UNITE KARNATAKA

From Press and Platform there has been one agonised cry to unite Karnataka. Torn and split, Karnataka lies a tragic present of a glorious past. The culture of Karnataka, the proud History of this Ancient land and its uneffaceable greatness cut and carved in the Art of Belur and Halebid, these mock the Modern to spur him to Action. The ever agitating Politician, the dreaming Poet and the meek Loyalist all join hands to fight for a sturdy, well developed and imposing figure of Mother Karnataka. What have you done? We have played our part. We have established bonds of Union these bonds of communications – without which no country can present unity and strength. Once people said that cities of Karnataka are not connected by Railway and that therefore unification of Karnataka is not possible. Today the distant cities of Mysore, Mercara, Mangalore, Hassan, Chickmagalur, Shimoga, Udipi, Coondapoor, Kumta, Karwar and Dharwar etc., are reached and no one feels the want of a Railway train. You are rid of the rigidity of Railway travel and you have all the comforts of a train journey. You have splendid Rest houses and you are served by a staff who are taught to understand that they are paid by your money and therefore are your servants. A planned lavish annual purchase of new fleets assure an efficient and sure service. From one end of Karnataka to the other end you travel quickly and comfortably. Help us to strengthen the communications of Karnataka and you have won one front of the fight for Karnataka Unification.

The Bombay Steam Navigation Co., Ltd.

Short Sea Trips on the West Coast.

The steamers of the B. S. N. Co., Ltd. which ply along the West Coast of India offer a very attractive sea holiday to persons who have only a limited time at their disposal.

Between Bombay and Goa on the Konkan Coast there are nearly a dozen places such as Revdanda, Janjira, Harnai, Dabhol, Jaygad, Ratnagiri, Viziadurg, Devgad, Malvan and Vengurla where one can spend a short holiday amidst scenery not met with elsewhere in India.

Further south on the Kanara Coast are Karwar, Kumta, Honavar, Bhatkal, Malpe and Mangalore each noted for its enjoyable climate and attractive scenery. The famous Gersoppa Falls can be visited within the short space of a day from Kumta. The return trip from Bombay takes barely a week. Calicut and Cochin on the Malabar Coast are easily accessible from Mangalore.

The Company's steamers also serve all important ports between Bombay and Karachi and provide the cheapest means of transport to these places. Karachi is the terminus of the North Western Railway and Imperial Airways; a good road connects the docks with the Aerodrome situated at Drigh Road. Port Okha (for Dwarka a noted place for pilgrimage) Cutch Mandvi (for Cutch State), Veraval, Mangrel and Porebunder are flourishing ports on the way to Karachi. Bhavnagar is an important Maritime centre in the Gulf of Cambay. The famous Jain temples at Palitana may be visited from here.

THIS TIRE REMOVES ALL DOUBT OF SAFETY

Seiberling has struck aside all claims about tire safety—built for the first time by a new exclusive process—tires with NO WEAK SPOTS—tires that are single units of live rubber and live cotton. All tires must be vulcanized. Other manufacturers place the tire in an oven-like mold, subject it to dry, scorching heat for from forty to 120 minutes. Seiberling vulcanizes tires in a gentle steam bath, cures them perfectly, evenly—safeguards against weak spots—builds a tire far safer—a tire which will deliver from 10% to 30% greater mileage. See these new Vapor Cured Seiberlings—they cost no more.

Malaria Control

The Case for "MALARIOL" and "SHELLTOX"

It is generally accepted in these days that the only effective method of controlling this dread disease is by destroying the mosquito larvae in their breeding places, and although various agents are used to this end, experience has shown that the safest, most efficient and most economical is Petroleum Oil if scientifically selected for its film-forming properties on water and its toxic effect.

MALARIOL is the outcome of prolonged and extensive research and is specially designed to meet the above requirements. MALARIOL has been recommended as the most suitable larvicide for rivers, streams, tanks, etc. by the Indian Branch of the Ross Institute, London.

SHELLTOX will rid your house all dangerous insect pests. It is obtainable in two grades—ordinary and scented—and is harmless to clothing and fabrics. Use it in the Shelltox Sprayer.

PREFACE

WE have pleasure to offer to the public our first edition of "TRAVEL IN SOUTH INDIA", which is both a Business Hand-Book and Tourists' Guide. Parts I and II give information, which will be of interest to all businessmen, with a description of Roads and principal Railways connecting important Towns and places of interest in South India. Information is also given about Bus Services, Traffic Rules, Petrol Depots, Hotels, etc., in South India. Part III gives an account of all important towns in South India, with list of Factories, Institutions, Travellers' Bungalows, Business Houses, Banks, etc., which will be of great interest to businessmen and tourists. Parts IV, V, VI and VII are devoted to Indian States and an attempt is made to give an account of administration of each State, general and commercial importance of each town, places of interest, which will be useful and interesting. The Road Map will be a guide to tourists in South India.

We hoped to bring out the book early, but the addition of new features enhanced greatly the size of the book and delayed the issue. No change is made in the price, in spite of proportionate increase in cost of publication.

The undertaking is so vast that in its very nature the compilation cannot claim that fullness or minuteness that would answer specialised needs all at once. But may we assure the public that such is our aim and with the increasing support of the public, we hope to achieve it in subsequent editions.

Our thanks are due in a large measure not only to our various Commercial and Industrial Houses for their liberal support, but also to the patronage and encouragement extended to us by SIR MIRZA M. ISMAIL, the Dewan of Mysore, Rt. Hon. SIR AKBAR HYDARI, President, Hyderabad Executive Council, SIR C. P. RAMASWAMI IYER, Dewan of Travancore and Shrimant SARDAR B. Y. RAJA GHORPADE, President of State Executive Council, Sandur.

We cordially welcome all suggestions to improve the scope and usefulness of the publication.

April 1938.

INTRODUCTION

The area of the Madras Presidency is a little over 91,000,000 acres. The population at the census of 1931 is 47,193,602. It is the southernmost of the Indian Provinces, with a coast line of about 1700 miles. In some parts, mountains range at a level of 4000 to 9000 feet. The drainage is for the most part from west to east. The annual rainfall on the western side might be computed at about 150 inches. The heaviest rain-fall of the southern portion of the eastern part of the Presidency occurs during the North-east monsoon.

The Presidency is made up of 26 Districts, viz., Vizagapatam, East Godavari, West Godavari, Krishna, Guntur, Nellore, Madras, Chingleput, Chittoor, North Arcot, South Arcot, Kurnool, Bellary, Cuddappah, Anantapur, Salem, Coimbatore, The Nilgiris, Tanjore, Trichinopoly, Madura, Ramnad, Tinnevelly, South Canara and Malabar. Arrangement of the Headquarters of each District and their importance is given in the succeeding pages.

Attractions:—South India offers many attractions to the tourists, pleasure seekers, antiquarians and pilgrims and also to the students who pursue industrial enterprises. The country offers unique opportunities to witness enduring monuments of the glory of ancient days.

Seasons:—The season for a pleasant visit to South India is between the 15th of November and the end of March. In May, June and July, the heat is apt to be very severe, the mid-days being generally warm and sometimes rather hot.

Clothing:—The climatic condition of South India do not necessitate the provision of a special outfit. The normal personal equipment in the way of summer or light-weight clothing will suffice. Heavy woollen clothing is unnecessary except in high altitudes. Mosquito curtains are an essential part of common equipment. It is possible to purchase any clothing that may be needed, from any firms in important towns in South India. A moderate supply of linen such as shirts, socks, handkerchiefs, etc., will be necessary as they will become soiled in hot climate. There is no serious winter just as one can experience in the far north of India.

Language:—It is true, a serious difficulty was felt about different languages existing in South India. But these difficulties have disappeared of late. At all hotels and railway stations and in all post and telegraph offices, English is spoken. In all leading business-houses and shops, attendants speak English. In all workshops of Indian art and manufacture, which travellers are likely to visit, a knowledge of English will suffice.

Railways:—The Railways also serve the seaports of Marmagoa on the West Coast and Madras, Musalipatam, Cocanada and Vizagapatam in the east coast. The railway charges are usually As. 2/- per mile for First Class, and half that sum for Second Class and half anna per mile for Third Class. There are special facilities offered by Railways for travellers in these parts in December and January and Return-Tickets at reduced rates are issued during this season.

The important railway systems publish their own guides. There are excellent illustrated guides also. For routes and arrangements of journey it is desirable to obtain a railway guide. The times of trains are liable to alterations, and hence no object will be served if time-table is included in this publication; but one can have a general idea about the hours of journey from one place to another by a reference to Railway timings given in this publication.

Special Tourists' Cars including kitchen, and accommodation for servants are available. There are refreshment rooms at different places that are managed by Railways. Restaurant Cars run on most of the mail trains. In South India, tickets for meals are purchased like Railway tickets and for Indian travellers facilities given are varied and many. Station-Masters are generally obliging and arrange for convenience and accommodation at out-of-the-way stations, if previous notice is given to them.

There are local guides at all important places of interest, who are quite willing to render all necessary assistance to the tourists.

Facilities:—There are a number of facilities for travellers by railways, by bus services and by ferry boats. Almost all the important towns are connected by railways. Carriages are invariably available in almost all important places. Taxi cabs and motors can be hired at very many of these places. The main roads connecting all important places will ordinarily be found good. Of course, there are in some places rivers that are unbridged, but are passable by fords and ferries. All important places are motorable.

Hotels and Rest-Houses:—For the benefit of travellers, a list of hotels in European and Indian style, with approximate charges and other information is embodied in this Book. There are First Class hotels in big places like Madras, Bangalore, Trivandrum, Mangalore, Ooty, Cochin, Kodaikanal, etc., both Indian and European.

Generally these hotels are crowded during the season, but there will be no difficulty if notice is given beforehand about necessary accommodation.

In all important places, there are Dak Bungalows established by Government and the Keeper-in-charge will attend to the conveniences of the travellers. He will also provide meals and attend to the traveller's comforts. There is a fixed fee for the occupation of rooms in Travellers' Bungalows. When visiting small places, it is advisable for travellers to take with them the necessary supplies. At some railway stations sleeping rooms are provided for travellers.

Game and Shooting:—South India affords unique opportunities for sports of all kinds, both big and small game shooting. It is always better to get the advice and assistance of local sportsmen. The Nilgiri Hills, the Malabar forests, the forests of Madura and Tinnevelly Districts and forests in Mysore and Coorg have always been famous for hunting rounds. For persons who are keen on spending holidays with line and rifle, interesting particulars are given in this Book with details about the shooting places.

It is not possible to indicate in detail plans for the tourists, for the reason that it depends much on the taste and interest of individuals. A list of places with their importance—Archaeological, religious, commercial, and sight-seeing—are given with distances and details regarding hotels, banks, etc., to enable travellers to fix up any tour which they may wish to make. Care has also been taken to mention things of importance within the limits of the volume of publication.

The importance of Indian States like Hyderabad, Mysore, Travancore, Cochin, Banganapalli and Sandur, has been mentioned in separate sections and the information has been arranged with a view to benefit the travellers, businessmen, motorists and also sight-seers. It is not possible in a volume like this, to give exhaustive details about travel, but it is expected that readers and travellers will refer to many sources on the subjects which interest them.

Books in the running brooks, sermons in stones and a ride on a hobby horse.

Every man to his hobby and most assuredly it would have been wiser and more in keeping with the facts of every day life if the ancient wiseacre who first devised this slogan of personal privilege and liberty had added 'and every woman to hers'. But then, philosophers of all ages and climes have been notoriously afraid of the fair sex and have been content to confine their remarks to one half of humanity.

Socrates' stoic armour was not proof against Xanthippe's tongue and the great Doctor Johnson was not quite so great when his spouse was by.

But all this is by the way. It is remarkable how very personal people are in their hobbies. Literally what is one man's meat may be another man's poison. Thus my hobby, I am afraid, you may not think very edifying for a philosopher and a sage. Let me confess, once for all that I am a hardened, confirmed, thrice addicted film-fan. Not much harm in that you will say, but please to give up your claim to philosophy and wisdom.

Nothing of the sort. For the film is nothing but the modern adaptation of the drama, and the greatest dramatists have also been the greatest sages.

Or take for instance a film like 'Modern Times' with its convulsive humour, its tender pathos, its powerful picture of the life of the working classes. We are shown how great the desire is in the bosoms of the young men and women of this class to own a home of their own, a dream which in the picture is shattered by the ruthless forces of a capitalistic society.

But is Society always to blame? More often the weakness is in ourselves. We are our worst enemies. The young man who dreams of owning his own home, of building up an independent business, must be willing to forego petty pleasures, to deny himself little indulgences. He must save regularly, continuously, systematically and when he finds he has accumulated a small fund of money which will start him in life he will also find he has acquired something more valuable,—discipline, the will to apply himself to hard work while others are holidaying, the capacity to do without luxuries—in one word, character.

THE CANARA BANK invites all young men and women to undergo a course of discipline and character-building by pledging themselves to a saving programme.

COOLER and Breezier

● A hot, "sticky" day is no time to endure a wheezy fan that lazily wafts a wisp of air your way. You want a jaunty breeze dancing through the room — but too well-behaved to make noise.

We might as well be bold about it, you want a new Westinghouse Power-aire. It is scientifically designed for a better breeze, because its "ULTRA QUIET" blades of Micarta are set on the proper angle to gather up more breeze and throw it farther.

The Power-aire is also quieter, handsomer, thriftier. Available in either desk or floor models.

Don't let hot weather wear you out. Get a Westinghouse lifetime fan at your nearest Westinghouse dealer. Or order one rushed out.

STELLAR FEATURES

- ★ Streamlined for super air-flow. Rich bronze finish.
- ★ New Micarta "ULTRA QUIET" blades — more breeze power.
- ★ Improved Capacitor-motor— more economical. Operates for fraction of cent per hour. 3 Speeds. (12" & 16" models.)
- ★ Completely Enclosed Oscillator — drip proof.
- ★ Desk fan adaptable to wall mounting.

A.C.S.R. All the Way.

More than a cable: A complete service

In sunny or snowbound country, flat or mountainous country, subjected to every kind of atmospheric and weather condition, the gleaming strands of A. C. S. R. span reliably the countryside of the world.

Behind this dependability of A. C. S. R. lies an engineering service which has made the only really exhaustive investigation into the causes of conductor vibration, and it was this service that developed the technique of complete vibration control.

That there are in use over 600,000 miles of A. C. S. R. is partly due to the fact A. C. S. R. is one-third lighter and one-third stronger than other materials commonly used. There is a size and stranding for every transmission requirement. Its corrosion resistance, all-round dependability, strength and low erection costs offer economies for a variety of services.

The length of A. C. S. R. in service would go round the world 25 times.

"325 MESH ALPASTE."

The New Aluminium Paint Pigment.

"325 MESH ALPASTE" adds to appearance and protects:—

All forms of surfaces—metal, wood and concrete—are made durable as well as beautiful by using "325 MESH ALPASTE", the new aluminium paste pigment in paste form.

In comparison with paints prepared with powder, "325 MESH ALPASTE" possesses higher opacity, smoother finish and 10% to 20% greater covering power. It is moreover easier to mix and to handle, since such advantages as loss by blowing about of powder and contamination of surrounding material are entirely eliminated.

These advantages are exclusive to "325 MESH ALPASTE", because it is the only proved paint pigment obtainable in paste form.

To obtain increased covering area, durability and attractive appearance always specify "325 MESH ALPASTE".

In diving, as in photography, correct timing is all-important. The poetry of motion, curiously enough, seems a thousand times more magical when arrested by Agfa. This is because the extra speed and latitude of Agfa brings out all there is in any subject and holds it!

A hard picture to get but Agfa got it!

Only a versatile, sensitive film like Agfa could have captured this delightful picture. Professional photographers know that they cannot do better than get Agfa for action pictures.

Portable Clock Tower

The usual type of Clock Tower is about the least portable thing one could imagine, but a novel tower, standing approximately 35 feet in height, and designed for rapid transit, erection, and dismantling has now been constructed by us.

At many public gatherings, timekeepers are sadly lacking, and this tower-clock is able to supply a real need.

A light steel framework forms the basis of the structure, and on this are fitted sections made up of teak panels, so arranged that they lock into each other.

They are painted to resemble Portland Stone.

The Main Tower rises from a large base, and is surmounted by a bronze cube, on the four sides of which appear the dials.

These sides are separate units which fasten together, and each has a four-foot dial, with Roman Numerals. The dials are glazed with opal glass and arranged for internal illumination.

tion is expressed, the value of the property dealt with as shown in the document shall be taken.

(c) The provisions of sections 5, 6, 20, 21, 23 and 25 of the Indian Stamp Act II of 1899 shall, mutatis mutandis, apply to calculations of value for the purpose of determining the registration fee.

(d) In the case of agreements to render service for hire, or to let movable property for hire, the value of the document shall not be taken at a higher amount than the hire for one year.

(e) In the cases of leases, the value shall be taken—

(1) at the total rent for the whole term when the lease is for one year or less;

(2) at the average annual rent when the lease is for periods exceeding one year; and

(3) at one-fifth of the whole amount of rents payable for the first fifty years when the lease is perpetual. When a fine or premium is paid or is made payable, or money is advanced, that amount, also should be added to the value. When a lessee undertakes to pay assessment, quit-rent, etc., in addition to the rent, the said payment should also be added to the rental value. If the rent is payable in kind and its money value is not specified in the lease, its value shall be taken to be the highest amount which the stamp borne by the document shall suffice to cover. If the document is exempt from stamp duty, the money value of the produce rent shall be calculated at the current market rates.

(f) In the case of deeds of partition, the value of the separated share or shares on which stamp duty is payable shall be taken as the value or consideration.

(g) In the case of all other documents in which neither the consideration for the transaction nor the value of the property affected, is expressed, or in which it is only partially expressed, the value shall be the maximum amount which the stamp borne by the document shall suffice to cover, if the document is one which is liable to stamp duty at ad valorem rates. If the value cannot be determined from the stamp, as for instance, when the deed is not liable to stamp duty, or is liable to duty at a fixed amount irrespective of the value of the transaction, or when the transaction is not susceptible of money valuation, the fee leviable shall be Rs. 5, provided that in cases where the value of only a portion of the property or consideration is given and that value exceeds Rs. 2,000 the fee shall be levied on the value so expressed.

Note.—In the case of documents evidencing petty transactions incapable of valuation, the Inspector-General may, if he considers that the levy of a fee of Rs. 5 would be productive of hardship, authorize registering officers to levy a lower fee, which, however, shall not be less than 4 annas.

(h) The registration fee leviable upon a document purporting to give a collateral or auxiliary or additional or substituted security or security by way of further assurance, where the principal or primary mortgage is proved to the satisfaction of the registering officer to have been duly registered, shall be the same as for the principal or primary mortgage, if the same does not exceed Rs. 2; otherwise it shall be Rs. 2.

(i) The registration fee leviable upon a document acknowledging receipt of payment of consideration on account of any previously registered document and upon any receipt acknowledging payment of a debt or rent due under a previously registered document shall be ad valorem as prescribed in article 1 (a) subject to a maximum of Rs. 2.

(j) When a duplicate or counterpart of a document is presented for registration on the same day as the original document, the registration fee for such duplicate or counterpart shall, if the original document be also registered, be—

(1) for each duplicate a fixed fee of annas eight,

(2) for the counterpart, the rate prescribed for certified copies; provided that if the rate of annas 8 or the copying fee is higher than the ordinary fee for registration, the latter shall be charged.

(k) No registration fee shall be leviable upon a mortgage-deed executed by an officer of Government in Civil or Military employ for securing the repayment of an advance received by him from the Government for the purpose of constructing, purchasing or repairing a dwelling-house or for the purpose of purchasing a motor-car or motor-boat for his own use.

year in the books of which the search is desired to be continued.

(2) Every application for the grant of a certified copy, unless made at the time of registration of a document, shall be considered as an application for search and charged accordingly, provided however, that second search fee shall not be levied for granting copies of entries found in the course of a single or general search for which proper search fees had been levied, if the applicant mentions in the application the number and year of the entry, the names of parties and the nature of the document.

(3) The Inspector-General of Registration may, in his discretion, remit in part the fee leviable under this article when it appears to him that the exaction of full fee would be productive of hardship.

14. Making or granting copies of reasons, entries or documents, for the benefit of any person or for transmission to any office—

(1) In English or in the vernacular of the Registration sub-district—

Every 100 words or portion of 100 words...1 anna.

(2) in any other vernacular—

Every 100 words or portion of 100 words...3 annas.

Note.—In reckoning the number of words, every figure, initial or abbreviation, shall count as a word.

(3) In the case of copies of maps or plans, a reasonable fee to be specially fixed by the Registering Officer.

(a) Provided that when there is present in the Registration Office a clerk conversant with a vernacular language referred to in clause (2) of this rule, the charge for copies of documents in such vernacular language shall be the same as that prescribed by Clause (1).

(b) Provided also that in calculating the charge to be made for copies of entries or documents at the rates prescribed, it shall not be necessary, unless the applicant challenges the accuracy of the charge made, actually to count the number of words in such entries or documents, but the charge may be made on a reasonable estimate framed by the Registering Officer of the number of words which the entries or documents are considered to contain.

Note.—Government officers who may require to search the registers or to take copies of entries for bona fide public purposes shall be permitted to do so without payment of any fee.

(4) When a copy is printed at the expense of an applicant or when an applicant presents a printed copy of a document already registered and applies for a certified copy of the same, only the portion added in manuscript in the certified copy shall be charged for, at the ordinary rates for copying, and in addition, a fixed fee of 2 annas shall be levied for comparing and certifying each copy.

SURVEYOR'S LEVEL AS DESCRIBED Rs. 510 NETT.

SURVEYOR'S LEVEL

S. 300

By Cooke Troughton & Simms Ltd.,

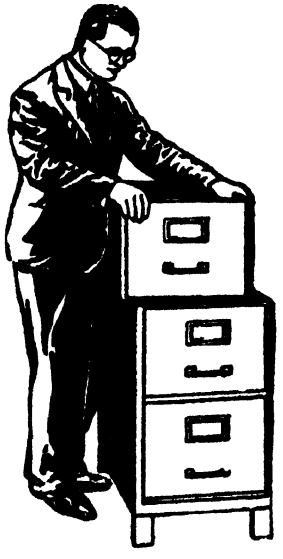

LONDON & YORK,

Telescope. Internal focussing 1·5 in. aperture, 8·2 in. equivalent focal length. Glass diaphragm with stadia 1:100. Screw focussing inverting eye-piece. ×25, with diopter scale.

LONG SPIRIT LEVEL read by prismatic reader.

Circle. In view of the increasing demand for horizontal circles on levels, provision is made for fitting such if required. The graduations are on a disc of glass silvered on the underside, affixed to a metal mount and read with a microscope having a graticule micrometer. The illumination, on account of the high reflecting power of the circle, is exceptionally clear and bright. The circle is subdivided into degrees, numbered every two degrees, and the graticule is graduated to 10 mins. It is possible to read by interpolation to the nearest 2 mins.

AIR ROUTES.

1. Indian National Airways, Ltd., with headquarters at Delhi commenced operating in 1933. Regular services were established between Calcutta and Rangoon, Calcutta and Chittagong and a daily service between Calcutta and Decca. These services were closed owing to lack of support in 1935. In December 1934 Indian National Airways commenced operating a weekly service

G3

MADE IN INDIA FOR INDIA'S SPECIAL CONDITIONS

The finest Indian rubber—the most skilful Indian craftsmanship—the latest production methods—all these are combined to produce the new Indian-made Goodyear G3. And most important of all—local production now makes it possible to always give you fresh tyres built for India's special conditions of service.

between Karachi and Lahore. On the 1st of January 1935 this service was duplicated to connect with the duplicated Imperial Airways' Services at Karachi and the route now runs from Karachi via Jacobabad, Multan to Lahore. Northbound aircraft leave Karachi each Sunday and Thursday and Southbound aircraft arrive Karachi each Sunday and Wednesday. The tourist can also travel by Imperial Airways which runs a weekly service between Croydon, England and Delhi via Karachi, India.

2. Tata Sons Limited (Aviation Department) of Bombay commenced operating a weekly airmail service in 1932 connecting at Karachi with Imperial Airways. The route is from Karachi via Ahmedabad, Bombay, Hyderabad (Deccan) to Madras. During the monsoon June to September this service is operated via Poona instead of via Bombay owing to the fact that Juhu Aerodrome becomes unserviceable during the wet weather. From the 1st of January 1935 this service was duplicated and now runs bi-weekly. In 1935 Tata Sons Ltd., established a weekly service from Bombay via Goa and Cannanore to Trivandrum. This service operates during the six winter months every year and closes during the monsoon. Both services carry mails and passengers.

The aeroplane of the Karachi-Madras service of Tata Sons Limited calls at Poona instead of at Bombay during the monsoon when the timetable of the Karachi-Madras section is slightly changed.

The Karachi-Madras Service is diverted (via) Hyderabad, Deccan, from January 1935. There is also service between Karachi and Rangoon. Arrangements in connection with the inauguration of the Madras Colombo Air Mail Service are being pushed through rapidly and it is believed they will be completed early and it would be about the second week of February that a regular service will commence.

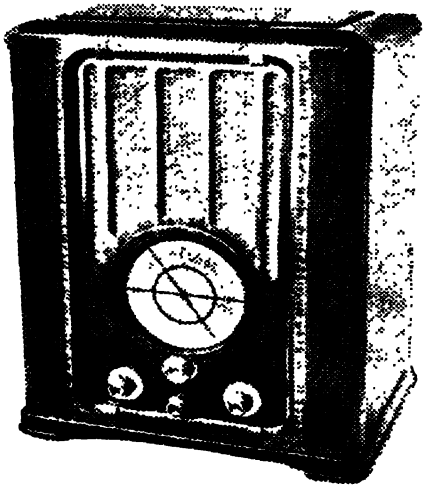

ROUTES FOR MOTOR VEHICLES.

There are excellent motorable roads connecting the trunk roads between Madras and Calcutta and Madras and Bombay. Description of these routes together with Travellers' Bungalows are given below for the benefit of motorists. An extensive system of motor busses link up all important towns and railway stations in South India.

Pilot Radio

IS THE BEST THAT MONEY CAN BUY!

Pay what you will for a radio; but, for reception, clarity of tone and efficiency, there is not a Set throughout the whole of India which is as popular as the "PILOT". The "PILOT" incorporates all modern radio achievements.

J. E. Strand, Esq., I/C, Risalpur Power House, Risalpur (N.W.F.P.), writes: "I am more than pleased with my PILOT Radio Set, and after hearing other Sets in my district (as I have to inspect all wireless installations in the district), I find that for clarity of tone, purity of reception and undistorted reproduction, the PILOT is unequalled".

BEZWADA

It is on the main line between Madras and Calcutta. It is the terminus of the Nizam's State Railway. It is an important trading place on the crossing of the Kistna River. The place was a principal religious centre in the Buddistic period and as such it was visited by Hien Tsang in 637 A. D. There are some old shrines with inscripions in the town. The caves of Bezwada though unimportant are hollowed out of the eastern side of the great hill at the foot of which the town stands. At the museum there is a collosal figure of Buddha in black granite. The river Kistna is here crossed by a great Dam or Anicut, 3,715 feet long and 20 feet above the bed level.

CALICUT

It has a population of 99,273. It is a principal town of Malabar. It is a port of call for all cargo steamers with two piers having a coast line of 7 miles. The Portugese under Vasco-De-Gama first landed on 20th May 1498, after a voyage of ten months and two days from Lisban. Calicut, at that time was under the suzerainty of the Vijayanagar. An English factory was established at Calicut in 1616. In 1789 Tippo overran the country and the town was entirely demolished. In 1792 the English took back the whole territory and gave political pension to Zamorin who has even now vast private estates with no territorial control.

The town is rendered picturesque by fine trees and groves of cocoanut palms. It has a brisk trade in coir, copra, oil, rice, tea and groundnut. It is the outlet for the tea from the Wynaad estates. The chief local industries are timber (saw mills), fish curing, weaving, dyeing, oil mills and soap making.

CALICUT

There is a Municipal Travellers' Bungalow and a Choultry. Interesting places of visit are old Zamorin's Palace, the Temple in Varakkal, the Roman Catholic Cathedral and the Old German Basel Mission Church. The Basel Mission has a large textile factory in Calicut as well as a College and a Hospital. To the south of the town is the Moplah's quarters with a number of mosques, to the north, there are barracks for the detachment of British troops. To the centre is the Eurasian quarter with a Roman Catholic Church, a large Tank and an English Church. There is good hotel and a club. Boating in the yacht can be had. There is also a golf course.

CHINGLEPUT

It is the chief town of the district of the same name and has a population of 14,358. It is surrounded by hills none of them exceeding 500 feet in height. There is a good Travellers' Bungalow close to the Railway Station which is fully furnished. There is also a commodious Choultry near the station. There is a Fort on the margin of an irrigation tank. It is of Vijayanagar origin built in 16th century.

There is a temple dedicated to Anjaneya. It is a centre also of the Tamil Mission of the Free Chruch of Scotland. One mile from Chingleput are the Pallava Caves of Vallam, with archaic inscriptions.

From Chingleput it is 19 miles by motor car or motor bus to Mamallapuram (Mahabalipuram) or the Seven Pagodas, one of the most remarkable places in India. Mahabalipuram is famous for its rock-cut caves. These are Monolithis temples, Dravidian in character and anterior to the 7th century B.C. No traveller should fail to visit these works of the sculptor's art. There is a good road through Tirukalikunram to the Buckingham Canal, which is crossed by ferry boat.

There are two fine temples one on the hill and one in the Village at Tirukalikunram. The temple in the village is full of inscriptions. Tirukalikunram is otherwise called the sacred hill of the Kites or Pakshitirtham. It is a place of pilgrimage and hundreds of pilgrims flock everyday to see two sacred kites sumptuously fed on the top of the hill, from the hands of a priest, at the temple's expense.

Three miles south of Mahabalipuram is Sadras an old Dutch Settlement which was once famous for its printed cottons. The ruined Dutch Fort and the Dutch cemetery are the principle objects of interest.

CHIDAMBARAM

It is situated on the main South Indian Railway Line 154 miles from Madras. It is a city of great antiquity famous for the oldest Temple of Sri Nataraja which attracts large crowds of pilgrims throughout the year. The temple and its portions are gems of Dravidian art. The principal temple is sacred to Siva and is affirmed to have been erected by Hiranyaverna Chakravarthi (Golden coloured Emperor) who is stated to have been a leper and to have originally borne the name of Swetaverma on account of his leprosy. On his pilgrimage tour he is stated to have visited Chidambaram and recovered from leprosy after taking a bath in the tank situated in the centre of the temple and thereupon improved the temple. Near the tank is the hall of thousand pillars which is 340 feet long and 190 feet. broad. The Temple of Parvathi known as Sivakamiamman, the wife of Siva is remarkable for its porch which has a singular elegance. Adjoining this temple is the temple of Subramanya, the enclosure of which is 250 feet by 305 feet. Two important festivals attract over 40,000 pilgrims every year. Arudra Darsanam which is otherwise known Chidambara Darsanam takes place in the month of Margali (December-January) and the popular belief is that if any one has the privilege of having the Darsanam of Sri Nataraja, he will not be re-born.

There are choultries and rest houses in the town for the use of pilgrims. There are also very good hotels in the town. The temple is half a mile from the Railway Station and Jutkas are always available.

Of late the town has assumed considerable importance because of the residential University known as Annamalai University named after a philanthropist, Rajah Sir Annamalai Chettiar. The College Buildings are located at Annamalai Nagar a suburb of the Town 5 furlongs from the Station. There are also Colleges of Music, Sanskrit and Tamil, besides Art Colleges. Oriental Training College also forms part of the University.

MANGALORE

The headquarters of the District of the same name having a population of 66,756. The town is separated from the sea by a backwater formed by a junction of two streams. From the Hill on which the old Light House stands a remarkable view of the Coast and the Ghats can be had. From ancient time it has been a place of very great importance. In the 14th century Ibn Batuta mentions that 4,000 Mahomadan merchants had residence there. It was the principal Sea-port in the Dominions of Hyderali. Both Hyder and Tippu had their ships of war built at Mangalore of the fine teak produced on the slopes of the Ghats. Considerable coasting trade is carried on.

There is a Travellers' Bungalow in the town. There are Post Office and Telegraph Office and Hospitals and Chatrams. The Swiss Mission at Mangalore is worthy of a visit. Various industries such as printing, book binding, carpentry, tile manufacture, etc., are taught. There are two colleges affiliated to the Madras University—the Government College and the Jesuit College of St. Aloysius.

MANGALORE

Coffee and areca are the chief export. The place is famous for pepper, ginger, cinnamon and nuts. There are interesting Jain buildings Karakal and Venur.

The coasting steamers of the British India Steam Navigation Co. and Bombay Steam Navigation Co. call at Mangalore at fortnightly intervals.

Udipi and Subramanyam, both important places of pilgrimage, are reached by motor buses.

THE CANARA BANK, LIMITED

Started over thirty years ago. The Canara Bank has progressed steadily during all these years.

Its Directorate has always drawn men of sterling character and good business acumen.

It has a network of over thirty-five branches but it has not yet shown any branch preliminary expenses or expenses of new issues on its balance-sheet but has followed the very good practice of writing them off from current year's profits.

Its overhead is very low and it has consistently followed the policy of passing the benefit of this to depositors.

Its service to customers is one of the best. It gives them those minor attentions; those personal courtesies which make you feel that you are not merely one of its numerous customers but a valued friend and patron.

One of its best assets is the ever growing circle of constituents and well-wishers whose recommendations bring other friends. We have it on good authority that this Bank is always making special efforts to deserve the good-will of its patrons.

MADURA

Headquarters of the district of the same name with a population of 1,81,884. It was the Capital of the Old Pandiyan Kings. It is the second largest town in the Madras Presidency. The chief attraction is its temples which are hundreds of years old. The temple of Meenakshi which no tourist should miss is the most interesting of all the Hindu shrines of India. The temple is massive in structure and contains specimens of Hindu architecture. The entrance to the temple is through a painted corridor about 30 feet long which is called the Hall of the Eight Saktis. The eight statues of that Goddess form the supports of the roofing on either side. On the right of the gate is the image of Subramanya. On the left is the image of Ganesa. The most beautiful portions of the temple, as it stands to-day, were built by Tirumalnaik about 1623-1653. There is a tank called Teppakulam near the third corridor, under a simple Gopuram. Another striking feature of the temple is its Hall of Thousand Pillars said to have been built about 1560 A.D.

About three-quarter of a mile from the temple is Palace of Tirumalnaik, which is now utilised for public offices and is one of the finest buildings in the South.

Three miles from the town is another Teppakulam or the sacred Tank with a pretty temple in the middle. Tirumala or the Vasanta Mandapam is a unique piece of masonry with pillars and walls of enormous strength and solidarity.

There is a choultry under Municipal control and another Mangamma's Chattaram under the control of the District Board available for pilgrims. The South Indian Railway administration maintains a set of well furnished retiring rooms, European Refreshment Rooms and Indian Refreshment Rooms at the Station. There is a good Travellers' Bungalow fitted with electric lights and well furnished. Motor cars and jutkas are available for hire at the Railway Station.

About 12 miles from Madura is Alagar Koil where there is a well built Vaishnavaite Temple.

There are several Indian Hotels in the town. Bus Service can be had between Railway Station and Mettur. Lakes and channels abound with fish.

