FOREWORD

BY

The Rt. Hon. Ellen Wilkinson, M.P.,

MINISTER OF EDUCATION

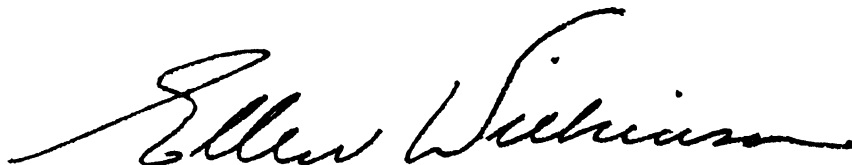

In 1946 we have worked steadily to translate the Education Act, 1944, from a legal document into a living reality. We have set before ourselves and put into effect the first instalment of an agreed programme. We have been busy securing the necessary teachers and buildings for the raising of the compulsory school age to 15 in April, 1947, expanding and improving the school meals service, meeting urgent requirements in training for industry and planning new schools for new housing estates. Local Education Authorities have devoted much time and thought to the drawing up of Development Plans.

Already we can see certain material benefits from the Act. Fees have been abolished in maintained grammar schools. There are wider and more generous opportunities for university scholarships. School milk is now provided free of charge. Perhaps most important of all, an increase in the number of teachers has enabled us to make a beginning with reducing the size of classes.

We look forward to a similar but more extensive programme in 1947. The work of 1946 will be continued and our planning will include County Colleges and Schemes of Further Education.

To carry out these programmes effectively and to increase our efforts as more labour, materials and money are made available for reconstruction and social reform will call for a combined effort from all the partners in education. I am thinking not only of administrators and teachers but parents too. How many parents realise what a vast improvement in education there will be when all the reforms in the Act have been put into effect, what those reforms are and what they involve in terms of teachers, buildings and expense? From the parents' point of view education is a very personal and local thing. I suggest therefore that Local Education Authorities have a special responsibility for keeping parents, and the public generally, informed of their plans, their problems and their performance.

Above all I hope that we shall always set ourselves high standards of quality : in the selection and training of teachers, in buildings and in the education which is provided in the schools. Only by pursuing quality and bringing the less good up to the level of the best shall we enable the children to develop to the full their abilities and aptitudes.

BY

County Alderman Sir Samuel Gurney-Dixon, J.P.,

PRESIDENT OF THE
ASSOCIATION OF EDUCATION COMMITTEES

In the war, this country achieved the apparently impossible because it was a united nation in which every citizen was conscious of sharing a common purpose. Disunity would have spelt failure.

Success in giving full effect to the Education Act of 1944 can only be won if all those who are in any way concerned with education join forces in a determined and sustained effect to achieve it.

The Ministry, the Universities, the Training Colleges, the Churches, Industry, members and officials of Education Authorities, teachers, managers and governors of schools, parents, youth leaders and young people leaving school—these have each an essential contribution to make, but they must work together and not independently of each other.

Hitherto there has been amongst these various sections a certain lack of mutual understanding of their respective aims and methods of approach and requirements. The Universities have at times appeared too segregated within their fixed frontiers. Members of Education Authorities and teachers have seemed insufficiently aware of each other's problems and difficulties. Education and Industry have been unable fully to adjust their claims, or avail themselves of what each could offer the other. The Churches have sometimes appeared to misunderstand the position of the authorities and the teachers, while conscious themselves that their role in education was often misconstrued or undervalued. Parents have been left in ignorance of what the Education Authority was striving to accomplish and have therefore been prevented from giving the support they might have done. Youth on leaving school has missed the encouragement and direction it urgently needed because its real requirements were not clearly comprehended, or because the facilities available were too little known or made use of.

One of the main objectives of the Association of Education Committees is to promote closer understanding and co-operation not only between Local Education Authorities but between all those who play any part in education. We must all recognize our dependence on each other and, like the several services which make up an army in the field, ascertain how we can best serve and support each other in the common cause.

✱ William James wrote, "The problem of modern society is to find a modern substitute for war, that is to find a unifying purpose which acts as powerfully as war in stimulating a spirit of altruism and self-sacrifice on as large a scale but without an actual enemy." Might not national education be such a unifying purpose in which all sections, with no less devotion than in time of war, would strive to conquer ignorance and apathy, selfishness and materialism, and false standards in thought and conduct. These are the worst enemies both of the individual and of the State. Let us face them with a United Front.

The Understanding of Electricity

Electricity is a continually expanding power. It is always available for new and greater developments. It is this very fact that Electricity is so powerful, yet so flexible in its application, that enabled it to be the mainpower behind our war production.

The application of Electricity to the many recent inventions and new developments promises to make Electricity the mainpower in reconstructing the war-battered world. Electricity is our opportunity. It is our duty to understand as much about it as we can.

For this reason it is urged that students be given elementary training in the best uses of Electricity. Information and advice can be had by writing to your Electricity Supply Undertaking. Lantern slides, lecture notes, films and full assistance will be provided gladly by LOOKING BOTH WAYS . . .

AT THE PAST

The war-years presented many obstacles to the service we give to Education Authorities and their Schools. The tolerance shown and co-operation given to us was warmly appreciated.

AT THE FUTURE

The new Education Act calls for a higher standard of education, better schools-- indeed, a brighter outlook for teachers and pupils alike.

It will need, also, higher standards in school cleanliness and maintenance. Our plans are in operation. An even more comprehensive Dusmo System will cope with ALL your cleaning problems.

OFFERS A COMPLETE SYSTEM OF SCHOOL CLEANING

1946 — A Review

By W. P. ALEXANDER, PH.D., ED.B., M.A., B.SC.

Secretary of the Association of Education Committees.

This first year of the operation of the Education Act, 1944, has necessarily been one of planning rather than action. Following the operation of the Act there has been a spate of regulations, statutory rules and orders, circulars and administrative memoranda. In a word, the machinery of the Act has been determined. In the process one or two of the uncertainties in the Act itself have come to light and these have been clarified by the Act of 1946, perhaps a minor piece of legislation compared to the principal Act but not unimportant. The clarification of certain points in the relationship between the local education authority and the managers or governors of voluntary schools, which is embodied in the Act of 1946, warrants the careful attention of all interested in educational administration.

ADMINISTRATION

The year has seen the establishment of Divisional Executive Committees in many County areas and the gradual bringing into effect of the provisions of the principal Act relating to administration. All authorities have been actively engaged in the preparation of their development plans. As was expected, many local education authorities had to ask for an extension of time. Already, however, quite a number of development plans are in the hands of the Ministry and it is reasonable to anticipate that by the 1st April, 1947—a year later than the date fixed in the Act—development plans for the country will have been prepared. The first administrative step in the fulfilment of the Act is approaching completion.

The school age is to be raised on the 1st April, 1947. There has been much argument throughout the year on the wisdom of raising the age by a process which must be described as sheer improvisation. It is undoubtedly a matter of regret that the age has to be raised before complete reorganisation of secondary education is made effective. The spending of another year in an all-age school, inadequately equipped and more than inadequately staffed, is not the fulfilment of the Act. Even so, it may well prove wise to take the definite step of raising the age, but it will only be so if in the shortest possible time improvisation is converted to reorganisation. The most urgent task before administrators in the year ahead is to press forward, even before final approval of development plans, with proposals for reorganisation which will make the raising of the school age worth while. The Minister must recognise that speedy reorganisation is essential if the raising of the school age is to be of real benefit. If we fail so to do the raising of the school age may prove a boomerang.

DEVELOPMENTS IN CHILDREN'S WELFARE

During the year an outstanding event was the institution of Family Allowances. From early August the scheme has been operative. It should be recognised, however, that the scheme only comes to completion when the school meals service is fully developed and free meals are provided as intended. Meantime, while the extension of the school meals service takes place the supply of school milk has been made free of charge. The welfare of children has therefore taken major forward strides. As part of the educational system, free medical treatment, free milk and, in the relatively near future, free meals, together with family allowances, constitute what must be agreed to be a major social advance. The foundations of a great educational system are being laid.

PLANNING

As these foundations are laid, so, too, plans are being prepared for the superstructure. The development plans of local education authorities are in their final stage of preparation. The year has seen a sharpening conflict of opinion on the issue of secondary education. Whether there shall be different types of secondary school or whether social values shall be allowed to override educational considerations and a system of multilateral schools be developed has become a live issue. Certainly the problem of the organisation of secondary schools deserves really careful consideration. It may well be that a new approach to the problem and a new solution may reconcile apparently conflicting views.

In the planning process there have emerged two or three national bodies which may well prove of major significance in future years. A progressive educational system is clearly dependent on research being carried out effectively and continuously. The constitution of the National Foundation for Educational Research, which is now an accomplished fact, is therefore of primary importance to those concerned with education.

In the field of adult education it has long been recognised that there was a great need to combine statutory and voluntary bodies and to enable the wide variety of interests concerned with adult education to be brought together for consultation. It is therefore a matter of congratulation that there has been established during this year a National Foundation for Adult Education, combining the interests of local education authorities, the universities and voluntary bodies.

Finally in this sphere, active steps have been taken and a large measure of agreement reached on the formation of a National Committee for Visual Education.

These three bodies provide evidence of long-term planning and are themselves a token of the agreement on all sides that the task ahead requires co-operation at all levels.

TRAINING OF TEACHERS

Planning in itself can only be a preliminary to action. The development of a system of education conforming to the requirements of the Act of 1944 can only be achieved as and when teachers are available as well as buildings. This year should, therefore, have provided intense activity in the training of teachers. There has been activity. The Emergency Training Scheme has been expanded. New Grant Regulations have been issued. Even so, there has been—and there still is—much concern as to whether the activity in this field is sufficiently intense. Almost 20,000 young men and women from the services have been accepted to be trained in the Emergency Training Scheme. Some of them are in training, but not enough. As a result these intending teachers are having to wait too long. It is to be hoped their enthusiasm can be kept alive. The need for teachers is not to be measured merely in terms of the raising of the school leaving age. Until the size of classes in the primary schools of this country are substantially reduced the full purposes of the Education Act are incapable of fulfilment. There is urgent need in the coming year for concentrated attention to be given to the problem of the recruitment, training and distribution of teachers. Murmurings during the year have grown to a fairly general demand on this matter. The demand is that there is need for a national body charged with this responsibility, representative not only of the Ministry of Education but of the other interests which are concerned.

FINANCE

Inevitably, too, the year has seen increasing concern on the problems of finance. Local education authorities have for some time been urging the need for a complete review of the grant formula. The earlier forecasts of increasing expenditure have during the year been reinforced by rather more reliable data. It can no longer be doubted that the final cost of the development plans of local education authorities may well reach a capital figure of the order of £1,000,000,000. It is significant that other voices have joined with local education authorities in pressing on the Minister the urgency of this problem. In particular, the National Union of Teachers, through its President, has voiced increasing concern lest all the planning come to nothing for financial reasons.

Perhaps the most crucial question to resolve in the year that lies ahead is the problem of grant. Unless the Minister can prevail on her Cabinet colleagues to recognise the urgency of this matter there is a grave danger of doubt becoming distress, of high hope giving place to frustration. There must not only be a better distribution of financial aid amongst local education authorities, there must be increased financial aid from the Ministry.

PERSONALITIES

Again this year there have been notable changes affecting educational personalities.

Sir Maurice Holmes has retired. Local education authorities in particular recognise the very great contribution which Sir Maurice made in the field of education. How much the Education Act of 1944 owes to him is not readily assessed. He retires with the deep thanks and good wishes of all those who have known him.

Sir John Maud succeeds Sir Maurice as the Permanent Secretary to the Ministry of Education. He comes to his great task with a very notable record, not only in educational work but in other fields of administration. He faces a colossal task. All those engaged in the educational service will wish him well and will offer him the fullest co-operation in bringing to reality in the lives of the children of England and Wales the great promise which his predecessor carried to the stage of legislation.

Yet another retiral has been announced. Sir Frederick Mander leaves the National Union of Teachers at their next conference. The tributes, which will be unstinted, have yet to be paid. The teachers have long recognised the very distinguished service which Sir Frederick has rendered, not only to their profession but to the cause of education.

His place will be taken by Mr. Ronald Gould, a distinguished past-President of the Union, of wide experience in education and in local government.

A year ago we recorded the retiral of Sir Percival Sharp. This year, with the retiral of Sir Maurice Holmes and Sir Frederick Mander, the team that laid the foundations of the national system of education embodied in the Act of 1944 hands over to the team charged with the creation of the building. There is no reasonable doubt that the foundations have been well and truly laid. We await the growth of the superstructure.

PROSPECTS

It is interesting to speculate on the year that lies ahead. Clearly, it must provide the transition from planning to action. The Minister must face and resolve certain fundamental issues.

The question of grant must be settled if local education authorities are to commit themselves with confidence to the heavy expenditure involved.

The training of teachers must be recognised as an immediate and a long term problem, and appropriate machinery, ensuring real planning in the recruitment, training and absorption of teachers into the profession, must be provided.

Not less important, it must be recognised that it will be of little avail to train teachers if there is no accommodation in which to utilise their services. There must be agreement, first, as to the methods of construction of schools, which will enable the required building programme to be carried out in the next few years ; and second, as to the proportion of building resources, men and material, which can be allocated to the needs of the educational service. Again, there must be a clear picture of an appropriate machinery for the preparation and approval of plans for schools and for securing sites for schools, at once speedy and effective.

Finally, it will be well if there can be agreement on a long-term policy relating to the planning of secondary education. It is not enough that decisions on the planning of secondary education should depend on political views or partisan opinion. It is greatly to be hoped that a clear statement balancing educational values and social values will be made, and, it is to be hoped, accepted. No uniform plan is appropriate to the varying needs of different areas but the same principles apply throughout the country.

The coming year will, I imagine, throw into relief the striking contrast between the Minister's insistence that local education authorities should delegate to Divisional Executive Committees and to Governors and Managers of Schools, and the Minister's own failure to delegate to local education authorities themselves. In a word, if planning is to be converted to action it will be well that the Minister should recognise that the way to achieve that purpose is to ensure that Ministry approvals are speedily given and are only required in matters of principle. Thereafter let local education authorities get on with the job.

Finally, the year ahead will bring us close to the time when the present Burnham Agreement terminates. We may therefore expect early negotiations relating to a new agreement to be undertaken.

1945 was a year of legislation : 1946 has been a year of planning : 1947 must be a year of action.

Where there's warmth there's contentment

IN spite of all that is said about them, snakes must be jolly and contented fellows—for Science teaches that their body temperature adjusts itself to every change in the weather, from extreme heat to freezing conditions. But our body temperature must be kept constant, if we are not to endure discomfort; and for ensuring the genial and equable warmth necessary there is nothing better than Crane Heating Equipment.

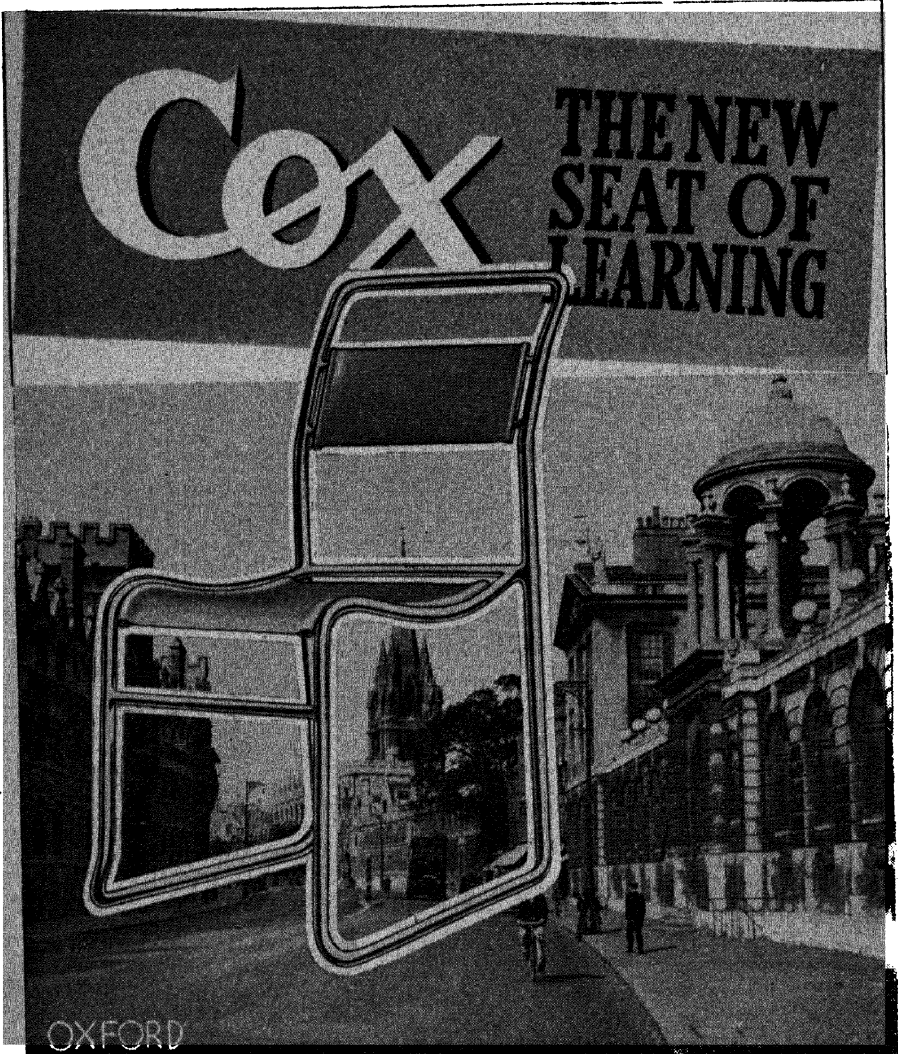

Crane Boilers and Radiators have never failed to give complete satisfaction on the grounds of efficiency, economy and long life.

COX THE NEW SEAT OF LEARNING

OXFORD

A necessary adjunct to every schoolroom—comfortable, form supporting seating—in colourful, durable finishes—smooth and light-weight—and easy to stack away into a small area, even by children, leaving the floor free for other purposes.
Cox Tubular Steel Furniture for many purposes, has been included in the specifications of many well-known architectural features and buildings, erected in the years preceding 1939—a fact of which we are justly proud.

FACING THE FUTURE

Whilst not for an instant forgetting that the maximum efforts must still be continued to ensure that the full fruits of Victory can be enjoyed, it is not, perhaps, unfitting to look forward with heightened hope and still firmer resolution to the tasks of rebuilding and regeneration which lie before us.

Not unnaturally this Firm takes particular interest in the field of Education and awaits with high hopes the progressive fulfilment of the plans already laid down and now under consideration for a wider Educational Policy.

Such services as may be rendered to this cause, both by the provision of new material suited to altered circumstances and by the continued supply of many publications which have proved their worth during the difficulties of the years of War, will, of course, gladly be given, for this Firm sees in such work many opportunities of showing in some small measure the gratitude which it must always feel for the sympathy and understanding displayed by Educationists and Teachers toward the many difficulties of war-time publishing.

Watt's rotative engine. Crown copyright. From the engine in the Science Museum, South Kensington when the first Rowney founded his business in London. The industrial age was at hand. Across the Channel, the Bastille was falling. Rowney must have felt the stir of change and adventure as he took down his shutters for the first time.

James Watt was fifty-three years old ...

Founded in the early days of British engineering, the House of Rowney has served great engineers and their draughtsmen ever since, as well as artists and architects. For one hundred and fifty-seven years a Rowney has directed the business. Each succeeding generation has retained the cherished tradition of quality and craftsmanship. Each has, in turn, added the fruits of scientific progress to the store of a unique experience.

Today, most items of Rowney's impressive list of quality products are unavoidably in short supply. Wherever you are, it is worth taking a little extra trouble to obtain them.

Reliability and Service are two important points to be considered when installing a duplicator.

Administrative offices, Educational Authorities and Educational Bodies will find many uses in their various offices for an Ellams duplicator. Perfect copies can be reproduced from one original of any document at a controlled speed of 40—120 copies per minute.

M 10
Model

The British made Ellams M.10 Automatic Electric self-feeding Rotary Model can be relied on to give that Service which is asked of it.

Only the finest materials are used in the manufacture of Ellams duplicator equipment.

Owing to Government requirement that a large percentage of production shall be allocated for export, supplies of new machines are still restricted. Every assistance, however, will be given to users to keep their existing models in good running order, and we shall be pleased at all times to give assistance and advice in this connection.

Youth Service

The Youth Service in Caernarvonshire has now become an accepted part of the life of the community, and the merging of the Youth Committee into the Further Education Committee merely reflects the attitude of the County as a whole towards the Youth Service ; that it is no longer an experiment but a part of the natural educational development through the facilities offered by the Education Authority and utilised very largely by voluntary bodies.

The number of Youth Centres is 92, not including pre-service units, St. John, Red Cross, etc.

The two most noteworthy features are the development of the Young Farmers' Clubs, one of which received a National Trophy this year, and the realisation by clubs of every organisation that it is essential for their well being that they retain their Welsh culture even in those very few areas where the clubs are not Welsh speaking.

The problem now facing the Authority is how to organise the various groups in the towns and villages into cultural and communal centres on a sound economic basis, without destroying the identity of any particular group or body.

Youth Service

The Scheme for the Establishment of the Service of Youth approved by the Education Committee in September, 1940, was planned for all youth work in the County to be directed by a County Youth Committee, which is a Sub-Committee of the Higher Education Committee, and fourteen Local Youth Sub-Committees. The main task of the various Local Youth Sub-Committees is to maintain contact with the youth activities of their areas and to make recommendations to the County Youth Committee. The constitution of all Committees has been decided by the County Council and the members include representatives of the Education Committee, Religious Denominations, Youth Organisations, Teachers, Employers and Employees.

During 1945, the Youth Committee has been engaged in encouraging existing youth organisations by the provision of grants, courses for leaders, and recreational classes, and also in furthering the development of youth work by the establishment of new youth organisations in the schools, known as Old Scholars' Clubs.

Recreation Classes have been provided for youth organisations and a variety of educational subjects have been taught.

The Youth Service Squads, which were a feature of the war period, are now being replaced by Boys and Girls Clubs. Youth Service

The County Youth Committee, formed in the Spring of 1941, is under the general direction of the Education Committee. Their policy is to develop youth work through local Committees in the larger industrial towns and by means of Service Squads in the villages.

A Divisional Executive has been formed for the area of the Borough of Kettering and the Urban Districts of Burton Latimer, Desborough and Rothwell.

