No other shop quite like it!

People of taste and discrimination have been attracted to Carmichaels for fifty years. In the quest for a precious stone, or a well-behaved time-piece for the home, or a fashionable handbag, they know that nowhere else can be found the same quality, elegance and variety. That helpful, personal service, which makes shopping a pleasure, has always been a characteristic of Carmichaels, just as its showrooms are a source of inspiration.

Departments: Jewellery & Silver; Watches and Clocks; China & Glassware; Leather Goods; Antiques.

General Information

COURSES

The College prepares students for External Degrees and Diplomas of the University of London and for certain other Examinations, Diplomas and Certificates. (See pages 64 and 81.)

Candidates for Degrees and Diplomas of the University of London must have matriculated in that University and must submit as soon as possible a Certificate of such Matriculation to the Registrar of this College. No student may be admitted to a degree of the University of London within three academic years from the date of actual matriculation in that University.

Regulations and syllabuses for External Examinations of the University of London may be obtained on application to the External Registrar, University of London, Senate House, London, W.C. 1.

For regulations and syllabuses for examinations other than those of the University of London, see pages 98-100.

Courses will be available only if a sufficient number of students present themselves for registration and subject to any other provisions that may be dictated by circumstances or determined by the College.

POST-GRADUATE STUDY

All Departments provide supervision and facilities for post-graduate work for students proceeding to high degrees and pursuing research. Enquiries should be addressed to the Head of the Department concerned.

Library

The Library, which is at present housed in the Science building, contains over 100,000 books, and includes material for advanced research. Learned periodicals and scientific proceedings are represented by over 450 current issues, and by sets of back numbers.

All registered full-time students and certain categories of registered part-time students have borrowing privileges. Other registered part-time students may use the Library for reference. Persons not officially connected with the College may, with the approval of the Library Committee, use the Library for reference and may also have borrowing privileges on payment of a small fee.

Applications should be addressed to the Librarian. The Librarian has discretionary powers to admit occasional readers without charge.

The Library is open during term, Monday to Friday 9.0 a.m. to 9.0 p.m., Saturday 9.0 a.m. to 1.0 p.m.; during vacation, Monday to Friday from 9.0 a.m. to 1.0 p.m. and from 2.0 p.m. to 5.30 p.m., and on Saturday as usual.

The Library is closed on Bank Holidays and on Founder's Day (4 May), and at such other times as shall be announced.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

The College is situated on the Northern side of Hull on an open site of 62 acres, easily accessible from the centre of the city.

The two original buildings are situated on Cottingham Road: the Arts Building (on the West side) houses at present the Faculty of Arts, the Departments of Botany and Geography, and the Administrative Offices: the Social and Science Building (on the East side) houses the other Science Departments, the Library, the Staff Refectory and the Assembly Hall. New buildings erected since the war and now in use include a Refectory and Students' Union Building (comprising Common Rooms and Union Offices), Changing Rooms (including a Squash Court) and a Workshop. To meet the immediate need, until further permanent buildings can be erected, temporary huts have been provided, which accommodate lecture rooms, laboratories, staff rooms, a reading room and a well-equipped gymnasium.

The proposals for the completion of the lay-out of the College have been reviewed, and a comprehensive programme of building has been laid down. Work is proceeding as national circumstances permit. The next major project to be undertaken is the Chemistry building. The full plan includes, in addition to more Arts and Science Buildings, a new Library, a Great Hall, a Chapel, a Gymnasium, a Theatre, further Students' Union buildings, and a building to house the Department and Institute of Education and the Department of Adult Education (which are now temporarily housed in converted private houses near the College).

The Halls of Residence are situated $1\frac{1}{2}$ –3 miles from the College, in the village of Cottingham. Further particulars of the Halls are given on page 52 and in the illustrated general prospectus. Some of the present accommodation is temporary and further permanent Halls of Residence are planned and will be built as soon as possible to replace this temporary accommodation.

There are spacious grounds at the College and at the Halls. Provision is made in the College grounds for the playing of football, hockey, cricket, tennis, and squash racquets, and elsewhere for badminton, rowing and swimming. Large-scale works are at present being undertaken to improve and enlarge the facilities.

Halls of Residence

The College is a Residential College and all students in regular attendance not living with their parents are required to live in one of the Halls of Residence unless special permission to the contrary has been given by the Principal.

The normal fee per session of £103 for men and £100 for women covers board, residence, household laundry and ordinary medical attention. Residence fees are payable terminally. A rebate of £3 per session of the residence fee is made to students residing at Camp Hall. Resident students must deposit £1 as caution money in addition to the 10s. deposited by all students.

Residential grants are awarded in special cases.