METTUR DAM

The following particulars about the Reservoir may be of interest :—

IRRIGATION PROJECT

The famous irrigation project at this site consists of a masonry dam at Mettur on the Cauvery, 180 miles south-west of Madras, a new canal 106 miles long, taking off from the right bank of the river at the Grand Anicut (after which it is named), about 130 miles below the dam, and an extension of the Vadavar Canal with the necessary distributaries.

The outstanding feature of the scheme, outstanding in more senses than one, is the Mettur Dam, a truly titanic structure, of the immensity of which words can hardly give an adequate idea. It is 5,300 feet (i.e., more than a mile) long, 214 feet high from the lowest point in the foundations, 171 feet wide at the base, tapering to 20½ feet at the top, and contains over 54½ million cubic feet of masonry, weighing 3,640,000 tons, the maximum stress at foundation level being about 13½ tons per square foot. The Dam ranks easily the first among those in the British Empire, the one at Assouan, of which so much is heard, being only a third of its size. Indeed, it is believed to be the second or third largest dam in the world. No less than 206,000 tons of cement alone went to its construction and the dam constituted by far the largest item of expenditure in the project, having cost Rs. 480 lakhs or roughly three-fourths of the total expenditure.

The reservoir formed by the dam is 33 miles long, 4½ miles wide at its widest point, and nearly 60 square miles in extent, with a shoreline of 180 miles and a maximum capacity of 95,660 million cubic feet, though its effective capacity is 2,160 million cubic feet less. But even this is 2½ times the quantity impounded at Assouan. This vast volume of water exerts an enormous pressure on the face of the dam—six tons on each square foot to be precise. It is no wonder, therefore, that it was thought that this gigantic structure and the vast expanse of water which it was impounding were causing quakes in the locality.

The Dam :—Like all modern structures of its kind, the dam is pierced by vertical shafts leading into a drainage and inspection gallery over 4,000 feet long. This is lit by electricity and is intended to carry off harmlessly any water that may leak into the dam itself. To the credit of the engineers, such leakage has always been insignificant and is decreasing. Another interesting feature is that, to meet expansion and contraction of the masonry due to changes of temperature, the dam has been built in sections of approximately 126½ feet each. These just touch each other normally and are connected together by U-shaped copper strips running the entire height of the dam with the closed end inside the water. When the fall of temperature causes the masonry to shrink and so increases the gap between the sections, the end of the copper strips are drawn apart. With a rise of temperature of course the process is reversed and the ends of the U are pressed closer together.

The dam is provided with four sets of sluices. The first of these, about 15 feet above the original bed of the river, consists of four pipes, each 8½ feet in diameter and intended for the generation of hydro-electric power. It is estimated that they could develop about 49,000 horse-power of electrical energy. Thirty feet above these and to the right are five sluices to provide water for irrigation when the level of the lake is low. Fifty feet higher and further to the right come eight high level sluices for normal working; and 50 feet higher still and to the left of the lowest set of sluices are placed 16 surplus sluices, designed, as their name implies, to carry off whatever water is not required for storage. All the sluice gates are operated by electricity, though they can be opened and closed by hand. When all the sluices are fully open, the sluices allow 550,000 cubic feet of water a second to pass through, and it is believed that the dam, as built, will be able to cope with the largest flood that can possibly occur.

The project is also noteworthy for the extent and modernity of the machinery used in its construction. This machinery included two gigantic concreting towers, each 306 feet high and weighing 1,400 tons, which at the time were the largest in the world. Together they could mix and lay 3,000 tons of concrete a day, and it is largely due to them and the other modern machinery and methods employed that construction progressed as rapidly as it did. Electric current for lighting and for driving machinery used in the construction of the dam was supplied by the Mysore Government from Sivasamudram, 65 miles away, and the maximum monthly consumption 450,000 units.

Economic Importance:—"But vast as its engineering details are, its economic importance is no less great. The works in existence, before the Mettur Dam was built, irrigated slightly over a million acres, with water obtained from the Upper Anicut at the head of the Srirangam Island. The present project, in the words of an official report has two main objects in view: "Firstly to improve the existing fluctuating water-supplies for the Cauvery Delta irrigation of over a million acres; Secondly to extend irrigation to a new area of 301,000 acres, which will, it is estimated, add 150,000 tons of rice to the food supply of the country." In addition, it will increase the double cropped area by 175,000 acres.

"For its economic prosperity this region has in fact been dependent, even from the remote past, upon a plentiful supply of water, and this supply had had to be obtained because of its natural situation, from extensive irrigation works. In fact, the present project carries down to the modern times a work which had its origin, so to say, in the historic past.

"Rising in the Western Ghats near Mercara in Coorg, the Cauvery runs a single course till it reaches the head of its delta. Here it bifurcates into two branches, the northern called "Coleroon," which is the deeper channel and used to carry the bulk of the flood water to the sea, and the southern, which continues to bear the name of Cauvery and, with its numerous branches, forms the chief means of irrigating the deltaic tract. This, a vast alluvial rice field dotted with clumps of cocoanut and other fruit trees, lies in the north of the Tanjore District: but in the south is a more elevated region, healthy, very largely alluvial and fertile, but owing to its altitude, not served by the river, which was therefore little cultivated formerly. It is this region that the project is to benefit mainly.

Historic Grand Anicut:—"Probably as far back as the second century of our era, the ancient inhabitants of the locality threw a solid dam, the Grand Anicut, across the channel joining the Coleroon and the Cauvery at the tail of the island of Srirangam (which keeps the two channels apart for some 20 miles) to prevent the Cauvery waters flowing back into the Coleroon. This dam and some of the subsidiary works connected with it are still in use, after some modification. But the old system possessed no means of controlling the quantity of water reaching the fields and also had other defects. Moreover it had fallen into disrepair for historical reasons, and in consequence cultivation had diminished seriously".

"Early British engineers improved matters to some extent, but not very materially until 1836, when the Upper Anicut was built across the Coleroon at the head of Srirangam Island. This however, resulted in the supply in the Cauvery becoming excessive during the floods, and to remedy this defect a low dam was constructed across the head of the Cauvery in 1845. Other works had also been constructed from time to time, but the position remained unsatisfactory".

"The real difficulty arose from climatic rather from riverine or topographical conditions. The monsoon rains were uncertain and when they failed the rice crop which depended on them failed also and much distress was caused. The problem to be solved, therefore, was the provision of adequate supply of water throughout the year, so as to render cultivation independent of the rains. The correct solution, a storage reservoir in Cauvery, was propounded by Sir Arthur Cotton, the father of British Irrigation works in India, exactly a hundred years before the Mettur Dam came into being. From that time on various schemes, based on his idea, were prepared or examined, only to be postponed or dropped for one reason or another. From the last decade of the 19th century, however, the matter was pursued more seriously and vigorously until it reached fruition in the Cauvery-Mettur Project, initiated in 1925 but not yet quite completed, though it has been functioning for some years.

The future:—In 1935-36, the latest year for which figures are available. It actually irrigated 125,605 acres and earned a net revenue of nearly Rs. 11.7 lakhs. But the project is still in its infancy, and should not be judged on the basis of these figures. The actual cost on the project is likely to be about Rs. 680 lakhs, and when fully developed the system is expected to give a net return of Rs. 57 lakhs a year, that is a little short of 7 per cent on the outlay, at the end of ten years after opening.

There is also its development as a hydro-electric project which is now in hand and will, when completed, increase its utility enormously, and its earnings very substantially. One turbogenerator is already under commission and another is under test.

Will the one-time obscure little village of Mettur become the Jamshedpur of South India. The future alone can tell. But the possibilities are there."

Rameswaram is visited by Hindu pilgrims from all parts of India. The temple which is situated within a mile from the Railway Station is one of the most venerated Hindu shrines in India. According to tradition it has been founded by Rama himself and hence has been the object of pilgrimage from all parts of India. The passage from the main land was under the control of Rajas of Ramnad as a result of which the Rajas owe their hereditary title of Setupathi or the Lord of the Causeway. The temple is a grand example of the Dravidian style of architecture. It consists of three Prakarams and the glory of the temple is in its corridors which extend nearly to 4,000 feet in length, breadth varying from 17 to 21 feet. The paintings on the ceilings are fading away. The temple and its establishment is maintained by the revenue of 72 villages which yield an annual income of about a lakh and a quarter.

The Lingam which is supposed to have been placed here by Rama is daily washed with the Ganges water. There are many choultries where Hindu pilgrims are fed and accommodated free. Guides always wait on the pilgrims at the station. The European tourist may stay at Mandapam where there is a rest house and take excursions to this place.

RAMNAD

It is the Residence of the Raja It has a Municipality with a population of 16,817. It is the centre of the wealthy trading community of Nattukotai Chetties.

At a distance of five miles south of the Railway Station, there is an ancient temple named Tirupullani called otherwise Dharbhasayanam where Brahma Utsavam festival is held in July and August and a feast in April and May. Pilgrims resort to sea bathing three miles south of the temple.

Ten miles to the north of the station is Devipatnam otherwise called Navapashanam and is visited by pilgrims on their way to Rameswaram.

TRICHINOPOLY

It is 248 miles from Madras having a population of 1,41,640. It stands second to Madras in importance. It is the headquarters of the S. I. Railway. The famous rock towards the north of the town the summit of which is 260 feet above the main street is visible for some miles before reaching the town. There is a small temple at the top and at the foot of the rock is a Teppakulam with stone steps and a Mandapam in the centre.

On the south, the most conspicuous object is the Golden Rock about 100 feet high. It is so named because of the fact that gold coins were found here, though a syndicate was formed years ago to discover further burried treasure only to meet with disappointment.

The most important local industries are weaving, tobacco and cigar making. The cigars of this place are well-known though cherroots come from Dindigul.

Close to the Trichinopoly Junction Station is the Church of St. John, in which are interred the remains of Bishop Heber. The important places of interest in the town are St. Joseph College, Bishop Heber's College and the National College. There are 12 retiring rooms at the Junction Station. The European Refreshment rooms are managed by Messrs. Spencer & Co., and the Indian Refreshment Rooms by the Railway Co. At Golden Rock the Central Workshops have been built by the South Indian Railway Co. at a cost of several lakhs of Rupees and about 5,000 skilled workmen are employed. A colony has been raised around the workshop to house its labourers.

Tirupati is celebrated for its hill temple which is held in the highest reverence by a vast population of Hindus all over India. The situation of Tirupati is exceedingly picturesque. HYDERABAD STATE

GENERAL

THE NIZAM'S DOMINIONS including Berar comprise an area of about 100,000 square miles. They are situated in the central portion of the plateau of Deccan and have their boundaries well-defined by large rivers like Godavari, Kistna and Tungabhadra. The whole of this territory is a plateau having an average elevation of about 2,500 feet above the sea level. The State is divided into two large administrative circles, the Telingana and the Mahratwara, corresponding to the natural division of the North and the West with its trappean rocks and the granite and limestone region of the South and the East.

Of the total population of more than 14,000,000, 7,500,000 live in Telingana and about 6,800,000 in the Mahratwara. In point of density of population, Hyderabad is on the same level as the Bombay Presidency. Besides the above, there are 3,441,838 inhabitants in Berar which is also a part of His Exalted Highness the Nizam's Dominions, though for the sake of convenience it is administered together with Central Province.

As H. E. H. the Nizam's Dominions lie almost in the centre of India, it is inevitable that here should be found representatives of almost all the races which go to form the Indian people. Besides the Southern Telugu and Canarese and the Prakritic Mahratti and Urdu, which are the chief mulki languages of the Dominions, the languages so much geographically apart as Tamil and Panjabi, Malayalam and Rajasthani and even Arabic and Persian are also spoken in the large Cities of the State. It is only natural that the population of the provinces which are adjacent to the Dominions should be represented here to a greater extent than those more distant. Thus in 1931 the residents of the Dominions from Madras numbered 1,320,000, those from Bombay 68,000, from the Central Provinces 14,000, from the United Provinces 8,000 and from the Panjab 3,000. Moreover we find quite a large number of people descended directly from the Persians, Arabs and Turcomans who came over to the Deccan in the days of the Bahmanis, the Adil Shahis and the Qutb Shahis, or from those who came here from Delhi and the North along with the founder of the dynasty, the great Nizam-ul-Mulk Asaf Jah I.

Similarly, practically every religion found in India is represented here. Apart from the Hindus and the Muslims, who form the major part of the population, it is interesting to note that the number of Parsis (nearly 2,000) in the State exceeds their number in any province of British India except their 'homeland' Bombay, while, as Nander is the burial place of the last Guru of the Sikhs, the Dominions are a kind of second home of the followers of Guru Nanak. It has been the traditional policy of the Muslim rulers of the Deccan for centuries past that their Governments should be thoroughly impartial in their dealings with votaries of different faiths. This tradition of impartiality and toleration has been followed by the rulers of the Asaf Jahi dynasty from the time of its great founder right up to the reign of its present illustrious and distinguished representative, His Exalted Highness Sultanul Ulm Asaf Jah VII, the present sovereign of these Dominions, and few parts of India can show such harmony and fellow-feeling as exist between the Hindu, Muslim, Parsi, Sikh and Christian subjects of His Exalted Highness.

The forests of the Dominions spread over 9,000 square miles. The State is also rich in mineral resources. Among these, coal is, of course, of great economic value, with mines at Singareni, Sasti and Paoni. Gold used to be worked in the Raichur Doab but it has ceased to be profitable. Deposits of iron-ore of varying quality are widely distributed over the laterite and the granite tracts and in the sandstone formations of the Gondwana valley. Among other minerals may be mentioned mica, corundum and garnets in Warangal District and graphite in Karimnagar District. Limestone is extensively quarried at Shahabad near Gulbarga and is widely used for flooring purposes and also as the base of the now famous Shahabad cement. Quite recently marble rock has been discovered in Warangal District and is being actively worked by a company. It is a matter for regret that the country which was once known the world over as the home of the diamonds has few diamond layers left, as the chief diamond bearing area was situated in what are now called the Ceded Districts, while it has not proved profitable to work the small diamond layers, still found round about Partyal near under black cotton soil have proved too small to be of much value.

The main wealth consists of agricultural products like cotton and jawar, rice and oil seeds. There is abundance of castor seed cultivation representing 60 per cent of the world's total output.

The climate may be said to be pleasant and agreeable during the greater part of the year, being a mean between extreme heat and cold. There are three marked seasons, the winter from the beginning of October to the end of January, summer from February to June and rains from June to September. The mean temperature of the Dominions is about 89 degrees, the hottest parts being situated in the south-east and the coldest in the north-west. The climate of Mahratwadi is generally hot and dry from March to the end of May and temperate during the rest of the year, while that of Telingana is hot and damp from March to the end of the September and temperate during the remaining months. The country being hilly, the hot winds are not felt so keenly as in places where there are great sandy arid plains. South-west monsoon sets in June and continues till October, the average rainfall being 30 inches. The rainfall during the south-west monsoon is scanty and is of no benefit to the country, the average being 4 to 8 inches.

The two great rivers which fertilise the country are the Godavari and Kistna with their tributaries.

The State of Hyderabad forms a very interesting part of the Indian sub-continent. Owing to its very position the land is the meeting place of practically all the races, languages, religions and cultures of India and can thus form an interesting subject of study as a synthesis of all aspects of Indian culture or as a specimen of a buffer state of the same type as Belgium, Switzerland or Afghanistan. Moreover, the Dominions are of great interest from historical and administrative points of view, and with a net-work of railways and good roads which connect the State with the provinces of British India, they can well serve as a rendezvous to tourists, historians, scientists and students of human institutions.

Administration:—The Nizam exercises full sovereignty over his dominions, grants titles and has the power of life and death over his subjects. The present ruler, Nawab Sir Mir Osman Ali Khan Bahadur, G.C.S.I., G.C.B., of Asafia Dynasty, succeeded his father in 1911. After personal touch with the Governmental work for several years, His Exalted Highness promulgated the 1919 Constitution, which forms the basis of the present administrative arrangements. There is an Executive Council with a President, with portfolios distributed among them, and with powers distinctly defined as among individual members, the President-in-Council and His Exalted Highness the Nizam. There is a Legislative Council comprising 30 members, of whom eight are non-officials dealing with bills, Governmental as well as private. Very recently a Reform Enquiry Committee has been formed with a view to examine the question of expansion of the Legislative Council with suitable representatives of associations and individuals. There is also a judiciary, completely separated from the Executive as far back as 1921, presided over by a High Court under a special charter. A Judicial Committee working as the final Appellate Court, which corresponds to the Privy Council in England hears appeals against the decisions of the High Court.

The State is governed as a centralised unit, though for purposes of civil administrations it is divided into four provinces called Subhas, 16 Districts and 104 Divisions, which are locally known as Taluqs. The administration is carried on by a regular system of Departments on lines similar to those followed in British India. Of the total area, 55 per cent of the land is administered by Government and is known as Diwani or the ministerial portion, 45 per cent consist of Crown lands or Feudal Chiefs which include Jahgir, gifts, etc.

The State maintains its own currency which consists of gold, silver, nickel and copper coins and a large note issue. The Rupee known as Osmania Sicca, exchanges with the British Indian Rupee at an average ratio of 117 to 100. There is a Postal Service and stamps for internal purposes. The Nizam maintains his own army. It consists of 18,418 troops of all ranks of which 11,211 are irregular and 7,207 are regular troops, which includes 2 Battalions of Imperial Service, 1,052 strong.

By the 1936 Agreement, Berar is administered as a part of the Province of the Central Provinces and Berar, full sovereign rights of His Exalted Highness the Nizam being recognised and 25 lakhs of Rupees being paid as rent to the State Coffers as before. The Victory in the Great War won for the "faithful ally" of the British Government the special title of "HIS EXALTED HIGHNESS" and the 1936 Agreement brought the new distinction of "HIS HIGHNESS THE PRINCE OF BERAR" to the Heir-apparent to the State.

Finance:—The Hyderabad State is by far the wealthiest of the Indian States. It has a revenue of about 8½ crores in its own currency. Its finances are now in a prosperous condition. Thanks to the genius and enterprise of Rt. Hon'ble Sir Akbar Hydari, now the President of the State Executive Council. A reserve of 20 crores has been built out of its annual surplus and is used partly as a sinking fund for the redemption of debts and partly for the development of resources of the State. The average revenue from all sources is about 873·90 lakhs and the expenditure is about 857 lakhs, inclusive of sums set apart for development and famine insurance. The land revenue brings about 3·25 crores. Other main items of receipts are—Excise which fetches about 180 lakhs and Customs which yields more than a crore. The customs revenue is derived from ad valorem duty of not more than 5 per cent on all imports and exports. The receipts from Railways amount to Rs. 108 lakhs and Berar rent 29 lakhs.

Under the Departmentalisation Scheme which has been one of Sir Akbar Hydari's chief contributions to the financial stability of the State, each department gets a specified amount under a triennial contract, at the end of which half the savings remain to the credit of the Departments and the other half lapses to the General Revenues, but is again utilised for works of public welfare. The Industrial Fund which amounts to a crore of rupees has been created for advancing the industrial development of the State.

It is used for subsidising large-scale industries like the Shahabad Cement Company and the Nizam Sagar Sugar Factory and the interest accruing from these investments is used for helping small-scale industries and students desirous of obtaining industrial education.

Education and Osmania University:—The total average expenditure is about one crore and seven lakhs, the number of schools and scholars being 4,336 and 2,90,182. The Osmania University and its Bureau of Translation have revolutionized the collegiate education. The spacious and imposing buildings of the University are rapidly becoming models of the academic and residential institutions of Cambridge, Oxford and the like.

Osmania University:—The Osmania University which was established by a Royal Charter in 1918 is the first attempt in India to impart University Education through an Indian language, while retaining English as a compulsory subject of study. For over half a century, higher education in the State was controlled by the Madras University, but the results were so discouraging that in 1917, the Rt. Hon'ble Sir Akbar Hydari, Kt., P.C., LL.D., then Secretary to His Exalted Highness' Government in the Educational Department, submitted a memorandum to His Exalted Highness in which after surveying the existing conditions and discussing the disadvantages of imparting knowledge through the medium of a foreign language, he recommended the inauguration of a University which should be both an examining and a teaching body and in addition to this should undertake to compile and translate books, using Urdu as the medium of instruction and examination, as it is the official language of the State and is widely understood and spoken not only in the Dominions but throughout India. The standard of English which is compulsory is nearly the same as in other Universities. The alumni of the University are thus enabled to keep in touch with the currents of thought in the English speaking world as they can freely consult English books on the subjects they study.

Constitution of the University:—The Council which is the governing body of the University is entrusted with general supervision and control over the constituent colleges. It consists of His Excellency the President of the State Executive Council, the Hon'ble Members of the Council-in-charge of Educational, Finance and Ecclesiastical Departments, the Secretary to Government, Educational Department, the Director of Public Instruction, the Principals of constituent colleges and five members nominated by Government. His Exalted Highness is the Patron of the University, H. E. The President is the Ex-officio Chancellor and the Educational Member the Ex-officio Vice-Chancellor. A paid Pro-Vice-Chancellor is in administrative control of all institutions under the University.

The Senate which is supreme in academic matters consist of not less than 40 and not more than 70 members. The Syndicate is merely the Business Committee of the Senate and consists of not less than five and not more than seven members of the Senate. The Faculties which consist mainly of the Professorial Staff are the Academical Committees of the Senate entrusted with the framing of the curricula and arranging for examinations and other cognate matters.

Faculties:—The University is of the unitary teaching type, providing instruction in all subjects of University study. The Faculties of Theology, Arts, Science, Law and Engineering are located in the University area at Adikmet, while the Medical and Training Colleges still remain in the City owing to the absence of the necessary facilities at Adikmet. The Women's College which has Intermediate, B.A. and B.Sc. classes is also located in the City owing to its close relations with the school. In the course of time these institutions will also be transferred to Adikmet. The University has at present Intermediate classes also and there are four Intermediate Colleges at Aurangabad, Warangal, Gulbarga and in the City of Hyderabad, but His Exalted Highness' Government have under their consideration a scheme of educational reorganisation, under which it is proposed that the University course for the B.A. degree should be of three years.

The University commenced its tutorial work with the opening of the Osmania University College in August 1919. A beginning was made with the first year class and higher classes were added year by year till the first B.A. Examination was held in 1923 and the first M.A. and LL.B. Examination in 1925. The University now confers the following degrees:—

Faculties of Arts and Theology		B.A. & M.A.
Faculty of	Science	„ B.Sc. & Mc.
„	Law	„ LL.B.
„	Medicine	„ M.B. B.S.
„	Engineering	„ B.E.
„	Teaching	„ Dip. in Ed.

Translation Bureau :—The Translation Bureau was established to provide text-books required for the University courses as owing to the prejudicial policy followed in the part with regard to vernaculars, the progress of the Urdu language had also been arrested and books on the higher branches of knowledge were not available. The Bureau which came into existence in 1918 has been instrumental in enriching the Urdu language with books on various subjects.

University Training Corps :—University Training Corps came into existence in February 1936 and the number of students under training is 86. A member of the staff is in-charge as Adjutant and is assisted by two Instructors deputed by the Army Headquarters.

Hostels :—The University aims at providing residential accommodation for its students. Two double-storied hostels have been recently constructed providing accommodation for 300 students while there is a temporary hostel in which 100 students can live in comfort. These hostels which are lighted with electricity and are provided with modern sanitary conveniences are now entirely full. In addition to the college fees the boarders pay a monthly fee of Rs. 17 which covers dining hall, establishment, light, water and other charges. No charge is made for rent, medical assistance or for medicines. Students of all communities live amicably together, so no hostel is reserved for a particular community. Each Hostel is managed by a Warden.

The University Buildings:—The new buildings of the University are being constructed at Adikmet, a suburb of the City, at an estimated cost of about a crore and a half of Rupees. The Arts Building which will accommodate classes in subjects under the Faculty of Arts is nearing completion. Two double-storied hostels accommodating nearly three hundred students are ready. Among the proposed buildings on which work has not been started as yet are the Senate House, the Library, the Museum and the Science, Training, Law and Engineering Colleges. As these buildings will take time to be built, temporary buildings have been constructed at a cost of nearly ten lakhs of rupees, which are quite adequate for the present requirements of the University. His Exalted Highness' Government have now sanctioned Rs. 15 lakhs a year for four years to bring the University buildings to completion.

Nizamiah Observatory:—The observatory which was established in 1908 was transferred to the control of the Osmania University in 1919. The principal equipment consists of two equatorial telescopes, an 8-inch photographic and a 15-inch visual refractor together with a small transit instrument and Chronograph, and some other miscellaneous apparatus. The observatory is one of the institutions participating in the international undertaking of the "Carte-deciel" and has completed the measuring of the photographs in the section allotted to it, viz., Decl-17 to-23 and is now engaged in the Catalogue of the Section 36° to 39°. The 15-inch telescope erected about ten years ago, is used for visual observations, especially for observing systematically variable stars with faint minima. The principal publications of the Nizamiah Observatory consist of eight volumes of the Hyderabad Astrographic Catalogue and a number of short papers in the leading Astronomical journals. The observatory is also equipped with two Milne-Shaw Seismographs for recording earthquakes and the readings of the Seismograms are forwarded to Oxford for inclusion in the International Seismological Summary. There is in addition a Meteorological Observatory as well as a pilot baloon station, the observations being taken in co-operation with the Meteorologicial Department of the Government of India.

The Dairat-ul-Maarif:—The Dairat-ul-Maarif was founded in 1886 for the publication of rare Arabic books. The institution has an endowment of Rs. 5 lakhs which brings an annual income of Rs. 30,000. It was placed under the control of the University on the death of its founder Nawab Imadul Mulk Bahadur in 1926. The Rt. Hon'ble Sir Akbar Hydari, is now the Chairman of the Executive Committee and Nawab Mahdi Yar Jung Bahadur is the Secretary. The total number of Arabic books published by this Institution is 87, some of which are in four to twelve volumes. Its publication are in great demand not only in India but in Egypt, Arabia, Afghanistan and Europe.

Research:—Research is being encouraged in the University by insistance on the submission of a thesis by all M.A. & M.Sc. students as a part of the courses for these degrees. Those who pass these examinations with distinction and show some aptitude for original work in the thesis they submit are awarded scholarships for further research work. These scholarships are six in number and are of the value of Rs. 75 per mensem each. Since the inauguration of the Research Board in 1930, 32 scholarships have been awarded for research in various subjects.

The Journal of the Osmania University issued once a year publishes the results of the original work done by research students and members of the staff.

Industries & Commerce:—The principal imports are sugar, salt, glass, English-ware, piece-goods, spirits, hardware and cutlery, coffee, tea, saltpetre, mercury, opium, camphor and musk. The exports are carpets, muslins, coerglin, oil, seeds, cotton, honey, wax-coarse, woollen cloth and timber. The principal manufactures in the State are steel manufactured out of iron ore, carpets and rugs made at Warangal, kinkhab or gold and silver cloth, plain and embroidered muslins, brocades of coloured silk with gold and silver thread, tassa silk, saltpetre, Persian paper and pottery. There are about 5 cotton mills, 391 ginning, pressing, decorticating factories in cotton tracts and also a number of tanneries, flour mills, the total number of factories in the State being 420.

"Latterly His Exalted Highness Nizam's Government have given an impetus to such industries as have been languishing for want of patronage, and now the beautiful silks of Sangareddi, the himru or patterned cloth woven from cotton and silk, cloth of gold of Aurangabad, the erstwhile capital of Aurangazeb, the world-famed 'bidri' inlay work of Bidar, the carpets of Warangal, the silver wire ornaments of Karimnagar and the soap of Hyderabad are seen not only in the local markets but are even exported. Attention is also paid to newer industries such as furniture-making, the manufacture of fancy buttons (of which Hyderabad exports a large quantity) and the cap tassels made at Yadgiri which is fast becoming the centre of this trade for the whole of India. Although it has not been possible to restore to their pristine glory such industries as paper-making, once the monopoly of the suburbs of Aurangabad, or chintz printing, the centre of which was ancient Patan or Paithan, still it is remarkable how in spite of depression, changes of fashion and import of cheap "gold" thread, silk, buttons and artificial dyes, Hyderabad is still coping with the stringency of the market with a fair amount of success."

Cottage Industries Institute:—This Institute was established in 1931 at Mushirabad now a suburb of Hyderabad, for the development of Cottage Industries in the Dominions. Another purpose for which the Institute has been started is to train young men who are required to serve as demonstrators in the arts of weaving and dyeing in the villages. The Institute built at a cost of Rs. 1,20,000 accommodates the following Sections:—

1. Weaving
2. Dyeing
3. Knitting
4. Embroidery
5. Woollen Cording and Spinning
6. Durry and Carpet-Making
7. Silk Weaving
8. Rattan Work
9. Lacquer Work
10. Namda Making

Training is given to students of artizan classes who come from the Districts. Handsome stipends are awarded to these students.

The Institute has a Sales Depot attached to it. The Show Rooms which have lately been constructed and equipped at a high cost are located near the old French Gun Foundry on the Nizam College Road. The products of the Cottage Industries Institute along with the famous carpets and rugs of Warangal, the Bidri-ware of Bidar, the toys of Nirmal and the well-known Himru goods of Aurangabad are exhibited and sold at the Depot.

Cement:—This Industry was started in August 1925, the Works being located at Shahabad (Deccan) on the G. I. P. Railway main line from Madras to Bombay, with sidings entering the Works. The Works contain the most modern cement-making and power plant. Cement is manufactured by what is known as the Rotary Kiln "wet process" wherein the raw materials are pulverised and mixed in the correct proportions in the presence of water forming a thick liquid called "Slurry". The annual output of cement is 140,000 tons. The raw materials are the well-known Shahabad limestone and black clay.

The Works plant consists of a stone crushing department, clay wash-mills and pumps, raw material wet grinding plants with correction and storage basins, coal drying and pulverising plants; rotary kilns and cooling plants, clinker storage and cement grinding mills and cement storage and packing plants. The power plant consists of 3 Babcock and Wilcox Water-tube Boilers each with 5,370 square feet of heating surface, complete with machanical chain grate stokers, balanced raught, Green's economisers, integral super-heaters and self-supporting steel chimney. Superheated steam is supplied to the turbines at a gauge pressure of 200 lbs. per square inch. There are two 1000 K. W. steam turbo-alternators and one "Stal" turbine of 2500 K. W. Water for the power plant is pumped from Kogna River about a mile from the Works.

Sugar:—Very recently a Sugar Factory has been floated with a share capital of Rs. 35 lakhs, half of which has been purchased by Government. The natural resources are so plentiful that the future of the Factory is a guaranteed success. The Government have given a monopoly for sugar manufacture in the Nizamsagar area.

Coal:—The most important localised industry is the Coal Industry. The coal mines of Singareni and Tandur occupy an area of 124 square miles. The capital outlay amounts to Rs. 90 lakhs. The collieries are 166 miles from Hyderabad City and 79 miles from Kazipet. Approximately 10,000 people are regularly employed at both the collieries, the bulk of whom are housed in the vicinity of the mines. Special attention has been given to the water-supply arrangements, sanitary work and housing.

Cigarettes:—There are two Cigarette Factories in the City of Hyderabad, both situated at Mushirabad. The Vazir Sultan Tobacco Co., Ltd., manufacture "Charminar" brand cigarettes while the Hyderabad Deccan Cigarette Factory produce the "Golconda" brand. Both the factories mostly use tobacco imported from Guntur District.

Buttons:—Hyderabad has four Button Factories of which the Deccan Button Factory and the Hyderabad Button and Tassel Factory are large-scale manufacturers.

The Deccan Button Factory located near the Charminar produces superior and medium quality buttons, cuff links and studs in gold, rolled-gold and in enamel. The products have a good market in many parts of India.

The Hyderabad Button and Tassel Factory also manufactures buttons of all kinds including some of the military requirements. At the same time it produced excellent tassels which find market in Northern India, Sumatra and Java. The tassel section employs 400 women on this industry which is run as a cottage industry.

Miscellaneous:—Oil seeds are produced in large quantities, the total value of oil exported being about one and quarter crores a year. The value of tanned hides and skins exported was Rs. 29 lakhs in 1934-35.

Agriculture.—The State abounds in agricultural products like cotton, groundnuts, pulses, oilseeds, rice and sugar-cane. Hyderabad is well-known for its Gaorini cotton which is the finest indigenous cotton in India. The area under cotton exceeds three and a half million acres. Agricultural industry directly supports more than 50 per cent of the population. The common system of land revenue is ryotwari. The Agricultural Department was thoroughly reorganised in the year 1927 and is at present spending Rupees nine lakhs. Experimental farms have been opened at Alir, Kamareddi, Sangareddi, Mahbubnagar and Prabhani. A Rural Development Centre is established at Patancheru, about twenty miles from Hyderabad, which has got demonstration sections on poultry-keeping, goat breeding, fish rearing, gardening, fruit growing, flower gardening and cultivation of field crops.

Forests:—The State possesses about 9,000 square miles of forests which produce valuable timber. "These areas offer splendid scenery and game for the well-to-do, serve as a buffer for the cultivators in times of famine, and above all possess raw materials for the development of several first-class industries vitally important for the well-being and progress of the people. Tanning materials, vegetable dyes, fibres and flosses, oleoresine and gums, drugs and spices, edible fruits and animal products promise good scope for small-scale industries, while the bigger industries having very bright prospects are paper and match manufacture."

RAILWAYS

The State of Hyderabad is in the proud and unique position of having within its limits the largest system of railway in any Indian State and of being the pioneer in the field of Road Transport operated and controlled by State Railway Administration. The total length of the Railway is 1,664 miles of which 371 miles are owned either by the Government of India or by private companies. The Nizam's State Railway system worked by the State Railway Department comprises 1,347 miles of open line, 688 miles being of 5 feet 6 inches or broad-gauge and 659 miles of 3 feet 3⅜ inches or metre-gauge.

The question of providing feeder and branch lines to existing main lines with a view to bringing the benefits of rail transport within the reach of as large a proportion of the population of the State as possible has been receiving the constant attention of the Administration. In pursuance of this policy, feeders to Jagtial, Aurangabad, Bhir and Adilabad have been surveyed.

A land mark in the recent history of His Exalted Highness the Nizam's State Railway is the co-ordination of rail and road transport. Hyderabad State has good reason to be proud of the success of its bold venture in co-ordinating rail and road services within His Exalted Highness the Nizam's Dominions. In opening in 1932 experimental road services of its own, His Exalted Highness the Nizam's State Railway gave the lead to other railways in India. The financial results of the services have been sufficiently encouraging to justify a progressive policy of expansion and at the present time over 4,000 miles of road are now being operated by the State Railway Road Motor vehicles.

The scheme of co-ordinated transport administration possesses several advantages for the State and for the people. By this means private profits are diverted to the State for the benefit of the people as a whole. Standardization, more regular services and lower rates are replacing the diversity and irregularity which characterised the private services.

That control by the State Railway Administration of Road Transport Services is essential in order to secure the largest measure of co-ordination with the railway services is further exemplified by the various schemes of the road and rail co-ordination recently introduced by the Nizam's State Railway.

Many of the train services have recently been accelerated and the railway bus services co-ordinated with these improved services, various alterations being made in the road time tables to make the bus trips fit in with the trains.

Where the railway road services are available and are meeting the needs of the public, arrangements have been made to avoid train stoppages at intermediate unimportant stations.

The railway buses feed the trains at specific points. So far as the Nizam's State Railway is concerned, the number of trains which are met or connected by the railway buses each day, now reaches a total of 195.

