruit growing Such fruit as Papaya Pineapple Citrus, Bananas, Mangoes etc can be easily grown The question of starting a canning industry has at times been discussed

The Andaman Islands contain some of the biggest forest estates in the world and therefore as already mentioned the main industry of these Islands is the production of timber The forests contain many valuable species whose commercial possibilities have yet to be thoroughly investigated The better known species are Padauk, Andaman red wood and Gurjan Gurjan is in great demand for the manufacture of plywood Large quantities of soft wood are supplied to match factories

There is a High School at the Headquarters and several primary classes at outlying villages

There is a well equipped hospital at the Headquarters with a separate branch for women and children There are smaller hospitals and dispensaries at the outlying places The incidence of malaria is moderate in areas under control and in other areas the disease is kept in check with regular administration of paludrine Plague, cholera and small pox are unknown

ADMINISTRATION

The Andaman Islands are administered by the President acting through a Chief Commissioner and an Advisory Council of 5 Members The seat of administration is at Port Blair which is connected with Calcutta and Madras by a mail steamer which calls approximately once every 3 or 4 weeks at Port Blair The islands are con*nected to India by wireless telegraphy* An Assistant Commissioner is stationed at Car Nicobar

Under the Constitution of India Delhi is a Part C State responsibility for the administration of which, vests with the President The President exercises control over the State through a Chief Commissioner appointed by him

However, in accordance with the provisions of the Government of Part C States Act 1951, the State has a Legislative Assembly consisting of 48 members representing 36 single member constituencies and 6 double member constituencies The Legislative Assembly has power to make laws in respect of the whole of the State or any part thereof with regard to all or any matter enumerated in the State List or Concurrent List in the VII Schedule to the Constitution, other than the following matters —

(a) Public Order (b) Police including railway police (c) the Constitution and powers of municipal corporations and other local authorities of improvement trusts and of water supply drainage electricity transport and other public utility authorities in Delhi or New Delhi (d) lands and buildings vested in or in the possession of the Union which are situated in Delhi or New Delhi including all rights on or over such lands and buildings the collection of rents therefrom and the transfer and alienation thereof (e) offences against laws with respect to any of the matters mentioned in the foregoing clauses, (f) jurisdiction and powers of all courts with respect to any of the said matters and (g) fees in respect of any of the said matters other than fees taken in any court

Provided further that nothing shall derogate from the powers conferred on Parliament by the Constitution to make laws with respect to any matter for the State or any part thereof

There is a Council of Ministers with the Chief Minister at the head to aid and advise the Chief Commissioner in the exercise of his functions in relation to matters with respect to which the Legislative Assembly has power to make law except in so far as he is required by any law to exercise any judicial or quasi judicial functions

The responsibility for the discharge of other functions of Government with respect to which the Legislative Assembly has no powers to make laws vests in the Chief Commissioner acting through the permanent Civil Services

The State has one seat in the Council of States and four seats in the House of the People Of the latter, one seat is reserved for the Scheduled Castes

In the Assembly of 48 members the Congress has 39 seats Jan Sangh 4, Independents 2 Socialists 2 Hindu Mahasabha 1

GREATER DELHI

Delhi State is really the size of a district The majority of its population lives in the urban areas of Delhi with its suburbs, New Delhi and Shahdara

The State is divided into a number of Municipal units (see below) The integration of the urban units into a Corporation was the subject of an enquiry in 1947

A Corporation Act is due to come before Parliament according to which all the existing local bodies except those of New Delhi are to be merged into a Corporation

The Greater Delhi area comprises the following administrative units —(1) New Delhi Municipal Committee (2) Delhi Municipal Committee (3) Civil Lines Notified Area, (4) Red Fort Notified Area (5) Delhi Cantonment, (6) West Delhi Notified Area (7) Municipal Committee Shahdara (8) Notified Area Committee, Najafgarh, (9) Notified Area Committee Narela, (10) Notified Area Committee Mahrauli, and (11) the rural area

New Delhi is an inflated officers colony The density of the population which is thin consists largely of Government officials The density is only 45 persons per acre, as against 500 or more in Old Delhi Apart from the lack of transport facilities, there are not enough post offices, schools or colleges, hospitals, libraries or recreation grounds

This is in striking contrast to Old Delhi which is amply provided with urban amenities though in a haphazard manner

In order to accommodate an inflated population the municipal authorities, with the help of the Central Government embarked on the construction of numerous residential colonies in the immediate neighbourhood of Old and New Delhi Most of these have their own shops, schools, hospitals and police stations

The following is a list of refugee housing schemes which have either been completed or are nearing completion —

(1) Rajendar Nagar (N D N E Area), (2) Patel Nagar (Shadipur Extension), (3) Malkaganj, (4) Nizamuddin Village, (5) Nizamuddin Extension, (6) Jungpura Village Extension (7) Kalkaji, (8) Kingsway (Camp Mud houses, Hudson Lines, Outram Lines Reids Barracks), (9) Band stand Area, (10) Lajpat Nagar, (11) Sheikh Sarai and (12) Azadpur

The main railway station is the junction at Old Delhi from where radiate the railway lines to the Punjab U P Bombay Calcutta and Madras The headquarters of the Northern Railway are located here

INDUSTRY

The main industries are cotton mills hand and powerloom weaving hosiery, pottery flour mills vegetable oil mills and expellers paints and varnishes, rubber goods imitation jewellery copper and brass utensils wire netting sola hats, leather goods, and tanning industry

Traders from neighbouring States regularly visit Delhi to make their annual purchases which include besides textiles hardware hosiery utensils and stoneware

There is also a very flourishing grain market serving local needs

As in all towns different parts of Delhi specialize in different trades The area round about Chandni Chowk for instance is the centre for textiles and general merchandise The trade in copper and brass utensils is located in Chawri Bazar which in addition has a market for hardware Khari Bawli is the granary of Delhi with the adjoining streets specializing in condiments spices pickles dry fruits etc Jal Kuan Bazar is noted for building material while Sadar Bazar deals in wholesale hosiery glass and china ware and general merchandise Silver ware is retailed in Dariba Kalan, while the bullion market is localized in Chandni Chowk

All the important banks are located in Chandni Chowk

Almost all these banks have their branches in Connaught Place which is New Delhi's chief shopping centre

Tourist traffic has grown into a regular new trade Almost all the Indian and foreign air companies have offices in New Delhi

Total land 369 920 acres area under forests 45 acres area not available for cultivation 79 658 acres other uncultivated land excluding fallow land 50 187 acres fallow land 11 282 acres net area sown 224 537 total irrigated area 68,350 acres

The following is a crop wise break up of the area under food and cash crops

Wheat, 51 000 acres Bajra, 55 000 acres Jawar, 27 000 acres, Maize, 3,000 acres Barley 14,000 acres Grams 90 000 acres Sugarcane, 2 000 acres Rape and Mustard seed 4 000 acres, Cotton 1,000 acres, Tobacco 1 000 acres

Till recently Delhi had a large number of gardens where fruit such as bananas, pears, mangoes pomegranate, lokats, figs papais, caster fruit and plums were grown

The pressure of population and anti malaria drives resulted in clearing the land of these gardens

Delhi now imports most of its fruits But on large areas —a total of 4 000 acres—in and around the city vegetables are still grown

The total number of holdings 41 900

The area held in occupancy rights amounts to 17 700 acres or one thirteenth part of cultivated area, tenants at will hold about 71 000 acres

It is estimated that there is one milch animal for every three or four persons The average yield of a cow and buffalo comes to 2 seers and 4 2 seers respectively

The annual average daily production of milk is estimated at 4,285 maunds

There are about 20 poultry farms It is believed about 140 000 eggs are daily imported into Delhi at an annual cost of Rs 45 lakhs A five year scheme is in operation which aims at making Delhi self sufficient in eggs

The local consumption of fish is estimated at 150 maunds a day Fish is at present imported

The Community Projects scheme covers 105 villages A sum of Rs 20 lakhs has been allocated for a period of 3 years Out of this 25 per cent will be contributed by the State Government and 75 per cent by the Centre

Delhi occupies a pivotal point in the net work of national railways, highways and airways

It is one of the biggest railway junctions in the country handling about 23 mail 28 express trains besides several goods and passenger trains every day

All the principal inter-State roads of significance converge on Delhi

It is also linked with important cities and foreign countries by air through its two air ports, Wellingdon and Palam

There are in Delhi 30,000 motor vehicles 600 cycle rickshaws, over 150,000 bicycles, 5,000 tongas, 10,000 motor cycles, 1,500 carts

HEALTH

Birth rate 29 4 death rate 9 61 infant mortality 89 93

There are 31 hospitals providing indoor beds for over 2 000 patients The average daily attendance is about 3 200

Some leading hospitals are

NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

As a means of ensuring the maximum utilisation of available manpower and supplying employers with the right type of workers, the Government of India is running an employment organization This organization consists of a network of employment exchanges in the Republic of India and a large number of technical, vocational and apprenticeship training centres

The objects of the organization are:- (1) to place applicants in suitable employment (2) to increase the mobility of labour both territorial and occupational (3) to substitute a free, impartial and scientific system of recruitment for the one through jobbers and mistries which was condemned by the Whitley Commission on labour about two decades ago (4) to assist in organizing training and retraining courses (5) to provide the necessary machinery and suitable data for the adoption of social security measures by the State and ultimately (6) to promote full employment for the man power available in the country

The organization is under the administrative charge of the Directorate General of Resettlement and Employment which exercises powers of control and supervision over the eleven Regional or State Offices

By the end of December 1952 the Employment Exchanges had registered 7 2 0 802 persons of whom 905 41 were displaced persons and placed in employment 1 900 1 38 of whom 200 949 were displaced persons

At the end of 1952 there were 131 Employment Exchanges operating in India in addition to a number of sub offices At some centres decentralisation schemes for industrial workers were organised through the agency of the Employment Exchange Service

As an integral part of the employment organisation the Directorate General of Resettlement and Employment is running technical and vocational training institutes/centres where training is imparted in more than 60 technical and vocational trades At the end of December 1952 there were 34 technical 16 combined and 11 vocational training institutes/centres (including 4 for training of women) In these institutions 10 512 persons including 2 513 displaced persons and 426 women were under training In addition to above 195 displaced persons were undergoing apprenticeship training in 206 industrial undertakings in Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal

With a view to ensuring a steady supply of trained instructors for running technical and vocational training centres both Government and private a central institute for training instructors has been set up at Kond near Bilaspur in Madhya Pradesh By the end of December 1952 it had turned out 871 instructor trainees and there were another 118 under training

have earned a Name in the

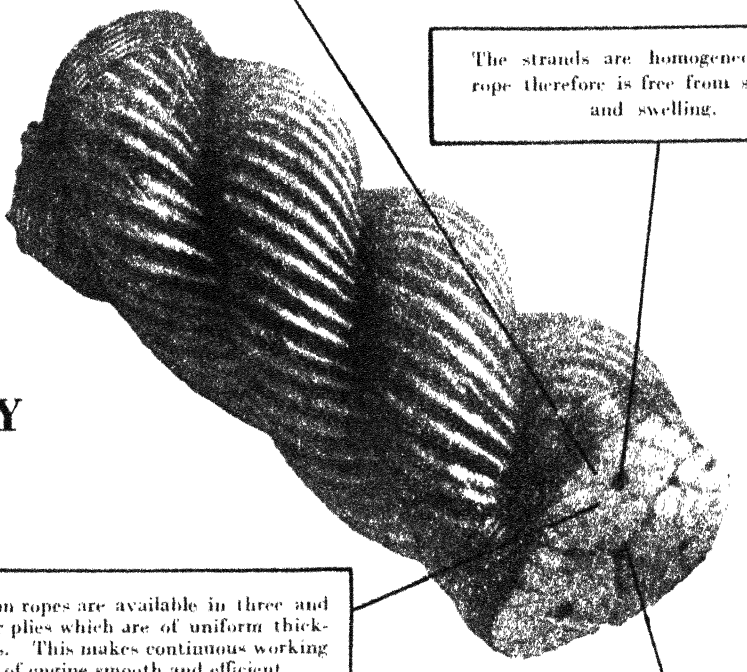
TEXTILE INDUSTRY

for

Strength

Durability

Economy



Agon ropes have a greater number of even twisted yarns of fine counts. These give the product added toughness and strength.

The strands are homogeneous. The rope therefore is free from stretching and swelling.

Agon ropes are available in three and four plies which are of uniform thickness. This makes continuous working of engine smooth and efficient.

Agon ropes are greased with anti-fraying compound which gives strength and durability to the rope.