This Hall is also in Cottingham and will accommodate 23 students.

General College Regulations

1. Age of Admission.

Students are not admitted before the age of 17 years without special permission, and they are advised not to enter before the age of 18 years.

2. Duration of Courses.

Degree courses in the College are normally of three years' duration.

3. Necessary Qualifications for Admission.

(a) Since candidates for the B.A. Degree are required to take either Greek or Latin and candidates for the B.Sc. Degree to take Pure or Applied Mathematics or Pure-and-Applied Mathematics or Physics or Chemistry at least to the Intermediate stage, they must have reached the Matriculation standard in one of these necessary subjects before admission to the College. Candidates for B.A. degrees who have not obtained exemption from Latin in the Intermediate examination must continue the study of this subject in their last year at school.

(b) Students wishing to read for the First Medical Examination will normally be required to have reached at least Matriculation standard in Physics and in Chemistry.

4. Withdrawal from College.

Students whose progress is considered by Senate to be unsatisfactory may be required to withdraw from the College. Failure in any public examination may be taken as evidence of unsatisfactory progress.

5. Entering for Examinations.

(a) All students must obtain the formal consent of the Dean before registering and entering for external examinations and must take the examinations at the times approved by the Dean. No student may postpone or withdraw registration or entry for any external examination without the consent of the Dean.

(b) The College is recognised as a Local Centre for certain external examinations of the University of London. Students sitting such examinations must sit them at the College.

6. Academic Dress.

All full-time matriculated students reading for a degree or diploma who enter the College in or after October 1950 are required to wear approved academic dress at lectures, at written examinations, on ceremonial occasions and at official interviews with the Principal and members of the academic staff. Gowns are not worn in laboratories.

7. Medical Examination.

All students are required to undergo an annual medical examination by either the College Medical Officer, or, in the case of women students, if they so opt, by a woman doctor approved by the College (see below).

8. Residence.

(a) All students in regular attendance, not living with their parents, are required to live in one of the Halls of Residence (see p. 52) unless special permission to the contrary has been given by the Principal. They must take up their residence on the day before each term begins.

(b) Applications for permission to move out of Halls must be made not later than the first week of the term preceding that in which the student wishes to move into lodgings.

(c) No rebate will be allowed in respect of any period for which a student resident in a Hall may be given permission to live elsewhere.

9. Exeats.

Exeats permitting absence from a Hall of Residence for short periods may be granted by the Warden.

STUDENT HEALTH

Under the National Health Service, free choice of doctor is allowed, but it is convenient for resident students to be attended by the College Medical Officer. They may either register with him or if they prefer to register with their home doctor they may obtain treatment from the College Medical Officer as temporary residents in Hull. The College Medical Officer is also responsible for the medical examination of all students (see above). Women students, however, who so desire, may be examined by a woman medical practitioner approved by the College.

Notes on the Regulations of the University of London

MATRICULATION

1. Conditions for Entry.

All undergraduate students intending to read for an external degree, or for the External Diploma in Social Studies, of the University of London must have matriculated in that University, either on passing the Matriculation Examination of that University or on obtaining exemption therefrom, before entry to the College.

2. Exemptions.

The University of London grants such exemption to holders of certain certificates issued by other bodies, e.g. to holders of School Certificates with credits in certain subjects, and to holders of both School and Higher School Certificates.

Details concerning exemption from the Matriculation Examination may be obtained from the Secretary, the Matriculation and School Examinations Council, University of London, Senate House, London, W.C. 1.

EXEMPTION FROM THE INTERMEDIATE EXAMINATION

The University of London grants partial or complete exemption from the Intermediate Examination to students who obtain an approved Higher School Certificate. Prospective students who obtain such a Certificate should immediately, before their entry to the College, make application to the External Registrar, University of London, Senate House, London, W.C. 1, for the registration of any exemption for which they may be eligible. Evidence of exemptions actually obtained must be submitted to the Registrar of the College at registration on entry to the College.

DEGREES

All students of the College reading for external degrees of the University of London are required to take an Intermediate Examination (or to have obtained exemption from it) and a Final Examination. The Intermediate Examination in any necessary subject or subjects in which exemption has not been obtained is normally taken at the end of the first academic year and the Final Examination not less than two academic years after the Intermediate Examination. Students who have gained complete exemption from the Intermediate Examination are normally expected to spend three years on post-Intermediate work. It is generally desirable and expected that candidates for Honours or Special degrees should be able to spend three years on their work for Finals.

1. Obtain a registration form from the College Registry;
2. Return the registration form to the Registry with the registration fee;

INSTITUTE OF EDUCATION

Director: Professor E. B. CASTLE, M.A. (Oxon.)