Combined road and rail excursions to various places of historical and archæological interest in Hyderabad State were inaugurated about eighteen months ago and have proved very popular amongst the travelling public. Many people who before had not had the opportunity of seeing interesting places in the Dominions have done so at extremely cheap inclusive fares.

Goods Collection and Delivery services have been introduced in the principal towns in Hyderabad State. Under these arrangements, goods are conveyed to and from the railway station, the State Railway undertaking the collection and delivery work by their lorries to and from merchant's premises, cartage areas having been defined at each place. This scheme which embodies one flat cartage rate irrespective of the class of traffic, enables "door to door" transport of goods to be effected; the arrangements are already being patronised by a considerable number of merchants and the facility is regarded as a welcome innovation.

In addition, several railway operated out agencies have also been opened at important trade centres in the State, thus linking up outlying places with the State Railway system.

It will be seen from the foregoing that the aim of His Exalted Highness the Nizam's Government and the Railway is to provide a comprehensive and economic transport service and everything possible is being done to make this service as attractive as possible so that the travelling and trading public may make full use of the facilities afforded 1921 he was made the Finance and Railway Member of Hyderabad State Executive Council. He rendered valuable services to the State as Member and Director of the several organizations like Singareni Collieries Co., Ltd., and Mining Boards, the Shahabad Cement Co., Ltd., the Indian Cement Co., Ltd., the Indian Industrial and General Trust, Ltd., the Central Bank of India, Ltd., The Osmanshahi Mills Ltd., the Azamahi Mills, Ltd. In 1925 he was the Chairman, Inter-University Board. He also delivered the Panjab University Convocation Address in 1925. He is the Fellow of the Universities of Bombay, Decca, Aligarh Muslim and Hyderabad Osmania. He conceived and organised the Osmania University, the first of its kind in India, imparting higher education through the medium of Urdu, while retaining English as a compulsory second language throughout. He organized the State Archæological Department. He negotiated the purchase for the State of the N. G. S. Railway. He led the Hyderabad Delegation to the three Round Table Conferences in London at which he was a member of the Business, Federal Structure and Finance Sub-Committee. He was the Member of the Parliamentary Joint Select Committee in 1933 at which he was also the member of the Reserve Bank and Railway Authority Sub-Committee and Advisor to the League of Nation's Monetary and Economic Conference held in London. His eminent services were recognised by His Exalted Highness the Nizam of Hyderabad and he now holds the honoured position of the Presidentship of the Hyderabad State Executive Council. At his initiative a system of finance known as Departmentalisation was introduced and the State has been able not only to carry on efficiently its day to day administration, but to accumulate a huge reserve of about 20 crores out of which, productive funds such as the Famine Fund and the Industrial Fund have been built up and an extensive Railway System has been purchased without any dislocation of State finances.

HYDERABAD—THE REAL INDIA

Visitors to India should not fail to include in their tour the State of Hyderabad which is the premier State of India and the land of archæological and architectural magnificence. Hitherto the majority of visitors—most of whom arrive at Bombay - have contented themselves with stereotyped tours to places of historical interest and have neglected the treasures of art and sculpture in which the Hyderabad State abounds. Few of them have realized that, within a few hours journey of Bombay, there are to be found some of the most interesting sights in the world. Anyone, visiting the stupendous rock-temples of Ellora and the frescœs and rock-temples of Ajanta dating back over 2,000 years, cannot fail to be struck with the immensity of structure and the fine conception and design of these wonders of the world. Visit to Ellora and Ajanta may be either combined with a tour of other places of historical and archæological interest in the State or may be reached direct from Bombay (by rail to Aurangabad) by visitors who have limited time at their disposal. Dealing first with the more extensive tour, visitors would be well advised to proceed from Bombay direct to Secunderabad or Hyderabad. A convenient train leaves Bombay at 10 P.M., reaching Hyderabad at 3-30 P.M. (Secunderabad 4 P.M.) next day. A bogie carriage runs through, so that passengers are saved the inconvenience of changing at the junctions. Fares from Bombay to Hyderabad are :—

Hyderabad City, the Capital of His Exalted Highness the Nizam's territory is picturesquely situated on the South Bank of the River Musi, surrounded by a ring of granite rocks, the fantastic toss and logans of which at once attract the notice

The co-ordination which is being effected in Hyderabad State, particularly between the road and rail means of communication, is eliminating wasteful competition, providing cheaper and better means of transport and opening up hitherto inaccessible regions to trade and traffic.

A further development in the co-ordination of all forms of transport under a single administration will be achieved when the State begins to operate its own air services in connection with its rail and road services.

The first step has been taken in the establishment of an ærodrome at Hyderabad and the appointment of instructional and ground staff. The purchase of the necessary machines is also being arranged. Plans with regard to the opening of other ærodromes are also being formulated.

Hyderabad City, the Capital of His Exalted Highness the Nizam's territory is picturesquely situated on the South Bank of the River Musi, surrounded by a ring of granite rocks, the fantastic toss and logans of which at once attract the notice of the visitor. As regards population, it is the fourth city in India but its bazaars and streets have an oriental character which is not to be found in most other cities of India. In shape, the city proper is a trapezoid and is surrounded by a stone wall with several gateways. The road from the Residency crosses the River Musi by the Afzulganj bridge and enters the ancient city by a gate of that name. On either side of the Afzulganj bridge the visitor will notice an array of beautiful buildings which have been erected during the reign of the present Nizam. They are the High Court, the City College, the Osmania General Hospital and the State Library. The style of these buildings is based on the old architecture of Hyderabad, although in the proportion of designs, due attention has been paid to scientific principles and modern ideas of hygiene.

A broad street known as the Pathergatty or the Stone Causeway runs through the city from the North to the South and it is crossed in the middle by another which runs from the East to the West. At the junction of these streets, a stately gateway is built which is called the Charminar or the four towers. It is a unique monument of its kind and originally stood in front of a piazza wherein the Royal retinues assembled in olden days. The four arches (Charminar) of this piazza may still be seen. Close to the Charminar are the Jami Masjid, the Royal Bath and the Mecca Masjid. The last named is a massive structure built entirely of stone and flanked by two towers, each rising 100 feet above the pavement. This mosque can accommodate 10,000 worshippers and in its quadrangle are the tombs of all the Asafjahi Rulers from the time of Nizam Ali Khan (died 1803). To the west of the Charminar is situated the Chaumahalla Palace in which the State Banquets and other important ceremonies are held. Some 200 yards from this palace is the Baradari of Maharaja Chandulal, a Hindu building of highly ornamental style.

To the south of the City stands the Falaknuma Palace which is considered to be one of the finest modern buildings in India. It was built as a private residence by the late Minister, Sir Vicar-ul-Umra and was purchased in 1897 by the late Nizam. It is not open to the public but application may be made to the Aide-de-Camp in waiting at the King Koti Palace. About one mile to the north of the City proper is Gosha Mahal Baradari, which is a most beautiful building. It was erected by Abul Hasan Tana Shah, the last king of the Qutb Shahi dynasty. The Baradari is now used as the Masonic Hall but it is open to the public in the forenoon.

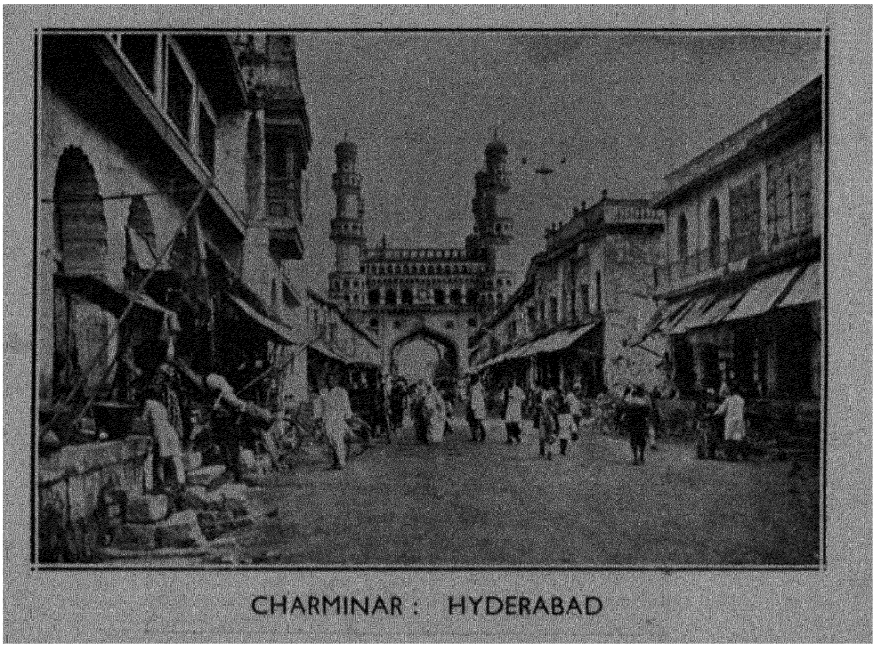

After passing the Hussain Sagar embankment, the visitor will notice towards the west a huge mass of rock styled the Naubat Pahar Bank Rock, so called from the fact that in olden times all important communications of the Moghul Emperors were proclaimed from this rock to the sound of music. At the foot of this rock is the Fateh Maidan, a fine race course and Polo Ground. Beyond the Fateh Maidan, towards the west are the Public Gardens which cover an extensive area and have a lovely collection of tropical plants and flowers. Within the gardens are situated the Hyderabad Museum and the Zoo. The former has a fine collection of arms, old china, textiles, paintings, brass and coins.

Passing further at the Hussain Sagar embankment the visitor enters the City of Secunderabad which is a military Cantonment station. It is one of the largest British Cantonment stations covering 19 square miles. It is the headquarters of the Infantry Brigade. Six miles to the north of Secunderabad is Bolarum. It is the headquarters of the Cavalry Brigade. It is an interesting place with lawns, buildings and playground. The Parade ground in Secunderabad is a fine stretch of land used for ceremonial purposes. Buildings of interest in Secunderabad are Edward Memorial Hospital and the United Service Club. Close to the Railway Station are two good hotels. There are a number of churches in different parts of the Cantonment. Recently the Residency area in the City of Hyderabad was handed over to His Exalted Highness the Nizam's Government and is now named Sultan Bazaar.

Osmania University:—A visit to the magnificent array of Osmania University buildings which are in the process of construction in the beautiful suburban locality of Adikmet will well repay the trouble of the visitor. The whole scheme is estimated to cost a crore and a half. The two permanent hostels which have been completed and the Art College which is nearing completion combine in an exquisite manner the art of Ajanta and Ellora with the best features of the Qutb Shahi style of architecture suitably adapted to modern requirements. The extensive parks and avenues which have been laid out over an area of 1,500 acres lend additional charm to the whole sight.

The Right Honourable
SIR AKBAR HYDARI, P.C., Kt., LL.D., D.C.L.
President, Executive Council, Hyderabad

CHARMINAR : HYDERABAD

Osmansagar :—Osmansagar Project is a huge gravity Dam constructed to preserve the water of a big Reservoir generally known as Gandipettah Tank at a distance of 10 miles from Hyderabad City. The dam was constructed at a cost of Rs. 45 lakhs. It was named after His Exalted Highness the Nizam. It serves as the main source of water-supply for the population of Hyderabad City and is also a local holiday resort.

Himayatsagar :—Is another beautiful lake named after the Heir-apparent. The costly dam of Rs. 92 lakhs was constructed across the River Isi which joins the Musi River just above the city. The Agricultural farm and Dairy farm are very near to this place.

Golconda and the Qutb Shahi Tombs : The Golconda Fort and Tombs lie some five miles to the west of the City of Hyderabad. For permission to visit the Fort application might be made to the Chief Commander, His Exalted Highness the Nizam's Forces. The fort is built on a hill 400 feet high and it is surrounded by a crenellated wall of granite with 87 bastions each of which has its own name. Some of the bastions still have pieces of Qutb Shahi ordinance bearing persian inscriptions. The fort originally had eight gates, but of these only Banjara, Fath, the Mecca and Jamali are now in use. The fort seems to have been built to hold not only a garrison but also a large population as it did when Abul Hasan, the last Qutb Shahi King held out for eight months against the hosts of Aurangazeb. Its battered walls are witnesses to many a gallant struggle in Indian history. The fort has a striking and grim appearance and its higher area is covered with the remains of armouries, magazines, mosques, granaries, reservoirs and audience chambers, while at the foot of the citadel nestled the erstwhile dwellings, of the greens and princess and the homesteads of their retainers.

The Tombs of Qutb Shahi Kings are situated about 600 yards to the north-west of the fort. They form a picturesque group, being built in a lovely garden with water channels, fountains and cascades. The general plan of the tombs consist of a dome standing upon a square base which is surrounded by an arcade of pointed arches. The arcade is single storied in the smaller tombs, but double in the larger mausolea and flanked with minarets. The interiors of the domes are laid out with intersecting arches of infinite variety and the middle of the floor is occupied by the grave which is of polished black stone. The shape of the grave is oblong and stepped with six or eight slabs diminishing above. The top is either tombe or flat, and the sides bear mortuary and devotional inscriptions in Naskh characters. At one time the walls and cupolas of all the principal tombs of Golconda were adorned with glazed tiles the fragments of which can be traced on some tombs to this day.

Bhongir Fort :—At a distance of 36 miles east of Secunderabad stands the Bhongir Fort. It is one of the earliest in the Deccan and like Warangal Fort it was once defended by a strong mud wall (Bhumi Kota) the remains of which may be seen to the south-east of the Fort. The inner walls represent different styles in their construction; those comprising of huge blocks of masonry, laid one above the other without any mortar and having no regular courses in their construction, are the work of early Hindu builders. The walls of the Moslem period on the other hand are generally built of ashlar masonry; but the joints are not so perfectly fitted as those of the Hindu masonry. In building the Fort advantage has been taken of a high rock rising about 500 feet from the surrounding country and having steep sides all round except towards the south-east in which direction the approach of the Fort has been built. It is well defined by gates and bastions. At the top of the hill is a Baradari in the Qutb Shahi style of architecture being decorated with niches and plaster work.

The Mir Alam Tank :—It is picturesquely situated being bounded on two sides with gently sloping undulation beyond which rise low ranges of granitic rocks. At the west end is a pretty wooded eminence on the summit of which is the tomb of a Musalman saint. The tank is about eight miles in circumference and its bund was constructed by French Engineers. The bund is 3,360 feet in length and consists of twenty-one large granite arches laid on their sides with the semi-circular projection opposed to the body of the water. The tank was built by Mir Alam who led the Contingent forces of Nawab Nizam Ali Khan Bahadur, Asaf Jah II, during the war with Tippu Sultan in 1799.

The town of Bidar 82 miles from Hyderabad stands on a beautiful plateau 2,300 feet above sea level. Its situation is picturesque and its climate bracing; it is a place over which the spirit of Romance seems to have brooded from the old and with which from the earliest times have been knit the association of poetic myth and the galmour of old world legend.

The fort is the most well-preserved and impressive of the Bidar monuments. There are a number of beautiful edifices in the fort, some of which have been excavated recently in the Fort by the Archæological Department, Hyderabad. The most important of these are the Audience Hall and the Royal Palace (Takht-Mahal). The dadoes of these two buildings are decorated with encaustic tiles while the pillar and friezes have exquisite carvings.

The tombs of the Bahmani Kings are situated in the village of Ashtur, two miles east of the town. The most magnificent of these tombs is that of Ahmed Shah Wali Bahmani, the founder of Modern Bidar. The interior of this tomb is adorned with paintings of Persian style which, on account of the richness of their colour and the elegance of their designs, are unique in India.

Another important monument at Bidar is the Great College of Mohamud Gawan which is built in the Persian style of architecture and has its facade beautifully adorned with tile work. It was built by Mohamud Gawan, the famous Minister of the Bahamani King, Mohammed Shah, in 1472 A.D.

The return train will take the visitors back to Hyderabad at 8-1 P.M., just in time for dinner. Dak Bungalows are also available for those who wish to stay here for a longer period.

Warangal and Ramappa:—The most convenient train for Kazipet is the one that leaves Hyderabad at 7-40 P.M. There is a well-equipped Refreshment Room at the Railway Station, which can cater fully for their needs. The following morning, the visitors, after having seen the Thousand Pillared Temple and the ruins of the Warangal Fort, can drive to Ramappa Temple, which is situated at a distance of 40 miles from Warangal. Tiffin carriers can be obtained from the Refreshment Rooms. After spending a pleasant afternoon at the Ramappa Lake, the visitors can return to Kazipet in time for dinner. The return train leaves Kazipet at 3-25 A.M. arriving at Hyderabad at 7-1 A.M.

A trip to Pocharam and Nizamsagar Lake is also recommended. It will be a refreshing change to switch over from archæological treasures to one of the most remarkable engineering feats in modern Hyderabad. The most outstanding feature of the Nizamsagar Reservoir is the gigantic masonry dam stretching across the river for 2 miles with a motorable road 14 feet wide over it. It is one of the largest gravity dams in the world. There are one or two Inspection Bungalows where the visitors can stay on previous permission being obtained from the Special Superintending Engineer, Capital Works, His Exalted Highness the Nizam's Government, Hyderabad. The Pocharam Lake with its islands and surrounding hills presents a picturesque scene. A well-equipped Rest House is also available here. Permission to occupy this bungalow is also obtainable from the Special Superintending Engineer, Capital Works, Kachiguda, Hyderabad.

Thanks to the Railway and Road Transport co-ordination, which is such a distinguished feature of His Exalted Highness the Nizam's State Railway, road and rail transport arrangements for these tours can be made for the visitors on due notice being given to the Chief Commercial Manager, His Exalted Highness the Nizam's State Railway, Secunderabad.

After exhausting the places of interest in and around Hyderabad City and Secunderabad, visitors should proceed by the Metre Gauge line of the State Railway to Aurangabad, the station for Ellora and Ajanta. The most convenient train for this journey is by night, leaving Hyderabad at 7-15 P.M. (Secunderabad at 8 P.M.) and arriving at Aurangabad at 9-21 the next morning. The fares are :—

The accommodation includes large double and single bed-rooms with private sitting rooms if desired. All rooms have private baths with hot and cold water 'laid on' and private lavatories attached. Other amenities include large public rooms, electric lights and fans, a tennis court. The charges including board, service, baths, lights and fans are Rs. 12/- per day for a single room and Rs. 20/- per day for a double room with special rebates for visits exceeding 3 days. Transport from the Railway Station to the Hotel is at the rate of annas 6 per passenger. A new standard of travelling comfort for visitors to the Ellora and Ajanta caves has been provided by His Exalted Highness the Nizam's State Railway by means of 8-seater luxury coaches, which have been specially designed for the greatest ease of the passengers.

The following itinerary is suggested for visit to Ellora and Ajanta—

1st Day—The Panchakki
The Bibi-ka-Muqbara
The Ellora Caves
The Daulatabad Fort
Drive Through the City

2nd Day—Ajanta Caves.

Ajanta Caves:—In a beautiful glade, 55 miles north of Aurangabad and 35 miles south of Jalgaon are situated the caves of Ajanta. The natural scenery is superb and a hill-stream within sight of the caves descends in a narrow cascade of seven leaps and debouches in the plain as the Waghora River. The perpendicular rock where the caves commence is about 250 feet high, and sweeping round in a semi-circle closes the upper end of the ravine. There are 29 caves in all, 5 of which are Chaityas (cathedrals) and the remainder Viharas (monasteries), and all belonging to the Buddhist religion.

No ancient remains in India exhibit such an admirable combination of architecture, sculpture, and painting as the Ajanta caves, which present every stage of Buddhist art from the first century B. C. to the middle of the seventh century A. D. Besides the comparative beauty of many of the numerous architectural forms the sculptural ornaments are characterized by a beaming intellectuality and high creative skill, and the frescoes are illustrative of the development of a great school of painting in India which exercised its influence not only the culture of the east but also of the west.

The walls, ceiling, the pillars of nearly all the cages appear to have been adorned with paintings, but remains are only found in thirteen caves, and the fragments which are of special interest occur in Caves I, II, IX, X, XVI and XVII. The scenes are generally taken from the Jatakas, the stories of the Buddha's previous births in various forms—human and other, as a bird or an animal or a reptile. The art of Ajanta represents the feelings and aspirations of the Buddhists in joyous spirit, without any note of melancholy as one would expect from a sect the votaries of which lived most austere lives. The 'joy' however shows no wantonness; it is permeated by a deep spirituality which is the key-note of the art of Ajanta, and which places it in strong contrast to somewhat frivolous themes of the Pompeian frescoes or the tragic subjects of Italian art during the Renaissance period.

The caves are now electrically lit and can be illuminated at a fee of Rs. 10 a day.

Ellora Caves.—The caves are easily reached from Aurangabad Railway Station and are 10 miles from Daulatabad. Two miles from the caves is a well-furnished rest house at Rouza. There is a Travellers' Bungalow and Hyderabad State Guest House at Ellora. Cars are easily available for making excursions either from Hyderabad or from Daulatabad.

The rock-cut temples are 34 in all. Buddhist caves are 12 in number, the Brahmanical 17 and the Jaina 5. Here will be seen the famous Kailasa Temple carved out of the solid rock representing Kailas in the midst of the Himalayas. It has a court 250 feet long and 150 feet broad. The towers of the temple rise to a height of 100 feet. The accuracy of the carvings and the wealth of the details arouses the admiration of all the visitors. The Buddhist Chaitya or Cathedral is another fine example of rock temples. The Jaina sculptures and caves although exhibiting infinite patience and care in their execution are somewhat lacking in sense of proportion and creative effort and show a decadent art.

Transport from the Railway Station to the Hotel is at the rate of annas 6 per passenger.

A new standard forms of travelling comfort for visitors to the Ellora and Ajanta Caves has been provided by His Exalted Highness the Nizam's State Railway by means of an 8-seater luxury motor coach specially designed for the greatest ease of the passengers.

The hire charges for this coach are annas 3 per mile for the loaded and empty journeys plus Rs. 2/- per hour during the period the coach is away from the garage. For a two days' tour of Ellora, Ajanta and Aurangabad this works out to approximately Rs. 70 - for 8 persons, if they return to Aurangabad, and Rs. 93 if they go on to Jalgaon.

Aurangabad is a flourishing city of the Nizam's Dominions and has considerable trade in cotton. It was first called Khirkee and was founded in 1610, by Malik Ambar, the well-known Abyssinian Minister of the Ahmednagar Kigdom. The principal sights of Aurangabad are the mausoleum of Rabia Durani (Bibi-ka-Maqbara), the consort of the Emperor Aurangzeb, the Panchakki, the Quila Arak and the Aurangabad caves. The Mausoleum of Rabia Durani is built on the model of the Taj and it was built by Prince Azam Shah to the memory of his mother. The Mausoleum is the finest Moslem building in the Deccan. The Panchakki or water mill is situated in a garden which is attached to the shrine of Shah Musafar Sahib who died in A. D. 1687. There are several masonry works ornamented with fountains and a large cistern in front with a water mill of primitive type from which the shrine derives its name. The country here exhibits one of the most picturesque landscapes about Aurangabad. The Kaula Nala skirts the garden and is first crossed by an old bridge with pointed arches and then by a second bridge which spans it lower down

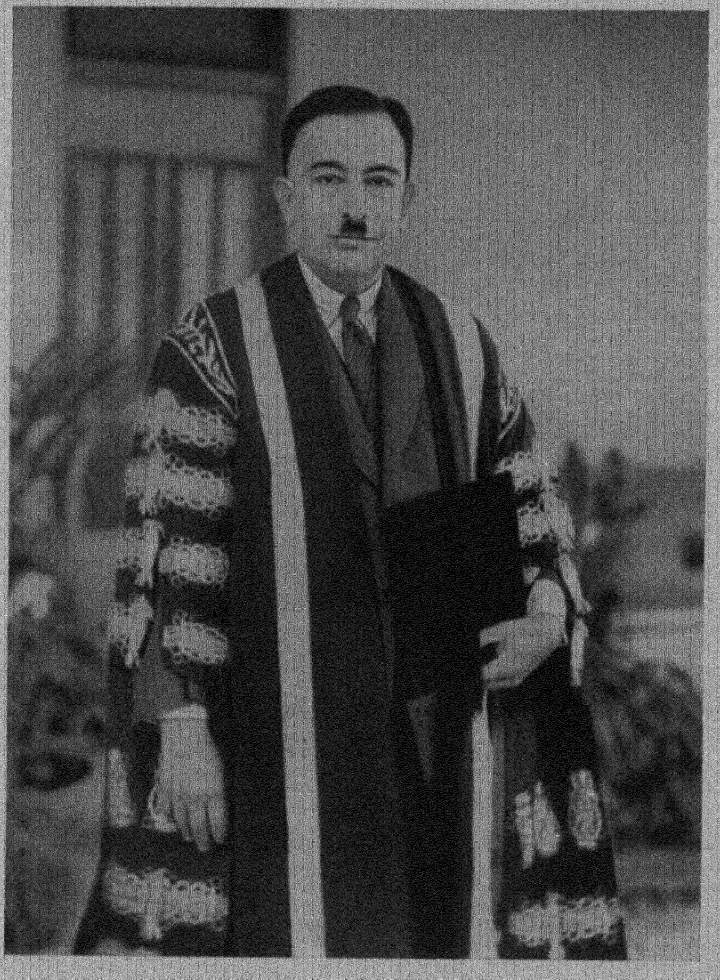

There are three groups of Caves at Aurangabad ranging in dates from the 4th to the 6th century A. D. They are hewn in the Indhiyari Range which stretches to the north of Aurangabad City about one mile from the Bibi-ka-Maqbara or Rabia Durani's Mausoleum is called. The caves belong to the Buddhist epoch and the sculpture in some of them is of great interest both from the artistic and the iconographic points of view.

Daulatabad:—It is at a distance of 8 miles from Aurangabad. It was once the capital of the Emperor Aurangzeb during his wars with Deccan Sultans. The place is famous for its hill fort and the Chandminar or the Pillar of Victory. Another interesting place is Chinimahal where the kings of Golconda and Bijapur were imprisoned by Aurangzeb.

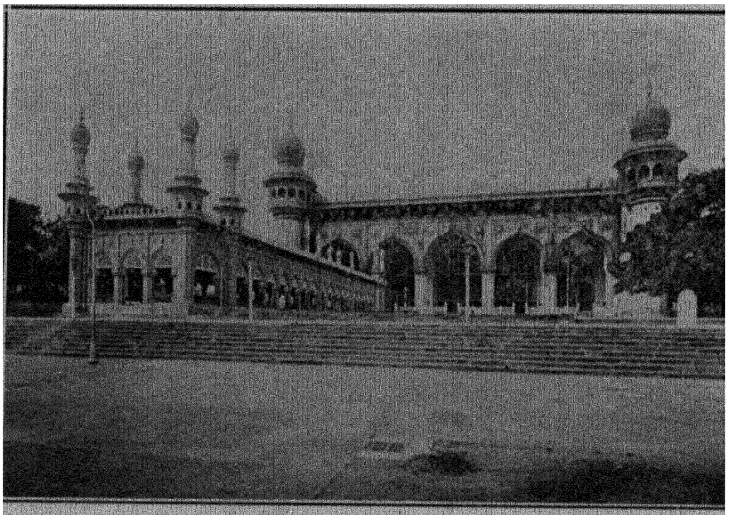

His Exalted Highness the Nizam's State Railway controls the largest Rail and Road co-ordinated service in India and is in a position to cater for large or small parties of tourists.

Clean, Hygienic, Non-corrosive, Ever-shining & Lasting

EVER-SILVER VESSELS

Vessels made of Aluminium, as at present used in the kitchen are not very safe. Aluminium corrodes with salt or even ordinary water.

In EVER-SILVER vessels there are no crevices to collect dirt. Food acids cannot leave the slightest stain on them. Ordinary cheap soap and water is all that is needed to clean these vessels. They can also be cleaned with wood-ashes and clay.

EVER-SILVER vessels are 100 times as strong as Aluminium vessels of same thickness They are almost ever-lasting.

Our 'EVER-SILVER' utensils are made from high Chromium Nickel steel which resists almost all Inorganic and Organic acids, salts and possess excellent mechanical strength and toughness to stand any rough use.

'EVER-SILVER' metal is extremely hard to wear and is composed of very expensive metals, such as chromium Nickel, and Molybdenum. It is therefore a bit expensive but you will find it to be cheaper than Copper, Bell-metal and Brass in the long run.

PART V

THE MYSORE STATE

GENERAL INFORMATION

THE MYSORE STATE is one of the largest of the Indian States and has an area of 29,475 square miles which is nearly equal to that of Scotland. It is a table-land situated in the angle where the Eastern and Western Ghat ranges converge into the Nilgiri Hills. The general elevation rises from about 2,000 feet above sea-level along the northern and southern frontiers to about 3,000 feet at the central watershed which separates the basin of the Krishna in the north from that of the Cauvery in the south. Isolated peaks of massive rock called "Durgs" form a prominent feature of the country, while chains of hills running chiefly north and south divide the table-land into numerous valleys. The population of the State according to the last Census is six millions. The majority of the population are Hindus who form 92·62 per cent. Of the rest, 5·11 per cent are Mahomedans, 0·69 per cent are Christians and 1·58 per cent belong to other religions. Nearly three-fourths of the population are employed on agriculture.

The City of Mysore is the capital of the State, the residence of His Highness the Maharaja and the headquarters of the University, but the administrative headquarters and the chief public offices are at Bangalore. Adjoining the Bangalore City, is the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, a tract measuring nearly 14 square miles which is administered by the British Resident.

Mysore is noted for its picturesque scenery. The malnad or hill country in the west is a land of magnificent hill and forest, presenting alternations of the most diversified and charming scenery. The famous Gersoppa Falls, where the river Sharavati precipitates itself down a chasm, 960 feet in depth are situated in the north-west on the border of Mysore and the Bombay Presidency.

Mysore is rich in antiquities which throw light on its history from the days of Asoka, one of whose inscriptions is to be found in the north-east corner of the State. The Satavahanas, the Kadambas, the Gangas, the Chalukyas, the Rashtrakutas, the Cholas, the Hoysalas and the Vijayanagar kings held sway successively in different parts of the State, before the present ruling family consolidated its power over the whole State. Among these dynasties, the Gangas and the Hoysalas were of local origin and their sway extended over parts of Mysore and considerable areas of the surrounding territory in the 4th and 5th and the 12th and 13th centuries A.D., respectively.

"The ancestors of the present ruling family belonged to the clan of the Yadavas, whose origin is traditionally ascribed to Sri Krishna and who were Kshatriyas belonging to the Lunar line. During the early days of the Vijayanagar kingdom, two members of the tribe immigrated to the south and established themselves in Hadinad (now known as Hadinaru), a few miles south-east of Mysore. Fortune smiled upon the newcomers and, by the beginning of the 17th century, the family became possessed of the tract of country immediately surrounding the town of Mysore. With the accession of Raja Wadiyar in 1578 A.D., the fortunes of the family grew apace. He occupied Seringapatam in 1610 A.D., and extended his conquests till he was in possession of the south of the present Mysore District. The next noteworthy figure in the annals of the dynasty was the gallant Kantirava Narasa Raja Wadiyar. He extended and consolidated the territories of his family and assumed all the insignia of royalty. But it was under Chick Deva Raja Wadiyar (1672—1704 A.D.) that the kingdom attained its highest eminence. Chick Deva Raja Wadiyar acquired Bangalore in 1687 A.D., and even laid siege to Trichinopoly. He left to his successor a secure and prosperous State extending from the Palnis and the Annamalis in the south to Midegesi in the north and from the Baramahal in the east to the borders of Coorg and Balam in the west. Chick Deva Raja's successors were, however, weak rulers. Internal dissensions, in addition to the aggressions of enemies from without, provided a suitable opportunity for usurpation by an uncommonly daring and capable adventurer and, in the latter part of the 18th century, the real sovereignty passed into the hands of Haidar Ali. Under Haidar and his son and successor, Tippu Sultan, the kingdom of Mysore was extended in all directions and included a large part of the southern peninsula".

It may be added that the existence of a minority was one of the circumstances that gave opportunity for usurpation and that actually the nominal sovereignty of the ruling family was in abeyance for a period of only three years.

In 1799 A.D., on the fall of Seringapatam and the death of Tippu Sultan, the British Government restored the State comprised within its present limits, to the ancient Hindu dynasty in the person of Maharaja Sri Krishnaraja Wadiyar Bahadur III. His grandson, the present Maharaja, His Highness Sri Krishnaraja Wadiyar IV assumed direct control of the administration of the State in 1902 A.D., on his attaining majority.

Administration:—It may not be out of place here to give a brief description of the system of Government in Mysore. His Highness the Maharaja is the ultimate authority in the State and the administration is conducted, under his control, by the Dewan and two Members of Council. The High Court consisting of four judges is the highest judicial tribunal in the State. There are two constitutional Assemblies in the State—the Representative Assembly and the Legislative Council.

The Representative Assembly was established in 1881 by an executive order of Government, and its powers and functions were increased from time to time by similar orders of Government. Under the scheme of constitutional developments announced in October 1923, the Representative Assembly has been placed on a statutory basis and given a definite place in the constitution, by the promulgation of the Representative Assembly Regulation, XXVIII of 1923. The franchise has been extended and the disqualification of women, on the ground of sex, from exercising the right to vote, has been removed. The privilege of moving resolutions on the general principles and policy underlying the budget and on matters of public administration has been granted to this Assembly, in addition to those already enjoyed of making representations about wants and grievances and of interpellating Government. The Assembly is also to be consulted on all proposals for the levy of new taxes and on the general principles of all measures of legislation, before their introduction into the Legislative Council. Besides the Budget Session (formerly Birthday Session) and the Dasara Session, provision has been made for one or more special sessions of the Assembly to be summoned by Government when the State or public business demands it.

The Legislative Council was established in 1907. The strength of the Council has been raised from 30 to 50, of whom 20 are official and 30 are non-official members. The Council, which exercises the privileges of interpellation, discussion of the State Budget and the moving of the resolutions on all matters of public administration is, under the reformed constitution, granted the power of voting on the demand for the grants on all votable items and thus shaping the financial policy of Government.

The Dewan is the Ex-officio President of both the Representative Assembly and the Legislative Council.

With a view to enlarge the opportunities of non-official representatives of the people to influence the everyday administration of the State, three Standing Committees consisting of members of the Representative Assembly and the Legislative Council have been formed, one in connection with Railway, Electrical and Public Works Departments, another in connection with Local Self-Government and the Departments of Medicine, Sanitation and Public Health and the third in connection with Finance and Taxation.

The Legislative Council has also a Public Accounts Committee which examines all audit and appropriation reports and brings to the notice of the Council all deviations from the wishes of the Council as expressed in its Budget grant.

The annual total receipts and disbursements charged to revenue are Rs. 3,80,00,000.

The Mysore University:—A separate University for Mysore was established on the 1st July 1916. It is of the teaching and residential type composed of the Central and Engineering Colleges at Bangalore and the Medical, Maharaja's and Maharani's Colleges at Mysore, and three Intermediate Colleges with headquarters at Mysore and Bangalore. There is a Training College for Teachers located at Mysore. The Maharani's College at Mysore is solely for women.

Education:—Much attention is paid to advancement of primary and middle school education. Provision has been made for teaching several vocational subjects, with a view to giving a bias towards the vocations and in order to enable the pupils to take to such vocations after their high school life. There are 38 High Schools, 325 Middle Schools, and 6 High Schools for Girls and 33 Middle Schools for Girls. There are 12 Training Institutions for Training Teachers in Middle and Primary Schools. The control over primary education has been made over to the local bodies under the Elementary Educational Regulation of 1930. There are also schools for imparting instruction in agricultural, commercial, engineering and other technical subjects.

