TEHRI-GARHWAL

A new district in the Kumaun division of the State of Uttar Pradesh, formed from the merger of the 1,300 year old Tehri-Garhwal State with it on the 1st August, 1949. It lies between North Lat 30° 2′ and 31° 21′; East Long 77° 19′ and 79° 24′ and is bounded on the north by Himachal Pradesh; on the east and south by Garhwal, and on the west by Dehra Dun. Area, 4,500 square miles Population (1951), 412,047 Language spoken :—Garhwali

The great pilgrim shrines of Gangotri and Jamnotri, on the Himalayan mountains, are situated in the district and the road leading to Tibet through the Nelang Pass

The district has 2,736 villages, 73 patwari circles, 4 tahsils and four sub-divisions

There are only two motorable roads, one from Rishikesh via Deoprayag to Keertinagar en route to Badrinath and Kedarnath (63 miles) and the other from Rishikesh via Narendranagar. Tehri to Dharasoo en route to Gangotri and Yamnatri (79 miles). There are two combined Post and Telegraph Offices at Tehri and Narendranagar and the rest of the sub-divisional and tahsil headquarters have only branch post offices. There is a telegraph office at Deoprayag as also at Uttarkashi (Seasonal)

The administration of the district is now functioning on the same lines as in other districts of Kumaun Division of which it forms a part. It is very rich in forest wealth and forms a separate circle of conservator of Forests with four Divisional Forest Offrs under him. It can also claim to have some of the loveliest valleys and hill scenes of the country. There is a lovely huge lake at Dadital about 18 miles from Uttarkashi, which is rich in trout fishing and is engirdled with beautiful panoramic forests. There are also several very ancient and holy shrines and temples for pilgrimage in the district. Mazdoor agencies for facility of tourists exist at Tehri and Dharasoo

Headquarters :—Narendranagar, which is at a distance of 10 miles from the ry stn Rishikesh,

MYSORE STATE

General

Mysore State is a table-land situated in the angle where the western and eastern ghats converge into the Nilgiris. On the east, south and north it is surrounded by Madras State; on the west and north-west it is bounded by the districts of South Kanara and Dharwar respectively; and towards the south-west by Coorg. The general elevation rises from about 2,000 ft. above sea-level; along the northern and southern frontiers to about 3,000 ft. at the central watershed which separates the basin of the Krishna river in the north from that of the Cauvery in the south. It lies between North Lat 12° and 14°; East Long 75° and 78°

The area of the State is 29,489 square miles, the population, 9,072,000 (1951 census); revenue for 1951-52 was Rs. 13,80,69,000. Agriculture forms the main occupation of more than three-fourths of the population

Physically, the State divides itself into two regions—One the "Maidan" or plain country, comprising roughly the districts of Bangalore, Tumkur, Chitaldrug, Kolar, Mandya and Mysore and other the "Malnad" or hill country, comprising the districts of Chikmagalur, Hassan and Shimoga. Rainfall is heavy in the Malnad tracts and dense evergreen forests abounding in big game form their characteristic feature. The great part of the Maidan country is cultivated

Industry

The State abounds in valuable natural resources and basic raw materials vital for the expansion of key industries of the modern type and these resources have been systematically exploited and utilised for capital works of a productive nature calculated to enhance the prosperity of the people. Industries like the manufacture of iron and steel, cement, paper, sugar, cottton and silk, soaps, chemicals and fertilisers, sandalwood oil, etc, thrive in the State. The only aircraft factory in India is situated in Bangalore. Mysore is the principal gold producing centre in India. The State is recognised as the pioneer in Hydro-electric development in India. It produces most of the world's sandal oil. The development of rural and cottage industries has been a special feature of the policy of the government in recent years The Mysore Government is perhaps unique in the development of Khadi industry as one of the States' activities and to give it a place among the key industries. The State is devoting special attention to post-war planning

Tourists' Paradise

From many points of view, the State is tourists' paradise, with lovely cities, enriched by shrines and marvels of sculpture. Travel is easy and pleasing. The climate is salubrious. Communications by road as well as by railway are well maintained throughout the State. The State is well-equipped with efficient hospitals, sanatoria and nursing homes

Education

Special attention has been dovoted to the expansion and development of education in all its aspects. The State now spends annually about Rs. 3 crores on education. Tuition is free for the depressed classes. Hindi is being taught as a compulsory subject in the high schools and as a second language in the middle schools, the intermediate and the B A classes

Constitution

The constitution of Mysore is as framed for States in Part "B" of the I schedule in the Indian constitution. The State is exempted from the operation of Article 371 of the constitution

Administration

For administrative purposes the State is divided into nine districts

The administration is carried on by the Maharaja as Rajpramukh and a Council of Ministers which functions on the basis of joint responsibility. The Council consists of a chief minister and five other ministers. Languages spoken :—Kanarese, Tamil, Telugu and Hindustani

PATIALA AND EAST PUNJAB STATES UNION

The Patiala and East Punjab States Union, comprising the six salute States of Patiala, Kapurthala, Jind, Nabha, Faridkot and Malerkotla, and the two non-salute States of Nalagarh and Kalsia, was inaugurated on the 15th July 1948. These States lie in three separate blocks in North Lat 27° 50'; East Long 74° and 77°. The main block comprising the territories of former States of Patiala, Nabha, Jind, Malerkotla and Faridkot lie in the heart of Punjab and form a fairly compact tract. The Kapurthala State consists of three enclaves in the Jullundur division. The outlying district of Mohindergarh is formed of former districts of Narnaul and Dadri and a part of district Bawal of the former which form parts of the Patiala, Jind and Nabha States, respectively and lie within the geographical orbit of the Southern districts of Punjab. The hilly district of Kandaghat consists of the former Nalagarh State and district Kohistan of the former Patiala State.

