earnings from letters of credit, bills for collection, T Ts and D Ds are available Because of this additional information, figures of a few banks in respect of items 1(a), 1(b) and 1(e) in Table 7(i) and items 1(a) and 1(e) in table 7(ii) are not strictly comparable with the figures for the previous years Further, in the year 1959, earnings from investments are inclusive of taxes paid at source which have been included in the item XIII(a)-provision for taxes on profits In view of this, figures in respect of earnings on investments and consequently of net profit for the year 1959, are not strictly comparable with the figures for the previous years

The cash ratio is the ratio of cash and balances with the central bank (or balances with other banks in current account in countries where there is no central bank) to total deposits

18 Table 18 Velocity of Circulation of Deposit Money of Scheduled Banks Figures in this table are compiled from the returns submitted by the offices of scheduled banks operating at places having a population of one lakh and above in the Indian Union for the Survey of Debits to Deposit Accounts The method of computation of the rate of turnover of current deposits has been changed for the years 1958 and 1959, as explained in the foot note to the table

(including business outside the Indian Union) The date of registration or incorporation is shown below the name of each bank Table 25(a) relates to the business of foreign banks in the Indian Union The balance of profit or loss given outside the brackets in column 11 is balance of profit or loss as shown in the balance sheet, figures shown inside the brackets represent profit (including provision for taxes) or loss made during the year

‡ Include credit balances in current deposit accounts

Note: The method of computation of the rate of turnover of current deposits has been changed from this year. Hitherto it was calculated by dividing the debits to current deposit accounts and overdraft accounts during the year by the monthly average of current deposits. The cash credit and overdraft limits sanctioned were not taken into account although their debits were included in the debits. Turnover of current deposits is now calculated by dividing debits to current accounts during the year by the monthly average of current deposits. An additional item on the overall rate of turnover columns 17 and 18 in respect of current accounts and cash credit and overdraft limits has also been introduced from this year. The overall rate of turnover is arrived at by dividing debits to current accounts and overdrafts by the average outstanding of current accounts and effective cash credits and overdraft limits. Debits to cash credit and overdrafts accounts figures under columns 11 and 12 are separately available from the beginning of 1958 and hence as such the figures shown in columns 7 and 8 for the period 1958 and 1959 are not comparable with the figures for earlier years.