The Mysore State Troops:—The combatant strength of the Military Force is about 1,500 of which 500 are in Mysore Lancers and 130 in the Mysore Horses and the remaining in the Infantry. Besides there is a mechanical Transport Corps which consists of two six-wheeler lorries and 4 commercial lorries with the necessary staff. The annual expenditure is about 16 lakhs of Rupees.

The Mysore State Railways:—The lines worked hitherto by the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company have been taken over by the Mysore State from 1st January 1938. It now ranks among the first-class Railways in India with a total open mileage of 732 miles under their management. It has resumed control of Bangalore. Harihar and Yeswantapur-Hindupur Sections, which for a period of thirty years, had been worked by the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company on behalf of Government of Mysore. It has also taken over Bangalore City Railway Station except the management of the Broad-Guage Goods Shed and Broad-Guage portion of the permanent way.

There are two Traffic Districts with Headquarters at Mysore and Bangalore, with the following jurisdiction :—

(1) Bangalore City is the Headquarters for :
Harihar-Bangalore City Section,
Yelahanka to Dodkurugood,
Amrutapur to Chitaldrug,
Sivapur to Anandapuram,
Duggalpura to Narasimharajapuram, and

LIFE HISTORY OF
HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF MYSORE

SRI KRISHNARAJA WADIYAR BAHADUR, G.C.S.I., G.B.E., was born on 4th June, 1884. He was installed on the historic throne of Mysore at the early age of 11. During the minority of His Highness, the State was administered by His Highness's mother, Her Highness Sri Vanivilasa Sannidhana, C.I., as Regent. The education of the Maharaja while a minor, was at first entrusted to Mr. J. J. Whiteley of Cooper's Hill Engineering College. Mr. (afterwards Sir Stuart) Fraser of the Indian Civil Service was later appointed Tutor and Governor to His Highness. His Highness attained his majority in 1902 and on 8th August of the same year he was invested with full ruling powers. His Highness takes a keen interest in the administration of the State. During the 34 years' rule of His Highness, Mysore has made remarkable progress in all directions and has won the name of a "Model State". Mysore took the lead in constitutional developments and in the association of the non-officials and officials in the administration of the State. The establishment of the University of Mysore, the institution of the Legislative Council and the Economic Conference, the inauguration of the Iron and Steel Works at Bhadravati and the construction of the Krishnarajasagara Dam and Reservoir and the Irwin Canal are a few of the outstanding features of the reign of His Highness. Within a couple of weeks of the declaration of war by England against Germany, His Highness placed at the Viceroy's disposal a sum of Rs. 50 lakhs, towards the Indian War Fund. His Highness has also contributed a sum of Rs. 2 lakhs to the Imperial Indian Relief Fund. The Silver Jubilee of the reign of His Highness was celebrated in August 1927 with an enthusiasm unparalleled in the annals of the State. There was no town or hamlet in the State which did not celebrate the joyous occasion. The celebrations were organised by a committee consisting of leading citizens from the different parts of the State and subscriptions to the extent of Rs. 4½ lakhs were collected. Of this amount, nearly one lakh was allotted for expenditure on objects of local utility leaving about Rs. 3½ lakhs for a Central Jubilee Memorial. This amount is utilized for starting a Technological Institute to be named after His Highness and the proposal has been approved by the Government. The building of this Institute had its foundation-stone laid by His Highness on the 8th March 1933. An accomplished musician himself, His Highness is well-known for his encouragement of music and painting, both Indian and Western. His Highness is a keen Sportsman, a fine polo, tennis and racquet player and a splendid shot. His Highness has lately returned to Mysore after an extensive Continental Tour.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF

AMIN-UL-MULK SIR MIRZA M. ISMAIL, K.C.I.E., O.B.E., C.St.J.,

Dewan of Mysore.

Of an ancient, Aristocratic Persian Family, AMIN-UL-MULK SIR MIRZA MUHAMMED ISMAIL, K.C.I.E., O.B.E., C.St. J., Dewan of Mysore, was born at Bangalore on the 23rd October, 1883. The history of his immediate forbears is one of close and intimate connection with Mysore and a fine record of devotion, loyalty and service to the Royal Family. His grandfather, the late Mr. Ali Asker, who was personally known to Sir Mark Cubbon, was a devoted friend and associate of His Highness Maharaja Sri Krishnarajendra Wadiyar III of Mysore. His father Mr. Aga Jan, had the distinction of serving the State in the capacity of A.D.C. to His Highness the late Maharaja, Her Highness the late Maharani, C.I., during the memorable period of her regency and His Highness the present Maharaja successively. A fitting culmination to a long and bright tradition of service and loyalty to the State and its Rulers, which his father and grandfather before him set up, is Sir Mirza Ismail who, by dint of sheer industry and devotion to all that concerns the well-being of Mysore, has worked his way up to the highest office in the State which he has been, happily, filling for over ten years now with great ability and personal distinction.

Sir Mirza Ismail received his early training in the Wesleyan Mission High School in Bangalore and he has not missed an opportunity of giving grateful expression to his appreciation of the service of Mission Schools in the cause of Indian education and the building up of character, on which he himself constitutes such an illuminating commentary.

He next became the classmate and companion of His Highness the present Maharaja, Sri Krishnaraja Wadiyar IV, under that able tutor, Mr. Stuart Fraser, I.C S., (subsequently Sir Stuart Fraser, K.C.S.I., and Resident in Mysore) and it may well be presumed that not a little of the harmony of temperaments and consonance of views on men and things between the Maharaja and his devoted Prime Minister, which have made the latter the Dewan after His Highness's own heart, was evolved during this period. Sir Mirza Ismail then joined that great public institution, the Central College of Bangalore, which added a democratic outlook to a man of aristocratic tradition. He graduated from the Central College in the year 1904, and that great characteristic of his, namely, refusal to subordinate great issues to lesser loyalties, which later in life marked him out as a front rank Round Tabler, must be ascribed to the excellent training that he received under sterling teachers, such as, Principals Cook and Tait, in that hoary institution.

He next entered the Mysore Civil Service as Assistant Superintendent of Police in the very year of his graduation and three years later he joined the personal staff of His Highness the Maharaja. His flair for administration soon made itself felt as he rapidly rose to be His Highness's Huzur Secretary in February, 1914 and His Highness's Private Secretary in the year 1922. When four years later on the 1st May, 1926 to be exact he was called by His Highness to fill the highest administrative office in the State—the office of Dewan—he confessed he looked upon it as a great and unique opportunity, "less as an appointment than as a great mission of patriotic service" and subsequent events have amply borne him out. Honours, those tokens by which the discerning world marks out its great men, came to him in rapid succession. He was honoured by His Highness by the conferment of the title of "Amin-ul-Mulk" in the Dasara Durbar of 1920. His Majesty the King-Emperor marked his appreciation of his great services to Mysore, India and the Empire by the conferment of a series of titles, viz., the "Order of the British Empire" in January 1933, the "Order of the Commander of the Indian Empire" in June 1924, and the "Knighthood" in January 1930. Recently, in January 1936, he was made the Knight Commander of the Most Eminent Order of the India Empire, with which Lord Willingdon, the late Viceroy, decorated him at the Investiture held at Delhi in March 1936.

To the Indian constitutional discussions Sir Mirza Ismail made a weighty contribution and his services in the cause of the evolution of a Greater India—the Indian Federation that is to be—will go down to history. He represented the South Indian States of Mysore, Travancore, Cochin and Pudukotta, at the First Round Table Conference and the States of Mysore, Jaipur and Jodhpur at the Second Round Table Conference with conspicuous ability and distinction. He also helped to give the finishing touches to that great scheme of Reforms during the Third Round Table Conference and the deliberations of the Joint Parliamentary Committee on Indian Reforms derived substantial help by the presence of this Representative of Mysore of whom it has been truly said that "reasonableness and fairness, non-communalism and zeal for reform characterised all his work".

* * * * *

Sir Mirza Ismail has in Zebinda Begum, daughter of the late Mr. Muhummad Mirza Shirazee of Bombay, a most devoted consort who has identified herself closely with great zeal and energy with all that concerns the well-being and prosperity of the women and children of Mysore. They have one son (Mr. Humayun Mirza employed in the Mysore Civil Service now, as Dewan of Banganapalle) and two daughters.

PLACES OF INTEREST

BANGALORE

BANGALORE is situated at the centre of a table-land, 3,000 feet above the level of the sea, and is endowed by nature with a very salubrious climate. It covers an area of over 20 square miles and comprises two separate parts, viz., the City proper and the Civil and Military Station, with a total population of nearly 230,000.

A special feature of the City is its extensions, in the development of which the Government have assisted very largely. The extensions run from Malleswaram on the north, adjoining the Indian Institute of Science and the Filter Beds, to Chamarajpet, Shankarpur, Visveswarapuram, Gavipur and Basavangudi in the south.

The main historical interest of the City centres round the Fort:—

The Fort:—The Fort is now practically a part of the City and has no military value or purpose.

The original Fort was of mud, and is said to have been erected in 1537 A.D., by Kempe Gowda, Prabhu of Yelahanka and ancestor of the Magadi Chiefs. Under its Hindu masters, viz., the Magadi Gowdas, the Mahratta Governors subordinate to the Adil Shahi princes of Bijapur, and lastly the Mysore Wadiyars, the Fort retained its old character, with, no doubt, some additions to its strength. But under the Mahomedans, the fortress was enlarged and rebuilt of stone. This work is attributed to a Khilledar named Ibrahim Sahib, and was carried out in 1761 A.D., the first year of Haidar Ali's reign. The form of the Fort is oval, with round towers at proper intervals. It had, when captured by the British in 1791 A.D., five powerful cavaliers, a feusse-bray, a good ditch, and covered way without palisades, but the glacis was imperfect in some parts. The two gateways, one in the north and the other in the south, were called the Delhi and the Mysore gates, respectively. The former, which opened towards the Pete, was a handsome structure in the best style of Mahomedan military architecture, and consisted of several gates surmounted by traverses. But, there being no ditch between the gates, an enemy taking possession of the works over the first gateway had a ready communication with all the others, which the British troops, who stormed the Fort at this point, took advantage of.

Within the Fort, the principal building was the Mahal or Palace, which, though the walls were of mud, was not without some degree of magnificence. The building was of two storeys. A large open court in front was surrounded by a corridor, in the centre of which, opposite the Palace, was the Naubat Khana, or raised bandstand. The upper storey of the Palace contained the public and private apartments of the Sultan and his ladies, with two balconies of State from which he gave audience. Paint and false gilding decorated the walls.

When the Fort was restored to Tippu at the peace of 1792 A.D., he dismantled it: but after 1799 A.D., Purnaiya had it completely restored on the former foundation. On the removal of the British garrison from Seringapatam in 1809 A.D., some of the troops had their quarters in the Fort, where the General Commanding and many of the European residents also lived. The arsenal was not transferred to it till about 1823 A.D. The Fort was handed over to the civil authorities on the 2nd October 1888. A memorial of unique importance in the City is the Cenotaph which was erected in memory of those who fell in the capture of Bangalore in 1791 A.D.

Lal-Bagh:—This beautiful pleasure garden, situated about a mile to the east of the Fort, appears to have been first laid out in the time of Haidar Ali and enlarged in the time of Tippu Sultan. In 1856, it was formed into a horticultural garden, under the management of a professional Superintendent.

It contains a rare and valuable collection of tropical and sub-tropical plants, together with indigenous and foreign fruit trees. A handsome and spacious glass-house, the foundation-stone of which was laid by the late Prince Albert Victor of Wales, has been erected as an Exhibition Hall.

Maharaja's Palace:—This fine building is situated to the west of the Cantonment Railway Station. The main building is two-storeyed and is designed after a wing of the famous Windsor Castle. There are separate apartments for the zanana and these are connected with the rest of the Palace by a covered passage.

Cubbon Park:—The Park is named after the late Sir Mark Cubbon, who was the Chief Commissioner of Mysore. It covers an area of more than 100 acres. Within the Park are the Public Offices, the Seshadri Memorial Hall, the Government Museum and an equestrian statue of Sir Mark Cubbon. There are also to be found beautiful fountains and a new bandstand surrounded by a promenade with garden seats.

Public Offices, (Mysore Government):—The Public Offices of the Mysore Government, popularly known as "Atara Kacheri," consist of a two-storeyed building in the Grecian style, with verandahs all round; the length of the building, including the new additions, is over 800 feet. The lower storey is entirely of stone. The Government Secretariat, the High Court and the Financial Department are accommodated here and over a thousand persons attend these offices daily.

Statues of Queen Victoria and King Edward VII:—The statue of Queen Victoria stands at the north-east corner of the Cubbon Park. It was erected by the people of Mysore, including the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, in memory of the great queen. The statue is of white marble and is eleven feet high, including the plinth. The pedestal is of Mysore grey granite. The unveiling ceremony was performed on the 5th February 1906, by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales (His late Majesty King George V), during his visit to the State.

At the north-west corner of Cubbon Park facing the General Post and Government Telegraph Offices is the statue of King Edward VII erected by public subscription. It was unveiled by His Excellency Lord Chelmsford in 1919.

Seshadri Memorial Hall:—This imposing building was built by public subscriptions aggregating over a lakh of rupees, in honour of the late Rajyadurandhara Sir K. Seshadri Iyer, K.C.S.I., who was Dewan of the State for 18 years from 1883 to 1901. To the south of the building is a bronze statue of that statesman, which was unveiled by His Excellency Lord Hardinge, Viceroy and Governor-General of India, on 20th November 1913.

The Public Library:—The Library is located in the Seshadri Memorial Hall. It was started in 1915 and remained a Government institution till 1920 when it became an aided one receiving a grant from Government. The institution is managed by a representative committee consisting of 15 members of whom 7 are elected by subscribers and the rest nominated by Government every year. It contains over 16,000 volumes on all branches of human knowledge. The institution gets over 120 representative periodicals of India and abroad. It has also a fairly good collection of reference books on all subjects. It possesses a valuable set of historical pictures, depicting scenes of stirring events in the annals of Mysore.

The Central College:—This was established in 1858 as a High School and was converted into a College in July 1875. It was affiliated to the University of Madras in November 1877 and has now become one of the constituent colleges of the Mysore University. It provides instruction in English, Sanskrit and modern languages and in Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Zoology and Geology. It has on its rolls 600 under-graduate students under instruction in various classes. The College is equipped with up-to-date laboratories for Physics, Chemistry, Botany, Geology and Zoology. Provision is made, on the college premises, for cricket, football, tennis and hockey. A substantial number of scholarships, free studentships and prizes are awarded annually, these being partly private endowments, and partly provided by the Government. A hostel, accommodating about 100 students, is attached to the College.

The Engineering College:—This College was started in the year 1917 by the University of Mysore. It prepares candidates for the Degree of Bachelor of Engineering in the three main branches of Engineering, i.e., Civil, Mechanical and Electrical. The course of instruction consists of four years of tuition in the College, followed by one year of practical training in an approved institution under recognised engineers. The College is provided with a full complement of Workshops, Power plant, Engineering and Hydraulic Laboratories and Gas plant. A fully equipped Electric Laboratory has been recently added.

The Vani Vilas Institute:—This institute is named after Her Highness the late Maharani, C.I., and is specially equipped for the higher education of women in science. It was started as a Middle and High School for girls in the year 1918. The University Entrance class was opened in 1922 when the Middle School section was abolished. In 1926, it was made an Intermediate College and specialises in Mathematics and Science.

Victoria Hospital:—This hospital was constructed as a memorial of the reign of Queen Victoria the Good, at an aggregate cost of nearly eight lakhs of rupees. The foundation-stone for the building was laid on the Diamond Jubilee day of the late Queen-Empress (22nd June 1897) by Her Highness the Maharani Regent, C.I., and the hospital was opened by His Excellency Lord Curzon in December 1900. It has accommodation for 1,400 patients, besides quarters for the staff. Special wards for paying patients (both European and Indian) are also provided. Departments for treating throat; nose and ear diseases, and dental ailments, and for X-ray work, have also been provided. A new out-patient department has been constructed and opened in 1924.

During the year 1936, 107,861 out-patients were treated, 6,187 in-patients were admitted and 7,740 surgical operations were performed.

(The University Medical School is attached to the institution. There are 115 students in the L.M.P. Section).

The Minto Ophthalmic Hospital:—The foundation-stone of this building was laid by His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore on 17th December 1910 in commemoration of the visit of His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Earl of Minto, G.C.M.G., G.M.S.I., G.M.I.E. The building has cost two lakhs and eighty-two thousand rupees.

The number treated during 1936 was 2,743 in-patients and 41,123 out-patients. The total number of operations performed was 5,312.

The Maternity Hospital:—The Vani Vilas Maternity Hospital, Bangalore, was newly constructed, and was graciously opened by His Highness the Maharaja on 8th March 1935.

The number of in-patients excluding parturition cases, was 2,316. The number of out-patients treated was 32,908.

The Mythic Society:—This Society was founded in the year 1909 and is located in the Daly Memorial Hall on the Cenotaph Road. It is devoted to the study of and research in the sciences of Archæology, History, Ethnology, Religion and allied subjects with particular reference to Mysore and South India in general. The Society maintains a valuable Library and Free Reading Room and conducts a quarterly journal in which are published contributions from members on the subjects to which the Society is devoted. This journal has a wide circulation throughout India and abroad and it is on the exchange list of all the important Research Societies in the world engaged in similar work.

City Y.M.C.A.:—This building stands on a site about five acres in extent, which was granted free of cost by the Mysore Government. The foundation-stone of the building was laid by His Highness the Maharaja in August 1912. The athletic grounds include football and cricket fields, and tennis, volley-ball and basket ball courts. The building is within easy reach of the principal educational institutions and the Public Offices. In the building, there are a library, games rooms, a hostel for students and others and a good auditorium which is used for public lectures and social functions.

The Government Museum:—The Bangalore Museum was established in 1864. The collections were at first lodged in a portion of the old Cantonment Jail. The present building was constructed in 1877 and the collections were removed to it in 1878.

The Museum is open to the public from 7-30 A.M. to 5-30 P.M. on all days of the week except Wednesdays and a few special holidays. The afternoons of Mondays, after 2 P.M. are set apart for the visits of Gosha and other ladies when no male is allowed.

The entrance hall contains crude and polished stone weapons and implements, celts and axes, crudeiron implements, early pottery, etc., of the pre-historic period. Some examples of " Virkals " memorials raised respectively of heroes who fell in the battle are exhibited. Some samples of fragmentary figures showing the sculptural and engraved work are shown. Photographs of temples showing the styles of architecture and the fine carvings of some of them, are hung on the wall. Some copperplate inscriptions are also exhibited.

The main hall contains collections of geological specimens, economic products, samples of wood obtaining in the forests of Mysore, ethnological objects, arms, ivory, sandalwood and other wood work; metal-ware: botanical models; coins and medals and other miscellaneous objects.

In the gallery, Zoological collections, e.g., mammals, birds, reptiles, fishes, shells and corals, and insects are arranged in a series of cases.

The Meteorological Observatory:—Adjoins the Central College. It was opened in 1893. It possesses self-recording Barographs, Thermographs and an Anemograph. A Sunshine Recorder automatically traces the amount of bright sunshine each day. It is one of the best equipped observatories in India.

Jewell Filters:—There are three of these situated on the left of the Tumkur road a little beyond Sankey's tank. They are 17 feet in diameter and capable of filtering 386 gallons per minute each. From them water is distributed in iron mains to the City.

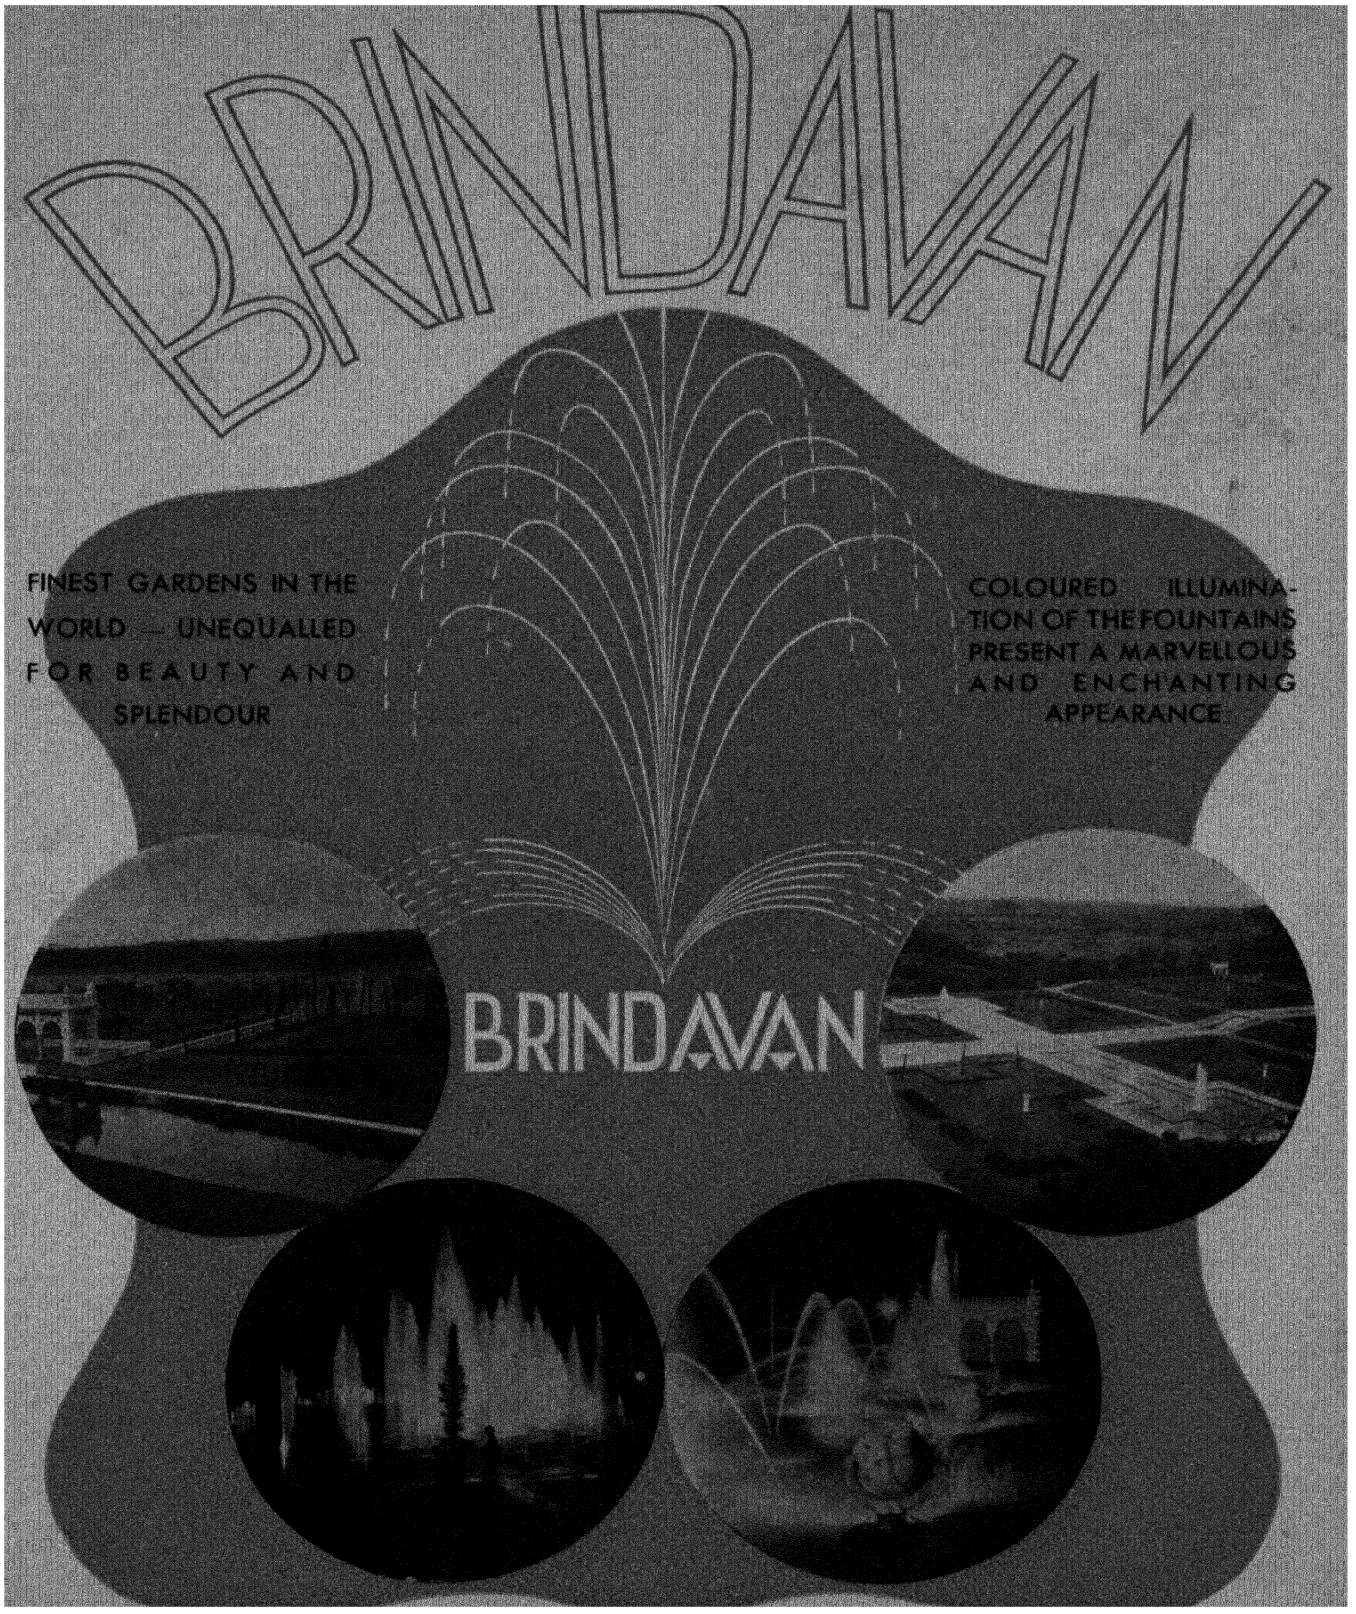

The Indian Institute of Science:—Is situated three miles out of Bangalore on the Tumkur road. It owes its origin to the genius and munificence of the late Mr. J. N. Tata of Bombay and his two sons, who in about 1896 proposed to vest in trustees, properties to the capital value of thirty lakhs of rupees for the purpose of endowing a Research Institute for India.

Some years after, the Institute was started. It is a post-graduate University institution and its object is the promotion of advanced studies, and original research with regard to the interests of India. There are departments with well-equipped laboratories of General Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, Applied Chemistry, and Electro Technology.

The Hebbal Agricultural Farm and School:—The farm is situated five miles from Bangalore on the Bangalore-Chikballapur road, and comprises about 60 acres of dry land and about 20 acres of wet land.

The farm came out into being in 1905, and was organised by the Agricultural Chemist to the Mysore Government. With the reorganisation of the department the activities of the farm enhanced, and there was a rearrangement of the experiments conducted in it.

The school is the oldest in the State. It offers a three years' course in English and leads up to a Licentiateship in Agriculture. The number of students who have entered the school is 246, and out of these, 114 students have passed out since its organisation. Many of these have been absorbed into the department as Agricultural Inspectors and some have taken to farming.

MYSORE CITY

MYSORE is the capital of the State and residence of the Maharaja; it is situated 86 miles to the south-west of Bangalore at the north-western base of the Chamundi Hill.

" The City is built in a valley formed of two ridges, running north and south. There is also a slight ascent on the northern side. The streets out of the Fort were comparatively broad and regular, and contained many substantial houses, some of them two or three storeys high. Within the Fort, which is in the southern quarter, the streets were narrow and irregular, and most of the former houses had a mean and squalid appearance. But the great extension of the City, especially to the south-west, during recent years and the immense improvements introduced on all sides, have so completely transformed the place that persons who knew Mysore as it was thirty years ago would hardly recognise the present handsome and growing City, with its magnificent wide roads and imposing buildings ".

In the older parts of the City, the changes have been equally striking. The most important, perhaps, has been the filling of the great drain known as Purnaiya's Nallah. Its place has been taken by a fine wide road called Sayyaji Rao Road, named after the Gaekwar of Baroda. The Sri Narasimharaja Boulevard on the way to the Chamundi Hills and Nishat Bagh close to the Hardinge Circle are similar improvements.

Conspicuous on the high ground, in Gordon Park, are the Public Offices, surmounted by a dome, with the statue of Sir James Gordon in front of the building. Close by, are the Victoria Jubilee Institute and the Mysore University buildings. Farther south are the groups of the Law Courts.

The race course, with the polo ground which it encircles, is another spot of great attraction in Mysore City. With lakes on either side, beautiful buildings in the distance on one side, and lovely gardens, thick wood in front, and the stately Chamundi Hill beyond, the situation of the race course is picturesque in the extreme.

Festivals in Mysore.—There are two occasions every year when the City is en fete. The first in May or June when it rejoices on account of the Birthday of His Highness the Maharaja. There is a procession from the Palace through the City to the Government House, His Highness the Maharaja riding all the way on a superb charger. A review of State troops is then held on the Parade Ground adjacent to the Government House which at night is splendidly illuminated. The return procession is still more imposing as the entire route is resplendent with festoons of electric lights. The Palace when illuminated appears like a globe of molten gold and presents a picture of unique beauty. Race meetings, polo, football tournaments and animal shows are also held during the Birthday week.

The second series of festivities take place during the Dasara which usually falls between September and October. It extends over ten days when huge crowds from all parts of India are attracted to the City. His Highness the Maharaja seated on the ancient throne of Mysore holds Durbar every evening. Thousands witness the function from the courtyard below. On the tenth day of Dasara, a triumphal procession takes place, one that is unique in solemnity and grandeur. His Highness the Maharaja, accompanied by his brother, His Highness the Yuvaraja, rides through the decorated streets on an elephant. After sunset, a review of troops is held on the Bannimantap maidan, ablaze with electric lights. The sight is one of the most spectacular that even India the Land of Pageantry, with a capital P, has to offer.

To the devout Hindu, Dasara is of peculiar, religious and symbolic significance; to the sympathetic observer, the ceremony as enacted at Mysore is unforgettably impressive. Two or three days after the Dasara the Car festival of Sri Chamundeswari the tutelary Goddess of the Mysore Royal Family takes place on the Chamundi Hill close by.

Chamundi Hill:—A rocky hill two miles south-east of the Fort of Mysore, rising to a height of 3,489 feet above the level of the sea. Owing to its isolated position and precipitous sides, it renders the position of City of Mysore conspicuous from afar. The oldest temple on the hill is that of Mahabaleswara, which was endowed by the Hoysala King Vishnu Vardhana in 1128, and in 1620 by a descendant of Vijayanagar Kings ruling at Chandragiri.

The hill takes its name from the Goddess Kali or Chamundi, the consort of Siva, who is worshipped in a temple on the summit. Human sacrifices were common here in old times, but were put a stop to under the administration of Haidar. Krishnaraja Wadiyar III repaired this shrine in 1827 and furnished it with a tower, which is a conspicuous landmark from almost all directions below. In 1843 he presented it with the Simhavahana and other cars used in processions. A flight of stone steps leads to the top of the hill, and two-thirds of the way up, cut out of the solid rock, is a colossal figure of Nandi, the Holy Bull. The height of the figure is not less than 16 feet; the animal is represented in a recumbent posture with trappings and chains of bells round the neck. Although the carving is in no way extraordinary, yet the gigantic size, the correct proportions of the statue, and the labour that must have been expended on it, render it inferior to no work of art of the kind in South India. Dodda Deva Raja, who ascended the throne in 1659, and of whose character religion was the chief feature, was the author of this remarkable monument of devout zeal.

There is a bungalow at the top belonging to the Royal Family.

A new road to the Hill branching off southwards from the Narasimharaja Boulevard, has recently been completed. Motors can go up by this road to the temple. Midway on this road is "Douglas Rice's Circle" wherefrom a good view of the City below can be had. From this circle, a branch road goes to the Big Bull.

The big temple on the top is the holy shrine of Chamundeswari, the tutelary Goddess of the Mysore Royal Family. She destroyed the buffalo-headed monster, Mahishasura, and is otherwise called "Mahishasura-Mardini". The idol of the Goddess in the temple is represented as seated on a lion, with twenty hands, in the act of killing the monster.

A car festival takes place on the hill every October and is largely attended.

On the south-eastern spur of the hill along the new motor road is Lalitadri. At a slight elevation, a clearing has been made and new trees planted. A pretty little cottage has been built and a revolving platform put up from which a good view of the surrounding country could be had.

The Palace:—The Palace is an imposing structure of Indo-Saracenic style. Its interior is no disappointment to a Westerner, however extravagant may be his notion with regard to the lavish luxury appropriate to the residence of an oriental potentate. A forest of gilded pillars, lofty portals, amazing frescoes, illustrating the Ramayana and Mahabharata, the great Durbar Hall, takes one's breath away with its multi-coloured brilliance, while the smaller Durbar Hall is a museum of exquisite inlaid wood work, an industry for which Mysore has been noted ever since the sixth century A.D.

The Mysore coat of arms, which is naturally well to the fore in the Palace decorations is as imposing as everything else connected with the Royal Family. It consists of a double-headed eagle with elephants in beaks and claws, known as Ganda-Bherunda. This emblem, which is of great antiquity, was the insignia of the Telugu Kota chiefs in the thirteenth century and was employed in the sixteenth century by Achuta Raya of Vijayanagar, who issued coins with the figure of Ganda-Bherunda, stamped upon the reverse side.

The Palace Armoury occupies a niche apart in one's mental picture gallery, for here are preserved, polished and perfect as though they might be required for use at a moment's notice, the famous weapons of Haidar Ali and Tippu Sultan, the wagh-nakhs or steel claws beloved of Shivaji, the famous "Mountain Rat," leader of the Marathas, and a peculiarly diabolical invention consisting of scissors with five prongs, for ripping up the internal machinery of any warrior.

Jaganmohan Palace and Chitrasala:—This was originally built as an ornament to the City and a place of amusement for the European officers. The walls on the second floor are painted with pictures representing the then Maharaja in procession, on shikar expeditions and so on. The place has recently been converted into an Art Gallery. Attached at the front is a huge pavilion which is now used for holding meetings of the Representative Assembly and the Convocations of the University of Mysore.

The Lalitha Mahal Palace:—This is another magnificent building which no visitor should miss. It is intended specially for the use of most distinguished guests. It stands on an eminence to the east of the City and is surrounded by a beautiful terraced garden. Though the distance from the City is four miles, even as a walk it is enjoyable. The series of boulevards, the well-planned roads with circles and squares, the artistically laid out gardens on either side in one continuous line, the handsome hamlets built in attractive style on the two sides of the broad road—all these make the pedestrian pleasant and render the journey a delight. The cost of the whole buildings is Rs. 24,30,000.

Lokaranjan Mahal (The Summer Palace):—This is one of the several Royal buildings in the Capital. It is situated at some distance east of the Fort. It was here that the late Maharaja, and later on our present sovereign, received their education.

Within the compound are to be found racquet courts and a swimming bath.