Due to transfer of enclaves the pockets of Chachrauli, etc, erstwhile Kalsia State were transferred to the Punjab while some pockets like Kasauli, etc, were added to district Kandaghat of PEPSU. Area, 10,085 sqr miles. Revenue Rs. 22.36 lakhs. Languages spoken :—Punjabi, Hindustani and Urdu

RAJASTHAN

Next to Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan is the biggest State in India, comprising of 19 States of what was formerly known as Rajputana. The integration of these States was effected in four stages. The first Union inaugurated on the 25th March, 1948, comprised of the four States of Dholpur, Alwar, Bharatpur and Karauli with Capital at Alwar, this State was called Matsya; a week later, another State Union came into being with the integration of 9 States of Banswara, Bundi, Dungarpur, Jhalwar, Kishangarh, Kotah, Pratapgarh, Shahpura and Tonk with Capital at Kotah, this was named Rajasthan; The ruler of Udaipur also joined the State shortly after the inauguration of Rajasthan, when the Capital was transferred to Udaipur; During the fourth and final stage of the integration of Rajasthan the remaining States of Jaipur, Jodhpur, Bikaner and Jaisalmer joined the Union on the 7th April, 1949, which was inaugurated by the late Sardar Vallabbhai Patel at Jaipur the Capital; The Matsya Union was also formally merged with Greater Rajasthan on the 15*th May,* 1949, and lastly 6/7 part of Sirohi State was merged with Rajasthan a little later. Greater Rajasthan lies roughly between North Lat 23° 3′ and 30° 12′; East Long 69° 30′ and 78° 17′. It is bounded on the north by Delhi, Pepsu and Punjab (Pakistan); on the east by Uttar Pradesh and Madhya Bharat; on the south by Madhya Bharat and Bombay; and on the west by Sind (Pakistan) and Punjab (Pakistan). It has a common frontier of about 730 miles with Pakistan. It has an area of 130,206.7 square miles and a population of 15,290.797. Revenue is Rs. 16,32,18,000. Enclosed in the Rajasthan Union is the State of Ajmer-Merwara. Languages spoken :—The common language of the State is Hindi and the local language spoken in different parts is Rajasthani with various dialects the chief being the Marwari, Mewari, Haroti, Dhoondhari, etc

Generally the rainfall is scanty and uneven throughout the State. The principal means of livelihood of the people are agriculture, animal-husbandry and fruit farming. The notable agricultural produce include Jawar, Bajra, Maize, Moong, Pulses, Cotton and Oil Seeds

There is a large variety of minerals found in the State. The most important of the minerals are limestone, Fuller's earth, sandstone, gypsum, mica, lead, zinc, beryl, lignite and soap-stone. The other non-metallic minerals of importance found in Rajasthan are marble, emerald, garnet, sodium sulphate, salt-petre, barytes, calcite, kyanite, asbestos, graphites and lintalite

The important large scale industries of the State are the Ball Bearing Factory, Jaipur Metal Industries at Jaipur, Sodium Sulphate Factory at Jodhpur and the Lakheri Cement Factory at Lakheri, besides 6 Textile mills, 2 Sugar mills and 5 Glass works at different places. Among the chief exports are salt, wool, woollen fabrics, raw cotton, oil seeds, opium, ghee, marble, sand-stone, bales of printed cloth, camel, sheep and goat

The principal source of revenue are land revenue, customs and excise

UNIVERSITY OF TRAVANCORE, Trivandrum [The University of Travancore was established under an Act promulgated by H H The Maharaja of Travancore on 1st November, 1937. The chief aims of the University are to effect a reorganization of the system of education in the State with a view to the gradual development of technical and technolgoical education, to make greater and more systematic provision for the furtherance of orginal research in the various branches of applied science and to provide for the conservation and promotion of Kerala art and culture. The Senate, consisting of between 80 and 90 members, is the legislative body of the University and has general control over the affairs, concerns and properties of the University, subject to the ultimate control of the governments. In addition to the ex-officio members (the vice-chancellor, the pro-vice-chancellor the director of public instruction, deans of faculties and principals of colleges) the Senate includes also representatives of faculties, first grade private colleges, registered graduates and of the legislature and a certain number of members nominated by the Chancellor. The Senate is to be reconstituted every three years. The syndicate, consisting of 12 members, forms the executive body of the University and the management of the institutions maintained by the University is vested in the syndicate. The other authorities of the University are the faculties and the boards of studies] —Chanclr Sir Raja Rama Varma GCSI, GCIE, DLitt, Raj Pramukh of Travancore-Cochin, Vice-Chanclr Sir A Ramaswami Mudaliar DCL, Pro-vice-chanclr P R Parameswara Panikkar MA, Regtr P S Abraham BA, Ed

