THE UNIVERSITIES OF AUSTRALIA

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

[Revised in 1931 and 1936 by Professor J. T. Wilson, M.A., LL.D., M.B., Ch.M., F.R.S., and further revised in 1939, 1947, 1949, 1950, and 1951 by the Australian Vice-Chancellors' Committee.]

EACH State of the Commonwealth of Australia possesses a University of the conventional type in its capital city. In addition, there are the Australian National University located at Canberra and the N.S.W. University of Technology in Sydney. There are also University Colleges at Armidale, N.S.W., and Canberra, A.C.T., the former being a branch of the University of Sydney and the latter being associated with the University of Melbourne, which acts as the examining body. Generally speaking, the Australian Universities are widely separated, those at Brisbane and Perth, for example, being effectively not less than 3000 miles apart; while visits to even the nearest sister University often involve a long journey.

Nevertheless these Universities, apart from the Australian National University and the New South Wales University of Technology, of which more will be said later, form a relatively homogeneous group owing to their general similarity of origin and constitution and to their relationship to the communities which they serve. All of them owe their establishment to Acts of the State Legislatures carried through in response to popular demands. They are not, however, "State Universities" in the American sense, but, like the British Universities generally, are, by statute and Royal Charter, self-governing academic corporations.

Underlying this general uniformity of type, there are not a few individual differences and variations. These may be referred to several factors. Differences in dates of foundation (1850-1949) necessarily determine more or less the stage and degree of academic development actually reached; also, the academic ideas current at different foundation periods have undoubtedly impressed themselves on the academic structure and development of both older and younger Universities. Further, another obviously important differentiating factor has been that of inequality of material resources available, both from private endowment and from State subsidy—the latter being naturally dependent in large measure on the extent of the population of the State concerned.

An Act passed in 1946 by the Parliament of the Commonwealth made provision for the establishment of the Australian National University at Canberra, particularly to provide facilities for research and postgraduate studies. The Act provides specifically for the establishment within the University of the John Curtin School of Medical Research, a Research School of Physical Sciences, a Research School of Social Sciences, and a Research School of Pacific Studies. Considerable progress has now been made in the development of this organization though some delay has been occasioned by present building difficulties. Members of staff have now been appointed and some Departments have commenced work in Canberra. The Research Schools of Physical Sciences, Social Sciences, and Pacific Studies have been accommodated on the University site, while the Departments of the John Curtin School of Medical Research are located in Canberra, Melbourne, and London.

The year 1949 marked the inauguration of the N.S.W. University of Technology, which aims to provide for training and research in technological fields and to aid by research the application of science to industry.

RESIDENTIAL COLLEGES. The founders of the first Australian Universities would appear to have been influenced, to some considerable extent, by the conception of a University which is embodied in the ancient residential foundations of Oxford and Cambridge. Doubtless this was due in part to the fact that they were contemplating Universities which were to serve the large, and comparatively thinly populated, areas of the several Australian Colonies (long before the date of their federation as States of a Commonwealth). In these early Australian Universities, the general system of University education was on lines similar to those of the modern English Universities, and conformed to the official policy of secular education; but provision was made at the outset for residential colleges, which were—as in Oxford and Cambridge—conceived as religious foundations. The circumstances of time and place made it inevitable that such religious foundations should be entrusted to the Churches of the leading Christian denominations, namely: Church of England, Presbyterian, Methodist, and Roman Catholic.

In the case of the first two Universities, those of Sydney (1850) and of Melbourne (1853), substantial areas were set apart, within the lands reserved for University purposes, and offered as sites to the four Churches named, for the founding of residential colleges. In due course the following colleges were so founded, with governing bodies appointed by the several Churches: Sydney—St. Paul's (1854), St. John's (1857), St. Andrew's (1867), Wesley (1910); Melbourne—Trinity (1872), Ormond (1879), Queen's (1888), Newman (1916). Not long after the founding of colleges for women at Oxford and Cambridge, provision for residence of women students was made as follows: Sydney—the Women's College (1890), not a Church foundation, Sancta Sophia (1929), originating (in 1925) as a hall of residence associated with St. John's College; Melbourne—University Women's College (1937), again not a Church foundation, preceded by halls of residence, namely, Janet Clarke Hall (1886) and St. Mary's Hall (1916), associated respectively with Trinity and Newman Colleges.

What a "College"—"within the University of Sydney" or "of and within the University of Melbourne" (to quote the official descriptions)—should connote, in the circumstances of these Universities and Colleges, was a new and very difficult problem. Because of a variety of exceptional factors, the furthest advance towards a solution of this problem has been made in the Colleges of the University of Melbourne—with a well-established College tutorial system, a large membership of non-resident College students, a liberal system of resident scholarships and non-resident exhibitions, and a considerable measure of organic relationship to the Faculties, and to the governing body, of the University. In the University of Sydney, where circumstances were, at the earlier stages, not so favourable for such a development, the College system has a place of parallel importance—with certain characteristic differences.

In the Universities of all the other States, there are Colleges at different stages of development. In the University of Queensland (founded 1910), where provisions were laid down by statute for residence of all students (including recognition of the residence of a student in his own home), the following Colleges were founded: Emmanuel (1912), St. John's (1912), King's (1912), the Women's College (1914—not a Church foundation), St. Leo's (1917), Duchesne (1936). And, on the new site for this University, at St. Lucia, land is being set apart for these Colleges. In the University of Adelaide, St. Mark's College (1925) is an Anglican foundation; St. Ann's College, an undenominational college for women, was affiliated with the University in 1939, and opened for the residence of students in 1947; Aquinas College, a college for men, under the auspices of the Roman Catholic Church, was opened in 1950. St. George's (1931) in the University of Western Australia, and Christ College (1933) in the University of Tasmania, are Anglican foundations. Attached to the University of Western Australia is also a University hostel, the Women's section of which is known as the Women's College and will form the nucleus of a permanent institution. Approval has been given by the Senate for the establishment of Newman College, under the auspices of the Roman Catholic Church.

In order to understand the place which the College system occupies in the Australian Universities, it should be remembered that, while membership of a College implies membership of the University to which the College belongs, membership of the University does not necessarily imply membership of any of its Colleges. College tutorials are, therefore, supplementary to the teaching which the University provides for all its students (whether members of a College or not) and, in consequence, vary considerably from University to University. There is also considerable variation in the scale of College fees.

The Canberra University College provides a limited amount of accommodation for students at "Gungahlin," a hall of residence for men. Unlike the residential colleges familiar in Australian Universities, "Gungahlin" is not an affiliated institution, but an integral part of the College, governed by the Council. Tutorial assistance is not provided for residents.

The New England University College also provides accommodation for most of its students, who are drawn chiefly from the northern part of N.S.W. Unless their homes are in Armidale, students attending the College must take up residence. Owing to the high proportion of students in residence and to its location, New England University College has developed a strong corporate spirit.

University House at the Australian National University provides accommodation facilities for graduate students and also up-to-date club facilities for all members of the University. Residence in University House will be compulsory for all single students and for married students not accompanied by their wives.

The Colleges in all the Universities are open to all students of good standing, without distinction of religious belief.

THE NEW SOUTH WALES UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY. An Act to incorporate the N.S.W. University of Technology was passed by the New South Wales Parliament in April 1949. The objects of the University are to provide facilities for higher specialized training in the various branches of technology and science in their application to industry and commerce and to aid by research the development and application of science to industry. With these objects in view courses provide for extensive practical experience in industry under the supervision of the University. However, in order that graduates will not be handicapped by too narrow a specialization, there are in all faculties courses in language, literature, human relations and contemporary civilization.

CONSTITUTION OF UNIVERSITIES. A. Governing bodies. In their statutory constitution the governing bodies of all the Australian Universities (except the New South Wales University of Technology, see below) present a generally similar composite character, whilst differing in the proportions of the component elements. Their membership varies in number from 18 to 31. In every case there is a substantial proportion of representatives elected by the general body of graduates, varying from one-third to more than one-half of the total membership, but only in Adelaide does it form the preponderant element. In every University there is now a more or less direct representation of the State on the governing body, either by nomination by the Governor-in-Council or by election by the Houses of Parliament, and in two cases by ex officio representation of the State Department of Education. In the more recently founded Universities the representation of the State Government is strong; in one instance it is equal to the academic, and in another it is even slightly preponderant.

The academic representative element invariably includes representatives of the teaching staff. In Sydney, Melbourne, New South Wales University of Technology, Tasmania, and Western Australia, they are represented by independent statutory right. Elsewhere they are elected as part of the general representation of the academic body by the graduates. Their number is usually limited to three.

The Melbourne University Act of 1923 introduced certain novel provisions, namely, that the Government nominees shall include representatives not only of Parliament but of manufacturing, commercial, agricultural, and industrial interests, as well as a representative of the technical schools; it also provided that two Heads of Colleges and two elected representatives of the undergraduate body shall have seats on the governing body.

In Sydney there is one elected representative of the undergraduate body who has a seat on the governing body.

In Western Australia the Senate has granted to the representative of the Guild of Undergraduates and to the Warden of Convocation the right to attend Senate meetings and to speak in the Senate, without, however, the right to vote as a member of that body.

The Tasmania University Act, 1951, provides that the Chairman of the Professorial Board shall be an ex officio member; two other members of the teaching staff are elected by that body. The Council may recommend two persons for appointment by the Governor.

The Council of the New South Wales University of Technology differs somewhat from the governing bodies of the other Universities as there is only one representative elected by graduates of the University. The Council is representative of Parliament, industry and commerce, trade unions, technical education, professional bodies, the University of Sydney, and of the University's teaching staff, graduates, and undergraduates.

The governing body in the Australian Universities is designated either the "Senate" (Syd., Queens., W. Aust.) or "Council" (Melb., Adel., Tas., N.S.W. Univ. of Technol., Australian National Univ., and the Canberra Univ. Coll.).

B. Graduate academic body. As in the British Universities generally, there is in each of the Australian Universities, with the exception of the New South Wales University of Technology, another statutory academic body, consisting in the main, though not in all cases exclusively, of the general body of graduates (usually of at least three years' standing). In Queensland the Governor-in-Council may appoint as members of this body one representative of "any commercial, industrial, scientific, professional, or educational society, institution, or association within Queensland."

In those Universities in which the governing body is entitled "Senate" the graduate body is called either Convocation or Council. Where the governing body is styled "Council" the graduate body is usually called Senate, but in Melbourne (since 1923) and at the Australian National University it is known as Convocation.

Whilst the main effective function of this body is its electoral choice of its own representatives on the governing body, it has also, in several Universities, powers (often exercised through a Standing Committee) of deliberation, approval, and confirmation in respect of matters submitted to it and in some instances of suggestion, but in no case of initiation of University legislation.

C. Other administrative bodies. The general routine of studies and discipline is usually controlled by a "Professorial Board," whilst the special curricula of studies are the immediate concern of the Faculties and special Boards of Studies. Matters of discipline are in one or two instances dealt with by a special Proctorial Board or Board of Discipline.

ADMISSION. Attempts have been made without success to devise a common matriculation. The difficulty lies in difference of policy as to the part to be taken by entrance examination as a qualifying test, and as to prerequisite subjects. Generally speaking, matriculation requirements include passing a recognized examn. (school-leaving, matriculation, etc.) in English and three or four other subjects. Special facilities are offered for matriculation in some Universities and in some faculties to persons of mature age who have not had the opportunity of qualifying in the ordinary way of secondary education and who can pass certain special entrance tests. Owing partly to isolation by distance, migration of students from one University to another is not common. It would occur still more rarely were it not for the fact that some of the Universities do not yet provide opportunities for professional training in every direction, particularly in medicine. Hence it becomes necessary for some students, after one or two years' study in the University of their own State, to move to one of the older and larger Universities in order to continue their professional training.

Although the requirements for entrance at the various Universities are not completely uniform, all possible reciprocity is exercised in the matter of such interchange of students, whether from Australian or British Universities. In general the Universities will admit to matriculation ad eundem statum a student who has matriculated or qualified to matriculate at another University of recognized standing, but in some cases the passing of compulsory "prerequisite" subjects for particular courses may be required.

In general the minimum academic requirement for admission to the Australian National University is the equivalent to a Master's degree from an Australian or recognized University.

THE ACADEMIC YEAR. Undergraduate status is ordinarily defined in terms of academic years of study, e.g. "first year," "fifth year," etc.

The academic year begins in March and ends in Nov. or Dec. It is subdivided into Terms, usually three, which may, or may not, include special examination periods. The Universities of Melbourne and Tasmania and the Canberra University College have each four Terms, but the fourth Term in these cases is devoted to examinations.

The New South Wales University of Technology provides a number of courses which operate for two terms only each year—March to Sept. During the remaining five months of the year, students gain practical experience in industry under the supervision of the University.

Although the inclusive dates of the terminal periods show some discrepancy in the different Universities, arrangements have been made to secure the coincidence of a substantial part of the inter-term vacations.

PERIODS OF STUDY. The University requires not less than 3 yrs.' study for a B.A. or B.Sc.—in most cases, 4 yrs. if taken with Honours. The curriculum for the first degree in Medicine covers six years. The time needed to graduate in Law is usually 4 yrs., but some Universities allow graduates in Arts to shorten the prescribed period. Since regulations do not always require each successive "year" to be taken as a whole, but allow credit to be given for subjects taken separately, many students, especially those able to give only part-time to their studies, spread their courses over periods longer than the normal. For information regarding other degrees and periods of study therefor, see under the several Universities.

FEES AND COST OF LIVING. The cost of living varies a good deal in different parts of Australia. A student will probably not notice much difference between Sydney and Melbourne in this respect. But anywhere he will find that £450 a year gives him quite sufficient means, for the climate is benign and good food is plentiful. The style of living everywhere is unostentatious. Board and lodging should not cost more than £3 : 15s. a week. Meals at the cost of 3s. to 5s. can generally be obtained at the University by members of "Unions" and others. Sydney University Union has a Refectory seating 450, and one-half of it is open to all members of the University and their guests. Adelaide University has a Refectory seating 400, and Melbourne has a Union building containing dining-rooms seating upwards of 700. Western Australia has at present accommodation in its dining-rooms for about 200. A developed Union at an Australian University also provides all the comforts of a non-residential Club for a membership fee ranging from £1 to £3 : 13 : 6 a year. In Adelaide there is a compulsory fee of 5 gs. a year, which covers membership of the Union, Sports Association, and the Health Service. The new Union House at the University of Melbourne has many social and cultural amenities, including a theatre, art gallery, and private entertainment rooms. Rowing, football, cricket, and other games may be had in the Sports Clubs on correspondingly easy terms, and numerous Intervarsity contests are held in vacations under the auspices of the Australian Universities' Sports Union.

Residence at a College is optional. College fees, which are entirely separate from University fees, are on an inclusive basis for residence and tutorial assistance and range from £65 to £170 per annum. Thus Wesley College, Sydney, charges £136 a year for resident students; Ormond, Melbourne, from 135 to 145 gs. a year for residence during terms, according to the course being taken. St. John's, Queensland, has fees of £21 per term, and the rates at the other Queensland Colleges are practically the same. In Adelaide the fees at St. Mark's College are 160 gs., while fees at Aquinas College and St. Ann's College are 130 gs. each. The University of Western Australia has, since the war, a hostel with accommodation for 140 at a weekly charge of 3 gs. At the New England University College full board and lodging is provided for 3 gs. per week. Special arrangements can always be made for residence during vacations, an additional charge then being made. Many men live in College on a total income of not much more than £350 a year. There are few rich students and no tradition of expensive living among College men, no charming but costly ancient customs. Many of the Colleges have liberal endowments for Scholarships and Bursaries.

For University fees see under the several Universities below.

CURRICULA AND COURSES OF UNIVERSITY STUDIES. In general it may be said that the character and range of studies in the Australian Universities correspond fairly well with those of British Universities of comparable size and organization. There is, however, one notable exception: in accordance with the exclusively secular character of the Universities of Australia a Faculty of Theology is lacking in all of them, and until 1936 no degrees in Divinity were obtainable in any Australian University, although under special Acts of Parliament they may be given by other institutions, such as the Melbourne College of Divinity. In the case of the University of Sydney amending legislation passed in 1936 removed the exception of degrees in Divinity and Theology and the University has now courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Divinity and may confer the degree of Doctor of Divinity. More or less associated with this situation is the paucity of courses of study in Semitic languages or literature, a Professorship for which, however, exists in Melbourne. There is a chair of Oriental Studies (at present vacant) at Sydney. At Sydney Hebrew is available in the regular curriculum and Russian is provided through the Extension Board. (A certain amount of teaching in Semitic languages is provided in Theological schools maintained by some of the religious denominations.) There is an Institute of Modern Languages at the Queensland University which provides courses up to Senior (School Leaving) Examination standard. The courses available in 1936 were Chinese, Dutch, French, German, Hebrew, and Italian. For the benefit of theological students Biblical Literature became an optional subject of the Faculty of Arts from the beginning of 1938. The University of Melbourne includes Dutch, Hebrew, Russian, and Arabic in its regular curriculum.

Subdivision of University studies into groups, under Faculties and Boards of Studies, has been carried further than is usually the case in British Universities. There has thus been a considerable accession of new Faculties beyond those traditionally recognized. The general principle has been largely, though not consistently, adopted that any definite and distinct curriculum, leading up to the award of a distinctive degree or degrees, warrants the creation of a separate and distinct Faculty as a Board for the regulation of the studies and examinations in such a curriculum.

Concurrently with this development there has been a marked tendency to the specialization and multiplication of distinctive degrees, so that in some cases we find that even within the limits of a single Faculty several distinctive degrees are obtainable along more or less differentiated lines of study. A conspicuous instance of this is seen in the Faculty of Engineering in Melbourne, in which no fewer than eleven different degrees may be awarded as Bachelors and Masters of different branches of Engineering—Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, Mining, and Metallurgical Master of Engineering Science—besides a Doctorate of Engineering. As many as thirteen different Faculties are found among the various Universities, with a maximum number in Melbourne of twelve. In Sydney there are ten Faculties and in Adelaide eight. The establishment of Faculties of Education and Architecture in 1949 brought the number in Queensland up to eleven.

Each University possesses Faculties of Arts, Science, Law, and Engineering, except in the case of the New South Wales University of Technology, which at its present stage of development has Faculties of Engineering, Applied Science, and Architecture only, and the National University, which is in a special position. All except Tasmania have Schools or Faculties of Agriculture. Sydney and Queensland have Schools of Veterinary Science organized as separate Faculties. The course in Veterinary Science is at present suspended in the University of Melbourne, and students desiring to qualify for a degree must proceed to Sydney after the completion of their first year. Western Australia teaches Veterinary Science as part of the Agricultural course, but students desiring to obtain a degree in Veterinary Science must proceed to Sydney after completing a special first year in the Faculty of Science. In N.S.W. the law requires such qualifications as practically involve the Univ. curriculum in Veterinary Science.

The subject of Economics is represented by separate Professorships in each University and at the Canberra University College. In Sydney there is a separate Faculty of Economics, but, as there is no Faculty of Commerce, it includes all the various branches of both Economic and Commercial Studies. In Melbourne there is a Faculty of Economics and Commerce, and in Queensland and Tasmania there are Faculties of Commerce. In Melbourne and Queensland there is a degree of Bachelor of Commerce, while the specialized degree in Adelaide and Sydney is Bachelor of Economics. The Faculty of Commerce in Tasmania offers both degrees, Bachelor of Commerce and Bachelor of Economics. In all the Universities (including Western Australia), however, Economics is ordinarily included also as a subject which may be taken for an Arts degree.

In Sydney, Melbourne, Queensland, and the N.S.W. University of Technology there are fully organized Faculties of Architecture, with Chairs in the subject. At Adelaide there is a special course in Architecture within the Faculty of Engineering leading to the degree of Bachelor of Engineering. In Melbourne, Queensland, and Western Australia courses within the Faculty of Engineering lead to degrees in Surveying.

Melbourne and Adelaide have each a Faculty of Music with a full Professorship and a Conservatorium. In Sydney there is a Conservatorium entirely independent of the University which has, however, recently established a Chair of Music in the Faculty of Arts. In Tasmania music is not taught, but if studied privately credit may be given for one of the subjects of the Arts degree. In Queensland, Music may be taken as a subject of the first year of the B.A. course.

Melbourne has a Faculty of Education granting University degrees of Bachelor and Master of Education, previous qualification for another degree being a condition of entrance to the Education course. The Faculty contains several representatives of the State Department of Education. Western Australia grants a first degree in Education; in the other Universities the subject of Education comes under the Faculty of Arts and enters into the composition of such alternative curricula for the Arts degrees as are specially adapted to the requirements of the professional training of teachers. Sydney now grants a degree of Master of Education which may be awarded to graduates in other faculties of not less than three years' standing who present a satisfactory thesis and pass an examination dealing with advanced work in education. The Professors of Education are usually, but not always, associated with the State Training Colleges. Special Diplomas in Education are obtainable in the Universities of Sydney, Adelaide, and Queensland by University graduates. The University of Tasmania in 1948 took over the training of teachers from the State Education Department and now offers a Diploma of Education (available to graduates only) and a Certificate for non-graduates. A Faculty of Education was established in 1951 and now controls these courses, which were previously under the Faculty of Arts. Queensland has a Faculty of Education granting University degrees of Bachelor and Master of Education. Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Education must be graduates of the University of Queensland. The Faculty of Education contains several representatives of the State Department of Education.

Courses in Physical Education controlled by a Board of Studies and leading to a Diploma are now available in each of the larger Universities.

Several of the Universities provide courses in Social Studies leading to a Diploma.

