PREFACE

THE Commonwealth Universities Yearbook 1954 is not only the thirty-first edition of this publication but is also its seventh issue in the post-war period, a record which gives it some claim to a respectable seniority among the various international and regional academic directories that are now available. This Yearbook is not, of course, international in the comprehensive world-wide sense, but covering as it does the University institutions of the different countries, great and small, that stand in relation to each other in the varying degrees of attachment and stages of independence to be found among the nations of the Commonwealth, it is surely entitled to its place among international works of reference about Universities. As the shelf of annual volumes of that category in the libraries of the world grows steadily larger, and when account is taken of the amount of trouble and effort demanded from the administrators of each institution in supplying the raw material for the editors of these publications with their inevitable tendency to overlap, the case is strengthened for some degree of co-ordination between their fields or of rationalization of their divergent requirements. The introduction of a measure of standardization in the form and scope of these different works would, it is believed, be a real service to the University world as a whole.

This edition contains a full entry for only one institution that was not so recorded in the 1953 edition—Nova Scotia Agricultural College, which is recognized as a member institution by the National Conference of Canadian Universities and thereby qualifies for a place in the section of the work devoted to Canada. Before this edition went to print, but too late for the collection of information sufficiently detailed and accurate for publication, advice was received of a second University being established in East Pakistan, in July 1953, as the University of Rajshahi, and of academic developments in Central Africa, a new University institution having been founded at Salisbury by act of the Southern Rhodesian legislature in 1952 as Rhodesia University College. It is hoped that entries for these institutions will appear in the 1955 Yearbook. The individual University entries and the introductory pages for each country have been brought up to date for this edition, the introduction for Australia having been specially rewritten this year by the Secretary of the Australian Vice-Chancellors' Committee. An attempt has been made for the first time this year to give for each University a short statistical note of the number of its students who come from other countries. An ampler statement is also included of the history and functions of the Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth, which during the period when this edition was being prepared held the seventh Quinquennial Commonwealth Universities Congress, at which 101 of the institutions recorded herein were represented.

Apart from the various national sections with their individual University entries, much useful information on several general questions will be found in the various Appendices. The index of names at the end of the book, which lists in alphabetical order 30,000 or more staff members of the University institutions, is not only a mark of the comprehensive character of this work, but is also a valuable key to the identification of persons known to be engaged in academic work in the Commonwealth.

Nearly all the Universities and University Colleges which appear in this work are members of the Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth, but such membership has never been the test for inclusion in the Yearbook, which the Association publishes to advance the interests of higher education in the Commonwealth and in the international field generally. The Association welcomes the diversity of the institutions mentioned in the following pages, and it recognizes that the need felt by each of them to have accurate information about the others is a sign of the common interest and tradition that runs through all the Commonwealth Universities.

The editor wishes to thank especially the Secretaries of the Inter-University bodies in the various Commonwealth countries for their assistance in compiling and revising introductory sections and for valuable advice on many points of difficulty. The individual University entries are based on information supplied for this edition by the respective Registrars and Secretaries, whose willing help in submitting this material is also gratefully acknowledged. The Yearbook can purport only to give under one cover an epitome of the information set out in the various University Calendars, Reports and Handbooks and cannot take the place of these as official and authentic statements of events, regulations and practice. Although every care has been taken to ensure that the Yearbook is correct in detail, the Association does not accept responsibility for any inaccuracies or omissions which it may be found to contain.

This is the first edition of the Yearbook which is published by the Association itself. The previous publishers, Messrs. G. Bell and Sons, have been responsible for publication arrangements of successive editions since the end of the first World War, and the Association desires to place on record its appreciation of their services.

A NOTE ON THE FUNCTIONS OF

THE ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITIES OF THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH

as submitted to the Commonwealth Universities Congress, July 1953

THE Association was founded in 1912 as the Universities Bureau of the British Empire. On the initiative of the University of London, plans had been considered since 1909 for the summoning of a Congress of Universities of the Empire, which was eventually held in London in 1912. One of the decisions of the delegates was that steps should be taken to form, in London, a Bureau of Information for the Universities of the Empire, and that its affairs should be managed by a Committee representing both home and overseas Universities.

In 1919 the Bureau was incorporated under licence of the Board of Trade and a grant of £5000 was made by H.M. Government for central offices on condition that the Universities of the Empire undertook to provide adequate funds for maintenance. The building specially constructed for this purpose in 1930 at 88A Gower Street, Bloomsbury, was utterly destroyed by enemy action in 1940, after which the Bureau was housed in various temporary premises, until in 1949 a tenancy was obtained from the University of London of the present premises at 5 and 6 Gordon Square, close to the bombed site of the former office. The Articles of Association in their present form date from 1932.

It was planned at the 1912 Congress to hold further meetings of the Universities of the Empire at quinquennial intervals, and such Congresses were in fact organized in 1912, 1921, 1926, 1931, 1936, and 1948, the Proceedings of which have been published in separate volumes. The sixth Congress, at Oxford in July 1948, was responsible for the change of name to " The Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth " and for certain alterations to the Articles of Association giving the overseas countries more effective part in the control of the organization. It is now managed by an Executive Council of 16 members appointed each year by the representatives of member Universities, in general meeting, on the nomination of the respective inter-university organizations in the several countries of the Commonwealth. Since 1948 a small conference of representative University heads (usually comprising these members of the Executive Council or their deputies) has been held yearly in a different part of the Commonwealth, to discuss matters of common interest arising between Congresses. The income of the Association is almost wholly derived from the subscriptions, at rates fixed according to their size, of Ordinary Members (Universities), Associate Members (University Colleges) and Additional Members (other institutions of recognized academic status).

From the beginning it was emphasized that the institution of a central bureau must not involve any attempt to standardize academic practices, procedures and methods of Universities. This attitude was confirmed at the Congress of 1931, when it was resolved that : " The powers of the Association shall not be exercised in any such way as to purport to restrict the powers and duties exercised by the constituent Members under the several charters, statutes, regulations and other instruments of their self-government."