FOREIGN POSSESSIONS IN INDIA

FRANCE and Portugal are now the only remaining European powers with territorial interests in India after the withdrawal of the British

FRENCH SETTLEMENTS

Area 200 sq miles Pop 323,295 (1941) Capital Pondicherry, Commissioner of Republic M A Menard

The French establishments in India are

(1) On the Coromandel Coast (a) Pondicherry the capital, together with the adjoining territory, divided into 8 communes, (b) Karikal and the dependent districts divided into 6 communes

(2) On the coast of Orissa Yanam with the dependent villages the lodge of Masulipatam and the garden Francepeth,

(3) On the Malabar Coast Mahé with the adjoining territory and the lodge of Calicut

The French possessions are ruled by a Commissioner of the Republic, appointed directly by the French Government and is guided by the French India Representative Assembly The Assembly has not much powers and its decisions can be overruled by the Commissioner

Chandernagore in West Bengal is the first French India possession to become de jure a part of the Indian Union after the treaty for its cession, signed in Paris in 1951 by the representatives of the two Governments The Treaty was ratified by the French Assembly on April 11 1952

Negotiations in regard to the transfer of other French Indian possessions in south India have not yet reached a conclusive stage despite repeated efforts of the Indian Government to expedite a settlement *

On a suggestion of the French Government the International Court of Justice appointed three neutral observers two European and one Asian to study conditions in the French Settlements in India and report back to the Court on the question of the feasibility of holding a referendum

The observers mission was to report whether conditions existed for a fair and free plebiscite in the French settlements According to the Indian Government the team reported that these conditions did not yet exist

COMMERCE AND INDUSTRIES

Domestic commerce is insignificant as the area is too small The chief crops are rice groundnuts, peas, lentils vetches, onions and other vegetables, betel, indigo sugarcane, bananas and other fruits coconuts and oleaginous grams The major portion of these products is consumed in the districts themselves the only markets being the towns of Pondicherry, Karikal, Yanam, Mahé

The chief exports are oil seeds which are sent from the ports of Pondicherry and Karikal The imports are mainly manufactured goods, textiles and luxury articles from France and the countries of Europe

There are at Pondicherry 3 cotton mills The cotton mills have in all about 2,000 looms and 86,000 spindles giving employment to some 7,000 people Besides these there is one oil factory, several oil presses for groundnuts and one ice factory

The only bank is La Banque D Indochine which caters for the needs of merchants and traders in the locality

The Customs Union which was established as a result of negotiations with the Government of India in 1941 expired in 1948 and has so far not been renewed

A railway line connects Pondicherry with Villupuram, a junction on the Southern Railway

At Pondicherry alone, there are at present, besides the Law School, and the Medical College, one undenominational college for higher education, one secondary school, 5 public institutions for higher primary education, four schools preparing students for English examinations, fifteen public schools for boys, eighteen public schools for girls and twenty nine co educational all imparting primary education

PONDICHERRY

Area 115 sq miles Population 235 000 (estimate)

Pondicherry is the chief of the French settlements in India and its capital is the seat of the Government The city is situated in the district of South Arcot in Madras State, about 89 miles from Madras

There is no harbour but only a roadstead which is the best on the entire coast Ships lie at a distance from the shore and contact with land is maintained by means of the usual masula boats peculiar to this part of South India

KARIKAL

Karikal is situated in the Tanjore District and consists of a single tract of territory stretching along the east coast between Tranquebar and Nagore It is at a distance of 90 miles from Pondicherry It covers an area of 53 sq miles and is divided into 6 communes containing 110 villages The establishment has a population of 60 755, according to the 1941 census Karikal is the terminus of a line from Paralam on the Tanjore District Railway

YANAM

The town is situated in the delta of the Godavari covering an area of 5 miles and is an enclave of the District of Godavari in Andhra State The soil is fertile, and supports a population of 5 711

MAHÉ

The territory of Mahé on the west coast consists of the town of Mahé on the left bank of the river of the same name and the isolated district of Nalutara on the right bank containing the 4 villages of Chambara Chalakara Palour and Pandaquel It lies within the District of Malabar in Madras State, and covers an area of 26 sq miles

The present population is estimated at 22 000 Rice is grown where water is plentiful

PORTUGUESE SETTLEMENTS

Area 1,537 sq miles Pop 624 177 (1941) Capital Cidade de Goa, Governor General General Paulo Benard Guedes

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICIALS

Governor-General, General Paulo Benard Guedes
Commander in Chief (Comandante Militar), Colonel Alexandre dos Santos Mayer
Elected Members of the Governor's Council (Conselho do Governo), Vitola Visnum Sinai Dempó, Dr José Luis Marcos de Silva Pereira, Adv Antonio Avelar Barreto, Vassudeva Atmarama Porobo Dessai Desporobo
Governor of Daman, Capt Paulino de Magalhaes Correia
Governor of Diu Capt Paiva Couceiro
H E the Patriarch of East Indies, D Jose da Costa Nunes
Indian Consul General in Nova Goa, Vincent H Coelho
Vice-Consul for Goa G A Prabhu
Supdt Indian Union Customs Office, Marmugao Harbour, G M Murdeshwar

The Portuguese settlements in India are three Goa Daman Diu

All the three settlements are situated within the State of Bombay Goa is on the Konkan Coast Daman along with the small territory of Pragana Nagar Avely lies on the Gujarat coast at the entrance to the Gulf of Cambay and Diu is a tiny islet and along with the isolated spots Gogola and Simbor lies on the southern fringe of the Saurashtra peninsula

GOVERNMENT

The Governor General is the head of the administration and is stationed in the capital Cidade de Goa formerly known as Nova Goa and also Panjim

Associated in the task of government is the Conselho do Governo possessing restricted legislative and advisory powers The Governor-General is its ex officio president Five members are elected by means of a very exclusive franchise, three to represent the Velhas Conquistas, one the Novas Conquistas and one the districts of Daman and Diu Five others are nominated to represent the minorities, agriculture, commerce and the press

Daman and Diu have each a District Governor

In each district there is a District Council for the supervision of the various municipalities and other local bodies in its jurisdiction For administrative purposes the district is divided into Concelhos each Concelho being in the charge of an official styled the Administrador and for judicial purposes it is divided into circuits or Comarcas each having its own court of original jurisdiction

An appeal lies from the decisions of these courts to the Tribunal de Relacao or High Court sitting in the capital and side by side with the latter there is also a Tribunal Administrativo to dispense justice under droit administratif

A striking feature of the rural administration is the continuance of the ancient Indian institution of the village community which has disappeared elsewhere in India In places where the resistance to Portuguese domination has continued almost to our own day, as in the southern communes of Goa, Assolna, Cuncolim and Velim, the village communities were suppressed and their estates confiscated by the Government

The village community is an autonomous institution, socialist in its organization under which land is held in common by the original settlers of the village here called the Gaunkares, thus preventing concentration of land in the hands of a few and promoting a rough equality, while preventing the domination by privileged few The management is vested in a committee elected by the constituents

The advent of Dr Oliveira Salazar to power and the establishment of his Estado Novo has led to increasing centralization in the administration of Portuguese India All measures of importance must be initiated by and carry the sanction of the home government in Lisbon The Governor's Council, Conselho do Governo which assists him was shorn of what little legislative powers it formerly possessed There are no elected municipalities and local boards in the villages Each municipality is in charge of an administrative committee nominated by the Governor General, who also appoints the presidents of all charitable and cultural associations in the country

* A conference between the Government of India and the French Government started in Paris on May 15, 1954 to settle the future of the French possessions in India

A stringent censorship controls the freedom of the press, and every article, book or pamphlet has to be submitted to the board of censors before it appears in print Infringements of the press laws are severely dealt with and newspapers are required to keep security deposits with the Government before being licensed for publication

Freedom of association is likewise controlled No public meeting or assembly, be its purpose ever so innocuous, may be convened without previous permission of the authorities, and every intended talk and speech must bear the censor's visa

The chief agricultural products of Goa are rice, coconuts cashew-nuts, betel nuts, mangoes and sugar cane Of these only cashew nuts betel nuts coconuts and mangoes are exported in any considerable quantities the rice grown not being sufficient for local consumption Other exports include copra, bamboos salt salt fish and manganese and iron ore The only industries worthy of note are soap manufacture, tile manufacture sugar and tinned food products and jaggery The imports consist of rice, textiles and other manufactured goods, an unrestricted supply of which is just now available owing to the uneven situation created by the currency export regulations in force in the Indian Union, there being no such regulations in Portuguese India

For the last four years, the iron and the manganese mining industry has made rapid headway and Goa now is in a position to export one million tons of iron ore and 150 000 tons of manganese ore These two industries bring in a sum of Rs 5 crores in American dollars

Businessmen and industrialists from all over India have been attracted to Goa and a lot of Indian capital has been invested because of the high returns which these mines are yielding

Most of the trade of Portuguese India is with the Indian Union Pakistan, Portugal Portuguese African colonies and the countries of Europe

There are no banks operating in Portuguese territory with the exception of the Banco Nacional Ultramarino which has offices in the major towns No Indian bank can open branches in Goa as the Banco Nacional has a monopoly The Indian Government compelled the Portuguese Bank to close its branch in Bombay because Indian banks were not allowed to trade in Goa

A railway line maintained and run by the West of India Portuguese Guaranteed Railway Company, once a subsidiary of the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway, joins the port of Mormugao with the junction of Londa on the Southern Railway It fulfils a very important role by providing an outlet to the sea for the products of this part of the Mahratta country

Mormugao, which is the chief port is also one of the major ports on the west coast of India and is open to ocean going vessels of every size from all parts of the world

EDUCATION AND CULTURE

Primary education is free and compulsory in schools maintained by the State of which there is at least one in every village There are at present some 200 primary schools controlled and administered by a Board of Primary Education, Conselho da Instrucacao Primaria with offices in the capital

In Cidade de Goa there is a Lyceum for the study of Portuguese a Normal School and a Medical School

A Theological Seminary trains young men for the priesthood at Rachol

Over and above these there are a number of English teaching High Schools run by private enterprise and by religious orders preparing students for the S S C examination of the Bombay Government and the Entrance Examination of the University of Bombay

The Bibliotheca Nacional houses what is perhaps one of the best libraries of rare books and manuscripts on the west coast of India while the Arquivo contain an inexhaustible wealth of hitherto unexplored historical material

DAMAN

Daman in Gujarat includes the two isolated enclaves of Dras and Pragana Nagar Avely, lying to the south east and crossed by the Daman Ganga river

The entire territory has a total area of 62 square miles and a population o some 60,000 inhabitants mostly of Gujarati extraction

It is easily reached from Bombay by the Western Railway, being at a distance of 1½ hours journey

There are some very interesting historical relics here such as the old fort and a few surviving churches reminiscent of the old times

DIU

About 150 miles to the north west of Daman lies the tiny islet of Diu off the southern coast of Saurashtra It is a small town separated from the mainland by a narrow arm of the sea Dependent on it and surrounded by the territory of Junagadh is the enclave of Gogola and also the island and fort of Pani Cota in the bay of Simbor

Diu is reached from Bombay by the Western Railway via Viramgam and Delwada Access by sea is easier and more rapid but there is no harbour There is an excellent roadstead where ships can safely anchor in two fathoms of water

Area 413 sq miles The population is estimated at 19 731

PRO-MERGER MOVEMENT

A movement for the merger of foreign possessions in India without a referendum particularly in the French settlements started in March 1954 On the 18th of that month resolutions were passed demanding immediate merger in eight municipalities of Pondicherry Some days later similar resolutions were passed by the six municipalities of Karikal The resolutions obtained the full support of the French Indian Councillors (Ministers) and the President of the Representative Assembly

The municipalities that passed these resolutions comprise nearly 90 per cent of the population Telegrams were sent to the President of the French Republic members of the French Cabinet and Presidents of the National Assembly and the Senate

Mass demonstrations occurred followed by counter measures by the French authorities and trespass into Indian territory by the French police In the western areas of Pondicherry – Nettapakkam and parts of Bahour the pro merger parties obtained effective power

Three measures were adopted by the Indian Government to prevent trespass 1 A total ban on the passage of French police across Indian territory to any part of the French possessions, 2 A ban on petrol supplies from India to French possessions 3 Introduction of a permit system to regulate traffic to and from Pondicherry and Karikal

The Indian Government proposed an immediate de facto transfer of French possessions leaving constitutional and other matters to be settled later The French reply was that under the French constitution no transfer of French territory was possible without the consent of the people though a sort of Condominium might be acceptable

The arrest and deportation of a medical practitioner in Goa led to agitation and consequent repression by the Portuguese authorities The Government of India delivered a diplomatic protest note in which the Government said that they could not remain a silent spectator to the repression of the Goan people The protest was rejected by the Portuguese authorities

GOA

Capital Cidade de Goa (Panjim) Area 1 062 sq miles Pop 544 450 (estimate)

A compact block of territory belonging to the Portuguese on the west coast of India, Goa lies between 14°53′ and 15°48′ north latitude and 73°45 and 74°24′ east longitude The territory of Goa is bounded on the north by the river Terekhol, on the east by the Western Ghats on the south by North Kanara and on the west by the Arabian Sea The extreme length from north to south is 62 miles, the greatest breadth from east to west 40 miles The area is 1,062 sq miles