BHOPAL—Central India

Bhopal, formerly an Indian State in Central India, is situated in one compact block between North Lat 20° 32' and 24° 4' and East Long 76° 28' and 78° 52 and is bounded on the north by Madhya Bharat and the Saugor District of Madhya Pradesh. Running from the extreme North-West for a considerable distance towards the south to about 23° of Lat, the river Parvati forms a natural boundary between Bhopal and Madhya Bharat. Close to its source the Western Frontier shoots forth an enclave which runs a wedge into Madhya Bharat and forms the Northern termini of the State. On the Southern side to about 77° of Long, the river Nerbudda forms the line of division between Bhopal and the Narsingpur and Hoshangabad Districts of Madhya Pradesh. To the west of the Southern area and south of the projecting enclave, the Holkar Pargana of Alampur in Madhya Bharat helps to complete the south-western boundary. It has an area of 6,918 square miles, more than three-fifths of the size of Belgium. Its population according to the Census of 1951 is 8,36,474. Languages spoken .—Urdu and Hindi

Constitutionally the State is a Part C State and is, since its integration with the Indian Union in June, 1949, being administered by a Chief Commissioner directly responsible to the Ministry of State, Government of India. With the passing of the Part C States Act by the Indian Parliament in the autumn of 1951 it became possible for the Government of the State to be responsible to the local legislature elected on the basis of adult frachise. Election having been completed early this year, the first popular Ministry came into power on the 10th March, 1952. The Congress secured the highest number of seats in the local legislature in the total strength of which is 30 and out of which the part in power commands a majority in the proportion of 25 .5. The five members in opposition are composed of one Jan Sangh, one Hindu Mahasabha and three independents.

A great many reforms are awaiting implementation at the hands of the Ministry, which at the first business session of local legislature, it succeeded in obtaining the verdict of the House in abolishing the Jagirdari system from the State

More than two-thirds of the State is arable and the soil is generally very fertile. The principal agricultural products are wheat and other cereals and the main cash crops are tobacco and sugarcane. The State forests are spread over an area of about 9,00,000 acres. The land system in force in the State is ryotwari by which the cultivators hold the land direct from the Government. There is absolute permanency of tenure so long as the assessment is regularly paid

At present various schemes of development nature are in the process of implementation in the State. The central Tractor Organisation is maintaining one of its regional stations in Bhopal and a great headway has already been made by reclaiming over 1,20,000 acres of Kans-infested and fallow land by the end of the season in June, 1951

Industrially, too, the State is well-off having many flourishing industrial concerns within its territory. Bhopal is also rich in deposits, such as bauxite, mica and other valuable minerals.

HIMACHAL PRADESH—Northern India

The new State of Himachal Pradesh, administered by the Central Government comprises of 21 former Punjab Hill States and their 9 tributaries. The 21 States are Baghal, Baghat, Balsan, Bushahr, Bhajji, Bija, Chamba, Darkoti, Dhami, Jubbal, Keonthal, Kumarsain, Kunihar, Kuthar, Mahlog, Mandi, Mangal, Sangri, Sirmur, Suket and Tharoch

The 9 tributaries are Delath, Dhandi, Ghund, Khaneti, Koti, Madhan, Ratesh, Rawingarh and Theog

The State came into being on 15th April, 1948; the consolidation has been achieved with the full agreement and support of the Rulers and the people

Himachal Pradesh lies between North Lat 30° 30′ and 33° 10′; East Long 75° 55′ and 79° 50′. It is bounded on the north by the Jammu and Kashmir State; on the south by Tehri-Garhwal and the Dehra Dun districts of Uttar Pradesh and the Ambala district of Punjab (India); on the west by Ambala, Hoshiarpur and Kangra; on the east the boundaries are undefined

The area of the State is 10,600 square miles, the population according to the Census of 1951 is 1,109,466 and the revenue is about Rs. 1,53,00,000

The State is divided into 4 administrative districts of:—Mahasu, Sirmur, Mandi and Chamba

Mahasu District has a population (1951) 330,614. It consists of Rampur, Rohru, Chini, Jubbal, Chaupal, Theog, Junga, Arki and Solan and sub-tehsils of—Kumarof—Kumarsain, Kasumpti, Suni and Kotkhai

Sirmur District has a population (1951) 166,077 and is divided into four Tehsils—Nahan, Pachhad, Roinka and Paonta

Mandi District has a population (1951) 310,626 and contains the Tehsils of Sadar (Mandi), Karsog, Sundernagar, Jogindernagar, Sarkaghat, Chachiot and sub-tehsil of Dehar

Chamba District has a population (1951) 176,050 and is divided into the Tehsils of Chamba, Chura and Bhattiyat