At the 1912 Congress it was laid down that one of the Bureau's chief functions should be to collect University information from every part of the Empire and to put it in a suitable form for easy distribution. It was hoped that by the publication of a Yearbook, or by other means, the experience and experiments in educational organization made in different parts of the Empire would be rendered available to all Universities. The Commonwealth Universities Yearbook, now in its thirtieth edition and ordinarily appearing in the early part of each year, is the outcome of this aspiration. This publication contains classified information about all Universities and University Colleges established within the Commonwealth, including complete staff directories, and supplies in its appendices a comprehensive survey of the conditions of admission, of postgraduate scholarships, etc., and of other data useful not only to the Universities but also to all interested in higher education. It has now a reputation as the best single volume reference work about these institutions.

The Association also publishes, in conjunction with the British Council, a Handbook for students from overseas, entitled Higher Education in the United Kingdom, which provides in a summary form information about specialized courses of study, admission, cost of living, fees and other charges, scholarships and hostel accommodation at Universities and other institutions of higher learning in Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

An important part of the work of the office lies in the field of helping Universities to fill staff appointments. It acts as the agent in London of overseas member institutions wishing to announce vacancies in and to invite applications from the United Kingdom, and if requested it will arrange for the applicants to be interviewed and reported upon by independent and competent committees. But it does not act as an Appointments Board seeking to place in academic or other posts graduates who register with it, though it keeps in touch in the various Universities with the Appointments organizations which do so. In accordance with its policy of facilitating the movement of University teachers, the Association has instituted machinery for the speedy circulation to Universities throughout the Commonwealth of particulars of academic vacancies in any part of it.

Information which the Association has collected on any questions of academic policy or administration is available to any University or member institution. It makes recommendations for various scholarships and arranges the Cecil Peace Prize Essay competition. A grant from the Imperial Relations Trust has enabled the Association to finance and arrange for visits by selected University administrators from other Commonwealth countries to the United Kingdom, and vice versa. The Association, the Committee of Vice-Chancellors and the British Council jointly administer the Commonwealth Interchange Scheme under which grants may be made to pay the fares of University workers making overseas visits within the Commonwealth.

A considerable part of the activity of the Association's office is centred in the work of the Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals of the Universities of the United Kingdom, for which it provides the secretariat under an arrangement whereby these Universities subsidize the Association as a base for certain common academic activities in Great Britain. Many general enquiries about University education in Great Britain are handled by the office, and a conference of the Home Universities is held in London each year, the Proceedings of which are published for the Committee.

The Association acts as a link between the local inter-university organizations that have been set up in various parts of the Commonwealth, including, as well as the United Kingdom Committee of Vice-Chancellors, the National Conference of Canadian Universities, the South African Committee of Principals, the Australian Vice-Chancellors' Committee, the Inter-University Boards of India and of Pakistan, and the Inter-University Council for Higher Education in the Colonies. It is in touch with similar organizations in Europe and the United States, as well as with their representatives in this country, and with UNESCO and the recently formed International Universities Bureau.

Apart from these activities, the Association is the manifest sign of a desire on the part of the Universities of the Commonwealth for co-operation. It seeks the promotion of University interests, of interchange of University teachers and research workers, and of the maintenance of close liaison between the administrations of all University institutions in the Commonwealth. Proposals have been made for establishing in London, at the headquarters of the Association, a University House which will provide amenities for members of the staffs of University institutions visiting the metropolis, but the modest resources of the organization keep these plans in abeyance for the time being. At present it is able to offer such visitors the use of a committee room for interviews, etc., and it will on request receive and re-address mail for them while they are travelling.

The Association's offices are open to all reasonable enquiries and the services of its information department are freely available. It is in a position to procure information on many University problems and to obtain the services of acknowledged experts for advisory committees on selection and other problems. Its objective is to act always in the interests of its member institutions, either collectively or according to their individual instructions, and to adapt its practice to their requirements as may be considered useful and desirable.

NOTE ON MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

At the final meeting of the first Universities Congress of 1912 the delegates resolved that steps be taken for the formation in London of a Bureau of Information for the Universities of the Empire. At the Fourth Quinquennial Congress of Universities of the Empire, held in Edinburgh in July 1931—the Second having been held at Oxford in 1921 and the Third at Cambridge in 1926—new Articles of Association for the reorganization of the Bureau were considered by the delegates of the 69 Universities represented, and, subject to certain amendments, approved. The Articles were submitted in Sept. 1931 to the Board of Trade, which accorded its approval, subject to the deletion from Article 3 of the following proviso: "Provided that the powers of the Association shall not be exercised in any such way as to purport to restrict the powers and duties exercised by the constituent members under the several charters, statutes, regulations and other instruments of their self-government."

The Articles were approved at an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Association, held on Sept. 24, 1932. At the same Meeting, the Association expressed its adherence to the principles of policy stated in this proviso.

At Extraordinary Meetings of the Association, held in Cambridge on July 14, 1936 (during the Fifth Congress), and in London on Jan. 12, 1940, minor amendments of Schedule A were approved. Further minor alterations in Schedule A, as well as certain changes in the Articles of Association, were made at Extraordinary General Meetings held during the Sixth Congress at Oxford in July 1948 and in London in Jan. 1949. As a result of a Special Resolution at the meeting at Oxford the name of the Association was changed from "The Universities Bureau of the British Empire" to "The Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth."

In 1952 the Executive Council appointed a committee to consider the revision of the Memorandum and Articles which, besides containing a number of verbal anomalies and inconsistencies such as those arising from changes in the political nomenclature of the Commonwealth and from the enactment of the Companies Act, 1948, were found to make inadequate provision for the offices of Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Honorary Treasurer of the Association and for these officers' membership of the Executive Council. The recommendations of this committee were submitted by the Executive Council to an Extraordinary General Meeting held during the Seventh Congress at Cambridge in July 1953 and were approved in principle. Special Resolutions giving effect to the proposed amendments were passed at a further Extraordinary General Meeting held in London on Nov. 26, 1953, Schedule A being revised to include the names of all member institutions as at that date.

The Memorandum and Articles of Association as now in force immediately follow.

NOTES ON THE UNIVERSITY ENTRIES

THE principal divisions of each Yearbook University entry are: I. Principal Officers; II. Teaching Staff; III. Administrative and other Staff; IV. Constituent, Affiliated or Associated Institutions; V. General Information; VI. The Year.