The whole country is hilly, especially in the eastern portion, the predominating physical feature being the Western Ghats There are several conspicuous isolated peaks, the highest of which is Sonsogad, which exceeds 4,000 feet in height

Goa is intersected by several rivers running westward from the Ghats and six of them, which are all navigable, are of great importance They are from north to south, the Terekhol (10 miles), Chapora (18 miles), Mandovi (38 miles), Zuari (39 miles), Sal (15 miles) and Talpona (7 miles)

Though Konkani is the spoken language of all Goans, Marathi is the literary language of the Hindus Portuguese is also widely used

Portuguese India is ruled by a Governor General, and assisting him in the administration are the Home and Political, Finance, Customs, Education, Military, Naval, Agriculture, Health and Public Works Secretariats There are also three special and autonomous departments viz, Posts & Telegraphs, Survey Department and the Fiscal Department of the W I P Railway Working in collaboration with the Governor General is the Council (Conselho do Governo), with legislative and advisory powers The Council consists, in addition to the Governor-General, of an ex-officio President, four officials, five elected members and five members nominated by the Governor-General to represent agriculture, commerce, the Press, minorities and other interests

There is a High Court at Cidade de Goa with five Judges and one Attorney General, and Courts of Justice at Panjim, Margao, Mapuca, Bicholim, Quepem and Daman, and Municipal Courts of Justice at Vasco-da-Gama, Ponda, Diu and Nagaravali

There is an Indian Consulate-General in Goa to look after the interests of Indian subjects in Goa and other parts of Portuguese India A vice consulate has been opened at Vasco

The important towns in the territory of Goa are Panjim, Old Goa, Vasco da Gama, Margao, Mapuca, Valpoi, Sanvordem, Bicholim, Ponda, Sanguem Sanquelim, Pernem, Quepem and Canacona The two most important harbours are Marmugao and Cidade de Goa There are smaller ports at the mouths of rivers, viz, Chapora, Betul and Talpona.

Mormugao is accessible at all times of the year and is therefore the harbour of the greatest commercial importance in the whole territory It is the terminus of the West of India Portuguese Guaranteed Railway (W I P) running to the coast from the eastern portions of the territory and linked with the Indian railway system at Castle Rock It is a natural outlet to the sea for the whole area served by the Southern Railway and provides the shortest route both for passenger and goods traffic to the sea The port is provided with light houses, buoys and all other necessary marks The port has also a fine breakwater and its quay-wall exceeds a height of 1,000 ft The harbour can accommodate six large ocean-going steamers at a time There are a number of electric cranes for loading and unloading purposes, in addition to one 30-ton steam crane specially erected for dealing with heavy lifts There are also suitable covered godowns owned by the Railway Company and the Port Trust which are used for storing seed cargo, minerals, etc The godown rent is comparatively cheap with the result that shipments of oilseeds are effected on a larger scale from Mormugao than ever before

The extension of the port of Marmugao has now been taken in hand

Cidade de Goa, the capital of Goa and a fine port, lies at the mouth of the Mandovi river, and includes Panjim and Ribandar It is the present capital of Goa territory and the seat of the Governor General Panjim is the most beautiful city in the whole of Goa, and has been undergoing many remarkable improvements in recent years, notable amongst which is the provision of electricity There is a regular coastal steamer service between Panjim and Bombay during the summer months, and motor service between Panjim and Belgaum A regular service of steam launches and motor boats managed by the Goa Government runs between Panjim and Betim-Verem and other important places on river banks

The city possesses up-to-date hotels such as Mira Mar and Hotel Republica managed by Europeans, and Madhavashrama, Gujarat Hindu Lodge, etc, managed by Hindus

Vasco da Gama is the chief town of Marmugao District and also a railway, air and wireless station It is a halting place for Tata's Bombay-Trivandrum Air Service and has a fine aerodrome on the headland adjacent to Mormugao harbour There is regular air service between Bombay and Goa

There are also very big oil installations of the Standard-Vacuum Oil Company of New York, the Burmah Shell Oil Storage and Distributing Company (India) Ltd, and the Caltex (India) Ltd in the town The railway station is the most important on the whole of the W I P Railway and the town contains railway workshops, engine sheds and an electric power house Mormugao harbour is only two miles away from the city

Margao is a flourishing city in the Salsette District and a great trading centre Recent amenities are a municipal garden library, cricket ground

Mapuca is situated in the heart of the Bardez District and is the District's chief town It has a large trade with all the villages in Bardez, Pernem and Bicholim Districts The market which is very crowded on Fridays, is situated at the foot of a hill

Valpoi is a small town at the centre of the Satari District and an important military station in Portuguese India The town also contains an observatory

Sanvordem in Quepem Taluka is sixteen miles away from Margao and is a well known commercial place Most of Goan mineral produce is stored at this station before it is shipped to the United Kingdom and Continental Ports via Mormugao Harbour There are two big rice mills which are able to supply rice to adjacent towns and there is also a tile factory The place has a small harbour, and a regular steam launch service runs between Sanvordem and Cidade de Goa touching all the smaller interior ports A crowded fair is held every Sunday, which enables the villagers to get their weekly provisions

COMMUNICATIONS

A railway line connects Mormugao harbour with the Southern Railway Its length from Mormugao harbour to Castle Rock above the Ghats where it joins the Indian Union railway system is fifty one miles, of which forty-nine miles are in Portuguese territory The Railway is under the management of the Southern Railway, and the bulk of the trade of Mormugao Port consists of what is carried by this railway The West of India Portuguese Guaranteed Railway (W I P Railway) has recently been yielding handsome profits sufficient not only to pay the guaranteed rate of interest but also to leave a surplus which is paid regularly into the Lisbon Treasury

There are steam launch services from D Paula to Mormugao and Vasco da Gama, Panjim to Sanvordem, Panjim to Betim-Verem, Panjim to Piligao-Volvoi, and from Panjim to Aldona

The telegraphs in Portuguese Territories are worked as a separate system from that of India

There is a proposal to link principal cities by telephone

The Goa Government has also started an experimental Radio Station which conducts its weekly programmes with the help of local artistes

AGRICULTURE, MINERALS

A little over one-third of the entire territory of Goa is under cultivation The fertility of the soil varies considerably with quality, situation and water supply The staple produce of the country is rice, of which there are two good harvests, but the quantity produced is barely sufficient to meet the needs of the population for two thirds of the year Next to rice, the most important agricultural pursuit is the cultivation of coconut palms Hilly places and inferior soils are set apart for the cultivation of cereals Fruit and vegetables of several kinds are also cultivated Goa mangoes are very delicious and are in great demand in Bombay and other Indian markets Large quantities are exported to Europe every year from Bombay Port The mango season in Goa falls in April and May, although some of the varieties are available in June also Of all the varieties the best ones are "Malcorada" and "Alphonso" which have excellent flavour and taste Other important varieties of Goa Mangoes are "Xavier" "Fernandina", "Colaco", "Malguesa", "Costa", "Pairi" and "Monserrate" The mango harvest begins with "Malcorada" and ends with "Monserrate"

Some agricultural farms have recently been established.

The forests of Goa, located in the Novas Conquistas, cover an area of 116 square miles, and yield some revenue to the Government by the local sale of building material and the export of firewood

Iron is found in some parts of the territory, but has not been regularly mined in spite of heavy demand from Continental ports. High Grade manganese ore also exists in Sanguem District Till lately only a few mines were working, the ore being exported to the Continental and United Kingdom ports At present there is a heavy demand for high grade manganese ore and more than 95 mines are worked on the initiative of Indian business men.

A company has started mining operations with a capital of Rs 2 crores Exports of ore have increased

The export figures of both, the manganese and iron ore are going up The export of these commodities to hard currency areas have greatly favoured the local Government to obtain Dollars in exchange which is mostly utilised in imports of Foodstuffs

There is not much industry worth speaking of though Government encouragement is not lacking Some industries which have recently been established are soap, sugar, candle, confectionery and ice

Goa's trade is chiefly a transit trade from the Indian Union It comprises iron ores, scrap iron, pig iron, groundnut seeds, linseed, cotton seed, castor seed, cotton, oilcakes, salt, mangoes, betel nuts, dry fish and cashew nuts The last are the most important among the produce exported Two notable imports are tiles and timber The need in tiles of the whole southern Maratha country is supplied via the port of Marmugao These come in large quantities from Mangalore and are re exported Some tiles are manufactured at Sanvordem in Goa territory, but the territory as a whole is dependent chiefly on imports from outside In the same way though Goa has some forest timber has to be imported from North Kanara and Dharwar Districts The forests of Goa are yet to be properly exploited A match factory on modern lines has been started in Havelli, Ponda District of Goa

EDUCATION

There is a big demand for English education in Goa as a result of which it has as many as 20 High Schools recognized by the Bombay University These High Schools impart education on the same lines as in Bombay State The Portuguese Primary Schools which are scattered all over the territory are well attended as every student has compulsorily to pass the first primary examination before joining an English school There are over 250 Marathi Schools financed from private funds

Three new technical schools have been started

AIMS AND OBJECTS

The aim of the Hindu Mahasabha is the protection and promotion of all that contributes to the advancement, strength and glory of Hindu Rashtra Hindu culture and Hindu polity, and as a means to that end to achieve Hindu Raj and re establish the integrity of the State of Bharat by constitutional means

Besides the establishment of Akhanda Hindustan the aims and objects of the Hindu Mahasabha are defined as follows

The establishment of a really democratic State in Hindustan based on the culture and tradition of the land

The organisation and consolidation of all sections of the people into one organised whole,

The creation of a new social order in which all nationals will enjoy equal rights and opportunities and share equal responsibilities,

The assurance to each national of the dignity of human values and full freedom of thought, expression, association and worship,

The revival and promotion of the ancient Indian motto of plain living and high thinking, and the glorious ideals of Aryan womanhood,

Adoption of (Sanskrit Nishta) Hindi as the national language and Devanagri as the national script of India

Making of Hindustan politically, economically and materially strong and self reliant,

Removal of all forms of social inequalities and disabilities

(9) Reclamation of all those who have left the Hindu fold and welcoming of others into the community

Ending of gross inequalities in the distribution of wealth assurance of a decent standard of living to each national and securing for workers and peasants their rightful share in the economy of the country,

Industrialisation of the country as rapidly as possible

Promotion of cow protection and abolition of cow slaughter,

Cultivation of friendly relations with other nations with a view to maintaining inter national peace and progress

The present Constitution of India is borrowed from the Constitutions of America, England, France and other Western countries and is not suited to the genius of the people The Hindu Mahasabha would undertake the task of amending the Constitution so that it may be in consonance with the tradition and culture of the land and make Bharat a truly democratic Hindu State

The Hindu Mahasabha wants to discourage all separatist tendencies and hence would amend the Constitution so that Bharat may be a well knit homogeneous State with a strong centre and not a loose combination of autonomous States Bharat itself would be a State and the units would be provinces and not States

The Hindu Mahasabha believes in the policy of formation of provinces on a linguistic basis and the readjustment of boundaries of the existing provinces wherever necessary, with due regard to the problems of defence and security the area population and economic stability of the province concerned and the rehabilitation of the refugees

The distinction between States as Parts A, B and C would be removed and all parts of India would enjoy the fullest democratic rights without any distinction

The Hindu Mahasabha proposes to come out of the Commonwealth in order to make Bharat a really free nation It will enter into treaty relations with the United Kingdom and other countries for mutual help and co operation

India's foreign policy will be guided by the principle of enlightened self interest and reciprocity

The Hindu Mahasabha will adopt the policy of reciprocity towards Pakistan

The Hindu Mahasabha will endeavour to build up a strong defence in the present disturbed condition of the international situation and with this object in view will develop the country as a first rate military power in order to make its voice felt in the United Nations Organisation

The Hindu Mahasabha will make military education compulsory for all young men between the ages of 18 and 25 who are physically fit and special attention will be paid to develop industries connected with war machines and materials of all types

The Hindu Mahasabha will relax the rigours of the Arms Act and issue licences liberally to the inhabitants in border areas

The Hindu Mahasabha recognises the sanctity of private property and guarantees its possession and inheritance to its owners

All key industries such as electricity, railway, coal and steel mines and industries dealing with war materials and weapons will be owned and controlled by the State The remaining industries will remain open for private enterprise In running these industries the Mahasabha assures all investors full facilities to start new industries with State aid and partial exemption from taxation in the initial stages

The Hindu Mahasabha will follow a policy of progressive decontrol as it is convinced that controls without guaranteeing adequate supply of controlled commodities to the public, have only a nuisance value and also often actually lead to blackmarketing and corruption Definite schemes will be formulated for improving the supply of food cloth and other necessities