Economy

The main agricultural wealth of the State consists in potatoes and fruits such as apples, peaches, almonds, nuts and pomegranates. Salt is another important item, while forests yield timber, fire-wood and charcoal. Handicrafts which include Pashmina shawls, wool of quality, resin, herbs, musk and skins are a third source of income

Himachal Pradesh forests supply the largest quantities of coniferous timber in Northern India. They are the main source of revenue in the State, the estimated annual revenue being Rs. 57,06,000. The forests are also useful in ensuring the safety of the catchment areas of the Jumna, Sutlej, Beas, Ravi and Chenab rivers On the protection of these catchment areas depends the steady and constant flow of water in these rivers and the success of irrigation and engineering works in the plains. For purposes of forests utilization, the State has been divided into twelve territorial forest divisions, viz chamba, churaha, Mandi, Nauchan, Suket, Jubbal, Simla, Solan, Nahan Rajgarh, upper and Lower Bushahr

Potato is the chief cash crop of this area. The statehas established itself as a vital source of potatoes, especially secd potatoes, for the plains of India. It exports nearly 5½ lakh maunds out of which over 3½ lakh maunds are directly utilised as seed potatoes

VINDHYA PRADESH—Central India

Vindhya Pradesh lies between 20° 30′ and 26° 15′ North Latitude and 78° 15′ and 82° 50′ East Longitude. It now includes 25 Bundelkhand and Baghelkhand States after the transfer of ten whole States (Samthar, Sarila, Jigni, Bihat, Banka Pahari, Baoni, Beri, Dhurwai, Tori Fatehpur and Bijna) to Uttar Pradesh on 25-1-50

Along with Rewa, which was the biggest State in Vindhya Pradesh, Ajaigarh, Baraundha, Bijawar, Chhatarpur, Charkhari, Datia, Maihar, Nagod, Orchha and Panna are Salute States; while Alipura, Bhaisondha, Garrauli, Gaurihar, Jaso, Kamta Rajaula, Khaniadhana, Kothi, Lugasi, Naigawan Ribai, Pahra, Paldeo, Sohawal and Taron are non-salute States

Vindhya Pradesh is bounded in the North and East by Uttar Pradesh, in the South by Madhya Pradesh, and in the West by Madhya Bharat

The State has an area of about 22,860 miles. Hindus form an overwhelming majority of the population. The prevailing languages are Hindi and the Baghelkhandi and Bundelkhandi dialects. The main occupation of the people is agriculture. The capital of the State is Rewa

There are 8 districts sub-divided into 31 Tehsils. The Rewa, Satna, Shahdol and Sidhi Districts form the Baghelkhand Division. The Datia, Tikamgarh, Chhatarpur and Panna Districts form the Bundelkhand Division. Each Division is under a Commissioner

The soil is poor and bears only average crops. Rabi crops include Wheat, Gram, Barley, Linseed, etc., while the Kharif crop are Rice, Maize, Saman, Kodon, Cotton, Bajra, etc. Irrigation is mainly by bandhs and wells

Minerals

Vindhya Pradesh has large mineral resources. The State is richly endowed with Coal and building stone, especially limestone. Large deposits of Corundum are found in the Sidhi District. There is Diamond Mining in Panna. Other minerals and raw materials of economic importance known to exist in this area are Iron, Copper, Lead, Yellow ochre, Felspar, Fireclay and Bauxite

Geologists believe that fresh minerals may be found in the State as many minerals not yet found here are known to occur in other parts of India in similar formations. There are good prospects for the manufacture of Cement, Glass, Paper, Aluminium, heavy chemicals and Synthetic Petrol

Communications

The State is not well served by railways and communication is mostly by road. Satna (32 miles) is the railway station for Rewa, the capital of the State and is situated on the Central Railway. Another section of the Central Railway between Manikpur and Jhansi, passes through a few villages in the Bundelkhand Division. The Katni-Bilaspur Section of the Eastern Railway passes through the Southern District (Shahdol) of the State for a distance of 138 miles

There are not many metalled roads and the interior is sometimes isolated during the monsoon. All the district towns are connected by road

Finance

The budget for 1949-50 was only for six months, October 1949 to March 1950. The estimates of Receipts and Expenditure were Rs. 1,39,96,900 and Rs. 1,52,28,800, thus leaving a deficit of Rs. 12,31,900

Forests

There are extensive forests which produce excellent timber. Sufficient quantities of bamboos and bagai grass are also available for making paper pulp. Tendu leaves used for making Bidis are also found in abundance. There is a Shellac Factory at Umaria (Shahdol District)

The jungles in the south-east of the state are famous for big game. Tigers are met with in considerable number, as also bears, panthers and wild buffaloes, while Sambhar, Chikara and Roj abound

Archæology

There are a number of places of archaeological interest in this Pradesh—chief among them being the Khajraho and Orchha Temples, the Bandhogarh Fort, Chandreha, Manda, Bir Singh Palace, Datia, Jahangir Mahal with a flower garden at Orchha, the source of the Narbada River at Amarkantak and the Jain Temples at Sonagir. There are numerous waterfalls, the most picturesque among them being the Chachai and Keoti, in the Old Rewa State