Canberra University College conducts courses in Commerce and Economics, Arts and Law; students comply with entrance conditions as of the University of Melbourne, take the examinations and obtain the Degrees of that University. The College has chairs of Economic History, Economics, English History and Political Science, and a number of other departments are in charge of senior lecturers. The College also conducts a full-time course of Diplomatic Studies extending over one year. This course, which is intended for the training of persons who have been appointed as cadets by the Department of External Affairs, is at present restricted to such cadets. Persons admitted to the course must be graduates, and no degree or diploma is awarded.

The New England University College conducts courses in the main Arts and Science Departments, in many cases to Honours standard. First-year courses for Sydney degrees in Medicine, Veterinary Science, Agriculture and Forestry are available, while students may do the first-year Pharmacy course. Graduate students may take the course for the Diploma in Education.

The Universities of Melbourne (1946), Sydney (1948), Western Australia (1948), Adelaide (1949), and Queensland have recently established the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, for which graduates of certain standing are eligible upon the successful completion of a full-time course of two years' advanced study and research in the University. The University of Tasmania now provides a course for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy to graduates in Science and Engineering only, and some other Universities have similar Faculty limitations. The question of providing for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy is also under consideration in some other Universities.

PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS AND RESEARCH INSTITUTES. Each of the three older Universities, of Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide, possesses well organized and equipped professional schools under their Faculties of Medicine and Dentistry. These schools have long been, and are now, mainly responsible for the training of the medical and dental professions in Australia, whilst not a few of their graduates may be found occupying responsible positions outside Australia. The teaching and research staffs of these schools are also now largely recruited from the ranks of their own more distinguished graduates, but they are continually being reinforced by other teachers of distinction from outside Australia. Faculties of Dentistry and Medicine were established in Queensland in 1935 and 1936 respectively, while in Western Australia a Faculty of Dental Science commenced in 1946 and the establishment of a medical school is under consideration.

The relationship of the Medical Schools to the great general hospitals is intimate and effective. The University of Melbourne appoints Clinical Supervisors to each of the Teaching Hospitals to co-ordinate the clinical training of students. There is thus secured an extensive and varied clinical field, not only for undergraduate training, but in increasing measure for more advanced and specialized postgraduate study and research in conjunction with the scientific laboratories of the Universities and other research institutions. Such postgraduate work in various departments of specialized study now finds manifold guidance, and receives full official recognition, in connexion with the Diplomas awarded after appropriate courses of study. Amongst these may be specified the Diplomas in Psychological Medicine, Dermatological Medicine, Clinical Pathology and Radiology at the University of Sydney and the Australian Diplomas in Public Health, Tropical Medicine and Hygiene and Tropical Hygiene from the School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine in the University of Sydney, and more or less corresponding courses in the University of Melbourne, both these Universities also granting Diplomas in Ophthalmology, Laryngology and Otolaryngology, in Gynaecology and Obstetrics, in Therapeutic and Diagnostic Radiology, in Psychological Medicine, and in Anaesthesia.

A Biophysics Section was established in Queensland in 1937 to manufacture radon and to carry out other work in connexion with the treatment of cancer. In Adelaide, the Anti-Cancer Campaign Committee maintains a radium and deep X-ray clinic at the Royal Adelaide Hospital, and a plant at the University for the production and manipulation of radon. Under an arrangement with the University of Melbourne the Commonwealth Government maintains there an X-ray and Radium Research Laboratory.

The University of Adelaide established in 1925 the Waite Agricultural Research Institute, an important centre for research in agricultural and allied subjects at Glen Osmond, four miles from the city.

The University of Western Australia established in 1938 an Institute of Agriculture, which serves as a centre for research in agricultural science, and has set aside a portion of the University grounds for investigational purposes, with accommodation for plant and animal experiments.

There are various University and associated Research Institutes in Adelaide, Melbourne, and Sydney, where investigation is carried on into problems of Pathology, Bacteriology, Pharmacology, Radiotherapy, Cancer Research, Animal Nutrition, Entomology, etc.

The Commonwealth Government has each year since 1936 made grants for distribution among the Universities to assist research and the training of research workers in various groups of sciences, including the physical, biological, social, and medical fields. These grants, together with State Government support and the Universities' own endowments for the purpose, have provided a strong stimulus for research developments within the Universities themselves.

DIPLOMAS. Numerous University Diplomas are now obtainable in various branches of study in the Universities of Australia. They may be classed under three categories: (a) those obtainable by graduates as supplementary qualifications in particular subjects after special courses of study. To this group belong the postgraduate Medical Diplomas already mentioned and also certain Diplomas in Education; (b) Diplomas obtainable by non-graduates after shorter or less comprehensive courses of study than those required for a University degree covering the same subject. This group includes certain Diplomas in Commerce, Public Administration, Agriculture, Engineering, Music, and Dramatic Art. (c) Diplomas in subjects, usually of limited range, for which no special University degree is available, e.g. Journalism, Pharmacy, and Anthropology. The present tendency is to reduce the number of sub-graduate Diploma courses while extending the range of post-graduate Diplomas.

EVENING LECTURES. Full University courses of evening lectures in Arts, and in some cases in Science, Commerce, and Law subjects, are provided by the Universities of Adelaide, Melbourne, Sydney, Queensland, and Western Australia and by Canberra University College to enable a degree in those Faculties to be obtained by persons whose occupations preclude their attendance at the University during the day. In Tasmania and Canberra a number of lectures are given between 5 P.M. and 8 P.M. In Queensland the evening classes, generally of one-hour duration, are held between 8 P.M. and 9 P.M. At the New England University College the timetable between 4 P.M. and 6 P.M. is so arranged that teachers and others employed in Armidale or district may undertake courses leading to the B.A. degree. Action is proceeding for the New South Wales University of Technology to administer most of the professional diploma courses of the N.S.W. Dept. of Technical Education which require matriculation standard of entrance. Under this arrangement the students of the University attend the courses over a period of from five to six years concurrently with employment in industry, and having qualified for the diploma, are admitted to the degree course with advanced standing and may complete requirements by part-time attendance.

EXTERNAL STUDENTS. Under the Regulations of the Universities of Melbourne and Queensland, attendance at lectures is not compulsory except in specified subjects. (These naturally include most scientific subjects which require laboratory facilities.) It is therefore possible, though not common, to obtain an Arts degree as a purely external student. In Western Australia correspondence classes for external students are carried on in most Arts subjects under the guidance of tutors and with the help of a circulating reference library. Melbourne also provides correspondence tuition in certain subjects, but only for students resident in the country districts of Victoria.

The Universities which permit the enrolment of external students or provide for correspondence tuition in general limit such facilities to residents within the State in which the University is situated. Only in special circumstances is external tuition permitted outside a State. Queensland University does provide some external tuition for students in Australian territories outside the Australian continent and external correspondence tuition has been provided by different Universities to members of the British Commonwealth Occupation Forces in Japan.

In the Universities of Adelaide, Sydney, and Tasmania exemption from some of the lectures of a course may be granted in special cases in which reasonable cause is shown.

In all the Universities there is provision for the recognition, for degree purposes, of various courses of instruction in affiliated institutions such as Technical Schools and Colleges.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION LECTURES were instituted at Sydney Univ. in 1886 and at Melbourne in 1891. In 1913 Workers' Educational Associations were formed in all the States, except in Western Australia, to give effect to a movement for bringing the Univs. into closer relationship with the masses of the people. The movement was fostered by State grants and grew rapidly. Each Univ. (except Melbourne) co-operates with the W.E.A. in the formation of a joint committee, which appoints tutors and supervises the work with the help of a Univ. officer—the Director of Tutorial Classes. The total number of students throughout Australia is over 6000. In addition to these courses, a great many preparatory classes, study circles, and summer schools are organized by the Assocn., numerous courses of public lectures are delivered, educational conferences promoted, and an extensive book service is carried on. In Victoria, adult education is the responsibility of a statutory Council of Adult Education working in liaison with an Extension Committee in the University. A correspondence study department has been inaugurated in connexion with the W.E.A. activities in Queensland. In Western Australia extension classes are conducted at the University, in the city and suburbs, with an Adult Education library, books from which are available to groups in country areas. Western Australia has no W.E.A. organization, and the work is under the control of an Adult Education Board representative of University and other interests acting under the University Senate. At the New England University College the Senior Staff Tutor in charge of Tutorial Studies organizes adult education classes and activities in centres widely scattered over the New England region.

OVERSEAS SCHOLARSHIPS. Scholarships or grants-in-aid for study overseas are awarded by individual Universities and by such bodies as the British Council, Carnegie Corporation, Nuffield Foundation, Gowrie Trust, and the United States Educational Foundation in Australia. These scholarships enable selected students to extend their studies in the postgraduate field and are a valuable link between the Universities of Australia and those of England.

INTER-UNIVERSITY ORGANIZATIONS

After a conference held at Sydney in May 1920 the Australian Univs. established a Standing Advisory Committee to deal with matters of common interest. The present headquarters of the Committee, now known as the Australian Vice-Chancellors' Committee, are in the Australian National University at Canberra. Professor G. A. Currie, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Western Australia, is the present Chairman of the Committee and Professor Sir Douglas Copland, Vice-Chancellor of the Australian National University, is Deputy Chairman. The Committee meets at least twice a year, usually in March and Aug., or more frequently should occasion demand. The Secretary is Mr. A. J. T. Ford.

As the result of a conference held in Jan. 1942 between representatives of the Universities and of the Commonwealth Government, a Universities Commission was set up by the Government and has now become a permanent official organization. The Commission operates within the general function of the Commonwealth Office of Education and is responsible at the University level for the Commonwealth Reconstruction Training Scheme for ex-service men and for the recently inaugurated Commonwealth Scholarship Scheme. The Director of the Commonwealth Office of Education (Professor R. C. Mills) is the Chairman of the Commission, which has regular conferences with the Vice-Chancellors' Committee. The Commission has its head office in Sydney, and branch offices in each University.

STATISTICS of University teachers, students, and finance are published annually in the official Year-Book by the Commonwealth Bureau of Census and Statistics, from which a more detailed bulletin in typescript form may be obtained.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was established by Act of the provincial legislature in 1874. It began with endowments of £20,000 each from Sir W. W. Hughes and Sir Thomas Elder, a land grant of 50,000 acres (subsequently repurchased by the govt. for £40,000), a site of 5 acres in the city, and an annual govt. subsidy of 5 per cent. on endowments. The original site was increased to 8 acres in 1920, to 14 acres in 1927, and in 1929 to 27 acres. The govt. subsidy on endowments is limited to £40,000. The Council consists of the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, 20 members elected by the Senate and (since 1911) 5 elected by Parliament. State grants (apart from the subsidy on endowments) for annual running costs have been increased from time to time and amounted in 1950 to £97,600, excluding an amount of £42,500 for the Waite Agricultural Research Inst. The total value of the endowments is over £1½ million, and the income in 1950 was £413,168.

LIBRARY. Approx. 158,000 vols.

LABORATORIES. At the Univ.—Anat., Bacteriol., Biochem., Bot., Chem., Engin. (Civil, Elect., Mech., Mining, Metall. and Chem. Engin.), Geol., Histol., Pathol., Physics, Physiol., Pharmacol., and Zool. At the Waite Inst.—see below.

The ELDER CONSERVATORIUM OF MUSIC, established in 1898, is part of the Univ., and provides tuition in a wide range of studies in the performance of music. Its students include not only those proceeding to the Univ. diploma but also many others who wish to study a principal subject (e.g. singing or pianoforte) or to undergo training in group work such as orchestral and operatic performances and who satisfy the Dir. of their fitness to be admitted.

The WAITE AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE was established in 1924 as a result of a gift by the late Mr. Peter Waite of an estate of 299 acres, a mansion-house, and a trust fund of £58,450. Subsequent endowments and govt. grants have expanded the work of the Inst., the annual expenditure of which in 1950 was £76,865. The purpose of the Inst. is "to further the cause of research and education in agriculture and allied subjects"; its departments comprise Agricultural Chem., Agronomy, Entomol., Genetics, Plant Pathol. and Plant Physiol.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Australian National University was founded by an Act of the Parliament of the Commonwealth of Australia in 1946. The Act provided for the establishment at Canberra of a Univ. consisting of a Council and Convocation, and graduate and undergraduate members. The Council is the governing body of the Univ., but in the Univ.'s early years, until July 1951, its affairs were in the hands of an Interim Council. The permanent Council, which has now been constituted, consists of not more than thirty members, including the Vice-Chancellor, four members elected by Parliament, up to eight appointed by the Governor-General, up to nine elected by Convocation, three elected by the academic staff and two by students. Under the founding Act, the primary function of the Univ. is to encourage and provide facilities for postgraduate research, both generally and in relation to subjects of national importance to Australia. As was contemplated by the Act, the Univ.'s activities are in the first instance concentrated on the establishment of four Research Schools—the John Curtin School of Medical Research (named after Australia's wartime Prime Minister), and Research Schools of Physical Sciences, Social Sciences, and Pacific Studies—the development of other Schools and the offering of undergraduate courses having been indefinitely deferred.

In 1947 the Interim Council set up an Academic Advisory Cttee., comprising four distinguished scholars in England, whose interests fell within the ambit of the respective Research Schools. The original members were Sir Howard Florey (Adviser to the John Curtin Sch. of Medical Res.), Prof. M. L. Oliphant (Adviser and later Dir. of the Res. Sch. of Physical Sciences), Prof. R. W. Firth (Adviser to the Res. Sch. of Pacific Studies), and Prof. W. K. Hancock (Adviser to the Res. Sch. of Social Sciences). In 1949 Prof. K. C. Wheare succeeded Prof. Hancock. The Cttee. took a major part in the original planning of the Schools, and in the recruitment of staff for them.

It is intended that each School should be led by a Director, but the responsibility for the organization of the work of particular Depts. within the Schools will rest with their professorial heads. In addition to the Directors and Professors, the staff comprises permanent Readers and Fellows, and short-term Sr. Research Fellows and Research Fellows. The Univ. is seeking to provide members of staff with the most favourable feasible conditions for the advanced prosecution of research. They will have their whole time available for research, their teaching and administrative duties being of a quite minor kind. They will have opportunity to move about among their colleagues in Australia. Professors will be at liberty to take a yr.'s study leave with full salary after each 3 yrs. of service and Readers after each 5 yrs. of service.

The Res. Schools of Physical Sciences, Social Sciences, and Pacific Studies are at work in Canberra, a permanent lab. bldg. having been erected for the former, and the latter two being housed temporarily. The Depts. of the John Curtin Sch. of Medical Res., some of which have been in operation since 1948, are working in various places (shown in the Staff list) pending the bldg. of labs. in Canberra. The Univ. is being built, and will be maintained, by funds supplied by the Commonwealth of Australia.

Each Dept. of the Res. Schools accepts a very small number of graduate res. students of first-class calibre, the general minimum entrance qualification being a Master's degree or its equivalent in a University of sr. standing. Each student is assigned to a supervisor, and pursues a course of res. under supervision. Subject to certain conditions, the student may proceed to the Ph.D. degree (normally after three yrs.' work) or an M.A. or M.Sc. (usually after two yrs.' work). The Univ. will also confer the degrees of D.Litt., D.Sc., and LL.D. for distinguished work in appropriate fields published by persons with a real connexion with the Univ.

ANNUAL FEE: £A52 : 10s. (covers all charges except board and residence).

Single students are normally required to live in University House (see infra), and married students within easy access of the Univ. precincts.

From 1948 to 1950 the Univ. awarded some 60 res. scholps. to relatively recent graduates of high promise, for study abroad. At present the Univ. offers 15 scholps. annually, but they are now intended mainly to support some specially able students working in the Univ. itself. In addition, two or three general scholps. are still offered to graduates to work abroad in fields not covered by the Res. Schools. The emoluments of the scholps. tenable in the Univ. vary according to the scholar's circumstances, but are of the order of £A600-£A750 p.a.

The Univ. from time to time issues invitations to distinguished sr. scholars to visit Australia, conducting discussions with interested people not only in Canberra but in the other Australian Univs.

The Library, which was assembled in Melbourne and brought to Canberra late in 1950, now comprises some 30,000 bound vols. and 20,000 periodicals.

The sr. academic body of the Univ. is the Board of Graduate Studies, which consists in general of the Dirs. and Profs. The Board assists the Council by tendering advice on all questions affecting education, learning, and research in the Univ. There is also a Faculty (in the English sense) within each of the Res. Schools.

Convocation will eventually consist mainly of the Council and graduates of the Univ., but at the outset opportunity has been taken to add to it the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor and five other representatives of each other Australian Univ. institution.

The Univ. site consists of 204 acres of well-situated land in the Canberra suburb of Acton. The first permanent bldg. to be erected is the lab. of the Res. Sch. of Physical Sciences. University House, which will provide collegiate accomm. for about 100 single staff members and graduate students, and form a social centre and fac. club for the Univ., is well advanced and is being brought into partial use. The labs. for the John Curtin School of Medical Res. are at an early stage of bldg., and bldgs. for the other two schools, the Library, and ancillary services are being planned. Housing is a major problem in Canberra and in the present difficult situation the Univ. has undertaken complete responsibility for finding living accomm. for the members of its staff and students. Flats and houses are being built.

The Univ. has not as yet published a Calendar; enquiries should be made of the Registrar. A news bulletin describing the Univ.'s development is issued gratis every few weeks, and will be supplied on request.

THE YEAR 1950

The substantial operation of the Univ. began. The first of the Res. Schools, those of Social Sciences and Pacific Studies, began work in temp. quarters in Canberra. The Univ. Library moved to Canberra and began full operation. The recruiting of staff for all the schools continued. Considerable progress in the bldg. of University House, the Physical Sciences labs., and a number of dwellings was made. Plans worked out for the labs. of John Curtin School of Medical Research.

In addition, the staff of the Sydney Technical College is assisting with courses on behalf of the New South Wales University of Technology.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Incorporated by Act of New South Wales Parliament in April 1949, the N.S.W. University of Technology was established to meet the urgent demand in Australia for increasing numbers of technologists and applied scientists, and to provide them with the means of advanced training and research. Provision is made for the govt. of the Univ. by a Council representative of Parliament, industry and commerce, the trade unions, technical educn., professional bodies, the Univ. of Sydney, and of the Univ.'s own teaching staff and its undergraduates and graduates. The Council may provide courses in applied sci., engin., technol., commerce, industrial organization and such other related courses as it deems fit, and may, after examination, confer the several degrees of Bachelor, Master, and Doctor, and such other degrees and such certificates in the nature of degrees or otherwise as it thinks fit. Power to decentralize the University's activities, both in its co-operation with industry and in its teaching services, is given to the Council, which is authorized to establish and maintain branches, depts., or colls. at Newcastle, Wollongong, Broken Hill, or such other places in the State of New South Wales as it may approve.

The Univ. of Technology instituted its first degree courses in Civil, Electrical, Mechanical, and Mining Engineering in March 1948, this initial step being made possible by the work of the Developmental Council, appointed in Aug. 1947. These courses were planned to give students lecture and lab. instruction in the Univ. of Technology for approximately half the yr., with practical experience of a planned nature in industry for the remainder of the yr. Degree courses in Applied Chem. and Chemical Engin. began in March 1949. A degree course in Archit. was introduced in 1950, and degree courses in Applied Physics and Wool Technol. are to be established in 1951. Pending the completion of its own bldgs. and the acquisition of equipment, the Univ. has at its disposal the resources of the Dept. of Technical Educn.

Two features are emphasised in undergraduate courses. The first is the incorporation in the syllabus of industrial experience to supplement the lab. and lecture-room work at the Univ. In the Fac. of Engin. this practical work amounts to five months a yr., and is supervised and organized to suit the stage and syllabus of each course of study. Secondly, in all undergraduate courses, the study of general subjects, such as language and literature, hist., economics and psychol., is compulsory. These courses are designed to broaden the experience and interests of the student and thus to assist him to take the place in human affairs for which he is otherwise qualified.

Facilities are available to students already in employment and enrolled in appropriate courses at Technical Colls. to transfer at certain stages to degree courses at the Univ. of Technology. Conversion courses, the first of which began in 1950, permit those who hold such qualifications from Technical Colls. and from other Univs. to resume their studies and to proceed to a degree or higher degree of the New South Wales University of Technology.

FACULTIES AND DEANS. Applied Sci., Prof. J. P. Baxter (Chem. Eng.); Archit., Prof. F. E. Towndrow; Engin., Prof. H. J. Brown (Elec. Engin.).

specified list of subjects consisting of the foreign languages, social sciences, physical and biological sciences.

ADULT MATRICULATION. Persons over the age of 25 yrs., not otherwise qualified, may be admitted as provisionally registered students, provided that the Professorial Board is satisfied they have reached a standard of educn. sufficient to enable them profitably to pursue the first yr. of the proposed course.

NEW BUILDINGS. General purposes bldg. under erection at estimated total cost of £600,000. Civil Engineering Research Lab., £100,000. Plans completed for new library bldg. of pre-fabricated aluminium-framed structure.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS. The New South Wales University of Technology was admitted to membership of the Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth in Aug. 1950. The Council approved of arrangements being made for the Univ. of Technol. to conduct on behalf of the Dept. of Technical Educn. 20 of the Dept.'s diploma courses. The diploma courses are pt.-time courses requiring matricn. standard for entrance, and extend over periods of 5 to 6 yrs. concurrently with approved employment in industry. The development aims at producing a closer integration between the work of the Univ. and the Dept. of Technical Educn.

CROMWELL (Congregational)—expected to open First Term, 1953.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Univ. was established by an Act of the local legislature in 1909, and the entire management and control are in the hands of a Senate. Until

Nov. 1943, the Senate consisted of 20 members—10 appointed by the State Government and 10 elected by the Univ. Council (consisting of all members and past members of the Senate; all graduates of the Univ. of 3 yrs.' standing; persons appointed by the Government as representative of commerce, industry, and scientific assocns.; benefactors, etc.). Under the "University of Queensland Act Amendment Act of 1941," which came into operation on Nov. 8, 1943, the number of Government representatives on the Senate was increased to 15, making the total number of members 25 instead of 20. The Univ. is subsidized by the State Government. The amount of subsidy for the first teaching year (1910) was £5500. It has since been progressively increased and was £246,186 in 1950. During 1950 the Commonwealth Government paid to the Univ., in addition to fees, a sum of £52,435 towards the cost of the instruction of ex-Service men and women.