The Palace Stables:—His Highness the Maharaja's riding, polo and race horses are kept here. The State horse of spotless white is an object of special interest.

The Chamarajendra Zoological Garden:—This was opened in 1892 and has since been greatly improved. The garden has recently been re-arranged, with new walks, artificial lakes and a band-stand. The housings for the animals have all been renewed. The collection of animals is large and varied and includes lions, tigers, panthers, leopards, polar bears, black and brown bears, giraffes, llamas, hyænas, white fallow deer, antelopes, barking deer, porcupine, ostriches, zebra, and a large tribe of monkeys and birds. Lions and tigers roam at will in an open space, surrounded by a moat too wide for them to traverse. They are in superb condition and a source of never-ending delight to the good folk who use the Zoo as an open air club. Like most institutions in Mysore, the Modern Capital, the gardens and everything pertaining thereto are immaculately tidy and well-ordered.

The Government House:—This building is reserved for the residence of distinguished European guests of His Highness. The front portion of the building, which possesses a large and handsome portico, was erected in 1805 under Major Wilks, and is of the Doric style of architecture. The rear portion was added a few years later by Sir John Malcolm, and comprises one of the largest rooms without pillars in Southern India. It was designed by De Haviland.

Wellington Lodge is situated opposite the west gate of Government House.

The Maharaja's College, Mysore:—This institution was founded in 1833 by His Highness the Maharaja Mummadi Sri Krishnaraja Wadiyar Bahadur as a free High School. In 1868, the school was taken over by Government. It was affiliated to the University of Madras as a Second Grade College in 1879, and as a First Grade College in 1894. It is now a constituent College of the Mysore University. There is a hostel attached to it which can accommodate 150 students.

The Maharani's College:—This is one of the earliest institutions of the kind established in South India, and has had a great influence in the development of female education in the State. It was started in 1881, as a school for high-class girls and was recognised as a High School in 1895. In 1900 its name was changed from "the Maharani's Caste Girls' School" to "the Maharani's College." The institution is open to the children of all respectable caste Hindus as well as Europeans, Eurasians, Indian Christians, Mahomedans and Jews. It became a constituent College of the Mysore University in 1916.

The Library receives nearly 60 periodical publications and contains complete sets of important journals.

Chamarajendra Technical Institute:—The foundation-stone of this institute was laid by His Gracious Majesty the King-Emperor in 1906.

A small industrial school was started by the Mysore Government in 1892. From the few original classes and with the addition of many new arts and industries, the above institute was formed and installed in the present building in 1913.

The aims of the institute are to train and fit young men for their life work, to foster and improve the indigenous industries, to improve local craftsmanship and to demonstrate more efficient means of labour and new industries. The number of students on its rolls is 351.

The object of the School of Art is to provide instruction in all those branches of painting, sculpture, design and handicrafts which influence the more artistic trades and professions now practised, and which may be developed in the State. The total expenditure incurred for the maintenance of training section of the institute was Rs. 43,844.

School for Deaf-Mutes and the Blind:—This institution was founded in 1901 and has 95 students on its rolls.

Sri Krishnarajendra Hospital—This hospital was started in 1876 and reconstructed at a cost of about 5 lakhs of rupees in 1918. The main building is two storeyed, terraced and fitted with up-to-date sanitary fittings. Besides the general out-patients' department for men and women, there are the special departments such as the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat departments and the Electro-therapeutic department, including X-ray. The number of in-patients and out-patients treated during the year 1936 was 6,994 and 101,719 respectively.

Princess Krishnajammanni Tuberculosis Sanatorium:—This institution is one of the many gifts to the town by the Royal House of Mysore and is dedicated to the memory of the late Princess Sri Krishnajammanni who fell a victim to tuberculosis. It has accommodation for 98 beds. The institution has lately been equipped with an up-to-date X-ray plant. Three hundred and forty-eight patients were treated in 1936. One thousand six hundred and seventeen operations were done in the same year. In the out-patient dispensary, Mysore City, 1,668 patients were treated.

NANJANGUD

NANJANGUD, 12 miles south of Mysore, is on the Mysore-Chamarajanagar Railway. It is the head-quarters of the Nanjangud Taluk in the Mysore District and has population of 7,453.

A celebrated car festival lasting three days is held here annually towards the end of March and is attended by thousands of devotees from all parts of Southern India. The temple is 385 feet long and 160 feet broad, and is supported by 147 columns. Some of the images are carved with great perfection of finish. Surrounding the outside of the temple are the figures of various deities, with their names inscribed below, so that each votary can find his patron saint. The Gopura was erected in 1845 by Mummadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar, and various shrines were added by the Royal ladies down to 1853. The temple is inferior in point of sanctity to none in the Mysore District and receives an annual allowance from Government of over Rs. 20,000.

About a mile from Nanjangud is a fine bungalow, near, which is a rude stone bridge across the Kabbani, constructed about 125 years ago by Devaraj, the Dalavayi of Mysore.

THE KRISHNARAJ SAGAR WORKS AND BRINDAVAN TERRACE GARDENS

The Cauvery river which takes its rise in Coorg traverses the Mysore plateau for about 150 miles and then entering the Madras Presidency runs for a distance of nearly 300 miles and falls into the Bay of Bengal. The total drainage area of the river is 27,000 sq. miles, of which Mysore claims about 11,500 sq. miles. In the Mysore State, the river is of special value for both irrigation and power supply.

The Krishnaraj Sagar Dam constructed across the river Cauvery, is situated at a distance of about 12 miles north-west of Mysore and about 9 miles from the historic town of Seringapatam. This is the largest irrigation work in the State. The Reservoir was built with the double object of ensuring a steady supply of water for generating hydro-electric power at Sivasamudram and for supplying water for irrigation of about 125,000 acres of land situated mostly in the dry and arid tract of Mandya, Maddur and Malavalli Taluks. The power generation at Sivasamudram has been gradually increased as need arose, to its present capacity of 46,000 E. H. P.

The Reservoir Dam is $1\frac{3}{4}$ miles long and is intended to store 124 feet depth of water at full Reservoir level. The total catchment area of the river above the Dam site is 4,000 sq. miles and the waterspread area of the lake is 49½ sq. miles. Its maximum storage capacity is 48,500 mc. ft. There are in all 170 sluices in the Dam, of different sizes at various levels, for purposes of irrigation supply, power generation scour, and for passing down the floods. The highest unprecedented floods of 1924 in the river Cauvery gave a discharge of 280,000 cusecs. The maximum discharging capacity of all the sluices in the Dam at the full Reservoir level is 350,000 cusecs. The waste weir alone consists of 136 vents provided with cast-iron gates manufactured by the Mysore Iron and Steel Works at Bhadravati. Forty-eight of these gates are of the automatic type which open automatically when the water level in the Reservoir rises to 124 feet and close as the water level falls. The remaining gates are regulated by means of operating machines worked by electric power. The Dam is the third biggest in the World, being excelled only by the Mettur Dam and the Assuan Dam. It is situated at a distance of about one mile from the Krishnaraj Sagar Railway Station. There is also a good motorable road which affords easy access to the place from Mysore. At the entrance to the Dam, an ornamental gateway has been built from which a concrete road leads onwards over the Dam. The top of the Dam with its main entrance and ornamental parapets presents a magnificent sight especially at night times when it is strikingly illuminated from bank to bank. The huge discharge of water through the sluices on the one side of the road and the vast expanse of water on the other greatly add to an already imposing sight. Below the Dam is situated the artistically laid out terrace gardens called 'Brindavan' on both banks of the river which can be approached by car.

The garden on the south side is situated about two furlongs from the gateway and extends over an area of 20 acres. At the entrance of this garden, in a niche built in the face of the Dam, is located a beautiful image of the Goddess of Cauvery with a bowl in her hand from which flows water symbolising a continuous prosperity and benevolence of all coming within her purview. A small garden is laid out in front of this image and a little beyond is a cistern 80 feet in diameter with a vertical jet at the centre and several fountains at the sides dropping into the basin. The cistern is decorated with a number of illuminated animals lit up during nights. Around the cistern the terrace has been laid out with lawns and foot-paths. In front of the cistern is a charming pavilion situated at the head of the gardens from which a panoramic view of the whole layout can be had. Below the pavilion and in front of it, lie three main terraces laid with beautiful beds of variegated colours. Two small pavilions situated on either side of the middle terrace and the two pergolas of the top terrace serve as places where visitors could sit and have an undisturbed view of the whole gardens. A sheet of water 15 feet wide drops from a height of 20 feet in front of the top pavilion and flows through a central channel by means of a series of cascades dropping finally into the main river in a number of semi-circular steps. At the middle of each terrace branching on either side of the central channel are two side channels extending almost to the ends of the terraces. Arched jets of water of various shapes play in these channels which end in broad masonry cisterns with high vertical fountains. The full length of the central channel is studded with a number of baby fountains and in the last terrace frothy fountains play parallel to the side arches, and the watery dome in the centre of it forms a special feature of the gardens. The central channel closes with a jet of water in the form of a triumphal arch issuing from the trunks of two elephants placed on either side. Well laid-out foot-paths run on either side of the channel. The remaining area of the terraces is formed with flowery beds and lawns.

The gardens in the North Bank are also similarly laid out with three terraces and a central channel with a huge square cistern in the central terrace with vertical jets of modulated heights in the channels and the cisterns. There is also a beautiful pavilion built up at the head of these gardens which is illuminated during nights with innumerable bulbs. During nights a battery of multi-coloured search-lights is made to light up the fountain sprays when it looks as though each fountain throws up into the air its own shower of jewels.

Recently, a large pond has been formed in the rear of the Dam connecting the two terrace gardens on the North and South Banks with a cascade at the end of the garden. A powerful high fountain shoots up to the full height of the Dam in the centre of the pond. Both the cascade and the fountains are flood-lit.

The variegated colours of the beds with a large number of ever-playing fountains, great and small, arranged all over, with subdued roar of the cascades give the whole place the appearance of the Wonder-land which is thrown into prominent relief, especially when the sun shines upon the watery sprays producing rainbow arches of charming colours on all sides. At nights a string of electric lights adorn the full length of the Dam and mildly illuminate the flowery landscape below. These with the coloured illumination of the fountains, present an appearance which is marvellous and enchanting to degree. The effect of flood-lighting this 'Fairy-land' has produced a living realisation of the greatness so vividly pictured by Persian poets in their lyrics and one may well remember the couplet—

" If there is a Paradise on Earth,
It is this, it is this, and it is this ".

The fountains play day and night, and people in a position to judge have declared these as one of the finest gardens in the world unequalled for their beauty and grandeur.

Adjacent to these gardens, there is also an orange grove with a plant nursery for ornamental, shady and economic trees. There is also an experimental orchard where varieties of fruits are grown.

For the convenience of the visitors, a Rest House commanding a full view of the gardens has been provided both for European and Indian visitors to the place. A dancing platform and a swimming pond are also provided for the use of the visitors. There is also a launch available for hire for being used on the lake.

A large canal named after Lord Irwin, the fomer Viceroy of India, takes off from the North Bank of the Dam and it is intended to irrigate an extent of 120,000 acres of land. The length of the main canal and its branches will be about 160 miles. At its commencement the Irwin Canal is 58 feet wide at bottom and 82 feet wide at top, with 12 feet depth of water for the full supply discharge of 2,200 cusecs. The salient features of the canal in its first 25 miles are that it cuts important ridges varying from 30 to 50 feet in depth which would otherwise have involved long detours, and that it crosses five large drainage streams, the largest aqueduct being 2,300 feet long including flume walls on both sides. A notable feature about the alignment of the canal is that it passes through a tunnel of $1\frac{3}{4}$ miles in length, bored through a range of hills which formed a formidable barrier to cross over the main irrigation tract situated on the other side of the hills. The tunnel is of horse-shoe shape and has a bottom width of 12 feet and a height of 15 feet. It is cut in hard rock for about 6,000 feet long. The tunnel runs at a depth varying from 67 feet to 150 feet below the ground level, and is spoken of as the largest irrigation tunnel in the world. It is situated at about 5 miles from the Byaderhalli Railway Station on the Mysore-Bangalore Section, and is reached by a picturesque motorable road. On emerging from the tunnel, the canal commands a wide expanse of land of nearly 300,000 acres on the plains of Mandya, Maddur, Malvalli and T.-Narsipur Taluks and part of Nagamangala Taluk, which are subject to chronic drought. Of this an extent of about 114,000 acres only is selected for irrigation beyond the tunnel. The tract to be served is one of the most typical dry areas of the State. The system of irrigation adopted is one of cultivation by rotation of crops which is intended to obviate the evils of water logging and unhealthiness caused by intensive irrigation. The chief idea of this system of cultivation is to irrigate lands on a rotating basis so that dry, wet and other perennial crops can be cultivated by turns. Various facilities have been and are being made available to the cultivators with a view to provide for efficient and up-to-date organisations to deal with all special wants peculiar to this large irrigation scheme. The works so far carried out on the main canal and some of the distributaries have afforded water facilities for irrigating about 60,000 acres against 120,000 acres contemplated in the Project.

With a view to arrange for the supply of sound sugar-cane seed under the Irwin Canal and to conduct experiments in the cultivation of sugar-cane and for raising suitable dry and semi-dry crops, a large model Agricultural Farm of an extensive area of about 600 acres has been established at a distance of 7 miles from Mandya Railway Station on the Bangalore-Mysore Line. Hydraulic experiments connected with duties of water for irrigation for various kinds of crops are also conducted at the Farm.

In order to find a profitable outlet for the sugar-cane grown under the Irwin Canal, a Sugar Factory capable of crushing 1,400 tons of cane a day has been established at Mandya. This factory has also taken up the work of distillery to make use of the by-product, viz., molasses.

BELUR, HALEBID, SHRAVANABELGOLA AND SOMANATHPUR TEMPLES

Belur Temple:—Is famous for its carvings and is dedicated to the deity "Chenna Keshava". The architecture is by Jakanachari (period 12th century), endowment by the Hoysala King, Vishnu Vardhana. Religious festivities occur annually in April. In the dim past of the Ancient History of India, Belur was a famous town known as Velapur or Velur. About 30 miles away and to the north-west of Belur are the forest-clad mountains (5,000 to 6,000 feet high) known as Bababudangiris, from where the image in Belur Temple is supposed to have been brought.

Motor bus services connect Belur Town and Hassan Railway Station (distance 24 miles). There are 1st and 2nd class Travellers' Bungalows at Hassan and Belur respectively. Cars are available at Hassan. Hassan is about 75 miles away by rail from Mysore City, and Belur is about 40 miles away from Kadur Railway Station via Chikmagalur which is the district headquarters for Kadur District.

Barely 10 miles away from Belur is the famous temple of Halebid.

Halebid Temple:—The village of Halebidu (Old Capital, marks the site of the ancient city Dorasamudra, the wealthy capital of the Hoysala Kings (11th century). The sculptor of the carvings on the temples seems to have been Devoja. Only a few leading points can be touched upon to give an idea of the wealth of carvings for which this temple is famous. The late Mr. Lewis Rice, Director of Archæological Researches, Mysore Government, has said while comparing the Parthenon at Athens, and the Halebid Temple: " . . . The Parthenon is the best example we know of pure, refined, intellectual power applied in the production of architecture design. Every part and every effect is calculated with mathematical exactness and executed with precision that never was equalled. The Halebid Temple is the opposite of all this. All the pillars of the Parthenon are identical, while no two facts of the Indian Temple are the same: every convolution and every scroll is different, . . . and every part exhibits a joyous exuberance of fancy scorning every mechanical restraint. All that is wild in human faith and warm in human feeling is found portrayed on these walls . . . "

While visiting these ancient temples it is very desirable to carry electric torches to see thoroughly some of the remarkable interior decorations and idols properly.

Shravanabelgola:—The colossal statue of Gomatesvara and the Jain Temples are about 50 miles from Mysore and 36 miles from Hassan. In both cases, the road journey has to be performed via Channarayapatna. This image of majestic and impressive grandeur is 58 feet high, carved out of solid rock, bears a wonderfully serene expression and is visible for many miles round the country. The image represents the complete spiritual abstraction of a Yati absorbed and motionless during his long period of penance. The feet are placed on the figure of a lotus. The statue was erected by Chamunda Raya, probably in 983, sculptor being Aritto Nemi.

Shravanabelgola is the chief seat of the Jain sect, being the residence of the principal Guru. There is a small Rest House at Shravanabelgola, but there is no suitable accommodation for halting the night there.

Somanathpur Temple:—Thirty-three miles from Mysore via Seringapatam and Bannur. This elaborately carved structure is attributed to Jakanachari, a famous sculptor and architect to the Hoysala Kings (period about 1269). A care-taker peon and a descriptive book with photos are maintained at the spot. Visitors should take an electric torch with them to see the exquisite carved ceilings, idols and other details within this temple (now disused).

Cauvery Falls:—Otherwise know as the Sivasamudram Falls ("Sea of Siva"). A motor bus service has been opened from Maddur on the Bangalore-Mysore Line to Sivasamudram, a distance of 30 miles. Motor trips are also arranged by firms at Bangalore.

The branches of the stream which enclose the island of Sivasamudram from the picturesque falls of Gagana Chukki ("Sky Spray") on the Mysore side, and of Bhar Chukki ("Heavy Spray") on the Coimbatore side, each of which makes a descent of about 300 feet in succession of beautiful rapids and broken cascades. The former is about two miles from the Bungalow and the approach is by a steep path leading down from the tomb of Pir Sahib, a Musalman Saint. The stream here is divided so as to form a small island. The parted waters dash with a deafening roar over vast boulders of rock in a cloud of foam to unite again in a deep pool below. The other falls, Bhar Chukki, about a mile distant on the eastern branch of the river, being more easily viewed, are generally more enjoyed. They display a great volume of water which in the rainy season pours, over the hill side in an unbroken sheet, a quarter of a mile broad. During the dry months it separates into several falls of great beauty. In the centre is a deep recess in the form of a horse-shoe, down which the principal stream falls and having collected into a narrow channel rushes forward with prodigious violence and again falls about 30 feet into a capacious basin at the foot of the precipice. Hurrying onward through wild and narrow gorges the two streams unite again on the north-east of the island and continue their course to the east.

KOLAR GOLD FIELD

About 50 milles from Bangalore on the M. & S. M. Railway Branch Line from Bowringpet. The following are the stations on the Branch Railways with the names of the mines close to each.

Nine Reefs :—Nine Reef Mines, Road Block and Side Block.

Coromandel :—Balaghat Mines, Nine Reef Mines. Coromandel Mines, Mysore West Mines (Tank Block) and Oriental Mines.

Oorgaum :—Oorgaum Mines and Nundidroog Mines.

Champion :—Champion Reef Mines.

Marikuppam :—Mysore Mines.

The Gold Field is situated to the east of a low ridge of hills in the south of Bowringpet Taluk. The first shaft was sunk in 1875 near Oorgaum. The principal mines now working are Mysore Champion Reefs, Oorgaum, Nundidroog and Balaghat. The mines are worked by electricity from the Cauvery Falls, 92 miles distant, installed in 1902. They are now the principal gold-producing mines in India. The mines give employment to some thirty thousand people, including a large number of Europeans, among whom are to be found mining experts and supervisors. To visit the Gold Field is to leave India for a spell and drop into a mining city of the West where we are surrounded by the latest products of science and industry. There is a Travellers' Bungalow formerly known as the "Circuit House" at Robertsonpet, about half a mile from Oorgaum Station. It is open to the public, provided it is not being used by a Government official.

NANDIDRUG

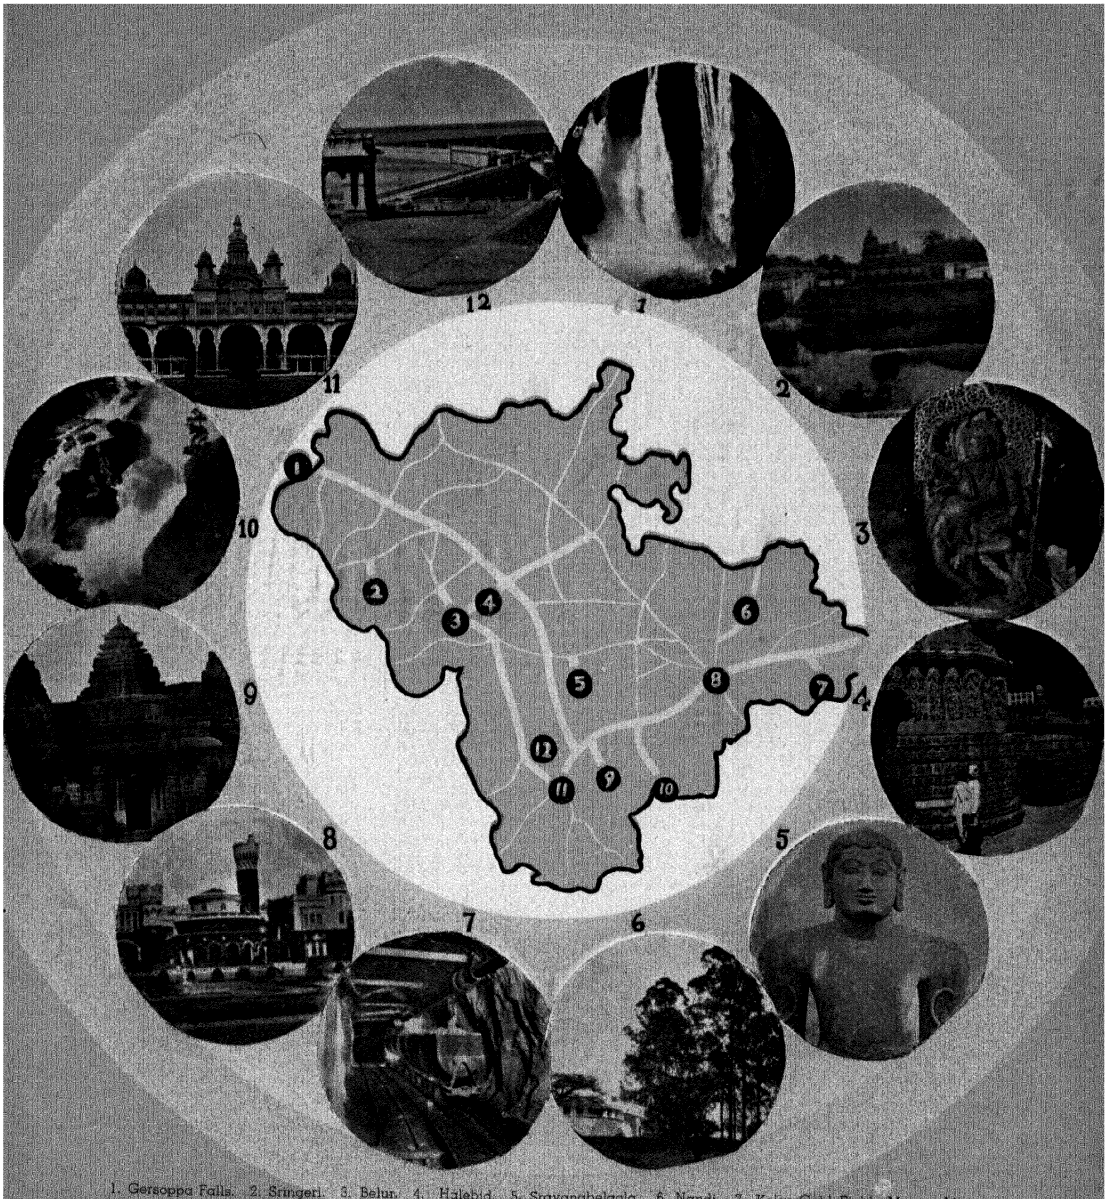

Is a famous fortified hill in Kolar District, 31 miles from Bangalore, near the branch line—Bowringpet-Bangalore Railway. There is an extensive plateau on the top, in which there is a large hollow containing a thick wood and a magnificent pond called the Amrita-sarovara fed by perennial springs which are said to contain medicinal properties. There is also the orchard originally planted by Col. Cuppage about the year 1800. The bungalows on the Hill were built in 1848 during the time of Sir Mark Cubbon.

Nandidrug is also of historical importance. From the earliest period the Gangas had the title "Lord of Nandagiri," and the hill was then a Jain place. The name Nandagiri (Hill of Pleasure) was changed to Nandigiri (Hill of Nandi, Shiva's Bull) in the 11th century, under the Cholas. The Bhoga Nandishwara Temple at Nandi Village at the base of the hill has been in existence from Pallava, Chola and Hoysala times; and the Yoga Nandishwara Temple on the summit must be at least as old. On the latter is an inscription of the 11th century. The hill was first fortified by the Chickaballapur Chiefs, but the extensive fortifications we now see around the hill top were built by Haider Ali Khan and Tippu Sultan. After its seizure by the Mahrattas in 1770 Nandidrug was taken by General Meadows in 1791.

The hill can be reached by car, bus, or train. There is a motorable road to the top of the hill and a flight of steps two miles in length, leading to the top of the hill. Chairs for people to be carried up and coolies for taking luggage, etc., are available at both the above. The jatkas are available to cover the distance of three miles between the railway station and the motor sheds.

Return tickets at 1½ times the fare are issued for trips under a fortnight during the season. For parties of five or more, single fare will be allowed from Thursday to Monday in the off season for the benefit of school children going to the hills.

There are five buildings on the summit of the hill available for the occupation of visitors. Three of them are fine bungalows containing suits of double and single rooms equipped with luxurious furniture, and electric lights and fans, cots, mattress and pillows are provided. There is a Reading Room and a Ping Pong Room in Cubbon's Bungalow. There are Tennis and Badminton Courts. There is telephone connection from the Nandi Railway Station and the motor sheds

SERINGAPATAM

On Mysore State Railway, 77 miles from Bangalore City. It is situated at the western end of an island in the Cauvery. It is about three miles in length from west to east and one in breadth. It is said to have been founded in the year 1451 and it was the former Capital of the Mysore Kings. The fortress is of great historical interest, as it was the principal scene of the wars between the British and Tippu Sultan. Peace was dictated under its walls by Lord Cornwallis in 1792, and Tippu fell when it was finally captured by General Harris in 1799. The fortifications are comparatively uninjured and the results of the breaching batteries are far more apparent on the walls than the work of time. At the south-west angle of the fort may be viewed the breach made in 1798, the spot from which the storming party issued on the opposite side of the river being fixed by two cannons fixed perpendicularly in the ground at the edge of the stream. Within the wall, surrounded by a high enclosure are the remains of the Mussalman Palace, now converted into a sandalwood store. The large temple of Sri Ranganathaswami and the large mosque erected by Tippu with two tall minarets, are also conspicuous buildings. Just outside the Fort on the island is the Darya Daulat Bagh or "Garden of the Sea," a summer palace which was Tippu's favourite retreat from business. Its graceful proportion and the arabesque work in rich colours with which it is covered render it very attractive. Some pictures on the walls represent Bailie's defeat at Conjeeveram in 1780. At the eastern end of the island towards the south is the Gumbaz Mausoleum which was built by Tippu for his father, and in which he is also buried as well as his mother. It is a square building surmounted by a dome, with minarets at the angles, and surmounted by a corridor which is supported by pillars of black hornblende. The interior is painted in lacquer with the tiger stripe, adopted by Tippu for military uniforms. On a rising ground to the south of Daulat Bagh is a small monument to the memory of officers who fell in the final siege. On an elevated site opposite the north-west of the Fort is Webb's monument erected by Purnaiya. In the vicinity are two other places of interest, Scott's Bungalow and the old British Cemetry.

Gersoppa or Jog Falls:—(About 235 miles to the north-west of Bangalore). Although it cannot be said that the Jog Falls are in the vicinity of Bangalore or Mysore, they are within a motorable distance and can be also approached by rail. By road and rail Shimoga Town is about 175 miles from Mysore City or Bangalore and the Falls are about 62 miles from Shimoga. A through 1st and 2nd class carriage is attached every night to the Bangalore-Poona Mail and the passengers can either get down at "Shimoga" Station (near which there is a Travellers' Bungalow) or at "Shimoga Town" Station, where there is a Railway Rest House with European Refreshment Room (managed by Messrs. Spencer & Co., Madras) and also an Indian Refreshment Room. The train fares from Bangalore to Shimoga are Rs. 21-2-0, Rs. 10-3-0 and Rs. 3-9-0, for 1st, 2nd and 3rd class, respectively.

Motor cars can be easily hired at Shimoga and the District Traffic Superintendent stationed at Shimoga will be glad to give any required information. The motor journey from Shimoga to the Falls is pleasant and interesting, as the road passes through many forests and over very undulating country. After passing Sagar and Talguppe the country becomes very picturesque. The nearest Telegraph Office to the Falls is at Sagar (where there is a Travellers' Bungalow also). As the crow flies, the sea is about 30 miles to the west of the Falls.

There are two Bungalows at the Falls. One belongs to the Government of Mysore and the other is known as the Bombay Government Travellers' Bungalow. The former is on the southern edge of the chasm, while the latter is on the northern side. To reach the Mysore Bungalow, the river Sharavati has to be crossed by means of the ferry (the attendant lives on the spot) and when the waters are not too deep or shallow, it is possible to board a motor car on the ferry itself and transport it to the southern side.

During the season (from about 1st November to 15th February every year) when the Falls are at their best and visitors are many, it is advisable to write to the Conservator of Forests, Shimoga, at least a week in advance to avoid disappointment as the accommodation is limited. Information on further particulars regarding catering, etc., can also be had from him.

It is advisable to carry along with one's self a certain amount of provisions. The Refreshment Room at Shimoga Town Railway Station can supply cold lunches for the journey (on due notice being given).

The Falls are formed by the river Sharavati falling into a mighty chasm about half a mile wide and 1,000 feet deep. The river is named Sharavati or "the Arrow Born" because it flows from the Ambu Tirtha formed (according to Hindu Mythology) by a stroke of Rama's arrow. The great waters tumble over the edge of the precipice with a musical roar, whose "scale is infinite and God the Organist".

The Falls, four in number, glorious by themselves, are enframed in a wonderfully picturesque setting, wild, verdant and mountainous, an impression which lingers for ever in one's memory. Close to the Travellers' Bungalows are several "view points" and walks from where different views of this wonderful gorge, the River and the Falls can be obtained. As far back as 1843, Dr. Gell, the venerable Bishop of Madras, has recorded in the Visitor's Book the following which sums up what every one feels when visiting the Falls :—

"I am thankful to Providence for having been permitted to visit the most glorious works of Nature's GOD that I have ever seen or hope to see".

Baba Budan Mountains:—The loftiest range on the Mysore table-land situated, in the centre of the Kadur District to the north of Chikmagalur, between 13° 23′ and 13° 35′ North Latitude and 75° 52′ East Longitude. The form of the chain is that of a horse-shoe with the opening to the north-west. The character of the chain is that of a stupendous ridge 6,000 feet above the level of the sea, and in some parts only a few yards wide at the summit rising at intervals into loftier peaks. The summit of the hills consists of steep grassy slopes well wooded in the ravines, through which flow perennial streams. The sides are densely clothed with forests, among which are numerous coffee plantations, as well as in the Jagar valley, which is one stretch of the forest as far as the eye can reach. In the range called in the Hindu Puranas "Chendra Drona" is a cave, containing what the Muhammadans assert to be the tomb of Baba Budan, the Hindus to be the throne of a Dattatreya. It is a venerated place of pilgrimage for adherents of both creeds. Mussalman Kalandar is the custodian of the cave, which is designated the Southern Mecca and is well endowed. By the Hindus the reappearance of Dattatreya at the mouth of the cave into which in ancient times he vanished is looked for as a sign prophetic of the final avtar of Vishnu and the introduction of millennium.

Mari Kanive:—A pass in the eastern line of the Chitaldrug Hills, through which the Vedavati issues to the open country of Hiriyur. So far back as 1800, it was pointed out as a spot peculiarly favourable for the construction of a dam across the gorge, whereby an immense reservoir would be formed capable of irrigating the adjoining thirsty plains and converting them into a vast expanse of rice cultivation. The project has, at last, been taken in hand and completed.

PLACES OF RELIGIOUS IMPORTANCE

Sivaganga:—The nearest railway station to this place is Nidavanda on the Bangalore-Poona line. The Hill here is of conspicuous conical form and contains temples carved out in caves and also an unfathomable pool named "Pathala Ganga". There are two pillars, at the summit of the hill, from which a miraculous stream of water is said to ooze on the day of Makara Sankaranti (January). A fair is held on that day at which thousands of people assemble.

Kanive Subramanya:—This is about two miles distant from Makalidurg Railway Station on the Bangalore-Guntakal Line. There is a temple of Subramanyaswami. A large number of people visit this place on the Pushya Suddha Shasti (January). A cattle fair is also held in this connection at which more that 10,000 cattle change hands.

Vidurashwatha:—Is a couple of miles from Dodkurugod which is a railway station on the Bangalore-Guntakal Line. There is a Peepul tree or Aswatha said to have been planted by Vidura of the Mahabharata. The tree is held very sacred and many devotees will be seen worshipping it at all times of the year.

Paschimavahini :—This is about half a mile from Seringapatam on the Bangalore-Mysore line. The Cauvery here flows in a westerly direction from which fact the name of the place is derived.

Melkote :—A sacred Vaishnavaite centre, is in the Seringapatam Taluk, the nearest railway station being French-Rocks on the Bangalore-Mysore line. Bus services connect this place with French-Rocks and Mysore. The most important festival "Vairamudi" takes place in or about April of every year.

Sringeri :—Is on the bank of Thunga River and is the headquarters of His Holiness the Jagadguru of Sankara Mutt. This is a Jahgir in Koppa Taluk and is about 29 miles from Narasimharajapura from which buses run daily.

Hole-Narsipur :—Is the headquarters of the taluk of the same name and is a station on the Mysore-Arsikere Railway. It is on the banks of the Hemavati and contains an Uttaradi Mutt of the Vaishnava Brahmins.

Harihar :—On the Bangalore-Poona line is situated on the banks of the Thungabhadra River. It contains the famous temple of Harihara erected in the 13th century.

Talakad :—Is a sacred place near T.-Narasipur. It is stated that a number of temples are buried under hills of sand. When five Mondays happen to come in the month of Karthika, of course not every year, the sand hills are excavated and temples made ready for visit by the devotees. This occasion is named "Panchalinga Darsana".

Devarayanadurga :—This is a few miles distant from Tumkur. There is a hill at the top of which is a temple and a number of sacred pools. A Car festival is held in the latter part of March or early in April.

T.-Narasipur:—Is the headquarters of the taluk of the same name. It is about 22 miles from Mysore. The Cauvery and Kabbani meet here. Somanathapur is not far from this place.

Biligirirangan Hills :—Are within the limits of Yelandur Jahgir and a popular resort. They are about 20 miles from Chamarajnagar on the Mysore-Chamarajnagar line.

Chunchanakatte :—Is about 8 miles from Yedatore which is a railway station on the Mysore-Arsikere line. There is a temple of Rama and a Car festival is held on the Makara Sankranti (January). A cattle fair is held in this connection which lasts for two weeks and more than 50,000 cattle are sold at this fair.

Hirekal Hills :—Better known as Malekal Thirupathi. Are within a short distance of Arsikere Railway Station. A flight of 1,700 steps leads to the top of the Hills, which are dedicated to God Venkateswara. The ascent of these hills is considered as sacred as a pilgrimage to the famous Thirupathi in the Madras Presidency.