The Hindu Mahasabha will give priority to rehabilitation of refugees and would even levy a special tax, if necessary, for the purpose The Hindu Mahasabha guarantees compensation to all evacuees who have lost their property in Pakistan and will settle the problem of evacuees properties at Government level speedily The Hindu Mahasabha also declares that the refugees will become full fledged citizens of Bharat The Hindu Mahasabha will take effective steps to recover abducted women from Pakistan

Politbureau Ajoy Ghosh K M S Nambo diripad C Rajeshwar Rao S A Dange P Ramamurty P Sundarayya, Dr Z A Ahmed Harikishan Singh Surjeet
General Secretary Ajoy Ghosh
Membership of party in country about 60 000
Members in the House of the People 27
Members in the Council of States 12
Total number in State Assemblies over 200
Number of votes in General Election about 6 million

The party emerged as the strongest group after the Congress in Madras Hyderabad Travancore Cochin and West Bengal The seats secured by it and its allies in the United and People s Fronts in the various State Assemblies were as follows Madras (61), Hyderabad (42) Travancore Cochin (32), W Bengal (28) Orissa (7) Punjab (6), PEPSU (3), Mysore, Bombay Assam, 1 each

In the elections to the electoral college in Tripura, a small Chief Commissioner s State the Communists, with the Independents sup port secured an absolute majority gaining 16 of the 30 seats

The Party failed to secure any seats in Bihar, Madhya Pradesh, Madhya Bharat Rajasthan, Saurashtra, and Uttar Pradesh Assemblies, though it had put up a total of 110 candidates in these States

AIMS AND OBJECTS

The basic aim of the Party as defined in the preamble to the Constitution is ' the organization of the toiling masses in the struggle for the victorious anti imperialist and agrarian revolution for complete national independence, for the establishment of a people s democratic state led by the working class, for the realization of the dictatorship of the proletariat, and the building up of socialism according to the teachings of Marxism Leninism

The aims are described in more concrete terms in the draft programme of the Communist Party issued in April under the name of the Politburo The Politburo also decided " to radically re orientate its tactical line in view of recent dis cussions among its members

It calls for the confiscation and nationalisation of all foreign capital, complete withdrawal from the British Commonwealth of Nations and a united front with ' peace loving countries and friendship with them ", having first brought about a " cessation of flirtation between world Power blocs and leanings towards the United States of America It also harks back to a programme of what was once called " 100 per cent Swadeshi "

The Party does not press for the immediate establishment of socialism ' in view of the back wardness of the economic development of the country ", but only a " coalition of all demo cratic anti feudal anti imperialist forces in the country "

On the question of India s lingua franca and national unity, the statement says " In the name of a united country, the language of one province, namely Hindi, was declared an obliga tory State language for all nationalities and States to the detriment of their own national language Vast areas and millions of people of one nationality are compelled to live under the rule of bureaucrats and governments dominated by another nationality '

As for the practical tasks which would face the new People s Democratic Government , the programme lists the following in the field of State structure

' 1 The sovereignty of the people, i e , the concentration of power in the country in the hands of the people The supreme power in the State must be vested entirely in the people s representatives who will be elected by the people and be subject to recall at any time upon a demand by the majority of electors, and who shall constitute a single popular assembly, a single legislative chamber

2 The restriction of the rights of the President of the Republic, in virtue of which the President and persons authorised by him will be deprived of the right to promulgate laws, which have not been passed by the legislature The President shall be elected by the legislature

" 3 Universal equal and direct suffrage for all male and female citizens of India who have attained the age of eighteen years in all elections to the Legislative Assembly and to the various local government bodies, secret ballot, the right of every voter to be elected to any representative institution, payment to people s representatives, proportional representation of political parties in all elections

' 4 Local Government on a wide scale and with wide powers through People s Committees The abolition of all local and provincial authorities appointed from above (e g , governors, magis trates, commissioners, etc)

" 5 Inviolability of person and domicile unhampered freedom of conscience, speech, press, assembly, strike and combination , freedom of movement and occupation

' 6 Equal rights for all citizens irrespective of religion, caste, sex, race or nationality , equal pay for equal work, irrespective of sex

' 7 The right of all nationalities to self determination The Republic of India will unite the peoples of the various nationalities of India not by force but by their voluntary consent to the creation of a common State

8 Reconstitution of the present artificial provinces or States with the dissolution of princely States into national States according to the principle of common language The tribal area or areas where the population is of specific composition and is distinguished by specific social conditions or constitutes a national minority will have complete regional autonomy and regional governments

" 9 Introduction of progressive income tax in industry, agriculture and trade and maximum relief in taxation for workers, peasants and artisans

" 10 Right of the people to receive instruc tion in their own national language in schools the use of the national language in all public and State institutions The use of Hindi as an all India State language will not be obligatory

" 11 The right of all persons to sue any official before a People s Court

" 12 Separation of the State from all religious institutions The State to be a secular State

" 13 Free and compulsory primary education for the children of both sexes upto the age of fourteen

14 Replacement of the police by militia Elimination of the mercenary army and other punitive forces and the establishment of a national army, navy and airforce for the defence of India, closely linked with the people

" 15 The establishment of a people s health service with a wide network of medical centres and hospitals all over the country, de signed to liquidate centres of cholera, malaria, and other epidemic diseases in the country '

The programme next touches upon the rural problem which is of primary importance to the life of the country In order to remove the evils at the root of agricultural and cultural backwardness, it will be necessary, according to the draft programme

1 To hand over landlords' land without com pensation to the peasants and to legalise this reform in the form of a special land law

2 To ensure long term and cheap credit for the peasants to enable them to purchase agricul tural implements and seeds To ensure long term and cheap credit to small artisans to enable them to purchase raw materials, etc

3 To ensure Government assistance to the peasants in the improvement of old and the building of new irrigation systems

4 To cancel debts of peasants and small artisans to money lenders

5 To ensure adequate wages and living condition to agricultural labourers

In order to break through the vicious circle of the low purchasing power of the peasants and workers, who for that very reason provide a very poor market for the country s industrial output the programme suggests that it will be necessary

1 To provide for the protection of the national industry against the competition of foreign goods in the country by promulgating appropriate laws ,

2 To develop the national industry and to prepare conditions for the industrialisation of the country without sparing any efforts and resources of the State to achieve this end ,

3 To improve radically the living and work ing conditions of workers by fixing a living wage, application of the eight hour day and forty-four hour week in all industries and trades, introduc tion of a six-hour day in underground mines and other trades injurious to health social insurance at the expense of the State and capital list against every kind of disability and unemployment, by the establishment of labour exchanges working in association with the Trade Unions, by the establishment of industrial courts by the recognition of the Trade Unions and the right to collective bargaining,

4 To introduce effective control of prices of goods of mass consumption

There should be a Government of Peoples Democracy—a Government of all democratic parties, groups and individuals representing workers peasants, middle classes and the national bourgeoisie, the bourgeoisie that stands for genuine industrialisation of the country and for the freedom and independence of India

Such a Government, would break with the British Empire, expel British officers from armed forces, confiscate and nationalise all British capital cancel all peasants debts and transfer all lands of landlords and Princes without payment, to the tillers, develop national industries with the aid of confiscated foreign capital and by enlisting co operation of private industrialists, guarantee living wage to workers and recognise their right of collective bargaining, create a national army closely linked with the people, abolish the police force and form a people s militia, for national States by abolishing Princely States, reconstruct present States along linguistic frontiers and create a united India by the voluntary consent of nationalities and tribal peoples, protect the rights and interests of minorities eliminate social and economic disabilities due to sex and caste, introduce free and compulsory primary education and a people s health service, rehabilitate refugees establish trade and economic relations with all countries on the basis of equality, fight for a Pact of Peace between the Great Powers for banning of atom bombs and withdrawal of all foreign troops from all countries and establish a pact of friendship between Pakistan, Ceylon and India

The new State will have all the organs from the lowest to the highest on elected basis these elected organs will have the supreme power

Has the largest number of members in Madras
Total number of votes polled in General Elections
House of the People 17 352 950
State Assemblies 15,397,913

AIMS AND OBJECTS

The Party believes the reconstruction of the country can best be achieved on the basis of an egalitarian social order free from political and economic exploitation and wedded to personal freedom

The yearnings of the people for clean and efficient administration and expanding and equitable economy can be realised only through decentralisation in administration and economy

Local initiative and local control must, therefore, be the pivot of our administration and economy

Village or a group of small villages should be the unit of both administration and economy Inside the village there has to be full democratic functioning

To vitalise rural economy, land must belong to the tiller of the soil It must be redistributed in economic holdings

The Party will foster and encourage co operative farming and distribution

Economic development should be effected mainly with the help of local resources in men material and skill

To this end the Party advocates decentralisation of industry

It also envisages the development of a new technology based on small machines operated by power, capable of distribution in small units

Such a technology not only harmonises with the economic and social conditions in our country but would create circumstances which would eliminate bureaucratic control

As regards key industries foreign trade and the sectors of economy where capital tends to accumulate and power concentrate the policy of the Party will be one of nationalisation

To enable democratic checks and participation nationalisation will generally be worked out through autonomous corporations in whose control and conduct the workers technicians consumers and other allied interests are represented

The Party stands for a free trade union movement that is trade unionism free from the control of government employers and political parties

Fullest realisation of civil liberties is one of the major objectives of the Party

The spirit of austerity and of swadeshi so far as goods manufactured by decentralised industries are concerned will be fostered

The principle of swadeshi can be extended to centralised private enterprise on the basis of fair price and standard of goods Both public finance and foreign trade will be so reorganised as to work out the above policy

Economic equality and social mobility with democratic functioning are the ultimate guiding principles

In foreign policy, the party favours a policy of neutrality and non involvement and co operation with like minded forces in other countries

In defence the policy will be one of maintaining minimum armed forces and building up of a popular militia

Central Executive Committee Jogesh Chandra Chatterjee, N Sreekantan Nair M P Tridib Kumar Chaudhuri, M P Keshab Prasad Sharma Pratul Chaudhuri S Bhattacharjee R Roy S V R Achariar Makhan Paul, Balrup Sharma, C Baby John, V Mahadesh kar

AIMS AND OBJECTS

R S P is a Marxist Leninist Workers and Peasants Party

It unreservedly accepts the doctrinal aspects of communism as propounded by Marx, Engels and Lenin differs from the Stalinist or official Communist interpretation of Leninism in terms of Socialism in one country alone It holds that the international Communist movement directed by Cominform places the exigencies of the foreign policies of the Soviet Union above the interests of the historical demand of the mass movements in those countries

With regard to India it advocates the policy of complete and radical Socialist transformation of the economy of the country, scrapping of the present constitution of India which places all power in the hands of capitalists and landlords and the establishment of a toiling peoples government representing workers, peasants and lower middle classes but excluding capitalist elements altogether

It differs sharply from the present policy of the C P I in decrying co operation with any section of the capitalists which the communists seem to advocate in the name of Peoples Democracy

The party also wants the abolition of all forms of landlordism and all intermediate rights between the State and the tillers of the soil and advocates a programme of radical land redistribution

It similarly wants the immediate nationalisation of all basic and key industries a highly progressive income tax and estates duty and a policy of rapid industrialisation and planned economy

It regards the present foreign policy of the Nehru Government as a satellite policy following in the wake of U S imperialism and British Commonwealth from which it wants India to secede

It opposes Gandhism and Praja Socialism as varieties of social reformism

Party membership is rigidly selective and is dependent on ideological training and practical work under the guidance of the Party

THE SIKHS

Broadly speaking there are three groups among the Sikhs One group forming the main body of the Central Akali Dal is led by Master Tara Singh with Sardar Hukum Singh, a member of Parliament as President It is in favour of maintaining the separate indentity of the Sikh community

The second group is represented by the Panthic Durbar led by the Maharaj a of Patiala This group favours discarding the separate identity of the Sikhs In February 1949 the Working Committee of the Durbar held a meeting in Patiala at which it decided not to have a political programme and not to fight elections as a party

In addition to the Panthic Durbar there is also a large body of Sikhs who follow the Congress or conform to the Congress outlook and think that the sikh should not have a separate organization The strength of this section of Sikhs cannot be definitely stated as it fluctuates with the changing fortunes in the Punjab

The Sikh point of view as such is underlined by two memoranda which are worth quoting The first is a four page memorandum presented by Sikh members of the Minorities Advisory Committee of the now defunct Constituent Assembly to the sub committee which was specifically set up to consider the Sikh case

This memorandum can be regarded as the most authoritative statement of the demands made by the Sikhs from time to time since independence The following demands were set out in the memorandum

1 To avoid becoming a permanent minority equality of representation must be secured in the Punjab or the boundaries of the State must be so redrawn that the resulting province contains a majority of Punjabi speaking people'

2 There must be adequate weightage in the Indian Parliament When the Anglo-Indians, for instance, are given six seats the Sikhs must have proportionate representation

3 In U P and Delhi cognizance must be taken of recent migrations For instance, in U P there would be about 500,000 Sikhs and in Delhi about 100 000