Up to 1931 the grounds and buildings facing the Brisbane River and adjoining the Botanical Gardens included, in addition to the main building and recreation grounds, 6 floors of three blocks of the Central Technical Coll. buildings. The remainder of these blocks had to be taken over by the Univ. in 1932, in order to accommodate the increased number of students. Owing to the rapid growth of the Central Technical Coll., as well as the Univ., the Univ. is unable to obtain any more accommodation in the Coll. buildings.

The present site belongs to the Central Technical Coll. and is used only temporarily for Univ. purposes. The permanent site of the Univ., consisting of 223 acres, is situated on the Brisbane River in the suburb of St. Lucia. It has a river frontage on three sides, and was the gift of Dr. and Miss Mayne, Brisbane. The erection on the St. Lucia site, by the State Government, of buildings to house all departments except those concerned with the work of the later years in the Faculties of Medicine and Veterinary Science, which are situated at Herston and Yeerongpilly respectively, is well advanced. The Main Building at St. Lucia was first occupied at the end of 1948 and now accommodates the Facs. of Arts, Commerce, and Educn., the Depts. of External Studies, Physical Educn., and Surveying, the Main Library, and a skeleton admin. staff. The Chem. Bldg. at St. Lucia was occupied early in 1950 and the Geol. Bldg. early in 1951. A 90-ft. extension of the Main Bldg. to provide admin. accomm. is now under construction, and work on the Phys. Bldg. has been commenced.

COLLEGE OUTSIDE THE METROPOLITAN AREA

NEW ENGLAND UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, ARMIDALE, N.S.W. Established by the University of Sydney, 1938. See p. 922.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded by Act of the N.S.W. Legislature in 1850, the Univ. was granted a Royal Charter in 1858. Its development has been largely due to private benefactions: notably those of J. H. Challis—£250,000—in 1880; T. Fisher—£30,000 for Library—in 1885; P. N. Russell—£100,000 for School of Engineering, etc.—in 1896 and 1904; W. O. Watt, £78,354, 1925–28; and G. H. Bosch, £249,000, 1927–28. Under the will of Sir S. McCaughey it receives an annual income which amounted in 1945 to £16,000. In 1912 the statutory endowment was raised from £10,000 to £20,000, with provision for further automatic increases, and at the same time the constitution of the governing body, called the Senate, was altered so as to include 6 nominees of the Govr. and Parliament (one-fourth of the whole number). In 1917–18 the statutory endowment was further increased to £32,000, including £2000 for the new School of Archit. In 1919 the State provided £50,000 a year for 6 years for additional buildings. The Faculties were, in that year, increased from 4 to 10. From Jan. 1938 the statutory endowment was fixed at £100,000 p.a., being an increase of £32,000 p.a. on the previous total of Govt. grants; an additional grant of £25,000 p.a. was approved from July 1947. During 1950, in addition to the statutory endowment of £125,000, special grants totalling £121,164 were received. The grounds, which include the sites of the Colleges grouped round an oval, cover 140 acres.

Provision was made by Act of Parliament soon after the foundation of the Univ. for endowing such Colleges as might be established within it, to the extent of £20,000 in aid of building and £500 p.a. towards the Principal's salary.

Under an Act passed at the end of 1937 the Senate is empowered to establish and maintain Colleges outside the Sydney metropolitan area. These will be under the control of the Senate through an advisory committee for each College acting under By-laws made by the Senate. Students will be admitted to degrees of the Univ. of Sydney. The first College has been established at Armidale, 360 miles distant from Sydney (v. p. 922).

GENERAL INFORMATION

The New England University College was established as a branch of the University of Sydney on Jan. 1, 1938, by the Senate of the Univ. of Sydney under powers given to it by the University and University Colleges (Amendment) Act of 1937. It was established in accordance with the expressed wish of the people of Northern New South Wales and for the purpose of providing educn. at Univ. level for country students particularly. New England thus became the first experiment in Univ. decentralization in Australia, unique in this country in being almost wholly residential. The N.S.W. Govt. bore the cost of converting the property to its present use and of providing additional bldgs., and has more recently provided funds for the building of temp. hostel accomm. to house 75 students. The Commonwealth Govt. made funds available under the Commonwealth Reconstruction Training Scheme for the erection of another large bldg. to provide additional lecture-rooms, labs., and staff studies.

Of recent years, increasing demands have been made upon the Govt. of New South Wales for the granting of independence to the New England Univ. Coll., and it is now regarded as likely that it will become the autonomous, degree-granting University of New England in the near future.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Established by Act of the State Legislature in 1911, the University opened its first session in 1913. Its present site of 165 acres is at Crawley-Nedlands on a bay of the Swan estuary about 4 miles from Perth. On the site are extensive playing fields and two open-air theatres. The main University buildings, including Winthrop Hall, the student block, the Arts lecture rooms and the Library, were made possible by a bequest of Sir J. Winthrop Hackett, the first Chancellor of the Univ., and to-day are known as the Hackett Memorial Buildings.

A building and re-equipment programme of £250,000 has been carried out since the war, but large-scale bldg. developments, including the establishment of a Medical School, have had to be deferred because of bldg. difficulties.

The University at present receives a statutory annual grant from the State Government and additional annual appropriations for current revenue from the same source. The total State grant at present is approx. £250,000. For general and research purposes, the Commonwealth now makes a grant of approx. £75,000. Total expenditure on all activities, including Public Examns. and Adult Educn., is between £350,000 and £400,000.

The administration is vested in a Senate of 21 members, of whom six are nominated by the Government and seven are ex officio or co-opted members. A second body with mainly elective and revisionary functions is known as Convocation. Convocation elects 6 members of the Senate and the teaching staff 2 members.

GENERAL INFORMATION

In 1929 the Canberra University College was constituted by an Ordinance of the Australian Capital Territory, the Canberra University College Ordinance. The main function of the University College is to establish courses of lectures for degrees and diplomas in co-operation with one or more of the existing Universities in Australia. Co-operation was obtained with the University of Melbourne in 1930 and the University passed a temporary regulation which was extended from time to time, and which was amended in 1949 to read as follows:

"THE CANBERRA UNIVERSITY COLLEGE. (1) Any student taking any subject proper to the Faculties of Arts, Science, Law or Commerce and with the permission of the appropriate Faculty receiving the necessary instruction in such subject at the Canberra University College may upon payment of the following fees be admitted to examination at Canberra upon terms and conditions prescribed by the appropriate Faculty: For each subject, £1: 1s. (2) For the purpose of this Regulation the appropriate Faculty shall enquire into the teaching and facilities for study in any subject proper to it and if considered necessary appoint inspectors to visit the College and report thereon. (3) All teaching appointments proposed by the Council of the College shall be submitted to the Council of the University for its concurrence before the appointments are made. (4) This Temporary Regulation shall remain in force until the 31st December 1951."

The University College is financed by an annual grant by the Commonwealth Government, and fees received from students. The grant totalled in 1950, £44,300.

The Ordinance incorporates a Council of the College, which consists of ten members, nine appointed by the Governor-General on the advice of the Minister for the Interior (of whom two are nominated by the University Association of Canberra), and one being a member of the teaching staff co-opted by the Council. The Chairman of the Council is appointed by the Governor-General from among the members of the Council.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was founded, as a purely examining University, by an Act of the Colonial Govt. in 1870. It received its Royal Charter in 1876. Its constitution is defined in the N.Z. University Act, 1908, and subsequent amendments. The most important of these later amendments was that of 1926 by which the Univ. was re-established as a federal Univ. consisting of the four constituent University Colleges. Strictly speaking, the two Agricultural Colleges do not form part of the federal structure, but in effect they are constituent Colleges with representation and status similar to that of the four Univ. Colls.

The government of the Univ. is vested in the Senate, advised on academic matters by the Academic Board, which represents the Professorial Boards of the six Colleges, and on entrance matters and legal education by the Entrance Board and the Council of Legal Education. The Senate consists of a Chancellor, Pro-Chancellor, and Vice-Chancellor, 4 members nominated by the

* Member of the Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth.

Governor-General, 8 appointed by the governing bodies of the University Colleges, 1 by the School of Agriculture, 1 by the Senate, 5 by Convocation, 3 by the Academic Board, the Academic Heads of the constituent Colleges and the Director of Education.

In the early days when only undergraduate work was attempted, the function of the Univ. was mainly examining. Since the reconstitution of 1926, as the Colleges have grown in size and importance, responsibility for teaching and examining has been transferred to them under a general supervision exercised by Academic Board and Senate. The federal University is now largely concerned with wider problems of the promotion and co-ordination of University education and research and, within recent years, has established a University Press, a Research Fund (at present £15,000 p.a.) and a University Grants Committee. It supervises higher teaching appointments in the Colleges, and the governing bodies of the Colleges cannot make any appointment to a Chair without the prior approval of the Senate. A Professor so appointed becomes a "Professor of the University."

The University owns, in Wellington, University House, which contains its administrative offices and the Senate Room.

MATRICULATION. Candidates must pass in 4 subjects, including English. The examn. is held in Dec. Special provision is made for exemption of persons not under 21 years of age and students from other Universities. A student admitted to the Univ. may enter himself on the books of any coll., and may transfer at the end of a session to any other coll. Such transfers are frequent with students progressing from the earlier to the later parts of professional courses available in one coll. only.

EXTERNAL STUDENTS. Provision is made in certain faculties (notably Arts, Comm., and Law) for the admission to degree examns. of students exempted from attendance at a College. Exemption is available only to students domiciled in N.Z. and in N.Z. Island Territories.

ACADEMIC YEAR. Teaching extends from March to Oct. or Nov., in three terms, Autumn (March–May), Winter (June–Aug.), and Spring (Sept.–Oct. or Nov.).

DEGREE COURSES. 3 yrs.—B.A., B.Sc., B.Mus., B.For.Sc., B.D.; 4 yrs.—B.H.Sc., B.Agr.Sc. (including practical work on farm), B.Arch. (including 18 mos.' practical work), LL.B., B.E. (Mech., Elect., Civ., Mining, Metall., including from 9 to 18 mos. in shops, mines, or surveying), B.Com.; 5 yrs.—B.D.S.; 6 yrs.—M.B., Ch.B., B.Med.Sc.

THE YEARS 1949, 1950

The most important event in this period was a complete survey of the finances of the 6 colls. by the Grants Committee. On the basis of this the N.Z. Govt. accepted in principle a system of grants calculated on a quinquennium from 1950 to 1954. In 1949 a general election resulted in the opposition party being returned to power and the new Govt. accepted the quinquennial grants plan approved by its predecessor.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded by Ordinance of the Otago Provincial Council in 1869, with power to grant degrees in Arts, Medicine, and Law, the Univ. was opened in 1871. By an agreement effected in 1874 the Univ. agreed to hold in abeyance its power of granting degrees, and to become affiliated to the Univ. of New Zealand (q.v.), in which it ranks as one of the four Constituent Colls. The Law Fac. originated in 1873, the Medical Sch. in 1874, the Sch. of Mines in 1878, the Dental Sch. in 1907, Accountancy Lectures and the Sch. of Home Science in 1911, the Theology Fac. in 1945, and the Sch. of Physical Education in 1948. A little more than one-tenth of the Univ.'s income comes from students' fees, a large proportion of which in turn are furnished by Govt. bursaries. A small fraction derives from lands with which the Univ. was endowed at its foundation. The remainder is furnished by Govt. grants from moneys voted by Parliament for the Dept. of Education.

The govt. of the Univ. is vested in the Council, on which are represented the Professorial Bd., teaching staff, Students' Assoc., graduates (Convocation), and a number of educational and other bodies; the Governor-General-in-Council nominates two members. The Council is advised on academic matters by the Professorial Bd.

GENERAL INFORMATION

In 1872 the Provincial Council of Canterbury set aside certain lands for the endowment of higher education, including provision for a school of agriculture. Land suitable for the activities of such a school was bought at Lincoln in 1877 by the Canterbury College Board, which was administering the endowments, and Lincoln Agricultural College was opened in 1880. By the Canterbury Agricultural College Act, 1896, control of Lincoln Agricultural College was removed from the Canterbury College Board and vested in a separate Board of Governors, the College thenceforth being known as Canterbury Agricultural College. In 1913 a University Degree in Agriculture was instituted and the College was recognized as a School of Agriculture by the University of New Zealand. A series of amending Acts were passed between 1922 and 1927, and by legislation passed in the latter year the College became a College of the University. By the School of Agriculture Act, 1937, Canterbury Agricultural College and Massey Agricultural College were constituted a New Zealand School of Agriculture in connexion with the University of New Zealand. UNIVERSITIES OF THE UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA

HISTORICAL SUMMARY (originally contributed by Professor Ritchie of Cape Town, revised by Sir Carruthers Beattie, formerly Vice-Chancellor of the University of Cape Town, and further revised by the Vice-Chancellors' Committee). The history of higher education in S. Africa covers but a comparatively short period of time. It may be said to have had its beginnings when, in 1829, the S. African College (now incorporated in the Univ. of Cape Town) was founded, as a proprietary institution, by a number of progressive citizens of Cape Town, assisted by subscribers from various parts of the country. This institution was, at its inception and for a long time afterwards, not much more than a higher-class school, but it had within it the possibilities of growth and started with very high aims. It had a very chequered history for some time, and was on more than one occasion in danger of extinction, but it gradually acquired a stronger position on ceasing to be a proprietary institution and receiving support from the public funds. For 20 years it remained the only educational establishment in S. Africa which aspired to anything beyond the range of elementary education, but in 1849 a rival College (the Diocesan) was started under the ægis of the Episcopalian Church at Rondebosch, a suburb of Cape Town. A few years later, in 1855, a somewhat similar College, St. Andrew's, was founded in Grahamstown, in the eastern part of the Cape Colony. Under the Governorship of Sir George Grey there was founded, in 1855, the Grey College at Bloemfontein in the Orange Free State, the first attempt at higher education beyond the borders of the then Cape Colony. None of these Colleges was well equipped, and most of the work done by them was school work rather than Univ. work, but they gradually acquired a growing influence and formed centres at which development was only a question of time. A very strong impetus in the direction of higher education was given in 1858 by the establishment of a Board of Examiners in Literature and Science. This Board had in view in the first instance the testing by means of examination of the competency of candidates for the Civil Service and public offices, but it soon extended its scope and started examinations on more distinctively Univ. lines, corresponding roughly to Matricn., B.A., and M.A. The competition between the existing Colleges caused by these exams. had undoubtedly a strong influence on the growth of these Colleges and the greater attention paid to subjects beyond the mere school range. This Board continued to exist until 1873, when a successful attempt was made to institute a Univ. for S. Africa. The Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope, which was then founded, continued to exist until the beginning of 1918, when it was transformed into the Univ. of S. Africa, with its administrative seat at Pretoria. This Univ. was modelled on the lines of London Univ., as then existing, as a purely examining body. It was governed by a Council, half of whose members were nominated by the Government, half elected by the members of Convocation. It had no constitutional connexion with the Colleges which prepared students for its exams., but the members of the Council who were elected by Convocation tended gradually to be almost entirely members of the teaching staffs of the various Colleges. In this indirect fashion the Colleges had a considerable influence on the development of the Univ. and the extension of the range and scope of its exams. Almost at the same time as the founding of the Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope there was passed by the Cape Parliament a Higher Education Act, which gave definite salary grants to the professors at recognized Colleges. This Act, together with the new impulse given to higher education by the new Univ., had a very marked influence on the development of the Colleges, which now began to increase in staff and numbers of students. The new College of Stellenbosch (afterwards the Victoria College and now the Univ. of Stellenbosch) was founded in 1874, and grew very rapidly, until it was a formidable rival of the older College at Cape Town. Other Colleges were founded also at Somerset East (Gill College) and Port Elizabeth (Grey Institute), but these had only a very short term of life. At a considerably later period, as S. Africa grew in population and wealth, other Colleges sprang into existence. A College for women (the Huguenot College) was founded at Wellington in 1898 and continued until the end of 1950, when it ceased to exist. In 1904 St. Andrew's College at Grahamstown separated its College department from its school, and the former became incorporated as the Rhodes College. In the same year a School of Mines which had been founded in 1896 at Kimberley was transferred to Johannesburg, and afterwards developed into a College for higher education generally, which is now the University of the Witwatersrand. In 1908 a Univ. College was founded at Pretoria,* and in 1909 a similar College was instituted at Pietermaritzburg, Natal.†

In 1904 there began a movement for the institution of a teaching, in place of the examining, Univ., and the controversy regarding the rival claims of a federal and a single-college Univ. continued for a number of years. An Inter-Colonial Conference on Univ. Education in 1908 reported in favour of a federal scheme, but nothing came of its decision. A new factor in favour of a teaching Univ. was introduced by the munificent gifts for this purpose of Mr. Alfred Beit, his brother, Mr. (later Sir) Otto Beit, and Sir Julius Wernher. In consequence of these gifts, various attempts were made by the Government to solve the knotty question of reconciling claims of the existing Colleges with the institution of one or more teaching Univs. A parliamentary committee deliberated on the subject in 1913, and a Commission was appointed in the same year and, after taking evidence, issued its report in 1914. This Commission proposed two Univs., one consisting of a federation of the S. African College and the Victoria College, the other of a federation of the remaining Colleges (Rhodes College being allowed the choice of joining whichever federation it pleased), but the proposal led to no practical result, chiefly owing to the objection on the part of the two oldest and strongest Colleges, at Cape Town and Stellenbosch, to the loss of their independence. The problem was at length solved in 1916 by giving charters to both the S. African College and the Victoria College, and by the reincorporation of the old Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope as a federal Univ. embracing all the other Colleges under the name of the Univ. of S. Africa.

The three Acts passed by the Union of S. Africa in 1916 were to the following effect :

I. The Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope became the Univ. of South Africa, with its administrative seat at Pretoria.

II. The South African College became the Univ. of Cape Town, with which is incorporated the S. African College. Its seat is upon the Groote Schuur estate on the eastern slopes of Table Mountain.

III. The Victoria College, Stellenbosch, became the Univ. of Stellenbosch, with its seat in the division of Stellenbosch in the Province of the Cape of Good Hope.

The Faculties of the Univ. of Stellenbosch were specified originally as—Arts, Science, Education, Agric., Law, Theology, Commerce, to which have now been added Forestry and Engineering ; of the Univ. of Cape Town as—Arts, Science, Medicine, Law, Engineering, Education, to which have been added subsequently Commerce, Music, Fine Art (and Architecture), and Social Science. The three University Acts referred to above also made provision for the establishment of a Joint Matriculation Board and a Joint Committee for Professional Examinations, the functions of which are indicated below.

In 1921 the teaching institution at Potchefstroom was admitted as a constituent College of the University of South Africa under the name of the Potchefstroom University College.*

In 1921 Parliament passed a further Act, which had the effect of incorporating, with effect from March 1, 1922, as " The University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg," the University College, Johannesburg (formerly the S. African School of Mines and Technology, and one of the constituent Colleges of the University of S. Africa). Its Faculties are defined as Arts, Science, Medicine, Law, Engineering, Commerce, and Dentistry, to which has been added Architecture.

In 1923 the South African Native College at Fort Hare, established primarily for the benefit of the native races of South Africa, was incorporated under the Higher Education Act of 1923 and is now affiliated with Rhodes University.

In 1930 Parliament passed an Act incorporating the Transvaal University College, Pretoria, as " The University of Pretoria," as from Oct. 10, 1930. Its Faculties are specified as Arts, Science, Agriculture, Law, Theology, Commerce and Public Administration, Veterinary Science, Education, Music, to which has been added Medicine.

In 1948 Parliament passed an Act incorporating the Natal University College as the " University of Natal," which came into being on March 15, 1949. Its Faculties are specified as Arts, Science, Education,

* Now the Potchefstroom University for Christian Higher Education.

Commerce and Public Administration, Engineering, Agriculture, Law, Social Science.

In 1949 Parliament passed two Acts, one incorporating Rhodes University College as Rhodes University and the other incorporating the University College of the Orange Free State as the University of the Orange Free State. The University of the Orange Free State came into being on March 18, 1950, and Rhodes University on March 10, 1951. The Faculties of the Univ. of the Orange Free State are defined as Arts, Science and Social Sciences, Natural Sciences, Education, Law, Commerce and Public Administration. The Faculties of Rhodes University are Arts, Science, Education, Commerce, Divinity, Law, Social Science, Music, and Fine Arts.

In 1950 the Potchefstroom University College was incorporated as a University and assumed full University status on March 17, 1951, as the Potchefstroom University for Christian Higher Education. It has Faculties of Arts, Theology, Natural Sciences, Education, Economic Sciences, and Social Sciences.

With the disappearance of all its constituent colleges the University of South Africa was reincorporated under the same name in 1951.

Each of the nine Univs. is governed by Council and Senate.

The Senate of the Univ. of South Africa as reconstituted in 1951 consists of two members appointed by the Council, Director and Professor of the Division of External Studies and lectrs. of the Division who are heads of depts. recognized by the Council for representation on the Senate, two representatives of the Senate of each of the other Univs. in South Africa, and not fewer than eight other persons who are Professors or lectrs. at the other Univs. in South Africa. The Senates of the other Univs. consist in each case of the Principal or Rector, the Vice-Chancellor, two additional members of the Council appointed for a prescribed period, and the Professors and, in addition, at Pretoria and the Orange Free State, Heads of Depts., and at Natal, Directors or Heads of such research institutes as fall under the control of the Council, and the Librarian of the University. At the Univs. of Cape Town and the Witwatersrand two Assessor members are elected annually by the Lecturers.