Chitaldrug :—Is the headquarters of the district of the same name. Three miles to the north-west is situated the Murgi Mutt, the residence of the chief Guru of the Lingayets. To the west, amid a wildly rugged and picturesque group of hills is the Anklimath. There is a curious, long series of subterranean chambers, now regularly built round with masonry. In these are a number of shrines.

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS IN MYSORE

The Mysore Department of Industries and Commerce was constituted so long ago as 1913 and the more important among its activities were the pioneering of new industries, the development of existing industries by the adoption of improved methods and appliances, grant of technical and financial assistance to private individuals and the collection and dissemination of industrial and commercial information.

2. With the passage of time the work of the Department has steadily developed and several new functions and responsibilities have been added to it. The work now devolving on the Department and the services rendered by it may be classified as follows :—

(1) Assistance to Private Enterprise in the erection and maintenance of the Industrial Installations.

(2) Grant of Financial Aid under the Industrial Loan Rules.

(3) Management of the concerns under the control of the Department.

(4) Industrial and Technical Education.

(5) Review of the annual Trade of the State.

(6) Industrial and Commercial Enquiries and Investigation.

(7) Study of Labour Problems and administrations of Regulations affecting Labour.

(8) Posts and Telegraphs including License for Wireless Receiving and Transmitting Stations.

(9) Administration of Special Regulations :—
  (i) Weights and Measures.
  (ii) Patents and Designs.
  (iii) Examination of Boilers.

(10) The Mysore Dasara Exhibition.

(11) Publicity Work :—
  Participation in the Exhibitions held in and outside the State.

(12) Inspection by the Departmental Staff of articles of furniture, clothing, etc., ordered by the Stores Purchase Committee for Government Departments, and Examination of Buildings for Industrial Installations by private parties in the limits of the Bangalore City Municipality.

3. Of the industrial concerns directly managed by Government mention may be made of (1) The Mysore Iron & Steel Works, (2) The Government Sandalwood Oil Factory, (3) The Government Silk Weaving Factory, (4) The Government Porcelain Factory, (5) The Government Soap Factory, (6) The Government Electric Factory, and (7) The Government Industrial & Testing Laboratory.

Labour Legislation, Industrial Disputes, Labour Housing, etc. :—The Department has from the beginning been taking necessary action to improve of labour. The law relating to the employment of labour in factories has been amended and brought in to a line with the Indian Factories Act. As in British Indian provinces, legislative provision exists for the payment of compensation to the workers in factories suffering from accidents arising out of and in the course of their employment. Recently an enactment was passed providing for the grant of maternity benefit to women workers in factories. Government have constituted a Board of Conciliation for dealing with industrial disputes.

In the matter of housing industrial labour in urban areas the employers have started schemes to the extent their resources permit. The employers of mining labour have provided housing accommodation on a liberal scale. In recent years the municipalities and the public have realised the importance of solving this problem. The Bangalore City Municipality have started a labour colony over 18 acres of land consisting of 334 sites each measuring 20 feet by 30 feet. Two hundred and fifty sites have been built upon by the Municipality on up-to-date lines with proper ventilation and sanitary facilities.

5. Sericulture :—It was stated above that Mysore was the largest Silk producing area in India. Directly or indirectly the silk industry affords employment to almost two lakhs of families or roughly about a sixth of the total population of the State. Naturally the Government have been devoting a great deal of attention to improve this industry in all directions. A separate Department of Sericulture has been organised. Experimental and demonstration silk farms are established in all important silk areas. Research work is carried on for evolving new breeds. Government and aided grainages have been increasing steadily from year to year the supply of disease-free layings to the sericulturists at very favourable rates. Facilities are afforded for extending the area under Mulberry by the free supply of Mulberry cuttings. Sericultural Co-operative Societies have been started for affording assistance to the sericulturists. Practical training in improved methods of rearing worms is given on all the silk farms. A steam filature was started by Government in 1922 to improve the silk reeling industry in the State. There is a filature started by private enterprise at Bangalore and before long additional filatures are likely to be started in other areas.

Three cocoon markets have been organised with a view to enable the sericulturists to realise better prices for their cocoons. They have been working very satisfactorily. Through these markets nearly 60,000 lbs. of cocoons were sold last year. The establishment of more cocoon markets is under active consideration of Government.

6. Spinning and Handloom Weaving:—One of the striking instances of the revival of a rural industry through Government assistance is the organisation of the Badanval Spinning and Weaving Centre. This was started as an experimental measure in November 1927, with the help of the All India Spinners' Association. To begin with the spinning centre confined its activities to a single village Badanval and within about six months several villages within a distance of 20 miles from Badanval had to be included in the area of its operations. By the close of the first year a thousand spinners had been mobilised work. There has been a steady progress in its activities from year to year. At the end of June 1937, there were 2,900 spinners and 140 weavers working in the centre. Cotton is available locally and where necessary the Centre supplies it to the spinners. Khadi cloth produced is purchased by Government and supplied to the servants in Government offices. The organisation of the All India Spinners' Association is also availed of in marketing the Badanval Khadi. A vigorous propaganda for popularising the use of Khadi among the spinners and weavers themselves was initiated in November 1934, and the value of the purchases is recovered in small instalments. The following statement furnishes the details of sales during the past three years.

	In yards.
	1934-35.	1935-36.	1936-37.
Khadi sales in villages ...	5,883	9,425	10,368
Khadi to Government Departments ...	15,134	10,162	11,247
Other khadi sales ...	24,289	26,656	32,878

Several samples of Badanval printed Khaddar were exhibited in the British Industries Fair and enquiries for the same are being received through the Trade Commissioner for Mysore in London.

Handloom Weaving Industry:—Handloom weaving industry in the State provides employment to a large number of persons all over the State. The Department has been paying continuous attention to popularise the use of improved appliances by the weavers. New designs are furnished to the weavers from time to time and financial assistance in the shape of loans is given to them for the improvement of their business. A scheme for starting a Central Co-operative Society for the benefit of the Handloom weavers is under consideration. It is proposed to start this organisation for the supply of raw materials to the weavers and for affording them facilities for marketing their goods so that the weavers might secure continuous employment.

8. Village and Cottage Industries:—In connection with the scheme recently sanctioned by Government for promoting rural welfare in selected areas the Department is taking action to revive the old rural industries and also to introduce new industries where adequate facilities for the same are available. In the Rural Reconstruction Centre recently started at Closepet, demonstration in smithy has been started for teaching the local black-smiths improved methods of making agricultural implements and other hardware articles. Necessary encouragement is given for improving and developing the manufacture of coir ropes out of the cocoanut husks abundantly available in this locality.

9. During the last few years, a number of new industrial concerns have been started with the assistance of Government in the shape of subscription to their share capital to a limited extent, appointment of Government Directors on the Board of Directors of the companies and the provision of other facilities required by them, for example, land, supply of power, water, etc. Reference may be made to the Mysore Sugar Company, Limited; The Mysore Tobacco Company, Limited; The Mysore Stoneware Pipes and Potteries; The Spun Silk Mills, Limited, etc., etc. Private enterprise has also been encouraged in introducing new lines of business e.g., manufacture of Electric lamps, Neon-Signs, Mantles for gas lamps, Batteries for motor cars, etc. Schemes have been received from business men for starting additional filatures in the sericultural areas in the State, for the manufacture of picture frames, for establishing Film Studios, etc. Owing to the limited space available, it has not been possible to make more than a casual reference to them.

The Government Soap Factory, Bangalore:—After a number of preliminary experiments in 1917, Government decided to start a modern Soap Factory at Bangalore. A modern plant with a modest output of soap by the boiling process was obtained from England in 1918 and was installed in a small building. In the early stages, only one variety of a pure household soap equal in every way to a very popular imported variety was manufactured. Very soon after this, experiments to manufacture high-class milled toilet soaps were undertaken and in November 1918 the first Mysore Toilet Soap was placed on the market. Even though the finish and the mode of packing left much to be desired in the early stages, public encouragement was not lacking owing to the intrinsic merit of the article produced. These defects were gradually removed as more and more experience was gained.

Business is prospering from year to year. The Government have recovered all the money they have invested in the plant besides getting interest for the money advanced for fixed capital and working capital. The Factory has been providing liberally for depreciation.

The soaps manufactured by the Government Soap Factory, Bangalore, have become famous throughout India, specially so a variety of sandal soap prepared by the Factory. A guarantee is given that the products of this factory are free from any sort of adulteration and other injurious chemicals.

The pioneering of this factory has stimulated private enterprise in the State. There are to-day in Bangalore alone three or four private factories whose combined business comes to four to five lakhs of rupees a year.

Government Silk Weaving Factory, Mysore:—The Mysore Government Filature was started in Mysore to improve the silk reeling industry in the State. It came into existence in the year 1923 with twelve French basins. For a time Mysore Government Silk Filature used to send its silk to markets in Europe and later developed a market both in Northern and Southern India.

All the high grade silk thus produced was being made use of to produce only coarse cloth. In the year 1928, the Government thought of establishing a silk weaving and finishing factory on up-to-date lines to demonstrate the use of Mysore silk for the manufacture of high grade fabrics. The Department sent a small quantity of Mysore Filature raw silk to Europe with a view to get it tested to international standard and also to get the fabrics made out of that. The fabrics made out of Mysore Silk were of very high quality. In the year 1931, this factory was started with ten looms equipped with up-to-date other appliances and a Dyeing and Finishing Plant. Later on, ten more looms were added.

This is the first factory in India which started to manufacture Georgette and Crepe-de-Chine. Different kinds of high grade fabrics such as fabrics with inter-woven gold lace and gold laced bordered sarees are being manufactured. The factory has established its name for the manufacture of such fabrics.

In spite of the keen competition and cheap fabrics from outside, the factory has been selling fairly well its products mostly to the discriminating public. The products are much appreciated by the buying public.

The factory is under the management of an expert who had his training in foreign countries and there are fully qualified men to manage the different sections of the factory.

The factory has been introducing new varieties of silk fabrics in order to capture the market.

The main feature of the silk fabrics manufactured in this factory is that they are free from all types of adultrations and they are made of 100 per cent genuine pure Mysore silk. Even during finishing no foreign material is added to add weight to the fabrics.

The Government Electric Factory:—In the manufacture of electrical goods also, the Government of Mysore proved themselves equally progressive and, in a factory located just outside Bangalore City, very successful experiments have been carried out in the manufacture of wiring fixtures generally used for the purposes of transmission of power and for street lighting. This factory has already manufactured satisfactorily tumbler switches, ceiling roses and fuse boxes.

The Mysore Iron and Steel Works, Bhadravati:—The Mysore Iron and Steel Works were started at Bhadravati by the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore in order to utilise the mineral and forest resources of the State and establish a basic industry of national importance. Of all the various industrial enterprises started by the State, this is the largest and the most important.

The Plant at Bhadravati occupies an area of 50 acres and comprises a Charcoal Blast Furnace, a Wood Distillation Plant, a Pipe Foundry for the manufacture of Cast-iron Pipes, a Siemens-Martin's Basic Open-Hearth Furnace with a Rolling Mill for the manufacture of commercial sections, with the auxiliary foundry and machine shop. Hydro-Electric Energy from Sivasamudram supplies the power required for running the Plant.

There is an abundant supply of iron ore analysing about 60 per cent iron on the Kemmangundi Hills on the Bababudan range situated at a distance of 24 miles from Bhadravati. The ore is brought down to the foot of the hill by an aerial ropeway, three miles long, operated by gravity. The forests are worked for fuel on a coppice with standards system with a rotation of 25 to 30 years. An area of 350 square miles is allotted to the works. The raw material is transported by a net work of tramways. The perennial river Bhadra affords a reliable and abundant source of water-supply.

The first operation consists in the preparation of Charcoal; this is done by the destructive distillation of wood in closed retorts and valuable by-products are recovered. This is supplemented by direct burning of wood in the forests in country kilns.

The wood received at the Works from the forests is spilt and billetted to the required sizes and loaded into specially designed cars called "Buggies". Four such cars are shoved into a pre-drier where portion of the moisture is removed by circulation of hot gases. The cars are then charged into the carbonizing apparatus called Retorts, which are airtight ovens, built of steel plates enclosed in brickwork, with two openings for the escape of the gases that are formed during distillation. The Retorts are heated from the bottom. The gases pass through condensers and the condensed liquor from all the Retorts is collected in a central tank. The non-condensable gases are burnt under the oven and serve to economize fuel.

The carbonization takes 24 hours after which the cars are pulled out into a chamber called a cooler, where they are cooled for 24 hours out of contact with air and water. After further cooling for another 24 hours in a second set of coolers, the charcoal is ready to be sent to the Blast Furnace.

Blast Furnace:—The iron ore and limestone, which is used as a flux, are crushed at the Works to the required sizes and stored in specially built bins. The material is drawn through the chutes underneath into the electrically operated cars running in a tunnel. Weighed quantities of the ore mixture and charcoal are alternatively dumped into the charging car which is hauled up along an inclined track and dumps the material into the Blast Furnace. The hoisting of the materials is done by electric motors.

The air is supplied to the furnace by a blowing engine and is pre-heated in the hot blast stoves to about 1000° F. The hot air passes into the furnace through 6 inlets arranged symmetrically at the bottom of the furnace. The materials charged from the top are acted upon by the counter-current of hot gases, and as the result of several chemical reactions taking place at different stages, the iron ore is reduced to metallic iron. The molten iron, and the slag, formed from impurities in the raw material, collect at the bottom of the furnace and are drawn regularly once in 4 hours. The molten iron is cast in sand beds. The Furnace has a capacity of 80 tons of Pig-iron per day.

Pipe Foundry:—An up-to-date Pipe Foundry has been equipped for the manufacture of Cast-iron Pipes from 2½ inches to 30 inches in diameter in conformity with the specifications of the British Engineering Standards Association. The plant comprises of a turn-table with a jib crane mounted in the centre. The moulding boxes are attached to the circumference of the table which is revolved by a motor. Electrically operated machinery has been provided to eliminate laborious manual labour such as ramming, core-making and screening and mixing of sand. The sand and other materials used for moulding and core-making are thoroughly tested and controlled. Suitable mixtures of Pig-iron and scrap are melted in the cupolas and the molten iron is poured into the pipe moulds. After they are sufficiently cooled, the pipes are removed from the moulding boxes and sent to the finishing section for cleaning, cutting and testing.

The testing equipment is provided with hydraulic accumulators for testing pipes to the required pressures according to the class of the pipe. The pipes that stand the test are weighed and painted with Dr. Angus

Smith solution. They are then stacked in the yard which is provided with facilities for loading into wagons. About 40 tons of water-supply of pipes are produced per day.

General Foundry and Machine Shop:—The General Foundry is mainly intended for the repair work of the Plant and has been equipped to undertake miscellaneous castings up to units of 10 tons. Outside work is undertaken to some extent and the chief castings now manufactured are pipe specials, fountains, gates, ornamental railings and household articles.

The Works are equipped with an up-to-date Machine Shop for undertaking repairs in the several sections of the Plant. The shop consists of lathes for different kinds of work, punching and shearing machines, plate-bending machine, a shaping and slotting machine, a large plaining machine a pneumatic power hammer for forging, and welding equipment, consisting of oxy-acetylene and electric are welding sets.

Chemical Plant:—The Pyroligneous liquor obtained in the Retorts is pumped into the Chemical Plant where it is allowed to settle in large wooden tanks to separate the tar. The tar-free liquor is vaporized in vacuum by exhaust steam to remove soluble tar and oils. It is then neutralized with lime and fractionated in a continuous still to separate crude alcohol. The resulting liquor which is a dilute solution of calcium acetate is concentrated and finally dried and stored in bags. The crude alcohol is treated with caustic soda and sulphuric acid and refractionated to yield "Commercially Pure" methanol, denaturing grade methanol and methyl acetone.

The settled tar is re-distilled in direct fired stills. The progressive fractions are separately collected as light and heavy oils and the residual molten pitch is drawn and cooled. The light oil and pitch serve at the main ingredients for the manufacture of black paints. The heavy oils are further treated to yield wood-preserving oils. The neutral oil is used in the manufacture of a disinfectant sold as 'Kreso'.

Steel Plant:—A modern Siemens-Martin's Basic Open-Hearth Furnace has been installed. The Furnace is of the stationary type and has a capacity of 25 to 30 tons per heat, having a bath surface of about 300 square feet at the slag line and is provided with standard port ends and projecting gas and air regenerators. A spout is provided at the back of the furnace for charging molten pig-iron. The charging doors are operated by compressed air of 85 lbs. It is provided with the usual accessories for charging and casting. Producer gas is used as fuel and the charge consists of a mixture of pig-iron and steel scrap, lime being used as flux. When steel of the required analysis is ready it is tapped into a ladle. Teaming is done by bottom pouring. A peculiar feature is the small size of the ingots, viz., 5½ inches by 6 inches square and 6 inches by 7 inches square, weighing about 310 and 475 lbs., respectively. The ingots when cold are stripped out of the moulds and sent to the yard for dressing.

The ingots are then heated in a reheating furnace designed for pulverised coal firing and can handle about 11 tons of steel ingots per hour. The ingots when heated are transported on an elevated track to the roller rack in front of the Rolling Mill.

Rolling Mill:—The Rolling Mill consists of two 19-inch stands with standard coupling and roll fittings. Heavy sections are rolled directly from ingots while for the manufacture of smaller sections the ingots are first rolled into billets.

The hot billets are taken to the finishing mill consisting of five 11-inch stands provided with cross repeaters and driven by means of a flexible motor coupling.

An up-to-date mechanical cooling bed of the Edwards type is provided with one side rotary shear for cutting a continuous rod, one inch square.

The mill is equipped to make rounds, squares, flat bars and angles.

The equipment contains also a Hoop and Strip mill, the first of its kind in India. It consists of 3 continuous stands of the three high type, the lower driven rolls are of about 11¼-inch diameter, the middle stretching roll of 6-inch diameter and the upper backing rolls of 11¼-inch diameter. The roll stands are provided with roller bearings. Reels of the Kladno type are provided which can take coiling heads for rounds, angles and longitudinal coils. It can coil, strips when hot up to 1½ inch in width, the coil having a clear diameter of about 7 feet or a clear width of 5 to 6 feet.

The Works at present provide employment for about 2,000 men in the Plant at Bhadravati and about 500 men in the Mines and about 5,000 men in the Forests. The technical staff consists mostly of Science and Engineering Graduates of the State University trained under a system of apprenticeship in the different branches of operation, both in India and abroad. Foreign experts on short term contracts are also recruited from time to time.

About a mile from the Works, a town has been built on elevated ground for the employees. Adequate arrangements have been made for a protected water-supply. Sanitation and welfare of the employees are attended to. A primary and a middle school, for boys and girls, a Club, a Co-operative Society have been provided. Adequate provision has been made for games and other recreations for the operatives. Free medical aid is available and a well equipped and up-to-date dispensary under the control of a qualified Assistant Surgeon is attached to the Factory.

Recently a Cement Plant to manufacture Portland Cement to Standard Specifications using the Blast Furnace Slag, which is a waste material at present, and limestone and clay available nearby, has been sanctioned and the construction of the plant has commenced. The plant is expected to make 20,000 tons of Cement annually.

Government Porcelain Factory, Bangalore :—Mysore abounds in raw materials for the manufacture of Porcelain. The most important raw material is Kaolin or China Clay which occurs at Arjunbettahalli about 18 miles from Bangalore. The other two ingredients are Quartz and Felspar which are also found in the neighbourhood of Bangalore, the former near Peenya about 5 miles and the latter near Settihalli about 7 miles from Bangalore. There are also other deposits in the neighbourhood which ensure an abundant supply or raw materials.

The Factory started manufacturing operations in the last week of March 1932 on a very small scale, and now employs about 160 people. The amount of capital invested till date is Rs. 2,37,000. The production has increased from Rs. 28,500 in the year 1932-1933 to Rs. 61,600 in the year 1936-37 and sales have correspondingly increased from Rs. 21,300 to Rs. 85,700. This is the only concern in the whole of South India which manufactures the High Tension and Low Tension Insulators. The capacity of the plant has gradually been increased and the factory is supplying the insulators to various Electric Corporations and Governments mostly in South India.

All the High Tension Insulators are subjected to the routine Electrical Test in the High Voltage Testing Laboratory attached to the Factory.

The Ceramic Laboratory attached to the Factory conducts many of the routine tests which are essential to the exact factory control in addition to carrying on experiments in the manufacture of Suspension Insulators and all kinds of High Tension Insulators as well as other types of Ceramic goods.

The Chemical Laboratory of the Factory contains the complete equipment for every type of qualitative and quantitative analysis of Clays and Silicate.

The manufacture of Wall tiles and flooring tiles is under contemplation.

Central Industrial Workshop :—The Central Industrial Workshop was started in Bangalore in the year 1917, with a view to manufacture and supply to the people simple machines needed by them, undertake important repairs and alterations of machinery already set up and carry on experiments to design and adapt machinery to suit local requirements. The workshop rendered good services to the public during the war period when it was very difficult for them to get improved types of ploughs and other machinery from the manufacturers in foreign countries. It has since been well equipped for undertaking repairs of all kinds for the Government Departments and the general public and also for manufacturing various kinds of machinery. Particular reference may be made to the manufacture of parts of the tobacco barns, transformer shells, improved type of bullock carts, lamp posts, deep well pumps, etc. The deep well pump designed by the Workshop is found to serve the needs of the rural public especially as the mechanism is very simple and the operating expenses are very low. These pumps have been installed in a number of places in the State. The ploughs manufactured in the Workshop have been put on the market at practically half the cost of the ploughs imported from abroad.

Arrangements have also been made in the Central Industrial Workshop to give practical training to the students of the Mechanical Engineering School and others qualified to undergo advanced training. During the year 1936-37, nine students of the Engineering School and one from the College of Engineering were given practical training in the Workshop. There were also about thirty boys under training in the several sections during the year. It is indeed gratifying to note that the students who have undergone training in the Workshop have not been finding any difficulty in securing employment after completing their training.

The Workshop has been carrying on experiments to effect further improvements in the deep-well hand-pumps. It has also taken on hand the designing of a pump suited for bullock drive and the manufacture of a waste-not fountain with a view to prevent wastage of water in public taps. The improved type of gana (oil press) manufactured in the Workshop was demonstrated at the Mysore Dasara Exhibition last year.

Chamarajendra Technical Institute:—The Chamarajendra Technical Institute is a development of an earlier institution which dates back to the year 1892. The objects of the Institute are to foster and improve the indigenous art industries of the State; to introduce new crafts and to give a thoroughly practical training in arts and crafts. A workshop is also attached to the Institute and it is run on commercial lines where regular workmen many of whom are the passed students of the Institute, are employed. Large showrooms are also attached to the Institute for the display and sale of the artware made in the Institute and also by private artisans. The Institute also gives vocational instruction in machine-shop and fitters' work to High School students.

There are at present about 400 students who have been receiving practical training in Arts and Crafts in the Institute. Last year 11 students appeared for the Madras Government Technical Examinations in drawing, painting, engraving, modelling of whom 7 students came out successful. 45 students of Government High School attended the fitters' and machine-shop classes attached to the Institute under vocational instruction—18 from the VI Form and 27 from the V Form. The Institute has been participating in the various exhibitions held in and outside the State. Arrangements have also been made for the display and sale of the goods produced in the Institute in the Arts and Crafts Depot, South Parade, Bangalore. Messrs. M. A. T. Acharya & Co., Bangalore, have been appointed as Agents for the sale of the goods in Bangalore City. A show room has been opened in Bombay and it is proposed to open another in Madras.

Channapatna Industrial School:—The Government Industrial School, Channapatna was started in the year 1912 with a view to impart systematic training to artizans and their children in the manufacture of lacquered articles, toys, etc., practical instruction is also being given in the school in carpentry and smithy. On an average 100 students have been receiving training in the school every year, and scholarships are also being granted to deserving students. The lacquered articles produced in the Government Industrial School are of excellent design and finish and they have earned a wide reputation throughout India. Last year the total value of sales of articles made in the school amounted to about Rs. 10,000. Government have recently sanctioned a sum of Rs. 4,000 for effecting several improvements in the school buildings.

The Industrial and Testing Laboratory:—The Industrial and Testing Laboratory was originally started as a Research section of the Government Soap Factory engaged in problems of economic importance to the State. In 1931 it was transferred to its present extensive building in the premises of the old Sandalwood Oil Factory at Malleswaram.

The earliest and most important section of the Laboratory is the Pharmaceutical, engaged in the manufacture of extracts, tinctures, syrups, powders and other medicinal products which are supplied in annually increasing variety and quantity to the Government Medical Stores and are also for sale to the public. A very high standard of quality is maintained, close supervision and control by competent chemists being exercised at every stage. A well equipped analytical Laboratory is attached to this section in which analysis of raw materials and finished products are carried out. Careful selection of raw materials, close supervision at every stage of manufacture and rigid analytical control ensure that every product sent out from the Laboratory conforms to the standards of purity and potency set up by the British Pharmacopoeia or other competent authority. In addition to the usual equipment of a pharmaceutical manufactory such as percoloters, edge-runner and end-runner mills, etc., the Laboratory is provided with a few modern appliances such as two tablet making machines, a triple roller mill, a Kek high speed mill for fine grinding and mixing, a Hurrel homogenizer for making emulsions and a Kestner horizontal film evaporator of the latest type.

In addition to the pharmocopoeial preparations mentioned above, the Laboratory is constantly engaged in developing specialities. Among the more recent of these may be mentioned a number of Vitamin and Malt products and various tablet products. These specialities are developed under the advice of the Senior Surgeon with the Government of Mysore and are put on the market with his approval after thorough clinical trials.

Every endeavour is made to keep abreast of the latest advances in medicine.

A small plant for the manufacture of Sulphonated oils is attached to the Pharmaceutical section of the Laboratory—the outcome of experiments on the sulphonation of oils conducted in the Laboratory, and manufactures very high grade products largely consumed by local textile mills, and in South India.

The Research section of the Laboratory is engaged in work on problems of industrial importance. Among the problems tackled recently may be mentioned the manufacture of flashlight cells and batteries, production of Glue as a Cottage Industry and production of a variety of disinfectants. The Research section is also engaged in developing new products for the Pharmaceutical section, such as liver extracts for oral and parenteral use, etc.

A Testing section was added in 1933 with the object of testing chemical and other stores purchased by Government through the Stores Purchase Committee. The facilities of this section are also available to other Government Departments as well as to the public.

The Bitumen section manufactures bitumen emulsion for road surfacing. Large quantities of this material are being supplied to the Public Works Departments and to several Municipalities, etc., in the State.

The Lac Factory which was originally under Forest Department is now a section of the Laboratory. It is engaged in manufacturing high grade sealing wax, polishes, lacquers, paints, etc. The "colourless" polish made by the factory deserves mention. The paints made by the factory and used by various Government Departments are found to be very satisfactory and are finding extensive use outside. An insulating varnish for the electrical industries has also been developed. The Lac section is also engaged in finding new uses for lac—an important local product which is suffering from severe competition with synthetic substitutes.

It will be seen from the above account of its activities that the Industrial and Testing Laboratory is filling a distinct need. It has grown from very small beginnings and is now manufacturing a number of products which were hitherto obtained from outside.

THE MYSORE PAPER MILLS, LTD., BANGALORE

Paper Industry in Mysore:—The question of starting a Paper Mill in Mysore has been under the consideration of Government from a long time past. After proper investigations as to the suitability of the bamboos available in the Mysore forests, Government sanctioned the scheme for the establishment of the Paper Industry in the State, in the year 1936.

To facilitate the successful establishment of this industry as a private enterprise, Government sanctioned certain concessions. A Public Limited Concern styled "THE MYSORE PAPER MILLS, LTD.", was floated and registered under the Company's Law, with an authorised Capital of Rs. 25 lakhs. The capital is now fully paid up. Government have subscribed Rs. 2,50,000 out of this.

Bhadravati was selected for the location of the Mill, as it commanded many facilities. Situated on the banks of the perennial river Bhadra, it ensured ample supply of water. Tramway to a distance of 100 miles pass through dense forests where bamboo grows in abundance. Labour and workshop facilities are also available. Bhadravati also forms a convenient distributing centre not only for the State of Mysore, but also the Southern Mahratta country, and parts of Hyderabad and Madras.

An up-to-date plant suitable for manufacturing 5,000 tons of pulp and 4,500 tons of paper per year, has been obtained from Germany. The machinery has arrived at site. Construction of the building and erection of machinery is rapidly progressing. The Secretary, who has visited a number of paper factories in India, England and Europe and has studied at first-hand the Paper & Pulp Machinery at the Suppliers' Shops and the General Manager who is an expert with long experience of paper manufacture are supervising the operations. The suppliers of machinery have also sent their trained erectors to erect the plant and start the machinery in the commencement.

It is hoped to commence the manufacture of paper in the first half of 1938.

The Mysore Sugar Company:—The Mysore Sugar Company, with its factory at Mandya (26 miles from Mysore City), is one of the largest of its kind in this country and the State is directly interested in it to a considerable extent. The Factory's mills at Mandya have a crushing capacity of over 1,400 tons of cane per day and the crushing season extends over 200 days in the year.

For supplying sugar-cane to this factory, cane is cultivated over an area of nearly 11,000 acres in the vicinity of the factory by farmers who receive advances from the company on the security of their crop. Facilities are also provided by the company for affording technical guidance to the raiyats in cultivation methods. In close co-operation with the Department of Agriculture, the company maintains an experimental farm where work is carried on with a view to propagating the most suitable variety of sugar-cane and finding effective methods of fighting the numerous insect pests to which a sugar-cane crop is prey.

The sugar mills at Mandya are semi-electrically driven and their rollers are claimed to be the largest of their kind in use in India. As an adjunct to the Sugar Factory, the Company runs a distillery which produces liquors for consumption within the State. In addition, experiments in the use of rectified spirits as a substitute for petrol are being carried on, the motor lorries of the factory being run on this power alcohol.

The establishment of this factory in the Irwin Canal area has resulted in a great increase in the economic prosperity of the raiyats. Within the last three years (that is, ever since its inception), the Mysore Sugar Company has distributed among the raiyats a sum of Rs. 42 lakhs, representing the value of the sugar-cane supplied by them to the factory.

The factory produces only one class of high grade sugar. This sugar is in great popular demand in the West Coast, the Southern Mahratta country and in Mysore State.

In order to utilise a by-product of the factory, molasses, intensive and encouraging experiments are now being carried on as to its suitability as a road-surfacing material.

The Mysore Tobacco Factory:—Very recently a Joint-Stock Company has been floated, with the object of cultivating tobacco, for the purpose of producing tobacco leaves suitable for cigarette manufacture. The curing barns which were constructed at Whitefield by Government have been taken over by the Company. It has been found that tobacco leaves cured in an electrically heated barn will be more suitable for cigarette manufacture. They are superior in quality on account of evenness of firing. Encouraged by the success achieved in the experimental plots laid out, a company has been organised with a view to produce tobacco on a commercial scale, and to improve further the curing operations. The Government have subscribed ten per cent to the share capital. The Director of Agriculture is the Chairman of the Tobacco Factory.

The Insdustrial future of the State of Mysore is full of hope and promise. The Schemes for development of Hydro-Electric power at Jog and Shimsha valley have been sanctioned by Government. This will mean cheaper electric power which will be available for the development of rural areas. Electric power will be available for the needs of electro-chemical industries like the manufacture of ferro-chrome, ferro-manganese and other alloy steels, manufacture of aluminium, caustic-soda and bleaching powder and other chemicals. Use of power alcohol is no longer a matter of theoretical speculation but a problem claiming early settlement for a place alongside of petrol. Another important industry which is under consideration of Government is the manufacture of sulphuric acid and ammonium-sulphate, the latter being one of the important chemical fertilisers. The manufacture of refractory materials, like silica bricks, magnesite bricks and other varieties suited for furnace linings will have to be taken up in the near future. Utilisation of an available by-product which is now going to waste at Mandya, viz., carbon-dioxide for the manufacture of dry ice, is a subject to be tackled very soon. Other schemes of industrial development are intimately connected up with the development of Bhatkal Harbour and the Mysore Railway system getting a connection to the South Indian Railway system. The provision of adequate industrial finance at a cheap rate of interest is another matter which is under the consideration of the Board of Industries and Commerce.

Mysore Trade Commissioner's Office in London:—The Trade Commissioner's Office was set up at Grand Buildings, Trafalgar Square, in the heart of London, some seven years ago. The functions with which the office is charged are those of expanding Mysore's trade all over Europe, and of directing publicity and propaganda in furtherance of that trade expansion and the wider spread of knowledge regarding the State. It is responsible directly — representing the State as producer — for the sale of sandalwood oil all over Europe and in Palestine, Egypt and the United States of America. The Trade Commissioner takes a prominent part in propaganda and development of the market for coffee, but does not handle the trade in this commodity. He also handles as far as possible the trade in Mysore granite and other products, and deals with commercial enquiries relative to silk, or any other exportable item.

Mysore granite has become a very interesting and important item of export. The Trade Commissioner acts as distributor for private producers in the State and the trade is now on a very satisfactory footing. The beauty and serviceability of our granite is now widely known, and it is fast increasing in demand for memorial stones. Quite recently a firm in Amsterdam has become interested in our granite and there is every prospect of a large business being done. In this product, Mysore can easily compete with the entire world.

The Mysore Spun Silk Mills, Limited:—Has been formed for manufacturing spun silk yarn from silk waste which till recently was being exported to foreign countries and reimported as spun yarn. For the past three or four years, the experts of silk waste from India have practically ceased and the silk industry suffered for want of demand for silk waste. Silk reelers' profits consist mostly of the realisation from silk waste and since there has been no demand for silk waste, the silk reeling industry has been hard hit. Consequently, the sericulture industry has suffered. The Government of Mysore have very wisely initiated the scheme to utilise the silk waste produced in Mysore and the other parts of silk producing provinces in India. The Mysore Spun Silk Mills, Limited, is the first concern of its kind in India. There is an abundant supply of raw material, skilled labour and cheap electric power in Mysore. The Indian silk waste gives a yarn which in colour, lustre and tenacity is satisfactory and far superior to any spun silk yarn in the world.

Mysore State Life Insurance (Official Branch):—Mysore was the first Indian State to introduce compulsory insurance for the officials. It achieves two beneficent purposes, namely, that of protecting the family of the official from destitution and penury in the event of his premature death and that of supplementing his income when it is halved by his retirement. Two forms of insurance were brought into effect, namely, endowment and whole life, in December 1891.

The scheme of Endowment Life Insurance maturing at age 55 was for the benefit of all employees in the State service. Under this scheme, insurance is compulsory on all employees who are permanently employed in the State service, and the monthly premium is fixed at 10 per cent of their permanent pay subject to the maximum of Rs. 70. The scheme of Whole Life Assurance with limited premium payments was also introduced on 4th July 1929.

The Policies in the Official Branch are not assignable and are free from attachment under court decrees so that the insured or their families can be sure of this provision.

From the beginning of the scheme to end of June 1937, 53,543 policies in respect of 32,302 lives were issued for an assurance of Rs. 3,83,12,072-6-0 for a monthly premium of Rs. 1,37,066-4-0. Of these, 23,145 policies held by 11,188 persons for an assurance of Rs. 1,25,15,642-8-1 were disposed of, the claims of 349 persons holding 459 policies for an assurance of Rs. 2,70,271-13-11 were under disposal, and the remaining 29,939 policies held by 20,765 persons for an assurance of Rs. 2,55,26,158 for a monthly premium of Rs. 86,413 were in force on 30th June 1937.