4 In the Punjab and Central Cabinets there must be a convention which assigns a certain number of seats to Sikhs One seat must be assured in the Central Cabinet, while in the Punjab Cabinet if the present boundaries are retained one half of the seats must be allotted to Sikhs

5 In all committees, commissions and delegations there must be one Sikh

The theory on which the claims are sought to be justified is that as in undivided Punjab the Sikhs are opposed to communal majority rule In fact, the opposition is even stronger today because the proportion of Sikhs in the Indian Punjab has increased on account of the partition Other grounds for justification are Sikh suffering in the cause of undivided India, Sikh contribution to the defence of the country and distribution of the community on the strategic borders of India

The creation of a Punjabi-speaking State is justified on the linguistic principle which is recognized by the Congress The new State it is claimed can be formed by cutting off the Districts of Rohtak, Gurgaon and the Tehsils of Bhiwani and Hansi in the Hissar District

To make the area more compact the Punjab States could merge with the new province The Sikhs finally, remind the Congress of its promise to them that the Congress will not be a party to any solution of the communal problem that does not satisfy the Sikhs

About the same time as Sikh members of the Constituent Assembly handed in their memorandum four Sikh scholars issued a lengthy statement discussing the question of what the Sikhs really wanted

Only a little imaginative sympathy is needed, the statement said, to realize the great and unprecedented sufferings of the Sikhs in the recent terrible happenings in the Punjab After describing the sufferings the statement added, Almost 40 per cent of the entire Sikh community can be described as refugees in some form or other

The statement then goes on to say that being a self reliant and sturdy people all that the Sikhs need is opportunity—opportunity to create, construct and thus carve out their prosperity as they did in the old Punjab

Among the most urgently needed relief were the following 1 An announcement that the question of the Gurudwaras left behind in Pakistan was being taken up by the Government of India with the Pakistan Government The Nankana Sahib Gurudwara should be created a free city like the Vatican The other Gurudwaras in Pakistan should be administered by the Nankana Sahib authorities An equivalent of the land attached to the Nankana Sahib and other Sikh shrines in Pakistan should be allotted to the S G P C in the Punjab thus giving the Sikhs an opportunity to re establish their educational and social life, 2 As the worst sufferers among land holders they should be given a generous share in the new colony areas in Hissar and Karnal Districts to make up for their losses in the colony areas of Pakistan, 3 All Sikh refugees no matter where they come from West Punjab, N W F P, Bahawalpur or Sind should be accommodated in the Punjab This will provide a homeland for Sikhs in India, 4 In their rehabilitation policy Government should make no distinction between landlords and tenants, 5 To provide houses work on new townships should be taken in hand immediately and the site of the new capital of the Punjab should be announced without delay

A SURVEY

The enthusiasm and discipline displayed by the electorate was extraordinary the State administrations conducted the polls in an able manner

The present delimitation procedure was too lengthy and cumbersome and unscientific in parts', modifications for the future would be necessary

The fact that the delimitation proposals as well as the electoral rolls were based on the 1941 census figures which were now completely out of date was itself a major deficiency which would be remedied by working on the latest census returns

There might also have to be some slight revision in the number of seats allotted to the different State Assemblies

The electoral rolls would be under constant revision and the omission of some 28 lakh women from the rolls—mostly in Rajasthan and Bihar—on account of the non disclosure of their names, would be made good

In some States more women exercised their franchise than men

Polling was very peaceful and in only six polling stations out of a total of 2,25 000 in the entire country, had polling to be adjourned on account of disturbances Even the crime graph had shown a marked drop during the period

A feature of the elections was that as many as 20 ex Rulers of princely States were elected to State Assemblies and four to the House of the People Seven of these were from Madhya Pradesh five from Orissa and two from Rajasthan Six Rulers were elected on the Congress ticket and seven were officially labelled independents Two belonged to the Ram Rajya Parishad and one was a nominee of the Ganatantra Parishad

Repolling had to be ordered in 348 polling stations, 66 for Parliament and 282 for the Assemblies

The total number of adjourned polls including six due to violence, was 62—33 for Parliament and 29 for Assemblies

Candidates who lost their deposits contributed over Rs 22 lakhs to the public exchequer

There were about five candidates for every Assembly or Parliamentary seat on an average, compared to the previous average of three candidates to a seat

The conduct of these elections during three and half months kept a staff of nearly 5,60,000, some of them specially trained but mostly drawn from teachers Government servants employees of local authorities and other public institutions engaged in manning 2 25 000 polling booths and then counting over 103 592 million votes in the Assembly elections and over 107 578 millions in the Parliamentary elections

Villages displayed greater keenness and enthusiasm in the elections than the more 'sophisticated towns While in villages polling on the whole reached 60 per cent of the electorate, in towns it was only 40 per cent

Keenness was most marked among the old infirm blind and sick persons almost a hundred per cent of whom in many cases came out to exercise their franchise The psychological explanation for this was that these people, frustrated for years, had seized the chance to feel equal with others

The density of polling varied from 30 per cent in the mountainous parts of Himachal Pradesh where communications are difficult to over 70 per cent in the highly literate State of Travancore Cochin

But in most of the States it was round about 50 per cent

PARTY POSITION

India s first adult suffrage General Elections passed into history as the world s biggest General Election because The choosers were 176 million men and women—the world s largest electorate, they chose from among 17 000 candidates representing nearly 75 political parties and the chosen were 3 283 members to fill 22 State Assemblies and 489 seats to the House of the People

The electorate voted the Congress Party to power with absolute majority in 18 out of 22 States and also at the Centre The party was also returned as the biggest single party but short of absolute majority in four State Assemblies

The General Elections commenced towards the end of October 1951 as already mentioned, in the two mountainous sub districts of the Himalayan State of Himachal Pradesh The scene then moved over to the coastal State of Travancore Cochin at the southern tip in November, and slowly worked towards a climax in January when the bulk of voters went to polls

Of the representatives selected for the 22 State Assemblies 2,247 were Congressmen, 124 Socialists 117 came from the Communist Party and its allies, 77 belonged to the Kisan Mazdoor Praja Party, 33 were Jan Sangh nominees 12 represented the Scheduled Castes Federation, and Independents numbered 326

Successful candidates of other parties annexed 237 seats These included Jharkhand in Bihar (32) Janata in Bihar (11) Lok Sewak Sangh in Bihar (7) Forward Bloc (Marxist) (18), Ganatantra Parishad (31) Krishikar Lok Party (22), Akalis (33), Peasants and Workers Party (24), Tamilnad Tollers Party (19), United Socialist Organisation (8), Muslim League (5), Commonweal Party of Madras (6), Travancore Tamilnad Congress (8), and Independent Anti Merger Group in Coorg (9)

Congress Party

The Congress Party, voted to power at the Centre and in 18 States, scored its greatest victories in Uttar Pradesh, the home State of the Prime Minister, and Saurashtra, where it captured 90 per cent of the Assembly seats

In Bombay, Madhya Pradesh, Bhopal and Delhi it secured over 80 per cent of the Assembly seats In other States its strength varied from 53 per cent to 77 per cent except in Rajasthan, where it succeeded in securing a bare workable majority winning 81 of the 160 seats

* Unless otherwise stated Madras throughout this section includes Andhra

† Another ten are nominated by the President to represent certain administrative areas

§ Now called Lok Sabha

†† Now merged into the Praja Socialist Party

Of the 103 592 million votes cast in Assembly elections the Congress which won 2,248 of the 3,283 seats it contested, secured 47 96 per cent

In the four States of Madras Travancore Cochin PEPSU and Orissa, the Party was returned as the largest single party though not in absolute majority

In Orissa, the Party was three short of an absolute majority

The challenge to the Congress in the southern States of Madras and Travancore Cochin came from the Communists and their allies and the K M P Party

But in the north western border State of Rajasthan, formed by the integration of ten former Princely States of Rajputana and in the eastern State of Orissa enlarged in area by the merger of 24 former States, the challenge came from the former Rulers, big landlords and allied forces

In PEPSU the main rival of the Congress was the Shiromani Akali Dal, an organisation of the Sikhs, which captured 19 of the 60 seats in the Assembly as against 25 won by the Congress

In Orissa the Ganatantra Parishad led by the Maharaja of Patna, secured 31 seats, its successes being more marked in Bolangir and Kalahandi Districts former State areas, and the Koraput District, comprising former Jeypur State

In Rajasthan jagirdars and former Rulers contesting either as Independents or on the tickets of Jan Sangh, Ram Rajya Parishad and Hindu Mahasabha upset the calculations of the Congress Party and together secured 62 seats

In Madras the Congress obtained just over 40 per cent of the seats polling 34 6 per cent of the total of 19 229 million votes cast

Six of the Ministers, including the Chief Minister, failed to find favour with the electorate in the State which provided some of the biggest election surprises

Leaders of other parties were equally luckless in Madras

In Travancore Cochin, the Party obtained just over 40 per cent of 108 Assembly seats with the aid of 35 1 per cent of the total of 3 403 million votes cast

Communist Party

Next to the Congress the Communist Party and its allies secured the largest number of seats in the Assembly elections They gained 181 seats out of 587 seats they contested and their nominees obtained 6 04 per cent of the total votes cast

The party had notable success in Travancore Cochin Madras, Hyderabad and in the Part C State of Tripura on the Burma border

Contesting mostly as Independents, Communists in Travancore Cochin combined with the Revolutionary Socialist Party and the Kerala Socialist Party to form the United Front of Leftists and secured 32 seats

In the States of Madras, the Communists won 61 seats in the Assembly

In Hyderabad contesting on the ticket of the Peoples Democratic Front, they annexed 42 seats and in West Bengal 28 seat

In the elections to the Electoral College in Tripura, the small Chief Commissioner s State the Communists and Independents contesting with the support of the party secured an absolute majority gaining 16 of the 30 seats

The Communist Party failed completely in Bihar, Madhya Pradesh, Madhya Bharat, Rajasthan, Saurashtra and Uttar Pradesh, where it drew completely blank though it put up 110 candidates in these States

Other Parties

The Socialist Party* which contested the largest number of seats after the Congress was generally luckless with the electorate

Of the 1,793 candidates who contested the Assembly elections on the party ticket, only 126 were returned The Party candidates, however, polled 9 62 per cent of the total votes cast in the Assembly elections

The largest block of the Socialists returned was in Bihar, home State of their leader Mr Jayaprakash Narayan, where they won 23 of the 264 seats they contested for the 330 member Assembly

The other States where they secured a fair number of returns were Uttar Pradesh (18), Madras (13) Travancore Cochin (1), Vindhya Pradesh and Hyderabad (11 each), Orissa (10) and Bombay (9)

The worst defeats for the party came from West Bengal, the Punjab and PEPSU where they failed to secure any seat

In West Bengal, the party set up 79 candidates, 45 of whom lost their deposits, in the Punjab and PEPSU they had 31 and 17 candidates respectively

Of other all India parties in the election field, the Kisan Mazdoor Praja Party* of Acharya Kripalani, obtained 78 of the 945 seats they contested The votes polled by the Party s candidates run to 4 91 per cent of the total votes polled

This party's main successes came from Madras (35), West Bengal (15), and Mysore (8)

The returns in Madras were just over 27 per cent of the 33 seats the Party contested, but its leader, Mr T Prakasam a former Chief Minister of Madras could not get elected to the Assembly

The gains in Bengal were nearly 12 per cent of the seats contested

The Jan Sangh founded by the late Shyama Prasad Mookerjee obtained only 35 seats of the the 732 it contested

The Party got 2 73 per cent of the total poll Nine of its successes came from West Bengal and eight from Rajasthan

But the party suffered a complete rout in the Punjab, which was considered one of its strongholds, and none of the 65 candidates it put up topped the polls in any Assembly seat

The Ram Rajya Parishad and the Hindu Mahasabha fared no better, the Sabha winning 20 of the 206 seats it contested and the Parishad 32 of the 304 it contested

In terms of votes the Parishad secured 1 17 per cent and the Sabha 0 82 per cent of the total poll

The Scheduled Castes Federation, which under the leadership of Dr B R Ambedkar, a former Law Minister of the Government of India, on its own and in some places in alliance with other parties contested 73 seats but got just a dozen But it secured 1 63 per cent of the total poll

The Peasants' and Workers' Party, which obtained 26 seats in Bombay, Hyderabad and Madhya Pradesh, got 1 04 per cent of the votes while Independents got 20 17 per cent of the total poll

Other parties, mostly regional, together polled 8 82 per cent of the total votes Invalid votes accounted for nearly 1 08 per cent of the total poll

Two hundred and eighty seven Independents out of 5,681 who contested were returned to the 22 State Assemblies, which is the largest number after the Congress Party

The Madras electorate returned the largest number—68, while in Rajasthan Independents returned number 35

Every other State Assembly had among its members a few Independents whose number varied from two in Vindhya Pradesh and Saurashtra to 19 in the Punjab except in Coorg, where none of the 10 independent candidates, who contested two seats, found favour with the electorate