Youth Service

The County Youth Service Committee is a Sub-Committee of the Wiltshire Education Committee, and includes representatives of the Church, the teaching profession, various voluntary bodies, the pre-service training organisations and Juvenile Employment. Local Youth Service Committees have been formed in the larger centres of population. The Borough of Swindon has its own Youth Service Committee. The work of the County Youth Service Committee is, apart from the pre-service units, at present largely carried out through the agency of the voluntary organisations who are given every encouragement, including financial assistance, to develop the scope of their activities. The County staff consists of one Youth Service Officer; two Assistants; five Leader-Organisers and one Club Leader.

RATIN destroys the enemy within

It is vital to the success of post-war reconstruction that the Ratin Service should be enlisted to wage war against the enemies within—the rats which are ravaging our towns and countryside, destroying food reserves and other essential stocks. They must be defeated.

The surveyors and operators of the Ratin Service are highly skilled. Their method of destruction of rats and mice is based on scientific and well-tested principles.

The service is nation-wide and includes provision for careful inspection and treatment at regulated intervals to guard against re-infestation where the menace has once been brought under control.

The Company's preparations are not supplied for use by the general public. Write at once and ask a surveyor to call and advise you.

Youth Service

The Youth Committee is a Sub-Committee of the Further Education Sub-Committee. The present membership of 36 includes the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman, appointed by the L.E.A., and five representatives of the L.E.A., together with representatives of Industry (2), Employees (2), Teachers (2), Youth Council (4), Voluntary Organisations (14), Churches (3), and other specially interested persons (2).

During the year 1945-46, the Education Committee expended some £3,600 on the Youth Service and for the year 1946-47 have made provision for an expenditure of some £4,500.

With local associations—Scouts, Guides, sports' leagues, etc.—regarded as single organisations, there are 35 affiliated groups.

Training courses are arranged on different aspects of Youth Service including various branches of Physical Recreation, Club-leadership, Drama and Camping.

The Authority's camp is used by members of many organisations and by groups from other areas.

Instructors are provided for members of voluntary groups and the free use of school premises and playing fields is allowed to all types of affiliated youth organisations.

School Meals Service

The meals are at present cooked at two central kitchens and two self-contained canteens, except that the meals for the Open Air School—isolated on an island—are supplied by a caterer. Six pre-fabricated kitchens and dining rooms are to be erected and one building is to be converted to a kitchen and dining room to meet the anticipated increase due to the introduction of free meals.

Youth Service

The Youth Committee is a Sub-Committee of the Education Committee and is constituted in accordance with Circular 1486. The administrative work is carried out by the Director of Education and his staff, with F. J. C. Marshall, M.C., acting as Youth Officer.

The Committee has given every encouragement to existing voluntary associations and clubs to expand their work and to establish Youth Centres under the auspices of committees representative of the voluntary associations and the Church. It has itself established two centres in two very needy areas. In addition, instructors have been provided in such subjects as physical training, dramatic art, music, etc., and there is a close link with the Evening Institute Organisation of the City.

SCHOOL MEALS SERVICE

During the last Municipal Year, 20 new School Canteens were opened, bringing the total to 173.

The average number of children in Maintained Primary and Secondary Schools supplied daily with dinners (two courses) increased from 30,607 in June, 1945, to 37,496 in June, 1946 (i.e., an increase from 29.13 per cent. to 35.2 per cent. of the number of children).

NURSERIES	About 2,000 dinners are supplied daily. Breakfasts and teas are also supplied at many Nurseries.
SPECIAL SCHOOLS ...	About 850 dinners are supplied daily from the Committee's kitchens to these schools.
KITCHENS	Central Kitchens, 2 ; Kitchens at schools, 19 ; Ministry of Food Cooking Depots, 8 ; also British Restaurants, 6.
NURSERY CLASSES ...	The Education Committee maintains 32 Nursery Classes for children between the ages of three and five years, who are received each weekday, including Saturdays, and provided with a specially planned midday meal sent to each class from the Gateacre Electric Kitchen. The medical care and supervision of these classes is in the hands of the School Medical Department. A school nurse visits each class daily, and a school doctor attends once a month. The girls and boys in the senior departments of the Schools have given valuable help to the nurseries, the girls by making soft toys and overalls and the boys by making toys and educational apparatus. The educational training of children over two years of age attending these nurseries, and the work of the teachers employed in them, are under the supervision and direction of the head teachers of the Infants' Departments.

Service of Youth.

The Youth Committee is a Sub-Committee of the Higher Education Committee and has adopted a definite policy of aiding voluntary organisations rather than itself forming youth organisations. 168 youth organisations, together with a large number of subsidiary units, are now affiliated to the Youth Committee and approximately £8,500 has been paid in grants to these affiliated organisations during the current financial year. The Education Committee has provided approximately 130 classes specially arranged for organisations both in educational subjects and in recreational subjects, together with increased facilities for club meetings and outdoor sports activities. Drama and P.T. Courses and a Youth Games Week have been arranged together with training courses for club leaders.

Youth Service

The general aim in establishing a youth centre is to provide a meeting place for the youth of the district where the recreational work of the senior schools can be continued. The primary concern is the welfare and happiness of the members. Students are quick to realise the advantages of a communal centre, and the attendances prove that a good proportion grasp the opportunities provided, thereby justifying the existence of the Institutes. Formality is dispensed with as far as possible and the centre is run on the lines of a club. Apart from the normal activities in physical training and games, art and crafts, dramatics, science, woodwork and metalwork, cookery, dressmaking and embroidery, special features are introduced such as films, lantern lectures, concerts, social evenings, table tennis and football matches, and visits to places of interest. Generally speaking, the response from students is good and there is no doubt that the work of the Centres is well worth while. Students are usually from 14 to 20 years of age. Youth Centres have now been opened to cover the whole of the City of Norwich. There are two centres for boys, one for girls and six for boys and girls. Over 1,500 boys and girls have enrolled during the present session.

S. W. Turnbull is Youth Organiser to the Norwich Education Authority. Tel. : Norwich 22233, Extension 116.

Youth Service

All the Youth Clubs in the City are under Voluntary Management Committees. There are fourteen full-time clubs with paid Leaders, a large number of Church Clubs and smaller groups, and the usual pre-service and uniformed organisations. The Youth Committee (Chairman: Councillor E. Stanley Leatherby) co-ordinates the work of all these groups, gives financial and other aid, and organises a variety of central activities, Leaders' Courses, Drama Contests, Exhibitions and Rallies.

The Council of Youth, elected by affiliated organisations from their own membership, is doing excellent work. It is represented on the Youth Committee and has considerable responsibilities delegated to it by the latter body.

COMMUNITY CENTRES

The first Community Centre to be administered by the Education Authority was opened in September, 1945. Arrangements have been made to establish a second Centre shortly.

SALFORD (C.B.)

DAY SPECIAL SCHOOLS ... Two Open-air, with 100 and 78 respectively (at 30th September, 1945), on the roll. One school for partially blind children is temporarily closed.

School Meals Service

School meals are supplied from 67 canteens, 22 of which are Self-Contained School Kitchens and 45 are School Dining Rooms receiving supplies from three Central Kitchens.

The average number of children receiving a midday meal increased in June, 1946, to 9,316 out of an average attendance of 20,005. Of the pupils receiving a midday meal Nursery Schools provided 228 pupils, Primary Schools 7,243 pupils, Secondary Schools 1,700 pupils and Open-Air Schools 145 pupils.

Breakfasts and teas in addition are supplied to a relatively small number of children. During the year 1945-46 eight new canteens have been opened.

Youth Service

The Youth Service is administered by a Youth Service Committee, a Sub-Committee of the Education Committee, which includes members of the Council and voluntary organisations. In addition to the numerous voluntary organisations, three Youth Centres with a membership of over 1,200 have been established by the authority. A strong feature of the Service has been the development of cultural activities, particularly Drama, in which connection an annual festival of a week's duration is held. This has culminated in a scheme for the establishment of a Youth Theatre to be known as "The Torch" The Youth of Salford are encouraged to be a partnership in the work and through the Young People's Council have proved themselves of definite assistance in co-operation with the Youth Committee in the encouragement and sponsoring of youth activities.

School Meals Service

Arrangements, in some cases temporary, for the supply of midday meals are adequate for the needs of pupils in all schools. The service is operated from specially constructed kitchens and dining rooms in use at certain schools before the war, from domestic subjects rooms converted as kitchens, some of which also provide communal feeding, and from kitchens improvised in school classrooms. The rehabilitation of families in re-conditioned houses, and the estimated increase in population which will attend the completion of new housing schemes in war-devastated areas, has necessitated the preparation of plans for the replacement of temporary arrangements by the provision of Ministry of Works standard kitchen-dining rooms, central kitchens and dining rooms, or with new permanent buildings or permanent adaptation of redundant school accommodation.

The Education Authority is responsible for the administration of British Restaurants and Communal Feeding Centres.

Midday meals are provided by 38 school canteens, 8 of which supply other schools, 10 communal feeding centres, 8 of which supply school meals, and 2 British Restaurants. 5 war-time Day Nurseries, 2 Nursery Schools and 4 Special Schools have their own kitchens and the Municipal Technical College has a refectory for the supply of teas in addition to the midday meals.

Youth Service

The Youth Committee is an Advisory Committee of the Higher Education Sub-Committee and is representative of the Education Authority and organisations in the County Borough interested in the Welfare of Youth.

The Committee fosters the promotion of Rallies, Festivals and Exhibitions, administers Youth Clubs directly maintained by the Education Authority, recommends financial assistance and school lettings to voluntary organisations, and the appointment of Youth Club Wardens, Youth Leaders and Club Instructors. 38 instructional classes are held in Voluntary Clubs with instructors provided by the Authority on the same rates and conditions as Evening Institute teachers. A free film service is provided for all clubs, a library of gramophone records kept for club use, and school playing fields are available to youth organisations after midday each Saturday and at other times by arrangement.

The Youth Service estimates for 1946-47 are £5,600, a large proportion of which will be expended in providing assistance to Voluntary Organisations.

All the recognised uniformed Youth Organisations and other National Bodies responsible for the promotion of Youth Welfare exist in the County Borough and are supported by the Education Authority.

Youth Service

The Education Authority have delegated to the former Juvenile Organisations Committee (established 1918) the functions of the Local Youth Committee. Close liaison between the Authority and the Local Youth Committee, under this arrangement, particularly as regards finance, is effected through a small Co-ordination Committee of representatives of Authority and Youth Committee.

The majority of youth organisations in Wigan are affiliated to the Local Youth Committee, and derive assistance and grants from that source. The Youth Committee have sponsored the formation and establishment of additional clubs and have collaborated in the establishment of numerous parochial clubs.

Close co-operation is afforded by the Youth Committee to the Education Authority as regards co-ordination of the work of youth organisations with evening institute activity.

Youth Service

The Education Committee again agreed this year to set aside £1,500 to finance the Youth Welfare movement, and the Governing Body of the Angus Educational Trust have renewed their grant of £200. The Club organisation has developed with the opening of three new clubs and the possible development of two more in the near future. The pre-service units continue to attract the boys, while the G.T.C. is progressing, 3 new sections having been formed recently in rural areas.

The Youth Council is now functioning and meets quarterly. Eight local Youth Panels have been constituted to supervise the Youth Service movement within the county. One paid Club Leader has been appointed while another is to be appointed as from September 1946.

Youth Service

In Dundee there are at present 20 Youth Organisations composed of 395 Senior and Junior Units. There are 82 Clubs, and Youth Centres have been developed both in city and in new housing areas.

All Voluntary Organisations have representation on the City Youth Council and Local Youth Panels are in process of formation.

Under the auspices of the Youth Council, Training Courses in General Youth Work, Discussion Group Work, Handicrafts and Drama have been held from time to time and have been very well attended. The Education Committee has each year sent a number of Leaders to attend the Scottish Youth Leadership Training Association Summer Schools at St. Andrews.

During the past four years, four inter-club Drama Festivals have been held, and there have been Musical and Country Dancing Festivals held under the auspices of the Dundee Association of Girls' Clubs.

The policy of the Education Committee hitherto has been to develop the youth work as far as possible, through the existing Youth Organisations, and the use of schools, the services of specialist teachers and financial assistance have been given for this purpose.

Simple control by a single lever

To the person who is only interested in the finished work it may not matter much whether a duplicator is simple to work, or not. But to the operator, with a job to be done in a hurry, it counts for a lot. There were five years of patient research, testing, and experiment before the first Roneo "500" was sold. The result was a machine that is simplicity itself. This simplicity can be seen at each step in the production of the printed sheet — easy stencil fixing, automatic inking, colour change in 20 seconds, and full control by a single lever. And, since time saved is money saved, there are advantages to the treasurer's Department too!

TOWELS without TEARS!

November, 1945

"From the enquiries which I have made with my Committee's Head Mistresses and Head Masters, there is an overwhelming expression of the desire to return to the use of Paper Towels as soon as possible."

(Signed)

Director of Education

We apologise for the plagiarism, but like the above Director, many Authorities have found that because for many years we have specialised in providing a towel service for schools, we can help them at a time when the provision of a simple, hygienic but economical towel service is pressing yet difficult. We would welcome the opportunity of discussing the Cresco Service with you.

A New Method

in Education

THE DAVIDSON EDUCATIONAL TEST YOURSELF SYSTEM

Revision in Maths., Science, Chemistry, French, etc.

Five Salient Points in the use of "Detys"

1. "DETYS" is an individual method.
2. A more integrated approach in modern schools must be accompanied by REVISION OF FACTUAL MATERIAL in each subject, "DETYS" can be applied to any subject at any age.
3. In and out of school the need for revision is great, "DETYS" provides the method.
4. Revision is usually boring, "DETYS" maintains interest by the combination of a manual operation and mental processes. THE PUPIL ENJOYS IT.
5. The slogan "'DETYS' PIN-POINTS THE FACTS" speaks for itself.

PROCEDURE FOR ASSESSMENT OF GRANT UNDER THE NEW GRANT SYSTEM

MINISTRY OF EDUCATION. Circular 121 : August 16th, 1946

THE NEW GRANT SYSTEM.

1. In Circular 96 the principle of the new grant system for school meals was stated in the following terms :—

“ It is therefore proposed from April 1st, 1947, to raise the Exchequer subvention in aid of the cost of school dinners to a level which will meet in full the reasonable net cost of school dinners to Authorities ; but this Exchequer subvention will be limited to the reasonable net cost per meal as fixed annually by the Minister for the area after consultation with the Authority.”

2. It was further explained :—

(i) That the approved cost per meal for school dinners for day pupils would be separately assessed in respect of (a) expenditure on food, and (b) other expenditure and that the total amount of grant payable for the year on the expenditure of the Authority on school dinners would not exceed an amount ascertained by reference to the approved cost and to the number of meals supplied ;

(ii) That as from April 1st, 1947, expenditure on meals and refreshments other than dinners for day pupils would rank for grant at the normal formula rate ;

(iii) That expenditure on establishing and equipping school canteens would continue to attract grant at 100 per cent. ; and

(iv) That Authorities would be asked during the year 1946-47 to supply the necessary financial and statistical information for a review of costs and for determination of the approved cost per meal for the year 1947-48.

ASSESSMENT OF GRANT

3. The procedure for the assessment of grant in respect of school dinners for day pupils will be as follows :—

(i) The Authority will be asked to submit information in the light of which the Minister after consultation with the Authority will fix for the area (a) a unit cost per dinner for food, and (b) a unit cost per dinner for overhead expenditure, i.e., for all expenditure other than on food. These will be called the unit costs for food and overheads respectively for the financial year to which they will apply for the purposes of grant.

(ii) The sum of the following amounts, less the income from parents, etc., will be the amount of grant payable, subject to the general conditions of the Grant Regulations :—

(a) The actual expenditure on food up to the limit of the unit cost for food multiplied by the number of dinners served at or in respect of maintained schools ;

(b) The actual expenditure on overheads up to the limit of the unit cost for overheads multiplied by the same number as in (a) ;

(c) The actual expenditure (for food and overheads together) incurred under Sections 78 (2) (a) and 81 of the Education Act, 1944, in respect of dinners at non-maintained schools (other than Independent Schools—see paragraph 9) up to the limit of the sum of the two unit costs multiplied by the number of such dinners.

(iii) In the preceding sub-paragraph the unit cost referred to is that finally determined under the procedure set out in paragraph 4.

(iv) The grant thus assessed will be the whole of the Exchequer subvention in aid of school dinners for day pupils (in schools other than Independent Schools). No expenditure properly attributable to this service will be eligible for grant under any other head.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR FIXING THE UNIT COSTS FOR FOOD AND OVERHEADS FOR 1947-48.

4. (i) The information required is shown on Form 220 M which is reproduced in outline in the appendix.* This form should be completed and sent to the Medical Branch of the Ministry not later than October 15th next. Authorities will, no doubt, accompany the form with a statement in explanation of the information submitted and in support of their forecast of the costs per meal for 1947-48.

(ii) In the light of this information the Authority will be notified, if possible before December 31st, 1946, of the unit costs provisionally fixed for their area. The purpose of this step is to furnish the Authority for the purpose of their rate estimates with an indication of the position with regard to the grant on school dinners as long as possible before the beginning of the financial year in question.

(iii) Up to September 30th, 1947, it will be open to the Authority to seek a revision of the provisional unit costs for 1947-48 and for this purpose they may submit such new or amended figures on Form 220 M and such further explanations as may seem to them desirable.

(iv) The provisional (or revised) unit costs will then be made final by the Minister, subject to sub-paragraph (v) below.

(v) After the unit costs have been finally fixed for the financial year they will not normally be open to further adjustment. The Minister proposes, however, to reserve power to make upward or downward adjustments necessitated by contingencies of an exceptional nature outside the control of the Authority and directly affecting costs, e.g., an increase in wages due to a general award, a reduction in the price of fuel, or a substantial change in the level of food prices such as could not, in the case of an increase, be offset by a reasonable adjustment of purchases.

5. Subject to adjustments in the light of experience it is intended to follow the same general procedure in future years.

OTHER MEALS AND REFRESHMENTS.

6. Owing to the special difficulty of an apportionment of expenditure between (i) dinners, and (ii) other meals and refreshments respectively, the Minister proposes to take power in Regulations to fix assumed costs per meal for other meals and refreshments in respect of (a) food, and (b) overheads. These assumed costs would be used to determine the sum to be treated for grant purposes as expenditure attributable to other meals or refreshments, on which grant will be paid at the normal formula rate. In order to provide information for this purpose Authorities are asked to give on Form 220 M such estimates as they can of these costs per meal. The statement accompanying the Form should explain the basis adopted. In the meantime, it is proposed to defer a decision whether the assumed costs should be fixed for the country as a whole or for each area separately.

NUMBER OF MEALS.

7. For the present, in order to avoid adding to the burden of clerical work at the schools, the "number of meals" for the purpose of all calculations in connection with the new grant system will be the number of meals served (of the type in question returned by the School Canteens, as catering establishments, to the local Food Office for the six and a half eight-weekly periods most nearly conforming with the financial year.

*A supply of Forms 220M will be issued as soon as possible.

FORM 220 M.

8. (i) It should be noted that the particulars of expenditure required in Form 220 M relate throughout to gross costs ; as explained in paragraph 3 the income from parents, etc., will be deducted at the final stage in arriving at the net expenditure in aid of which the Exchequer subvention will be paid in accordance with paragraph 1 of Circular 96.

(ii) It is appreciated that owing to staffing difficulties Authorities may not find it possible on this occasion to complete Tables 1 (a) and 2 (a) in full detail, although the analysis required does not go beyond that provided in the Statutory Education Revenue Account. It is essential, however, that expenditure on food, after exclusion of expenditure on the purchase of school milk, should be separated from expenditure on overheads. The expenditure on salaries and wages should also be separately shown.

(iii) It will be noted that in Tables 1 (a), 2 (a) and 3 (a), line B (1), Column (3), the only overhead expenditure on milk which Authorities are asked to isolate is expenditure on wages incurred in the handling of milk in the schools.

(iv) Table 4 relating to the number, size and type of the Canteens is intended to provide a broad picture of the type of service in the area in view of the bearing of these factors on costs. Authorities are asked to show the position at or about the beginning of the year 1946-47 ; but accurate relation to a particular date will not be required.

EXPENDITURE IN RESPECT OF INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS UNDER SECTIONS 78 (2) (a) AND 81 OF THE EDUCATION ACT, 1944.

9. Expenditure under Sections 78 (2) (a) and 81 of the Education Act, 1944, on school dinners at Independent Schools and the number of dinners concerned will be excluded from the calculation of the unit costs and from the calculation of grant under paragraph 3 above. For purposes of grant this expenditure (as at present) will require specific and prior approval and the grant will meet the expenditure up to the amount so approved.

SCHOOL MEALS SERVICE

MACHINERY AND ADMINISTRATION*

By E. D. MARRIS (Ministry of Education)

The School Meals Service as we know it, was born of the bombs and torpedoes of 1940 in the days when we did things without asking too much permission. It was not in a good time of peace and prosperity but in those darkest days of war that we rubbed out "School Feeding Centre" and wrote "School Canteen." We were given the courageous advice that improvement of the service must go hand in hand with expansion even in a time of peril. The year 1941 saw this policy established by the setting-up of a new standard of quality to be aimed at, and the next year saw the first big achievement when the numbers having school dinners at the end of the year reached one million. In 1943 we realised that to get much further, new methods were needed. About 25 per cent. of the children were getting meals but the outlook in the Atlantic battle was serious and the idea of linking the Service eventually with Family Allowances had taken root. It was decided to develop the Service without limit and we put the average target at 75 per cent. Minor adaptations of existing buildings and a small supply of flimsy huts no longer sufficed; we needed a large building programme. This is where the Ministry of Works came into the picture. They could not spare Architects to plan individual Canteens but at our suggestion they offered to organise a programme of building on standardised lines. During that summer the first 10 standard plans were worked out with printed specifications and quantities. Many plans have been added since, particularly for the complete Canteens comprising Kitchen and Dining Room.

