John Wesley, Preacher

By W. L. DOUGHTY, B.A., B.D.

John Wesley could have achieved distinction in many walks in life. He chose before all things to be a preacher of the Gospel. There followed an astonishing ministry, with an increasing emphasis on the love of God mattering above all things else. 18*s.* 6*d. net*

John Wesley A New Edition

By C. E. VULLIAMY

Extract from review of the first edition:—"Every part of Wesley's career which he touches Mr. Vulliamy contrives to make vital and interesting . . . the result is a series of clear-cut cameos, enlightening both the Methodist movement and the eighteenth century as a whole. The author is particularly happy in his sketches of Wesley's associates, Whitefield, Charles Wesley, John Berridge and so on . . . a book which is consistently good."—The Listener. 18*s. net*

LORD LIVERPOOL

AND HIS TIMES

BY

SIR CHARLES PETRIE

"Too often a work of fine scholarship is marred for the general reader by a heaviness of treatment, resulting, perhaps, from a confusion between gravity and gravitas. The present author not only wears his scholarship lightly, but that quality goes sufficiently deep to perceive in the lampoons and squibs of the day a great deal of its true history—what men were thinking and saying. Within the covers of this book a notable portion of our history comes to life, often in the words the great protagonists themselves employed. It is a volume of instruction, delight and pride."—DAILY TELEGRAPH.

ALPHABETICAL

AUTHOR, TITLE AND SUBJECT

SECTION

When you wish to know what books are available on a subject or by an author consult this index first

ALPHABETICAL AUTHOR, TITLE AND SUBJECT SECTION

This Section contains entries or reference entries under authors, titles (where they are not explanatory of the subject matter of the books), editors, translators, series and subjects in one alphabetical sequence.

The entry under the author gives, in an abbreviated form, most of the information to be found in the entry in the Classified Subject Section, so that for most purposes it is not necessary to refer back to that entry when the author of a book is known. If, however, a fuller description is required, the entry in the Classified Subject Section—which gives the fuller description—can be found by means of the decimal code number at the end of the author entry.

If the editor, translator, title or series only is known, it will be necessary to refer back to the entry in this Section under the author's name. For example, if you look up the title Bless this house you will find the entry:

Bless this house, by Norah Lofts.

To find details of this book and its decimal code number, it is necessary to refer to the entry in this index under

Lofts, Norah. Bless this house. M. Joseph, 12/6. 823.91F (B54-2473)

If you wish to know what books have been published on a particular subject it is necessary to consult this Section under the name of the subject. Here again you will find a decimal code number which must be sought in the Classified Subject Section.

It will be found most convenient to look up the specific name of the subject, for this will refer you directly to the decimal code number under which books on the subject you require may be found. It does not matter, however, if you look up another word so long as it is, in fact, concerned with the subject. You will find that the decimal code number for this word will refer you to a part of the Classified Subject Section so close to the subject which you actually require that the eye will be quickly led to it by the captions and " feature words " appearing against the numbers.

Even though you may become familiar with the arrangement of the Classified Subject Section, it is always advisable to consult this index.

An explanation of the abbreviations used in describing books in the Bibliography and further details for tracing information are given in the Preface.
