Tomorrow will be better....and better ....and better....

At every moment, scientists, philosophers, educationists and other august members of our species are devoting time, thought and energy to new and amazing ways of improving our daily lot. There are, we know, many people who are quite satisfied with the way things are, who don't really want to be able to fly around the world in a couple of hours or so, or see what it's like on the other side of the moon, but whether they like it or not, they are involved, as with all of us, in this thing called progress.

One might say publishers especially are involved, for theirs is the task of recording these developments—of passing on this newly-acquired knowledge in suitable form for those who need to keep abreast of each development.

As these plans come to maturity, so PITMAN BOOKS will reflect them, for that is our policy and many generations of students owe a good measure of their success to this aim. In the technical field PITMAN'S have accumulated one of the largest and perhaps the finest list in the country, covering almost every branch of science and engineering.

PITMAN'S have become firmly established as leading publishers of commercial and general educational books through this policy, and, as we advance, there is the PITMAN general list with its many attractive titles to provide leisure and pleasure from the strain of living in an improving world.

Take it with you and copy on the spot

Once you have a Contoura and can make your own copies anywhere, there are countless ways in which it will save you time, or add accuracy and authenticity to your work. And Contoura-copying is so easy! You simply put a sheet of Contoura Document Paper over the book page, press it against the print area with the Contoura, and expose for 3 to 4 seconds. You then put the document paper in the black Contoura envelope for processing at convenience.

To process the prints yourself, all you need are two dishes and standard photographic chemicals. Alternatively, you get the processing done locally, or send them to our Processing Service which charges only 2d. for processing your negative print, plus 6d. to 8d. for a positive if required. The cost of Contoura Paper is 2½d. per quarto sheet.

The Contoura was designed specially for book-copying. Its unique characteristic is the use of a translucent cushion, which conforms to the curve of a book and copies close into the spine. One of the illustrations shows a Contoura taking a copy across the spine of a book; the other shows a Contoura in use without removal from its case (when copying single sheets). Copies can be made in normal room or library lighting. A Contoura very soon pays back its low initial cost. . . .

ALPHABETICAL AUTHOR, TITLE AND SUBJECT SECTION

This Section contains entries or reference entries under authors, titles (where they are not explanatory of the subject matter of the books), editors, translators, series and subjects in one alphabetical sequence.

The entry under the author gives, in an abbreviated form, most of the information to be found in the entry in the Classified Subject Section, so that for most purposes it is not necessary to refer back to that entry when the author of a book is known. If, however, a fuller description is required, the entry in the Classified Subject Section—which gives the fuller description—can be found by means of the decimal code number at the end of the author entry.

If the editor, translator, title or series only is known, it will be necessary to refer back to the entry in this Section under the author's name. For example, if you look up the title Under the coolibah tree you will find the entry:

Under the coolibah tree, by G. F. Young.

To find details of this book and its decimal code number, it is necessary to refer to the entry in this index under

Young, G. F. Under the coolibah tree. Melrose, 21/-. 926.223421 (B53-3599)

If you wish to know what books have been published on a particular subject it is necessary to consult this Section under the name of the subject. Here again you will find a decimal code number which must be sought in the Classified Subject Section.

It will be found most convenient to look up the specific name of the subject, for this will refer you directly to the decimal code number under which books on the subject you require may be found. It does not matter, however, if you look up another word so long as it is, in fact, concerned with the subject. You will find that the decimal code number for this word will refer you to a part of the Classified Subject Section so close to the subject which you actually require that the eye will be quickly led to it by the captions and "feature words" appearing against the numbers.

Even though you may become familiar with the arrangement of the Classified Subject Section, it is always advisable to consult this index.

An explanation of the abbreviations used in describing books in the Bibliography and further details for tracing information are given in the Preface.