STANDARD PLANS

Slight adjustments can be made in the standard plans when absolutely necessary, e.g., to fit the site, but small variations mean separate drawings, amendments of quantities and specifications, and special attention at every stage, so that there is not merely more but very much more work to be done than in normal cases. Naturally there are many details we too should like to alter in the light of experience but in this mass production scheme we can only do this gradually. On the whole the Standard Canteens are a good and fairly spacious job which you can alter and improve if you like when times permit. You are not bound in any way by the Standard Plans when your Authority are carrying out building work themselves, though most people seem to find them helpful and they serve to illustrate the degree of economy in building labour, materials and equipment that still has to be observed. Be careful about the size of Canteen you ask for, do not cut it too fine but remember that you have to make us feel reasonably satisfied that you are asking for the right size. Do not ask for accommodation for 500 without explanation when at first sight it seems unlikely that the demand will exceed 350; give us the facts. As, however, the Standard Plans of dining rooms in most cases provide only eight square feet per seat whereas for secondary schools the new Building Regulations require nine square feet, a 10-15 per cent. over-estimate of the numbers likely to take dinner at such schools is all to the good.

DINING ROOMS

The Building Regulations prescribed a separate Dining Room for every secondary school and for every primary school with more than six classes. Under the 1943 programme we were only able to allow Dining Rooms where it was quite impossible to do without, but at the beginning of 1945, Circular 21 laid it down that a separate Dining Room should be considered wherever it would be required on the standard of the Building Regulations, though, in some cases there might be good grounds for adopting temporary expedients. This has been greatly emphasised by Circular 97 which insists on the need for rapid improvement in the amenities of the Service in addition to expansion. The case of the small school which at present has no assembly hall or free space presents special difficulty. We have authority to allow separate Dining Rooms in these cases when it seems really necessary but we must be satisfied that better dining conditions could not wait for the execution of the Development Plan and we must not waste money or clutter up small sites. If there is no Hall it can be taken for granted that we will normally allow the provision of a separate Dining Room if there are four to six classes, but where the classes number one, two or three, proposals for a separate dining room have to be closely considered. We are planning a new small, and we hope, very economical Kitchen and Dining Room for 40 enlargable to 70 which may make the decisions on some of these cases easier. Much correspondence is saved on this and other points if the latest edition of Form 212M. is used and all the relevant questions answered.

*From a paper read to the Conference of School Meals Organisers, held by the Ministry of Education, May, 1946.

SUPPLY AND EQUIPMENT

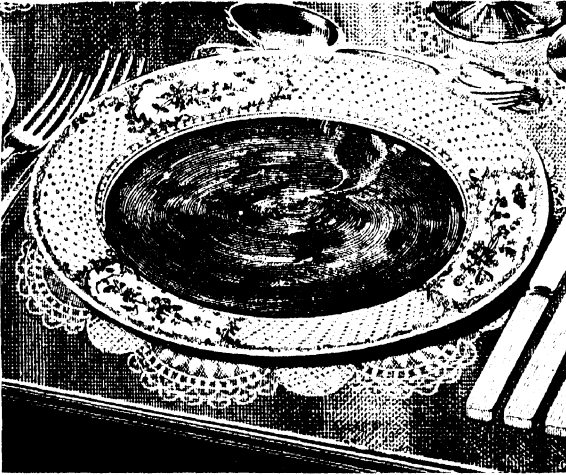

Form 212M is the form on which all building work and initial issues of equipment (but not replacements) are sanctioned, i.e., it is the form for the approval of capital, not maintenance, expenditure. It is convenient to use it for both large and small matters involving free provision or 100 per cent. grant because there must be a record of these transactions wholly at the cost of the Exchequer. If there seem to be too many of these forms, arrangements can be made with us to deal en bloc with collections of small items which are usually small additions of equipment to existing Canteens. Arrangements can also be made for periodical bulk ordering in the case of all except heavy equipment so that a steady flow can be maintained and delay avoided. If approval in principle is obtained heavy equipment can be ordered at an early stage so as to minimise the possibility of a hold-up through delays in delivery. It is best to fix up the matter of procedure by discussion at the Ministry as methods and circumstances vary a little from area to area. The setting up of a Central Stores organisation for the area often helps a great deal.

POOL EQUIPMENT

Very briefly I want to explain the history and nature of Pool Equipment. In 1941 it was seen that the total demands for Canteen equipment for all purposes far exceeded the supply and that the only hope of making ends meet was to use standardisation, to plan a wide range of equipment on utility lines, and to place bulk orders for it on the basis of programmes submitted by all the Government Departments concerned. This was an immensely difficult shop-keeping operation carried out by the Ministry's Officials largely with inexperienced staff under the heavy pressure of war conditions. Mistakes and stupidities have, of course, been innumerable, we all share the responsibility for them, but despite all the irritations the system has in fact produced the goods and in the present conditions of severe shortage it is still essential. Two things need to be made clear. The Pool is a pool of orders not a warehouse of equipment. Bulk orders for manufacture are placed and when your order is received by the Ministry of Works the manufacturer is instructed to deliver the goods to you. Despite every care in giving delivery instructions, it sometimes happens that the particular manufacturer is unexpectedly held up by some difficulty and takes abnormally long over delivery. Do not complain too soon but don't wait six months or more without sending in a reminder to the Ministry of Works and if really necessary tell us about it too.

The other point is that in the war we necessarily had to adopt austerity designs and use substitute materials and finishes. Now the Ministry of Works is helping in every possible way to return to normal qualities and designs, but the manufacturing adjustments are innumerable and you must not be surprised for the present if progress seems slow. It is particularly disappointing that for example only a fraction of your demand for knives can be made in stainless steel despite the most energetic efforts.

Just how much we have to speed things up is shown by these figures. Last year we received proposals for new Canteen provision for 5,000 children a week. This year the figure has risen to 10,000 and even 15,000 a week but if we are to carry out our task quickly enough it will have to reach 20,000. The bulk orders for equipment have been increased accordingly but the problem is to secure the output. The new arrangement for building labour priority introduced in January appears to be working well on the whole. Since direction of labour has been abolished it is obvious that the priority scheme cannot cure the shortage of labour but it does ensure us a reasonable share. Now we have a priority system for building materials as well which is just getting into its stride. The main point is that we must stop using bricks wherever we possibly can. Provided that the minimum of material in short supply is demanded, all School Meals work receives full priority for materials irrespective of the degree of priority granted for building labour. My last point is about finance. During the war years we have kept statistical material to the bare minimum but in future with the cost of the Service being borne, subject to limits, by the Exchequer as explained in Circular 96 it is clear that more information and closer financial control will be needed. We must all accept the fact that proper costing of the Service is essential.

Supplying THE TOOLS FOR TEACHING

Your own School may, at one time or another, have obtained stationery, text books, school furniture or sports gear from the Educational Supply Association. But do you realise just how many other needs of yours can be met by this House? It is no exaggeration to say that, given the bare School building, the E.S.A. can furnish it with everything from pencils to the completely equipped Gymnasium and Laboratories . . . and, above all, bring to the task not only long experience and a tradition of craftsmanship, but also an outlook very much in step with to-day's new world of education. 'Quality' and 'modernity' may be overworked words, but no one knows better than you how much these things matter in planning the tools for Teaching.

- Manufacturers of School Stationery, Furniture, Gymnasium and Laboratory Equipment.
- School Booksellers.
- Suppliers of Uniforms, Sports gear, materials for the 'Under Sevens' and all other School requirements.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL OF PHYSICAL RECREATION

Patrons : His Majesty The King ; Her Majesty Queen Mary

President : The Rt. Hon. The Viscount Hampden, G.C.V.O., K.C.B., C.M.G.

Hon. Treasurer : Sir John Catlow, J.P.

Chairman, Executive Committee : Mr S. F. Rous, C.B.E.

General Secretary : Miss P. C. Colson, O.B.E.

Deputy Secretary : Mr. H. Justin Evans, M.B.E., M.A.

Offices : 6, Bedford Square, W.C.1. Phone : Museum 1282.

FORMATION AND PROGRESS

The Central Council was brought into being in 1935 when the Ling Physical Education Association and the National Association of Organisers of Physical Education jointly contributed the sum of £300. The newly initiated Council was recognised by the Ministry of Education and was fortunate in having as its first Chairman, Sir George Newman. In 1937, the Council was mentioned in the White Paper "Physical Training and Recreation," and in 1940, in Circular 1529, the Ministry expressed their hope "that local education authorities and voluntary organisations will make the fullest use of this means of improving and increasing their resources in trained and competent leaders . . . and will avail themselves of the services that the Central Council can offer in helping with the organisation and running of Youth Rallies, Games Schemes, Lecture-Demonstrations, Village Keep-Fit Meetings, Open Classes for industrial workers and the like."

The Council has received grant aid from the Ministry of Education since 1937 and from the Scottish Department of Education since 1945.

COMPOSITION AND ORGANISATION

The Council's members include 154 national organisations concerned with outdoor and indoor physical recreation. Since its inception the Council has worked closely with local education authorities ; in 1942, in order to facilitate this co-operation, a Consultative Body was set up representing the Association of Education Committees, the Association of Directors and Secretaries for Education, the National Association of Organisers of Physical Education and the C.C.P.R. At the present time, the Council has some 65 Technical Representatives working in various parts of the country, and it is hoped that any local education authorities not already in touch with the local Technical Representatives who desire to avail themselves of the Council's assistance, will write to the Council's headquarters.

ASSISTANCE OFFERED BY THE CENTRAL COUNCIL TO LOCAL EDUCATION AUTHORITIES

The aim of the Central Council is to promote the physical and mental health of the community through physical recreation. Through its headquarters office and Regional Technical Representatives, the Council is prepared to offer the following services to local education authorities, voluntary youth organisations and industrial concerns. —

- (a) Advisory Services : The technical knowledge of the Council is at the disposal of all groups and individuals concerned with physical recreation.
- (b) The Training of Leaders : The Council conducts national, regional and local courses of varying types and lengths for leaders of physical recreation, frequently in co-operation with local education authorities. In addition, the Council's Representatives are always glad to advise leaders of classes arranged by authorities and voluntary organisations and supervise their work if requested.
- (c) Games and Outdoor Activities : The Council co-operates with governing bodies of games and sports and outdoor activities in the development of all forms of physical recreation. Many Games Schemes are organised annually in co-operation with local education authorities with the object of stimulating the general public to take part in activities of all kinds.
- (d) Lecture-Demonstrations, Rallies and Open Classes : The Council's Representatives arrange and conduct many lecture-demonstrations, youth rallies and "open" classes with a view to increasing the public interest in physical recreation. Most of these events are organised at the request of local education authorities.

NATIONAL TEST FOR LEADERS

In 1940, the Central Council instituted, with the approval of the Ministry of Education, a National Test for Leaders of Physical Recreation. Over 1,000 men and women have now qualified as National Leaders by examination or exemption and the Test has proved a great incentive to voluntary and part-time leaders to improve their qualifications. Many of the Council's courses are specially designed to give training to men and women preparing to take the National Test. The Council has recently inaugurated a National Test for Accompanists of Movement, which, it hopes, will do much to raise the standard of accompanying for Keep-fit classes, National Dancing, etc

PUBLICATIONS

The Council publishes and stocks a considerable number of books dealing with all aspects of outdoor and indoor physical recreation and health education. A full list will be sent on application.

NATIONAL RECREATION CENTRE

In April, 1946, through the generosity of its owner, the Council opened Bisham Abbey, near Marlow, as a National Recreation Centre. The new Centre is used not only for training courses and conferences, but for "physical recreation training holidays," which young people between the ages of 16 and 30 may attend in order to improve their proficiency at such activities as canoeing, rowing, athletics, football, ballroom dancing and swimming under expert tuition.

INFORMATION

Further information on any aspect of the Council's work will be gladly furnished by the General Secretary on request

GETTING HOT WATER

Boys' High School, Rock Ferry, served by Leonard-Thermostatic Water Mixing Valves.

In schools, and in any place where group washing takes place, there is no point in letting every user make his own blend of hot and cold—it makes for waste. With Leonard valves hot water can be supplied at the temperature best suited for the job in hand and those who provide it can determine the temperature at which it is to be used. Thereafter the valve will keep it there no matter what fluctuations occur in the supply system to the washbasins or showers. There is no waste of water or heat ; no risk of scalding. If the cold supply should fail the valve automatically cuts down the hot to a harmless trickle. Leonard - Thermostatic Water Mixing Valves are recommended as standard practice for all schools.

SCHOOL SWIMMING BATHS

MEMORANDUM OF RECOMMENDATIONS FOR CONSIDERATION IN CONNECTION WITH PROVISION, DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION OF BATHS FOR THE TEACHING OF SWIMMING.

Presented by a liaison committee consisting of delegates appointed by

THE SOUTHERN COUNTIES AMATEUR SWIMMING ASSOCIATION,
THE ROYAL LIFE SAVING SOCIETY, AND THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SWIMMING INSTRUCTORS.

The purpose of this memorandum is to offer some assistance in the matter of swimming baths to be used for teaching. It is not intended to enter into the many details that are the concern of the architect and the engineer but rather to indicate certain features that teachers have, from long experience, found desirable.

In view of the importance of swimming as an integral part of education and the many details peculiar to the construction of swimming baths suitable for teaching purposes, it is felt that a separate publication dealing with the matter should be issued by the Ministry of Education.

The necessity for teaching baths as distinct from public swimming baths has become increasingly apparent in the past few years. The teaching of swimming is a skilled vocation and the best results can only be obtained by qualified teachers working in suitable conditions. It is most unsatisfactory for teachers and young pupils to work in a swimming bath intended for adult swimmers and perhaps with members of the public in the water at the same time.

The teaching bath should be designed primarily for the instruction of young children and adolescents and may incorporate features not ordinarily embodied in the public swimming bath.

Local circumstances will influence the type of teaching bath needed. A large school may need a bath for the exclusive use of its pupils; a sparsely populated rural district may consider a small bath with very minimum requirements sufficient for the needs of the community. In the main, however, the most suitable teaching bath will be the School of Swimming provided for the use of a group of schools. The Authority might consider the provision of a school of swimming adjoining the public swimming bath; this would be economical in upkeep and would create a swimming population to patronise the larger swimming bath.

Baths primarily intended for the use of school swimming may in some less populous areas be designed to be used as a public swimming bath after school hours.

The School of Swimming should provide not only for children receiving instruction in swimming as part of the school curriculum but for classes of young people after school hours. With the growth of swimming in schools it will be found that Local Youth Committees, Youth Organisations, Evening Institutes and Swimming Clubs will present an increasing demand for further education in this desirable activity.

Teaching baths should be designed to enable swimming to be taught throughout the year.

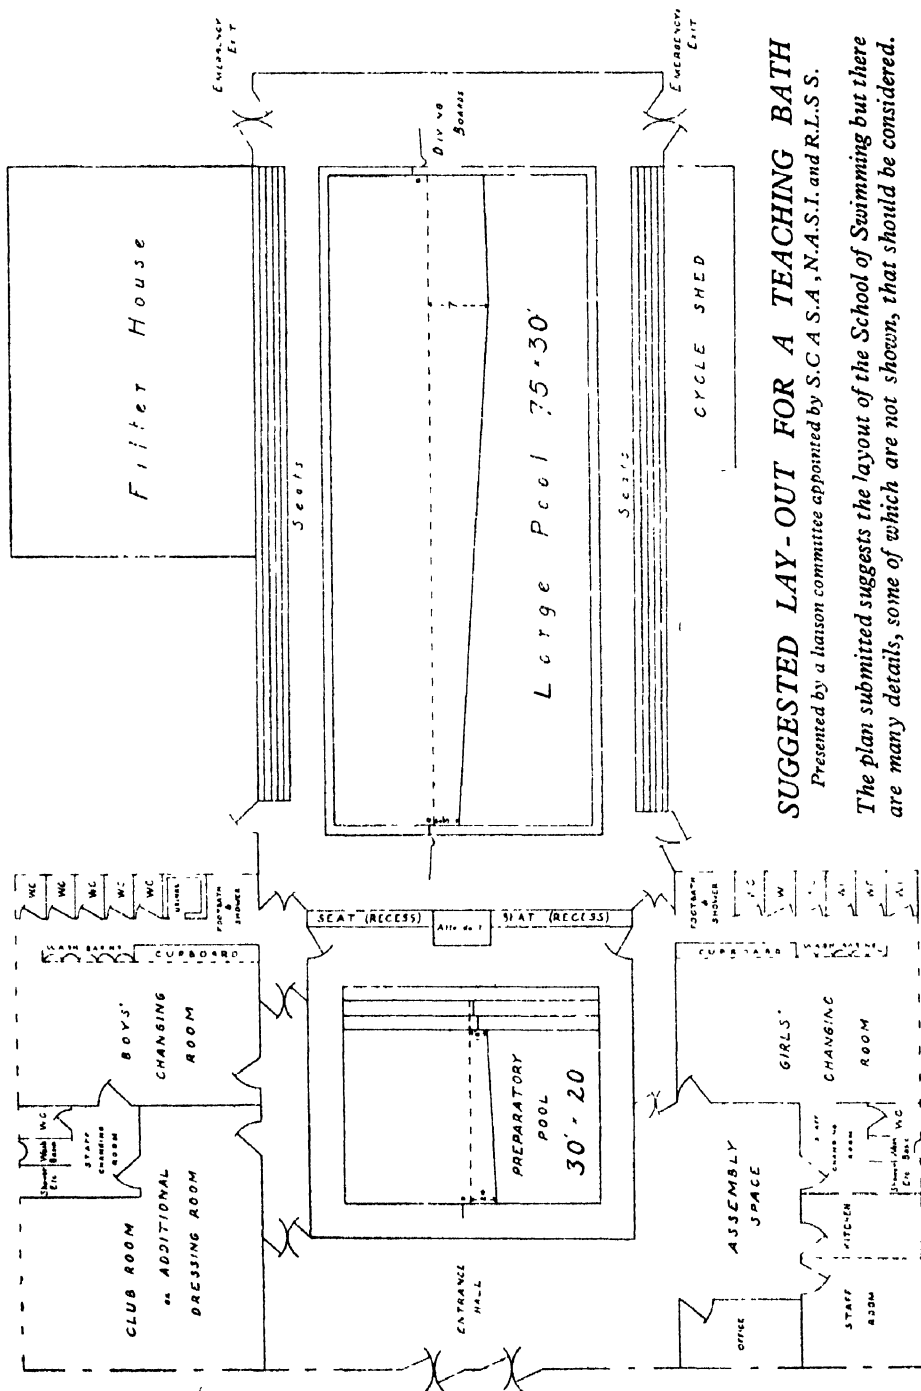

SUGGESTED DESIGN FOR SCHOOL OF SWIMMING

This memorandum is accompanied by a suggested design for a teaching bath. While varying needs will call for amendments extending or modifying the layout, this plan is offered as a basis showing general requirements.

The main pool is 75 feet by 30 feet. The depth of water at the shallow end is 3 feet increasing to 3 feet 6 inches in the first 20 feet of the length, when the bottom of the bath slopes to a depth of 7 feet at a distance of 15 feet from the further end of the bath. Recessed, perpendicular steps are built in at each corner of the bath at the deep end. Moveable teak steps with 6 inch risers are provided in each corner of the shallow end.

Note.—In view of the fact that the bath may be used for competitions by swimming clubs, etc., care should be taken that dimensions between the deck ends are exact.

An outstanding feature of the design is the preparatory pool. If this is omitted the depth of water in the swimming pool should be 2 feet 6 inches in the shallow end sloping to 3 feet in the first 20 feet of the length. Three feet may be regarded as a

Presented by a liaison committee appointed by S.C.A.S.A, N.A.S.I. and R.L.S.S.

The plan submitted suggests the layout of the School of Swimming but there are many details, some of which are not shown, that should be considered.

desirable minimum depth for swimmers but it must be remembered that it is also very desirable that the bath should be suitable for young beginners and that 2 feet 6 inches is the best minimum depth for a bath catering both for young novices and more proficient swimmers.

There is a parapet, 12 inches high and 12 inches wide, between the pool and the bath surround. A three-tier amphitheatre of seating accommodation is arranged along each side of the bath. The bath surround is 3 feet wide between the parapet and the lower tier of seats and 10 feet wide at each end of the bath.

THE PREPARATORY POOL

This pool is 30 feet wide and 20 feet long. A whole class of beginners may enter the water by steps extending the full width of the bath. The water is 18 inches deep at the bottom of the steps increasing to 2 feet 6 inches at the "deep" end.

The preparatory pool adds very considerably to the working capacity and usefulness of the bath as a whole. Young and nervous beginners may become accustomed to the new environment much more quickly in very shallow water in which even the smallest pupils can place their hands on the bottom of the pool to adopt the necessary horizontal position for swimming. In this position they may easily learn the rudiments of floating, gliding and elementary swimming movements. Shallow water is admirable also for playing games and acquiring that confidence which is so essential

DRESSING ACCOMMODATION

There is a dressing room for boys and another for girls. When dealing with a large number of classes following in quick succession it will be found essential to duplicate the dressing rooms to avoid congestion. Each dressing room is large enough for 40 with a floor area of 336 square feet. Cubicles may be provided in the girls' dressing room. To facilitate cleaning, seats in the dressing rooms should be supported on brackets from the walls, and the corners of the rooms should be rounded. The floors should be covered with non-slip serrated tiles and sloped to a drain to keep them dry.

A cleansing room, fitted with hot and cold showers, sunken footbath and stone bench, is installed between the dressing accommodation and the bath surround.

As classes of pupils need accommodation at the same time the lavatory and sanitary facilities must be adequate. The boys are provided with 4 W.C.'s and an ample urinal adjoining the dressing room. Five wash-hand basins are also installed. The girls' dressing accommodation is provided with 6 W.C.'s and 5 wash-hand basins. Hair dryers are also installed.

Club Room.—There is a room which may be used for lectures, land drills, meetings or as a supplementary dressing room.

Staff Accommodation.—Teachers may be in attendance for many hours each day. A changing room complete with wash-hand basin, shower bath and W.C. for male staff and another for female staff has been found necessary. There is also a staff rest room and a small office. A bath attendant's room looking on to both the main pool and the preparatory pool is regarded as an essential provision.

Kitchen.—The kitchen is equipped with a cooker, sink, an urn for providing hot drinks and a hydro extractor and cabinet for drying staff towels and wet clothing.

Storage.—Cupboards for cleaning materials, a store room for bath equipment and a cycle shed are included.

Hand-Rails.—The preparatory pool and the main pool should be provided with a 1½ inch diameter hand-rail 2 inches above the surface of the water. It is a great asset to swimming instruction.

Non-Slip Surfaces.—All floors which may be subjected to wet should be surfaced with non-slip tiles, sloped for quick drainage and of a type that may be easily cleaned.