The Teaching Staff directory is sub-divided into departments (indicated by italicized headings) normally arranged in alphabetical order for ease of reference. Owing to the divergent practices of different Universities about the organization of subjects, it has not been considered advantageous to group these departments under their separate Faculties, but in special cases where, for example, there is a group of departments constituting a more or less distinct entity to which it is obviously helpful to be able to refer in a consecutive and separate entry (e.g. a multi-departmental School of Engineering, of Medicine, or of Dentistry), they are set out together at the end of the main list, each group under a separate bold type heading, cross-references to the subject headings in this grouping being inserted at appropriate places in the main list.

Men's first names are designated only by initials (e.g. Smith, J. D.) except where it is necessary to distinguish between two men with the same initials and surname, at the same University or College. Women's names are usually indicated by the writing in full of one first name, any other first names being represented by initials only (e.g. Smith, Mary J.). The word "Mrs." is inserted before the names of married women, but the word "Miss" is usually omitted, except where the woman's first name is likely to be unfamiliar as such to English-speaking readers (as in the case of certain Eastern and African names).

Because of the increasing size of the Yearbook it has been considered necessary to keep to a minimum the titles and qualifications not of University origin placed after names. The criterion followed in previous issues is retained, namely, that apart from honours conferred by the Crown, or by the heads of foreign governments, only fellowships of learned bodies of high standing are noted. A list of such honours and qualifications appears on pp. liv-lviii.

Each individual's University degrees, diplomas or certificates, and any other of his qualifications or honours included in the list on pp. liv-lviii are noted in abbreviated form after his name. The University of origin of degrees, diplomas and certificates is also given. Degrees awarded by the University in whose entry the name of the staff member appears are indicated by being placed after any other degrees (not after any other diplomas or certificates or non-University qualifications) and without the name of the University. In the case of persons possessing only one degree, which is not followed by the name of a University, e.g. Jones, J., B.Sc., it can be assumed that the degree was awarded by the University in whose entry the name of the staff member appears. Similarly, diplomas and certificates awarded by the University in whose entry the name of the staff member appears are placed after any other diplomas or certificates (not after any non-University qualifications) and without the name of the University. The following order is observed: (i) Honours conferred by the Crown; (ii) Honours conferred by the head of a foreign government; (iii) University degrees; (iv) University diplomas and certificates; (v) fellowships of certain institutions (see pp. liv-lviii).

"The Year" section lists information about events of outstanding interest which have occurred in the academic year previous to the compilation of material. North of the equator the session reviewed in this edition is 1951–52; south of the equator the period is the 1952 session. In both cases the period of the long vacation following has been treated as included in the previous academic session.

In the "Student Numbers" paragraph in each University entry students are classified as Part-Time if they are engaged in regular employment during the academic year and therefore cannot devote their full time to their studies. If a University has indicated that it has used a different definition a note has been added to the text. By New Admissions is meant the number of students entering the University or University College for the first time. For Yearbook purposes a student "from another country" is one whose permanent home residence is in that other country, i.e. one whose parents are only temporarily resident or employed abroad is not included, nor is one who was born in another country and may therefore have a foreign nationality but who is now living permanently in the country in which the University or University College is situated.

The lists of Degrees, Diplomas and Certificates Awarded give the numbers of students who have the right, under the regulations of the University, to use the title of the degree, diploma or certificate regardless of whether or not it has been ceremonially conferred.

B. COMMONWEALTH DEGREE ABBREVIATIONS

In the following list the degree title opposite each abbreviation is the expanded form normally used by the University, or Universities, in the Commonwealth which currently award that degree. Many of these degrees are awarded with Honours, but, for reasons of space, the Honours form of the abbreviation and title is not given below (e.g. B.A. Hons. is excluded). For the purposes of this list, a " conjoint " degree, such as M.B., Ch.B., is listed as two separate degrees.

C. ABBREVIATIONS FOR ORDERS, DECORATIONS AND QUALIFICATIONS OTHER THAN UNIVERSITY DEGREES

For reasons of space, non-University distinctions are omitted from the staff lists, with the exception of honours conferred by the Crown or by the head of a foreign government, and of certain Fellowships of learned bodies as set out in this list. No disparagement is, of course, intended of professional or other non-academic qualifications which cannot be included in this work.

The abbreviations used are not in all cases those adopted by the body concerned, e.g. F.I.P. is used instead of F.Inst.P.

UNIVERSITIES OF THE UNITED KINGDOM

Historical and General Summary

Universities were an outcome of the intellectual revival in Europe during the 12th and 13th centuries. A universitas was a guild, or corporation. On the Continent the most famous centres of learning were Paris (a universitas magistrorum) and Bologna (a universitas scholarium). The two earliest British Universities, Oxford and Cambridge, were developed on the model of Paris, but their distinctive contribution was the establishment of the college system, dating from the founding of Merton College, Oxford, in 1264. Instruction was in the form of lectures by licensed teachers. To the seven liberal arts of the mediæval schools (the trivium—grammar, logic and rhetoric, and the quadrivium—arithmetic, geometry, music and astronomy) were added the three higher " Faculties " of theology, law and medicine to provide preparation for the learned professions. The Scottish Universities, except Edinburgh, were founded in the 15th century. The mediæval scholastic tradition persisted in St. Andrews and Glasgow until the 17th century, but Aberdeen was more receptive of Renaissance influences. The University of Edinburgh originated in a College established by the Town Council in 1583.

After the Reformation a demand arose in England for education of a more secular type, but the Acts of Uniformity (1559 and 1662) and similar measures stereotyped the schools and Universities as Anglican institutions ; by the latter half of the 18th century teaching had become mainly traditional and formal, and life in the Colleges of Oxford and Cambridge was more social than academic. The Scottish Universities, served by better schools, took life more seriously, though standards were low.

Readjustment to modern conditions took place in the course of the 19th century. Already in 1779 Protestant Dissenters, and in 1791 Roman Catholics, had been admitted to the teaching profession. The few denominational tests retained by the older Universities were abolished in 1871. At Cambridge the first mathematical Tripos list was issued in 1747–48 and written examinations were introduced about 1772 ; at Oxford a new examination statute was passed in 1800 and the amount of written work gradually increased. The University Commissioners of 1850 and 1877 made provision at Oxford and Cambridge for the endowment of teaching and scholarships in modern subjects. This did much to make the Universities accessible to all classes. Further important constitutional and other changes were made at Oxford and Cambridge by the Statutory Commission appointed in 1923.