There are three Faculties of Medicine, in Cape Town, Pretoria, and Johannesburg; four of Engineering, in Cape Town, Johannesburg, Stellenbosch, and Durban; three of Agriculture, at Pretoria, Stellenbosch, and Natal; at Pretoria there is also a Veterinary Science Faculty, and at Stellenbosch in 1932 a Forestry course was started; there are Theological Faculties at Stellenbosch, Pretoria, Rhodes, and Potchefstroom.

The training of secondary teachers has been left to the Universities, and all the institutions endeavour to carry out this training. The training of primary teachers is, to a much smaller extent, provided for in the Universities, the main work in this instance being carried on in training colleges under the provincial Departments of Education.

Legal and commercial training is given in all the Universities; so is the teaching of the subjects usual in a Science and in an Arts Faculty.

Schools of African Life and Languages have been established at four of the Universities, and a considerable amount of valuable work has been done.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University of Cape Town, with which is incorporated the South African College, created by Act 14 of 1916, came into legal existence on April 2, 1918, when the Council took over a bequest by Sir Julius Wernher of £250,000 and a donation of equal amount from Sir Otto Beit, who added £50,000 to a lapsed bequest by Mr. Alfred Beit. For early history, see Yearbook for 1930 and Introductory Chapter, above.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Established by an Act of 1909, Natal University College was opened in 1910 in the Town Hall and moved in 1912 to its own buildings (which, with equipment, cost £60,000) in the suburb of Scottsville, Pietermaritzburg. A new Science block and a women's hall of residence were added in 1921 and a residence for men in 1928. A new wing was added in 1934 and a Library and Fine Arts School in 1936. In 1926, a site of 50 acres at Stellawood, Durban, was presented by the Corporation of the City of Durban, for the erection of an Engineering College. An amount of £50,000 was donated by Mr. T. B. Davis in 1924 for this purpose. Howard College, as it is called to-day, was opened in Durban in 1931. A new Commerce Building, situated on a central site in the city of Durban, was added in 1936. By virtue of Act No. 4 of 1948, the Natal University College was incorporated as the University of Natal. It came into legal existence as an independent University on March 15, 1949, and, in addition to fulfilling its previous functions, is now entitled to examine its own students and grant degrees and diplomas.

The University consists of the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Principal, Council, Senate and Convocation of the University; the professors, lecturers, and other teachers; the directors or heads of research institutes controlled by the Council; and the students of the University. The Chancellor, elected by the Council, is the head of the University, and as such is empowered, in the name of the University, to confer all degrees. The chief academic and administrative officer of the University is the Principal, who is ex officio a member of the Council and the chairman of the Senate. The Council, which elects its own chairman, is the governing body of the University and administers its affairs and property.

LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION: English.

TERMS. The academic yr. is divided into 2 terms, the first of which begins towards the end of Feb.

ADMISSION. The normal qualifcn. for admission to a degree course is the Matricn. Certif. of the Jt. Matricn. Bd., or the Bd.'s certif. of exemption from the Matricn. Examn. Students who are not qualified, or who do not desire, to take a regular course may be admitted to individual classes, provided the prof. or lectr. concerned is satisfied that they are competent to profit by the instruction given. Students who have School Leaving Certifs. may, in certain cases, obtain conditional exemption from the Matricn. Examn. which would entitle them to enrol for degree courses.

NON-EUROPEAN SECTION. This is a separate section (temporarily housed in Sastri College belonging to the Natal Provincial Admin.) of the Univ. which has been established in Durban. The students, who are drawn mostly from the teaching profession, are pt.-time and take degrees in Arts, Commerce and Admin., and Social Science. Most of the classes are held at week-ends. The full-time staff of the Univ. organize and conduct the work. For some subjects pt.-time staff are engaged annually. The newly established Fac. of Medicine for Non-European students has commenced its activities at Wentworth College, where medical students will receive their period of pre-medical training extending over 2 yrs.

GRADUATES' ASSOCIATION. Prior to 1949 the chief assocn. of graduates was known as the Natal University College Union, founded in 1922. With the attainment by the College of Univ. status, some of the functions of the Union have devolved upon Convocation, and a cttee. has been appointed to consider the relationship of the Union to Convocation.

There is also a Jt. Athletic Union organization which concerns itself mainly with sporting tours undertaken by Univ. clubs. Information concerning the various Student Socs., Clubs, and Cttees. is issued by the Students' Representative Council in each centre. The S.R.C. is the body elected to deal with all student affairs and is the students' official avenue of approach to the authorities of the Univ.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded 1910. For early history, see Yearbook, 1929, pp. 508-509.

In 1930 the Transvaal University Coll. was incorporated by Act of the Legislature of the Union of S. Africa as an independent Univ. under the title of The Univ. of Pretoria. The Univ. consists of the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, the Rector, the Council, Senate, and Convocation, together with the Professors, other teachers, and students of the Univ. The Rector is ex officio Chairman of the Senate.

FACULTIES AND DEANS (1951). Arts, Prof. G. Cronjé; Science, Prof. W. E. Schilz; Agriculture, Prof. J. J. Theron; Law, Prof. L. I. Coertze; Theology, Prof. S. P. Engelbrecht and Prof. E. P. Groenewald; Commerce and Public Administration, Prof. E. F. W. Gey van Pittius; Veterinary Science, Prof. P. J. J. Fourie; Education, Prof. B. F. Nel; Medicine, Prof. L. J. te Groen; Dentistry, vacant.

The Faculty of Agriculture is one of three in South Africa, a third Faculty having recently been established at Natal Univ. It is specialized along different lines from the Faculty in Stellenbosch University, particular attention being paid to the study of farming in the summer rainfall area of the Union of South Africa. There is an Experimental Farm (Telephone: 4.4517) one mile east of the main Univ. site. The Faculty of Agriculture of the Univ. of Pretoria has two functions, namely: (a) Educational: serving as a teaching institution for the training of agriculturists and agricultural engineers. The courses for Bachelors' degrees cover 4 years of study and candidates may specialize in any branch of agriculture. Postgraduate work may be taken, and about 20 per cent. of the students enrolled follow postgraduate courses. (b) Research: The Faculty is also a research institute. Its research work falls under the direct control of the Department of Agriculture of the Union Government. In this respect the Faculty functions as a division of the Department. The Faculty of Veterinary Science (Telephone: 5.2411) was grafted on to the Veterinary Research Laboratory at Onderstepoort, one of the largest veterinary research institutes in the Commonwealth. The most important subjects of research comprise protozool., virus and bacterial diseases, helminthology, entomology, poisonous plants, mineral metabolism and other nutritional problems, sterility in cattle and sheep and other obstetrical and physiological problems. The Clinical Buildings of the Fac. of Med. are in the grounds of Pretoria General Hospl. (Telephone: 2.9741). The Institute of Pathology is situated in Beatrix St., Pretoria (Telephone: 3.0811).

AFFILIATED INSTITUTION

THE SOUTH AFRICAN NATIVE COLLEGE, P.O. Fort Hare, C.P. (Telephone : Alice 20). Founded 1916. Principal, C. P. Dent, M.Sc. S.A.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The beginnings of Rhodes University date from 1855, when St. Andrew's College was founded at Grahamstown. For many years, this School prepared students for degree examns., as well as for the usual school examns. In 1878, the School established a separate College dept. for the purpose of preparing students for the examns. of the Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope. In 1904, generous financial support from the Rhodes Trustees, the citizens of Grahamstown and the public bodies of the Eastern Cape, made it possible to separate this Coll. dept. from the Sch. and it was incorporated by Act of Parliament as Rhodes University College. The Coll. continued to prepare students for the degrees of the Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope until 1916, when it became a Constituent Coll. of the Univ. of S. Africa. In 1949, Parliament passed an Act incorporating the Coll. as Rhodes University, which came into being on March 10, 1951. From the same date, the S. African Native Coll. was affiliated to the new Univ.

The Univ. now owns an impressive array of buildings erected progressively since 1914 on an excellent site, the nucleus of which was donated to the Coll. by the Govt. All the bldgs., which comprise administrative, academic, and residential blocks, are situated within easy reach of one another, and of the Univ. sports fields.

The Leather Industries Research Inst. originated as a Tanning Res. section of the Chem. Dept. and gradually developed, until in 1942 it was able to move into a separate bldg. and became an independent Dept. In 1946, it was formally constituted as a Research Inst. under the control of the C.S.I.R., but it still remained closely associated with the Coll.

CONSTITUTION. The Univ. consists of the Chancellor, the Principal, who is ex officio the Vice-Chancellor, the Vice-Principal, who is ex officio the Pro-Vice-Chancellor, the Council, the Senate, and the Convocation, together with the profs., lectrs., other teachers, and the students.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Victoria College developed out of the Stellenbosch Gymnasium, which was founded in 1866, and in connexion with which the Faculties of Literature and Philosophy, Mathematics and Physics—the so-called "Arts Department"—were established in 1874. In 1881 the Arts Department was granted a charter and accorded its status and constitution as the "Stellenbosch College" by a private Act of Parliament. In 1887 (the year of the 50th anniversary of Queen Victoria's accession) Her Majesty consented to the College's being named "The Victoria College of Stellenbosch." By the University of Stellenbosch Act, No. 13 of 1916, the College, on April 2, 1918, was incorporated as the University of Stellenbosch, and in addition to fulfilling its previous functions is entitled to examine its own students and grant degrees.

The Faculty of Agriculture aims at the promotion of agricultural science and the development of agriculture in the Union. Particular attention is given to the training of future farmers. By Act No. 45 of 1926, the Elsenburg School of Agriculture and the Faculty of Agriculture of the University were amalgamated to constitute "The Stellenbosch-Elsenburg College of Agriculture of the University of Stellenbosch." In accordance with this Act, the Faculty of Agriculture and Forestry "shall be for all purposes the faculty of agriculture of the University, and shall have all such rights and privileges and be subject to all such duties as are laid down by the University of Stellenbosch Act, No. 13 of 1916." By this amalgamation the Faculty of Agriculture and Forestry is brought into more intimate touch with practical farming and matters relating thereto, so that its activities are more extensive than those of the original faculty. In close connexion with the Univ. is the Western Province Fruit Research Station of the Union Dept. of Agriculture, where there are facilities for postgraduate research in all branches of fruit production and fruit and vegetable processing. Several of the staff members of the Research Station are members of the teaching staff of the Univ. The Department of Forestry is attached to the Faculty of Agriculture.

Research work forms an important part of the activities of this University. In the Departments of Educational Psychology, Psychology, Sociology, Geography, History, Agriculture, Bantu Languages, Ethnography, Afrikaans-Nederlands, Geology, Biology, Law and Economics, special attention is devoted to South African problems. Since 1923, the results of research work have been published regularly in the Annals of the University of Stellenbosch. The University Council also awards a special grant for the purpose of carrying on scientific investigational work.

In most of these branches of sport they were able to compete successfully with other clubs.

HEALTH OF STUDENTS. Due to its mild climate the health of the students at Stellenbosch is generally very sound. The assistance of a fully trained nurse is at the disposal of all students who may require her services. Periodical inspections are conducted to ascertain the general state of health of all students in Univ. hostels.

RECREATION AND FACILITIES FOR EX-VOLUNTEER STUDENTS (EX-SERVICE MEN). The Univ. caters extensively for the needs of ex-Service men who have registered as students at this institution. Special classes and mid-term courses have been introduced (at no extra cost to the student) and extra and individual coaching is applied to assist this type of student. Recreational facilities, sport, culture and relaxation are provided, and a special hostel has been allocated to ex-volunteer students. In general, the ex-volunteers have succeeded beyond expectations in assimilating themselves with the student body as a whole.

THE UNIVERSITIES OF INDIA

UNIVERSITIES were first established in British India as a result of the great parliamentary enquiry into the condition of India which preceded the confirmation of the East India Company's Charter in 1853. It was resolved to create a properly articulated system of education from the Primary School to the University. London University, at that time a purely examining body, which admitted to its tests only the students trained in affiliated institutions—the latest device of educational statesmanship—was taken as a model. "It had been suggested, in London, by conditions which resembled those of Bengal. . . . Its defects were not yet apparent, though it was to be profoundly modified by London itself four years later. It had the advantage of costing very little. It enabled all the existing collegiate institutions, whether Government or missionary, to be worked into the same scheme, and promised to provide a quite impartial mode of testing the qualifications of students for Government service. Above all, it gave freedom to the non-Government Colleges—all, at that date, mission colleges—to carry on their work in their own way, and offered them help from public funds for the secular side of their work" (Report of the Calcutta University Commission, 1917-19). In pursuance of this policy, Universities were founded in 1857 at Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras. The framers of the policy, while contemplating that the ordinary subjects of study should be dealt with by the Colleges, did not intend that the Universities should have no teaching functions, but in point of fact until about 1914 they concerned themselves solely with examinations. In 1887 the University of Allahabad was established on similar lines. A Commission was appointed in 1902 to examine the working of the system, and the Universities Act of 1904 was designed to give effect to its recommendations as to reorganization of the government of the Universities, their assumption of teaching functions, and more effective supervision by them of the Colleges, as well as more exacting conditions of affiliation. University Professorships, Readerships, and Lectureships have accordingly been constituted in the above-named Universities, but mainly for advanced (postgraduate) courses and, except in Calcutta, only on a very small scale. Banaras (Hindu), Mysore, and Patna Universities were established in 1916 and 1917. The Osmania University, Hyderabad, Deccan, was also established in 1918, though actual tuition began only in Aug. 1919.

The foundation, structure, aims, and efficiency in working of institutions for higher education in India were subjected to exhaustive re-examination by the Calcutta University Commission, 1917-19. In the University of Calcutta itself but little progress has been made towards giving effect to the far-reaching and fundamental changes recommended by this body, but their recommendations have to a great extent determined the lines on which a number of new Universities were established in 1920 and following years. Aligarh, Lucknow, and Allahabad may be described as unitary, teaching, and residential Universities ; and the University of Agra was created under an Act of the United Provinces of 1926 for the purpose of affiliating all the colleges previously associated with the University of Allahabad which had not been transferred to the Nagpur University (see below). Delhi University, established in 1922, has constituent colleges which are not wholly controlled by the University and may perhaps be described as residential and " semi-unitary." Part of the teaching in Delhi is carried on by the Univ. itself. The Patna University Act of 1917, which had established an affiliating University at Patna to meet the needs of the newly created province of Bihar and Orissa, was amended by an Act in 1932 so as to make the constitution correspond with existing conditions. The Nagpur University was established by legislation in 1923 and took over a number of colleges previously affiliated to Allahabad, to which have been added an Agricultural College and an Institute of Technology. The University itself carries on the teaching of law. In 1926 an Act of the Madras Legislative Council provided for the establishment of an affiliating University of Bezwada (the Andhra University). The headquarters of Andhra University have been moved to Waltair. Bombay University was reorganized in 1928, and the new Act came into force in 1929. The report of the Bombay University Reform Committee (published 1925) recommended the establishment of a University at Poona. The Annamalai University of Annamalainagar in Southern India was established by an Act of the Madras Legislature of 1928 as a unitary, residential, and teaching University. The University of Travancore was founded in 1937 primarily as a teaching University established at Trivandrum without powers of affiliation, though four mofussil colleges were admitted to its privileges as a special arrangement. The constitution of a new Province of Orissa in 1936 resulted, with the active collaboration of the " States " of Orissa, in the establishment at Cuttack of the Utkal University in Aug. 1943. The University is an examining body. The University of Saugar was established in 1946, partly as a teaching and partly as an affiliating body, and took over a number of colleges which were formerly affiliated to the University of Nagpur ; the Rajputana University was established in 1947 at Jaipur as a partly teaching and partly affiliating University ; the University of the Panjab (India), with its headquarters at Solan (Simla Hills), affiliating the colleges in the East Panjab, came into being as a consequence of the partition of the Panjab between India and Pakistan in 1947 ; and the University of Gauhati (Assam) was established in 1947 to meet the special needs of the Province of Assam. The latest additions to the Universities of India are the Jammu and Kashmir University with its headquarters at Srinagar ; the University of Poona ; the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda ; the Roorkee University ; the Gujarat University at Ahmedabad ; and the Karnatak University at Dharwar. All of these, except Roorkee, are partly teaching and partly affiliating Universities. Roorkee is the first " Technical " University in India, providing education in Engineering only.

The Review of Growth of Education in British India * by the Auxiliary

* Interim Report of the Indian Statutory Commission, 1929 ; Cmd. 3407. H.M. Stationery Office.

Committee on Education appointed by the Indian Statutory Commission (generally referred to as the Hartog Report) gives an account both of recent progress in University education in India and of some of its main defects. In the smaller Colleges and residential Universities the old system of mass teaching has been supplemented by valuable tutorial work, especially for Honours students. Research work, which barely existed in Indian Universities when the Islington Commission reported in 1915,* now finds its place in all the Indian Universities, and the character of the staff in the unitary Universities and in central organizations of the affiliated Universities has been largely transformed. The laboratories and libraries have been greatly improved ; " but the majority of University libraries are inadequate and all need great additions." University and College authorities realize the value of corporate life and social activities, and efforts are continually being made to foster and develop these, though there are serious financial and other difficulties.

The Universities are turning out large numbers of graduates who cannot find suitable employment. The Hartog Report had said that " they are overcrowded with men who are not profiting either intellectually or materially by their university training " ; and suggested that students who now go to Universities without being really fitted for higher work should be diverted in large numbers at an earlier stage to careers better suited to their capacity ; and that if this were done money would be set free for more profitable educational uses, and the training of the best men could be appreciably improved. Some effort in this direction has already been made by the opening of technical schools and institutes all over the country. But only with the full development of the industries and commerce of the country will the problem be solved.

CONSTITUTION. (a) The University of Calcutta is still governed by the constitution framed under the Act of 1904. But in its application to Calcutta the Act of 1904 is modified by Acts II of 1905, XI of 1911, and VII of 1921 ; and the University has, under its existing powers, created important Postgraduate Councils in Arts and in Science, each with an Executive Committee. The constitution of the University of Madras was modified by local Acts, VII of 1923 and XII of 1929, with a view to establishing a teaching and residential University at Madras, while enabling the University to continue to exercise due control over the quality of the teaching given by Colleges which are to constitute the University or are affiliated to it (Preamble to Act of 1923). Under these Acts there were constituted an Academic Council, Faculties, and Boards of Studies. A Council of Affiliated Colleges established in 1923 was abolished in 1929. The University of Bombay is governed by Act IV of 1928, amended in detail by subsequent Acts, especially Act XV of 1930. The Senate comprises the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, and other Fellows, the executive government being vested in a Syndicate of

* See Note by the Earl of Ronaldshay, Sir V. Chirol, and Mr. H. A. L. Fisher in Report of Royal Commission on the Public Services in India, vol. I., p. 209 ; Cd. 8382. H.M. Stationery Office, 1917.

18 or 19 members, including the Vice-Chancellor and the Director of Public Instruction and members (largely College teachers) elected by the Senate or the Faculties. There are also an Academic Council and a Board of Postgraduate Studies. The constitution and abolition of Faculties rest with the Senate.

(b) The new Universities in India have a constitution modelled generally on that recommended for Calcutta by the Calcutta University Commission: (1) A large body called the Court, on which are represented the chief interests of the community either by election or by nomination, and including a number of ex-officio members, makes statutes and makes recommendations on the financial accounts and the annual report submitted by the Executive Council; (2) the Executive Council of some 15-20 members, elected partly by the Court, partly by the Academic Council, and including ex-officio members, is the executive authority in regard to finance and University appointments, and exercises all residual powers; (3) the Academic Council, which consists almost entirely of University teachers, is responsible for the regulation and maintenance of standards of education and examination within the University, and for the initiation of all changes in academic matters. The executive officers of the new Universities are, as under the older constitution, the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, and the Registrar.

ADMISSION TO THE UNIVERSITIES. Most of the Indian Universities admit students who have passed the Final Examn. of the High Schools, and 4 years are spent at a College affiliated to the University before the student is qualified to sit for the Bachelor's Degree Examn., 2 years before the Intermediate Examn. and 2 after. The Universities of Allahabad, Lucknow, and Agra regard the pre-Intermediate years not as part of, but as preliminary to, University study. Delhi has adopted a three-year degree course, following upon an extended school course ending in a Higher Secondary examn., or a Preparatory year spent at the University after the school leaving examn.

AFFILIATION OF COLLEGES. Applications for affiliation are generally submitted to the Syndicate, which must be satisfied as to the managing agency, teaching staff, provision for residence of students, equipment, financial resources, suitability of fees, etc. If granted, the courses in respect of which the College is affiliated are specified. Affiliated Colleges must comply with requisitions by the Syndicate for information, submit themselves to inspection under the Syndicate's orders, and take such action as may be ordered consequent upon such inspections. In Calcutta University affiliation questions are dealt with by the Senate. The powers of affiliation by the University can, in some Universities, only be exercised subject to the approval of Government.

TERMS. University examns. are, with few exceptions, held between March and June. Admissions are made as a rule in June or July, though in some cases regular work does not commence till Sept. or Oct.

DEGREE COURSES. In Arts and Science a 2 yrs.' course leading to an Intermediate examn. is followed by a further 2 yrs.' course for the Bachelor's degree. English is generally a compulsory subject for the

B.A. and in some cases for the B.Sc., and is generally the medium of teaching and examination in nearly all Universities; but steps have been taken in a few Universities to change over to the regional or national language. Andhra, Annamalai, Lucknow, Madras, Mysore, Nagpur, and Travancore give Honours degrees in Arts and Science requiring an additional year of study. Elsewhere the Honours degree is generally given on papers additional to those for the Pass or on a separate "Honours Course" of the same duration as the Pass Course. Agra, Allahabad, and Osmania give no Honours degrees.