Seating.—Swimming has a great public appeal; novices are encouraged by witnessing swimming events and young swimmers by public support. Seating accommodation for spectators is therefore highly desirable, but need not be elaborate. The simple and economical arrangement shown in the accompanying design is sufficient. Teak should be used for seating in the pool and dressing rooms.

Diving Equipment.—A one metre spring board and firm boards rising by stages to 8 feet are desirable. If higher boards are provided the depth of the bath below the boards should be increased to not less than 8 feet 6 inches. Spring boards should be obtained from a manufacturer specialising in their production.

Polo Goals.—These should be provided for post-school classes and should, preferably, be slung from the roof by pulleys and tackle.

Lighting.—The bath should be bright and sunny. Provision of cheerful artificial lighting should be adequate. It should be arranged so that the water is evenly lighted and so that there are no shadows thrown by the bath sides.

Heating and Ventilation.—The temperature of the water in a bath used for teaching purposes should not be less than 78 degrees. Dressing rooms and the whole of the premises should be maintained at a comfortable temperature and well ventilated without draughts. It should be borne in mind that thermostatically controlled heating will be found much more convenient where the staff is limited.

Parapets.—Pools should have a parapet as shown in the plan. Pupils are nearer to the teacher who has less back-breaking strain to endure. The parapet prevents dirt from washing into the pool.

Condensation.—The problem of avoiding condensation should be carefully considered by the architect and heating and ventilating engineer.

Acoustics.—The acoustic difficulties in swimming baths are notorious and a great handicap to teacher and pupils. This is another problem that must be dealt with.

Water Inlets.—Water inlets to the shallow end of the bath should be arranged so that they do not cause the water to enter violently or in a manner likely to disturb nervous children.

Rural Areas.—It is urged that provision should be made for the teaching of swimming to children in rural areas. The difficulties of transport to a central bath, the time taken in travelling and questions of finance are all matters to be considered. It may be felt that in some cases a very small bath might solve the problem.

Minimum Size of Bath.—The minimum size for a teaching pool is 30 feet by 30 feet with a depth of 2 feet 6 inches, increasing to 3 feet. It would only be suitable for teaching the rudiments of swimming.

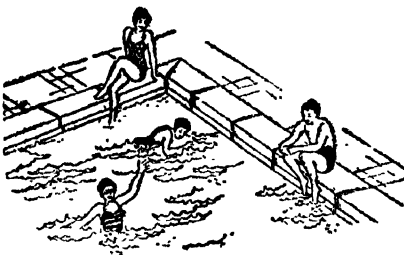

It is apparent that a very small covered bath with the necessary dressing accommodation, heating and filtration plant would not be as economical as a larger bath if the latter could be put to greater use.

THE YOUTH SERVICE

BY

V. STANYON, B.SC., Middlesex County Youth and Adult Social Welfare Officer

The Youth Service came into being as a recognised branch of the education services administered by local education authorities as a result of the issue of the Board of Trade in November 1939 of Circular 1486 "The Service of Youth." The Circular stated that the social and physical development of young people who had left school had for long been neglected in this country and that in spite of the efforts of local education authorities and voluntary organisations provision had always fallen short of the need. This defect in the social services, emphasised by war conditions, constituted a serious menace to youth. The Board called for new initiative and expressed their confidence that local education authorities, in spite of other heavy claims upon their attention and resources, would do all in their power to meet the challenge.

Local Authorities for Higher Education were asked to report to the Board not later than 1st March, 1940, the arrangements made in their areas for constituting youth committees representative of the statutory authorities and the voluntary organisations concerned with youth welfare.

Although in the launching of the Youth Service emphasis was laid on its function as a means of minimising the social problems likely to arise in war time, it was equally clear that it was to have a permanent place in the public system of education. Thus, the Local Education Authority was to take the initiative in its area, to provide the machinery for local co-operation and to see that the Youth Committees were properly staffed and equipped, to encourage the existing organisations to extend their work and to fill the gaps not covered by such organisations. The Local Youth Committees, on their part, were to concern themselves not only with immediate needs but with formulating a policy showing clearly how the field was to be covered and where the responsibility for new facilities should lie. The development of the Service during the last six years has been in no small measure due to the fact that the long term needs were identified, and vigour and enterprise were applied to meeting as many of these needs as was possible under the hampering conditions of war time rather than merely applying "first aid."

POWERS

The powers of education authorities in regard to Youth Service provision were derived from Section 86 of the Education Act 1921, under which an authority, with the approval of the Board, might make arrangements to supply and maintain or aid the supply and maintenance of facilities for social and physical training in the day or evening. These powers have been re-enacted in Section 53 of the Education Act 1944 which lays upon every local Education Authority the duty of securing that the facilities for primary, secondary and further education provided for their area include adequate facilities for recreation and social and physical training for persons for whom primary, secondary and further education are provided by the Authority, and further requires the Authority, in making arrangements for the provision of facilities and the organisation of activities under these powers, to have regard to the expediency of co-operating with any voluntary organisations or bodies whose objects include the provision of facilities or the organisation of activities of a similar character.

GRANTS

Much of the actual work among young people falling within the sphere of Youth Service is in the hands of national or local voluntary organisations of one kind or another and even before the inception of the Youth Service in its present form, it was recognised (particularly in urban areas) that their work should be supported by grants from public funds. The extension of grant-aid was a feature of the policy announced in Circular 1486. Local Education Authorities were encouraged to make grants where necessary towards the rent of buildings and salaries of leaders and towards the upkeep and maintenance of premises including the provision of equipment.

At the same time the Board took power under the Social and Physical Training Grant Regulations to make direct grants to Youth Organisations recognised by them, towards the provision and maintenance of facilities, the training of leaders and the defraying of incidental expenses of organisation and administration. Voluntary organisations have thus been in a position to seek grant-aid out of public funds from two sources (though not for the same purpose), but in Circular 51 (June 1945) it was announced that whilst direct grant would continue to be offered to the headquarters of the principal national voluntary organisations in aid of their expenditure upon central and regional services relating to training, organisation and administration, the Minister intended to discontinue direct grants to local bodies in so far as they related to maintenance. The time had come for Local Education Authorities to assume in full measure their responsibility for giving such assistance as might be necessary to enable the local voluntary youth organisations to function effectively.

AIM AND PURPOSE

The special responsibility laid upon Youth Committees was that of looking after the needs of young people who had left school particularly by improving and increasing facilities for their leisure time recreation. The general aim of the Youth Service was defined by the Board in Circular 1576 "The Challenge of Youth" (June 1940) as the social and physical training of young people, the overriding purpose of the training being the building of character. Work among youth with all its variety of approach must be found to contain common elements in the form of healthy social life, physical recreation and continued education through vocational and cultural activities. But leadership, much of it springing from the corporate life of youth itself, was essential if a genuine movement of youth was to be created. Opportunities of service must be offered to young people as well as opportunity to equip themselves for service.

The purpose and content of the Youth Service was the subject of the second report of the Youth Advisory Council appointed by the Minister of Education in 1943. In this report (published in June 1945) the Council expressed the view that the Youth Service had been and was still preoccupied with filling the gaps left by an inadequate national system of full time education and that inevitably this had tended to introduce a therapeutic element into content and techniques. Whilst the raising of the school leaving age, together with the institution of a national system of part-time education, might remove this element, the Youth Service should continue to make its distinctive contribution of promoting and providing opportunities for young people to participate voluntarily and from the standpoint of recreation in activities carried on in communities in which the relationships were based on consent.

DEVELOPMENT

The end of the war has brought relief from some of the difficulties with which the Youth Service was beset during the war, particularly those arising from the black-out and from the requisitioning of buildings suitable for youth service activities for use as rest-centres, restaurants and other war-time purposes. None-the-less, the shortage of suitable accommodation is, and will continue to be, one of the major problems of development, since a programme of building can alone meet the evident need.

The proportion of young people in membership of organisations is almost certainly somewhat lower now than at the end of the war, owing to an inevitable decline in the strength of the Pre-Service Cadet Corps. During the war the numbers of young people associated with some form of organised leisure-time activity rose to a higher figure than ever before, and there can be little doubt that the registration of 16 and 17-year-olds under the Registration of Boys and Girls Order 1941 was the major factor in this increase. For the first time, Education Authorities had the opportunity of making direct contact with young people who had left school, and during 1942 no less than 600,000 were interviewed after registration by panels set up by Youth Committees. Public interest was aroused in the well-being of young people and in the Youth Service, and an impetus was given to the provision of facilities, whilst the interviews themselves provided a great deal of useful information about the interests and needs of young people.

In announcing the end of Registration, the Minister of Education strongly recommended that steps should be taken to ensure that every boy and girl was personally interviewed before leaving school, since experience had shown that those who had not been members since they left school could not easily be induced to join one at the age of 16. A suggestion was also made that Authorities might arrange voluntary interviews with older boys and girls and that a "Young Citizens' Advice Bureau" might serve as a means of keeping in touch with the needs of youth.

Much has been done in the way of developing the essentially voluntary relationship between the Local Education Authority and the young people as far as leisure time is concerned. The appointment of organisers in day-to-day contact with the work in the field, the encouragement and assistance given to young people to form their own youth councils, the organisation, under the direct ægis of the authorities, of festivals, rallies, exhibitions and competitions, and the provision of competent instructors for group hobbies and interests have all contributed much towards confidence and goodwill. Results are seen in an increase in the variety of indoor and outdoor activities but care will be needed to ensure qualitative as well as quantitative standards and to this end the services of specialised organisers and advisers might be made more widely available.

Although there has been a marked increase in the number of those who receive payment for their work, either as leaders or instructors, the Youth Service as an education service is characterised by its substantial dependence on voluntary workers, who far outnumber all others concerned. A great deal of help has been given to voluntary and part-time leaders by the arrangement of short courses dealing with principles, methods and techniques. The Ministry have expressed the hope that the provision of various types of courses by Education Authorities and by voluntary bodies will continue to expand, although the courses are not to be regarded as conferring any specific qualifications on those who take them. It is suggested that they may extend over a period of months based on evening and week-end meetings, or may take the form of short residential courses of one or two weeks' duration.

Some steps have been taken to deal with the acute shortage of trained leaders for full-time work. Emergency arrangements for the training of full-time leaders were put into operation by the Board in 1942, whilst consideration of the recruitment and training of leaders was among the terms of reference of the "McNair Committee" set up in that year. The Committee's report, published in May 1945, contained a number of recommendations regarding the supply of leaders and the length and content of the training. Under arrangements announced by the Ministry in Circular 53 (June 1945), one year courses are now being provided at universities and university colleges. The Ministry are not at present promoting courses of longer duration, such as were recommended by the McNair Committee, since it is felt that apart from the difficulty of providing the courses, further consideration is necessary before decisions can properly be taken as to the appropriate scope and nature of such longer training courses and the extent to which they can be usefully developed. In consequence, no courses of longer duration than one year are available, but a number of intending leaders have taken a two years' course in Social Science, followed by practical training in club leadership, in order to equip themselves for full-time work in the Youth Service.

An encouraging feature has also been the response which has come from the young people themselves to courses arranged for the more senior members. It is now generally recognised that there is a definite place in the Youth Service, not only for the course devoted to the methods and principles of group organisations, but for that which is frankly educational in content and appeal. Residential courses of many kinds are now being provided for young people both by education authorities and by voluntary organisations and in various parts of the country there are premises available for residential accommodation.

The raising of the school-leaving age on 1st April, 1947, will prolong for a further year the period during which young people are under the direct care and supervision of the education authority. Experience suggests that an extension of compulsory education is likely to result in an increased voluntary association with bodies providing worth-while facilities for recreation in leisure hours. Through the association on Youth Committees of the statutory authorities and voluntary bodies, by the fostering between them of a working partnership in the interests of the young people whom they serve, by a flexibility of administrative procedure which has permitted wide and bold experimentations, a store of experience has been accumulated during the last six years. The vigour of the Youth Service will be carried over into peace in so far as objectives no less valid, though perhaps less clear-cut and definite, than those with which it was concerned during the war are sought, found and served.

SCHOOL PLAYING FIELDS

MAINTENANCE AND UP-KEEP.

The future of the upkeep of playing fields and school surrounds is a matter which is engaging the attention of Education Committees in view of the increased demand for physical training facilities. The following report of a County Education Authority which has been examining this problem appeared in EDUCATION and is reproduced here for reference by other Authorities with similar problems.

The Committee concerned previously indicated that they were prepared for the work to be carried out by employees of the County Council under the local supervision of the Divisional Executives and the Governors/Managers, as might be most convenient, with technical advice from officers of the Education Committee. Hitherto the work had been carried out by one contractor for the whole county.

The Committee are of opinion that the scheme must differ from the present contract in that, while the field should be cut by a gang mower serving the playing fields in a district, the slow mowing of pitches, courts, etc., must be separated from the mowing of the main field and must be under more localised control.

This involves two sets of staff, one to be managed by Divisional Executives, the other by Managers/Governors, as a general rule.

The Committee's proposals are set out in the report as follows :—

That the Divisional Executive be responsible for :—

1. Gang-mowing—this to be done without fail once a fortnight—and at the proper seasons, rolling, harrowing, spiking and manuring all playing fields.
2. Care of trees (on recommendation of Managers and Governors).
3. Haulage work.
4. Tractor drivers and gang-mowing equipment.

That the Managers and Governors be responsible for —

1. Upkeep and cutting of (a) cricket squares, (b) tennis courts, (c) grass borders, (d) patches of playing field where it is not possible for gang-mowers to cut.
2. Upkeep of shrub borders, hedges and ditches
3. Returfing worn patches and marking out of hockey and football pitches, tennis courts and cricket squares.

MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT.

(1) Playing Fields.

The acreage cut by one set of gang-mowing equipment recommended below is normally 90-120 acres per week. As there are 600 acres of playing fields to be considered at the moment the Committee consider that the nine divisions of the county could safely, allowing for wet days, be serviced by five sets of gang-mowing equipment. The allocation of the five sets would for the time being be as follows :—

North-Western Division	..	..	...	...	..	94 acres
South-Western Division	..	..	...	..	..	95 "
North, North-Eastern, Mid-Eastern Division	...	..	..	..	...	162 "
North-Central and Central Division	...	..	..	..	...	145 "
South-Eastern and Southern Division	...	...	..	...	..	102 "

The machinery required for each of the five areas for the maintenance of playing fields would be as follows :—

	Capital Each	outlay Total
1 Lorry 30/40 cwt. with shortened chassis	£ 633	£ 3,165
1 Coupling Equipment to take five Gang-mowing Units	118	590
6 Standard Ransome Gang-Mower Units with pneumatic tyres (one as a spare)	408	2,040
1 Gang-Roller, Triple Gang 12 feet wide	95	475
1 Gang-Spiker, Deep Turf Aerator Lever lifting gear	101	505
1 Distributor for Fertiliser	40	200
1 Harrow	21	105
	£1,416	£7,080

Five depots would be required for the machinery.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

(2) Tennis Courts and Cricket Squares.

For the maintenance of tennis courts, cricket squares, grass borders, etc., the necessary motor mowers and hand mowers should be kept at the school or playing field area concerned. It is estimated that the following additional equipment will be needed :—

	Capital Each	outlay Total
6 18-inch Motor Mowers	165	990
80 Hand Mowers—
45 Anglia	20	900
35 Kutruf	20	700
41 Rollers-Manual	23	943
12 Markers (size according to use)	8	96
		£3,629

The above machinery and labour necessary to operate it, in order to maintain their grounds and playing fields, would be the responsibility of the Governors and Managers concerned.

LABOUR.

(1) Tractor Drivers.

When not gang-mowing, the work of the five tractor drivers would consist of rolling, spiking, harrowing and manuring of playing fields, cartage work, overhaul of gang-mowing and other equipment, tree lopping (in teams).

(2) Groundsmen.

The work of maintaining tennis courts, cricket squares, grass borders, hedges and ditches and the cutting of patches of ground not cut by the gang-mowing equipment, at each school should be done by a local groundsman. This groundsman would serve one or more schools as justified by the amount of work to be carried out.

Spring and Summer.

Work of the groundsman would consist of cutting, rolling and marking-out cricket squares and tennis courts, cutting patches not cut by gang-mowers, cutting hedges where necessary, some pruning of shrubs and trees where necessary, taking down and putting up tennis nets, maintaining gardens and surrounds which are not cultivated by the pupils, returfing goal areas on hockey and football pitches, painting and storing goal posts. He may also be called upon to maintain a small garden where gardening is not a normal subject of the curriculum but where plants are needed for students.

Autumn and Winter Duties.

These duties would consist of rolling, spiking, weeding and manuring cricket squares and tennis courts, returfing the worn patches on cricket squares and tennis courts, clearing boundaries of leaves from surrounding trees, ditching, cutting and laying hedges, marking out netball and football pitches, repairing nets, overhaul of mowers and other equipment, helping with tree-felling on his ground, planting and taking up of trees and shrubs where necessary, digging and cleaning-up shrub borders, care of edges and paths.

(3) Playing Field Supervisors

With so much machinery and labour, the necessary work of day-to-day supervision could not be carried out by the Horticultural Officers. Liaison between Governors and Managers, Divisional Executives and the Education Committee should be effected by the appointment of two Playing Field Supervisors. Their duties would be to make regular inspections to ensure that the work was being carried out satisfactorily. They should be able to take the place of a tractor-driver if necessary, quick and efficient repair service from the central depot of machines in the county would also depend upon these Supervisors. The two Playing Field Supervisors should work in close contact with the Horticultural Officers, so that the technical knowledge of the latter might be used at all times. In addition to affording this knowledge and general planning the Horticultural Officers' duties already consist of :—

RANSOMES "Klospac" Gang Mowing Outfit, with "Klospac" frames, is now offered as an alternative to their standard types of frames, and is specially recommended when it is required for quick loading and close packing on the tractor body, being particularly useful when the outfit is required for use on numerous sites.

(4) Repair Depot

The success and continuance of the whole system will depend to a very large degree upon the ability of each area to maintain its playing field equipment in action and in first-class running order. To do this it is essential to have a central repair depot. Here, a full-time mechanic should be employed, assisted in winter by tractor drivers when they are not required for haulage, tree lopping or other purposes.

At the moment, it is not possible to estimate the cost of acquiring a suitable building. The equipment needed may be tentatively set at £500 and the running expenses at another £400 per annum.

The following is an estimate of the staff needed :—

HEALTH OF THE NATION

VITAL STATISTICS : NUTRITIONAL GAINS

The Ministry of Health published in September a Report* by the Chief Medical Officer, Sir Wilson Jameson, "On the State of the Public Health during Six Years of War." The Report is the first to be submitted by the Chief Medical Officer since 1939, and covers the period up to the end of the war. In his Introduction, Sir Wilson Jameson says :—

"Its pages tell of the state of the public health and of the medical work of the Ministry of Health during the trials, the mercies, the efforts and final triumphs of six years of the grimdest struggle Britain has endured since the Conquest. Therein are described the new services, and the extensions of existing services, which have arisen to fulfil great needs, long felt, indeed, but intensified by total war—services which may well form the foundation and foreshadow the pattern of the National Health Service that is to come. That, after these six years of unprecedented strain alike upon the Nation and upon the medical resources of the realm, the state of the public health should be as good as it is to-day is indeed a miracle. . . . Most of the facts and figures need no interpreter—they speak for themselves, some of nation-wide efforts and achievements of which we may all be proud, and some of new methods of diagnosis, new methods of treatment, new remedies of unequalled potency and new insecticides of unique efficiency."

IMPROVEMENTS IN VITAL STATISTICS.

Vital statistics were "phenomenally good" during the war.

"The birth-rate, rising from 1941 onwards, reached 17.7 in 1944, the highest it has been since 1926, and the effective reproduction rate came within one per cent. of a full replacement standard, though it has fallen since. An outstanding feature has been the low mortality of children from disease. Despite the loss of some 7,000 lives at ages under 15 as a direct result of enemy action, and an increase in accidental deaths arising through war conditions, the mean annual death rates during 1940-44 were below the rates for any year prior to 1939 at every year of age from 1 to 5, and at 5 to 9 and 10 to 14. The year 1939 was remarkable in producing new low figures for mortality at every age group under 15 years, the fall being specially great at ages between 1 and 10. It was not expected that better figures would be obtained during the war, but new records for the 2nd and 3rd years of life were set up in 1942, and for the 1st, 2nd, 4th, 5th and at 5 to 9 years in 1943. Further improvement followed in 1944. New low levels were reached for neo-natal mortality and for mortality at 1 to 12 months, in the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th years of age and at 5 to 9 years. The stillbirth rate declined continuously throughout the war, while successively low records for maternal mortality were established in 1940, 1942, 1943 and 1944.

"Considerable reductions in infant mortality rates occurred in many large towns between 1938 and 1944, examples being Liverpool from 74 to 58, Nottingham 71 to 57, Manchester 69 to 54, Newcastle-on-Tyne 66 to 51, Birmingham 61 to 42, Sheffield 50 to 42, Greater London 50 to 43, Bristol 42 to 35. The rates of 23 in 1939 and 25 in 1944 recorded by Oxford demonstrate how great are the possibilities of further improvement."

PROGRESS IN DIPHTHERIA IMMUNISATION.

Diphtheria cases and deaths declined each year following the start of the Ministry's Immunisation Campaign. "In 1944 diphtheria deaths were less than one-third of the pre-war average, and the number of cases notified were 30,000 below the pre-war average and 6,000 lower than the previous low record. Nevertheless, it is a sad reflection that in this country during the war far more children under 15 were killed by this preventable disease than by enemy bombs. Strong continuous effort is needed to raise the general percentage of immunised children to at least 75, especially in the pre-school groups, and to maintain by re-inoculation at suitable intervals the state of resistance of children who have received primary immunisation."

NUTRITIONAL GAINS.

Commenting on the fact that, despite fatigue, monotony of diet and the restrictions of rationing, the nutritional state of the nation was "at least not worse at the end than at the beginning of the war," and that, as regards children, it seemed better, Sir Wilson Jameson says: "Nutrition is the very essence and basis of national health. . . . Every effort must be made to retain war-time gains such as the improved quality of the national loaf, the enrichment of margarine with A and D vitamins, the maintenance of vital nutrition surveys, the advisory service on Hospital diets and the scheme of public education on all matters connected with food and nutrition. . . . One subject that will have to be dealt with as soon as conditions become more normal and labour and equipment more readily available is the attainment of a much higher standard of cleanliness in the handling and preparation of food for human consumption. Practice in this country leaves much to be desired and is fraught with all sorts of possibilities of risk to health."