Secretary: I. T. JAMES, M.A. (Cantab.), B.Sc. (Londcn), A.Inst.P

Senior Tutor: J. D. HOBKINSON, M.A. (Sheffield)

Librarian: C. B. FREEMAN, B.A. (Oxon.), F.L.A.

Constituent Colleges: Endsleigh Training College, Hull.

Principal: Miss C. A. DOWLING, M.A. (Oxon.)

Hull Municipal Training College.

Principal: Miss H. TODD, M.A., M.Ed. (Leeds)

The Institute, which was inaugurated on 1st November 1948, has been founded in order to establish closer relationships with institutions in Hull and the neighbouring area specifically concerned with the training of teachers. Students of the Institute, whether graduate or non-graduate, work for a single professional qualification, the Certificate in Education, although the courses of study vary according to the purpose of the training given.

Other major activities of the Institute are the organisation and provision of refresher and advanced courses for practising teachers, and the planning of educational investigation and research.

The Institute building, 173 Cottingham Road, provides a focus for promoting the interests of education in the area. It contains a common room, an exhibition room, and a library which is supervised by a full-time librarian. In addition to books and periodicals for the research worker and the general reader interested in education, the library contains a collection of selected school text-books. There are facilities for circulating books by post.

For the lists of members of the Delegacy and Professional Board of the Institute, see pages 35-36.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

The Department is approved by the Ministry of Education for the training of men and women as teachers in Secondary Schools. The courses of study organised by the Department are a four-year course and a one-year course.

The four-year course consists of two parts: (i) A course for the University of London degree of B.A., or B.Sc., or B.Sc. (Econ.), or B.D., or B.Mus. This part normally occupies the first three years after admission. (ii) A course of preparation for teaching, leading to the examination for the Certificate in Education of the University College of Hull. This part occupies the session following the completion of the degree course. The one-year course is identical with the fourth year of the four-year course and is open only to graduates of an approved University.

THE FOUR-YEAR COURSE

The essential conditions for admission are that candidates must: (i) be British subjects ordinarily resident in England or Wales; (ii) be over 17 years of age on 1 August in the year of admission; (iii) be certified by an approved medical authority as having the health and physical capacity needed for teaching; (iv) be matriculated students of the University of London. Admission is by competition, and no candidate is likely to be successful who will not, before the beginning of the course, have spent two years of advanced study in a secondary school.

Students whose progress is unsatisfactory may be required to withdraw from the four-year course. Failure in any public examination may be taken as evidence of unsatisfactory progress. Students who so fail may be re-admitted in a subsequent year if they have, in the meantime, passed the examination concerned. Students whose conduct is unsatisfactory may at any time be required to withdraw from the course.

With the permission of the Ministry of Education, intercalation is allowed, e.g. to students reading for a degree in a Modern Language who wish to spend a year abroad.

A student may be admitted to the second or third or fourth year of a four-year course if he has completed one year, or two years, or the whole, of the course for a degree before entering the Department.

Students who fail in their Final Degree Examination will not normally be accepted for the fourth year of the course in the Department. They may, however, be re-admitted to the four-year course later for the year of training if they have in the meantime passed the examination.

THE ONE-YEAR COURSE

The one-year course is identical with the fourth year of the four-year course; that is, it is a course of professional training intended for students who have graduated (either in a British University or in some approved University outside the United Kingdom) but have not hitherto been recognised under the Regulations for the Training of Teachers.

Applicants who wish to take the one-year course as 'recognised' students must: (i) be British subjects ordinarily resident in England or Wales; (ii) be over 20 years of age on 1 August in the year of admission; and (iii) be certified by an approved medical authority as having the health and physical capacity needed for teaching.

A limited number of private students who have already graduated in an approved University are also admitted to the one-year course. The tuition fee for such students is £45 for the year's course.

THE POST-GRADUATE YEAR

During their years of study for a degree, students of the Department may be required to attend occasional lectures and discussions specifically related to their professional training.

In their post-graduate year students will read for the Certificate in Education of the University College of Hull. There will be two periods of teaching practice during the year. The first, lasting three weeks, will be spent in a Primary or Secondary Modern School in the student's own locality in the September preceding the start of the University session. The second, lasting for about nine weeks, will be spent in a Secondary Grammar, Technical or Modern School, and will take place during the Spring Term. Visits will be paid at various times throughout the year to schools of different types, factories, institutions, youth clubs and clinics.

HIGHER DEGREES IN EDUCATION

The Department provides tutorial guidance and library facilities for teachers and others working for higher degrees in Education such as the M.A. (Education) of the University of London, and the M.Ed. of certain universities.