SOME GENERAL FEATURES

AN ANALYSIS OF BY-ELECTIONS

The following account is based on an analysis made by the All India Congress Committee

Total number of elections declared void by Tribunals upto July 1953	103
Number of by elections to the House of the People	15
Number of by elections to State Assemblies and Electoral Colleges	97

In all 15 by elections were held to the House of the People The Congress contesting 14 of them, retained seven out of 11 it had won during the General Elections

The other seats were won by the Praja Socialist Party (5), the Hindu Mahasabha (1), the Forward Bloc (1) and Independent (1)

The votes polled by the Congress in the by elections to the House of the People worked out to 45 4 per cent as against 48 9 per cent in those constituencies in the General Elections

Of the votes polled by the other parties, those of the Praja Socialist Party showed a rise from 21 1 per cent to 33 7 per cent

The percentage of total votes polled by Hindu Mahasabha, the Jan Sangh and the Ram Rajya Parishad fell from 5 5 to 3 2 the percentage polled by the Independents from 16 5 to 8, and other parties from 7 5 to 5 8

The four seats lost by the Congress were two in Bihar, one in Madhya Pradesh and one in Madras

There were 97 by elections to the State Assemblies Of these the Congress won 50 as against 49 it held after the General Elections in those constituencies

The other seats were won by the P S P (21) and other parties, including Independents (26)

Of the 97 seats the Congress contested 87 It retained 41 old seats and gained 10 new ones - three from the P S P, four from the Communists, one from the Jan Sangh one from the Hindu Mahasabha seven from Independents and three from Janata (Bihar)

Eighteen seats which the Congress lost in the by elections were annexed by the P S P (9) Communists (2) Jan Sangh (2), Hindu Mahasabha (1) and Independents (4)

The percentage of votes polled by the Congress in the State Assembly by elections rose from 37 1 to 47

Of the other parties the Communists showed a sizeable increase - from 8 5 to 13 5 per cent the percentage polled by the P S P rose from 18 1 to 18 2 that of Jan Sangh Hindu Mahasabha and Ram Rajya Parishad fell from 1 4 to 0 7 Independents from 23 8 to 12 6 and other parties, including regional parties from 8 1 to 7

PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT

Dr Rajendra Prasad was elected President on May 6, 1952 The election started on May 2, and the results were declared on May 6 Dr Prasad was sworn in as President on May 13

The votes polled by the candidates for the Presidentship were as follows Dr Rajendra Prasad, 2,896, Prof K T Shah, 561, Mr L G Thatte, 13, Mr Chaudhri Hari Ram, 11, Mr K K Chatterji, 5, total valid votes cast 3,486, invalid votes 73 The total electorate was 4,057

In order to secure as large a degree of uniformity as possible in the scale of representation of the different States in the Presidential election, the Constitution lays down a formula for assigning weights to the votes cast by individual members on the basis of the populations of the States they represent

Each vote cast by any one of the 689 members of Parliament has, under this formula, to be multiplied by 494, while the 3,358 votes cast by members of the State Legislatures have to be multiplied by different weights ranging from 145 and 104 in the case of Madras and Bombay respectively, to 31 for Delhi and seven in respect of Coorg

With the assignment of these values the voting would be as follows Dr Rajendra Prasad 507,400 votes out of a possible total of 690,557 The votes secured by the other candidates Prof K T Shah, 92,827, Mr L G Thatte, 2,672, Mr Chaudhri Hari Ram, 1,954, and Mr K K Chatterji, 533 The number of invalid votes was 10,527

Five hundred and thirty-nine out of the 689 members of Parliament voted for Dr Prasad and 83 for Prof Shah

A State wise analysis of voting shows that Dr Prasad secured a majority of votes in all the States Only in one State, PEPSU, was the voting equally divided between Dr Prasad and Prof K T Shah, both receiving 26 votes each

In Madras, Dr Prasad secured 197 votes against 141 cast for Prof Shah In Travancore Cochin the corresponding figures are 55 and 36, in Hyderabad 96 and 48, in West Bengal 149 and 47, in Orissa 68 and 46, in Bombay 266 and 24 and in Delhi 40 and 3

All the 62 votes in Kashmir and the entire 22 votes in Coorg were cast in favour of Dr Prasad

Two detenus voted by postal ballot

The results declared are on the basis of first preference votes, as Dr Prasad secured an absolute majority at the first count

Dr Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan was elected Vice President without a contest on April 26, 1952 as he was the only candidate He was sworn in as Vice President on May 13

The new Government of India Cabinet was also sworn in on the same day

HOUSE OF THE PEOPLE* GENERAL ELECTION

House of the People*	489
Congress	362
Majority over others	235
Total votes cast	10 598 million
Invalid	205,200 (one per cent)

The Communists and allied parties won 23 seats Socialists 12 K M P P 9, Jan Sangh 3, Hindu Mahasabha 4 Ram Rajya Parishad 3 Peasants and Workers' Party 1, Scheduled Castes Federation 2 Gnatantra Parishad 5 and Independents 41

Of the remaining seats the Jharkhand of Bihar led by Mr Jaipal Singh M P won 3, Lok Sewak Sangh another organisation from Bihar 2, Akali Dal 2, Tamilnad Toilers Party of Madras 4 Commonweal Party of Madras 3 the Revolutionary Socialist Party 2 the Krishikar Lok Party of Prof N G Ranga the Forward Bloc and the Muslim League one member each

The Indian Electorate chose its 489 representatives from among 1 871 candidates There was contest for only for 479 seats ten members – seven Congressmen two Independents and one K M P P candidate having been returned unopposed to the House

Parliamentary elections were held simultaneously with Assembly and Electoral college elections in 26 States

A striking feature of the elections was the defeat of some of the top men of all political parties including the Congress as also that of some well known unattached Parliamentarians

Besides the Congress President Mr Nehru the only other head of an all India political organisation who was successful was the late Dr Shyama Prasad Mookerjee President of the Jan Sangh

The list of casualties included Mr Asoka Mehta General Secretary of the former Socialist Party and Mr Kamaladevi Chattopadhyaya another prominent Socialist leader Dr B R Ambedkar a former Law Minister of the Government of India and leader of the Scheduled Castes Federation Prof N G Ranga President of the Krishikar Lok Party Acharya Kripalani then chief of the K M P P Mr S A Dange Communist leader from Bombay Dr N B Khare President of the All India Hindu Mahasabha Mrs Prabhavati Raje, President of the Ram Rajya Parishad Mr K M Jedhe then leader of the Peasants and Workers Party

Among prominent Congressmen who lost in the elections were Mr K Santhanam Minister of State for Railways who has since been appointed Lieutenant Governor of Vindhya Pradesh Mr M Thirumal Rao Deputy Minister for Food and Mr Raj Bahadur Deputy Minister for Communications

The first two lost to Communists in Madras while Mr Raj Bahadur was defeated by an Independent in Rajasthan

All other members of the then Central Government—all the eleven members of the Cabinet, four Ministers of State and six Deputy Ministers who contested the elections—were returned to the House

Outside the Ministerial fold a notable Congress defeat was that of Mr Khandubhai Desai then President of the I N T U C who lost to an Independent in Bombay State

Among candidates who contested as Independents the outstanding defeats were those of Pandit Hirday Nath Kunzru an elder member of the present Parliament and Mr H V Kamath

Mr Nehru was elected from his home district of Allahabad The Congress President polled 233 571 or roughly 64 per cent of the votes cast for the general seat in his constituency

But the highest poll recorded in Parliamentary elections was 309 162 votes obtained by the communist Mr Ravi Narayana Reddi which was about 78 6 per cent of the total votes cast for the general seat in the Nalgonda constituency in Hyderabad

Among notable newcomers on the Congress ticket were Mrs Vijayalaxmi Pandit and Mr V V Giri

The new House also includes Mr Harindra nath Chattopadhyaya, poet, and Dr Meghnad Saha a scientist who was the only successful nominee of the United Socialist Organisation

The Congress Party was composed of 291 members from 9 Part A States 56 from Part B States and 1 from Part C States

The Party had cent per cent success in Saurashtra where it won all the 60 seats and from Kutch where it got all the three seats

The Congress scored heavily in seven other States—Uttar Pradesh, where it won 81 of the 86 seats the Punjab 16 out of 18 Bombay 40 out of 45, Assam 11 out of 12 Madhya Bharat 9 out of 11, Mysore 10 out of 11 and Madhya Pradesh 27 out of 29

Its main reverses came from Madras where it secured only 35 of the 75 seats from Travancore Cochin where it won only half of 12 seats from Rajasthan where only nine Congressmen were returned and eleven seats lost, and from PEPSU which voted for only two Congressmen though the Party made a bid for all the five seats

In the border State of Tripura, Congressmen lost both the House of the People seats to Communists

The Socialist Party which contested the largest number of seats next to the Congress – namely 254—secured only a dozen seats Its candidates polled nearly 10 50 per cent of the total votes From the nine Part A States which filled in 302 seats the party won only nine, while from the seven Part B States its only success came from Hyderabad The other two successes were recorded in Part C States

The Party drew blank in West Bengal, Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan the Punjab Travancore Cochin Bombay and Madhya Bharat where it had put up in all 81 candidates

The Communists and their allies form the largest single opposition block in the House with their 23 members Seventy of them contested the elections and polled 4 45 per cent of the total votes cast and just as in the Assembly elections their success came mainly from Madras Travancore Cochin West Bengal Hyderabad and Tripura, which together returned 23 members

The K M P P which made a bid for 146 seats won only 9 seats Its nominees scored 5 81 per cent of the total votes cast

Only three of the 93 Jan Sangh candidates were successful the party nominees obtaining 3 05 per cent of the total poll

The Hindu Mahasabha successes were four out of 31 seats it contested, and the Ram Rajya Parishad won three of the 61 contested In terms of votes Hindu Mahasabha nominees accounted for 0 91 per cent of the votes and the R R P 1 98 per cent

The All India Scheduled Castes Federation was successful in only two of the 34 constituencies where it put up its candidates They obtained 2 30 per cent of the total votes The party's general secretary, Mr P N Rajbhoj, as also Mr S S More, General Secretary of the All India Peasants and Workers Party, who contested from the same double member constituency in Sholapur in Bombay State were successful

The 16 candidates of the Peasants and Workers Party of whom two were elected, obtained 0 98 per cent of the total poll

524 Independent candidates who contested the elections had 15 90 per cent of the votes cast in their favour but only 41 of them were returned to the House fifteen of these successful candidates came from Madras six from Rajasthan three from Bombay and two each from Madhya Pradesh and Orissa

The number of candidates put up by other parties in the field was 166 of whom 24 were successful Between them these 166 candidates obtained 6 30 per cent of the total poll

 Tamilnad Toilers Party set up 31 candidates, won 19 seats, polled 783,346 votes, forfeited 4 deposits Commonweal Party set up 12 candidates, won 6 seats, polled 195,598 votes, forfeited one deposit Justice Party set up 9 candidates, won one seat, polled 82 231 votes, forfeited 4 deposits Republican Party set up 6 candidates, did not win any seats, polled 48,233 votes, forfeited 2 deposits Madras Muslim League set up 12 candidates, won 5 seats, polled 181,950 votes, forfeited 3 deposits

The Congress Party had 152 seats in the 375-member Assembly, or 36 short of an absolute majority

The Congress, which swept the polls in the previous elections securing more than 77 per cent of the seats, now secured just over 40 per cent of the seats in the new enlarged House The Party polled 34 6 per cent of a total of 19,974,801 votes cast in the State out of an electorate of 26,958,006

The Communists, the second largest single Party, polled 12 per cent of the total votes

A striking feature of the elections was the defeat of several prominent leaders not only of the Congress but of all parties

A region-wise analysis of election returns shows that Congress captured 82 per cent of the seats from South Kanara, 50 5 per cent from Tamilnad, 26 7 per cent from Andhra and 13 8 per cent from Malabar

The Communists had their best returns in Andhra, particularly in Guntur and Krishna They captured 27 5 per cent of the total seats from Andhra, 24 1 per cent from Malabar, 6 8 per cent from Tamilnad and none from South Kanara

The Party's nominees including Mr Anandan Nambiyar, Mr Nagi Reddi and Mr P Rama murthi secured notable victories over prominent leaders

Andhra also returned the largest number of K M P P candidates Of 35 seats secured by the Party, 20 were from this area The Party obtained 10 1 per cent of the total votes polled in the State

Tamilnad returned 7 K M P P candidates, Malabar 6 and South Kanara 2

The K M P Party secured maximum support from Malabar where it won 20 7 per cent of the seats in the region The Party obtained 18 2 per cent in South Kanara, 13 4 per cent in Andhra and 3 7 per cent in Tamilnad

Socialists entered the Madras Assembly for the first time with 13 members led by Dr K B Menon who was elected from a Malabar constituency Next to the Congress, the Socialists contested the largest number of seats but secured only 6 7 per cent of the total votes polled