In 1836 a charter was granted to the University of London empowering it to confer degrees on students of University College (founded on an undenominational basis as the " University of London " in 1826) and of King's College (founded on an Anglican basis in 1829) and of such other institutions as might become affiliated for purposes of examination. The University was reconstituted in 1900. The University of Durham was founded on the model of Oxford in 1832 and partly endowed out of the funds of the See and Chapter of Durham. It was later incorporated with the College of Medicine and Armstrong College, both in Newcastle. The modern civic Universities in England are a product of the second half of the 19th century, the Colleges in which the various present-day Universities originated having been founded as follows : Owens College, Manchester, 1851 ; Yorkshire College, Leeds, 1874 ; University College, Bristol, 1876 ; Firth College, Sheffield, 1879 ; Mason College, Birmingham, 1880 ; University College, Liverpool, 1881 ; University College, Nottingham, 1881 ; University Extension College, Reading, 1892 ; Hartley University College, Southampton, 1902. (Two of these, namely University College, Nottingham, and Hartley University College, Southampton, have reached University status only in the years following the second World War.) Created to minister to local needs and supported largely by local benefactions, they all tended to be interested in local industries, and from the first laid stress upon the study of mathematical, scientific and " modern " subjects. Reading, situated in a smaller town, laid emphasis on agricultural subjects and made more provision for resident students. In London, the Royal College of Science, the Royal School of Mines, and the City and Guilds (Engineering) College, founded in 1881, became integral parts of the Imperial College of Science and Technology (now a school of the University of London) established in 1907 to provide for instruction and research in the various branches of science, especially in its application to industry.

A University of Wales was projected early in the 15th century, and the project was revived in Cromwell's time, but it was not founded until 1893. The constituent colleges at Aberystwyth, Cardiff, Bangor and Swansea were founded in 1872, 1883, 1884 and 1920, largely out of funds collected in very small sums at the doors of churches and chapels. The Welsh National School of Medicine at Cardiff was incorporated in the University in 1931.

Queen's College, Belfast, founded in 1845, became in 1850 one of the three Colleges of the " Queen's University in Ireland," which was replaced in 1879 by a purely examining body called the Royal University of Ireland. This was dissolved in 1908 when the Queen's University of Belfast (in effect, Queen's College raised to University rank) was established.

There are still some University Colleges, namely the University College of the South West of England, Exeter, the University College of Hull and the University College of Leicester, without the right of awarding their own degrees; their students are prepared for the external degrees of the University of London. In 1949 the University College of North Staffordshire was established with power to give a B.A. degree. The only other degree-giving institution in the country is St. David's College, Lampeter, which was empowered by Royal Charter in the 19th century to give Bachelor's degrees in Theology and in Arts.

The Universities of the United Kingdom are self-governing institutions. At Oxford the chief legislative body is the Congregation of the teaching and administrative staffs of the University and Colleges. Statutes are proposed to it by a small elected body, the Hebdomadal Council, and these, if adopted, may be postponed but not rejected or amended by the Convocation of all graduates who have kept their names on the books of a College. At Cambridge the corresponding bodies are respectively the Regent House, the Council of the Senate and the Senate. The chief academic officer at each University is the Vice-Chancellor, chosen from the Heads of Colleges to hold office for two or three years, the Chancellor usually being a graduate of great public distinction, elected by the graduates of the University. His office is mainly one of honour. The Colleges of Oxford and Cambridge are also self-governing and self-perpetuating bodies.

The general pattern in the other Universities in England and Wales is that there is usually a large Court as the official governing body, the executive functions of which are entrusted to a smaller Council which includes both lay and academic members and meets regularly for the transaction of official (including financial) business. The nominal head of the University is the Chancellor, but the principal executive and academic head is a permanent full-time Vice-Chancellor. The chief academic body is the Senate, consisting of the Professors and usually some representatives of the non-professorial teaching staff, while each of the major divisions of the University usually has a Faculty or Board of Faculty for consideration of its own particular academic problems. In most of these Universities there is also an official assembly of graduates (Convocation) with limited rights of expressing views on matters of University policy. In London this constitutional pattern is modified to suit the requirements of a great federal University. There the Court, a relatively small body, is supreme in questions of finance while control of academic matters is vested in the Senate; the Vice-Chancellorship is an elective office held for two, or sometimes three, years, but the University has an additional executive officer with permanent tenure, with the title of Principal.

The Scottish Universities have a similarly elected Chancellor as their nominal head. The chief executive officer is the Principal, who is, except at Edinburgh, appointed by the Crown, and usually also nominated by the Chancellor to act as Vice-Chancellor in his absence, e.g. at the conferment of degrees. The Senatus, consisting of all the Professors and some Readers and Lecturers, deals with all strictly academic business. The chief body of government is the University Court, a small body of certain lay members and of Professors elected for a period of years by the Senatus. The Court deals with all financial business and appointments, other than those to "Crown Chairs." The General Council of all the graduates has the right of expressing opinions on certain proposed changes.

As has been already noted, a characteristic of British Universities, as compared with those of the continent of Europe, has from the earliest days been the provision of Colleges or Halls of Residence, in which students live as members of a social community subject to the influence of corporate life. The extent of this provision varies considerably, however, from place to place, and in all the Universities a substantial proportion of the students live in their own homes or in lodgings (which are usually subject to some form of licensing or supervision by the University authorities). Of the full-time students at Universities and University Colleges in Gt. Britain in 1951–52, 25·9 per cent. resided in Colleges and Halls of Residence, 39·6 per cent. in lodgings, and 34·5 per cent. at home.*

Women were first admitted to degrees by the University of London in 1878. Bedford College had already been founded in 1849 ; the three other women's Colleges in the University of London were founded, Westfield in 1882, Holloway in 1886 and King's in 1892. The last was merged in King's College, London, in 1915. King's College of Household and Social Science † was founded in 1908 as a department of King's College for Women, and became a separate " School " of London University in 1928. At Oxford, Lady Margaret Hall was founded in 1878, Somerville in 1879, St. Hugh's in 1886, St. Hilda's in 1893 and St. Anne's (formerly the Society of Oxford Home-Students, established in 1879) in 1952. Of the Cambridge Colleges, Girton originated at Hitchin in 1869 and was removed to the near neighbourhood of Cambridge in 1873. Newnham was founded in 1880. Oxford admitted women to examinations in 1884, to degrees and full membership in 1920 and to University teaching posts in 1927. Cambridge admitted women informally to Tripos examinations in 1872 and to " titles of degrees " in 1923 ; in 1926 women were declared eligible for University teaching posts and therefore for membership of Boards of Faculties, but not until 1948 were they admitted to actual degrees and full membership of the University. Women have been admitted to the Universities of Scotland since 1892, to Durham since 1896 and to all the modern civic Universities from their foundation.