The Intermediate courses are under the control of the Universities except at Agra, Allahabad, and Lucknow, where they are controlled by Boards of Intermediate Education.

Agriculture. For the B.Ag., Panjab gives a 5-yr. course subsequent to matriculation. For the B.Sc. (Ag.), Andhra, Bombay, and Madras give a 3-yr. course, and Agra, Allahabad, Nagpur, and Patna a 2-yr. course after an Intermediate examn. in Agriculture.

Commerce. The B.Com. course offered at Agra, Allahabad, Andhra, Calcutta, Lucknow, Madras, Nagpur, East Panjab, Patna, and Utkal is generally a 2-yr., in some cases a 3-yr., course after passing the Intermediate examn. in Arts. In Bombay it is a 4-yr. course after matriculation.

Education and Teaching. A degree open to graduates in Arts and Science after a 1-yr. course is called the B.T. at Agra, Aligarh, Banaras, Bombay, Calcutta, Madras, Mysore, Nagpur, East Panjab, and Travancore, B.Ed. at Andhra and Lucknow, and Dip.Ed. at Osmania, Patna, and Utkal. Lucknow gives a Diploma in Teaching to women graduates after a 1-yr. course.

Engineering. For B.Sc. (Engineering), Agra, Banaras, and Patna give a 5-yr. course after Intermediate examn. in Science; for the B.E. or B.Sc. (Engineering) or B.C.E., Aligarh, Annamalai, Calcutta, Madras, Mysore, Osmania, and Travancore have a 4-yr. course, and Bombay and Panjab a 3-yr. course after Intermediate examn. in Science or equivalent examn. Banaras gives a B.Sc. (Engineering) in Mining and Metallurgy after a 4-yr. course. Roorkee University has 3-yr. courses in Civil, Mechanical, and Electrical Engineering.

Law. The LL.B. (or B.L.) course covers 2 yrs. (Calcutta and East Panjab ordinarily 3 yrs.) after graduating in Arts or Science. Bombay gives a 3-yr. course after Intermediate examn. in Arts or Science. Degrees in Law are not at present given at Annamalai and Mysore.

Medicine. Medical courses are taught in a majority of Universities. The M.B., B.S. course covers 5 yrs. at Agra, Lucknow, Osmania, Panjab, and Patna (after Pre-medical examn.), 5½ yrs. at Andhra, Calcutta, Madras, and Mysore, and 3 yrs. at Bombay after the Intermediate examn. in Science or some equivalent examn. The Utkal Univ. has recently started this course. The Aligarh Univ. gives degrees in Unani System of Medicine and Surgery in 5 yrs. and Banaras in the Ayurvedic System of Medicine in 6 yrs. Besides these, there are other diploma courses in Pharmacy and different branches of Medicine at some of the Univs. Mysore and Patna also give an L.M.P. course of 4 yrs. after matricn.

Oriental Learning. Besides courses for degrees in Arts in classical Oriental languages and literatures (Sanskrit, Arabic, and Persian) and in vernaculars, conducted more or less on Western lines, there are degrees in Oriental Learning given in some Universities with English titles, in others with Oriental titles, in some with both. Andhra, Annamalai, Madras, and Nagpur give "Titles" and certificates of proficiency, and Annamalai offers a degree of M.O.L., by thesis, to candidates possessing certificates of proficiency. Banaras has a Faculty of Oriental Learning which confers a first degree Madhyama Pariksha after a 3 yrs.' course, a second degree of Shastri after a further 3 yrs.' course, and the degree of Shastracharya by thesis, 3 yrs. after the second degree. Travancore gives a Title (Sahityavisarada and Vidvan) in Sanskrit.

Theology. Five different degrees in Hindu theology are awarded by the University of Banaras, open only to Hindus after courses extending over a large number of years. Aligarh awards the degrees of Bachelor, Master, and Doctor in (Islamic) Theology, and Osmania has a 6-yr. course leading up to the B.A. in (Islamic) Theology, and a 2-yr. course for the M.A., and gives the degree of Ph.D. (Theology) to M.A.s (Theology) of 3 yrs.' standing.

HIGHER DEGREES. The M.A. and M.Sc. (for which there are, in some Universities, two exams.) can generally be taken by Bachelors after a 2 yrs.' course, or after 1 yr. by Bachelors who have taken a 3-yr. Honours course. In Mysore a 2 yrs.' course is compulsory for all candidates. Madras gives an "M.A. in research" and Madras and Travancore an M.Sc. degree by thesis. In Madras the M.A. degree was formerly conferred on Honours graduates after a certain interval; and Annamalai follows the same procedure.

In Arts, the D.Litt. degree may be taken at Agra by Ph.D.s in 2 yrs., at Allahabad by Ph.D.s in 2 yrs. and M.A.s in 7 yrs., at Annamalai by Ph.D.s and M.Litt.s in 1 and 2 yrs. respectively, at Banaras by Ph.D.s in 3 yrs., M.A.s in 7 yrs., and teachers with M.A. degrees in 6 yrs.; at Lucknow by Ph.D.s in 5 yrs. and honoris causa; at Madras by Ph.D.s in 2 yrs. and M.A.s in 3 yrs.; at Mysore by B.A.s (Hons.) in 5 yrs. and M.A.s in 4 yrs.; at Nagpur by Ph.D.s in 3 yrs. and M.A.s in 8 yrs.; at Patna by M.A.s in 3 yrs. by thesis and 2 papers; and at Utkal by Ph.D.s in 3 yrs. and by M.A.s in 5 yrs.

The Ph.D. degree may be taken by M.A.s at Agra in 3 yrs., at Allahabad after a 20 months' course by thesis, at Andhra in 2 yrs. (B.A. Hons. in 3 yrs.), at Annamalai in 3 yrs. The LL.D. (or D.L., as the case may be) is generally given by thesis and open to LL.M.s (or M.L.s) of prescribed standing; at Lucknow and Nagpur, 3 yrs.; Banaras, Calcutta, Madras, and Patna, 1 yr. At Allahabad the LL.D. is given by thesis to LL.M.s who have had 5 yrs.' professional practice. At Delhi the course of LL.D. is under revision. Lucknow also confers the degree honoris causa.

The degrees of M.D. and M.S. COST OF LIVING. The cost of living varies in different Universities. In colleges in the smaller towns it may be about Rs. 70 p.m. inclusive of tuition fees, and in the larger cities it may be twice as much or more. Conditions of life vary greatly from place to place and hostel to hostel and no simplified general statement of the cost of living can be given which would be of much practical value.

INTER-UNIVERSITY BOARD. In April 1920 a Committee was formed for drafting an outline of the functions and constitution of an Association of Indian Universities. The project was further advanced at the Congress of Universities of the British Empire at Oxford in July 1921, and at a Conference of Indian Universities held at Simla in May 1924.

In accordance with a resolution passed by the Simla Conference, the Inter-University Board was established to co-ordinate the work of the Univs. and to provide a forum for the exchange of information and opinion among the Univs. The Univs. of Ceylon and Rangoon (Burma) are members of the Inter-University Board.

It also publishes the Proceedings of the meetings of the Board and of Conferences of Univs. held under its auspices, and an Annual Report.

The Ministry of Education of the Government of India also publishes statistical information concerning various aspects of education in India.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Act VIII of 1926 of the United Provinces Legislature, which received the assent of the Governor-General on Oct. 20, 1926, provides for the establishment of a University "for the purpose of affiliating the colleges associated with the University of Allahabad..." so as to set the latter free to function as a unitary, teaching, and residential institution. It empowers the Agra University to affiliate colleges in the United Provinces, Central India, and Gwalior, except within the limits of the Universities of Allahabad and Lucknow. To supplement the work in affiliated colleges the University may institute teaching posts at selected centres.

Five categories of persons are to be eligible, subject to prescribed conditions, for degrees and other academic distinctions : (a) candidates who pass the University's examinations after pursuing an approved course at an affiliated college ; (b) teachers who pass the University's examinations ; (c) inspecting officers in the Department of Education who pass the University examinations ; (d) research workers ; (e) women who have carried on private study. Lectures and instruction may be provided by the University for, and diplomas may be granted to, persons other than students of an affiliated college.

The supreme governing body of the University is the Senate, the other principal authorities being the Executive Council, Academic Board, Board of Inspection, and Faculties of Arts, Science, Law, Commerce, Agriculture, Engineering, Medicine and Veterinary Science. The Vice-Chancellor, an honorary officer elected by the Senate, is the principal executive and academic officer.

Students are not eligible for admission to a degree course unless they have passed the Intermediate Examination of the Board of High School and Intermediate Education of the United Provinces, or of an Indian University incorporated by law, or an equivalent examination.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded in 1887, the Univ. concerned itself mainly with examinations, having no teaching staff (except that of its School of Law) until 1914. Thereafter it established Chairs and Readerships, etc., for research work in Economics and Modern History for graduate students. In Jan. 1922 was passed an Act (which came into operation in July 1922) for the reorganization of the Univ. as a unitary, teaching, and residential institution, with control, however, over the quality and character of the teaching in "Associated" colleges. The Muir Central College became the nucleus of a teaching University, the jurisdiction of which was limited to a territorial area of ten miles' radius from the Convocation Hall of the Univ. Within this area there are six institutions which supplement instruction given in the Univ. The Women's Dept., which undertakes full instruction for the degree course, has now been transferred from the Crosthwaite Girls' College to the Univ. area. From the commencement of the session July 1922, the Agricultural Institute, Naini (Allahabad), was recognized as a Coll. for the B.Sc. degree in Agriculture.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Bombay University was established in 1857, but until the passing of the Indian Universities Act of 1904, the function of this University, in common with the others, was limited to examining candidates and arranging for the courses of study which led up to its degrees. Under the Act of 1904, it acquired the right of organizing teaching, arranging for Univ. extension lectures, and of publishing such works as were necessary for the direct educational work it was to carry on. By the Act of 1928, the constitution of the Univ. was considerably altered. By reducing the proportion of the nominated to the elected members in the Senate, and by throwing open the Senate to the representatives of a larger variety of interests, the Act of 1928 ensured the independence of the Univ. for all practical purposes, and made the Univ. a more popular and representative institution than it had been. Under the new Act, the executive functions of the Univ. are carried on by the Syndicate, and most of the academic work is looked after by the Academic Council.

One of the main ideas underlying the Univ. Act of 1928 is that the Univ. should directly conduct postgraduate teaching and res. in all branches of learning. The Univ. has accordingly arranged for postgraduate instruction and research through its own depts. as well as through the teachers in affiliated colls. and recognized postgraduate institutions, recognized as Postgraduate Teachers of the Univ. The Univ. School of Economics and Sociology was started in 1919 with Prof. Patrick Geddes as the first Prof. The Univ. Dept. of Chemical Technology was established in 1934 with the help of donations from generous philanthropists. The Univ. Depts. of Statistics, and of Civics and Politics, started functioning during the year 1948-49. The Dept. of Civics and Politics formed part of the Sch. of Econ. and Sociol.

As far as undergraduate education is concerned, the Univ. is an affiliating Univ. Before the establishment of the Univ. of Sind and of regional Univs. in Bombay State, the jurisdiction of this Univ. extended over the whole of the former Province of Bombay and Sind. The Univ.'s jurisdiction is now confined to the limits of Greater Bombay, and the Univ. is to be reconstituted in the near future in view of the establishment of regional Univs. in Bombay State.

CONSTITUTION. The Senate is the supreme Governing Body of the Univ. The executive govt. is vested in the Syndicate. The other authorities of the Univ. are the Facs., the Bd. of Postgraduate Studies, and the Bds. of Studies in the various Facs. The Bd. of Postgraduate Studies controls the whole of instruction and res. in the Univ., including what is done in this direction in the Colls. affiliated to the Univ. and in other Postgraduate Institutions.

The Univ. Dept. of Chem. Technol. is located in its new bldgs. at Matunga, Bombay 19 (Telephone : 61308). The Sch. of Econ. and Sociol. (including the Dept. of Civics and Politics) and the Dept. of Statistics are housed in the S. Wing of the main Univ. bldgs.

GENERAL INFORMATION

In July 1854 the Court of Directors of the East India Company sent a despatch to the Governor-General of India in Council directing the organization of the Universities of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay. In pursuance of that despatch the University of Calcutta was incorporated on Jan. 24, 1857, for the purpose of "ascertaining, by means of examination, the persons who have acquired proficiency in different branches of Literature, Science and Art and rewarding them by Academical Degrees as evidence of their respective attainments and marks of honour proportioned thereunto." Modelled on the University of London, then a purely examining body, the functions of the University were limited to the conduct of examinations and the award of degrees. The jurisdiction of the University extended at first throughout practically the whole of northern India. But with the establishment of other Universities and partition of Bengal on account of recent political changes in India the territorial jurisdiction has now been limited to the Province of West Bengal only.

In 1864 an Act was passed by which the Universities of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay were empowered to confer the honorary Degree of Doctor in the Faculty of Law.

In 1902 a Commission was appointed by Lord Curzon to examine the working of the Universities in India, and on their recommendation the Indian Universities Act of 1904 was passed, which came into force on Sept. 1, 1904. Under section 3 of Act VIII of 1904, the University became empowered, among other things, to make provision for the instruction of students, to appoint University Professors and Lecturers, to hold and manage educational endowments, to erect, equip, and maintain University libraries, laboratories, and museums, and to make regulations relating to residence and conduct of students. Though most of the teaching continued to be imparted in the affiliated colleges, teaching in some of the higher branches began to be organized under University management. Assisted by grants from the Imperial Government and by private benefactions, it was possible for the University to arrange for Postgraduate teaching and research from 1909. The organization of higher teaching and research was made by the Senate mainly on the initiative of the late Sir Asutosh Mookerjee, Vice-Chancellor from 1906 to 1914 and again from 1921 to 1923.

In 1917 a new scheme for Postgraduate teaching and research was brought into operation, providing for the centralization of Postgraduate teaching in Calcutta within, and under the control of, the University. The departments of Postgraduate teaching in Arts and Science were placed under two Councils, with two Executive Committees, responsible directly to the Senate. The University now provides for Postgraduate teaching in: (1) English; (2) Sanskrit; (3) Pali; (4) Arabic; (5) Persian; (6) Hebrew; (7) Syriac; (8) Greek; (9) Latin; (10) French; (11) German; (12) Modern Indian Languages, Bengali, Hindi, Urdu, Assamese, Oriya; (13) Comparative Philol.; (14) Mental and Moral Philos.; (15) History (including Ancient Indian History and Culture and Islamic History and Culture); (16) Economics; (17) Political Science; (18) Commerce; (19) Maths. (Pure and Applied); (20) Physics (Pure and Applied); (21) Chemistry (Pure and Applied); (22) Physiol.; (23) Botany; (24) Geol.; (25) Zool. and Comparative Anat.; (26) Psychol.; (27) Anthropol.; (28) Statistics; (29) Geography; (30) Applied Psychology; (31) Radio-Physics and Electronics; (32) Education.

The Department of Postgraduate Teaching and Research in Arts is located in the Asutosh Building. Postgraduate Teaching and Research in the different branches of Scientific studies are carried on in the University College of Science at 92 Upper Circular Road and 35 Ballygunge Circular Road, where opportunities for research have been provided by the establishment of extensive Laboratories and an up-to-date Workshop. This has been possible mainly through the generosity of the late Sir Taraknath Palit, D.L., the late Sir Rashbehary Ghose, C.S.I., M.A., D.L., Ph.D., and the late Raja of Khairia. The University maintains a staff of whole-time and part-time teachers. The Institute of Nuclear Physics and the Institute of Radio-Physics and Electronics have been established at 92 Upper Circular Road.

Government grants from 1912 to 1950 amounted to Rs. 1,99,16,432. During the same period private benefactions amounted to Rs. 1,10,34,870.

The Univ. buildings include a Senate House, the Durbhanga LIBRARY with Law College, Hostel, and Univ. offices, the Univ. Press, the Asutosh Building for postgraduate classes in Arts, postgraduate offices and the Univ. library, three buildings for the teaching of Postgraduate Science courses. LABORATORIES (in Univ. Coll. of Science): Phys. and Chem. APPOINTMENTS AND INFORMATION BOARD. Scheme prepared by the former Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Syamaprasad Mookerjee, for finding careers in business and industry for Univ. graduates and undergraduates, with co-operation of business houses and different industrial concerns, adopted by Senate on Jan. 23, 1937. Its object is to provide these young men with opportunities and facilities for practical training and ultimately for starting independent careers of their own, in the different branches of Trade, Industry, and Commerce. Rs. 36,000 were originally sanctioned by the Univ. for the purpose and an Appointments and Information Board has been established, which has now become a permanent department of the University, with a salaried Secretary who is in touch with the various industrial and commercial firms and maintains a Register of candidates, with details of their qualifications and careers, seeking benefit under the scheme.

The Institute will train annually 50 Science Graduates or Undergraduates.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was established by the Delhi University Act (Act VIII of 1922). The three existing men's Colleges in Delhi—St. Stephen's Coll., Hindu Coll., and Ramjas Coll.—were recognized as Colls. of the Univ. and their teachers as Univ. teachers. The Univ. began to function with the Facs. of Arts and Science; the Fac. of Law was instituted in 1924.

The original idea of Govt. and Legislature was the establishment and incorporation of a unitary teaching and residential Univ. on the model recommended, in the case of Dacca, by the Calcutta Univ. Commission, and it was expected that such a Univ. would be developed gradually within five yrs. But this could not be achieved. The Univ. continued to recognize several colls.

in which instruction was provided under prescribed conditions and in which provision was made for residence of students. Although the Univ. had been freed from the defects of a purely affiliating institution, it had given its constituent colls. ample scope to develop their resources in co-operation with each other and with the Univ. From 1933, when the Univ. was given a permanent home in the Old Viceregal Lodge, and plots of land in the Estate earmarked for the constituent colls., the idea of a federal Univ. gradually took shape. Both the Govt. of India and the Univ. authorities intended that the Univ. should be transformed into one of the federal type, in which each constituent coll. should be prepared to forgo some measure of its autonomy in order to share in, and contribute to, the life and govt. of the Univ. as a whole.

The last decade has witnessed rapid growth and development of the Univ. When Sir Maurice Gwyer became Vice-Chancellor he submitted a five-yr. programme of development to the Govt. of India, which they accepted. The Govt. promised a grant of Rs. 37½ lakhs during 1943-48. With the aid of these grants, the Univ. instituted Professorships in Econs., Hist., Maths., Phys., Chem., and Bot., and the number of Readers and Lectrs. was also increased. The Univ. was also able to construct a number of new bldgs.

Postgraduate courses, limited to M.A. in the earlier years, were extended to other subjects. Owing to the large influx of population after 1947, the number of students has increased considerably and new Colls. have been started. The Delhi Sch. of Econ. and the Sch. of Social Work have become recognized institutions preparing students for the M.A. Degrees in Econ. and Social Work respectively.

The Univ. also accepted the extension of the degree course from 2 yrs. to 3 yrs. as part of the reconstruction scheme for Higher Sec. educn. in Delhi. The scheme includes inter alia : the abolition of the Inter. Examn., the extension of the High School Course by one yr. (i.e. extension from 10 to 11 yrs.), and the institution of a 3-yr. degree Course in the Univ.

To implement this idea an Act (Act No. XXIV of 1943) to amend Act VIII of 1922 was passed by the Central Legislature. The amending Act inter alia provides for the appointment of a whole-time paid Vice-Chancellor and has revised the Constitution of the Cttee. of Selection concerned with appt. and recognition of teachers. Teachers employed by the Colls. are "recognized" by the Univ. Such teachers can impart instruction only in approved subjects. All recognized teaching in connexion with courses of study is under Univ. control.

CONSTITUTION. The Vice-Chancellor is the principal executive and academic officer of the Univ. The following are the principal Univ. authorities : the COURT, consisting of about 160 members ; the EXECUTIVE COUNCIL, which is the executive body of the Univ. It consists of about 35 members and controls and administers Univ. property and funds ; the ACADEMIC COUNCIL is responsible for the maintenance of standards of instruction, education, and examn. within the Univ. It advises the Executive Council on all academic matters. Each FACULTY, subject to the control of the Academic Council, has charge of the teaching, courses of study, and research work in such subjects as may be assigned to it by the Ordinances.

The following changes in Examn. Regulations have been made:—(i) Candidates for the M.Sc. GENERAL INFORMATION

More than thirty years ago the idea of having a University in Maharashtra was conceived. It was felt that it would be difficult for the Univ. of Bombay, whose jurisdiction extended over four distinct linguistic regions, to provide adequate facilities to meet the demand for higher education throughout the entire province. Applications for admission to Colleges were increasing and even the holding of examinations was taxing the resources and organization of that Univ. In 1924, the Setalvad Committee on University Reforms, which recommended the establishment of regional Univs. in the Province of Bombay, pointed out the suitability of Poona as such a University centre. This project was taken up by leading educationists, literary associations, and cultural organizations in Maharashtra, but it was not until 1942 that the Provincial Government appointed a committee to report on the form, constitution, jurisdiction, and financial implications of a Univ. for Maharashtra. Although the committee, presided over by the Rt. Hon. M. R. Jayakar, submitted its report in the following year, difficulties created by the second world war prevented its implementation. It was not until 1948 that the Univ. of Poona was established; it occupied the old Government House, at Kirkee, which was provided by the Bombay Govt. The new Univ. is closely associated with the life and thought of the people of the region, which has a long and distinguished intellectual tradition. Though situated in Poona, the Univ.'s activities are spread over the whole area inhabited by the Marathi-speaking people. It is intended, as the Report of the Committee which framed its scheme observed, that the "Univ. will keep in view the special needs, interests and traditions of Maharashtra and its people without losing sight of its essential character as a University, i.e. a seat of universal learning which recognizes no frontiers except those of the human mind itself."