Socialists had their best returns in Malabar where they secured 13 8 per cent of the seats They got 4 2 per cent in Andhra and 1 6 per cent in Tamilnad, and nothing in South Kanara

The Krishikar Lok Party of Mr N G Ranga had all its 15 wins including the two unopposed returns in Andhra where alone it set up candidates It polled a little less than 3 per cent of votes cast in the State

The Forward Bloc and the Scheduled Castes Federation contested six and 38 seats respectively They together polled 2 per cent of the total votes cast

The Forward Bloc leader Mr U Muthurama linga Thevar, won both the Parliamentary and Assembly seats which he contested

Mr P T Rajan, Leader of the Justice Party which was in power during the diarchy rule was the only member of the Party in the State Assembly

The Moplah dominated areas of Malabar District returned five Muslim Leaguers to the State Assembly and one to the House of the People They got less than one per cent of the total votes polled

Among the State Parties, the Tamilnad Toilers' Party and the Commonweal Party, formed with the avowed object of safeguarding the interests of backward classes secured 19 and 6 seats respectively from Tamilnad region They together polled 5 7 per cent of the votes cast

Independents obtained 23 4 per cent of the total votes polled Mr Sivashanmugham Pillai, Speaker of the Assembly, and the Raja of Chettinad, Mr M A Muthiah Chettiar, an Opposition Leather in the then sitting House, were among the prominent Independents re-elected to the Assembly Congress did not set up candidates to oppose them

Excluding the three unopposed returns the remaining 372 seats in the State Assembly were contested by about 1,700 candidates, an average of four for a constituency

* At the time of the general elections Andhra was not separated from Madras The strength of the Madras Assembly is now 230

The ruling party of the State the Congress was returned to power very much reduced in strength

The Ganatantra Parishad was the main Opposition party in the Assembly with its strength of 31

Among the four of the Independent People's Party were two leading figures Pandit Nilakant Das and Pandit Godavarish Misra

The election showed the hold of the Ganatantra Parishad under the leadership of the Maharaja of Patna in the Bolangir district where it captured all the nine seats to the Assembly and the two seats to the House of People In Kalahandi, a district neighbouring Bolangir it obtained four out of the seven seats The Parishad upset the Congress Party's calculations by capturing seven out of eleven seats in Koraput district

The Congress could not obtain a single seat out of five in Keonjhar district In Phulbani district they secured one out of the four seats The only district where Congress obtained full support was Balasore in which it captured 11 out of the 12 seats The twelfth seat went to a dissident Congressman

The great success achieved by ex Rulers and zamindars or members of their families was a feature of the elections

In all there were fifteen of them, four belonging to the Congress Party three to the Ganatantra Parishad and the rest were returned as Independents In almost all the 15 constituencies they obtained overwhelming majorities

This was stated to be mainly owing to the personalities, who hitherto having remained secluded and unapproachable to the masses went to the electorate personally some ably assisted by their wives and met the electorate in their huts in the villages This approach touched the sentiment of the people

Out of the 140 seats 50 belong to the former States areas Only 14 of these 50 seats went in favour of the Congress and 21 to the Ganatantra Parishad

The Ganatantra Parishad in fact had its main strength drawn from the States areas

Another feature of its composition was that the Scheduled Tribe and Scheduled Caste members were in a majority with 16 out of its total strength of 31

The elections in the Punjab provided many surprises, of which the major one was the exit of Dr Gopichand Bhargava, the dominant figure in the State s turbulent politics since partition in 1947

Another surprise was the failure of the Jan Sangh with 68 candidates to secure a single seat in the State, where it took its first organisational shape and where it was considered to be very strong

The elections also marked the total eclipse of the Socialist Party, the Scheduled Castes Federation and the Depressed Classes League, a provincial party led by the former Punjab Minister, Mr Prithvi Singh Azad

Elections were held for 125 seats as one seat had been won by the Congress earlier without opposition

The Congress got 38 25 per cent of the 4,974,234 votes polled in the State Assembly elections

The Independents polled 20 18 per cent of the votes

The Akalis, who with their slogan of a Punjabi speaking province once looked formidable, secured 13 3 per cent of the votes polled

Their leader, Sardar Umrao Singh, lost to the State Congress chief, Sardar Pratap Singh Kairon, from an Amritsar constituency on the Indo Pakistani border but only by a margin of a little over 1,000 votes

The Socialist Party got 4 2 per cent of the votes

With only 5 per cent more votes, the Communists won four seats with 17 forfeitures Three of their successful candidates were detenus and the fourth was on parole

The other Leftists were the Lal Communists and the Forward Bloc, who got two seats each with 18 and 36 candidates, respectively

The Forward Bloc got 1 43 per cent of the votes The other Leftists combined polled 1 1 per cent of the votes

The Jan Sangh polled 5 33 per cent of the votes

The Zamindara League got two seats of the 32 contested Its leaders, Chaudhri Suraj Mal and Chaudhri Tika Ram, the last mentioned of whom was Revenue Minister in undivided Punjab, however, lost in the fight The League secured 7 74 per cent of the votes cast

The All-India Scheduled Castes Federation polled 2 6 per cent of the votes

The Depressed Classes League polled 9 per cent of the votes

Other parties in the field were the Refugee Board and the Krishikar Lok Party which had put up one candidate each Their combined votes formed only 22 per cent of the total cast

* Punjab Zamindara League put up 32 candidates, won 2 seats, polled 383,126 votes, forfeited 5 deposits Lal Communist Party put up 18 candidates, won 2 seats, polled 94,992 votes, forfeited 11 deposits Depressed Classes League put up 17 candidates, did not win any seats, polled 75,078 votes, forfeited 13 deposits Bharat Lok Congress put up 8 candidates, did not win any seats, polled 11,398 votes, forfeited 8 deposits

* About a third of the members were due to retire in April 1954 But the names had not reached us when the book went to press

Congress seceders and the Socialists did not do well while Independents did not fare any better

The parties wedded to the extreme Right - the Jan Sangh, the Hindu Mahasabha, the Ram Rajya Parishad and the U P Rajya Party (zamindars) – also were trounced and the Communists and the K M P P completely routed

The defeat of Acharya Narendra Dev the Socialist leader and Mr Triloki Singh of the Opposition in the former Assembly, was the biggest surprise of the elections

The Congress which contested 429 seats for the 430 member State Legislative Assembly (the nomination paper of its candidate for the remaining one seat having been rejected), got 49 per cent of the votes polled

Of the 39 seats conceded by the Congress, 19 went to the Socialists who secured 11 71 per cent of the votes cast two went to the Jan Sangh, which secured 0 5 per cent, one went to the K M P P which secured five per cent one to the Hindu Mahasabha which secured 1 2 per cent two to the U P Praja Party (the State Party of zamindars), which got 2 1 per cent, one to the U P Revolutionary Socialist Party which polled less than one per cent and 14 seats to Independent candidates who secured 19 5 per cent of the total votes cast

Among the Independents were 282 dissident Congressmen who sought election in defiance of their Party's mandate, but none of them could secure the verdict of the electorate in his favour

The Communists the Revolutionary Socialist Party (official group), the Bolsheviks, the Forward Bloc (Ruikar Group), the Scheduled Castes Federation and the Ram Rajya Parishad did not get a single seat though among themselves, they polled five per cent of the votes cast

Although handicapped by the absence of their leader Acharya Narendra Dev and their sitting M L A Raja Ram Shastri both of whom lost after a tough fight the Socialists formed the main opposition in the Assembly They had the satisfaction of having defeated the State I N I U C chief, Mr K N Pande who was the only prominent Congressman to lose

Uttar Pradesh was probably the only State which returned all the Ministers Parliamentary Secretaries and other prominent Congress leaders with a large majority

The Himalayan districts did not vote solidly with the Congress Of the 16 seats which these districts have three went to Independents and two to the Socialists Economically, these districts are some of the poorest and, socially, among the most backward All the three seats in the Tehri Garhwal District went to Independents

All the Muslim candidates set up by the Congress were returned to the Assembly including two women candidates None of the Muslims set up by Opposition parties, except Mr Nihaluddin (Socialist) sitting M L A, and Raja Saadat Ali Khan of Nanpara (Independent) succeeded

Only 37 women entered the contest, though they form 47 per cent of the electorate Eleven of them all Congress nominees including one from a reserved seat, got elected

An appreciable portion of the total election expenses in Uttar Pradesh was expected to be realised from the deposits forfeited amounting roughly to over Rs 3 50 000

* Hyderabad State Praja Sabha , United Scheduled Caste Federation , Hyderabad State Depressed Class Association , Republican Party , Independent League

The Congress emerged as the largest single Party in the Hyderabad State Assembly with an absolute majority over all others

Ten Muslims were returned to the Assembly Of these eight belonged to the Congress Party, one to the P D F and one was an Independent The 175 member House had eight women, five of them being Congress, 1 P D F , 1 S C F and 1 Independent

The Congress suffered some major reverses at the hands of the People s Democratic Front (Communists) in Telengana, Peasants and Workers (pro-Communists) in Marathwada and Independents (rebel Congressmen) in Karnatak regions

In Telengana which consists of the eight disturbed districts of the State out of the 93 seats it contested, the Congress won only 38 It lost all the 14 seats in Nalgonda to the Communists and annexed only 2 each in Karimnagar and Warangal Six prominent Congressmen, including the two General Secretaries of the Congress were defeated Two prominent Nationalist Muslims who stood on Congress ticket were also defeated

The Congress polled roughly 41 per cent of the total votes polled Six Congress candidates forfeited their deposits

Almost all the prominent members of the Socialist Party, including Mr Mahadev Singh and Mr Y S Rao were defeated

The People s Democratic Front (Communists) which was a coalition of four Leftist Parties concentrated its attention on Telengana

The Front was the second largest Party in the Assembly It obtained, about 21 per cent of the total polled Some of the heaviest polling in the State was witnessed in the villages of Telengana, Mr Ravi Narayan Reddy s home village Bellapalli heading the list with 95 per cent

The Peasants' and Workers' Party, who follow the Marxian ideology and was expected to support the P D F in the Assembly annexed ten out of the 19 seats it contested in Marathwada Its candidates obtained about four per cent of the total votes polled

The leader of the Scheduled Castes Federation Mr J H Subbiah, who stood for the House of the People from Ibrahimpatnam for the General Seat was defeated by a Congressman The Federation polled about five per cent of the total vote

The Independents polled about 16 per cent of the total votes

An estimate of party strength at present (1954 March) is as follows Congress 97, People s Democratic Front 39, United People s Party 36, Scheduled Castes Federation 2

MONSOON RAINFALL SUMMARY 1953

The south west monsoon set in over Travancore Cochin by the 7th June, about a week after the usual date, but extended over the whole country by the end of the month

The monsoon was vigorous in the Konkan between the 18th and 21st causing floods in many parts in the northern districts

Locally heavy to very heavy rain also occurred in Berar on the 21st and in sub Himalayan West Bengal, Assam and north Bihar on the 26th

Rainfall in July was fairly well distributed and in excess over the whole country, although no depressions formed during this month in the Bay of Bengal

Locally heavy rain in south Deccan (Desh) was responsible for floods in the Kolhapur district

Floods were also reported from Assam and many parts of north Bihar due to active monsoon conditions during the month

The monsoon continued to be fairly active over north India and in Konkan throughout August It was vigorous in Orissa on the 3rd in Madhya Pradesh between the 3rd and 5th and in the north Punjab (I) on the 3rd Very heavy rainfall was recorded in south east Madhya Pradesh on the 13th

The heavy rainfall in south east Madhya Pradesh during the first half of the month was responsible for severe floods in the deltaic region of the river Godavari

The monsoon was again vigorous in the north Konkan Gujarat and Saurashtra during the first week of September Also very heavy rainfall was recorded in sub Himalayan West Bengal on the 10th and in Assam between the 10th and 14th

The south west monsoon withdrew from the country outside the south Peninsula by the 8th October, and gradually from the whole country towards the end of October

The rainfall during the monsoon as a whole, was in large excess in Saurashtra and Kutch and in moderate excess in Chota Nagpur, east Uttar Pradesh, Gujarat and north Hyderabad It was in slight excess in Bihar the Punjab (I), the Konkan, Deccan (Desh), coastal Andhradesa, Rayalaseema and Tamiland, and normal over the rest of the country, except in sub-Himalayan West Bengal, east Rajasthan, Madhya Bharat and west Madhya Pradesh where it was in slight to moderate defect

Averaged over the plains of India, the rainfall was 7 per cent in excess

BURMAH-SHELL REFINERIES LTD

Burmah Shell Refineries Ltd was incorporated in India on 3rd November, 1952, for the purpose of constructing and operating a petroleum oil refinery on a 450 acre plot of land in South West Trombay

Site clearance and construction work was first started in April 1953 and it is estimated that the major part of the work will be completed by December 1954

The Refinery is due to commence operations early in 1955

The crude oil intake of the Refinery will be 2,000,000 tons per annum, and crude oil is expected to come from the Persian Gulf area

The Refinery will manufacture per year 156 million gallons of Motor Spirit, 72 million gallons of Kerosine 37 million gallons of High Speed Diesel Oil, 33 million gallons of Light Diesel Oil, 144 million gallons of Furnace Oil and 150,000 tons of Bitumen

The total cost of the Refinery will be Rs 25 crores, and the total staff to be employed in the Refinery including all categories will be about 1,500

Apart from the main Refinery work now under way at Trombay, residential quarters for key operating personnel are being built a short distance from the Refinery, and in addition, Burmah Shell Refineries Ltd, will pay Rs 40 lakhs to the Bombay Government to build new housing quarters for 500 labour families

Burmah Shell Refineries Ltd, are also providing a 10 acre recreation ground for their Staff and Labour

J. B. ADVANI & CO. LTD.

Established 1908.