Out of 23,604 policies disposed of and pending disposal, 7,469 policies for an assurance of Rs. 41,48,667-14-0 were discharged by the death of the insured, 12,073 policies for an assurance of Rs. 62,04,482 were on maturity of the policies, the rest being either surrendered or cancelled.

To end of June 1933, the valuation of the Fund was made five times and the bonus declared at the last valuation was a compound one at Rs. 18 per 1,000 per annum. The amount of additional bonuses with the interim bonus to date of claim on all claims disposed of and pending disposal was Rs. 23,54,838. The amount of bonus additions due on the policies remaining effective on 30th June 1937 was Rs. 32,12,631.

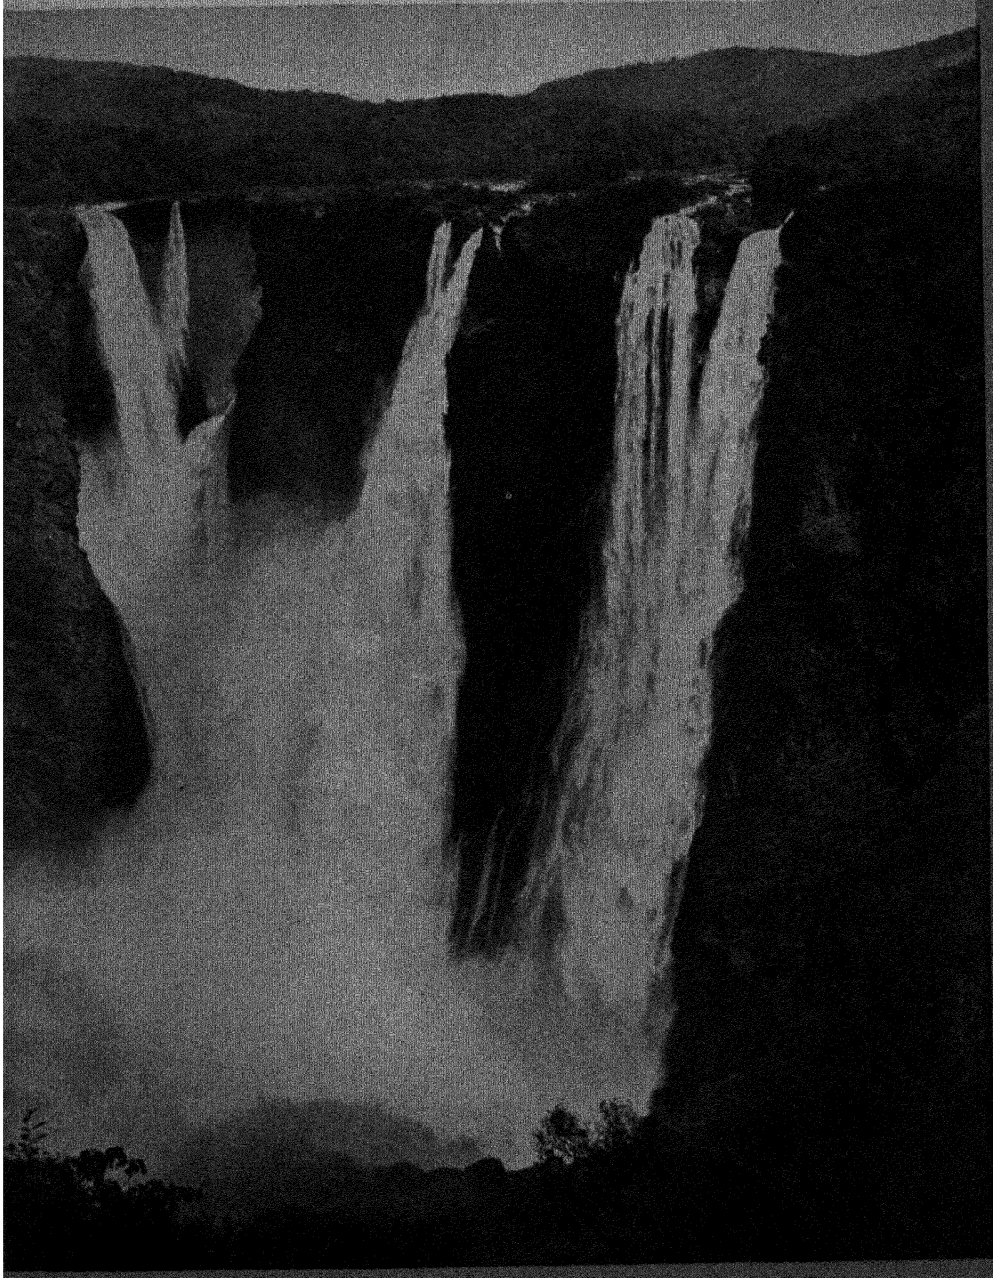

The average monthly premium income is Rs. 86,000 and the interest earned on the Fund exceeds Rs. 5,00,000 per annum. Payments average about Rs. 66,000 per month. The closing balance of the Fund as on 30th June 1937 was about Rs. 1,39,72,000.

Public Branch:—The successful working of the Official Branch Scheme for a period of twenty years and the undoubted security and facilities offered by Government created a demand for a similar institution open to the general public and the question of extending the State Life Insurance Scheme to the general public was first brought before the Mysore Economic Conference in 1911. At that time, there was no local Life Assurance Company in the Mysore State and as even the few outside companies then doing business here were rather chary in issuing policies of small denominations suited to the limited means of the raiyat and labouring classes who form the backbone of the State, it was urged that the only way to bring the inestimable benefits of Life Assurance within easy reach of all classes of subjects of His Highness the Maharaja was the establishment of a Government concern for the purpose. The Government were pleased to sanction the scheme in December 1915 and the first policy under the scheme was issued in September 1916. Since then, the institution has been growing rapidly in magnitude and extending its sphere of usefulness to all corners of the State.

The management of the scheme vests in a Committee consisting of some Heads of Departments of Government and five members elected by the policy-holders from amongst themselves, the Financial Secretary to the Government of Mysore being the President of the Committee.

All those who are Mysoreans, whether by birth or domicile, are eligible to insure their lives with the Public Branch. Policies are ordinarily issued for a minimum of Rs. 100 or multiples thereof up to a maximum of Rs. 15,000 and the amount assured by every policy is guaranteed by the State revenues of Mysore.

As the Government of His Highness the Maharaja do not intend to derive any profit from the scheme, and as there are no shareholders to participate in the profits realised, surpluses declared by the Actuary after valuation which takes place once in five years are used entirely for distribution by way of bonus to holders of with-profit-policies and for increasing the soundness and stability of the Life Assurance Fund. The low expense ratio and the favourable mortality experience enabled the declaration of a bonus as high as 20 per thousand per annum as a result of the last quinquennial valuation made in 1933.

Premiums may be paid into any Government Treasury in the State or to the Bank of Mysore, Ltd., either at its Head Office or at any of its Branches. Every reasonable facility is afforded to policy-holders to keep their policies in force and for revival of policies which have lapsed for any reason.

Loans both in cash and for adjustment of premiums are granted to policy-holders on liberal terms. These loans carry only a low rate of interest.

The provisions regarding assignments and nominations and the powers conferred on the President of the Committee by the Mysore State Life Insurance Regulation enable the prompt settlement of claims without dilatory and expensive formalities. Payment of assurance amounts are usually arranged for at any desired Government Treasury in the State.

Helpers have been appointed in all parts of the State to spread the Gospel of Insurance and to render all possible assistance to intending proposers to insure their lives with the Public Branch.

It is a matter for satisfaction that notwithstanding the limited scope of its operations, the Public Branch has continued to prosper and the business secured during the year ending 30th June 1937 reveals a remarkable advance over the business of previous years.

The number of proposals received during the year was 6,742 for Rs. 59,67,100 as against 6,160 for Rs. 56,19,100 received during the previous year. Of the proposals received, 6,208 for Rs. 54,93,900 were accepted and 5,779 resulted in policies assuring Rs. 50,31,400 for an annual premium of Rs. 2,68,033 as compared with 5,034 policies assuring Rs. 45,44,800 for an annual premium of Rs. 2,47,286 issued during the previous year. The total number of policies issued from the commencement of the scheme to end of 30th June 1937 is 39,029 assuring Rs. 3,71,60,300 for an annual premium of Rs. 20,04,557.

From the commencement of the scheme, claims in respect of 1,428 policies have been discharged by payments to the insured persons or their heirs. The total business in force on 30th June 1937 was about 31,000 policies assuring nearly Rs. 2,93,12,000 and realising an annual premium of about Rs. 15,75,000.

The aggregate receipts and payments during the year amounted approximately to Rs. 17,47,000 and Rs. 7,09,000 respectively, and the cash balance at credit of the Fund increased in the course of the year from Rs. 56,55,500 to about Rs. 66,93,500.

In order to meet a popular demand and with a view to extend the scope of business, a scheme of Term Endowment Assurances was introduced in the Public Branch during the year under report.

By virtue of the exceptional facilities afforded to proposers and policy-holders, the Public Branch of the Mysore State Life Insurance Scheme stands out pre-eminently as the best institution for a Mysorean to insure his life.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER IN MYSORE STATE

BY

MR. S. G. FORBES, E.E., B.SC., E. & M. E. MEM.A.I.E.E.,

Chief Electrical Engineer.

Nature has been very partial in her distribution of coal deposits in India in that she has given none to Mysore State, but she has been very liberal in her gifts of Hydro-power under conditions which make the several sites easily developed for the production of electrical energy. Hydro-power resources are more valuable to a State than extensive coal deposits. The people of a State are living on their inexhaustible annual income when their power requirements are met by the development of Hydro-power sites, but they are living on their exhaustible capital when they obtain their power from coal.

In addition to a number of minor Hydro-power sites capable of development, the State has 4 rivers, namely, the Cauvery, the Shimsha, the Bhadra and the Sharavati with topography and rain falls suitable for the production of 225,000 H. P. without infringing on the water necessary for meeting the State's irrigation development programmes. These resources are far greater and more valuable than extensive coal fields. The Cauvery Falls on the Southern boundary of the State at Sivasamudram and Gersoppa Falls on the Sharavati River in the north-western corner of the State are two of the greatest and best known beauty spots of India and attract many hundreds of visitors every year. The Hydro-Electric Development at Sivasamudram has greatly increased its attractiveness for visitors from all over the world, similarly, the hydro-electric development at Gersoppa Falls will be carried out in such a way that it will not impair the natural scenic beauty of the place and will provide facilities for visitors all the year round, the visiting season now being limited to about three or four months during the winter.

The Gersoppa Falls:*—It is just about a century since Michæl Faraday made his fundamental discoveries in Electro-magnetism on which the whole modern practice of electrical generation is based; but it was not until Thomas Edison invented the incandescent lamp about 1890 that electric lighting became universally possible. About the time Edison invented the incandescent lamp, a commercial type of motor was developed. These inventions and developments immediately made extremely flexible the production, distribution and use of electrical energy for all classes of lighting and for motive power purposes.

It did not take Mysore Government very long after these inventions and developments to appreciate the value of hydro-electric power and to start an investigation of her resources. The survey of the hydro-power resources of the Mysore State actually began in 1898 only about 10 years after the invention of incandescent lamp and the development of an economical motor.

The surveys and investigations show that about 80,000 H. P. can be produced on the Cauvery River, about 23,000 H. P. on the Shimsha River, about 25,000 H.P. on the Bhadra River and 80,000 H.P. on the Sharavati River without interfering with or restricting the development of irrigation. Further the stations at the several sites can readily be tied together and supply their energy output into a transmission system reaching to all parts of the State. On the basis of these surveys and investigations Government have laid down and sanctioned a development programme for increasing the hydro-electric production to 93,000 H. P. during the next five years and for transmitting it to every district in the State and its distribution to all taluk head-quarters and to many towns and villages. This programme will fit in with similar future programmes.

The Cauvery Falls:†—Mysore Government sanctioned in 1900 the first stage of the Cauvery Power Scheme for the production of 6,000 E.H.P. and the power was first made available to the Mining Companies in May 1902, principally for motive power purposes, since which time the Station at Sivasamudram has been extended until it can now produce 53,000 E. H. P. for use for whatever purposes our modern civilisation requires. During the same time, the transmission and distribution systems have been appropriately extended until the electrical energy is available in every District in the State and a majority of the Taluk headquarters. When the recently sanctioned Generating Stations and Electrification Projects have been completed, electrical energy will be available in adequate quantities in all the cities, towns and villages of the State which are within economic distances of the Transmission and Distribution Systems.

The use of electrical energy is not confined to any one particular purpose, it can be used for illuminating homes, offices, commercial institutions, streets, roads and highways more economically and with a greater degree of efficiency than was dreamed of in the days of the oil lamp; it can be used for all motive power purposes more conveniently and efficiently than almost any other form of energy; it is being used all over the world for ventilation purposes, for refrigeration in very small units, for pumping water from wells on to the lands, for heating and cooking, in fact, electrical energy can be used more universally and more effectively than any other commodity and in places where other forms of energy cannot be made available. It is the declared policy of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore to provide an adequate and economical electric power supply to all residents of the State and they are devoting a major part of their resources to accomplish this great objective.

Generating Station:‡—We are living in an Age of Electricity. In all branches of human activity, electricity is playing an important role. In homes, it is the hand-maid of all work; cooks your food quickest and cleaner than by any other means: gets your hot-water bath ready in a few minutes; keeps your rooms cool or warm in accordance with your need and does any service it is put to without making your place messy. At nights, electricity relieves the sun and goes a step further; it provides you with a flood of light or subdued light if you so desire.

To popularise the use of electricity, the Government of Mysore charge no more than half an anna a unit for domestic purposes and half anna for raising water from wells and farm work. In very few civilised countries is electrical energy made available to its citizens so cheap. The scheme of rural electrification is an earnest endeavour to put modern civilisation on a broader basis by spreading out the wealth of natural resources to the remotest corner of the State, and giving its citizens an equal chance with those in urban areas.

In industry the advantages of electricity over other forms of energy are far too obvious to need emphasis. Its outstanding superiority is its flexibility and perfect speed control. The industrialplant becomes smaller by the use of electric motors and investments are accordingly lower.

It is the desire of the Government that the use of electricity should become more popular and the citizens should be provided with better amenities of life.

The Mysore Government Electrical Department is always at your service. Do not hesitate to seek its advice and be benefited.

BIG GAME AND FISHING

Apart from sight-seeing attractions which this beautiful Plateau of Mysore Province offers in the way of exquisitely carved temples, shrines, historical places and forts, picturesque panoramas, there are other attractions also in the way of "big game" and "fishing" which will appeal to those in search of "shikar" sport game.

For a varied bag, convenience of camping and ease of movement, Mysore is as good as any of the well-known shikar resorts in India. Almost all varieties of South Indian game are found in Mysore with the exception of Neilghery Ibex. Game is classified as follows:—

Big Game.—Elephant, Bison, Tiger, Sambhar, Spotted Deer or Chital, Munt-Jac or Barking Deer, Mouse Deer, Black Buck, Indian Gazelle or Chinkara and Four Horned Antelope (very scarce).

Small Game.—Hares, Jungle Fowl, Spur Fowl, Pea Fowl, Patridge, Quail, Wood Cock, Bustard, Florican, Duck and Teal.

Other Animals and Birds which are not included under Game:—The sloth or Indian bear, wild boar, panther, hyæna Indian wolf, jackal, wild dog, Indian fox, wild cats of various kinds and sizes, mongoose, Malbar squirrel, flying fox, porcupine, mugger, pythons, otter or water dog, snipe, pigeons and doves.

Fish:—Mahsheer is the principal fish sought after by sportsmen.

Distrbiution:—The forests of Western Ghats and the outlaying lower ranges of hills are composed of dense growth of trees interspersed with grassy plains. These forests have a richer fauna than the remaining areas to the east of the State. All varieties of big game are found here. They provide the main shelter to wild elephants and bison.

Elephants are mostly found in the Mysore District though a few stray ones roam now and then in the districts of Hassan and Shimoga. They are protected by a special act and generally no permission is granted to shoot them.

Bison is chiefly confined to the belt of forests along the Western Ghats and the high forests of Mysore, Kadur and Shimoga Districts. In bulls, a good average spread of the horns is 32 inches. Trophies of over 40 inches have been secured.

The best tiger grounds are situated in the districts of Mysore, Kadur and Shimoga. Several tigers shot in these regions have exceeded nine feet six inches in length.

Sambhar is found in all the high forests. A head over 32 inches is good.

The spotted deer or chital herds usually frequent the more or less open jungle combined with good grazing and plentiful supply of water. A 30-inch antler would be good in Mysore.

Black buck is usually seen in herds of six to ten. They live in open plains covered with scrub in the dry districts of Chitaldrug, Hassan and Tumkur. A head of about 18 inches is good.

Game found in different Forest Divisions:—

1.	Mysore	All big and small game and other animals and birds.
2.	Hassan
3.	Kadur
4.	Bhadravati
5.	Shimoga
6.	Sagar
7.	Chitaldrug	Only small game and antelopes and occasionally tigers. Bears and panthers are common.
8.	Tumkur
9.	Kolar
10.	Bangalore

Fish :—The biggest and the most sportive river fish is mahseer. It is common in the rivers, Cauvery, Kabbini, Lakshmanathirtha, Thunga and Bhadra. There are a few good pools within easy reach of Mysore City. The record Mahseer—119 lbs.—was caught in the river Cauvery near Mudukatore, 30 miles down the river from Mysore.

Communications :—The headquarters of Forest Divisions are connected by railway except Sagar and Chikmagalur; but excellent buses ply between the railway stations and important towns in the interior.

Transport :—Most of the forest lodges are approachable by motors during the dry weather. Motor cars and lorries can be hired at reasonable cost at the District headquarters while double bullock country carts are easily procurable at three annas per mile with a halting allowance of Re. 1 per day.

Shooting Permits.—Licenses are issued for a year, i.e., from July to June of the following year and are current only for the district to which they are issued. The big game season except for tiger is from 15th October to 15th June and small game season runs from 1st October to 1st May. Licenses are not transferable and the limit of bag given in a license should not be exceeded.

Applications should be made to the District Forest Officer enclosing Mysore licenses for rifles and guns, which are granted by the District Magistrates.

N.B.—The sportsman will do well not to choose Mysore District for his shoot since most of the areas have been reserved as Game Preserves and Sanctuary.

The following annual fees are charged in a single district for the different kinds of permits:—

Kind of License.	Fee Rs.	No. of heads allowed, etc.
1. Big Game which includes permission to shoot Small Game.	50	2 Bisons, 2 Tigers, 2 Sambhar, 2 Spotted Deer, 2 Barking Deer. No limit for small game and other animals.
2. Big Game other than Bison and Tiger.	25	Do do
3. Small Game ...	10
4. Fishing with rod and line in reserved waters	5

The shooting of females of big game except Tiger, immature males and stags in velvet, is prohibited. Antelopes and Pea-fowl are closed for shooting for five years from 1st July 1935 to 30th June 1940.

Rifles :—An express double barrel rifle of a minimum bore of ·400 which is an useful all round weapon and a double barrel 12 bore gun for small game are all that one needs. A point ·22 if carried, will come in handy when the forest should not be disturbed in the vicinity of tiger or panther kills.

Information re. Shooting and Camping Grounds :—The District Forest Officer will be in a position to supply valuable information regarding game, local shikaries, shortest route, etc., and can grant permission to occupy the forest lodges. Shikar elephants can be hired from the same officer at Rs. 15 plus the cost of rations, i.e., about Rs. 3 per elephant per day. The usual charge for beaters vary from six annas to eight annas each and trackers Re. 1 per day.

Camps and Kit :—Forest Lodges and Travellers' Bungalows are conveniently situated for shooting camps. A fee of annas eight per head and annas twelve per family is charged per day for the occupation of Forest Bungalows. Tents and other heavy equipments are necessary only if the party is a big one. Bedding, cutlery, crockery, cooking vessels and the necessary camp kit should be taken as in all the forest lodges only furniture is provided.

Supplies :— The sportsmen have to carry tinned provisions, bread and biscuits which are obtainable at all District headquarters. It will be possible to arrange for periodical supplies through the network of regular bus service that have been established in all important routes. Country vegetables, chickens, eggs and fresh milk and fruits such as plantains are obtainable from the adjoining villages. There are dispensaries within 10-15 miles of many shooting grounds but a small medicine kit would be useful.

Skinning and Curing of Trophies :—The animals may be skinned and salted with the help of the local "Chamars" and sent for curing and mounting to the taxidermists at Mysore who have fully equipped workshops. If the sportsman is very particular, he can engage the services of a professional skinner from one of the taxidermists.

Cost of Shoot :—The cost of an outing of this nature varies according to the kind of bundobust and comfort desired. If not pressed for time one can bag a bison and a tiger at a cost of couple of hundreds of rupees whereas the employment of professional and elaborate arrangements for a shoot in a hurry, will be certainly more costly.

Rules and Regulations :—Shikar is regulated by rules and regulations chiefly aiming at the preservation and improvement of game while not seriously hampering the enjoyment of a true sportsman. Copies of these rules giving details of conditions under which a license for the pursuit of game is issued. Game Preserves where shooting requires special permission and acts prohibited, may be obtained by a reference to the District Forest Officers or the Chief Conservator of Forests of Mysore, Bangalore.

PART VI

THE TRAVANCORE STATE

THE TRAVANCORE STATE (In Malayalam Tiruvitamkur) is the southernmost Indian State and occupies the south-west portion of the Indian peninsula, bounded on the north by the State of Cochin and the British District of Coimbatore. Madura, Ramnad and Tinnevelly are its eastern boundaries and on the west and south are the Arabian Sea and the Indian Ocean. Travancore is one of the most picturesque portions of India. The hill scenery of Travancore has peculiar beauties.

The population of the State according to the last Census in 1931 is 50,95,973 (25,65,073 males and 25,30,900 females). There was thus an average density of 668 persons to the square mile. Hinduism, the religion of the ruling family, is predominant in the State. Christians including the ancient Syrians represent nearly one-third of the population and the Mohamadans nearly one-fourteenth.

The official year in Travancore is reckoned according to the Malabar Era said to the date from the rebuilding of Quilon, 1100 years ago. The year begins about the middle of August.

His Highness Sri Padmanabhadasa Vanchipala Sri Balarama Varma Kulasekhara Kulitapathi Manney Sultan Maharaja Raja Rama Raja Bahadur Shamsharjan, Knight Great Commander of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire was born in 1912 and was invested with ruling powers in 1931. His Highness is entitled to a salute of 19 guns. The Government of Travancore is conducted under the control of His Highness the Maharaja. The actual day-to-day administration is vested with the Dewan, the present Dewan being Sachivothama Sir C. P. Ramaswamy Iyer. The Dewan is assisted by an organised Secretariat and the entire administration is carried on through several well-organised departments.

There are two Houses of Legislature in the State, the Srimulam Assembly and the Sri Chitra State Council, both evidently resembling the House of Commons and the House of Lords, over both of which presides Sir C. P. Ramaswamy Iyer, the Ex-officio President.

Travancore is essentially an agricultural country, the peculiar feature of which the proprietors and tenants of the lands live on the land itself.

The climate is healthy and equable though it is very hot during summer. There are up-to-date first class rest houses and travellers' bungalows in Trivandrum town and good motorable roads throughout the State.

The State ranks next after Hyderabad and Mysore amongst the Indian States in point of population and has a revenue of nearly two and a half crores of rupees. The State, is in subsidiary alliance with the British Government to which it pays an annual subsidy of Rs. 8,00,000.

The following article by Sachivothama Sir C. P. Ramaswamy Iyer, K.C.I.E., Dewan of Travancore, appearing in "GREAT BRITAIN AND THE EAST" (December 9, 1937) will be of considerable interest in this connection.

"Isolated by the towering mass of the Western Ghats hidden away in a confusion of bays and creeks, hills, dense forests and groves of cocoanut palm, and situated in the southernmost corner of India, Travancore has not, till recently attracted the attention that it deserves by reason of its wonderful and varied scenery and its cultural and political individuality; but thanks to the energetic and progressive policy of the present Ruler, attention is being more and more focussed on the State and increasing numbers of tourists testify to its appeal. There is not much difference in area between Baroda and Travancore, but Travancore has more than double the population of Baroda and about 50 per cent more by way of population than either Kashmir or Gwalior and yet the average annual revenue of Gwalior, Kashmir, Baroda and Travancore are roughly the same. Mysore is about 25 per cent more populous than Travancore and its revenue 40 per cent more. Comparing these figures, it is easily perceived that the subjects of Travancore are much more lightly taxed than those of many of the other great Indian States. The great density of the population of Travancore will be appreciated by realising that out of 7,700 square miles, about half are covered by forests or backwater. The congestion of population, it has been argued, is a handicap, but on the other hand, it must be remembered that the people are traditionally industrious and have a great aptitude for arts and crafts and are, from the highest to the lowest, very simple in their habits. In spite of the present depression, the various industries connected with cocoanut are still one of the main sources of agricultural wealth, but other crops of an important character are pepper and ginger, areca-nut, jack-fruit and tapioca as well as pine-apple and other fruits, the possibilities of which have to be adequately explored. There is also a great future for sugar-cane. Travancore is one of the most important units on the Indian Continent in the matter of rubber and tea production. Various cottage industries have, for centuries, obtained a firm foothold in the country and cotton weaving and coir making, wood and ivory carving, screwpine work and carpentry are well-known for their artistic excellence throughout the world; and during recent years, the enterprising fisher community has, under the far-sighted supervision of philanthropic agencies, developed the lace industry which has acquired a name for delicacy and durability. The kaolin deposits of Travancore are some of the finest in existence and it is hoped that the making of China clay and porcelain products will soon be one of the recognised and prosperous industries."

Forest Resources:—The forest resources comprise big blocks growing timber trees like teak, blackwood, ebony and sandalwood and cardamom are some of the varieties of indigenous products of the country. In addition, there is an almost unlimited extent of soft-wood and reeds that can yield an abundance of pulp whose uses in the matter of the manufacture of paper and cardboard and various other modern industrial products like artificial silk are being widely recognised. From the hilly nature of the country and the dense vegetation that encompasses it and the very heavy rainfall, the arable area is confined to terraces along the valleys, and some irrigated portions in the south and the reclamations from the backwater in the north. The forests, in fact, cover a third of the whole area. One of the special features of the country is the series of wide backwaters which form the cheapest possible route for traffic from Cochin to Trivandrum. There are navigable canals along the entire littoral and innumerable streams and rivers flowing westward to the sea. Properly dredged and deepened, these waterways will be many times cheaper than any rail or road transport, especially for heavy traffic, and if motor-tugs are introduced Travancore need not suffer from comparison with any modern State in the matter of transport facilities. Even at present, out of the total trade, 26 per cent is carried by sea, and 45 per cent by backwater."

Valuable Fisheries:—The fisheries of Travancore are already an item of considerable importance and the export of fish and fish products amounts in value to about 25 lakhs and a well directed extension of the existing programme for the education of fishermen and the spread of co-operation amongst them can easily lead to the rapid expansion of the industry. Poultry farming and especially bee-keeping in the State have attracted outside attention, and Marthandom, which carries on an intensive programme of rural reconstruction, is one of the recognised centres of All-India importance".

Electric Power and Industrial Development:—So far, I have been dealing with the question of the natural resources of the State; but what might have been an obstacle to industrial progress is the fact that although there are big deposits of monazite, ilimenite and graphite, certain and other minerals, there is little or no coal, and no mineral oil obtainable within the State. There is, however, ample compensation for this disavantage in the existence of a number of sources of easily available hydro-electric power; and the Pallivasal Hydro-Electric scheme initiated by the present Maharaja, which will be in full operation in the course of a few months is expected to result in the inauguration of industrial projects like bleaching, paper, and rubber factories, and of a number of textile and other industries, big and small, which would become paying propositions if cheap power become available."

Port Facilities:—It is well-known that Travancore is a participant in the Cochin Harbour Scheme and has other ports of its own, and the future of Travancore is in fact, bound up with its trade and commerce, the total value of which is much over 16 crores per year. It must not be forgotten that judging by recorded history, for over 2,000 years some of the ports in Travancore have had dealings with the commercial nations of the east and west, beginning with China, to whom she perhaps owes some of her architectural practices and fishing appurtenances and coming down to the great European Trading Corporations with one of whom, the English East India Company, she entered into an unshaken political alliance over a hundred and fifty years ago."

Progressive Education System:—Far outweighing even the value of the natural resources of the country, imposing as they are, are the character and potentialities of the people of the land. Thanks to century old system of liberal State encouragement. and owing to the fact that the State spends over 20 per cent of its revenue on education, and thanks to the non-existence of the purdah system and the absolute equality of states between men and women, in the political, social and educational spheres. Travancore admittedly stands in the forefront in the matter not only of men's, but of women's education. The State possesses eight colleges affiliated to the Madras University. No less than 13 per cent of the population are attending schools in Travancore and there is a school for every two square miles in the State. These figures are so much higher than those of any part of British India that there is really no comparison between the progress of education in Travancore and even progressive Indian Provinces.

"The spread of literacy in the country will be best realised when it is pointed out that there are nearly 120 periodicals and newspapers published within the State in English and Malayalam."

"The rapid growth of education and the desire of girls as well as boys to attain economic independence have, however, led to a phenomenal increase in middle-class unemployment both amongst men and women and recent social legislation in the State has led by inevitable processes to a fragmentation of holdings. The result is that much more acutely than in almost any part of British India there is prevalent a keen economic struggle and competition amongst the educated groups. Travancore may not have suffered from famine, but on the other hand, it is not a land of capitalists, but of peasant proprietors and small industrialists and tradesmen who have been very hard hit by the present agricultural depression and the setback in the export trade in cocoanut, as well as in pepper and other spices, and the slump in rubber."

Economic Planning:—What is needed to enable Travancore to make the utmost use of her opportunities, is an overhauling of the system of education and a carefully designed economic planning which will, without reproducing the evil effects of the factory system, industrialise the State and not only give secondry occupations to the families of landholders and agriculturists, but also open fresh and useful careers to the middle-class unemployed. His Highness the present Maharaja, who belongs to one of the oldest Ruling Houses in India, does not propose to rest on his historic laurels, but is determined to put Travancore in its proper place in the Indian map, and he has the great advantage of ruling over a people who possess great cultural and artistic traditions and whose intellectual standards are very high and whose enterprise is proverbial."

Constitutional Progress:—Travancore instituted a Legislative Council nearly fifty years ago, and His Highness initiated four years ago, a bicameral legislature in which both men and women take part and which possesses a very large budgetary control and extensive powers of discussion and interpellations. The franchise has recently been lowered and adjusted so as to enable all communities to be represented in the Legislature. He has also instituted a Public Service Commission to deal with the question of recruitment to the public services with a view to equalise opportunities for all aspirants. Fortunately, the standards of education are so high in the State that this can be done without lowering efficiency."

"The tradition of religious toleration is one of the glories of the State and Muslims and Christians belonging to dozens of sects have found uninterrupted hospitality and encouragement during many centuries, and it would be true to say that there is no part of India and very few parts of the world where there are more temples, churches and other places of worship to the square mile, than in Travancore."

Sound Finances:—"The credit of the State is very high in the money market as was evidenced by the striking success of the recent loan of fifty lakhs for Hydro-electric purposes which was subscribed more than five times over in a few minutes after opening of the subscription list. Apart from productive assets, the State possesses ample Reserves in the shape of fluid securities. It is noticeable that a very small amount (less than 5 per cent of the revenues) is taken by His Highness and his family for their privy purse."

Literature and Arts:—But man does not live by bread alone, and I cannot conclude without adverting to the creditable literacy and poetical output in Malaya lam which is a very apt instrument for the expression of humour and irony as well as of graver moods, and without referring to the widespread musical talent in fostering which the members of the Royal Family have, for generations taken an active personal part, one Maharajah (Swati Tirunal) being, in fact, a renowned poet and composer respected wherever music is honoured in the south of India. By starting the Palace and State Art Galleries, by the help given to the rediscovery and preservation of old frescoes and other art treasures of the past, and by their trained appreciation of music, the present Ruler and his mother have begun what is hoped will be a true cultural renaissance."

LIFE HISTORY OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJA OF TRAVANCORE

His Highness Sri Bala Rama Varma, G.C.I.E., the present Maharaja of Travancore was born on the 7th November 1912. His Highness was invested with the ruling power on the 6th November 1931. His Highnes made remarkable progress in studies under both Indian and European tutors. The Maharaja is a good sportsman and takes considerable interest in tennis and riding, his other hobbies being carpentry and photography. He travelled extensively all over India when he was undergoing administrative training, before he assumed ruling powers. His knowledge of men and letters has been vastly improved by his personal acquaintance with the conditions of the people and their need. The Maharaja is well informed on all questions of public importance and his proficiency in Malayalam, Sanskrit and English is very high. He is a gifted musician besides. The Maharaja had been on an European tour and the title of G.C.I.E. was conferred on him in June 1936. Very recently His Highnes had the honour of being conferred with the honorary degrees by the Andhra and Banares Universities. His Highness made history by an epoch-making Proclamation which "Ordained and Commanded that there should henceforth be no restriction placed on any Hindu by birth or religion on entering or worshipping at the temples controlled by us and our Government".

LIFE HISTORY OF HER HIGHNESS PARVATHI SETU BAYI

Her Highness Parvathi Setu Bayi, Maharani of Travancore was born on the 8th November 1896 and is the mother of His Highness the Maharaja of Travancore. Sachivottama Sir C. P. Ramaswamy Iyer, Dewan of Travancore

LIFE HISTORY OF SACHIVOTHAMA SIR C. P. RAMASWAMY IYER, DEWAN OF TRAVANCORE

Sachivothama Sir C. P. Ramaswamy Iyer, Dewan of Travancore was born on 12th November 1879. His relation with Travancore dates back a quarter of a century, to be exact to 1913, when he was retained by the Durbar as Council in what is known as "Ash Murder Case". He was consulted again in connection with the separation of Devasowam from the Land Revenue Department. His experience in several walks of life as Advocate-General, Law Member of the Madras Executive Council and membership of several committees, councils, leagues, conferences, assemblies and Universities has placed him in a very unique position to make him a successful Dewan. At the time of his appointment as Dewan, he said "One of my ambitions is to carry out the ideals of His Highness, namely the relieving of agricultural depression and the rapid industrialization of the State on right lines, bearing in mind the fact that Travancore rejoices in the possession of unlimited resources which will enable her to start manufactures like those connected with paper, rubber, sugar and artificial silk". With thoroughness and concentration so characteristic of him Sir C. P. Ramaswamy Iyer, has taken up one by one the problems confronting Travancore. He was instrumental in implementing the Temple Entry Proclamation in 1936. Debt Conciliation Boards are now in operation in the State and very soon a State Bank will be functioning to finance the agriculturists with long term loans. The University will be predominantly technological and capable of helping the speedy industrialization of the State. The scheme to co-ordinate the means of transport and to nationalize the road transport system is making remarkable progress. The energy and practical enthusiasm of Dewan coupled with high and noble ideals of the youthful Maharaja have brought an everlasting reputation to Travancore.