*On the State of the Public Health During Six Years of War. H.M. Stationery Office, York House, Kingsway, W.C.2., price 5s. 0d., post free 5s. 4d.

"From 1940 onwards Dr. Bransby made a study of the heights and weights of some 12,000 children a year, living at home or evacuated to camp schools. The results showed that the growth rates of children living at home were well maintained throughout the war. In some districts a slight retardation occurred in 1940 to 1942, but this was generally made good by 1943. In 1944 the rates corresponded very much to the steady upward trend shown before the war.

"The growth of children evacuated to camp schools showed at first a slight but distinct retardation. This might have been partially accounted for by the complete change of environment and by the increased amount of exercise taken. The diets of these camps were overhauled by the Ministry of Education and improved where necessary. The growth rates of the children, however, never quite equalled those of children living at home, which suggested that factors other than diet were at work. At the same time, detailed clinical examinations failed to show any signs of under-nourishment."

Summing up this section of the report, the Chief Medical Officer says:—

"All the foregoing methods of assessment suggest that the nutritional state of the nation was not worse at the end than at the beginning of war, and, as regards children, was somewhat better. But while weathering the storm we have been conscious of the weak points in our defences and of the improvements which could be made. Although the child at the end of this war was bigger, more resistant to disease, better nourished and in every way had borne the strain of war-time better than his predecessor of the last war, much remains to be done before the average elementary school child can be assured of that physical development which he is inherently capable of attaining. Differences, for example, in average height and weight between elementary, secondary and public school children still exist, though the respective averages are better than the best of those recorded before the war. While such differences are to some extent inevitable on genetic grounds, the actual differences are greater than can be accepted with equanimity. They cannot be explained entirely by differences in heredity or environment. It is still true that nearly one million elementary school children do not take milk at school, and of the children who receive milk free at school and who presumably need milk most, only half get more than one-third of a pint. Despite the energetic action of the Ministry of Education little more than one-third of school children take dinner in school.

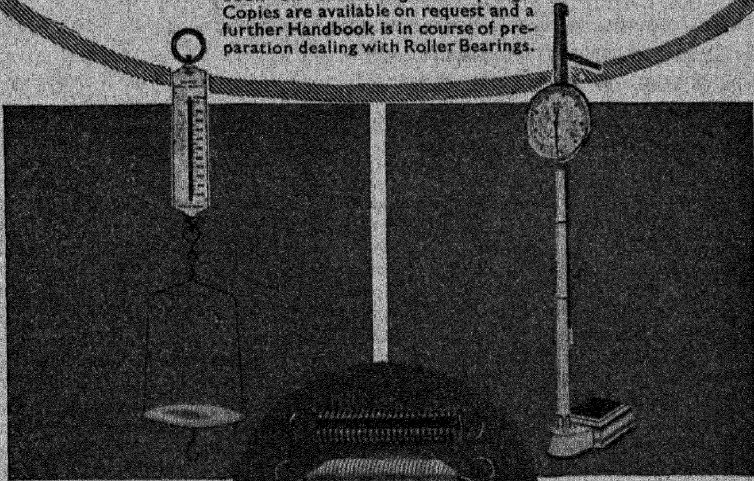

"The special duty of the Ministry of Health will be to keep watch over the nutritional state of all sections of the community, and particularly of mothers and children, and to co-operate with other Government Departments in ensuring that all classes obtain the food necessary to attain good health. This was one of the ideals recommended at the United Nations Conference held at Hot Springs, Virginia, in 1943."

MORE HEALTH EDUCATION CALLED FOR.

Health educational activities have increased during the war. "Health education in this country has been developed largely through the service provided by the Central Council for Health Education and has therefore varied with the interest taken by local authorities. During the war, central campaigns for particular purposes have been undertaken by the Ministry, and greater use has been made, both by the Ministry and by the Central Council, of films, broadcasts, national poster displays, and Press conferences. Nevertheless, this country still lags behind others in the use of modern methods of public education in health, and war-time experience would appear to justify considerable extension of this essential service."

CONSTITUTION

Set up originally in 1927, largely at the instigation of the Society of Medical Officers of Health, the Council took over in 1942 most of the work previously carried out by the British Social Hygiene Council and is now recognised by the Government as "the one agency for general health education in England and Wales." At the request of the Ministry of Health and Local Government of Northern Ireland the Council has now established its services in Northern Ireland. Of Government Departments the Ministry of Education, the Ministry of Health, the Ministries of Food, Labour and Information, the Welsh Board of Health and the Scottish Education Department, all have either representatives or observers on the Council or its Committees. In addition, there are representatives from the County Councils Association, the London County Council, the Association of Municipal Corporations, the Non-County Boroughs Association, the Metropolitan Boroughs Standing Joint Committee, and the Urban and Rural District Councils Associations. The collaboration of the professions most concerned with health education is assured by representation from the Association of Directors and Secretaries for Education, the Association of Education Committees, the National Union of Teachers, the Society of Medical Officers of Health, the British Medical Association, the Royal College of Nursing, the Dental Board of the United Kingdom, the British Dental Association. The field of health insurance is covered by representatives of the National Association of Insurance Committees, the Associations of Welsh Insurance Committees, and the London Insurance Committee, while collaboration with other health organisations is achieved by representation from the Conference of Affiliated Societies. In addition, the Council's Educational Advisory Committee has the benefit of the knowledge and experience of representatives from the Association of Women Science Teachers and the Science Masters' Association, and of many distinguished educationists.

Surrey County Council General Hospital Service and Nursing Training Schools

Nursing as a profession should appeal to every woman who wishes to do a useful job in life. It has the great advantage that full training is available not only free of cost but carrying a salary adequate for personal needs during the period of training, and the trained nurse need never lack an appointment.

The Surrey County Council's complete training schools, which give the period of three years' training and instruction required to obtain the General Nursing State Registration Certificate, are listed below. At each hospital, ample facilities for instruction under the direction of the medical staff and a qualified sister-tutor are available. In five of the six hospitals the excellent Nurses' Homes have been built in the past few years.

Candidates, who should be between the ages of 17 and 30, can be accepted for training at the following Hospitals. (Girls of 17 require to remain in training until 21.)

Epsom County Hospital, Dorking Road, Epsom.

Farnham County Hospital, Hale Road, Farnham.

Kingston County Hospital, Wolverton Avenue, Kingston-upon-Thames.

Redhill County Hospital, Earlswood Common, Redhill.

St. Helier County Hospital, Carshalton.

St. Luke' Hospital, Guildford.

Vacancies also occur at the Surrey County Sanatorium, Milford, near Godalming, for instruction (a) for the preliminary examination of the General Nursing Council and (b) for the certificate of the Tuberculosis Association, and student nurses who complete two years at this Hospital are transferred to a general hospital for the completion of their State registration course, a further period of two years then being needed.

The salary scale and service conditions are in accordance with the Rushcliffe Committee's recommendations, i.e., 1st year, £55; 2nd year, £65; 3rd year, £75, with full board, lodging, uniform and laundry. Student Nurses at the Sanatorium receive £60 in the 1st year and £70 in the 2nd year. Full particulars may be obtained either by post or at an interview from the matron of the selected Hospital, who will be glad to forward application forms for completion. Teachers who may be concerned in advising girls about their future careers are cordially invited to visit and inspect the Council's hospitals in company with the Matrons who will be glad to discuss with them any matters relating to nursing as a career for women.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL FOR SCHOOL BROADCASTING

The function of the Central Council for School Broadcasting is to advise the B.B.C. on the educational policy of its school broadcasts and to keep it informed regarding the prevailing policy and educational practice in the schools. As an educational body it sponsors the school broadcasting service.

The B.B.C. retains its overriding power in respect of Corporation policy, finance and programme production, but, subject thereto, the Council has direct responsibility for certain stated activities with financial resources provided by the B.B.C., and its own secretariat. The stated activities include the supervision, through committees, of arrangements for programmes, literature and engineering facilities, the organisation of research and experiment, and control of activities at the listening end including the making of contact with training colleges, associations of teachers and outside bodies. The planning and production of programmes remains the responsibility of Miss Mary Somerville, O.B.E., B.B.C. Director of School Broadcasting, and of the Schools Department Staff.

The Council exercises supervision of programme and pamphlet arrangements through a series of Programme Sub-Committees co-ordinated by the Executive Committee of the Council which determines the main lines of policy. Each Programme Sub-Committee consists of a member of the Council, one or more subject specialists, one of H.M. Inspectors and a number of teachers from different types of school, and from other educational institutions.

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO LOCAL EDUCATION AUTHORITIES AND SCHOOLS

The services of a number of advisory engineers have been placed by the B.B.C. at the disposal of the Central Council and these engineers are able, within the limits of the staff available, to give Authorities technical advice. Where Local Education Authorities are providing for the installation of wireless receiving apparatus in several schools, they are advised to write to the Secretary of the Central Council who will, if possible, arrange for an engineer to see the schools and discuss fully with those concerned the best method of meeting the particular conditions involved.

RELAY SERVICES

In some districts, where electrical interference is troublesome, schools have found it advantageous to make use of relay services or wireless exchanges. Such services are erected by private enterprise, and include a centrally situated receiving station which redistributes the broadcast programmes to subscribers in the surrounding area, usually by means of overhead wires. Success, of course, is dependent on the receiving station being so situated that clear reception free from interference can be obtained. Each subscriber has one or more loudspeakers, usually purchased from the relay company, and normally pays a rental for the service according to the number of loudspeaker points fitted on his premises.

The Central Council expresses no preference as between the installation of ordinary receiving sets and the fitting of relay services in schools. It is, however, concerned to ensure, as far as it can, that reception is satisfactory, and will give special advice on application.

HOW TO CHOOSE RECEIVING SETS

Before the war, the Central Council issued twice a year a list of broadcast receiving apparatus suitable for use in schools. The severe limitation during the war of production of sets for the home market made it impossible to continue the publication of these lists. The restoration of some scheme for advising authorities on the choice of suitable sets is under consideration. It is suggested that, pending the publication of a scheme of this kind, schools and authorities should make enquiries

WAVELENGTHS FOR SCHOOL BROADCASTS

The following are notes issued for the guidance of teachers :—

1. All school broadcasts with the exception of certain series directed specially to Scotland and Wales, will be transmitted on all the Regional wavelengths of the Home Programme.

2. With a few exceptions schools should be able to obtain satisfactory reception on the wavelength of their local Region (see table below).

3. In a few areas it may be found that the wavelength of a neighbouring Region will provide better reception than that of the local Region. The following table shows which wavelengths schools should try.

4. Any school which experiences difficulty in obtaining satisfactory reception should write to the Secretary, Central Council for School Broadcasting, 55, Portland Place, London, W.1.

5. It is better to tune your receiver to the correct wavelength in metres marked on the dial than to rely on the station names, some of which have been altered from time to time.

Note.—The markings on the tuning dial or scale may not be absolutely accurate. When the receiver has been tuned to the correct wavelength—or station name—as shown on the dial, it should be tuned slightly to one side or the other of the marked position until the best results are obtained. If the receiver is not correctly tuned the sound is usually distorted or harsh.

Area	Regional wavelength in metres	(Probable names of stations on receiver dial are shown in brackets)
London, the South, and South-East England	342	(London Regional). In Norwich district try alternative wavelength of 296 metres (Midland Regional).
The Midlands	296	(Midland Regional). In north of area try alternative wavelength of 449 metres (North Regional).
The North of England ...	449	(North Regional). In extreme south of area try alternative wavelength of 296 metres (Midland Regional).
North Eastern Counties	285	(Possibly marked Start Point, West Regional, or on older sets Scottish National).
Scotland	391	(Scottish Regional).
West of England... ..	307 } 217 }	(Northern Ireland on older sets). In North Devon wavelength of 373 metres can be used (except when school broadcasts in Welsh are being transmitted).
Wales	373	(Welsh Regional, West Regional on older sets). In north-west of area try alternative wave- length of 449 metres (North Regional). In South Wales try alternative wavelength of 217 metres. In West Central Wales try alternative wave- length of 285 metres (possibly marked Start Point or West Regional, Scottish National on older sets).

Note.—School broadcasts in Welsh can be received only on a wavelength of 373 metres.

CLASSROOM FILMS AND FILM STRIPS

The new G.B.I. Programme

The new programme is based on systematic inquiry among teachers themselves as to the films they need. Many of the films will have two versions, Senior and Junior; the subject-matter will determine whether both are required. As a general rule, Senior films will be sound, Junior silent; but again the nature of the material will be the deciding factor.

Most of the films will have film strips, so designed however that they can be used independently of the parent film. Strips are also being made on a wide range of subjects other than those dealt with in the new films. Every film is under teacher supervision from script to screen. The following groups have been given priority and some of the films will be completed when this notice appears :—

Six Physical Geography Films (Colour); Elementary Citizenship (12 films on the Local Services); Elementary Physiology (9 colour films); World Geography (12 films); A River from Source to Sea (8 silent colour films for juniors); Mediaeval Monastery; Health (5); Elementary Physics (9); Botany (7); Films to Start You Talking (for discussion groups). A group on Life in Other Lands is in hand, but will obviously take some time to complete.

Meanwhile, write for the extensive catalogue of existing G.B.I. educational films to Donald. A. Mackenzie, M.C., M.A., Principal of

FILM EQUIPMENT

FOR CLASSROOM AND ASSEMBLY HALL

The needs of teachers for a safe, easy to operate and efficient 16 mm. projector are met by the G.B. Projector which presents both sound and silent films.

Since 1933, the G.B. projector has been widely used and approved for school service. As the supply position improves it will become increasingly available for school and college.

THE G.B. FILM STRIP PROJECTOR

The Film Strip is indispensable to modern teaching and to meet this need G.B. Equipments has designed a new Film Strip Projector (model 38) which projects both "stills" and slides. It combines all the requirements of teachers for an efficient Film Strip Projector—easy to operate and maintain.

The British Film Institute is a semi-official organisation which was established in 1933 to encourage the use and development of the film as a means of entertainment and instruction.

It is the recognised centre from which impartial and unbiased information can be obtained on all matters connected with the film, whether on the entertainment or the educational side.

A very great deal of its activities are concerned with putting the film as well as other visual aids in their proper place in educational methodology and also in establishing their relationships with one another.

Because the Governing Body of the Institute recognises that it ought to be in closer touch with the Directors and Secretaries of education committees and that it should be in a position to meet and advise education committees themselves, they have appointed travelling educational representatives.

They have already been able to give advice and assistance to a number of committees. They have also been able to demonstrate the classroom use of films and still pictures. Their services are also available should any Committee wish to run a refresher course for its teachers.

The publications of the Institute (which are sent as a matter of course to Committees who enter into Corporate Membership (£7 10s. 0d.) or nominate one of the members (£2 2s. 0d.)) contain much valuable material. Its periodical The Monthly Film Bulletin contains appraisals of the teaching value of educational films as well as reviews of entertainment films which are to be seen in the public cinema theatres. These reviews are written from the point of view of suitability for children, family audiences, adolescents and adults.

The Institute also publishes lists of films on a number of educational subjects including those which are likely to be of value in Youth work. In this connection it pays special attention to Film Appreciation. This is a highly important subject in view of the fact that the film is the most important leisure-time activity of all young persons to-day.

Further information about the British Film Institute can be had on application to : The Director, the British Film Institute, 4, Great Russell Street, London, W.C.1.

NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR EDUCATIONAL RESEARCH IN ENGLAND AND WALES

Director Vacant Secretary : A Lea Perkins, M A
Address : 79, Wimpole Street, London, W 1 Telephone No : WELbeck 1128 and 1129.

The National Foundation came into being in December, 1945, when the Foundation for Educational Research, which was constituted as a separate organisation under London University and its Institute of Education in January 1943, was converted into a national body. The formation of this earlier research body was made possible by grants of money from the Carnegie Corporation of New York, and the Leverhulme Trust, and by contributions to its support by a number of national teachers' organisations. Thus the long-continued efforts of Sir Fred Clarke and Sir Philip Hartog to establish educational research in this country upon firm foundations of policy, organisation and technical efficiency have borne fruit.

The functions of the National Foundation are to encourage, organise, co-ordinate and carry out the various types of educational research extending over the widest field of investigation within our national system. Included within their scope is also association and collaboration where desirable with similar organisations and educational research workers in the Dominions and in foreign countries as well.

The public bodies which have formally united together in the management and financial support of the Foundation are the Ministry of Education, the Local Education Authorities, and all the Universities and University Colleges in England and Wales, together with the principal national associations of teachers in schools and training colleges, and a number of other prominent and well-established educational bodies.

Up to December 1946, 134 Local Education Authorities have intimated their adhesion to the scheme of constitution by becoming corporate members.

SCALES OF SALARIES FOR TEACHERS IN PRIMARY AND SECONDARY SCHOOLS

1. (a) The Standing Joint Committees on Scales of Salaries for Teachers, later to become known as the Burnham Committees—(i) Elementary, (ii) Secondary, (iii) Technical—were originally set up following a meeting of representatives of Local Education Authorities and Teachers convened by the President of the Board of Education on the 12th August, 1919. The Committees were reconstituted on 3rd April, 1944, to meet the requirements of the Education Bill then before Parliament. In view of the fact that the term elementary education would disappear, and that education would be redefined by stages instead of by types, it was considered that the Burnham machinery should be adapted in good time to conform to the new conditions. These conditions involved

- (i) the need for a closer integration of the teaching profession corresponding to the closer integration in future of the educational system ; and
- (ii) the desirability of simplifying so far as practicable the present Burnham machinery.

It was, therefore, decided that in future there should be two Burnham Committees, one Committee (Burnham Main Committee) to deal with the salaries of teachers in Primary and Secondary Schools and County Colleges, the other (Burnham Technical Committee) with the salaries of teachers in Technical, including Commercial and Art, Colleges and Schools. The recommendations of the Burnham Technical Committee were to be transmitted through the Main Committee, who would thus be afforded the opportunity of adding any comments or considerations that they might wish to put forward.

The Committees were reconstituted as follows :—

(b) The two Committees formulated Scales of Salaries for (i) qualified teachers in Primary and Secondary Schools, (ii) teachers in Technical Institutions, and (iii) unqualified and temporary teachers, which were transmitted to Mr. Butler by the acting Chairman on the 28th February and the 1st March, 1945 : and approval of these Scales under Section 89 (1) of the Education Act, 1944, was communicated to him in Mr. Butler's letter of 21st March, 1945. The Scales so approved did not, however, include provision for their detailed application to individual teachers and Mr. Butler was informed that the Committees were proceeding to prepare full Reports.

2. The Burnham (Main) Committee now submit their full Report on Scales of Salaries for Teachers in Primary and Secondary Schools.

3. This Report applies to teachers [excluding Supplementary Teachers and Occasional Teachers whose employment is allowed under Schedule I.2 of the Ministry's Primary and Secondary Schools (Grant Conditions) Regulations, 1945] who are employed in full-time service exclusively in that capacity⁽¹⁾ in Schools maintained by Local Education Authorities, i.e., County, Controlled, Aided and Special Agreement Schools. As there is no formal representation on the Committee of any Primary and Secondary Schools other than those maintained by Local Education Authorities the Report cannot directly apply to such other schools. The Committee anticipate, however, that the findings herein contained will receive the serious consideration of those controlling such other schools.

ALLOWANCES OVER AND ABOVE SCALE SALARY

9. (a) Allowances for Assistant Teachers. For Assistant Teachers there shall be special posts in respect of which allowances over and above the Scale Salary shall be granted for special responsibility, special work of an advanced character, special academic, professional or industrial qualifications, or other circumstances which in the opinion of the Authority justify an addition to the scale. The allowances shall not be applied so as in effect to alter the operation of the Scales.

For each Local Education Authority area the number, value and distribution of such posts shall be decided by the Authority in agreement with the Minister, subject to the following conditions :—

- (1) The number of posts for any year shall be 15 per cent. of the number of full-time qualified assistant teachers, employed on 1st April of that year,⁽¹⁹⁾ in schools to which this Report applies, provided that where it is considered desirable for the purpose of school organisation an Authority may be allowed to maintain a margin of 1 per cent. above or below 15 per cent. at any period during the year.⁽²⁰⁾

(17) The Committee have resolved that a special Sub-Committee be set up to consider and make recommendations as to whether additional payments ought to be made in respect of service in any area, and, if so, what matters should be taken into consideration in defining such areas and fixing the amount of the payment.

(18) Teachers serving in schools situated outside the "London Area" as defined in Section 8 (b) are not eligible to receive the additional payments

(19) For this purpose Teachers who are employed full-time but who spend three-quarters or more of their time in service in schools to which this Report relates shall be deemed to be in full-time service in such schools. Teachers who spend one-quarter but less than three-quarters of their time in service in such schools shall be treated for the purpose of this Section as if two such teachers were equivalent to one full-time teacher. Teachers who spend less than one-quarter of their time in schools to which this Report relates shall be ignored.

(20) The Committee recommend that in deciding upon their annual distribution of special posts Local Education Authorities should reserve a proportion of such posts for those men and women teachers who may be expected to be reinstated in their employment after a period of war service or other form of national service.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

- (ii) The amounts of the allowances shall be :—

For Men : not less than £50 per annum ; not more than £100 per annum.

For Women : not less than £40 per annum ; not more than £80 per annum.

- (iii) Where the Local Education Authority consider in any particular case that an allowance of £100 in the case of a man or £80 in the case of a woman is not adequate, having regard to the duties and responsibilities involved, the Authority may make representations to the Minister with a view to securing such addition thereto as the Minister shall approve.

(b) Teachers, who on the 31st March, 1945, were in receipt of an allowance under Section 4 (a) of the 1920 Secondary Report or Section 4 (3) (a) of the 1921 Technical Report of the Burnham Committee shall, so long as they remain on the staff of the school, continue to receive an allowance over and above scale salary at a rate not less than that received on 31st March, 1945.

(c) In addition to the allowances referred to in the preceding Sub-sections, allowances may be granted to Assistant Teachers who take charge of schools in the absence of the regular Head Teacher, or pending the appointment of a new Head Teacher. The amount of the allowance is left to the discretion of the Authority, provided, however, that the total remuneration received shall not exceed the salary which would be applicable to the Teacher if he she were appointed Head Teacher of the school.