The Univ. of Poona, as envisaged by the Jayakar Committee and constituted by the Legislature, is neither a purely affiliating nor a purely unitary and teaching Univ. It combines the features of both these types. It aims at creating for the Poona area a central teaching organization beyond the intermediate stage of instruction, and the whole of the postgraduate teaching and research work in the entire University area will be conducted under its direct control. But up to the intermediate stage in the Poona area and the graduate stage in outside places, instruction will continue to be given by the Constituent and Affiliated Colleges subject only to the general supervision of the Univ. It is not contemplated that all the staff, equipment, and bldgs. of such post-intermediate colleges in Poona will belong to the Univ. which will, however, be able to draw freely on these resources. The Univ.'s library, laboratories, and full-time teaching staff will be mainly used for postgraduate teaching and research in selected subjects. For the present, the Univ. has decided to appoint seven Profs. and four Readers as its own teachers in the different subjects.

Among the distinctive features of the constitution of the Univ. is its provision for the widest representation of the various elements in the life of the region in the composition of the Court, the general legislative and deliberative University body. Linking academic and non-academic sides is the Executive Council, which possesses complete control over the finances and routine working of the Univ. Apart from its general direction of policy, the Court has no control over the day-to-day business of the Univ.

No discrimination is made toward students on the ground of sex, race, creed, class or religious or political belief.

The usual LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION is English, except in Mod. Indian Lang. classes, where the lang. concerned is used.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The idea of a University at Jaipur—whether only for Jaipur State, or for the whole of Rajputana and Central India—can be traced to the twenties of this century. It was, however, on Jan. 8, 1947, that the Act for a federal University for Rajputana was promulgated by the States that had decided upon this joint action. In July of that year the Univ. began to function.

The jurisdiction of the Univ. extends over the ring-shaped region comprising the whole of Rajputana minus the centrally administered "island" of Ajmer-Merwara at the centre. The area consists of the former seven political units : (1) Bikaner, (2) Jaipur, (3) Jaisalmer, (4) Jodhpur, (5) Matsya Union (consisting of the former 4 states of Alwar, Bharatpur, Dholpur, and Karauli), (6) Rajasthan Union (consisting of the former ten states of Banswara, Bundi, Dungarpur, Jhalawar, Kishangarh, Kotah, Pratapgarh, Shahpura, Tonk, and Udaipur) and (7) Sirohi. The seven units were later integrated into a single political unit of Rajasthan (March 30, 1949) and the University Act was, in consequence, amended.

The Univ. controls the High School Examn. as well as Univ. education, and the Bd. of High School Education is one of the "Authorities" of the Univ. With the Senate at the base and the Syndicate as the apex, there are two bodies between them—the Academic Council to deal with collegiate questions and the Bd. of High School Educn. to look after the schools. This system of four "Authorities" forms a strong, stable structure for the Univ. The usual languages of instruction are English and Hindi.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was founded in 1942 by the incorporation of the Ceylon University College, established in 1921, and the Ceylon Medical College, established in 1870. It occupies temporarily the premises of the two Colleges in Colombo, but new buildings are being erected in Peradeniya, four miles from Kandy, on the banks of the Mahaweli-ganga below the Royal Botanic Gardens. When the whole University is moved there it will become entirely residential. The site covers 2200 acres; much of it is too steep for buildings and has been acquired for protective purposes. More land will be required for the Faculty of Medicine and new Faculties. The main buildings are being erected to a plan formulated by Sir Patrick Abercrombie and Mr. Clifford Holliday.

The LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION in all Facs. is English, but courses in Sinhalese and in Tamil are given in those languages.

LIBRARIES. The main Library contains 80,000 vols., but there are sectional libraries attached to the laboratories. PAKISTAN

UNIVERSITY OF DACCA (p. 1241)
UNIVERSITY OF THE PANJAB (p. 1249)
UNIVERSITY OF PESHAWAR (p. 1257)
UNIVERSITY OF SIND (p. 1259)

THE UNIVERSITIES OF PAKISTAN

PAKISTAN came into existence on Aug. 15, 1947. It naturally inherited the methods and system of University Education which were prevalent in India before partition. Three Universities—those of the Panjab, Sind, and Dacca—were situated in the territories which now form Pakistan. Of these the oldest is the University of the Panjab, whereas the Sind University came into existence in 1947 by an Act of the Legislative Assembly of Sind, the first meeting of the Senate being held on June 24, after the announcement of the plan for the partition of India. The partition affected the other two Universities in various ways. Eastern Panjab, which became a part of the Dominion of India, is no longer within the territorial jurisdiction of the University of the Panjab; with the migration of such teachers, officials, and students as preferred to go to the East Panjab, the personnel of the University was considerably changed. It had also to face, like every other University in Pakistan but to a much greater degree, the problem of the influx of a large number of refugee students and teachers from the Dominion of India. The University of Dacca had hitherto been a unitary and teaching University; it had now, however, to adapt itself to the changed circumstances, because the territories of Eastern Pakistan inherited a number of institutions which had been situated away from Dacca and affiliated to the University of Calcutta. Hence the University of Dacca, while retaining its own teaching arrangements, affiliated such institutions, and became, like the sister University of the Panjab, both teaching and affiliating.

THE NATURE OF PAKISTAN UNIVERSITIES. The directly administered territories of Pakistan cover an area of 235,000 square miles. In addition, there are a number of States which have acceded to the Dominion. The population of Pakistan is over seventy millions. This vast territory is served, at present, by only five Universities.* It is obvious that these Universities cannot bear the entire burden of higher education. Hence there are affiliated Colleges situated in the more important towns. The institutions must conform to standards prescribed by the Universities and are under their general supervision. The Universities conduct the examinations which qualify candidates for various degrees. The Panjab University has a strong, central teaching section, which supplements the teaching organized by the local Colleges partly on a co-operative basis. All higher teaching at Dacca is done directly by the University. The University of Sind is tending to develop on lines of its own distinct requirements.

STATE AID AND CONTROL. The Universities of the Panjab and Dacca were incorporated by Acts of the pre-partition Central Indian Legislature, and the Sind University, as has been mentioned before, by an Act of the Provincial Legislature. All these Universities receive generous grants-in-aid from their respective provincial Governments; they are, however, self-governing and legal corporations, managing their affairs in accordance with their own statutes and regulations. There are certain matters in which the provincial Government has some authority, but these are strictly limited in their scope, and are intended only to safeguard public interests.

THE INTER-UNIVERSITY BOARD. For the purpose of discussing problems which affect the Universities in general and also for the exchange of views on inter-University relations, a body representing the three Universities and the Central Government has been established, which meets at least once a year. The Secretary of the Bd. is the Registrar, University of Peshawar, Peshawar University P.O., N.W.F.P., West Pakistan.

ADMISSION AND COURSES OF STUDY. Students are admitted to the Intermediate classes in Arts or Science after passing the Matriculation Examination of a Pakistan University or an examination recognized as equivalent thereto; they receive education in some affiliated College for two years when they pass their Intermediate Examination. After doing so they read for their degree, which they take in two or three years. The Master's degree can be obtained by one or two years' further study and an examination. The duration of courses of study leading to technical or professional degrees varies considerably according to the subject and in the various Universities. Research degrees are awarded by all the Universities. The Panjab University has a separate College for Oriental learning and awards special degrees.

RESIDENCE. Satisfactory arrangements are available in all the Universities and most of the Colleges for residence.

FEES AND COST OF LIVING. There are different fees for various courses and the cost of living varies from Rs. 50 p.m. in Dacca to Rs. 60 p.m. in Karachi and Lahore.

(Note. 1 Rupee = 2s. 2d. approximately.)

REORIENTATION. The Educational Conference organized by the Ministry of Education in the Central Government of Pakistan has made a number of recommendations and the newly constituted Inter-University and Central Advisory Boards are examining anew the requirements of Pakistan in the realm of University education. The Universities themselves are busy in evolving plans of development and adaptation to the new needs of national education. It is intended not only to expand the scope of the activities of the existing Universities and to intensify their efforts by creating better standards, but also to found new Universities in some areas.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was established in 1921 under the Govt. of India Act XVIII of 1920, which was based on the recommendations of the Calcutta Univ. Commission presided over by Sir Michael Sadler, and provides for the constitution of Facs. of Arts, Sci., Law, Agric., Med., and Engin. It was established as a unitary, teaching, and residential Univ. with a constitution similar in many respects to that of modern English Univs. Following the creation in 1947 of the province of East Bengal as part of Pakistan, the East Bengal Educational Ordinance, 1947, was promulgated, by which the Univ., without prejudice to its original character as a teaching and residential Univ., is entrusted with sole authority to recognize and affiliate all educnl. institutions in E. Bengal above Matricn. and High Madrassa standard. Accordingly, in 1947, the Univ. affiliated 55 first and second grade Colls. spread over the whole of E. Bengal, as well as several other institutions. The number has since increased to 62 and is still increasing. It is proposed to set up two more Univs. in E. Bengal, one at Rajshahi and one at Chittagong, which will take over the affiliation and control of all Colls. in East Bengal. The Univ. of Dacca will then revert to its original character as a unitary, teaching, and residential Univ.

The Univ. area covers about a square mile of fine parkland, including over 100 acres of playing fields, and lies about 1 mile N.W. of the centre of Dacca City.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The idea of a separate University for Sind was first broached in the year 1886, when the then Principal of the D.J. Sind College, Karachi, prophesied the coming of the time when the province would need a separate University to serve its distinctive cultural needs. Sind, though long connected administratively with Bombay, was a distinct cultural unit, with a language and literature of its own, and with distinctive economic and geographical features. The idea lay dormant until, in 1934, the Govt. of India appointed a cttee. to consider the administrative requirements of Sind as a separate province in view of the coming autonomy which was to be an important feature of the Government of India Act of 1935. This cttee., presided over by Sir Hugh Dow, emphasized the necessity of cultural autonomy for Sind as an inevitable sequel to political autonomy. The idea suffered many vicissitudes until in 1940 the autonomous Govt. of Sind appointed the Sind University Committee with comprehensive terms of reference to go into the entire problem of a separate Univ. The Report of the Cttee., issued in 1941, covered the entire field of organizational and academic issues involved. But action on the Report was delayed by several causes, till a regular Bill for the creation of a separate Univ. for Sind was introduced in the local legislature in 1945, and passed finally into an Act in 1947. The appointment of the Vice-Chancellor was made in April, and that of the Registrar in June, 1947; the first nominated Senate met on June 24, 1947.

As a separate Karachi University for the Karachi Federal Area was established as from session 1951-52, the headquarters of the University of Sind were moved from Karachi to Hyderabad in May 1951. This change has affected the number of colleges affiliated to the Univ. and has also slightly affected the number of examns.

The University is, for the present, an affiliating, examining, and teaching Univ. Most of the teaching work is carried on by the affiliated colls., but schemes for taking over all postgraduate teaching and research under the direct control of the Univ. are under consideration. A start has been made by establishing the depts. of Sindhology, Educn., and Religion. The dept. of Sindhology is designed to organize extensive res. work in the hist., lit., lang., folklore, economic conditions, and material resources of the Province of Sind. The Prof. of Educn. is N. B. K. Baloch, B.A. Bom., M.A., LL.B. Alig., M.A., Ed.D. Col. M.Ed. courses have begun.

A Univ. township scheme has been prepared and is under consideration by the Provincial and Central Govts. The scheme envisages the establishment of the following institutions under direct Univ. control: Educn. Dept. with Model Primary Sch. and Model Collegiate Sec. Sch.; Arts Coll.; Commerce Coll.; Law Coll.; Sci. Coll.; Engin. Coll.; Technical Inst.

A FOREIGN UNIVERSITIES' BUREAU OF INFORMATION has been set up to guide all students in Western Pakistan who desire to study in the Universities of U.K. and U.S.A.

UNIVERSITY INSTITUTIONS IN THE COLONIES

THE provision of facilities for higher education within the Colonies has a long history; Codrington College, Barbados, founded in 1710, and Fourah Bay College, Sierra Leone, founded in 1827, have since 1875 been affiliated with the University of Durham (see p. 110). The present phase of exceptionally rapid development, however, dates from the end of the 1939-45 war. In June 1945 reports were published of the Commission on Higher Education in the Colonies under the chairmanship of Mr. Justice Asquith, of its West Indies Committee under the chairmanship of Sir James Irvine, and of the Commission on Higher Education in West Africa under the chairmanship of Colonel Walter Elliot (Cmd. 6647, Cmd. 6654, Cmd. 6655, H.M. Stationery Office). These reports recommended that additional University institutions should be created within the Colonies, formulated the principles on which they should be developed, proposed the establishment of an Inter-University Council through which the Universities of the United Kingdom could assist, and provided detailed plans for new University colleges in the West Indies and West Africa. After the liberation of Malaya, a commission under the chairmanship of Sir Alexander Carr-Saunders (Report, Col. 229, H.M. Stationery Office) visited the area and recommended that a University of Malaya should be established by the amalgamation of the King Edward VII College of Medicine (founded 1904) and Raffles College (founded 1928).

In this post-war development, the two existing Universities of Malta (founded 1769) and Hong Kong (founded 1911) have been strengthened, a new University of Malaya founded, three new University Colleges created, the University College of the West Indies, the University College of the Gold Coast, and University College, Ibadan, Nigeria, and Makerere College (founded 1922) raised to the status of the University College of East Africa.

All the Colonial Universities and University Colleges are autonomous corporations, established by local ordinances or, for the University College of the West Indies, by Royal Charter. With minor variations, their constitutions provide for a Council, with a majority of lay members and some academic representatives, and a Senate or Academic Board, wholly academic in membership.

The institutions have relatively small endowments, the largest being £1 million for the University of Hong Kong in 1951 from Japanese assets available under the peace treaty and nearly £1 million for the Faculty of Agriculture at University College, Ibadan, from the Nigerian Cocoa Marketing Board. They receive most of their recurrent income from the local governments in the form of block grants, not internally earmarked. Local governments have given generous sites for the new Colleges, for instance areas of five square miles each for the University College of the Gold Coast and University College, Ibadan, and over one square mile in Jamaica for the University College of the West Indies. In addition to substantial capital gifts for buildings and equipment from local governments and private sources, His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom has contributed £6 million for capital purposes from funds available under the Colonial Development and Welfare Act, 1945.

The three Universities award their own degrees. The four University Colleges provide courses leading to the degree examinations of the University of London, with which they are in special relationship ; by this arrangement the academic boards of the Colleges work out with the University special syllabuses adapted to local conditions, and members of the College staffs assist in the examining of their own students. In addition to courses leading to University of London degree examinations, the University Colleges provide, in some subjects, courses leading to their own diplomas and certificates.

The academic year is from Oct. to June, except at Makerere, where it is from March to Dec. The institutions, except Malta, are either wholly or for the majority of students residential. The language of instruction is English.

All have Faculties of Arts and Natural Science ; all, except the Gold Coast, Medicine. Social Sciences are taught at Hong Kong, Malaya, Gold Coast, and Makerere ; Veterinary Science at Makerere ; Engineering and Architecture at Malta and Hong Kong ; Dentistry at Malaya ; Theology at Malta and Gold Coast ; Law at Malta ; Education at Hong Kong, Malaya, West Indies, Gold Coast, and Makerere. West Indies, Gold Coast, and Ibadan have departments of Extra-mural Studies.

All are active centres of research as well as of teaching. At three of the colleges, West Indies, Ibadan, and Makerere, regional Institutes of Social and Economic Research have been established with grants under the Colonial Development and Welfare Act.

In addition to the three Universities and four University Colleges, there are in the Colonies several other institutions of research and higher education, including two specialized agricultural colleges, the Imperial College of Tropical Agriculture, Trinidad, and the College of Agriculture, Mauritius.

THE INTER-UNIVERSITY COUNCIL FOR HIGHER EDUCATION IN THE COLONIES, 1 Gordon Square, London, W.C.1. (Telephone: Museum 8916 ; Telegrams: Interuniv London.) The Inter-University Council was created in March 1946 by the Universities in Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the existing Universities in Colonial territories, at the invitation of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, for the purposes of—

- “ strengthening co-operation between the Universities of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the Universities in territories in respect of which the Secretary of State for the Colonies has responsibility ;
- fostering the development of higher colleges in the British Colonies and their advance to University status ;

giving effect to the principles recommended by the Asquith Commission on Higher Education in the Colonies for the promotion of higher education, learning and research in the British Colonies ; discharging the tasks which the Secretary of State for the Colonies has invited them to undertake ;

taking other appropriate action for the development of higher and particularly University education for the peoples of the British Colonies, Protectorates, Mandated Territories and the High Commission Territories in South Africa ; and, at the invitation of the Governor-General of the Sudan, performing, in relation to the development of higher education in the Sudan, functions analogous to those which they undertake in relation to the Colonial territories."

GENERAL INFORMATION

Makerere College was founded in 1922 as a Technical Sch. under the Educn. Dept. of Uganda Admin. It rapidly broadened its educational aims and raised its standard of work, for even in quite early yrs. its potentialities as a centre for advanced educn. were not ignored. Following the De la Ware Report in 1937, which pointed to the future of the Coll. as a centre of higher studies in E. Africa, under the inspiration of Sir Philip Mitchell the Coll. was presented with land and an endowment and a nucleus of its bldgs. Work on the present admin. block was inaugurated by H.R.H. the Duke of Gloucester, and the block with its twin chapels was completed in 1941. Support and benefactors from African and European sources have consolidated the inter-territorial status of Makerere. On the recommendation of the Asquith Commission in 1945 it was definitely decided that the Coll. should become the centre of Univ. studies in E. Africa. A Scheme of Special Relationship with the Univ. of London was entered into at the end of 1949, whereupon the Coll. assumed its present title. Courses leading to the General Degrees of the Univ. of London in Arts and Sci. started at the beginning of 1950.

The govt. and admin. of the Coll. follow the provisions of the Makerere College Act, 1949, and so far as these are applicable, the established practices and conventions of English Civic Univs.

* Seconded by Govt. Medical Service.

† Seconded by Govt. Veterinary Service.

The policy of the Coll. is that it shall be open to all students, regardless of race, colour, and religion, who have the academic qualificns. nec. for admission. Entries are accepted from any of the E. African Territories, i.e. Kenya, Uganda, Tanganyika, and Zanzibar. Entries from N. Rhodesia and Nyasaland, as well as from the southern part of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, are also considered.

On admission to the Coll., students reside in one or other of the Halls of Residence: Mitchell Hall (accomm. 214 men students) or Northcote Hall (180 men students). There is one hostel for women students, which will accomm. approx. 12, and a new hostel is to be built for women which will accomm. 50 students. It is planned to build another Hall, similar to Northcote Hall, to accomm. a further 180 men students. At the Med. Sch., the bldgs. of which were formally opened in May 1951 by the Rt. Hon. the Secretary of State for the Colonies, there is accomm. for med. students in the clin. yrs. of their course. At Kabete, Kenya, there is accomm. for Vet. Sci. students.

A large building programme, financed by a grant of £1,100,000 from the Colonial Development and Welfare Act, is at present under way, consisting of a new Arts Block, Phys. Lab., Chem. Lab., Staff Houses, and the Halls of Residence mentioned above. When completed (it is hoped by 1955) the number of students accommodated will be 630, including 50 women.

LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION: English.

LIBRARIES. Main library, approx. 20,000 vols.; sub-library at Med. Sch., approx. 6000 vols.

There are 2 Chapels (the Chapel of St. Augustine for Catholics, and the Chapel of St. Francis for members of other branches of the Church) and a Mosque.

STUDENT ATHLETIC FACILITIES. The Coll. has its own playing fields, and there are facilities for athletics, football, hockey, cricket, tennis, boxing, and swimming.

A CADET CORPS has been in existence for some yrs.

ALUMNI SOCIETY. Makerere College Union Society. Further information from Sec., c/o The Dean, Makerere Coll.

The EAST AFRICAN INSTITUTE OF SOCIAL RESEARCH is administered by the Coll.; Dir., Dr. A. E. Richards. Its main function is field res. in Uganda, Kenya, Tanganyika, and Zanzibar, covering anthropological studies in particular tribes, or urban surveys and comparative studies of particular aspects of problems of interest to all E. African Territories in the field of sociol., econ., psychol., public admin. and law, and linguistic res.

The PHYSIOLOGICAL AND BIOCHEMICAL RESEARCH SCHEME—Dir., Prof. E. G. Holmes—was established in 1947 under the auspices of the Colonial Med. Res. Cttee. It gives res. facilities to staff of dept. of Physiol., and to certain visiting res. workers (at present 3, from the Med. Res. Council). The res. undertaken deals chiefly with nutrition and kindred subjects.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Univ. Coll. was incorporated by Royal Charter granted on Jan. 5, 1949. Its establishment was recommended and planned by a Cttee. of the Commission on Higher Educ. in the Colonies under the chairmanship of Sir James Irvine, Principal and Vice-Chancellor of the Univ. of St. Andrews. It is an autonomous institution, governed by a Council to which each of the British Caribbean Colonies nominates a member and on which the Senate and the Inter-Univ. Council are represented. The Senate consists of members of the teaching staff with the Principal as Chairman. A grant has been made from Colonial Development and Welfare funds towards the capital costs and recurrent expenditure is met from the revenues of the Caribbean Colonies. Undergraduates were first admitted in Oct. 1948. The Govt. of Jamaica has given on lease for 999 years a site of over one square mile about seven miles from Kingston. Existing wooden buildings on the site are still partly in use and provide satisfactory temporary accommodation for undergraduate quarters, library, labs., lecture rooms, and administrative offices.