PLACES OF INTEREST IN TRAVANCORE

Alleppey :—This is the most important commercial town in the State. Open to foreign trade since the latter part of the 18th century, it has long been the premier port of Travancore and has become an important trade and industrial centre, having backwater communication with the surrounding country. The manufacture of coir matting is carried on extensively, besides hydraulic baling of coir yarn and fibre for foreign markets. Cocoanut Oil Mills worked by steam power have also been established. The town has an extensive canal system, connected with the backwater, which affords considerable water frontage of immense importance to merchants for transport of goods. As a seaport, Alleppey owes its importance to a mud-bank off the coast, which renders the sea smooth for shipping operations, though it shifts its position occasionally. It is an open roadstead with good holding ground of sand and mud. It has a pier of 773 feet long, and 21 feet broad fitted with two steam cranes and two hand cranes, for handling cargo and has also large godown accommodation. The port is closed during the south-west monsoon generally from about the 15th May till the 15th August. Steamers, however, call at or near the port during the monsoon, when weather conditions permit, and when the mud-bank is sufficiently developed to afford smooth water for shipping operations, as may be notified by the Marine Department. The port is also provided with a light-house.

Alwaye (Health Resort) :—In the early days this place was known to the Portuguese as Fiera'd Alva. It is now a station on the Shorannur-Cochin State Railway. It is situated on the banks of the Periyar and is largely frequented as a health resort in the summer months. Five miles from here is the village of Kaladi, the birth place of Sri Sankaracharya. A Hindu festival occurs in the month of March at the temple near the river, and is largely attended.

Cape-Comorin—(Health Resort) :—This is ten miles to the south of Nagercoil and is the southernmost point of India. This is a famous place of pilgrimage as well as a popular health resort. The temple, dedicated to the Goddess Bhagavathi (Virgin Goddess), is also a place of archæological importance. There are churches on the coast, the chief of which is the Roman Catholic Church at Kumrimutam. Another remarkable sight is the 18th century fortress of Vattakottai built of solid stone, overlooking a deep water-haven which was much in use in ancient days. There is a first class Travellers' Bungalow with more than a dozen suite of rooms.

Changanacherry :—This town was once the capital of the principality of Tekkumkur. It possesses the grandest Syro-Roman Church on the Malabar Coast. It has a First Grade College besides several other educational institutions. One of the important markets in North Travancore is held here, and people come to it from all parts of the country. It is situated on the main central road that connects Trivandrum with Ernakulam, the capital of the Cochin State.

Kottayam :—This town, situated on the banks of the Minachil River, was the scene of the labours of the early Anglican Missionaries and is now the centre of the Syrian Christian Community, possessing one of the most ancient Syrian Churches in Malabar. It has a second grade college besides other educational institutions. The town is lighted with electric lights.

Munnar (Health Resort) :—Is a hill station about 5,000 feet above sea level. It is 72 miles to the east of Alwaye and is connected with Alwaye by a good road passing through Perumbavoor, Kothamangalam and Neriyamangalam. One of the outlet roads leading to the Madura District passes through this. There are many coffee, tea and cardamon estates owned by the Kannan Devan Hills Produce Company Ltd. The produce of these estates is transported to the plains by an ærial rope-way rising to about 4,000 feet. This rope-way is worked by a turbine driven by a small stream at the foot of the hills. In consideration of Government acquiring and handing over, under the Land Acquisition Act, the land required for the rope-way, the company has agreed to the use of the rope-way by the general public on payment of certain fixed charges.

Nagercoil :—Stands within 7 miles of the Aramboly Pass through which runs the highway from Tinnevelly to Travancore, and is the only important town south of the Capital. With Nagercoil as the nucleus, the town comprises a number of villages, viz., Kottar, Vadiveeswaram, Ozhughanacherri and Vadaseri. Of these, Kottar and Vadaseri form the trading and manufacturing centres. The town owes much of its improvement and its position to the efforts of the Christian Missionaries. The town is lighted with electricity supplied by Nagercoil Electric Supply Corporation.

Quilon :—Is one of the oldest towns and one of the most important ports. This town has a reef of rocks for its beach, which prevents its corrosion by sea and helps the ryot to plant cocoanut trees so near and the water's edge that their shadows fall on the beating surf, a phenomenon not met within any other point of this coast. On the south is the beautiful Bay known to the earliest mariners of Europe as affording a perfect natural protection to ships in the worst weather. With the opening of the railway, Quilon finds herself in direct and easy communication with the towns of the Madras Presidency and is likely to regain her former position as an important commercial centre. The Palace of His Highness the Maharaja stands out boldly into the eight-armed lake, known as the Loch Lomond of Travancore. Cotton spinning and weaving and the manufacture of tiles are its chief industries. A considerable trade in cashewnut is also carried on, large quantities of prepared nuts being exported to America and Europe. The sea-port is an open road-stead situated off a bight in the coast formed by the Tangacherri point, a British possession, projecting slightly beyond the coast line. During the fine weather period from September till May, vessels can anchor in the inner anchorage in 4½ to 5 fathoms of water, four-tenth of a mile off the shore. The town is lighted with electricity generated by oil engines installed within the town.

Suchindram :—This place, three miles south of Nagercoil, on the way to Cape Comorin, is famous for its Siva Temple. The annual car festival in December attracts to this sacred spot thousands of pilgrims from all over Travancore and the adjacent British Indian Districts.

Shencottah :—The headquarters of the taluk of that name lies at the foot of the Ghats on their eastern aspect. The main road that runs through it connects the British town of Tinnevelly with the port of Quilon. There are several coffee estates in its neighbourhood.

This is the first railway station in the Travancore territory on the Tinnevelly-Trivandrum line. Within a distance of three miles are celebrated Courtallam Falls largely used as a Sanatorium by the people of South India for a period of three or four months from June. Midway between Shencottah and Quilon is the village of Punalore, where is located a paper mill constructed years ago. The paper manufactured from the mill is largely purchased by the Governments of Madras and Travancore. A suspension bridge across the Kallada River has been constructed here many years back.

Trivandrum:—It is the Capital of the State and the residence of the Ruler. It forms the southern terminus of the Travancore branch of the South Indian Railway. The celebrated pagoda of Sri Padmanabhaswamy within the Fort has made it a great religious centre and attracts pilgrims from all parts of India. The Fort and its neighbourhood constitute the most crowded part of the town. The Kowdiyar Palace, the Military cantonment, the Government offices and other public buildings and the residences of the upper classes are pecturesquely situated on small eminences, each commanding a refreshing scene of verdure alround. The town has efficient electric supply and is well-equipped with Colleges, Schools and Hospitals. The city is provided with the Willingdon Water Works giving a protected water-supply on most up-to-date lines the water supplied being of a high standard of purity, copious and under adequate pressure. The head-works for the water-supply are at Aruvikarai, about 11 miles out from the City which is a restful place for week-end visitors and a beauty spot in respect of the natural scenery, the large volume of foamy water in the River sliding down the overflow dam, and the natural cataract just below the Dam with an ancient Bhagvathi Temple on the right bank. A drainge and Sewage Scheme on up-to-date lines is under preparation. The convenience and comfort of travellers who visit Trivandrum are well-attended to by the Mascot Hotel near the Museum and Public Gardens. There is a well laid out Park with a Museum and Managerie. The Avenue road, one of the best roads in South India with the Kowdiyar Square and Vambalam Square, is one of the attractive drives in the town. The Aerodrome at Shangumukham make Trivandrum within easy reach of the important towns in India. An Air Mail runs between Trivandrum and Bombay. The sea-port is at Valiathurai, about one mile from the town. It is an open road-stead, with deep water close to the shore. A pier for the landing and shipment of cargo, 750 feet in length and fitted with two steam cranes, has been erected. The five fathom depth line is about 600 feet off the end of the pier, but steamers anchor in 12½ fathoms, four-tenth of a mile, off shore. It is a port of call for coasting steamers when inducement offers.

Vaikom:—Eight miles to the south of Alleppey in Ambalapuzha which was once the Capital of the Ambalapuzha or Chempakaseri, principality annexed to Travancore in 1754 by Maharaja Martanda Varma. The famous temple here is dedicated to Sri Krishna.

Varkala:—This place is resorted on a large scale by Hindu pilgrims throughout the year, from every corner of the Indian Empire, to worship Sri Janardhana Swami of traditional fame. This holy shrine, situated on a hillock overlooking the sea, is a mile and a half from the station. The rugged hills, facing the beach and containing the mineral wealth of Travancore, present fine natural scenery.

At an equal distance from the station to the south-east is the abode of Sri Narayana Guru of Swagiri Mattam, who has been held in high estimation for the past half a century for his devotion to God and for the uplift of the so-called untouchable depressed classes.

Double bullock bandies are available at the station at cheap rates. The station is provided with two upper class waiting rooms for the convenience of the travelling public. There are two choultries for Hindus and a Travellers' Bungalow at Vettur, a distance of two miles from the station.

PART VII

OTHER STATES

I. BANGANAPALLE

BANGANAPALLE is an ancient and only Muslim State in South India situated in the Madras Presidency. It has an area of 275 square miles with a population of 39,239. It pays no tribute to the British Government. Its present Ruler Nawab Syed Fazli Ali Khan Bahadur exercises full control over the administration of the State and has direct relations with the Government of India through the Resident for Madras States.

The principal town, Banganapalle, has delightful fruit gardens all round. The climate though dry, most of the year, is healthy.

The State is blessed with rich mineral resources. In the south-west of the Capital within one mile there stands a hill called "Diamond Hill" known for its rich contents. Geologists have opined that there are hidden treasures in this plateau.

The Banganapalle Municipality consists of a nominated Honorary Chairman and 18 Councillors.

Regarding the administration of justice in the State, the State courts are mostly guided by Laws and Regulations in force in British India. There is a civil court presided over by a Munsiff and the Dewan, apart from his other responsibilities, exercises the powers of a District Judge on the civil side and those of District Magistrate and Sessions Judge on the criminal side. The Huzur Court presided over by the Nawab Sahib Bahadur is the High Court in the State.

Recently, Mr. Humayun Mirza, a brilliant civilian of the Mysore State Service was appointed Dewan of Banganapalle.

II. COCHIN STATE

COCHIN is a feudatory State on the west coast of India. It is on the north, north-west and north-east bounded by the Malabar District of the Madras Presidency, on the south-west by the Arabian Sea and on the south by Travancore State. The State has an area of 1,417¾ square miles of which the majority are forests. The forests contain teak, ebony, black-wood and other valuable trees. The State enjoys both monsoons of south-west and north-east.

The population of Cochin according to the Census of 1931 was 12,05,016 of whom 5,89,813 were males and 6,15,203 females. The majority are Hindus. There is also a small community of Jews. Rice is the staple food of the people.

His Highness the Maharaja Sir Sri Rama Varma G.C.I.E., the present Ruler of Cochin was born on 30th December 1861 and ascended the Gadi in March 1932. Sir R. K. Shanmukhan Chetty, K.C.I.E., is the administrative head of the State being the Dewan.

There is a Legislative Council in the State over which the Dewan presides.

The State Railway continues to be worked by the South Indian Railway Company under an agreement entered into with them.

There is a Chamber of Commerce in Cochin, the general objects of the Chamber being to promote, foster and protect the commerce of the Port of Cochin and the mercantile interests of the adjoining States of Cochin and Travancore and of the Malabar coast by collecting all information and trying to redress acknowledged grievances.

The Cochin Harbour:—It was on the 1st of August 1936 that Cochin was declared a major Port. It was in 1920 that Mr. R. C. Bristow came to Cochin as the Harbour Engineer-in-Chief to the Government of Madras. Slowly, the first series of harbour development were carried out and the fourth stage works which are now in progress consists of all further improvements that are deemed necessary for the conversion of the harbour into a first-class port.

The climate of Cochin on the whole is salubrious though in the summer it is likely to be very hot.

PLACES OF INTEREST IN THE STATE

Chowara:—Is the summer resort of His Highness the Maharaja and other Members of the Cochin Royal Family. There are several palaces and bungalows picturesquely situated on the riverside of Alwaye.

Cranganore:—Is a place of great historical interest. It had extensive trade relations with the West long before the Christian era. The Jews, the Phoenicians, the Romans and the Arabs came successively with ther merchant fleets to this place to exchange produce of Europe for those of Malabar.

Ernakulam:—Is the Capital of the Cochin State and has a population of 36,638. It is the terminus of the Cochin State Railway and is very rapidly growing into importance and population. The chief public buildings, Durbar Hall, Palaces, Public Offices, Chief Court and the Maharaja's College are situated here. The Residency is on the Bolgatty Island close to Ernakulam. There are good rest houses and up-to-date hotels for travellers.

Matthancheri:—Is the commercial capital of Cochin and it has a population of 39,645.

Trippunnitura:—Is an ancient little town about 6 miles to the south-east of Ernakulam. Its importance at present consists mainly in its being seat of Royal Family of Cochin. His Highness the Maharaja resides in a handsome Palace picturesquely situated on a hill about a mile and a half to the east of Trippunnitura.

In the centre of the town there is a rich Vishnu Temple having a glorious tradition behind it.

Cochin:—It is an important Seaport on the west coast. The recent development of its wonderful natural harbour has made it possible for Cargo and Passenger Steamers to call at this port. There is a first class Travellers' Bungalow here maintained by the Municipality. A hotel called the "Malabar Hotel" has been built on the Willingdon Island, Cochin, facing the Harbour entrance. It has a large swimming pool, billiards room and convenient bed rooms with bath rooms attached. There are also other private hotels catering to the needs of Europeans and Indians.

The town (population 22,576) is situated 2 miles from Ernakulam on the west side of the backwater, divided into Mattancherry, Jew Town, and British Cochin. The principal Indian merchants, some of whom are very prosperous, reside at Mattancherry. Jew Town is occupied by White and Black Jews, the former claim to be the descendants of a portion of the tribe of Manasseh who were carried away by Nebuchadnezzar to the eastern extremity of his empire, whence they migrated to Malabar. They hold a charter engraved on copper-plates granted to them by Erawi Wanwara, Emperor of Malabar, in A.D. 378. There are two chief synagogues, one at the northern end of the town used by the White Jews, and another at its southern extremity used by the Black Jews.

Cochin is interesting historically as being the first European Settlement in India after Alexander the Great. The Portuguese landed in 1496, and almost immediately built a Fort and a large Cathedral. They held what is now British Cochin till expelled in 1663 by the Dutch, who were in occupation till the British took it in 1795. It comprises only about 800 acres, of which about 20 from the north abutment of the Harbour entrance, and the remainder are to the south. The only relics of the fort are the bases of the four bastions, of which three are on the sea face, the northernmost commanding the Harbour entrance, the southernmost being the foundation of the present light-house, and a hotel is on the central one; the fourth is inland to the east of the light-house, and on it a former English Chaplain built what is now the present Bishop's Palace. The Cathedral stood partially on the site of the present Port Office. Its last relic (except casual pieces of masonry incorporated about the town), a very ugly and squat square tower was removed in 1871 by Government. Adjoining the Cathedral was a Convent of which the present sub-court and jail are reputed to be remnants. The present Government Church was probably the mortuary

III. PUDUKOTTAH STATE

THE PUDUKOTTA State is the only Tamil State in South India bounded on the north and the west by the Trichinopoly District, on the south by the Ramnad District and on the east by Tanjore District. Its area is 1,179 square miles and the population according to Census of 1931 was 4,00,694. Its climate resembles that of the surrounding districts and can be said to be fairly healthy. The State is purely agricultural depending on rather precarious rainfall.

His Highness Sri Brihadamba Das Raja Rajagopala Tondaiman Bahadur, is the Ruler of the State and is entitled to a salute of 11 guns. He was born in 1922. His Highness is being tutored by Capt. G. T. B. Harvey.

The administration of the State (now that His Highness is a minor) is vested in the Administrator Sir Alexander Tottenham, who is assisted by an assistant Administrator Rao Sahib R. Krishnamachariar. There is also a Legislative Council constituted on a statutory basis composed of 50 members of whom 35 are elected and 15 are nominated by the Durbar. The Administrator is the Ex-officio President of the Council.

A railway connects the Capital town Pudukottai with Trichinopoly on the north and Manamadurai on the south. There are 8 railway stations in the State all of which are served by feeder roads. All places of importance in the State are connected by good roads on many of which motor buses ply.

There is also a good rest house and up-to-date hotels in the capital city for travellers.

PLACES OF INTEREST IN PUDUKOTTAH STATE

Pudukottai is a station on the Trichinopoly-Manamadurai Chord Line. It is the capital of the State and the seat of the Rajah. It is a well-laid out town with fine Palaces and an old Fort. Here are situated the Chief Court, a General Hospital and a Women's Hospital, a Second Grade College and Girls' Secondary School. The town has a number of tanks for storing rain water, of which the Pudukkulam is a large Reservoir from which filtered water is supplied by pipe-lines to the town. There are three annual festivals at which the Rajah personally presides, and which are highly popular—the Chitrai festival, the Adipuram festival and the Dussara. During the Dussara, Brahmins are fed free and given doles of rice; a Parishad is held of Sanskrit scholars who are also awarded Sambhavanas or money presents according to their scholarship, and on the final day of the festival a grand procession headed by the Rajah passes through the principal streets. Near the town, and forming part of it, is Tirugokarnam Temple containing the tutelary deity of the ruling house.

Tirumayam thirteen miles from Pudukottai, contains an old Fort and a Temple in a rock-cut cave with twin shrines to Siva and Vishnu, the latter of which contains a large image of Vishnu in recumbent (Sayana) posture. The old Fort hill was once the frontier station of the Sethupathis of Ramnad, and an effective refuge to the Tondaimans of Pudukottai when Ananda Rao invaded the country. There is also a legend that at the time of the Palayagar wars in 1799, Kattabomma Nayak and his dumb brother were imprisoned here. The temple contains some interesting old inscriptions. Tirumayam is a place of pilgrimage, on account of the Vishnu Temple. There is a free High School here, and round it lie the prosperous Chetti Settlements of Ramachandrapuram (Kadiyapatti), Royavaram, Arimalam, Konapet, Nachandupatti and Virachilai.

Narthamalai—A railway station on the Trichinopoly Manamadurai Chord Line. Contains a Mariamman Temple much visited by pilgrims, especially during the Car Festival and the Poochorial (flower worship). It lies among 8 hills, full of archæological interest. In the 9th century A. D. it was a refuge for the Jains who were persecuted at Madura, who opened schools and taught the ancient sciences. One of the rocks, the Alurutti Malai, was originally used as a place for capital punishment, the unhappy victim being hurled down from its summit.

Situannavasal—Nine miles from Pudukottah, has archæological interest. There is a hill cave here, known as Eladippattam (the flat above the seven steps) with stone-beds on which according to tradition Jain Monks lay and prayed. The Brahmi inscription in this cave dates back to the pre-Christian era. On another slope of the hill, there is a rare rock-cut Jaina Temple called the Pallava cave, with Theerthankara images and with a very fine painting, in vegetable colours, on the ceiling, a study of which gives an insight into the dress, jewellery, civilization and art of early Jaina times.

Kudimiamalai—Twelve miles from Pudukottah, contain a rock-cut temple, a musical treatise on rock in Pallava Grantha character (a document of high value in the musical world) and a shrine to Sikhanathar where the Tondiman Rajahs were crowned in former times. Near it is Kumaramalai, dedicated to Subrahmaniya and visited by pilgrims.

Viralimalai—Twenty-five miles from Pudukottah and 7 miles from Kolattur Station on the Main Line from Trichinopoly to Madura is another place noted for the Subrahmaniya Temple. In the days of the Carnatic Wars, it was a camping station.

Kodumbalur—Twenty-five miles from Pudukottah and about 5 miles from Manaparai Station is one of the oldest places known, and is mentioned in Silappadikaram, and Periapuranam. It was once the seat of the Irukkuvel dynasty, an offshoot of the Chola line. It contains the remnants of a shrine called Movar Koil. The bull figure in the temple is of huge size, and resembles the one in the Tanjore temple.

Avur—Twenty-eight miles off Pudukottah, is the earliest Christian settlement in the State, the scene of the labours of T. Venatrus Bonchet.

Keelanilai—Fifteen miles from Pudukottah and about 6 miles from Arantangi Station, contains an old Fort and arsenal, and was a bone of contention for about a century in the unsettled days immediately preceding British occupation. It passed to and fro between the Tanjore Raj and Ramnad, and finally came to the Tondaimans of Pudukottah to whom it was ceded by the Board of Directors of the East India Company.

Pallivasal—Eighteen miles from Pudukottah, also known as Kattu Bava Pallivasal, is the Nagore of the Pudukottah State.

Tirukkalambur—Contains a temple of architectural value.

Malayadippatti, Sevalur and Thenimalai—Have rock cut caves, and are of archæological interest.

IV. SANDUR STATE

SANDUR is the only Mahratta State in South India in direct political relations with the Government of India. Situated in a valley between two almost parallel ranges of mountains, it reveals a natural charm and picturesqueness which is rare to find in the surrounding country. The two gorges, "BHIMANA GANDI" and "OBALA GANDI" which command the two main entrances into the State are unique for their noble size and proportions as well as their sublime beauty and well worth the visit of any tourist with an æsthetic taste and an eye for natural beauty.

2. The chief attractions are, however, the shrine of Shri Kartheek Swami, the family deity of the Royal House of Sandur and the Hill Station of Ramghad.

Sri Kartheek Swami Temple.

The former is a very ancient Shrine of epic fame and is one of the most important and well-known places of pilgrimage of All-India-importance. It is situated on a hill and is about seven miles from Sandur by a motorable road. The restful tranquillity of the scene enveloped in the luxuriant vegetation of the hills around affords a natural setting to the holy place, which is a fit place to contemplate the Divinity. The triennial fair is largely attended by devotees.

Ramghad Hill Station.

Ramghad is the only hill station in the Ceded Districts. Situated on a plateau at an altitude of 3,250 feet above sea level, the hill station is a very pleasant place with a dry bracing climate. The walks and drives in scenes lavishly decorated by nature, along with the most picturesque panorama that the plateau commands, make the place very attractive. It is the summer resort of His Highness the Ruler of Sandur and his Government. An hour's journey from the place takes us to the famous Historical Ruins of Humpi. The excellent mineral waters available on the plateau are efficacious for curing chronic diseases such as rheumatism anemia and digestive disorders. Furnished quarters and other amenities will be available during the season at moderate charges.

3. Sandur stands on the main road from Bellary to Harapanahalli. One has to alight either at Bellary or at Tornagallu on the Hubli-Guntakal Section of the M. & S. M. Railway, the nearest railway station to Sandur. A number of buses, including the Mail-Bus, ply on the road providing a convenient means of travel. From Sandur, Ramghad is about 9 miles by a motorable road, but it can also be approached from Hospet, a station on the Hubli-Guntakal Section from which place it is about 12 miles.

4. The History of the State is no less interesting. The Ruling Dynasty belongs to "GOOTYKER GHORPADES". The State was first conquered by RAJA SIDDOJI RAO GHORPADE, who held the Jahgir of Gajendragad as a part of this principality of Sandur. Sandur was the nucleus of the vast territory conquered by RAJA MORAR RAO GHORPADE, the famous "CHIEF OF GOOTY", in whose time the State attained the zenith of its territorial expansion. It is an independant State exercising full Sovereign powers.

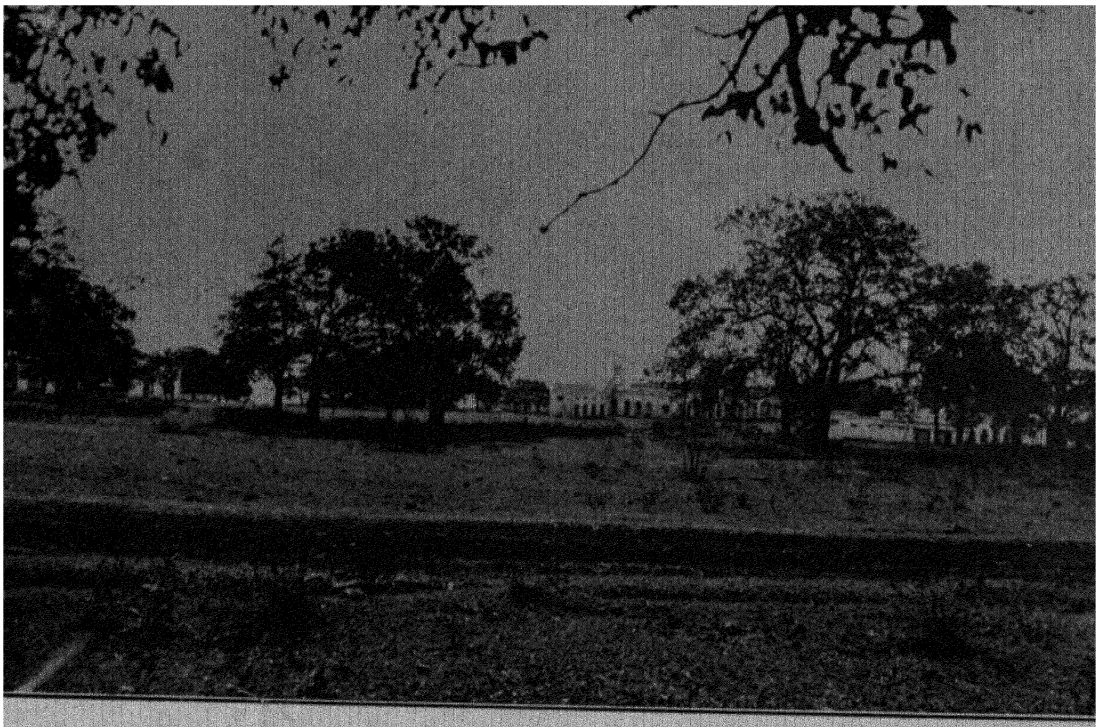

5. Mining is the chief industry in the State. The State possesses vast and unlimited deposits of manganese and iron ore and exports about half of India's output. Kammatharuvu is the headquarters of the "GENERAL SANDUR MINING COMPANY" to which several blocks of the mining area have been leased out. To facilitate the removal of the ore, M. & S. M. Railway has opened a branch line from Hospet to Swamihalli via Kanivihalli, an important village in the State. This line is open to passenger traffic for only three days in the week; on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays. Kanivihalli too stands on the Bellary-Harapanahalli Road and is only 5 miles from Sandur. The rope-way by means of which the ore is brought down to the station on the plains below from the plateau where the mines are situated is one of the biggest in the world.

The other mines which are worked on a smaller scale are those of 'Red oxide of iron' and Red and yellow Ochres'. "Red oxide of iron' which is largely in the preparation of paints is of a very excellent variety.

The outer slopes of the eastern hills of the State contain quartz-reefs indicating the presence of gold in that area which has yet to be prospected.

Sandalwood and Rosa grass grow in abundance in the State forests. Both yield oil of high commercial value. Sandalwood especially being very superior, the oil-content being about 5·8 per cent "LAVENDULA" another plant yielding lavender has been recently found to abound in the forests and promises to be of high commercial value.

A NOTE ON COTTAGE INDUSTRIES IN INDIA

BY

DR. H. C. MUELLER

There are many persons in India who would like to start a small factory and many such factories have been founded during the past years. In most cases the man desiring to build up a new business is at a loss what to manufacture or how to begin. The following lines give a selection of a few promising enterprises; there are naturally many more possibilities equally promising but the space here does not allow to deal with all of them.

The machinery supplier can only advise the prospective factory owner in the selection of the most suitable machinery, the mode of operation, capital outlay, working cost and raw materials to be used and that mostly only under European conditions. The local conditions that involves the selection of suitable raw materials, their prices and the marketing of the finished products as well as the manufacturing cost has to be found out by the man who wants to build up the factory.

I may be allowed to give a word of advice here: an industrial enterprise in India will be paying only if the goods manufactured are of a high standard. Only then, the prices obtained will be equal to those of the imported goods and the competition of other Indian enterprises can be met successfully. There is no reason whatsoever why goods produced in small industries in India should not be of a high standard if only the necessary care in training, labour and in selecting good machinery and good raw materials is exercised. Indian labour and Indian raw materials can produce very high quality of goods; that is a proved fact. It must also be borne in mind that imported goods are produced in factories which have a long standing experience and equipped mostly with the most modern machinery. The experience of oversea factories is their greatest asset. The Indian industrialist however shows generally astounding ability to find his own experience in a very short time and this should encourage everybody who is determined to start his own factory.

Let us begin with a few Stationery Articles for which there is a great and growing demand in India.

Penholders—Suitable close-grained hardwood is available everywhere in India. The following gives the description of a complete plant for manufacturing of about 35 to 40 gross per day. The process is simple and the machines can be handled by unskilled labour with a good foreman-in-charge.

	Rs.
(1) Slat Saw for cutting the planks	985
(2) Machine for rounding the sticks	2,070
A complete set of tools	94
(3) Tool Grinding Machine	405
(4) Conical Forming Machine with 20 inch disc	1,415
(5) Extra Disc	207
(6) Penholder Barring and Rounding Machine	895
(7) Cone Forming Machine (for the ends of the penholders)	367
(8) Polishing and Finishing Stand	450
(9) Dipping Apparatus for marbling or laquering	207
(10) Imprinting Machine	425
Cost of the plant f.o.r. Indian Port	6,520

Another suitable article for the Indian market would be Footrules. Suitable hardwood or bamboo can be used for these. Cutting and planing of the wood can be done on small Circular Saws and Planers, the price of which is small. It also depends on the size selected. The scale and imprints are made on special machines. A plant can be purchased for about Rs. 1,350. to Rs. 2,000. f.o.r. India Port.

Paper Clips are an other article which can be made on a small scale with a ready market consuming great quantities. The wire for paper clips has to be imported but it does not require tempering.

A machine to produce 220 paper clips per minute in an automatic process including a die for one size of clips cost Rs. 1,050 to which a special wire reel (Rs. 75) and 3 sets of tools (Rs. 66) should be added. Die Plates for different shapes and sizes of clips cost between Rs. 390 and Rs. 495 all prices f.o.r. Indian Port. The manufacturing is automatic and only needs one attendant. Boxing and packing can be done by hand.

Carbon Paper, Typewriter Ribbons and Stencils are likewise a promising industry. The demand in India is enormous. The three products are best manufactured in the same factory to save overhead charges. But certainly each article can also be manufactured by itself. The thin paper required for carbon-paper and stencils will be shortly obtainable from the Mysore Paper Mills, Ltd., and the ribbon for typewriters can be manufactured as a sideline from South-Indian or African cotton. Only the most up-to-date machinery should be employed for the manufacturing of the above articles, and as much as possible, automatic machines.

The plant consists of many items, too numerous to be mentioned here. A carbon-paper plant may cost between Rs. 10,600 to Rs. 16,000; a typewriter-ribbon plant between Rs. 3,500 to Rs. 15,000, and a plant to make stencils requires between Rs. 3,600 and Rs. 4,600.

Places in jungle districts in India have the advantage for manufacturing Wood Articles.

Lately, Plywood-making has received much interest. Such plywood is not only required for tea-chests, but also for box-making, furniture-making, partitions, etc. There are many kinds of woods suitable for this industry in the Indian forests but the supply is often limited. The logs must be of large diameter for economical work. For this reason and to suit the purse of the small industrialist better a leading German machinery builder specialising in this type of machines is at present constructing machines of smaller size for Indian investors. The cost of the plant will thus be reduced to about Rs. 35,000.

In all districts where building is going on it has been found that carpentering and joining becomes more profitable if it is carried out with the help of machines. There are now on the market small and inexpensive Woodworking Machines to suit the small contractor. Circular Saws, Band Saws, Planers and Moulders can be purchased for a few hundred rupees each.

Another woodworking industry is the manufacturing of Bent-wood furniture. The wood is first cut into suitable lengths and then turned on a simple lathe or a more complicated round-turning machine. After this the wood is steamed in preparation for the bending. For this steaming a Boiler is required, which with 32 square feet heating surface costs Rs. 1,150 and a steaming apparatus which costs Rs. 745, having a length of 8 feet 4 inches and a diameter of 25 inches. For the actual bending of the wood inexpensive moulds are used with bending clamps; the most expensive of these devices costs Rs. 50 only. A complete plant to make chairs costs Rs. 454·8 only.

After bending the wood, it is screwed together, varnished or French-polished and the cane seat or plywood seat applied. Transport of such chairs is done in single pieces which are screwed together at the place of use.

Many articles are already manufactured in India of Split cane. This industry can be improved much by the use of machinery for splitting and planing. A cane splitter producing 100-200 lbs. of split cane per hour costs Rs 2,000 and requires 8 H.P. of power. A machine to plane and narrow the split cane, working 50 to 65 lbs. per hour costs Rs. 950 and requires ¾ H.P.

Other industries for which there is much scope especially in rural districts are :

Gold & Silver Chain Making:—Round chains can be manufactured by an automatic Anchor Chain Machine which costs Rs. 950 including one tool for one thickness of wire. Each further tool for different wire thickness costs Rs. 85. Curb Chains are made on another machine which costs, including one tool Rs. 1,100 and each tool for this machine Rs. 95. Quite naturally also wires of non-precious metal can be worked on these machines which are fully automatic. Their output is 100 to 120 links per minute and the power required only ¾ H.P.

Fruit Preserving Plants - These will help the agriculturist and fruit grower immensely in obtaining better prices for his products and making him independant from the seasonal fluctuations of the market. A complete plant cosists of :-

A boiling vessel	Rs. 630
A sterilising vessel	Rs. 625
A straining equipment between	Rs. 180 & Rs. 630
A tin-closing machine between	Rs. 135 & Rs. 345

The necessary tins and labels can be purchased from the existing factories in India or manufactured in a separate plant.

Button Manufacturing—For this the indigenous raw materials are chiefly : horn, ivory, bone and mother-of-pearl. A number of small machines are required for the cutting, turning, boring, etc., processes according to the raw material. Unskilled workmen can handle these machines in a short time. The complete plants costs : for horn and ivory about Rs. 6,100 for artificial horn about Rs. 7,700 for bone about Rs. 3,700 and for mother-of-pearl about Rs. 7,400.

Dall & Rice Mills.—A complete modern Dall Mill costs Rs. 3,750 to Rs. 11,500 according to the output required and a Rice Mill between Rs. 5,600 & Rs. 37,000.

Cement Tile Making—This industry finds more and more interest in India and must necessarily be worked in many local plants. It is cheaper to transport the cement to each town and mix it there with sand than to transport the tiles consisting of cement and a greater portion of sand. The cheapest press for making tiles can be purchased at Rs. 750. Bricks, slabs, etc., can likewise be made.

Tape Making.—For tapes there is a good demand in India. The industry has not yet developed in India because a tape-loom is naturally much more expensive than an ordinary weaving loom. Nevertheless the prices obtained for tapes will pay a very good dividend on the installation of a tape-loom which costs between Rs. 2,150 to Rs. 2,400 making tapes ranging from 13/8-inch to 2-inch in width.

Messrs. Hansa (India) Trading Co., Ltd., 22/24 Rampart Row in Bombay will gladly assist anybody who wishes to start a factory in the above or any other lines with their advice and information. They import exclusively German machinery of approved quality.

The Seven Pagodas—MAHABALIPURAM

The rock cut temples on the beach at Mahabalipuram known as the "Seven Pagodas" are distant 18 miles from Chingleput, and can be easily reached by either motors or jutkas. The monolithic rathas and the shore temple on the beach are fine specimens of ancient Dravidian architecture and are well worth a study. The hill-side sculpture known as the "Arjuna's Penance" is a spirited representation of an old world of men and animals and presents a very animated scene. These are said to date from the 1st or 2nd century B. C. and are regarded as the "very foundation of Dravidian civilization" in its architectural side. Visitors to this place never fail to go to Thirukalukundram, a hillock midway between Chingleput and Mahabalipuram, and see the spectacle of two eagles arriving there punctually at midday and taking food from the hand of the priest.