Education

The percentage of literacy is only 6 because of vast unopened tracts and the aboriginal population of Gonds. The number of educational institutions is increasing every year. A feature of education in Vindhya Pradesh is that not only Primary Education, but education up to, and including the High School Sections, is so far free throughout

There is one Post Graduate College which also conducts Law Classes at Rewa, one Degree College at Chhatarpur, one Intermediate College at Tikamgarh, 14 High Schools, 31 A. V. M. Schools, 160 Hindi Middle Schools, about 1,450 Primary Schools, 2 Teachers' Training Schools and 1 Technical Institute. In addition there are 12 Night Schools and some special schools, 300 Primary schools, 2 High and 1 C. T. have been opened and it is proposed to open one Model school and to introduce Basic Education in two institutions. The approximate number of students in the educational institutions of Vindhya Pradesh is 91,000

Political set-up

Vindhya Pradesh became a Centrally Administered area under a Chief Commissioner from 1-1-1950 and is now listed as a Part C State under the new constitution. The posts of Raj Pramukh and Up-Raj Pramukh were abolished from that date. There is in this State no separate Legislature. Instead of High Court, there is a Judicial Commissioner's court presided over by a Judicial Commissioner assisted by an Additional Judicial Commissioner

HAVE YOU IDEAS?

in your head for the production of a piece of printing that will greatly help to advertise some particular commodity in which you are interested? You have? But perhaps you are not sufficiently well versed in the art of printing to put those ideas into practical shape

IF SO,

do not send for a printer because his rates are cheap, because it's very likely the finished job will also look cheap. Send to a well-established firm of printers whose assistants have been trained in the art of advertising and printing, and if you have any ideas, then he will help you to

IN THE BATTLE AGAINST CORROSION
OUR PRODUCTS PLAY
AN IMPORTANT ROLE

DO YOU KNOW

(1) That All Steel Structures are under the continuous threat of almospherie rust & corrosion, which cause grave dangers to valuable structures such as Bridges-Ships-Factory stagings-wagons etc. etc.

RED LEAD in genuine form is the only safeguard against such damage. Protect all your structures by coating them with Red Lead.

RED LEAD also forms an important raw material for the manufacture of glass & porcelain of good quality, for battery manufacture & for drugs manufacture such as Hingool-Murda Sankh etc.

(2) WHITE LEAD is the best priming coat for wood & is used for wide range of white paints & for decorative purposes.

(3) LITHARGE forms a very important raw material in the manufacture of storage batteries.

(4) LEAD CHROMES are best used for tinting white paints to delicate shades like lemon or orange,

For All Your Requirements of :

(1) RED LEAD GENUINE DRY (3) LITHARGE
(2) WHITE LEAD GENUINE DRY (4) LEAD CHROMES

CATALOGUES!

LET US PLAN YOUR NEXT ONE!

IS YOUR CATALOGUE A FIRST CLASS SALESMAN?

Is it a creative business agent that compels the attention of the buyer and makes him look at it, or does it find its way, like many shoddy, unattractive catalogues, into the W. P. B.?

YOUR CATALOGUE MUST BE AS GOOD AS YOUR GOODS.

KARACHI

From a fishing village to a metropolis—this, in a nutshell, is the story of Karachi. Till recently, Karachi was known as the aerial gateway of India, an important seaport and an outlet of trade for Sind and the Punjab. But on August 15, 1947, it made history. On that day Pakistan, the fifth largest Muslim State in the world, was inaugurated. Karachi was chosen as the capital of the new State.

Historically, Karachi has no definite claim to antiquity. The origin of Karachi, as we know it to-day, can be traced back to the early part of the eighteenth century, when it was an unpretentious fishing village.

In 1729, Karachi attracted the notice of a business community from the neighbouring State of Kalat. A business magnate of Kalat, named Seth Bhojumal, came to Karachi with a band of zealous traders, and with a pioneer's faith and untiring efforts developed the small village into a prosperous town. The town at that time was called "Kalachi," the land of the sand-dunes, but afterwards it came to be known by its present name of Karachi.

For some time Karachi remained an independent city governed by the business community which had founded it. Later, it came under the sway of the Kalhoras of Sind, then of the Khan of Kalat and, finally, of the Talpurs, who ruled Sind from their Capital at Hyderabad.

In the first decade of the nineteenth century, the British in India began to cast longing eyes on Sind. Relations with the Talpurs, hitherto carried on through the British Government at Bombay, now began to be conducted through the British Resident in Kutch. In 1839, British armies passed through Sind on their way to Afghanistan. The British wanted to restore the deposed ruler, Shah Shuja, to the Afghan throne. Apparently, for strategic reasons, Sukkur, Bukkur and Rohri on the Indus were occupied by British Military Land Forces and Karachi was captured by a sloop of war.