AN INSTITUTE OF SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC RESEARCH is associated with the Univ. Coll. The capital cost and recurrent expenditure for 5 yrs. is covered by a grant from the Colonial Social Science Research Council.

ADMISSION. Men and women are eligible for admission if they have passed or are exempted from the Matric. Examn. of the Univ. of London. Candidates for admission are examined by papers set by the Coll. and are interviewed.

TERMS. The academic year is from Oct. to the end of June, with three terms, each of eleven weeks.

CURRICULA. The Univ. College is in a special relationship with the Univ. of London, the degrees awarded being those of London, the schemes of examn. being devised jointly by the Coll. and the Univ. and the examn. conducted by examiners from both bodies. Teaching in the Fac. of Medicine began in Oct. 1948 and in the Fac. of Natural Sciences in Oct. 1949. Teaching in the Fac. of Arts began in Oct. 1950.

RESIDENCE. The Univ. Coll. is entirely residential.

FEES. A charge of £120 covers residence, sports subscription, and simple medical attention for 33 weeks' residence. Tuition fees are £50 p.a. in medicine, £25 p.a. in science, and £20 p.a. in arts.

SCHOLARSHIPS. The Univ. Coll. awards open scholps. by examn. held in the Caribbean Colonies. In addition, several of the Colonies award exhibitions to those educated or born in the Colony. The Mill Reef Exhibition is open to those educated in Antigua. The Geddes Grant Fellowship is awarded for postgraduate work in subjects of Caribbean interest.

PUBLICATIONS. Year Book; Caribbean Quarterly; Caribbean Affairs (series of pamphlets).

THE YEAR 1949-50

CHANCELLOR. The Chancellor was formally installed in her office on Feb. 16, 1950, in the presence of representatives from many Univs. and of the Govts. and people of the Caribbean Colonies.

BENEFACTIONS. The Univ. Coll. continued to receive numerous benefactions, especially to the Library. Outstanding among these are gifts from Noel Deerr of Oxford, England, and from the U.S. Library of Congress, Washington. The Trinidad Chamber of Commerce gave £1667 : 10s. for apparatus for scientific research. Barclays Bank Ltd. (Dominion, Colonial, and Overseas) gave £5000 towards the cost of the erection of a bldg. for the Dept. of Education.

SITE AND BUILDINGS. Contractors were apptd. and completed the first Hall of Residence for Undergraduates, called Irvine Hall. The Library, the Science Depts., and the Univ. Coll. Hospl. should be completed by the end of 1951. The construction of houses for the staff continued.

EXTRA-MURAL DEPT. Classes have been organized by the Resident Tutors in Barbados, British Guiana, British Honduras, Jamaica, Leeward Islands, Trinidad and Tobago and Windward Islands. The Dept. began the publication of a periodical, Caribbean Quarterly, devoted to broadly educational and intellectual interests; it also published a series of booklets, Caribbean Affairs, for study material and general interest.

VISITS OF MEMBERS OF STAFF TO OTHER UNIVERSITIES. The Registrar visited a number of Univs. in Britain. Prof. Hassall visited Harvard Univ., and Prof. Millott, Wood's Hole Marine Biological Lab.

RESIGNATION. Miss Olive Carpenter, on appt. as Chief Cataloguer in the Library of the Univ. Coll. of the Gold Coast.

tropical agriculture in suitable surroundings and creating a body of British expert agriculturists well versed in the knowledge of the cultivation of land in the tropics, of chemists, and of scientific advisers possessing an intimate knowledge of the means of combating pests and diseases. The College buildings are at St. Augustine, near St. Joseph, Trinidad, on land granted by the Govt. of Trinidad and Tobago.

The foundation-stone of the new buildings and laboratories was laid by Sir Samuel Wilson, Governor of Trinidad and Tobago, on Jan. 14, 1924. An Instructional and Experimental Sugar Factory, towards which British sugar machinery manufacturers contributed plant worth £20,000, was opened in 1925. A Low Temperature Research Station for work on bananas and other tropical fruits was completed in Sept. 1929. An Agricultural Field Office, and a new Chemical Block, in which the Dept. of Sugar Technology is also housed, were completed in Aug. 1929. The Milner Hostel and College Dining-Hall were completed in 1927. A Plant Quarantine Station to serve the British West Indies, British Guiana, and British Honduras was completed in 1933. A Cacao Research Scheme was inaugurated in 1930. This is financed by contributions from the main cacao-growing Colonies and from some of the more important British cocoa and chocolate manufacturers. New schemes of research into sugar, bananas, cocoa, and soils were approved during 1947. Two of these, for bananas and sugar, are on a 5-yr. basis and the other two, for cocoa and soils, are on a 10-yr. basis. The soils scheme is financed wholly from Colonial Development and Welfare funds, while in the case of each of the other three the different industries are bearing a share of the cost.

The income of the College is derived from contributions by the principal British and West Indian Colonies, the Imperial Government, and various Associations, Companies, and individuals.

The academic year extends from Oct. 1 to June 30.

COURSES OF STUDY. (1) A 3-yr. course leading to a Diploma of the College (D.I.C.T.A.) either (a) in Agriculture or (b) in Sugar Technology, designed primarily for students from the West Indian Colonies and admission to which is limited, save in exceptional circumstances, to students from the Caribbean area.

(2) A 2-yr. course leading to an Associateship of the College (A.I.C.T.A.) in Agriculture, open to postgraduate students. The period of study to cover all requirements is 2 sessions of 3 terms each.

(3) A 1-yr. course leading to an Associateship of the College (A.I.C.T.A.) in Sugar Technology, open to students possessing the Diploma in Sugar Technology of the College or acceptable graduate qualifications in Science.

(4) A 1-yr. postgraduate course, leading to a Diploma in Tropical Agriculture (D.T.A. Trin.), necessitating not less than 1 yr.'s postgraduate training or experience before entry. This course is open to Colonial Office probationers who have already had a one-year postgraduate course at Cambridge and to students possessing a degree in Agriculture or Natural Science or a Diploma of an approved Agricultural College involving at least a 3-yr. course of study in Agriculture or Horticulture together with at least 1 yr.'s approved postgraduate training, either at Cambridge or elsewhere, or who possess approved equivalent postgraduate experience.

(5) Special courses, particulars of which may be obtained on application to the Registrar.

TUITION FEES. Diploma Courses: British subjects from contributing colonies, £25 p.a.; other British subjects, £50 p.a.; Foreign subjects, £100 p.a. A limited number of students from contributing colonies on the nomination of the respective Governments are admitted without payment of tuition fees.

Associateship and Postgraduate D.T.A. Courses: British subjects, £75 p.a.; Foreign subjects, £125 p.a. Special Courses: British subjects nominated by Govts. of contributing colonies, £15; other British subjects, £75; foreign subjects, £125.

EXPENSES. The following figures are given as an approximate estimate for students coming from a country to which they cannot return for the Long Vacation: Living, $72 (£15) per mo.; 1st and 2nd yrs. 12 mos. (each £180); 3rd yr. 9 mos. (£135). Subscriptions, say, £5 p.a. Books, tours, pocket-money, etc., a minimum of £150 p.a. (1st and 2nd yrs.); £112 p.a. (3rd yr.). To these must be added the fees set out above, and also cost of passage to Trinidad in the first, and from it in the third, year. In the case of students attending the College for one year, the expense will be approx. that of the third year, with the cost of return passage added. West Indian students who can return home for the Long Vacation and who are reasonably careful find it possible to cover all essential expenses, exclusive of the cost of passages and tuition fees, for about £250.

STUDENTS FROM INDIA AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES. Applications for admission from students from the British Commonwealth including India and Pakistan should be submitted through the appropriate High Commissioner or other official Govt. representative in London.

The Academic Board will consider applications from students who are not British subjects on their producing evidence of having attained a standard equivalent to that prescribed by the regulations and of possessing an adequate knowledge of English. Such applications should be made through a British Consul, whose recommendation should also be obtained.

PUBLICATIONS. Prospectus; Principal's Report; Tropical Agriculture; Memoirs and Reports.

GENERAL INFORMATION

This is a non-Govt. institution incorporating the Gordon Memorial College and the Kitchener School of Medicine, endowed partly by Sudan Govt. and partly by public subscription, with the balance of its expenditure supplied by an annual grant-in-aid from the Sudan Govt. It is managed by Executive Cttees. (one for each of the two units comprising the Univ. Coll.) in London and by a Council in the Sudan, and advised by an Academic Bd. composed of hds. of Depts. with the Principal as Chairman. Gordon Memorial College was opened by Lord Kitchener as a primary school in 1902, became a secondary school in 1909, and in 1945 a number of Higher Schools in Admin., Agric., Arts, Engin., Sci. and Vet. Sci., which had been formed independently of each other during the years 1938-45, were consolidated into the Coll. In 1947 a School of Design was added, but in 1950 this was transferred to the Khartoum Technical Inst. The Kitchener School of Medicine was opened in 1924 as a memorial to Lord Kitchener. In 1951 the two institutions were brought together under the title of University College of Khartoum.

ADMISSION. The qualificn. for admission is the Cambridge Overseas Sch. Certif. or equivalent. The minimum requirement is a Sch. Certif., with 4 credits, one of them being in English or Arabic. There are, in addition, certain minimum Fac. requirements.

APPENDIX I

QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION TO A FIRST DEGREE COURSE IN THE UNIVERSITIES OF THE UNITED KINGDOM

[This Appendix relates only to the admission of students proposing to take full courses for a first degree. For conditions relating to recognition of study at other Universities and admission for higher degrees, v. pp. 10-19 and under the several Universities. Students desiring to study in a University without intending to graduate are generally admitted if they satisfy the authorities that they are qualified to profit by the course of study they propose to take, and if accommodation is available for them.]

GENERAL OUTLINE

A comparison of the University Regulations regarding admission discloses a general agreement in principle, with certain divergencies in application. Before inserting a student's name in matricula, all the Univs. require evidence that the applicant's intellectual equipment fits him to undertake a course of study for a degree. This is tested either by an entrance examn. held by the Univ. concerned, or by the candidate's performance in an alternative exempting examn. In many cases there are additional Faculty requirements to be satisfied before a matriculated student may pursue a specific degree course. Most of the Oxford and Cambridge Colleges require candidates to pass a College entrance examn. in addition to satisfying the Univ. entrance requirements.

Early application is advisable for admission to a University, and frequently there are last dates for receipt of applications for entrance to the different Faculties of a University.

The introduction in England and Wales of the General Certificate of Education and the consequent cessation of the School and Higher School Certificate examns. (except for the Cambridge Local Examns. Syndicate's Overseas Certificates) has affected not only the list of equivalent examns. accepted by Univs., but, in some cases, the holding of special entrance examns. by individual Univs. London no longer holds a Matricn. Examn. or a special Univ. entrance examn. (private candidates are, however, accepted for the General Certificate examns. held by the Univ.). The Univ. of Wales has also ceased to hold its Matricn. Examn. On the other hand, the Univs. of Durham and Nottingham each retain an entrance examn. to which certain classes of candidates may enter by permission. At Oxford, regulations for Responsions (and exemption therefrom), and at Cambridge the regulations for the Previous Examn. (and exemption therefrom), have been revised.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS—ENGLAND AND WALES. The School and Higher School Certificate examns. were designed to test the work of secondary schools. Thus the First or School Certificate examn., taken at about the age of 16, was intended to test the results of the course of general education before the period of specialization; the Second or Higher School Certificate examn., taken at about the age of 18, was intended as a test of two years' work beyond the stage of the First Examn. In course of time, however, both examns. had superimposed upon them new functions. Thus, the First Examn. came to be used as a vehicle for professional and Univ. exemption, and so as a passport to employment generally, while the Second Examn. developed into an instrument capable of selecting State scholars from an enlarged and highly competitive field.

In 1941 a Special Committee of the Secondary School Examns. Council was appointed, under the Chairmanship of Sir Cyril Norwood, to consider the curriculum and examns. in secondary schools. The Committee suggested that in the interests of the individual child and of the increased freedom and responsibility of the teaching profession, change should be in the direction of creating an internal examn.; but for a transitional period of at least seven years the School Certificate examn., which would become one in which there would be no grouping or minimum number of subjects required, should continue to be carried out by existing Univ. Examining Bodies. Instead of the Higher School Certificate examn. it was proposed that there should be two examns., one qualifying, the other selective.

The Minister of Education reconstituted the Secondary School Examns. Council in June 1946, and asked the Council to advise her as a matter of urgency on whether a reform of the examn. on these or other lines was practicable or desirable. In principle the course of action which the Council unanimously recommended in their 1947 Report can be simply expressed. It recognized that the schools alone were in a position to decide what courses were best for their pupils and that they needed the utmost freedom and flexibility to give effect to their judgments. At the same time it recognized the practical necessity of a system of external examns. to provide selective tests for those who wished to compete for scholarships at Univs. or other institutions, and a test of a qualifying nature for those who, having followed courses substantially beyond the statutory minimum leaving age, wished to establish competence in certain subjects, e.g. for entrance to a Univ. or profession. Apart from such necessary external tests, the testing of achievements in the schools would become a matter for the schools themselves.

The Minister announced in April 1948, in his Circular 168, that he had decided to accept in principle and to bring into effect over a 3-year period the main recommendations of the Council affecting external examns. as follows:

- (i) In 1950 the School and Higher School Certificate examns. would again be held on the same lines, but no pupil from a grant-aided school would be allowed to enter unless he was 16 by Dec. 1, 1950. It was hoped that all Examining Bodies would find it practicable to introduce Scholarship papers in 1950 and to provide all candidates who did not gain a full Higher School or School Certificate with a formal statement of their success in individual subjects.

- (ii) In 1951 an examn. for the General Certificate of Education would supersede the School and Higher School Certificate examns. Papers would be available at three levels: "Ordinary," "Advanced" and "Scholarship"—and a pass at Ordinary level would be between the pass and credit standard in School Certificate, while a pass at Advanced level would approximate to a Higher School Certificate pass at "principal" level. All subjects would be optional and there would be no minimum or group requirements. The examn. would be open to all candidates, whether attending school or not, who were 16 by Sept. 1, and a General Certificate of Education would be issued to every candidate who reached "pass" standard in any subject at Ordinary or Advanced level, indicating the subjects and levels in which he had secured a pass.
- (iii) In 1952 the standard of a pass in the Ordinary papers would be raised approximately to that of a credit in School Certificate.

The examns. are conducted by the approved Examining Bodies,* over whom the Minister of Education exercises a co-ordinating authority with the help of the Secondary School Examns. Council, composed of representatives of Univs., local education authorities and teachers' associations, and members nominated by the Minister of Education, with a Chairman appointed by the Minister.

The necessary administrative measures to carry out the new policy were taken. In Feb. 1949 the Primary and Secondary Schools (Grant Conditions) Regulations were amended to provide for the age-limit to be applied to examn. candidates entered by grant-aided schools, and the Minister made it clear that he would expect the age-limit to be applied universally to the examns. which he is called upon to approve. The regulations and syllabuses of Examining Bodies for the General Certificate of Education examn. in 1951 were drawn up, and the Secondary School Examns. Council, who are responsible for maintaining reasonable uniformity of practice and standards between Examining Bodies, discussed their regulations and reviewed their syllabuses. Provision continues to be made for schools to submit their own syllabuses of examn. to Examining Bodies.

The new examn. for the General Certificate of Education has been accepted, subject to various qualifications, by all United Kingdom Univs. and a number of professional bodies for the purpose of exempting candidates from entrance and other examns., in the same way as were the School Certificate and Higher School Certificate examns. Transitional provision is generally made for the acceptance of a School Certificate credit or Higher School Certificate pass in a subsidiary subject as equivalent to a pass at the Ordinary level in the General Certificate of Education and of a Higher School Certificate pass at principal level as the equivalent to a pass at the Advanced level in the new examn.

A substantial degree of inter-availability of minimum entrance requirements to Univs. has been achieved consequent upon the individual Univs. deciding to frame their requirements in the light of the following resolution passed at a meeting of Univ. representatives convened in Nov. 1948 by the Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals:

"That in order to secure the maximum inter-availability in entrance requirements and in order to meet as far as possible the wishes of the schools, this meeting of representatives of Universities strongly recommends for the serious consideration of all Universities the adoption, for a period of five years, of the following scheme: (i) in order to satisfy minimum University entrance requirements, a candidate must pass in English Language and in either four or five other subjects; (ii) the subjects must include (a) a language other than English and (b) either mathematics or an approved science; (iii) at least two of the subjects must be passed at the advanced level; (iv) candidates who offer only four subjects in addition to English Language must pass at one and the same sitting in two subjects at the advanced level and in one other subject not related to the subjects offered at the advanced level."

Oxford and Cambridge have decided not to require the passing of two subjects at Advanced level from candidates who seek exemption from Responsions and the Previous Examn. respectively by way of the General Certificate of Education. Oxford has retained the requirement of a pass in two languages other than English, one of which must be either Latin or Greek, but at Cambridge, while Latin or Greek is still required, two other approved subjects may be offered in place of the second language other than English.

There are also certain other minor differences of interpretation, according to local circumstances, concerning the subjects which the several Univs. recognize as approved subjects of matriculation, approved science subjects and subjects related or unrelated to other subjects. Some Univs., however, have decided to regard as eligible for matriculation candidates who possess a General Certificate of Education which is certified by the appropriate official as satisfying the matriculation requirements of another Univ. in Great Britain or Northern Ireland under that Univ.'s conditions for recognizing the General Certificate of Education.

SCOTLAND. Under Ordinance No. LXX of the Courts of St. Andrews, Glasgow, Aberdeen, and Edinburgh Univs., the Scottish Univs. Entrance Board has been constituted to determine the requirements qualifying applicants to enter upon a course of study leading to a degree of a Scottish Univ. and to issue Certificates attesting the educational fitness of applicants who have fulfilled these requirements.

Applicants should note, however, that the Board's Certificate may not qualify them to study for a particular degree if they have not a sufficient knowledge of a subject or subjects required in one or other of the prescribed curricula for that degree. They are therefore advised to ascertain from the Univ. which they propose to enter whether they need to obtain passes in additional subjects or at higher standards.

The Board's Regulations are contained in a leaflet published in February every year. These prescribe for the recognition, on certain conditions, of Certificates awarded by the Scottish Education Department, English School and Higher School Certificates, the English General Certificate of Education, certain Certificates awarded by Overseas Univs. and State Education Departments and, for those who do not qualify completely, or at all, by these certificates, provide a Preliminary Examn. twice annually, in March and Aug. V. also pp. 1351-1358.

NORTHERN IRELAND. The Senior Certificate of the Ministry of Education of Northern Ireland is accepted, subject for subject, by the Queen's Univ. of Belfast in lieu of its Matriculation examn. subject to the following provisos: (a) that the whole examn. has been passed, and (b) that a minimum of three credits has been obtained. For applicants from other parts of the United Kingdom and overseas countries Belfast accepts, subject for subject, certain other certificates. In all cases subjects are accepted only if recognized for the particular Faculty to which admission is desired. V. also pp. 1358-1359.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS FROM THE COMMONWEALTH OVERSEAS AND FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES. As regards a student educated in another country the regulations are drafted on the understanding that the application of the ordinary entrance tests might be inappropriate owing to these tests having been framed with reference to secondary education curricula different from those which obtain in his own country, or to the student having reached a stage in his education at which the passing of ordinary entrance tests would involve a wasteful repetition of preparatory studies. They accordingly provide for the submission by such a student of other evidence of academic qualificns.: ordinarily, certifs. (relating to, for example, Dominion Matricn., or Baccalaureat, examns.), which would entitle to admission to an approved Univ. in the student's own country, together with such further evidence as may be necessary to ensure that no student shall be admitted to a course of study for a degree without a reasonable prospect of his being able to pursue it to graduation (in particular, if the student be one whose mother tongue is not English, evidence that he has a sufficient mastery of this language to enable him to follow courses of instruction conducted in English). When certificates are in a foreign language they should ordinarily be accompanied by a certified English translation. Unless the certificate shows on its face that it would admit the holder to a Univ. in his own country it should be accompanied by a letter to this effect from the Registrar of such a Univ. or by an authenticated declaration by a Government official or the local British Council Representative or by an official of an Embassy, Legation, or Consulate of the country to which the applicant belongs, testifying that the certificate would entitle the holder to enter on a regular course of study in a Univ. in that country. Intending students should apply for information to the Registrar of the Univ. in which they desire to be matriculated. The regulations are summarized below under each Univ. or group of Univs.

It does not follow that any student, although having the minimum educational qualifications for admission in accordance with the preceding paragraphs, will in fact be admitted to a Univ. in a particular year. Most Univs. have, under present conditions, long waiting-lists from which selections are made for the offer of actual places as new students. It is therefore desirable that any prospective entrant from overseas should make application as early as possible and should submit particulars of any further educational distinctions which he may possess. In general, in the absence of exceptional circumstances (such as the lack of appropriate facilities for study in the applicant's own country *) the United Kingdom Univs. are at present unable to offer places for undergraduate study to students from overseas in preference to those from this country, but this does not apply to the same extent to applications at the postgraduate level.

2. As from May 1, 1951, up to and including Oct. 31, 1955, the Univ. entrance requirements of the Joint Matriculation Board will be satisfied by any one of the following qualifications: I. 2. AGRICULTURE, VETERINARY SCIENCE, ETC.

* † ‡ AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH COUNCIL, Cunard Building, 15 Regent St., London, S.W.1. At present, up to twenty-five awards for postgraduate training in scientific subjects bearing on research into the problems of agriculture and animal health are offered to British subjects. The object of these awards is to enable students to obtain postgraduate training, either in some aspect of science not adequately covered in their degree curricula, or in the methods of research in subjects with which they have already been concerned. The training provided in this way, usually at Univ. Departments or Research Institutions in Great Britain, although primarily directed to research, is also suitable for those who wish to obtain certain specialized appointments in the Agricultural Advisory Services.