(d) Allowances for Head Teachers.⁽²¹⁾ For Head Teachers allowances over and above the Scale Salary shall be granted as follows :—

- (i) Where a school contains not fewer than 30 full-time pupils who have attained the age of 15 years, there shall be added to the Scale Salary the sum of £50 (men) and £40 (women) in respect of each unit of 30 such pupils, provided that where the number of such pupils exceeds 30 or a multiple of 30 by 16 or more, it shall be treated for the purpose of this Section as if it were the next higher multiple of 30.
- (ii) The assessment and any necessary adjustment of the Head Teacher's salary under the foregoing Sub-section shall be made annually, and shall be determined according to the number of full-time pupils who have attained the age of 15 years on the last day on which the school is open in the month of March in the previous financial year.
- (iii) Where the Local Education Authority consider that in any particular case the salary applicable to the Head Teacher under Section 5 above, taken together with any allowance made under (i) and (ii) of this Section is not adequate having regard to the duties and responsibilities involved, the Authority may make representations to the Minister with a view to securing such addition to the salary of the Head Teacher as the Minister shall approve.

(e) Allowances to Mitigate or Prevent Hardship. The Local Education Authority may, with the approval of the Minister, make allowances over and above the Scale Salary to mitigate or prevent hardship to teachers whose salaries are diminished or whose posts are lost in consequence of the re-organisation or closure of their schools or departments.

GRADING AND REGRADING OF SCHOOLS

11. (a) The substantive grading of a school or department shall be the grading determined by reference to the average number of pupils on the roll⁽²³⁾ during the three financial years ended 31st March, 1939.

(23) To ascertain the average number on registers add together the number of full-time pupils on the registers on the last day in each week on which the school or department met and divide by the number of weeks. A fraction of a unit in the result should be ignored or reckoned as an additional unit according as it is or is not less than one half.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

A school or department shall not, however, be regarded as having a substantive grading if

- (i) it was in a provisional or temporary grading on 31st March, 1945 ;
- (ii) it is a school newly opened or re-organised⁽²⁴⁾ after 31st March, 1945 ;
- (iii) it is a school to which on 31st March, 1945, the terms of the Burnham Elementary Report of 1938 did not apply.

(b) (i) In the case of a school which was in a provisional or temporary grade on 31st March, 1945, such provisional or temporary grading shall remain in force during the period of operation of the present Report ; provided, however, that the Local Education Authority shall review each case and if they are satisfied that the substitution of " average number of pupils on the roll " for " average attendance " would, under the conditions in force at the time when the provisional or temporary grading was fixed, have justified some higher provisional or temporary grading, such higher provisional or temporary grading shall apply.

(ii) In the case of schools falling under Sub-section (a) (ii) above the grading of the school shall be provisionally fixed by reference to the estimated average number of pupils on the roll for the third financial year following the date of opening or re-organisation ; and in the case of schools falling under Sub-section (a) (iii) by reference to the estimated average number of pupils on the roll for the financial year beginning 1st April, 1947.

The provisional gradings so fixed shall remain in force during the period of the operation of the present Report.

(iii) On the appointment of a new Head Teacher to an existing school the grading shall be determined as provided in Sub-section 11 (a) above, save in cases where a provisional grading is applicable to the school under the provisions of Sub-sections (b) (i) and (b) (ii) above.

(c) The general principle governing the salary scales of Head Teachers is that a scale established as a protected scale for a Head Teacher under an Authority shall not be reduced save under the provisions of Sub-section (d) so long as the Head Teacher continues to render efficient service as such under the same Authority, though not necessarily in the same School.

Subject, therefore, to the provisions of Sub-section (d) :—

(i) (a) The protected scale of a Head Teacher who held a permanent appointment as such under the Authority on 31st March, 1945, shall be the scale under this Report corresponding to the scale established as a protected scale on that date, provided, however, that the protected scale shall not be lower than that appropriate to the grade of the school in which the Head Teacher was serving on 31st March, 1945, as determined under Sub-section 11 (a) above. The protected scale shall not be increased save under the provisions of Sub-section 11 (c) (iii) below.

The scale applicable to each such Head Teacher shall be the protected scale or the scale appropriate to the provisional or temporary grading of the school if that be higher.

(b) In the case of a Head Teacher permanently appointed as such after 31st March, 1945, to a school in a substantive grading the protected scale shall be that appropriate to the substantive grading of the school as determined under the provisions of Sub-section 11 (a) above and shall not be increased save under the provisions of Sub-section 11 (c) (iii) below.

The scale applicable to each such Head Teacher shall be the protected scale or the scale appropriate to the provisional or temporary grading of the school if that be higher.

(ii) In all other cases the scale applicable shall be that appropriate to the temporary or provisional grading of the school in which the Head Teacher is serving.

(iii) In the case of a Head Teacher who is appointed to a school of higher substantive grading than that corresponding to his/her protected scale, the protected scale shall be that appropriate to such higher substantive grading.

(d) The protected scale shall cease to operate in the case of a Head Teacher who :—

(24) For the purpose of this Sub-section the word " re-organised " shall have the same significance as that which has hitherto been attached to it and shall not be deemed to include temporary re-arrangements made as a result of war conditions.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

- (i) leaves the service of the Authority, in which event his/her re-appointment under the same or another Authority shall be regarded as a first appointment for the purpose of Sub-section (c) or
- (ii) ceases to render efficient service to the Authority, or
- (iii) being in receipt of a protected scale higher than that appropriate to the grading of the school as otherwise determined under the provisions of Sub-section 11 (a) is offered and, for reasons which do not satisfy the Authority, refuses transfer to a school of the grading appropriate to his/her protected scale in which event the scale shall be that appropriate to the grading of the school in which he/she elects to remain and this shall become the protected scale.

TEACHERS IN SPECIAL SCHOOLS⁽²⁵⁾

12. The following paragraphs apply to the salary paid for full-time teaching duties either in Day or Residential Special Schools :—

- (a) Head Teachers who are qualified⁽²⁶⁾ teachers shall receive salaries calculated in the same manner as those of qualified Head Teachers⁽²⁷⁾ in Primary and Secondary Schools, except that the grading shall be as follows :—

Grade	Average Number of Pupils on the Roll
	Deaf, Partially Deaf, Speech Defects	Blind, Partially sighted, Mal-adjusted	Educationally Sub-normal, Physically Handicapped ⁽²⁸⁾ , Epileptic	Delicate Children
(1)	(2)	(3)	(4)	(5)
I	not over 10	not over 15	not over 20	not over 30
II	11-30	16-45	21-60	31-90
III	31-60	46-90	61-120	91-180
IV	61-90	91-135	121-180	181-270
V	over 90	over 135	over 180	over 270

- (b) Other Head Teachers shall receive salaries calculated in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 (b) of this Report.⁽²⁷⁾
- (c) (i) Assistant Teachers shall receive two increments more than they would have received in Primary and Secondary Schools, such increments to be carried beyond the maximum of the scale.
- (ii) Where the Local Education Authority consider that in any particular case the salary applicable under this Sub-section to a teacher in a Special School, other than a qualified teacher, is not adequate having regard to the qualifications and experience of the teacher for specialised forms of teaching the Authority may make representations to the Minister with a view to securing such higher rate as the Minister shall approve.

CORRECT POSITION

13. In determining the correct position⁽²⁹⁾ of a teacher on the appropriate scale at any time the following service shall be taken into account :—

- (i) Service of the types and under the conditions set forth in Appendix I to this Report.
- (ii) War service within the limits and under the conditions explained in Appendix II to this Report.

(25) See Footnote (21).

(26) See Footnote (2) to Section 4 of this Report.

(27) The additional increments provided for in Section 12 (c) (i) are not added to the salary of a Head Teacher unless immediately before promotion to be Head Teacher of a Special School the teacher was serving as an Assistant Teacher in a Special School. In no case shall such increments be carried beyond the maximum of the appropriate scale.

(28) Includes Schools for Cripples, Hospital Schools, Sanatoria and Schools of Recovery for Children with Heart Disease.

(29) With regard to the adjustment of salary to a uniform incremental date see Section 15 of this Report.

WITHHOLDING OF INCREMENTS

14. No increment shall be withheld in respect of any year unless the service for that year has been declared unsatisfactory by the Local Education Authority. The effect of this provision shall be limited to one year unless the Local Education Authority otherwise determine.

INCREMENTAL DATE

15. (a) The Committee recommend all Local Education Authorities to adopt a uniform incremental date at 1st April. In adjusting salaries to that uniform incremental date the principle which applies is that teachers who remain continuously in service throughout the financial year should receive the same salary in respect of that year as though no uniform date were in force, but increments were given as from the date of completion of an integral number of years of service. In reckoning service for this purpose the number of odd days may be ignored or counted as one month according as it is or is not less than 15, i.e., the date of completion of a year's service may be taken to be the first of the month which is nearer to the actual date.

(b) The principle which applies to the calculation of salary in the case of migrants and of teachers discontinuing service and resuming it in the same area is that teachers of the same qualifications and the same amount of service at any particular time who are employed by the same Local Education Authority in similar conditions should have the same rate of salary.⁽³⁰⁾ This rate is, therefore, determined by considering what salary an existing teacher would be receiving who had been continuously employed in the area and had the same service as the migrant at the date of appointment, excepting that when the salary of a teacher has been assessed for any financial year it is retained by the teacher for the remainder of the year even though he she has subsequently a break in service, provided that he she resumes service after the break in the area of the same Authority and in the same status.

SALARIES OF "EXISTING TEACHERS"

16. (a) No Teacher in service on 31st March, 1945, shall receive by reason of the operation of these scales a smaller rate of salary than he she would have been eligible to receive under the operation of the Burnham Reports as in force on that date.

(b) For the purpose of this Section the rate of salary shall be computed by adding together (i) scale salary, (ii) war allowance, and (iii), while the teacher remains in the same post, any allowance paid to the teacher on 31st March, 1945, under previous Burnham Reports.

(c) Teachers who were employed on 31st March, 1945, by the Borough of Erith Part III. Authority shall, for so long as they continue to serve in schools in the area of the former Authority, receive an addition to the salary otherwise appropriate to them under this Report. The amount of such addition shall be the difference between the scale salary which would have been applicable to them at any time under Scale III and Scale IV respectively of the Report of the Burnham Elementary Committee, 1938.

DURATION OF THE SCALES

17. The Scales in this Report come into force on 1st April, 1945, and shall continue in operation until 31st March, 1948.

COMMITTEE OF REFERENCE

18. There shall be appointed a Joint Committee of Reference, consisting of 10 members nominated by the representatives of Local Education Authorities on the Committee, and 10 members nominated by the representatives of the Teachers,

(30) In applying the principle of this Sub-section to Head Teachers no account should be taken of any protected scale as defined in Section 11 (c) of this Report.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

and the Honorary Secretaries ex-officio ; to which Committee shall stand referred for consideration and report to the Burnham Committee any matter relating to the interpretation of the provisions of this Report brought forward by a Local Education Authority acting through the Authorities' Panel or by any Association of Teachers acting through the Teachers' Panel or by consent of the Chairman of the Burnham Committee.

LETTER FROM LORD SOULBURY FORWARDING A COPY OF THE REPORT TO THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION

31st August, 1945.

MY DEAR MINISTER,

In his letter of the 21st March, 1945, Mr. Butler informed Sir Henry Pelham, the Acting Chairman of the Burnham Committees, that he approved under the terms of Section 89 (1) of the Education Act, 1944, the Scales of Salaries submitted by the Committees for teachers in

- (i) Primary and Secondary Schools ;
- (ii) Technical Colleges and Institutes, Art Colleges and Schools ;

that he would be prepared to recognize for grant purposes expenditure incurred by Local Education Authorities in paying salaries in accordance with those scales ; and that he further proposed by Order under Section 89 (1) of the Act, to make provision to secure that the remuneration paid by Local Education Authorities to teachers should be in accordance with the scales. The scales so approved did not, however, include provision for their detailed application to individual teachers, and Mr. Butler took note of Sir Henry's intimation that these matters would be dealt with in full Reports to be transmitted later.

The Committees have now completed this task and I am forwarding copies of their full Reports herewith.

Yours sincerely,
SOULBURY.

LETTER FROM THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION TO LORD SOULBURY IN REPLY

8th October, 1945.

DEAR LORD SOULBURY,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of 31st August, with which you enclosed copies of the full Reports of the Burnham Committees on scales of salaries for teachers (a) in Primary and Secondary Schools, and (b) in Technical Colleges and Institutes, Art Colleges and Schools.

These scales were put forward to my predecessor, Mr. Butler, and were approved by him in March last, but the making of the Order under Section 89 (1) of the Education Act, 1944, to secure that the remuneration paid by Local Education Authorities to teachers should be in accordance with the approved scales, was deferred pending the receipt of the Committees' full and final Reports.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

I have considered the Reports and am now able to inform you that I approve the detailed recommendations which have been framed with effect for three years from the 1st April, 1945. The Reports will now be published as soon as possible and the necessary Order made.

I should add that my approval to the recommendation for allowances in respect of war service—Appendix II of the Reports—has been given only having regard to the limited period for which the Reports continue in operation, and it should be understood that I am in no way committed to approving the application of the recommendations made in this regard to teachers who may enter the profession thereafter.

May I take this opportunity to express to you, and, through you, to the members of the Committee, my gratitude for all the time and labour that you have together expended in bringing to a conclusion a task which I know has been both laborious and difficult.

Yours sincerely,

ELLEN WILKINSON.

In order to equate odd days to months of service the sum of all the aggregates in (ii) for the whole of the teacher's service which is taken into account for increment purposes will be divided by 30. The quotient will be taken as a number of complete months, and the remainder will count as one month, or will not count according as it is 15 days or over, or less than 15 days.

In the case of teachers paid at daily rates service continuing on both sides of the week-end will be regarded as including the week-end, but the school vacations will not be included unless the teacher has a continuous engagement. Neither the incidence of a financial year nor a change of employment is regarded as affecting the continuity of service which otherwise runs continuously.

APPENDIX II

SCALES OF SALARIES FOR TEACHERS IN TECHNICAL COLLEGES AND INSTITUTES, ART COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS

1. (a) The Standing Joint Committees on Scales of Salaries for Teachers, later to become known as the Burnham Committees—(i) Elementary, (ii) Secondary, (iii) Technical—were originally set up following a meeting of representatives of Local Education Authorities and Teachers convened by the President of the Board of Education on the 12th August, 1919. The Committees were reconstituted on 3rd April, 1944, to meet the requirements of the Education Bill then before Parliament. In view of the fact that the term elementary education would disappear, and that education would be redefined by stages instead of by types, it was considered that the Burnham machinery should be adapted in good time to conform to the new conditions. Those conditions involved

- (i) the need for a closer integration of the teaching profession corresponding to the closer integration in future of the educational system; and
- (ii) the desirability of simplifying so far as practicable the present Burnham machinery.

It was, therefore, decided that in future there should be two Burnham Committees, one Committee (Burnham Main Committee) to deal with the salaries of teachers in Primary and Secondary Schools and County Colleges, the other (Burnham Technical Committee) with the salaries of teachers in Technical, including Commercial and Art, Colleges and Schools. The recommendations of the Burnham Technical Committee were to be transmitted through the Main Committee, who would thus be afforded the opportunity of adding any comments or considerations that they might wish to put forward.

The Technical Committee was reconstituted as follows :—

Local Education Authorities' Panel :—

The County Councils Association	...	..	.	...	4
Association of Municipal Corporations	.	..	..	..	3
Association of Education Committees	..	...	..	..	3
London County Council	..	...	..	..	2
Federation of Education Committees (Wales and Monmouthshire)	..	..	...	..	1

Teachers' Panel :—

Association of Principals of Technical Institutions	...	...	...	2
Association of Teachers in Technical Institutions	...	...	...	6
National Society of Art Masters	...	..	..	2
National Federation of Continulative Teachers	...	...	...	1
National Union of Teachers	...	...	..	2

(b) The Committee formulated Scales of Salaries for Teachers in Technical Colleges and Institutes, Art Colleges and Schools, which were transmitted to Mr. Butler through the Burnham (Main) Committee on 28th February, 1945. The Scales were transmitted without comment, the Main Committee having no considerations which they desired to put forward. Approval of the Scales under Section 89 (1) of the Education Act, 1944, was communicated to Sir Henry Pelham in Mr. Butler's letter of 21st March, 1945, in which Mr. Butler noted that "certain points regarding the detailed application of the scales to individual teachers are under consideration and will be dealt with in the full Reports now in course of preparation."

2. The Committee now submit through the Burnham (Main) Committee their full Report, which includes provision for the detailed application of the Scales to individual Teachers.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

3. This Report applies to teachers who are employed in full-time service exclusively in that capacity in Technical (including Commercial) Colleges and Institutes,⁽¹⁾ Art Colleges and Schools, maintained⁽²⁾ by a Local Education Authority. The Committee recommend that the Scales shall be applicable also to full-time teachers employed in assisted⁽³⁾ Institutions. The Scales do not apply to teachers employed in those Departments of a Technical College or Institute, Art College or School, which are administered under the Ministry's Primary and Secondary Schools (Grant Conditions) Regulations, 1945.

SCALES FOR ASSISTANTS

4. (a) The following scales shall apply :—

Men			Women
Minimum	Annual Increment ⁽⁴⁾	Maximum	Minimum	Annual Increment ⁽⁴⁾	Maximum
£ 300	£ 15	£ 525	£ 270	£ 12	£ 420

The Scales are set out in full in Appendix IV.

ADDITIONS TO THE SCALES

(b) Additions for Training. For teachers who have spent three years in approved study and or training,⁽¹⁾ both the minimum and the maximum of the appropriate scale shall be increased by the amount of one increment. For teachers who have so spent four years the minimum and the maximum shall be increased by the amount of two increments. For teachers who have so spent five years or more the minimum and the maximum shall be increased by the amount of three increments.

(c) Additions for Graduate Teachers. For Graduates the minimum of the appropriate scale shall be increased (or, in the case of teachers qualifying for the additions under Sub-section 4 (b) above shall be further increased) by the amount of one increment, and the maximum shall be increased (or further increased) by the amount of two increments. These additions shall not, however, be given during any period in respect of which the teacher is in receipt of an allowance under the terms of Section 5 (a) below.

For the purposes of this Section a Graduate Teacher is a teacher who possesses a University degree⁽¹⁾⁽⁶⁾⁽⁷⁾ or equivalent academic or professional qualifications (see Section 12), or who has been placed on the Graduate Scale under the terms of Sections 8, 9 or 10 of the 1920 and 1927 Secondary Reports of the Burnham Committee or the corresponding Sections of the Technical Reports of 1921 and 1927.

(1) The term "Institute" connotes also an "Evening Institute," in which one or more full-time teachers, including the Principal, are employed.

(2) The terms "maintained" and "assisted" have the meanings assigned to them in Section 114 (2) of the Education Act, 1944.

(3) Annual increments accrue on completion of years of service recognised for the purposes of Section 13 of this Report. With regard to adjustment of salaries to a uniform incremental date, see Section 15.

(4) See Appendix III.

(5) This term is deemed for salary purposes to include degrees of —

(a) English, Welsh, Scottish, Irish, Dominion and Colonial Universities.

(b) St. David's College, Lampeter

(c) Other Universities, provided that the standard of the degree approximates to that of an English University. In the case of such degrees, reference should in the first instance be made to the Ministry of Education.

(6) Teachers who have passed the requisite final examination and complied with the other conditions for the award of a degree are classed as Graduates for salary purposes even though the degree has not been conferred upon them by the University.

(7) The holders of the following qualifications are not classed as Graduates for salary purposes :—

(a) L.L.A. (St. Andrews).

(b) B.ès. L. or B.ès. Sc. of a French University

ALLOWANCES OVER AND ABOVE SCALE SALARY

5. (a) For Assistants there shall be special posts in respect of which allowances over and above the Scale Salary shall be granted for special responsibility, special work of an advanced character, special academic, professional or industrial qualifications, or other circumstances which in the opinion of the Authority justify an addition to the scale. The allowances shall not be applied so as in effect to alter the operation of the Scales.

For each Local Education Authority area the number, value and distribution of such posts shall be decided by the Authority in agreement with the Minister, subject to the following conditions :—

- (i) The number of posts for any year shall be 20 per cent.⁽⁸⁾ of the number of full-time Assistants, Senior Assistants, and Heads of Departments employed on 1st April of that year⁽⁹⁾ in Colleges, Institutes, and Schools to which this Report applies ; provided that where it is considered desirable for the better organisation of its Colleges, Institutes, and Schools, an Authority may be allowed to maintain a margin of 1 per cent. above or below 20 per cent. at any period during the year.⁽¹⁰⁾
- (ii) The amounts of the allowances shall be :—
For men : not less than £50 per annum ; not more than £100 per annum.
For Women : not less than £40 per annum ; not more than £80 per annum.
- (iii) Where the Local Education Authority considers in any particular case that an allowance of £100 in the case of a man or £80 in the case of a woman is not adequate, having regard to the duties and responsibilities involved, the Authority may make representations to the Minister with a view to securing such addition thereto as the Minister shall approve.
- (b) Teachers who on 31st March, 1945, were in receipt of an allowance under Section 4 (3) (a) of the 1921 Technical Report of the Burnham Committee shall, so long as they remain on the staff of the College, Institute, or School, continue to receive an allowance over and above scale salary at a rate not less than that received on 31st March, 1945.

SCALES FOR SENIOR ASSISTANTS

6. (a) A " College " Establishment of Senior Assistantships in respect of work of University standard shall be determined annually by the Local Education Authority in agreement with the Minister.

It is a recommendation to Local Education Authorities that, in determining the number of such posts, they shall take for their general guidance the presumption that, as a minimum provision, one such post will be required in respect of each unit of 50 full-time students⁽¹¹⁾ who have attained the age of 17 years,⁽¹²⁾ and who belong to one or more of the categories named in Sub-section (b) of this Section.

It is further recommended that, where the number of such full-time students⁽¹¹⁾ exceeds 50, or a multiple thereof by 26 or more, it shall be treated for the purpose of this Section as if it were the next higher multiple of 50.

(8) In allocating this proportion of Special Posts, account has been taken of the fact that in most Colleges and Institutes a considerable share of the teaching is taken by part-time staff—the organisation of which often places special responsibilities upon members of the full-time staff.

(9) For this purpose Assistants in full-time employment who spend three-quarters or more of their time in service in Institutions to which this Report relates shall be deemed to be in full-time service in these Institutions. Assistants who spend one-quarter but less than three-quarters of their teaching service in these Institutions shall be treated for the purpose of this Section as if two such Assistants were equivalent to one full-time Assistant. Assistants who spend less than one-quarter of their time in Institutions to which this Report relates shall be ignored.