The academic year is divided into three terms, which run usually from about the beginning of October to the middle of December ; middle of January to end of March ; middle of April to end of June or beginning of July. The principal degree examinations are usually held before the end of the third term.

University Grants Committee

Unlike those of some other countries, the Universities of the United Kingdom have been, since their origin, independent of State control, although for many years they have been in receipt of State aid.

In July 1919 a Standing Committee of the Treasury was established

* University Grants Committee: Returns from Universities and University Colleges in receipt of Treasury Grant, Academic Year 1951–52 (H.M.S.O., 1953), Cmd. 8847.

† Now Queen Elizabeth College.

under the title of the University Grants Committee with the following terms of reference : " To inquire into the financial needs of university education in the United Kingdom and to advise the Government as to the application of any grants that may be made by Parliament towards meeting them."

The total of the grants made available for distribution to Universities and the independent University Colleges was £916,000 in 1919–20, £1,800,000 in 1929–30 and £2,224,000 in 1939–40, by which time it was rather over a third of the entire income of the Universities. The annual grants were maintained unchanged at this level during the second World War. Before the end of that war much consideration was given to the post-war problems which were likely to beset the Universities and Colleges and it became clear that there would be a greater demand than there had ever been for the expansion and improvement of facilities for University education. In 1943 the University Grants Committee was reconstituted and additional members were appointed. In 1946 the Committee's terms of reference were revised, and they were further amended in June 1952 to read as follows :

" To enquire into the financial needs of university education in Great Britain ; to advise the Government as to the application of any grants made by Parliament towards meeting them ; to collect, examine and make available information relating to University education throughout the United Kingdom ; and to assist, in consultation with the Universities and other bodies concerned, the preparation and execution of such plans for the development of the Universities as may from time to time be required in order to ensure that they are fully adequate to national needs."

The members of the Committee are appointed by the Chancellor of the Exchequer after consultation with the Minister of Education and the Secretary of State for Scotland. While they cover between them the main fields of University study, as well as certain interests outside the Universities, they are selected for their personal qualifications and serve in a personal capacity, not as representatives. The Committee has appointed a number of specialist Sub-Committees to assist it in considering particular spheres of academic activity. The Committee has its office at 38 Belgrave Square, London, S.W.1 (Telephone : Sloane 9912), the present Chairman being K. A. H. Murray, B.Sc., M.A., B.Litt., Ph.D., and the Secretary, Sir Edward Hale, K.B.E., C.B.

The annual Treasury payments to the Universities, made on the recommendation of the Committee, take the form of recurrent grants and non-recurrent grants. Recurrent grants are intended to supplement the general income of the Universities with a view to meeting their normal annual expenses. Non-recurrent grants are contributions towards the cost of capital investment in accordance with a programme arranged by the Committee in consultation with each University. These grants help to meet capital expenditure on the acquisition of sites, the construction or adaptation of buildings for academic purposes including Halls of Residence, and the initial purchase of furniture and equipment for new buildings.

The system of Treasury grants in aid of University expenditure is established on a quinquennial basis. Every five years the Government announce the total amount of money they intend to ask Parliament to provide during the ensuing quinquennium. The programme announced by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in February 1952, for the present quinquennium 1952–57, amounts to £111,750,000 in recurrent grant alone. It includes no figures for non-recurrent grant, for which the Chancellor stated that provision will be made annually in accordance with general investment policy.

The University Grants Committee publishes annually a statistical abstract * of student and financial figures relating to Universities and University Colleges in receipt of Treasury grant, and reports quinquennially on their progress and financial needs. The most recent of these reports are : University Development from 1935 to 1947 (H.M.S.O., 1948) and University Development : Report on the Years 1947 to 1952 (H.M.S.O., 1953), Cmd. 8875.

In 1951–52 (the latest period for which complete returns of University income are available), recurrent Treasury grants had risen to 63·7 per cent. (£16,416,645) of University income. The remainder was derived from fees of various kinds (including Ministry of Education Tuition Grants for Teachers in Training) : 14·8 per cent. (£3,807,440) ; grants made by Government Departments other than the Treasury : 2·8 per cent. (£710,348) ; endowments for general and particular purposes : 5·2 per cent. (£1,347,570) ; local authority grants : 4·1 per cent. (£1,044,151) ; donations and subscriptions : 1·9 per cent. (£485,249) ; other income : 7·5 per cent. (£1,936,596). In addition, non-recurrent Treasury grants amounting to £7,002,095 were made.

Students

The number of full-time students in 1951–52 at Universities and University Colleges which were in receipt of Treasury grant is given by the University Grants Committee * as 83,458, including 19,488 women. This compares with 85,314 in the immediately preceding year (1950–51) and with 50,002 in the last year before the war (1938–39). Of the full-time students in 1951–52, 66,409 were reading for a first degree, 5505 were reading for a first diploma and 11,544 were engaged in research or other advanced work. There were also 17,058 part-time students (compared with 16,698 in 1950–51), of whom 4904 were engaged in research or other advanced work, 1882 were reading for a first degree, 1825 reading for a first diploma and 8447 were " occasional students " (i.e. persons taking intra-mural courses which, though of University standard, did not lead to a degree or diploma). The number of students admitted for the first time in 1951–52 was 22,414, of whom 20,567 were reading for a first degree and 1847 for a first diploma.

The totals given above do not take account of the students of the Queen's University of Belfast or of certain schools of the University of London which are not included in the Returns of the University Grants Committee because they were not in receipt of Treasury grant. There are also many students reading for external degrees of the University of

* See footnote to p. 6.