The Afghan War over, Karachi still remained in British hands. Four years later the British declared war on the Talpurs, who were defeated, and Sind became a part of British India. It was formed into a separate Province in 1936, after having been attached to the Bombay Presidency since 1843. Karachi became the capital of the new Province.

Karachi made rapid progress after its occupation by the British. A number of Governors, civil servants and public-spirited citizens have contributed to the all-round progress achieved by the new Province as a whole, and by Karachi in particular. Outstanding among them were Sir Charles Napier, the conqueror and first Governor of Sind, and Sir Bartle Frere, the first Commissioner of the Province.

Sir Charles Napier was the first person who realised the potentialities of Karachi as a harbour. He had ambitious ideas to enlarge and extend Karachi, and made it a strong military cantonment, and the westernmost bastion of the Indian Empire.

Sir Bartle Frere, on the other hand, proved a great builder. He came to Karachi in 1852 as a young man of 25, and found the town "difficult to get at, and difficult to get away from." At that time, Karachi was without roads. It had neither a school nor a library. Frere built roads and railways, established a post and telegraph system, founded schools and libraries, and brought Karachi into closer touch with all parts of Sind, and Sind with the rest of India. He gave Karachi a municipality which, in point of efficiency, became the envy of municipal bodies throughout the Indian Sub-Continent.

In those days Karachi covered an area of 24 acres, with a population of 12,000 souls. To-day Karachi is spread over 71 square miles, with a population above 750,000. Formerly it was filled with dirt, disease and squalor; now it is one of the cleanest and the healthiest cities in the East. Whereas the trade of old Karachi could be counted in hundred thousands; now it runs into millions.

A factor which has contributed largely to the phenomenal growth of the town is its geographical position. Sea-routes from Karachi extend to three continents—Europe, Africa and Asia. It is the nearest port to Europe via the Suez Canal. It is the terminus of the railways which serve Baluchistan, Punjab (Pakistan) and Sind. It is the aerial gate way of Pakistan and is on the great international routes from Europe to the Far East, South East Asia and Australia.

The population of Karachi is increasing rapidly. Its climate is salubrious and, although situated in the hottest zone of Pakistan, it receives a cool and bracing sea breeze throughout the year. Unlike other big towns, crowded with towering buildings, Karachi has large open spaces.

It has a big Municipal Corporation run on modern lines. About 150 streets, with a total mileage of 190, link the social and commercial life in the bustling town. The roads are wide, clean and asphalted. The largest of them is the 10-mile long Bunder Road with its extension which passes through the whole length of the town. A network of tramways provides easy and cheap conveyance for the public. Besides, there are motor buses which can be seen plying busily from dawn to dusk. Side by side a visitor can still find the horse-carriage and the camel cart, the latter being used for hauling heavy loads of merchandise.

The town has a number of fine modern buildings, but the pretentious and often the grotesque style of architecture favoured by the larger commercial towns to-day has been carefully avoided. The effort has been to please rather than to overawe. Outstanding among these buildings are the Sind Assembly Chamber, the Governor-General's House, the Chief Court, the Cotton Exchange, the Municipal Corporation Building, the Offices of the Karachi Port Trust and the Chamber of Commerce.

The Victoria Museum houses a rare collection of armoury, sculpture and some valuable antiquities from Mohen-jo-Daro.

Karachi is the main outlet for the produce of Western Pakistan. The principal commodities of export are wheat, raw cotton, hides and skins, and oilseeds; imports include coal, iron and steel, textiles and petrol. The yearly volume of seaborne trade amounts to nearly 126 crores of rupees.

Karachi used to be mainly a commercial town. Now it has also become the centre of political and Governmental activities. A University has been established and educational institutions are fast developing. Many diplomatic missions have their headquarters here. The Consular Officers and Foreign Representatives now residing in Karachi represent Afghanistan, Belgium, Burma, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Egypt, France, Greece, India, Iran, Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, United Kingdom and the United States of America.

Karachi has a great future as the premier port of Pakistan. With a deep water channel, as good as that of Bombay, and with the additional advantage of safe harbourage in bad weather, the port is already equipped to meet all demands likely to be made upon it in the near future. It can take ships of all sizes at all seasons. The Sind Barrage Irrigation Scheme, which has already converted the waterless desert of Sind into fertile fields, is expected to add enormously to Karachi's trade.

Karachi is firmly established as one of the most important air-centres in the world. It has the finest landing ground between Cairo and Singapore, and is capable of receiving the heaviest commercial aircraft. At present the airport deals with about a thousand air movements a month and has the proud record of no fatal crashes. There is a Radar homing aid for landing, though conditions at Karachi are too good to necessitate such a facility. The airport has full night-flying equipment, including electric flarepaths. Its fire-fighting appliances are the best in the East. There is a modern hospital for the treatment of yellow fever. Both B. O. A. C. and K. L. M. have converted some of the accommodation allotted to them into modern hotels for their passengers. In short, Karachi is now one of the most comfortable air halts in the world.

One can easily visualise a great future for Karachi. There are already signs of new activities, new enterprises, new aspirations. Soon the influx of industry, trade and commerce will open new avenues of development. This beautiful city will, in no distant future, become a great metropolis, a centre of trade and a seat of learning.