HEAD OFFICE : BOMBAY.

IN 1908, three intimate friends, Kanwalsing Pohumal, Vasanmal Kishenchand and Jotsing Harising, formed themselves into a Company called J B Advani & Company with a view to specializing in the import of Paper and Printing Materials This Concern was the first of its kind in Sind The pioneers, who envisaged a great future for this line of business, opened an office in Karachi In a very short time their confidence was justified and the venture became a huge success The markets within reach having been tapped to the fullest extent, a Branch was opened in Bombay in 1921 In spite of the very keen competition that usually prevails in Bombay, which is the premier and largest paper market in India, the Company very soon became one of the leading firms in the line with its business growing in volume from year to year

In 1924, the original owners of the Company decided to convert their firm into a Private Limited Company—J B Advani & Co Ltd —with a capital of Rs 6,00,000

In 1925, the management began to explore the Punjab market more energetically with a view to developing the business handled by the Head Office at Karachi and a Branch was accordingly opened in Lahore This was followed by the opening of a Branch in Madras in 1927, which has made steady progress year by year Three years later, a Branch was opened, this time in Calcutta Branches have since been opened in Delhi, Jullundur, Cochin and Cuttack

With its network of branches in all the important centres in India, J B Advani & Co Ltd today reaches every notable consuming centre in India

The Company has a Paid-up Capital of Rs 30,00,000 Besides, it has the substantial backing of its partners, and the Working Capital is actually in the vicinity of Rs 75,00,000 The Company, with its branches, is one of the largest importers of paper in India with a turnover of Rs. 1,25,00,000 per annum. It deals in all grades of paper, printing machinery and materials and is open to take up representation of Indian and foreign Mills The Company has now taken in hand export business of Indian products

In partnership with Messrs Lorilleux & Bolton Ltd , London, famous manufacturers of Printing Inks, some of the Directors have started a Printing Ink factory at BHANDUP (Central Rly) near Bombay The factory has started production from September 1951 With large number of Mills going into full production at the factory, they can meet the entire requirements of Printing Inks of various types required in India The concern is known as J B A PRINTING INKS LIMITED

Another enterprise with which they are associated is one for the manufacture of Welding Electrodes, probably the first major attempt in this field of industry in India In partnership with Messrs Buehrle & Co , Switzerland, the world famous manufacturers of Welding Electrodes, a new company has been floated under the name of J B ADVANI-OERLIKON ELECTRODES LTD With an uptodate factory and most modern production line, this factory, situated at BHANDUP (Central Rly) Greater Bombay, is producing now some of the best Welding Electrodes in the world They have amongst their patrons, Government, Railways, Shipyards, and Great Steel fabricators of India

W. H. BRADY &

THE foundations of this famous House were laid in 1895 in Bruce Lane Bombay when the late Mr W H Brady in partnership with the late Mr J F Bradbury commenced business as Machinery Agents and Importers, and Advisers on all technical matters relating to the Cotton Textile Industry

The period was one in which Cotton Mills were on the increase and as Mr Brady and Mr Bradbury were two of the best known Mill Managers of the time their practical experience and expert knowledge of mill management and machinery helped considerably towards the firm's progress

Within a decade, Bradbury Brady & Co (as the firm was then styled) had extended its activities far beyond its initial business of machinery importers for in 1900 the Empire Dye Works was started and in 1901 it took up the agency of the Colaba Land & Mill Company This was rapidly followed by the agencies of the New City of Bombay Mills, the New Great Eastern Mills the Sun Mill (now Dhanraj Mills) and the Bradbury Mills

In 1912 however, a change was made when Mr Bradbury (in Partnership with Mr Knowles) restricted his business to the agencies of these Mills under the style of Bradbury & Co , while Mr Brady started an independent business as a Machinery Agent (with Mr Kay, Mr Lakin and Mr Johnson as junior partners) under the style of W H Brady & Co

In 1913, the latter firm was converted into a private limited liability company under the name and style of W H Brady & Co , Ltd , with its Head Office in Bombay Three years later on the death of Mr Bradbury it took over the agencies of the Empire Dye Works the New City of Bombay Manufacturing Co , Ltd , the New Great Eastern Spinning and Weaving Co Ltd and the Colaba Land & Mill Co , Ltd

On the retirement of Mr Brady in 1922, Sir Joseph Kay became Managing Director of the firm and its progress under his management has been considerable In 1928 the capital was increased and the Company commenced to operate on the joint stock principle without any restrictions on its shares Today, the operations of the concern cover an extremely wide field for in addition to its long established textile associations, it has extended its activities over other classes of industry such as Sugar, Engineering, Printing, Insurance etc

Associated with the Managing Director is a body of wholetime service directors, namely, Mr W Jenkins, Mr J Symon, Mr F Edwards, Mr R S Smith and Mr E F Morrey, while from time to time, branches have been established in other parts of India until the Company now has offices in Calcutta, Madras, Kanpur, Ahmedabad, Coimbatore and Manchester (England)

TEXTILES.—The Company has a very large Textile Machinery Import Department which carries comprehensive stocks of the manufactures of a number of British and American firms These firms are recognised everywhere as makers of the highest repute and amongst them may be mentioned—The British Northrop Loom Co , Ltd , Lang Bridge Ltd , Wm Tatham Ltd (who have a world-wide reputation for Carding and Spinning machinery for cotton waste and wool), Universal Winding Company (Patentees of the famous Leesona Winding Machines), H Brinton Co , Hugh Kershaw & Sons Ltd , Cocker Machine & Foundry Co , Cook & Co (Manchester) Ltd , Samuel O'Neill & Sons Ltd , Small & Parkes Ltd , F E Rudman & Co , Ltd , Tragasol Products, Ltd , etc , etc

COMPANY, LIMITED

The Textile Department is also keenly alive to all changes which constantly take place in the manufacture of Cotton and Silk goods It is always ready to advise on these changes suggest up-to-date systems, and to supply machinery in conformity with them

Being closely associated for more than fifty years with the Cotton Textile Trade in India, the Company has undertaken from time to time, many large contracts and in several cases has executed orders for complete Cotton and Woollen Mills to the entire satisfaction of the purchasers

In addition to the vast textile machinery business the Company is also directly connected with the Textile Trade in its capacity of Managing Agents for the New City of Bombay Mfg Co Ltd , the Empire Dyeing & Mfg Co , Ltd and Secretaries and Agents for the New Great Eastern Spg & Wvg Co , Ltd

ENGINEERING —The Company has a very large general Engineering Department It carries comprehensive stocks of the manufactures of a number of British Firms, amongst whom may be mentioned Herbert Morris Ltd , The Renold & Conventry Chain Co , Ltd , Hopkinsons Ltd , Geo Kent Ltd The Andrew Machine Construction Co , Ltd , G & J Weir Ltd , Davidson & Co , Ltd , Norris Henty & Gardners Ltd , Dicks Asbestos & Insulating Co Ltd , Ashworth & Parker Ltd , Hick Hargreaves & Co , Ltd , Thos Broadbent & Sons Ltd Hoffmann Sprinkler Co , Ltd , etc , etc

In keeping with the development of the Engineering Industry in India a company under the name of The Brady Engineering Co , Ltd was formed in 1946 with the object of manufacturing wholly or partially under licence from their various Principals, such goods as have been imported in the past but which could be readily manufactured in this country

SUGAR -In their General Department Messrs W H Brady control the management of The Belapur Co Ltd This pioneer Company is not only one of the largest of its kind, but has recently erected a new factory which is the most up-to-date in India and is capable of crushing 1,000 tons of cane per day

It manufactures pure Indian sugar by modern methods from cane which is grown entirely on its own estate

PRINTING —Messrs W H Brady control the well-known Caxton Press (G Claridge & Co , Ltd) which undertakes all kinds of Printing, Lithography, Die-Stamping, Bookbinding etc

INSURANCE —Insurance is another important line of business with which the Company has been connected for a considerable number of years The Company acts as Principal Agents of first class British and Indian Insurance Companies, and are always in a position to give advice on, and transact practically all classes of Insurance business with the sole exception of life

OTHER INTERESTS —The Company handles several important agencies for goods which are consumed on a very large scale in India, and has built up an extensive connection for its imports of such proprietary articles as Nicholson Files Nettlefold Screws, Signode Steel Strapping, etc

CONCLUSION —In a brief resume of the Company's operations it is impossible to enumerate a complete list of firms for whom they act as representatives, but Messrs W H Brady are well-known to be a live and progressive House, staffed with experts in each branch, and possessing close connections with the Textile Trade, Engineering the Sugar Industry, Insurance, and manifold other interests

G KUPPUSWAMI NAIDU

Born 31 12 1881 — Died 19 12 1942

Founder of

THE LAKSHMI GROUP MILLS

When the story of the industrial activities of the Kumara Nadu of Coimbatore comes to be written the name of G Kuppuswami Naidu will have to be given some importance His career was romantic like that of many a famous industrialist in the West, for example Andrew Carnegie He was an idealist with vision grit and courage personified having lots of ideas in him which he steadily strove to put into practice His robust commonsense deep thinking habit and great perseverance accounted for his success as a practical man

Even at the age of 18 he showed his enterprising spirit Not merely content with looking after the family lands which were ample he ventured to do independent trade in cotton With a small oil-engine and with the blessings of Sir Robert Stanes a ginning factory in Naranapuram was started

In 1910 he started the Lakshmi Mills with an authorised capital of Rs one lakh This too was a ginning factory at the time

Alongside he did forward business in cotton and the First World War amply repaid his speculations, though at one time he had to face a financial crisis immediately after the Armistice in 1918 It was his indomitable spirit that ultimately won

The ambitious entrepreneur succeeded in making the Lakshmi Ginning factory into a Spinning mill in 1933 It has now added a weaving section also The seed sown then has blossomed into a big group of mills called THE LAKSHMI GROUP, which includes the Coimbatore Cotton Mills Ltd , the Rajalakshmi Mills Ltd , etc , which form the most important chain in Coimbatore

In the field of agriculture too his achievements were no less valuable and he used modern methods with advantage

In honour of his memory a Trust for affording Medical Relief and Education has been formed The first tangible result is the construction of an up-to-date Maternity Hospital in Pappanaickenpalayam, Coimbatore at a cost of Rs 15 lakhs A high school is also being built by this Trust to function from the ensuing financial year

Side-view of the Mills

Named after His Highness Sri Krishnarajendra Wadiyar Bahadur IV, GCSI, GBE of revered memory, the Sri Krishnarajendra Mills, Ltd, has been serving the public for over three decades by manufacturing and supplying to the country special quality yarns, excellent and durable cloth and superfine hosiery The Mills are situated on the northern outskirts of Mysore City amidst picturesque surroundings

The Company had to pass through trying and difficult times for over two decades after its birth just after the First Great War in 1920 The Government of Mysore with their usual farsighted policy of encouraging industrial enterprise in the State came to the rescue of the Company at a critical time in 1931 and by assuming managerial responsibility of the Company placed it on a firm basis

Canteen

During World War II the Company recorded rapid progress shook off its heavy debt burden, built up sizable reserves and placed itself on sound financial foundations State aid was no longer necessary and the management was handed over in 1940 by Government to the shareholders The paid-up share capital, which had been written down by half in 1926 was restored to its original paid up value of Rs 50 per share in 1948

Labour welfare has continued to receive the active and sympathetic attention of the management With the full co-operation of the labour force which is forthcoming in ample measure, it has been possible for the Mills to improve their standard of living and introduce many new welfare measures In the matter of labour housing in addition to the 68 original tenements, 176 fresh tenements were added to the modern labour colony during 1943-45 A permanent scheme for the payment of profit bonus linked to the dividend paid to the shareholders was instituted in 1944 In 1949, old rules of periodical gratuities to workers were replaced by a new compulsory scheme of Workmen's Provident Fund

An up-to-date Canteen Creche Free Dispensary Co operative Society, Children's Schools, Bhajan Mandir, Social Club and Adult Literacy classes are the chief welfare institutions actively functioning for the good of workers and their dependants