London (see p. 210) who are in full-time attendance at institutions which prepare students for the external examinations of the University of London but are not part of the University. These students are not included in the totals given above, nor do the totals include the students of institutions other than Universities and University Colleges in which professional education of University level is given in Theology, Teaching, Agriculture, etc. ; nor students reading for the Bar. This makes comparison with statistics of foreign countries difficult, as does also the fact that the work of the higher forms of many of the schools in Britain corresponds to the earlier stages of the work done in Colleges and collegiate departments of Universities in some other countries.

Scholarships

Few countries offer a richer variety than the United Kingdom of facilities for access to the highest forms of education. The annual Returns of the University Grants Committee * state that 72·4 per cent. of the full-time students at Universities and University Colleges in 1951–52 received some kind of financial assistance from scholarships, exhibitions or other awards, whether from public or private funds, which provided wholly or in part for the payment of their fees and other expenses. The main sources are as follows :

(i) Universities, Colleges of Universities and University Colleges. Details of "open" scholarships and exhibitions awarded from these sources may be obtained from the official Calendars or Handbooks of the individual institutions, but no particulars are readily available to show the total number or value in a given year.

(ii) Local Education Authorities. In England and Wales, the awards made by local education authorities are based on performance in the examination for the General Certificate of Education or in examinations of comparable standard and are intended generally to meet the needs of able students who have not succeeded in winning a State Scholarship (see below). The awards are of two main types : major awards, assessed to cover the cost of fees and of maintenance during the academic year and usually during vacations also, less a contribution from the student or his parents on a graduated income scale ; and minor awards offering assistance on a smaller scale to able students. In 1952–53, 29,115 students were being assisted in this way, of whom 23,871 held major and 5244 minor awards, 8049 major and 1574 minor awards being taken up for the first time. The expenditure of local education authorities in 1951–52 on major awards was £4,427,000 and on minor awards £731,883. In Scotland, during 1951–52, education authorities awarded bursaries to 4993 students totalling about £448,000 to enable them to attend Universities in the United Kingdom. The amount of each bursary is determined by deducting the contribution of the student or his parents (calculated on a fixed scale) from the cost of the course including fees and other necessary expenditure and of an allowance for maintenance during term-time and in vacations.

University students mainly in the form of State Scholarships awarded annually, of which there are four types: the first type is awarded on the recommendation of the bodies which conduct the examinations for the General Certificate of Education. 2391 new awards were offered in 1952 and, in all, 4519 were held in 1952–53. The second type is awarded, as an additional source of aid, to students who have already won an " open " scholarship or exhibition (i.e. an award the entry for which is unrestricted) at a University, College of a University or University College (see p. 9). In 1952, 1131 new State Scholarships were offered to holders of University awards and, in all, 3595 were held in 1952–53. The third and fourth types of State Scholarships are termed respectively Technical State Scholarships and Mature State Scholarships (intended for students of mature age). They assist students who have taken full-time or part-time courses in establishments of further education to follow a degree course. 119 new Technical and 30 new Mature State Scholarships were offered in 1952 and, in all, 341 and 78 respectively were held in 1952–53. The value of all types of State Scholarships is assessed at a level sufficient (with a contribution from the student or his parents, if required) to cover the full cost of the course including tuition fees and maintenance during the normal academic year. The mature awards are, however, assessed on rather more generous lines. The Ministry's estimates for the financial year 1953–54 include over £2,000,000 for State Scholarships of all types.

(iii) (b) Scottish Education Department. The Department awards bursaries to Scottish students who have insufficient residential connexions to qualify for awards from Scottish education authorities to enable them to attend Scottish Universities or other educational establishments. In 1951–52, 7 University bursaries totalling £875 were awarded. In addition, the Department awards Supplemental Allowances, which are analogous to the second type of State Scholarships awarded by the Ministry of Education, to Scottish students who have won approved open scholarships tenable at English Universities. In 1951–52, 70 such allowances totalling £13,175 were awarded.

(iv) Charities and Trusts. Many schools, often of ancient foundation, have endowments which are used to assist their pupils to proceed to a University. There are, in addition, a large number of educational charities and trusts, unattached to schools, with power to offer exhibitions or scholarships. Information about the awards available in any particular area can usually be obtained on application to the local education authority. The scholarships and exhibitions offered from these sources very often supplement other awards.

Of particular importance in Scotland is the CARNEGIE TRUST FOR THE UNIVERSITIES OF SCOTLAND, 22 Hanover Street, Edinburgh. Secretary and Treasurer: John R. Peddie, C.B.E., D.Litt. The annual income of the Trust is about £133,000, devoted to (A) the improvement and expansion of the Universities of Scotland in Science, Medicine, History, Economics and Mod. Langs.; (B) extending opportunities for post-graduate study and research; and (C) assisting Scottish students in the payment of Univ. class fees. Assistance in the payment of class fees is confined to persons who do not hold bursaries awarded by local Education Authorities or to those holders of Education Authority bursaries the amount of which would seem to warrant additional aid from this Trust. Class fees paid for 1951–52 amounted, in all, to £15,069 and Research Fellowships, Scholarships and Grants to £37,365. Under the Quinquennial Scheme of Distribution for the period from Oct. 1, 1952, to Sept. 30, 1957, there has been allocated a sum of £284,000, distributed annually thus: St. Andrews—£10,000; Glasgow—£16,000; Aberdeen —£10,000; Edinburgh—£16,000. These "centres" include certain extra-mural Colleges to which, in all, grants of £4800 were made.

DEGREES CONFERRED BY THE UNIVERSITIES OF THE UNITED KINGDOM

The older Universities have developed out of the Universities of the Middle Ages under the compulsion of internal forces, with very little influence from outside. The historical continuity of their evolution and their individual independence account for certain customs and usages in which they differ one from another and from Universities in other lands. Their titles of degrees afford an illustration of this. A University of the Middle Ages was a Guild of learned men. Teaching was the craft of the Guild, whose fellowship carried with it the right to teach. An admitted aspirant for fellowship was termed a bachelor. The members of the Guild recognized his apprenticeship after submitting him to certain tests or, as we should term them, examinations. After gaining some experience in teaching, and successfully maintaining a thesis in public disputation, the bachelor attained to his degree. Admitted into the Guild, with its jus ubique docendi, he was known indifferently as doctor, master or professor. Still following this ancient usage, the first Arts degree in Scotland is the mastership, M.A. In Oxford and Cambridge, where the examination for the bachelorship grew to be the determining test, the mastership, which carries with it all the privileges of membership of the Guild or Senate, follows without further examination after an interval of two or three years, but in no case less than six years from matriculation. For convenience in standardizing the attainments of their alumni, modern Universities have divided the degree into stages—usually described as the "first" and the "higher" degrees—Bachelorship, Mastership and Doctorate. Notes on the regulations relating to these degrees are given below and a list of abbreviations for the various titles of degrees awarded by Universities appears in the preliminary pages.