(10) The Committee recommend that in deciding upon their annual distribution of special posts Local Education Authorities should reserve a proportion of such posts for those men and women teachers who may be expected to be reinstated in their employment after a period of war service or other form of national service.

(11) For the purpose of this Section two part-time students who have attained the age of 18 years shall be reckoned as the equivalent of one full-time student.

(12) This a temporary provision for the period during which war conditions prevail. The age of 17 years for a full-time student is inserted because the normal age of 18 years for admission to University courses has been lowered for the time being on account of military requirements.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

(b) Students approved for the purpose of Sub-section (a) of this Section shall be those belonging to one or more of the following categories :—

- (i) Students preparing for⁽¹³⁾ University Degrees, Higher National Diplomas, Higher National Certificates, and such other degrees, diplomas and certificates as may be determined by the Burnham (Technical) Committee on the recommendation of the Reference Committee to be of like standard.
- (ii) Full-time College Diploma Students.
- (iii) Students preparing for certain Examinations for corporate membership of professional societies, being those qualifications which are recognised from time to time by the Burnham (Technical) Committee as equivalent to a degree.

(c) The number of Senior Assistantships to be allowed on the establishment of a College, Institute or School shall be determined annually for the following academic year⁽¹⁴⁾ according to the number of approved students as defined by Sub-section (b) of this Section, who, having attained the age of 17 years in the case of a full-time student and 18 years in the case of a part-time student, are in attendance at the opening of the Spring term, that is, the term next following January 1st ; provided that the number of such posts, when once determined, shall not be diminished until a vacancy occurs by resignation or otherwise.

7. The Scales of Salaries for Senior Assistants are as follows :—

Men			Women
Minimum	Annual Increment	Maximum	Minimum	Annual Increment	Maximum
£600	£25	£750	£480	£20	£600

The Scales are set out in full in Appendix IV.

ADDITION TO THE SCALES

For Senior Assistants who have spent three years in approved study and or training⁽¹⁵⁾ both the minimum and the maximum of the appropriate scale shall be increased by £15 in the case of men and £12 in the case of women. For Senior Assistants who have so spent four years, the additions shall be £30 and £24 respectively. For Senior Assistants who have so spent five years or more the additions shall be £45 and £36 respectively.

HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS

8. (a) The recognition of a group of classes as a Department and the grading of such Department shall be determined by the Local Education Authority in agreement with the Minister, after consideration of the numbers of full-time and or part-time teachers and students, and of the character and quality of the work. A group of classes will not be recognised as a Department unless a substantial amount of higher work is carried on in the Department. Higher work for this purpose is defined as work reaching one of the following standards :—

- (i) Senior full-time Courses.
- (ii) Senior part-time Courses.
- (iii) Intermediate Examination for a Degree.
- (iv) Final Grade of the subjects set out in the Programme for the City and Guilds of London Institute.

(b) Subject to (a) above, the Head of a Department will be a teacher who is responsible to the Principal for the organisation and conduct of the work in a subject or group of subjects. If the subject involves practical work, the Head of the Department will be responsible to the Principal for the working of the laboratories, care of apparatus, requisitioning of stores, etc.

(13) For this purpose the preparation for the Intermediate examination for a degree shall be regarded as preparation for a University Degree, Higher National Diploma or Higher National Certificate or other qualification determined by the Burnham (Technical) Committee to be of like standard.

(14) In respect of the financial year 1945-46 teachers who were in service on 31st March, 1945, and who are placed on the College Establishment for Senior Assistants as from the opening of the Academic year 1945-46 shall be paid on the scale for Senior Assistants from 1st April, 1945.

(15) See Appendix III.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

9. Scales of Salaries of Heads of Departments will depend upon a number of criteria arising from the importance and standard of work, numbers of students both full-time and part-time. There shall be four grades of Departments carrying salaries as follows :—

Grade	Men			Women
	Minimum	Annual Increment	Maximum	Minimum	Annual Increment	Maximum
(i)	£ 600	£ 25	£ 750	£ 480	£ 20	£ 600
(ii)	750	25	850	600	20	680
(iii)	900	25	1,000	720	20	800
(iv)	Over £1,000 : Scale in each case to be determined in agreement with the Minister.			Over £800 : Scale in each case to be determined in agreement with the Minister.

The Scales are set out in full in Appendix IV.

ADDITION TO THE SCALES

For Heads of Departments who have spent three years in approved study and/or training⁽¹⁶⁾ both the minimum and the maximum of the appropriate scale shall be increased by £15 in the case of men and £12 in the case of women. For Heads of Departments who have so spent four years the additions shall be £30 and £24 respectively. For Heads of Departments who have so spent five years or more the additions shall be £45 and £36 respectively.

PRINCIPALS

10. The Committee recommend that Local Education Authorities shall forthwith review and adjust in agreement with the Minister, as from 1st April, 1945, the existing salaries or scales of salaries of Principals, and that in making such a review and adjustment of salaries or scales of salaries, the Authorities shall have regard to (a) the volume of full-time and part-time work ; the importance and standard of work ; the number and type of staff ; and (b) the guidance which is afforded by the scales agreed upon for other posts under this Report.

It is further agreed by the Committee that, after this review has taken place, the Minister shall be requested to transmit the particulars thereof to the Committee who will re-examine the possibility of framing Standard Scales for Principals.

11. (a) There shall be additional payments for teachers serving in the " London Area " as defined in Sub-section (b) below. Such payments shall be at the rate of £36 per annum, provided that as from the date on which the teacher has completed 16 years of full-time service in the " London Area " or elsewhere, or has attained the age of 37 years, whichever is the earlier, the rate shall be raised to £48 per annum.

CORRECT POSITION⁽²⁰⁾

13. (a) In determining the correct position of a teacher on the Assistants' Scale at any time the following service shall be taken into account :—

- (i) Service of the types and under the conditions set forth in Appendix I to this Report.
- (ii) War service within the limits and under the conditions explained in Appendix II to this Report.

(b) In determining the correct position of a teacher on the Senior Assistants' Scale

- (i) the commencing salary shall be the minimum of the scale unless the salary applicable on the Assistants' Scale, including any allowances awarded under Section 5, exceeds this amount, in which case the teacher shall be appointed at the next higher point on the scale for Senior Assistants.

- (ii) one increment of £25 shall be added to the minimum in respect of each completed year of full-time service in the status of Senior Assistant.

(c) In determining the correct position of a teacher on the Scale for Departmental Heads, regard shall be had to previous service in a like capacity.

WITHHOLDING OF INCREMENTS

14. No increment shall be withheld in respect of any year unless the service for that year has been declared unsatisfactory by the Local Education Authority. The effect of this provision shall be limited to one year unless the Local Education Authority otherwise determine.

INCREMENTAL DATE

15. (a) The Committee recommend all Local Education Authorities to adopt a uniform incremental date at 1st April. In adjusting salaries to that uniform incremental date the principle which applies is that teachers who remain continuously in service throughout the financial year should receive the same salary in respect of that year as though no uniform date were in force, but increments were given as from the date of completion of an integral number of years of service. In reckoning service for this purpose the number of odd days may be ignored or counted as one month according as it is or is not less than 15, i.e., the date of completion of a year's service may be taken to be the first of the month which is nearer to the actual date.

(b) The principle which applies to the calculation of salary in the case of migrants and of teachers discontinuing service and resuming it in the same area is that teachers of the same qualifications and the same amount of service at any particular time who are employed by the same Local Education Authority in similar conditions should have the same rate of salary. This rate is, therefore, determined by considering what salary an existing teacher would be receiving who had been continuously employed in the area and had the same service as the migrant at the date of appointment, excepting that when the salary of a teacher has been assessed for any financial year it is retained by the teacher for the remainder of the year even though he/she has subsequently a break in service, provided that he/she resumes service after the break in the area of the same Authority and in the same status.

SALARIES OF "EXISTING TEACHERS"

16. (a) No Teacher in service on 31st March, 1945, shall receive by reason of the operation of these scales a smaller rate of salary than he/she would have been eligible to receive under the operation of the Burnham Reports as in force on that date.

(b) For the purpose of this Section the rate of salary shall be computed by adding together (i) scale salary, (ii) war allowance, and (iii), while the teacher remains in the same post, any allowance paid to the teacher on 31st March, 1945, under previous Burnham Reports.

DURATION OF THE SCALES

17. The Scales in this Report come into force on 1st April, 1945, and shall continue in operation until 31st March, 1948.

(20) With regard to the adjustment of salary to a uniform incremental date see Section 15 of this Report.

COMMITTEE OF REFERENCE

18. There shall be appointed a Joint Committee of Reference, consisting of 10 members nominated by the representatives of Local Education Authorities on the Committee, and 10 members nominated by the representatives of the Teachers, and the Honorary Secretaries ex-officio ; to which Committee shall stand referred for consideration and report to the Burnham Committee any matter relating to the interpretation of the provisions of this Report brought forward by a Local Education Authority acting through the Authorities' Panel, or by any Association of Teachers acting through the Teachers' Panel, or by consent of the Chairman of the Burnham Committee.

LETTER FROM LORD SOULBURY FORWARDING A COPY OF THE REPORT TO THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION

31st August, 1945.

MY DEAR MINISTER,

In his letter of the 21st March, 1945, Mr. Butler informed Sir Henry Pelham, the Acting Chairman of the Burnham Committees, that he approved under the terms of Section 89 (1) of the Education Act, 1944, the Scales of Salaries submitted by the Committees for teachers in

(i) Primary and Secondary Schools ;

(ii) Technical Colleges and Institutes, Art Colleges and Schools ;

that he would be prepared to recognize for grant purposes expenditure incurred by Local Education Authorities in paying salaries in accordance with those scales ; and that he further proposed by Order under Section 89 (1) of the Act, to make provision to secure that the remuneration paid by Local Education Authorities to teachers should be in accordance with the scales. The scales so approved did not, however, include provision for their detailed application to individual teachers, and Mr. Butler took note of Sir Henry's intimation that these matters would be dealt with in full Reports to be transmitted later.

The Committees have now completed this task and I am forwarding copies of their full Reports herewith.

Yours sincerely,

SOULBURY.

THE RT. HON. ELLEN WILKINSON, M.P.,
Ministry of Education,
Belgrave Square,
S.W.1.

LETTER FROM THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION TO LORD SOULBURY IN REPLY

8th October, 1945.

DEAR LORD SOULBURY,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of 31st August, with which you enclosed copies of the full Reports of the Burnham Committees on scales of salaries for teachers (a) in Primary and Secondary Schools, and (b) in Technical Colleges and Institutes, Art Colleges and Schools.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

These scales were put forward to my predecessor, Mr. Butler, and were approved by him in March last, but the making of the Order under Section 89 (1) of the Education Act, 1944, to secure that the remuneration paid by Local Education Authorities to teachers should be in accordance with the approved scales, was deferred pending the receipt of the Committees' full and final Reports.

I have considered the Reports and am now able to inform you that I approve the detailed recommendations which have been framed with effect for three years from the 1st April, 1945. The Reports will now be published as soon as possible and the necessary Order made.

I should add that my approval to the recommendations for allowances in respect of war service—Appendix II of the Reports—has been given only having regard to the limited period for which the Reports continue in operation, and it should be understood that I am in no way committed to approving the application of the recommendations made in this regard to teachers who may enter the profession thereafter.

May I take this opportunity to express to you and, through you, to the members of the Committee, my gratitude for all the time and labour that you have together expended in bringing to a conclusion a task which I know has been both laborious and difficult.

Yours sincerely,

ELLEN WILKINSON.

THE RT. HON. LORD SOULBURY, O.B.E., D.L., M.C., Kingswood,
Heath,
Nr. Leighton Buzzard.

6. (a) Where a teacher is seconded by the Local Education Authority or by the Governing Body of an Independent or "Direct Grant" School to a Training College, the College Authority may make to the Teacher an allowance over and above the salary appropriate to his/her status as a Teacher, provided that the total salary thus payable shall not be higher than that which would be appropriate if the seconded teacher were appointed to the permanent staff of the College. The College Authority shall be responsible for the payment of such salary and allowance during the period of secondment.

(b) Where a College Lecturer is seconded to a School for the purpose of research or of refreshing his/her experience of school teaching, or is seconded to other occupation as approved by the College Authority in agreement with the Minister, he/she shall receive during the period of secondment the salary appropriate to his/her status as a College Lecturer, together with any personal allowance which the Minister may approve as being necessary. EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

(b) Allowances shall be paid to Deputy Principals over and above the scale salary which would be appropriate to them as Senior Lecturers or Lecturers at the College. The amount of such allowances shall be :—

For Men : not less than £50 p.a. ; not more than £100 p.a.

For Women : not less than £40 p.a. ; not more than £80 p.a.

(c) Where the Local Education Authority or the Governing Body of a Voluntary Training College considers in any particular case that an allowance of £100 in the case of a man or £80 in the case of a woman is not adequate, having regard to the duties and responsibilities involved, the Authority or the Governing Body may make representations to the Minister with a view to securing such addition thereto as the Minister shall approve.

PRINCIPALS

8. It is recommended that each Local Education Authority and each Governing Body of a Voluntary Training College shall forthwith review and adjust in agreement with the Minister, as from 1st April, 1945, the salaries of Principals, and that in making such a review and adjustment of salaries, the Authorities and Governing Bodies shall have regard to the guidance which is afforded by the Scales agreed upon for other posts under this Report.

It is further agreed by the Committee that, after this review has taken place, the Minister shall be requested to transmit the particulars thereof to the Committee who will re-examine the possibility of framing Standard Scales for Principals.

WITHHOLDING OF INCREMENTS

9. No increment shall be withheld in respect of any year unless the service for that year has been declared unsatisfactory by the Local Education Authority or by the Governing Body of a Voluntary Training College. The effect of this shall be limited to one year unless the Local Education Authority or the Governing Body of a Voluntary Training College otherwise determine.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE TRANSFER OF MEMBERS OF EXISTING COLLEGE STAFFS TO THE NEW SCALES

10. Existing members of Training College Staffs shall be brought to their correct position on the appropriate scale as from 1st April, 1945.

- (i) The correct position of existing members of Training College Staffs, now to be designated as Lecturers, shall be that which he/she would have reached on 1st April, 1945, had this agreement been in force throughout his/her approved teaching service.
- (ii) The correct position of existing members of Training College Staffs, now to be designated as Senior Lecturers, shall be either (a) the minimum of the Senior Lecturer scale, or (b) the point which he/she would have reached on the scale for Lecturers had that scale been extended to the maximum of the Senior Lecturer scale, whichever is the higher.

INCREMENTAL DATE

11. Each Local Education Authority or Governing Body of a Voluntary Training College may follow its general procedure as regards date of payment of annual increments. Proportionate increments in respect of a period of service of less than one year, where needed for the establishment or maintenance of a uniform incremental date, are allowed.

DURATION OF SCALES

12. The Scales in this Report come into force on 1st April, 1945, and shall continue in operation until 31st March, 1948.

SAFEGUARDING CLAUSE

13. (a) No member of the teaching staff of a Training College in service on 31st March, 1945, shall receive by reason of the operation of these Scales a smaller rate of salary than he/she would have received under the arrangements operative on that date.

(b) For the purpose of this Section the rate of salary for each member of the teaching staff shall be computed by adding together (i) scale salary, (ii) war allowance, and (iii), while he/she remains in the same post, any allowance which, with the approval of the Minister of Education, was paid on 31st March, 1945.

COMMITTEE OF REFERENCE

14. (a) There shall be appointed a Joint Committee of Reference, consisting of nine members nominated by the representatives of Local Education Authorities and the Governing Bodies of Voluntary Training Colleges on the Committee, and nine members nominated by the representatives of the Association of Teachers in Colleges and Departments of Education, with the Honorary Secretaries ex officio ; to which Committee shall stand referred for consideration and report to the Main Committee any matter relating to the interpretation of the provisions of this Report brought forward by a Local Education Authority or the Governing Body of a Voluntary Training College, or by the Association of Teachers in Colleges and Departments of Education represented on the Committee, or by consent of the Chairman of the Main Committee.

(b) The Joint Committee of Reference shall also provide a Registry for the recording and placing of (i) Teachers who desire to be seconded for the purpose of obtaining experience of Training College work, and (ii) Training College Lecturers who desire to be seconded for the purpose of research or of refreshing their experience of school teaching.⁽⁴⁾

LETTER FROM SIR HENRY PELHAM FORWARDING A COPY OF REPORT TO THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION

29th August, 1945.

DEAR MISS WILKINSON,

In my letter of the 11th May, 1945, to Mr. Butler, I enclosed for consideration a statement of salaries for Lecturers and Senior Lecturers in Training Colleges, other than the Training Departments of Universities or University Colleges, which had been agreed by the Committee appointed by him for the purpose. I now forward the full Report of the Committee which incorporates the scales and contains provisions for their application to individual members of the teaching staff of the Colleges.

Yours sincerely,

E. HENRY PELHAM.

THE RT. HON. ELLEN WILKINSON, M.P.,
Ministry of Education,
Belgrave Square,
S.W.1.

LETTER FROM THE MINISTER OF EDUCATION TO SIR HENRY PELHAM, IN REPLY

8th October, 1945.

DEAR SIR HENRY,

Thank you for your letter of the 29th August, with which you sent me the full Report of the Committee which was appointed by Mr. Butler to consider the scales of salary appropriate for the teaching staffs of Training Colleges other than the Training Departments of Universities or University Colleges.

I have now considered the recommendations made and I am glad to be able to inform you that, subject to what I say below, I approve the scales as appropriate to be adopted in Training Colleges within this Ministry's administration.

I note that in paragraph 6 (c) of the Report a recommendation is in effect made to the Minister that any special expenditure incurred by a Training College in respect of arrangements for the seconding of staff or for the employment of seconded teachers should be met by a special grant from the Ministry. In this connection the Committee have, I understand, had in mind the position of the Voluntary Training Colleges. As regards this, I would say that, as representatives of the Voluntary Colleges will be aware, the system of grant aid to such Colleges is now under review and the revision of the arrangements for aiding these Colleges in future will, I think, render unnecessary any special grant for the particular purpose in question.

I would take this opportunity of expressing to you and, through you, to the Committee, my thanks for the time and trouble you have together expended upon this work, and for the rapidity with which you have completed the task that you were asked to undertake.

Yours sincerely,

ELLEN WILKINSON.

SIR HENRY PELHAM, K.C.B.,

Westerham,
Kent.

To the Right Honourable

MADAM,

1. The Committee on Salaries of Farm Institutes Staffs was appointed with the following terms of reference :—

“ To consider the remuneration appropriate to the teaching staff of Farm Institutes and to teachers of agricultural (including horticultural) subjects on the staff of Local Education Authorities and to make recommendations.”

The constitution of the Committee is as follows :

Alderman W. Byng Kenrick, Leader of the Authorities' Panel of the Burnham Committee, and Sir William A. Brockington, Hon. Secretary of that Panel, are members of the Committee, ex officio.

TEACHERS' PANEL

Mr. W. A. Stewart : Northamptonshire Institute of Agriculture.

2. (a) The Committee met for the first time on Friday, 21st June, 1946, and submitted an Interim Report on the following July 3rd which contained recommendations regarding (i) the status of Principal Agricultural Officers, and (ii) appropriate Scales of Salaries for Assistants and Senior Assistants on the teaching staff of Farm Institutes and the agricultural teaching staff of Local Education Authorities. Approval of the Scales was given in a letter from the Minister to Lord Soulbury dated September 26th. The Remuneration of Teachers Order, 1946, dated October 1st, 1946, secured that the remuneration paid by Local Education Authorities to teachers in the respective categories as defined by the Interim Report should be in accordance with the Scales submitted.

(b) When they submitted their Interim Report, the Committee stated that they were preparing a full Report which would contain provision for the detailed application of the Scales to individual teachers. The Committee now submit their full Report.

3 (a) This Report applies to teachers who are employed in full-time service exclusively in that capacity whether as members of the teaching staff of a Farm Institute or as teachers of agricultural (including horticultural) subjects on the staffs of Local Education Authorities.

(b) The Committee contemplate that the Principal of a Farm Institute will normally be the Principal Agricultural Officer of the Local Education Authority for the area served by the Institute. They further contemplate that the establishment of Farm Institute teaching staffs and of teachers of Agriculture (including Horticulture) on the staffs of Local Education Authorities will be determined by the Local Education Authority in agreement with the Minister.

SCALES FOR ASSISTANTS

4. (a) The following scales shall apply :—

Men			Women
Minimum	Annual Increment ⁽¹⁾	Maximum	Minimum	Annual Increment ⁽¹⁾	Maximum
£ 300	£ 15	£ 525	£ 270	£ 12	£ 420

These Scales are set out in full in Appendix V to this Report.

ADDITIONS TO THE SCALES

(b) Additions for Training. For teachers who have spent three years in approved study and/or training⁽²⁾ both the minimum and the maximum of the appropriate scale shall be increased by the amount of one increment. For teachers who have so spent four years the minimum and the maximum shall be increased by the amount of two increments. For teachers who have so spent five years or more the minimum and the maximum shall be increased by the amount of three increments.

(c) Additions for Graduate Teachers. For Graduates the minimum of the appropriate scale shall be increased (or, in the case of teachers qualifying for the additions under Sub-section 4 (b) above shall be further increased) by the amount of one increment, and the maximum shall be increased (or further increased) by the amount of two increments. These additions shall not, however, be given during any period in respect of which the teacher is in receipt of an allowance under the terms of Section 5 (a) below.

For the purposes of this Section a Graduate Teacher is a teacher who possesses a University degree ⁽³⁾ ⁽⁴⁾ ⁽⁵⁾ or equivalent academic or professional qualifications (see Section 11), or who has been placed on the Graduate Scale under the terms of Sections 8, 9 or 10 of the 1920 and 1927 Secondary Reports of the Burnham Committee or the corresponding Sections of the Technical Reports of 1921 and 1927.

ALLOWANCES OVER AND ABOVE SCALE SALARY

5. (a) For Assistants there shall be special posts in respect of which allowances over and above the Scale Salary shall be granted for special responsibility, special work of an advanced character, special academic, professional or industrial qualifications, or other circumstances which in the opinion of the Authority justify an addition to the scale. The allowances shall not be applied so as in effect to alter the operation of the Scales.