MERCHANTS, AGENTS, TRADING FIRMS, ETC.

All firms appearing in this Section are given one entry free in ordinary type under any specified heading in the "Alphabetically Arranged List of Trades and Professions" which will be found between the Transport and Chief Industries Sections.

Extra entries are accepted on payment of a fee of Rs. 2 per entry in Ordinary type. All Bold type entries are charged for at Rs. 5 each.

A discount of 25 per cent. is allowed on 6 or more BOLD TYPE entries ONLY.

New headings in addition to this List may be created, if found necessary, at the discretion of the Publishers.

FOREIGN AGENCIES

All firms incorporated outside India are classified by us as "Foreign Agencies" and information regarding these is only included in the particulars of firms in our Commercial Sections on payment of a fee of Rs. 2 for each agency held. For this fee we classify each agency under Products and Manufactures in a separate section called "Classified List of Products and Manufactures of Foreign Merchants and Traders" which will be found at the extreme end of the book.

The above applies to all Commercial Sections.

BAHAWALPUR

The premier federated State of Pakistan, Covering an area of approximately 20,000 square miles, situated between North Lat 27° 41′ and 30° 22′; East Long 70° 47′ and 74° 1′. It lies in the extreme south-west of the Punjab and its northern boundary runs along the Sutlej and Indus rivers; in the south-west lies the Sukkur district of Sind; and in the north-east Ferozepur district of Punjab, India, while on the south and south-east it is bordered by the Rajasthan States of Jaisalmer and Biganer in India. The greatest length of the area from north-east to south-west is 320 miles and the average width being over 50 miles. Revenue about Rs. 4,00,00,000

Rainfall

The climate of Bahawalpur State is characterised by excessive drought, the annual recipitations as a whole rarely exceeding 5|7″

State Administration

(a) Legislature—Under the new constitution a State Majlis has been set up with 16 elected and 9 nominated members. From among the elected members 2 ministers have been appointed in-charge of the transferred subjects while the nominated members include 2 executive councillors in-charge of certain reserved subjects. The Majlis has full powers of legislation in regard to transferred subjects. It can also legislate for the reserved subjects but such legislation is subject to veto and certification by Alimartabat Wazir-e-Azam

(b) Executive—The Government of the State is carried on by a Kabina-i-Wazarat consisting of a Wazir-e-Azam, two Executive Councillors and two Ministers. In accordance with the provisions of the Government of Bahawalpur Act, 1949, the Wazir-e-Azam is appointed by His Highness in consultation with the Government of Pakistan. The executive councillors and ministers are appointed by His Highness from among the nominated and elected members of the Majlis respectively

Legislation

Laws in the State are usually framed on the lines of the central and provincial govts' acts. Most of the central and provincial govts' acts have been adopted with slight modifications to suit local conditions

Defence

Since the accession of Bahawalpur State to Pakistan Administrative, operational and financial control of the State Forces has been taken over by the Central Government, the State agreeing to pay a lump sum recurring annual contribution of Rs. one crore

Communications

The State is well served by a net work of metalled and un-metalled roads, rest houses, posts and telegraphs and railways The Lahore-Karachi line passes through state territory for a distance of 148 miles

Exports and Imports

The State follows a policy of free trade. No export duties are levied on goods and only octroi is charged at prescribed rates on goods imported within the municipal limits. The exports consist mostly of agricultural products. Mainly cotton 1,20,000 bales, wool 40,000 mds, oil-seeds, foodgrains and pulses 1,00,000 tons, hides and skins 48,000 mds, bones 35,000 mds, khar 50,000 mds and salt-petre 15,000 mads are exported annually. The imports mainly consist of consumer goods

Industry

The State was renowned for its arts and crafts but the huge imports of machine made goods dealt a serious blow to this type of industry. The main cottage industries of the State at present are calico printing, handloom weaving, ban and rope making, pottery, salt-petre and khar manufacture. The government has been taken necessary steps to organise its cottage industry. A number of large scale industries have also been set up in the State recently. A large cotton textile mill, which will ultimately have 1,150 looms and 50,000 spindles has already been built with an authorised capital of Rs. one crore (State's share 70%); it started working since January last with 15,000 spindles and is now daily producing 8,000 lbs. yarn. Messrs Unilever Bros have constructed a vegetable ghee mill and soap factory with an authorised capital of Rs. 80 and 40 laghs (State's share 36⅔ and 20%) respectively at Rahimyar Khan. The Government have sanctioned the installation of a sugar factory, Cegrette factory and modern tannery, in this connection priliminary arrangements have already been completed. Electrification schemes for big towns are also under preparation and a provision of Rs. 8 lakhs has been provided in the current year's budget on this account

Irrigation Projects

Sutlej Valley Projects—An event of outstanding importance to the State was the construction of the Sutlej Valley Project (1922—33) which provides weir-controlled irri gation to 28,25,000 acres in Bahawalpur State from three weirs situated at Sulemanke, Islam and Punjnad. The share of Bahawalpur State in the expenditure on this colossal project was well over Rs. 20 crores