First Degrees in Arts and Science

The conferment of a first degree marks the satisfactory completion of a three or four years' University course. At Oxford and Cambridge, where the Faculty of Arts is not sub-divided, B.A. is the first degree whether the course leading to it be literary or scientific, but at all other Universities a course in Arts leads to the B.A. (in Scotland, M.A.), in Science to the B.Sc., and similarly to other titles in other departments of knowledge (see below). At St. Andrews the B.Litt. may be taken either conjointly with, or after, the M.A., whereas the B.Phil. of St. Andrews and the B.Litt. of Glasgow are higher degrees awarded only after advanced study. At Oxford the B.Litt. and the B.Sc. are higher degrees which are awarded only for special study and research, like the M.Litt. and the M.Sc. of Cambridge; there is no B.Sc. or B.Litt. at Cambridge.

First degree courses are of two main kinds, those in which the student specializes with some intensity, and those which enable him to spread his studies over a wider field but less intensively. Even in the latter there is always some correlation of subjects so that collectively they constitute a unified discipline. Universities describe these two types by different names; formerly the intensive kind was usually called an Honours degree and the other kind a Pass or Ordinary degree. These terms are still used but alternatively in some Universities they are called Special and General degrees. Special degrees are usually awarded with Honours, and General degrees may be awarded with Honours at some Universities.*

Lambeth Degrees

Under the Peter Pence Act (25 Henry VIII Cap. 21) the Archbishop of Canterbury has the power to grant degrees which he exercised before the Reformation as Legatus Natus of the Pope. The degrees are in the Faculties of Theology, Medicine, Music and Law though, in effect, the granting of degrees in medicine was almost nullified by the Medical Act of 1858.

Adult Education

University Extension Courses have been promoted by the Universities of Cambridge, Oxford and London for 80 years. At Cambridge they were known as local lectures and were initiated in 1873. Oxford and London took up the work soon afterwards, and since then the other Universities and University Colleges have followed suit. These courses number several hundreds and vary in length from 6 to 25 lectures. In 1926 the Universities Extra-Mural Consultative Committee was established to consider the many aspects of extra-mural work now undertaken by the Universities, and to contribute towards the formation of a common policy. The Committee was reconstituted in 1946 as the Universities Council for Adult Education (Hon. Secretary and Treasurer, W. E. Salt, O.B.E., M.A., B.Com., Dept. of Adult Educn., The University, Bristol, 8), and is representative of each University and independent University College of England, Wales, and Northern Ireland, and of some of the Universities of Scotland. An Annual Report is printed, which gives tabular statements of the activities of University Extra-Mural Departments.

In 1903 The Workers' Educational Association was founded. In 1907 relations were established with Oxford University. Since that date relations have been established with all the Universities and University Colleges, and there are joint committees composed of representatives of the University or College and the W.E.A., which promote Three-Year Tutorial Classes, Advanced Tutorial Classes, Vacation Courses, etc. The W.E.A. is recognized by the Ministry of Education as a responsible body and most of these classes and courses, together with the thousands of classes which it provides independently of the Universities, rank for grants from public funds. General Secretary, Harry Nutt, Central Office : 27 Portman Square, London, W.1. (Telephone : Welbeck 0491.)

The National Institute of Adult Education (England and Wales), 35 Queen Anne Street, London, W.1 ; Telephone: Langham 3155 (Sec.: E. M. Hutchinson, M.A.), is a Central Body for Adult Education in which all substantial interests are nationally focused. Independent and consultative, it advises on the liberal education of adults and seeks to promote understanding and co-operation on matters of common interest. It convenes an annual conference and has a representative council meeting not less than twice a year. While it is not a " providing " body, the Institute encourages enquiry and experiment in adult education and publishes or encourages publication of results. It serves as a centre of information and undertakes such other functions as its council may, with the consent of the associated bodies, determine.

Membership extends both to corporate bodies and individuals. The bodies eligible for corporate membership are the Universities and University Colleges, the Local Education Authorities, the educational directorates of H.M. Forces, and a wide range of voluntary agencies. Individual membership maintains the tradition of the former British Institute of Adult Education (see Yearbook for 1948). The National Institute publishes quarterly Adult Education (annual subscription, 10s. 6d.) ; a six-monthly Calendar of Residential Courses (price 1s.) ;

a Directory of Organizations entitled Adult Education in the United Kingdom (2nd edition, 1952, with 1953 supplement, price 3s. 6d.) ; a Select Bibliography of Adult Education (price 12s. 6d.) ; and an annual Handlist of Studies in Adult Education (price 2s.).

Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals

In May 1918 Mr. Balfour summoned at the Foreign Office a Conference of representatives of all the Universities for the purpose of putting before them a proposal that on the invitation of the Government of the United States a Universities' Mission should be sent to America. At this meeting Mr. Balfour took the opportunity of pressing upon the Universities the desirability of establishing a representative body to which matters of interest to the Universities might be referred by Government Departments. He urged the necessity of the creation of " an organ of expression " which would voice the desires and aspirations of the British Universities and represent them in their relations with the Universities of other nations. At a subsequent meeting the Conference resolved that " it is desirable in the interests of the Universities and of the nation that steps be taken to promote co-operation and mutual consultation among the Universities of Great Britain and Ireland, and, further, that the Vice-Chancellor or Principal of each University or a deputy appointed by him, together with the Executive Committee of the Universities Bureau, be appointed a ' Standing Committee ' to consider any matters of common interest arising out of the proceedings of this Conference or submitted to it by the Government, and to report from time to time to the Conference."