(b) The number, value and distribution of such posts shall be decided by the Local Education Authority in agreement with the Minister.

(c) The amounts of the allowances shall be :—

For Men : not less than £50 per annum ; not more than £100 per annum.

For Women : not less than £40 per annum ; not more than £80 per annum.

SCALES FOR SENIOR ASSISTANTS

6. (a) In addition to posts for Assistants, a Local Education Authority may, in agreement with the Minister, establish posts for Senior Assistants.

(1) Annual increments accrue on completion of years of service recognised for the purposes of Section 12 of this Report. With regard to adjustment of salaries to a uniform incremental date, see Section 14.

(2) See Appendix IV

(3) This term is deemed for salary purposes to include degrees of :—

(a) English, Welsh, Scottish, Irish, Dominion and Colonial Universities

(b) St. David's College, Lampeter

(c) Other Universities, provided that the standard of the degree approximates to that of an English University. In the case of such degrees, reference should in the first instance be made to the Ministry of Education.

(4) Teachers who have passed the requisite final examination and complied with the other conditions for the award of a degree are classed as Graduates for salary purposes even though the degree has not been conferred upon them by the University.

(5) The holders of the following qualifications are not classed as Graduates for salary purposes :—

(a) L.L.A. (St. Andrews)

(b) B.ès L. or B.ès Sc. of a French University.

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

(b) The Scales for Senior Assistants are as follows :

Men			Women
Minimum	Annual Increment	Maximum	Minimum	Annual Increment	Maximum
£ 600	£ 25	£ 750	£ 480	£ 20	£ 600

The Scales are set out in full in Appendix V to this Report.

(c) The number of such posts shall be decided by the Local Education Authority, in agreement with the Minister.

7. There may be one or more posts, such as those of Deputy Principal Officer or Warden of a Farm Institute, to which higher scales of salaries than those for Senior Assistants in general should be applied. Each of these posts shall be established by the Local Education Authority in agreement with the Minister. For these posts the Committee recommend the following scales of salaries :

Men			Women
Minimum	Annual Increment	Maximum	Minimum	Annual Increment	Maximum
£ 750	£ 25	£ 850	£ 600	£ 20	£ 680

The Scales are set out in full in Appendix V to this Report.

Where there is more than one such post, the Local Education Authority in agreement with the Minister may grant in respect of one of the posts a special allowance as follows :

For Men : not less than £50 per annum ; not more than £100 per annum.

For Women : not less than £40 per annum ; not more than £80 per annum.

ADDITION TO THE SCALES

8. For⁽⁶⁾ Senior Assistants who have spent three years in approved study and/or training⁽⁷⁾ both the minimum and the maximum of the appropriate scale shall be increased by £15 in the case of men and £12 in the case of women. For Senior Assistants who have so spent four years, the additions shall be £30 and £24 respectively. For Senior Assistants who have so spent five years or more the additions shall be £45 and £36 respectively.

PRINCIPAL OFFICERS

9. The Committee recommend that Local Education Authorities shall, in agreement with the Minister, establish salaries or scales of salaries for Principal Agricutural Officers.

For the guidance of Authorities, the Committee recommend that a Principal Officer shall be considered to be of not inferior status to a County Advisory Officer, and that the Authority shall have regard to this in determining the salary or scale of salary ; provided that the Authority is not thereby prevented from giving consideration to an exceptional case.

RESIDENTIAL DUTIES

10. Residential Duties shall be remunerated by agreed emoluments or equivalent allowances which are not to be regarded as part of the salary.

QUALIFICATIONS ENTITLING A TEACHER TO BE CLASSED AS A GRADUATE FOR THE PURPOSES OF SECTION 4 (c) OF THIS REPORT

11. The qualifications which shall be recognised as entitling a teacher to be classed as a Graduate for the purposes of Section 4 (c) of this Report are set out in Appendix I.

(6) This provision applies to all posts under Sections 6 and 7.

(7) See Appendix IV.

CORRECT POSITION⁽⁸⁾

12. (a) In determining the correct position of a teacher on the Assistants' Scale at any time the following service shall be taken into account :

(i) Service of the types and under the conditions set forth in Appendix II to this Report.

(ii) War service within the limits and under the conditions explained in Appendix III to this Report.

(b) In determining the correct position of a Senior Assistant holding a post to which the scales prescribed in Section 6 (b) apply :

(i) the commencing salary shall be the minimum of the scale unless the salary applicable on the Assistants' Scale, including any allowances awarded under Section 5, exceeds this amount, in which case the teacher shall be appointed at the next higher point on the scale for Senior Assistants ;

(ii) one increment of £25 (men) and £20 (women) shall be added to the minimum in respect of each completed year of full-time service in the status of Senior Assistant.

(c) In determining the correct position of a Senior Assistant holding a post to which the scales prescribed in Section 7 apply, regard shall be had to previous service in a like capacity.

WITHHOLDING OF INCREMENTS

13. No increment shall be withheld in respect of any year unless the service for that year has been declared unsatisfactory by the Local Education Authority. The effect of this provision shall be limited to one year unless the Local Education Authority otherwise determine.

INCREMENTAL DATE

14. (a) The Committee recommend all Local Education Authorities to adopt a uniform incremental date at 1st April. In adjusting salaries to that uniform incremental date the principle which applies is that teachers who remain continuously in service throughout the financial year should receive the same salary in respect of that year as though no uniform date were in force, but increments were given as from the date of completion of an integral number of years of service. In reckoning service for this purpose the number of odd days may be ignored or counted as one month according as it is or is not less than 15, i.e., the date of completion of a year's service may be taken to be the first of the month which is nearer to the actual date.

(b) The principle which applies to the calculation of salary in the case of migrants and of teachers discontinuing service and resuming it in the same area is that teachers of the same qualifications and the same amount of service at any particular time who are employed by the same Local Education Authority in similar conditions should have the same rate of salary. This rate is, therefore, determined by considering what salary an existing teacher would be receiving who had been continuously employed in the area and had the same service as the migrant at the date of appointment, excepting that when the salary of a teacher has been assessed for any financial year it is retained by the teacher for the remainder of the year even though he/she has subsequently a break in service, provided that he/she resumes service after the break in the area of the same Authority and in the same status.

SALARIES OF "EXISTING TEACHERS"

15. No teacher under a contract of employment on 31st March, 1945, in institutions or services to which this Report relates shall receive, by reason of the operation of these scales, a smaller rate of salary than he/she would have been eligible to receive under such contract of employment.

DURATION OF THE SCALES

16. It is recommended that the scales in this Report shall have effect as from 1st April, 1945, and shall continue in operation until 31st March, 1948.

(8) With regard to the adjustment of salary to a uniform incremental date see Section 14 of this Report.

COMMITTEE OF REFERENCE

17. The Committee shall act as a Joint Committee of Reference, to which shall stand referred for consideration any matter relating to the interpretation of the provisions of this Report brought forward by a Local Education Authority acting through the Authorities' Panel, or by any Association of Teachers acting through the Teachers' Panel, or by consent of the Chairman of the Committee.

We have the honour to be,

Madam,

Your obedient servants,

(Chairman).

(Authorities' Panel).

(Teachers' Panel).

(Joint Hon. Secretaries).

II.—General

1 Service in a School in the period prior to the date of its recognition as efficient by the Ministry is accepted under Section 12 (a) (i) of this Report provided that the School was not decided by the Ministry to be inefficient during the period in question

2 Part-time Teaching Service—In calculating the salary of a Teacher a proportionate increment may be given for previous part-time teaching service (e.g., one increment for two years' half-time teaching service), subject to the condition that, where part-time teaching was concurrent with other service or experience which can be counted for increment, not more than one increment on the appropriate scale can, in the aggregate, be given in respect of a year of a Teacher's life

3 (i) The following are examples of service not accepted as service for increment purposes.—

In order to equate odd days to months of service the sum of all the aggregates in (ii) for the whole of the teacher's service which is taken into account for increment purposes will be divided by 30. The quotient will be taken as a number of complete months, and the remainder will count as one month, or will not count according as it is 15 days or over, or less than 15 days

In the case of teachers paid at daily rates service continuing on both sides of the week-end will be regarded as including the week-end, but the school vacations will not be included unless the teacher has a continuous engagement. RECOMMENDATION OF THE BURNHAM COMMITTEE in regard to

Interpretations of the Reports and upon the Method of applying the Prescribed Scales

I. MAIN AND TECHNICAL REPORTS

Remuneration of teachers who make up full-time service by combining duties in Primary and Secondary Schools, and in Schools or Institutions covered by the Technical Report

It is not the intention of the Committee that Section 3 of the Main Report and the corresponding Section of the Technical Report should be so interpreted as to exclude from the operation of the Reports teachers who are employed in the manner indicated above. The Committee recommend that in such cases, where full-time service of each type would be remunerated at different rates, the teachers should be paid at the higher rate if they devote one-half or more of their time to the more highly paid service, and that in other cases payment should be made at the lower rate for all work. The Committee further recommend that this basis of payment, if adopted, should be applied uniformly to all teachers, so employed in the Authority's area.

Graduate Equivalents—Definition of term "Officers" in Section 10 (g) of the Primary and Secondary Schools Report and Section 12 (g) of the Technical Report

The Committee agreed that in order to remove misunderstanding the word "Officers" as used in the above Sections of the Reports should be held to include non-commissioned Officers

Qualifications entitling a teacher to be classed as a Graduate

In accordance with the provisions of the final paragraph of Section 10 (g) of the Main Report and of Section 12 (g) of the Technical Report the Committee now recommend the acceptance of the following qualifications, on the conditions stated, as entitling a teacher of Commercial Subjects to be classed as a graduate for purposes of Section 4 (c) of the Reports

- (i) Associateship of the Institute of Chartered Accountants
- (ii) Associateship of the Society of Incorporated Accountants
- (iii) Associateship of the Institute of Actuaries.
- (iv) Associateship of the Association of Certified and Corporate Accountants.

Provided that :—

(a) the election to Associateship has followed the passing of the Final Examination, or an examination accepted by the Institute as giving exemption from the Final Examination ;

(b) satisfactory proof is given of a good general education up to at least School Certificate standard ;

(c) in the case of the first three Associateships, the teacher has had 4 years' professional experience, and in the case of the fourth, 5 years' professional experience, after obtaining the qualification

It was also agreed that the following qualifications should similarly be accepted, subject to the teacher having had 4 years' professional experience after passing the examination :—

- (v) Barristers (Bar Final)
- (vi) Solicitors (Final Examination of the Law Society)
- (vii) Professional Associate of the Surveyors Institution

The Committee propose that, in respect of teachers in service on 31st March, 1945, teaching service could be reckoned towards the period of 4 years' or 5 years' professional experience necessary for the qualification.

II. PRIMARY AND SECONDARY SCHOOLS REPORT.

Additional Payments for Teachers in the "London Area."

Footnote (18) has been read in such a way as to give rise to cases of hardship. To remove this difficulty the footnote should be construed as not applying to teachers normally serving in the "London Area" but temporarily employed by a London Area Authority elsewhere

EDUCATION COMMITTEES' YEAR BOOK

Grading and Re-grading of Schools.

The Committee have considered the application of the provisions of Section 11 of this Report to the special circumstances of those areas which were subject to evacuation during the war. It is the Committee's view that for the County of London and where desired by the Local Education Authority in other areas, the following procedure (subject to such minor modifications as may be proposed by the Authority and agreed by the Minister) should be applied in determining the grading of a former Public Elementary School, or Special School or Department :—

(i) Where the school premises ceased to be used as such owing to circumstances arising out of the war and

(a) were used prior to 31st March, 1945, as a war-time emergency school ; or

(b) were not so used, but the school or department reopened after 31st March, 1945 ;

the grading as from 1st April, 1945, or as soon as possible after the official return of evacuated children (31st July, 1945) may be fixed in accordance with Section 11 (a) (i) and Section 11 (b) (ii) of the Report

In applying the provisions of Section 11 (c) (i) the scale applicable to the Head Teacher of a School or department falling within the ambit of the above recommendation which was in a provisional grade on 31st August, 1939, should, until such time as a new provisional grade is assigned under the terms of the above recommendation, or until he/she is appointed to some other school, be the scale under this Report corresponding to his/her protected scale (if any) or the scale appropriate to the provisional grade of the school on 31st August, 1939 ; (modified as necessary in accordance with the terms of the proviso to sub-Section 11 (b) (i)), whichever is the higher.

If the Head Teacher is appointed to some other school his/her scale should then be that appropriate to the grading of such other school as determined under the provisions of Section 11 of this Report, or his/her protected scale (if any), whichever is the higher

Service Recognised for the purpose of Section 13 (i) of the Report

In order that paragraph 1 of Section II of Appendix I may bear a suitable relationship to Section 4 (d) it should be read as though it began with the words " Except as otherwise provided in the Report "

III. TECHNICAL REPORT.

Categories of Students accepted for the purposes of determining the establishment of Senior Assistants

As foreshadowed in Footnote (13) the Committee have considered what additional qualifications should be recognised for the purposes of Section 6 (b), and recommend that categories of students preparing for examinations in the following list should be accepted —

Pharmaceutical Society—Inter

Chemists and Druggists.

First M.B.

Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons—Pre-Medical Examination.

Additions to Scale Salary for Approved Study and/or training.

The Committee recommend that in order to meet the special circumstances of teachers employed in Technical Institutions, many of whom have qualifications for service in the technical field as a result of part-time study, the following formula should be accepted under paragraph 2 of Section II of Appendix III of the Technical Report.

" In the case of a teacher who, after the age of 18 years, has satisfactorily pursued during a period of 4 years a course of organised part-time study approved by the Minister as likely to be of value in the performance of his/her duties concurrently with time spent in industry, or commerce, or in professional work, such period shall be treated for the purpose of Sections 4 (b), 7 and 9, as equivalent to three years spent in approved full-time study and/or training, and may therefore qualify for an addition of one increment to both the minimum and the maximum of the appropriate scale ; provided that no part of this period shall be counted as equivalent to teaching service under Appendix I. 1, paragraph 3."

It is the intention of the Committee that the words " satisfactorily pursued " should be read as implying that the student should have obtained a qualification as a result of the course. The Committee consider that a student who once exercised the option either to accept an addition for training under these arrangements or alternatively to have his (concurrent) professional or industrial experience reckoned for increments on the salary scale, should not be permitted to change his option at a later date.

JUVENILE OFFENCES

In June, 1941, the Home Office and Board of Education issued a joint Memorandum entitled "Juvenile Offences." The Memorandum may, for practical purposes, be divided into five sections, viz., Introduction, Statistics, Causes, Preventive Measures and Treatment of Offenders.

A.—INTRODUCTION

The Introduction draws attention to the increase in the numbers of juveniles charged, points out that offences are mainly those known as stealing and looting, and issues a timely warning against hasty generalisations. It wisely points out that delinquents form but a small proportion of the total number of boys and girls of the same group. The opinion is also expressed that the increase in offences by young persons is mainly, if not entirely, due to war conditions. An important statement is that "suitable measures must be taken to secure the future welfare of these young people and to save them from the risk of entering a criminal career." Attention is drawn to the desirability of the "holding of local conferences in which all those concerned can take part and decide as quickly as possible what steps can immediately be taken to meet the needs, having regard to local circumstances."

B.—STATISTICAL

The Memorandum states that in 1938 (the latest year for which criminal statistics have been published) of 78,463 persons who were charged with indictable offences, 36 per cent. (28,116) were boys and girls under 17 years of age. The number of girls was only 1,747 as compared with 26,369 boys. Statistics show that the age of 13 represents the peak and that the number of offenders declines for each succeeding year. The returns for the first four months of the war show that there was an increase of about 28 per cent. in the number of children under 14 found guilty of indictable offences as compared with the same months in 1938. For the months January to April, 1940, the increase was about 62 per cent. as compared with these months in 1939. The increase for the first twelve months of the war as compared with the previous twelve months of peace was about 41 per cent.

C.—CAUSES

When dealing with the cases of delinquency, the Memorandum attributes the increase to the excitement and unsettlement on account of the war, a desire for adventure on hearing of stories of deeds at sea, in the field and in the air, and general high spirits leading in some cases to the formation of "gangs," the absence of fathers on military service and mothers in daily work and the consequent lack of discipline in home life, evacuation and interruption of school life, the starting of employment with consequent new temptations and wages which are now considerably higher than they would normally have received.

D.—PREVENTIVE MEASURES

The Memorandum next proceeds to deal with Preventive Measures, and it introduces the subject with these words :—"It is obvious that it is far better to lead young people away from misconduct than to endeavour to check it when they are found committing offences, apart from the fact that any large increase of offenders greatly adds to the already anxious tasks of the courts. The needs of school children in this connection differ from those of boys and girls who are starting work."

School Attendance

First amongst the cures for this social malady is placed the urgent need to restore educational facilities as soon as possible. Attention is also drawn to the need for a stricter enforcement of school attendance.

Employment of Children

The employment of school children is another matter which, it is stated, has an immediate bearing on school attendance. Local Education Authorities are pressed to watch any tendency there might be to fail to comply with the byelaws under the Children and Young Persons Act on this subject.

Employment of Leisure

It would have been surprising if under this heading of preventive measures attention had not been directed to the employment of leisure. The Memorandum is to be commended in the frankness with which it approaches the subject. Naturally, it points out the importance of a Service of Youth and the duties and powers of local education authorities and of voluntary organisations to expand their provisions for young people. But it correctly states that "the success so far achieved gives no ground for complacency, but rather emphasises the urgent need for further effort on the part of local education authorities and their youth committees to strengthen existing youth organisations and to develop new types, particularly for the class of young people with which this Memorandum is concerned. The concluding paragraph on the question of leisure contains this statement :—"The conclusion of the matter seems to be that one of the best means of checking delinquency in war time, as in peace, is to provide more and more varied social and recreative facilities to meet the needs and tastes of all sections of the youthful community—indeed this has been proved in places where such provision has been made and a decrease in delinquency has resulted—and to challenge youthful exuberance to interest itself in useful service."

E.—TREATMENT OF OFFENDERS

Under this heading, attention is drawn to the need for younger men and women to sit on juvenile court panels, to the importance of the court having full knowledge of the home surroundings, school record, health and character of the offender, and to the desirability of parents giving security for the behaviour of their children and to steps being taken to make them realise their responsibilities.

The tendency to resort to birching is deprecated.

Child Guidance

Mention is made of the work of child guidance clinics and the services of psychiatrists, having regard to the number of young persons brought before juvenile courts who present difficult problems of behaviour.

Probation

The probation system is commended as having established beyond doubt its success in suitable cases, but it is pointed out that the first necessity is an adequate staff of well-qualified probation officers and the need for proper equipment.

The Memorandum states that "in many areas there is evidence of need for a greater pooling of knowledge between probation officers and school teachers," and that "the courts and the local education authorities would do well to encourage this form of collaboration." A far-reaching recommendation is made by the Memorandum when it says "it is particularly important that the home should be visited by the probation officer in every case in which there is any chance of making a probation order. . . . By means of a home visit the probation officer can make valuable contact with the parents and be in a position to advise the court whether in the circumstances a probation order can safely be used, or whether removal from the home is really required."

Remand Homes

It is not surprising that under the heading of Remand Homes, attention is drawn to the scarcity of available accommodation and to the undesirability of boys under 17 being sent to prison on remand. Justices are reminded of their powers under section 54 of the Act of 1933 which enables them to order detention in a remand home for a period not exceeding a month.

Approved Schools

The Memorandum concludes with a note on approved schools and points out that local authorities have not succeeded in providing enough schools to supply the demand. It states that "the need for further accommodation still exists, and the more active assistance of local authorities is greatly to be desired so that institutional training of this kind can be made available without the necessity of long periods of remand."

Finally, the Memorandum mentions that two short-term schools for boys have been provided by local authorities and suggests that more schools of this type are needed.

VACANCIES FOR BOYS

as Aircraft Apprentices at a ROYAL AIR FORCE TECHNICAL SCHOOL

● Schoolmasters are continually asked "What sort of career is my boy equipped to take up?" There is no easy answer. But, if a boy is mechanically minded, eager to learn, adventurous, fond of travel and sport, then the R.A.F. offers a splendid career with prospects of promotion and a pension.

Three times a year at least 500 boys between 15½ and 17½ are admitted to one of the R.A.F. Technical Schools as Aircraft Apprentices. They must be sound of character with a fair grounding in maths and science. Whilst receiving first-class instruction in the highest paid ground trades in the R.A.F. they will be well paid, clothed, housed and fed.

OBJECTS

The Teachers Registration Council is constituted by Orders in Council of 1912, 1926 and 1942. It is composed of fifty members, distributed into four groups representing respectively university teachers, teachers in public elementary schools, teachers in secondary schools, and specialist teachers including those employed in technical institutes. Its constituents are thus drawn from every branch of the educational field, each group being represented by twelve registered teachers engaged in the type of teaching work to which the group belongs. The elected members may co-opt two additional members drawn from any type of teaching work which, in their opinion, is not already adequately represented. The Chairman must be elected by the members of the Council from outside their number, and is the only exception to the rule that members must be registered teachers. The period of office of each council is five years.

The twelve university members are appointed by the twelve universities now existing in England and Wales. Members of other groups are elected directly by the registered teachers throughout the country, who vote according to the types of teaching work in which they are engaged.

The Teachers Registration Council was entrusted with the formation and custody of a Register of Teachers who could satisfy such conditions as the Council should prescribe. The main principle which has been kept in view is that no person should be recognised as a fully qualified teacher or be entitled to claim professional status unless he had undergone special preparation for the duties he purported to perform. Hence all candidates for admission to the Register are required to satisfy the Council in the following respects :

1. Attainments.—In addition to furnishing evidence of satisfactory preliminary education, candidates must show that they have obtained by examination one of the following qualifications :—

The degree of an approved University ; the degree of Utter Barrister ; admission as a solicitor ; a diploma awarded by a recognised musical institution ; membership of certain recognised Chartered Institutes ; or recognition by the Board of Education as a certificated teacher.

2. Training.—A candidate must have passed successfully through an approved course of professional training ; or have followed an approved course of study of the principles and methods of teaching ; or have served for at least one year as a teacher in an approved university or institution of university rank.

3. Experience.—A candidate must furnish evidence of successful teaching experience in a recognised education institution or in private practice under such conditions as the Council shall approve.

Unqualified and under-qualified practitioners are ineligible for Registration.

More than 103,000 teachers have applied for admission to the Register and of these more than 98,000 have been admitted.