The Abbasia Canal Extension Project—The Abbasia system originally formed part of the main Sutlej Valley Project but it was abandoned in 1932 on the recommendation of the Darley Committee. The system has, however, been resuscitated and stage one of the project, which will irrigate over one lakh acres Crown waste land, was completed and started working in March 1949. After the completion of stage II in 1954-55 an additional 1,50,000 acres will be brought under irrigation. The total cost of this project is estimated at Rs. 2 crores

Education

The State has a degree college, two intermediate colleges, 16 high, 61 middle and 724 primary schools. The number of students on roll in these institutions on March 31st, 1950, was 48,700. Besides these there are number of technical institutions to train people in different vocations. The primary and secondary education up to middle standard is free and a number of selected students are being trained at State's expense in outside institutions in engineering, medical, electricity, commerce, etc. Jamia Abbasia of Bahawalpur is a unique institution in the subcontient where religious education is imparted side by side with temporal education. Much attention is being made to remove illiteracy among the masses by opening adult education centres

Medical Relief

There are 21 hospitals and 48 dispensaries spread all over the State, the noteworthy being the Bahawal Victoria Hospital and the combined Military Hospital at Bahawalpur and the Military and Lady Wavell Zenana Hospital at Ahmadpur, East. The Bahawal Victoria Hospital has recently been extended to a 200 bed hospital and up-to-date operation theatre, general surgical ward, private family quarters and a maternity ward have been added. The hospital is equipped with modern applicances, drugs and medicines and also with up-to-date X-ray block, Eye clinic and T B ward

Refugees Resettlement

The State afforded asylum to nearly 3 lakhs of Muslim refugees from the Bharat and Bharat States in the 1947 holocaust and about 95% of these unfortunate persons have been resettled either on land or in business and other walks of life. Besides the non-muslim evacuees property, 60,000 acres of Crown waste land on the Abbasia Canal have been alloted to refugees and an expenditure of over Rs. 10 lakhs has been incurred on their re-settlement

Miscellaneous

A number of improvements have been affected in regard to the development of agriculture, live-stock, breeding, co-operative societies and panchayats throughout the State as also for improvement and conservation of water supply in the desert areas

CHITTAGONG

A district and division of Eastern Pakistan, lying between North Lat 22° 1′; East Long 91° and 92°; bounded on the north by Noakhali and Chittagong Hill Tracts; on the south by the Naaf river; on the east by Chittagong Hill Tracts; and on the west by the Bay of Bengal. Area, 2,570 square miles. Languages spoken :—Bengali, Urdu and Maghi

The beautiful natural scenery of Chittagong is a mighty attraction of the place. The district is washed by the Bay of Bengal on the west and intercepted from the north to the south by two mountain ranges between which lie the plain lands fit for paddy cultivation

The Chittagong city abounds in small hillocks. The important offices and the residential quarters of the high officials, located on the hilltops overlooking the Karnafuly river, afford a magnificent sight. Chittagong is the administrative headquarters of Chittagong division and the Eastern Bengal Railway. It has air connection with Karachi, Dacca and Calcutta. The Aerodrome at Patenga is only at a distance of 10 miles from the city

Chittagong port has recently been declared as a major port. It is the 2nd largest port of Pakistan and is the nerve-centre of seaborne trade of Eastern Pakistan. The export of the vast resources and the agricultural wealth of East Pakistan, such as jute (the monopoly product of East Pakistan), tea, hide, etc and the import of various foreign goods through this port had greatly accelerated its expansion and has given it the proud position as to the "Queen of the East"

Chittagong has a great strategic importance in having common frontiers and boundaries with Indian Dominion (Tripura State) and Burma

Cox's Bazar is the only health resort in the district. There is a light-house at Kutubdia

There is a large number of Buddhist population in the district besides Muslims, Hindus, Maghs and the hill tribes. The district has a good number of holy places for the Muslims, Hindus and Buddhists and they are visited every year by large numbers of pilgrims from all over Bengal

Muslim holy places :—(1) Maizbhandar Shariff (Ghausul Azam Maizbhandaree Shah), (2) Baizid Bustan, (3) Kadam Mubarak, (4) Badarshah Pati, (5) Shah Amanat Shah, (6) Nazir Shah

Hindu holy places :—Chandra Nath temple at Sitakunda with a branch at Barabkunda

Buddhist holy place :—Mahamuni Buddha Mandir at Pahartali (P S Raozan)

Sub-divisions :—Chittagong Sadar and Cox's Bazar. For administrative purposes Chittagong Sadar sub-division has been divided into two sub-divisions—'A' and 'B'

Staging bungalows :—Zorwarganj, Mirsarai, Sitakund Hathazari, Fatickcherry, Narayanhat, Raozan, Rangonia, Chaudhurihat at Noapara, Patiya, Dahazari, Chandpur, Jaldi, Chunati, Harbhang, Chakaria, Cox's Bazar, Eadgong, Ramu, Garjania, Ukhia and Kutubdia

There are a Circuit House and a Dak Bungalow at Chittagong