Completed forms of application for admission to the Department should, if possible, be returned to the Registrar in the October preceding that in which admission is desired. All applicants for admission to the Department must also complete and return a form of application for admission to the College, to be obtained from the Registrar.

A prospectus of the Department may be obtained from the Registrar of the College.

DEPARTMENT OF ADULT EDUCATION

The activities of the Department, mainly extra-mural, are designed to bring within the scope of the College those who are otherwise occupied by day.

Through the Extension Committee and the Joint Committee for Tutorial Classes, single public lectures, one day and weekend schools, short courses of six or more weekly extension lectures, and three-year university classes are provided in the eastern part of the North Riding of Yorkshire, in the East Riding of Yorkshire, in the part of the West Riding of Yorkshire round Snaith, Selby and Goole, and in north Lincolnshire for Workers' Educational Association branches, Women's Institutes, Townswomen's Guilds, Rural Community Council Groups, Local Extension Societies, or other groups.

Courses in other subjects can also be provided.

Books are provided for the use of students in extra-mural classes or courses. In exceptional cases students specially recommended may have borrowing privileges in the College Library.

Groups wishing to take advantage of any of the facilities offered should make application to the Head of the Department of Adult Education of the College.

FINE ART

A capital sum was set aside by the Founder of the College for the encouragement of the appreciation and study of the fine arts. Only the interest is used; it is administered, under the sanction of the Council, by an ad hoc committee of the Senate. It has made possible the acquisition of a number of pictures (reproductions and originals) which are daily before the view of students, the purchase for the Library of books on the arts and musical scores, and the provision of concerts in the College. The greater part of the income has been used to defray the cost of free public lectures on the arts. The visiting lecturer is regarded as a member of the academic staff throughout the session for which he is appointed.

Candidates who have passed the Promotion Examination of the National Association of Local Government Officers will be deemed to have satisfied the condition of entry.

Only those students will be admitted who intend to take the whole course and to be candidates for the Diploma.

Application should be made to the Registrar, if possible before 26 September.

II. ATTENDANCE

GENERAL CONDITIONS

Candidates competing by examination for scholarships, exhibitions and bursaries must:

- (a) except in special cases, be not less than 17 years or more than 20* years of age on 1 October of the year of award
- (b) intend to take a complete full-time course at the College in preparation for a degree of the University of London, or other specially recognised full-time course
- (c) have passed, or have gained exemption from, the Matriculation Examination of the University of London before 1 October of the year of award; or, in the case of candidates intending to take non-degree courses, have satisfied the conditions of entry for such courses. Candidates who at the time of the scholarships examination have not yet fulfilled the conditions laid down in this paragraph, may compete for scholarships, exhibitions and bursaries, but any award will be subject to their securing the requisite qualification before 1 October
- (d) produce certificates of good conduct and suitability from the Head of the last school attended.

Bursaries may be awarded to candidates who do not comply with (a) above, and may be awarded without examination.

The scholarships, exhibitions, and bursaries are awarded for one year in the first instance, and are normally renewable for a second or third year, subject to the good behaviour and satisfactory progress of the holder, and to the absolute right of the College to vary or discontinue them at its discretion.

The College reserves to itself the right to vary the pecuniary value of its scholarships, exhibitions and bursaries.

Scholarships (other than the Adult and Social Studies Scholarships) and exhibitions are awarded after examination conducted by the Joint Scholarships Examination Board. This examination is used by the Hull Education Committee in awarding its major scholarships. Candidates who are eligible are therefore advised to enter for the scholarships of both the University College and the Hull Education Committee. It is also used by the Trustees of the Jameson Scholarship, the Ann Watson Exhibition, and the Ferries and Bury's Exhibition.

* The maximum limit of 20 years does not apply to candidates for the Commercial Scholarship for which the limit is 25 years, the Scholarship in Social Studies, for which the limits are from 20 to 40 years, or the Adult Scholarship and Bursary, for which no upper age limit has been fixed.

This examination is held in April or May of each year and application for entry must be made not later than February 1. A pamphlet containing syllabuses and other information concerning the scholarship examinations may be obtained from the Registrar.

MINISTRY OF EDUCATION AWARDS

All Open Scholarships and, on certain conditions, many of the Tied Scholarships awarded by the College qualify the holder for a Supplemental Award from the Ministry of Education.

State Scholarships are also tenable at the College. It is important that candidates who desire to enter the College shall include it in order of preference in the list of five University Institutions which they are required to enter on their application form for a State Scholarship. They should also if possible obtain provisional acceptance from the College. Early application for admission is therefore desirable.

Both Supplemental Awards and State Scholarships consist, subject to the assessment of the students' income, of grants in aid of fees and maintenance.