Three types of award are offered:

(i) Training grants, intended primarily to enable students who graduate with Honours in Science or have an equivalent qualification, and holders of a veterinary qualification, to undergo a course of training prescribed by the Council in some aspect of science bearing on the investigation of agricultural problems, e.g. a zoologist may require a training in genetics or a veterinarian in physiology. In these circumstances the course of studies will not, as a rule, be such as to make it possible for the holder of an award to qualify at the same time for a higher degree (Ph.D.). The awards are tenable for a period up to 3 yrs. and are renewable annually, either as training grants or studentships (see under (iii)). An opportunity of study abroad for part of the period will be given so far as circumstances allow.

(ii) Veterinary training grants, tenable for not more than 4 yrs. and intended to enable graduates with Honours in Science to obtain a veterinary professional qualification with a view to undertaking research into problems of animal health.

(iii) Research Studentships, tenable for a period of up to 3 yrs. and open to those who graduate with Honours in Science, or hold an equivalent qualification, and to holders of a veterinary qualification, to enable them to gain research experience through the study of some specific problem under suitable supervision. Considerable latitude in the choice of subject will be allowed, but in selecting candidates the Council will have regard to the need for workers in particular basic sciences of importance to agricultural research. So far as the programme of study admits, the holders of these awards will be allowed to register for a higher degree. Study abroad will only be possible in suitable circumstances.

The maintenance allowance to be granted for the three types of award varies from £220 to £300 per annum, according to the place and circumstances in which the award is held. The awards are free of income tax. In addition to the maintenance allowance, fees compulsorily incurred and approved expenses and maintenance while abroad will be paid, together with a sum not exceeding £10 p.a. for essential text-books. For male candidates who are already married there may be additional allowances.

Applications must be submitted by a senior member of the candidate's Department, usually in the spring, but applications will be considered at other times, and, in respect of Research Studentships, should indicate either that the study to be pursued can be undertaken in the Department sponsoring the application or that the candidate has been accepted in a University Department or Research Institution. Provisional applications can be made on behalf of candidates who have not yet been informed of the result of, or who have not yet sat, their final examination.

Junior Agricultural Research Fellowships. A limited number of Fellowships are offered to provide opportunities for research workers of outstanding ability to continue their investigations and widen their experience in subjects relating to agriculture. Candidates, who should hold an Honours degree in Science and have completed not less than three years' postgraduate study and/or research, must be nominated by the Supervisor of their postgraduate work. If the Supervisor is not the Head of the Dept. in which they have worked, the Head of the Dept. must countersign the application.

The maintenance allowance granted for this type of award is £600 per annum, on the assumption that income tax will be payable. In the event of a Fellowship being exempted from income tax the amount of the emoluments would be reduced. Fees compulsorily incurred and travelling expenses for approved journeys will also be paid. Where the Fellow is insured under the Federated Superannuation System for Univs., the Council will, in appropriate cases, be prepared to contribute towards the maintenance of the policies.

Senior Fellowships. Awards can also be made to enable more senior workers to widen their experience, or to gain proficiency in new techniques where this is desirable in the interests of agricultural research. There is no formal scheme for these awards. Those interested should enquire of the Secretary of the Council.

Special research grants for specific investigations are made by the Council direct to Universities, Research Institutes, and other recognized bodies. In exceptional circumstances, assistance from this source to individual experimental research workers would be considered.

Further particulars of the grants, studentships, and fellowships awarded by the Council are contained in the pamphlet Careers in Agricultural Research, obtainable from the Secretary of the Council.

These Grants are intended to enable selected candidates to undergo a specified course of training to fit them for the investigation of problems in marine or freshwater science. The course of training will not, as a rule, be such as to make it possible for the holder of an award to qualify at the same time for a higher degree (Ph.D.). The awards do not carry with them any guarantee of subsequent employment in connexion with fishery research, nor do they entail any obligation to accept such employment; but the training which students will receive should fit them for employment either in the Fishery Research Services of the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries and the Scottish Home Department or in a Marine or Freshwater Biological Research Institute.

Applications, to be submitted by a senior member of the candidate's Department in the Univ., should be received by the Development Commission, usually in the spring. Opportunities for the employment of women may arise, however, in certain of the Marine or Freshwater Biological Institutes.

Candidates must be British subjects and graduates with Honours in Science of a Univ. or possess equivalent qualifications.

APPENDIX VI

COMMONWEALTH STUDIES IN THE UNITED KINGDOM

A summary of the regulations governing the admission of students from the Commonwealth overseas to the United Kingdom Universities will be found in Appendix I above.

Appendix II lists many Fellowships and Scholarships which are tenable at United Kingdom Universities and University Colleges and for which graduates from the Commonwealth overseas are eligible to compete. University teachers on study leave, and postgraduate research workers, wishing to travel to the United Kingdom from another part of the Commonwealth, should note especially the Commonwealth University Interchange arrangements summarized on p. 1362. The awards listed in Appendix II are "open," i.e. not restricted to graduates of any one University. There are also other, restricted, awards, e.g. the Beaverbrook Scholarships tenable only at London University by graduates from the University of New Brunswick, Mount Allison University, and Bishop's College, Lennoxville; and the "Toronto" Fund, administered by Manchester University, from which grants are made to Canadian students, with a preference for those from the University of Toronto, who wish to conduct postgraduate study or research at Manchester.

There are ample facilities at United Kingdom Universities and Colleges for the study of the Commonwealth and Colonial aspects of a great many subjects, including Agriculture, Anthropology, Archæology, Botany, Economics, Geography, History, Law, Medicine (especially Tropical Medicine), Politics, and Zoology. GENERAL INFORMATION

Trinity College was founded and incorporated by Royal Charter in 1592 as "Mater Universitatis," but no other College has been founded, so that "Dublin Univ." and "Trinity College" are practically interchangeable terms. The Corporation of the College was put on its present basis by Letters Patent in 1637. Letters Patent of 1911 transferred the powers of making statutes from the Crown to the Corporation, subject to the consent of a majority of the Fellows and the approval of the Visitors. The general government of the Univ. is in the hands of the Board of Trinity College, which consists of the Provost, Senior Fellows, 2 representatives of Junior Fellows, and 2 representatives of the non-Fellow Profs. The Univ. Council, formed by representatives from the Board and various Faculties and Schools, has the right of nomination to most Professorships, and in conjunction with the Board can make changes in the curriculum, but otherwise has only advisory functions.

The College occupies a large site in the middle of the city, with ample grounds for the athletic clubs.

The LIBRARY of Trinity College has enjoyed since 1801 the privilege of receiving a copy of every book published in the United Kingdom. It contains about 523,000 printed books, amongst which there is, in the Fagel Library, a group of early pamphlets relating to the Dutch and English East and West India Companies. The MSS. are over 2000 in number, and include an important collection in Irish. A General Catalogue of the MSS. was published in 1900, and a Revised Catalogue of the Irish MSS. in 1921. A Catalogue of Printed Books in the library in 1872 was published in 1887 and distributed to the world. There are smaller libraries in the Schools of Mod. Langs., Hist., Econ., Med., Maths., Nat. Scis., Geog., Philol., and Educn.

MUSEUMS. The scientific museums include Zool. and Comp. Anat., Geol. and Mineral., Anat., Path. The Zoological collection is one of the best in the country. The series of vertebrate osteology is extensive. Attached Laboratories offer all facilities for research work. The collection of Geological and Mineralogical specimens is also extensive.

APPENDIX VIII

ANGLO-AMERICAN ACADEMIC RELATIONS

A summary of the regulations governing the admission of American students to United Kingdom Universities will be found in Appendix I above.

Appendix II lists many fellowships and scholarships which are tenable at United Kingdom Universities and University Colleges and for which American graduates are eligible to compete. Appendix III, although it does not claim to be exhaustive, contains information about some of the more important postgraduate awards, e.g. the Commonwealth Fund, English-Speaking Union, Henry, Procter, and Smith-Mundt awards, tenable in the United States of America by British graduates. For Fulbright awards, see below. The awards noted in Appendices II and III are "open," i.e. not restricted to graduates of any one University. Some United Kingdom Universities have also arranged direct exchanges of their staff, graduates, or senior students with American institutions, e.g. St. Mary's Hospital Medical School (University of London) has a regular exchange scheme at graduate level with the Peter Brent Brigham Hospital, Boston (associated with Harvard University); and the University of Glasgow exchanges a scholar annually with Cornell University.

There are facilities at many United Kingdom Universities and Colleges for the study of American aspects of such subjects as History, Literature, and Economics. For details, see individual University entries above, and the official publications of the various Universities. Attention is drawn to the following:

CAMBRIDGE. Pitt Professorship of American History and Institutions. The Professor is elected annually, with tenure for one year. Salary, £1950 p.a. 1951-52: R. H. Gabriel, M.A., Ph.D. (Yale); 1952-53: A. O. Craven (Chicago).

LONDON. Commonwealth Fund Professorship of American History, tenable at University College. The Commonwealth Fund of New York appropriated $214,500 in 1929 to endow a Department of American History at University College, University of London, including a professorship and assistants. Present holder: Professor H. Hale Bellot, M.A. Oxon. A sum of £4991 was raised in London and New York, the income of which is available for the library of American History at the College and the library on the same subject at the Institute of Historical Research, University of London, Senate House, London, W.C.I.

MANCHESTER. Department of American Studies.

OXFORD. George Eastman Visiting Professorship. At the time of his election, the Professor must be an American citizen "eminent in teaching or research in any branch of University study." Period of appointment is normally from 1 to 5 years. Appointments are made to the Professorship with a view to the representation of different subjects of study by successive appointees. 1951-52 : D. A. Stauffer, A.M. Princet., M.A., D.Phil. Ball.

Harold Vyvyan Harmsworth Professorship of American History. At the time of his election the Professor, whose term of office is 1 to 5 years, must be an American citizen. 1951-52 : L. H. G. Gipson, M.A. Oxon. (Lehigh Univ.).

GEORGE WATSON LECTURESHIP. Founded by the late Sir W. G. Watson in 1920. Each year's course usually comprises about six lectures by an eminent authority, American or British. The courses are given in rotation in the various British Universities and at other institutions. Lecturer, 1952 : Walter Lippmann. Subject : "Public Opinion and Foreign Policy in the United States." The Foundation is administered by the Sulgrave Manor Board and all communications should be addressed to the Secretary (G. M. Veit, M.A.), 37 Charles St., Berkeley Sq., London, W.1. Telephone : Mayfair 7400, ext. 20.

UNITED STATES EDUCATIONAL COMMISSION IN THE UNITED KINGDOM. Under the provisions of the Fulbright Act of the United States Congress, part of the currencies and credits of other countries (including several in the Commonwealth) acquired by the United States through the sale of surplus property abroad can be used for educational exchanges. Scholarships for research and study in Britain or the Colonies are available to American graduate students, and awards are also made to visiting American professors and lecturers and advanced research students, while sterling grants covering transatlantic fares and United States rail costs are made to British professors, lecturers, research workers and graduate students going to American Universities, the funds available to the Commission allowing for an expenditure up to £357,000 p.a. The Fulbright programme in the United Kingdom is administered by the United States Educational Commission in the United Kingdom, which was established by an agreement between the United Kingdom and the United States Governments in Sept. 1948 as a joint Commission of seven British and seven American members.

Secretary, United States Educational Commission in the United Kingdom—Alan Pifer, A.B. Postal Address : 55 Upper Brook St., London, W.1. Cables : Usedcom. Telephone : Mayfair 2191-3.

BRITISH INFORMATION SERVICES (established 1942 with the fusion of the British Library of Information and the British Press Service), 30 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, N.Y. (Telephone : Circle 6-5100) (Reference Division, Press and Radio Division, Films and Publications Division). B.I.S. is a part of the Foreign Office Information Services and its services are confined to the United States and its possessions. It has a library of official documents, British newspapers and periodicals, and books dealing with every aspect of British affairs ; these are available for inter-library loan as well as for study in the B.I.S. reading-room.

It answers enquiries on British affairs, and publishes information papers, pamphlets, and periodicals. Special sections deal with information on Commonwealth and Economic affairs. The Films and Publications Division has a collection of British Government Films for hire or sale. The Press and Radio Division does not compete with commercial newsagencies, but supplies background material not available elsewhere. Speakers are provided for clubs, schools, Universities, and other organizations. B.I.S. is the agency in the United States for His Majesty's Stationery Office. It has branch offices in Washington (3100 Massachusetts Avenue), Chicago (39 South La Salle Street), and San Francisco (310 Sansome Street). Controller—G. D'Arcy Edmondson, O.B.E.

PUBLICATIONS. Students in the United Kingdom who intend to study in the United States, and who wish to consult the calendars of the various Universities, are advised to apply to the American Library, United States Information Service, 5 Grosvenor Square, London, W.1. The Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th Street, New York 19, N.Y., has published a handbook for foreign students, entitled Meet the U.S.A. This booklet, which was written by a foreign student, contains a great deal of general information about the history and customs of that country, as well as specific information about higher education in the United States. Copies are available for consultation at American Consulates and Embassies throughout the world. Cost, 35 cents. A useful publication is the Complete Guide to American Colleges and Universities by Clarence E. Lovejoy (Simon and Schuster, New York, 1950-51). Another helpful reference book is American Universities and Colleges, published by the American Council on Education, 744 Jackson Place, Washington 6, D.C. The fifth edition of this book, revised, appeared in 1948. Cost, $4.00. Pt. I is devoted to a general explanation of the organization and operation of higher education, and includes a special chapter on the foreign student in the United States; Pt. II gives separate statements of the individual Colleges and Universities, arranged alphabetically. See also Appendix X.

APPENDIX IX

INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY ORGANIZATIONS

THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITIES (I.A.U.) was formed, and its constitution adopted, by the delegates of 187 Universities and institutions of higher learning from 52 different countries, at the International Conference of Universities held at Nice in Dec. 1950. The first steps towards its formation had been taken by the Preparatory Conference of Universities organized at Utrecht in Aug. 1948 by UNESCO, in collaboration with the Netherlands Government.

The purpose of the Association, as defined in its constitution, is "to provide a centre of co-operation at the international level among the Universities and similar institutions of higher education of all countries, as well as among organizations in the field of higher education generally." The organs of the Association are: the General Conference of Universities, meeting at least once every five years; the President of the Association, elected by the General Conference and holding office until the next meeting of the General Conference; the Administrative Board of the Association, of which the President of the Association is chairman; the International Universities Bureau (I.U.B.), which is the Association's secretariat.

The following are at present in office: President of Association and Chairman of Administrative Bd., Dr. Jean Sarrailh, Rector, Univ. of Paris; Vice-President of Association and Vice-Chairman of Administrative Bd., Dr. S. C. Roberts, Univ. of Cambridge; Members of Administrative Bd., Vice-Chancellor E. Ashby, The Queen's Univ., Belfast; Recteur J. Baugniet, Univ. Libre de Bruxelles; Rettore C. Cereti, Univ. di Genova; Prof. M. C. Chagas, Univ. Nacional de Brasil; S. R. Dongerkery, Registrar, Univ. of Bombay; Rektor W. Erbe, Univ. of Tübingen; Prof. M. H. Fisch, Univ. of Illinois; Recteur L. Garrido, Univ. Autonoma Nacional de Mexico; President M. V. De Los Santos, Univ. of Manila; Prof. J. Nielsen, Technical Univ. of Copenhagen; Dean F. Rogers, Harvard Graduate School of Arts and Sciences; Prof. Saglam, Fac. of Medicine, Istanbul; Rector A. Siassi, Univ. of Teheran. Secretary-General of Association and Director of International Universities Bureau, H. M. Keyes. Postal Address: Maison de l'Unesco, 19 Avenue Kléber, Paris 16. Telephone: Kléber 52-00, Balzac 24-08.

THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS AND LECTURERS. The definitive statutes of the Association were adopted in Brussels in 1947. I.A.U.P.L. took shape from the activities and discussions of University teachers and research workers from overseas who were temporary inhabitants of Great Britain during World War II, and who, with a few British colleagues, formed themselves into an Association of Professors and Lecturers of the Allied Countries in Great Britain; and from the movement towards co-operation among University personnel, under the name of The International University Conference, inaugurated in 1934 by the Association of University Teachers of the United Kingdom. Each of the national associations affiliated to I.A.U.P.L. retains its separate identity.

I.A.U.P.L.'s province is the University as a whole. Its broad aims are the development of academic fraternity among University teachers across faculty and national boundaries; the protection of freedom of teaching and research; the furtherance of the interests of University teachers; and the consideration of any academic problems, whether initiated by the Association or referred to it by Governments or Universities or by UNESCO.

Topics of interest to University teachers have been discussed at six post-war international conferences attended by delegates of the national associations affiliated to I.A.U.P.L. and held respectively at Oxford, Brussels, Paris, Basle, Florence, and Nice.

In its initial programme adopted in Brussels in 1947, the Association's more immediate projects were stated to be the establishment of an International Universities Bureau (v. supra) and an International Institute of Social Sciences, together with the examination of the following problems, about which reports have since been prepared: Equivalence of University Standards, Student Health Services, and Recurrent Long Leave. I.A.U.P.L. co-operates with organizations which help exiled Professors and Lecturers to find suitable employment.

The Association's activities are recorded in its journal, Communication, normally published three times a year.

General Secretary—Professor R. Douglas Laurie, 13 Old Square, Lincoln's Inn, London, W.C.2. Telephone: Western 5386.

THE INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN, founded in 1919, is a world-wide organization of women who have had a University training. Membership is open to all qualified University women without distinction of race, religion, or political opinion, through National Associations which are affiliated in over 30 countries, with a total membership of over 143,000.

The aim of the Federation is to promote understanding and friendship among University women of different nationalities, and so to further their common interests and to develop sympathy and co-operation between their countries. The Federation offers members research fellowships, travel facilities, opportunity for exchange of posts, and an organization for combined action to improve their professional status. Since 1936 it has built up special funds to assist University women in distress as a result of war or political upheaval.

The work of the Federation is planned by a Conference of delegates of the National Associations, of which there can be only one affiliated from each country. The Conference meets every three years to receive reports, to elect officers, to define policy, to consider new developments and to discuss questions of general interest. Between Conferences there are meetings of the Council, on which each National Association has one representative, and of Standing International Committees responsible for the direction of special activities. The International Headquarters Office in London acts as a co-ordinating centre.

The publications of the Federation include the International Glossary of Academic Terms (1939), Human Rights : the Task before Us (1950), an annual Report and a periodical News-Letter.

Executive Secretary—Miss M. C. Hermes, M.B.E., B.A. Postal Address : 17A King's Rd., London, S.W.3. Cables : Ifederuw, London. Telegrams : Ifederuw, Southkens, London. Telephone : Sloane 8281.

WORLD UNIVERSITY SERVICE (formerly International Student Service) has developed from the feeling for mutual assistance between members of the world University community which led to the formation of the University Committee of the Imperial War Relief Fund in 1920.

W.U.S. to-day is a fellowship of over thirty national committees co-ordinated by an International Secretariat in Geneva. It seeks to promote the free flow of information and to create a spirit of understanding between members of Universities and Colleges throughout the world. In war-devastated and undeveloped countries W.U.S. helps to establish new student hostels, clinics, sanatoria, rest centres, and refugee camps ; as far as its funds permit, it provides drugs, supplementary food and clothing for individual students in need, and books, stationery, laboratory equipment, and periodicals are sent to Universities where they are lacking. In Britain, students are recruited by W.U.S. for overseas conferences, study tours, seminars and vacation courses, travel bursaries often being made available. Hospitality is sought for colonial and foreign students in Britain, and W.U.S. seeks to develop the interest of British students in University life abroad.

The International Headquarters of W.U.S. is at 13 rue Calvin, Geneva, Switzerland.

President, British Committee—Sir Walter Moberly, G.B.E., K.C.B., D.S.O., M.A., D.Litt. General Secretary, British Committee—Douglas Mayer, B.Sc. Postal Address : 59 Gloucester Place, London, W.1. Telegrams : Interstud, London. Telephone : Welbeck 3921.

UNESCO AND UNIVERSITIES. UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization, directly and indirectly fosters international contacts among Universities all over the world and encourages them to give mutual assistance in various fields of their activities. The annual UNESCO publication, Study Abroad, lists more than 30,000 fellowships offered by Governments and other bodies to students of various nations to enable them to study abroad.

UNESCO gave impulse and assistance to the representatives of various national Universities in the organization of two University Conferences : at Utrecht in 1948 and at Nice in 1950. (V. I.A.U. supra.)

UNESCO maintains close working relations with the international University bodies listed above and with the international student organizations. All these organizations benefit from a special consultative arrangement with UNESCO.

The working programme of UNESCO includes several activities of importance to the Universities, such as, upon their request, assisting them to obtain books and other equipment, helping certain countries to find University teachers abroad ; organizing assistance to refugee students ; maintaining special regional offices throughout the world to promote co-operation among scientists in the area ; undertaking comparative studies on the existence and teaching programme of chairs of international affairs and on the role of Universities in the education of adults ; offering assistance to international organizations in all fields of education, science, and culture, and promoting the creation and development of such organizations.

The Universities of different countries often provide UNESCO with experts to carry out these projects. In 1952-53, an attempt will be made to organize small international groups of University teachers who will stay in selected Universities in various countries for one year, in order to increase the exchange of teaching methods and to encourage certain studies needed in a given region.

The programme of UNESCO is carried out by the 64 Member States, assisted by a secretariat, headed by the Director-General, Dr. Jaime Torres Bodet. Postal Address : 19 Avenue Kléber, Paris 16. Telegrams : Unesco Paris. Telephone : Kléber 52-00.