The Standing Committee of Vice-Chancellors dealt with a number of subjects of common interest to the Universities, which are mentioned in previous issues of the Yearbook.

In 1929 the Standing Committee of Vice-Chancellors was dissolved and a Consultative Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals was established in its place. A new constitution of the Committee was adopted in 1950 under which its title was changed to " The Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals of the Universities of the United Kingdom." Besides the Vice-Chancellors and Principals of the Universities its membership includes in rotation two of the Principals of the four University Colleges. The deliberations of this Committee now cover all subjects of common interest to Universities. Annual conferences of the Home Universities have been held from 1946 onwards. The Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth provides the secretariat of the Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals. The two organizations have a common office at 5 Gordon Square, London, W.C.1 (Telegrams and Cables : Uniburb, Westcent, London ; Telephone : Museum 4578-9), the Secretary of the Committee being Dr. J. F. Foster. The Chairman of the Committee for 1953–54 is Sir Charles R. Morris, M.A., LL.D., Vice-Chancellor of the University of Leeds.

Parliamentary Representation of Universities

University representation in Parliament dated from 1603, when Oxford and Cambridge were granted by King James I the right to send two representatives each to the House of Commons. The privilege was subsequently extended to other Universities. In the Parliament elected in 1945 there were two representatives for Oxford, two for Cambridge, one for London, two for the combined Universities of Birmingham, Bristol, Durham, Leeds, Liverpool, Manchester, Reading and Sheffield, one for Wales, three for the combined Scottish Universities of Aberdeen, Edinburgh, Glasgow and St. Andrews, one for the Queen's University of Belfast.

By the Representation of the People Act, 1948, separate University constituencies in the Parliament of the United Kingdom were abolished from the end of the existing Parliament, and accordingly University representation came to an end with the dissolution of February 1950. It still continues, however, in the Parliament of Northern Ireland (see p. 638).

GENERAL INFORMATION

Mason Science College, founded in 1880 by Sir Josiah Mason, was re-named Mason College in 1892 when it merged with the Medical Faculty of Queen's College. In 1894, the Birmingham Training College for Teachers in Elementary Schools was transferred to Mason College which was incorporated by Act of Parliament three years later as "The Mason University College." This institution was absorbed in the University of Birmingham, incorporated by Royal Charter in 1900. The Charter prescribes instruction in all branches of a liberal education, particularly in relation to the manufacturing, commercial and industrial pursuits of the Midlands.

The main Univ. bldgs. which were opened in 1909 at Edgbaston, about 3 miles from the centre of Birmingham, now house the Facs. of Science (Pure and Applied) and Commerce and Social Science, together with the Barber Inst. of Fine Arts (v. p. 50) opened in 1939, and the Students' Union and St. Francis Hall, erected in 1937. Adjoining the Edgbaston site is the Medical School, opened in 1938, at the Hospitals Centre site. The Facs. of Arts and Law, and the Depts. of Educn. and Extra-Mural Studies, are still housed in the bldgs. of Mason College in Edmund St. in the centre of the city, but it is intended to provide accomm. for them at the Edgbaston site as soon as bldg. restrictions will allow.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University of Cambridge may be said to have originated in the 12th century and before the beginning of the 13th it was almost certainly a recognized centre of study. It is a common law corporation, being a corporation by prescription consisting of a Chancellor, Masters and Scholars, who from time out of mind have had the government of their members and enjoyed the privileges of such a corporation; but its incorporation has been confirmed by statute. In 1318 Cambridge received from Pope John XXII formal recognition as a studium generale or universitas. In 1571 by Act of Parliament 13 Elizabeth, Cap. 29, An Acte for Thincorporation of bothe Thunyversities, the incorporation of the Univ. and all privileges then held under Charter or by prescription were confirmed.

The legislative and executive authority of the Univ. is vested in the REGENT HOUSE, which consists of those members of the Senate who are engaged in the teaching and administrative work of the Univ. Certain formal functions, and a right of appeal from the Regent House, are reserved to the Senate, which consists of Doctors, Masters and B.D.s.

Changes of statute can be made by the Univ. with the approval of the Privy Council.

Many executive duties, and the duty of sanctioning the submission of resolutions (called Graces) to the Regent House and the Senate, are entrusted to the Council of the Senate, which is elected by the Regent House.

The titular presiding officer at a Congregation, and the Chairman of the Council, is the Chancellor, who is by custom a non-resident distinguished in public life. His duties are in fact performed by the Vice-Chancellor, who is a Head of a College, appointed annually, in theory by the Regent House, in practice by the Council. It is customary for the Vice-Chancellorship not to be held for more than two years in succession by one person.

There are numerous Boards and Syndicates for dealing with the various branches of University business: the most important of them are the General Board of the Faculties, whose duty it is to advise the Univ. as to educational policy and to supervise and co-ordinate the work of the Faculties, and the Financial Board, whose duty it is to supervise the financial affairs of the Univ.

There are twenty Faculties: a Faculty being a body of persons furthering the study of a subject or group of subjects. The organization of teaching, research and examinations in the various subjects is in the hands of the several Faculty Boards, subject to the control of the General Board. A Faculty Board is in part composed of members elected by the Faculty. Some of the Faculties are divided into Departments, each under a Head, generally a Professor, who is responsible under the Faculty Board for its management. There are also some Departments independent of any Faculty.

The INCOME of the Univ. is derived from the endowments of specific posts, from general endowment (though to a small extent only), from the fees of students, from the statutable contributions of Colls. and from a Treasury Grant.

DISCIPLINE outside the walls of the Colls. is maintained by the Proctors.

The COLLEGES (18 for men, 2 for women) are self-governing corporate bodies distinct from the Univ., owning and managing their separate property. Their powers are, however, limited by their statutes, which cannot be altered by them without notice to the Univ. and approval by the Privy Council. The functions of the Colls. in regard to students are to provide lodging, corporate life and personal tuition, while the function of the Univ. is to provide public instruction by means of lectures and demonstrations, examinations leading to degrees and facilities for research. The affairs of the Colls. are, however, closely interwoven with those of the Univ. Most of the Fellows of Colls. are Univ. officers. Each Coll. is required by statute to contribute a certain fraction of its income to the funds of the Univ., the scale of contribution being graduated according to the College revenues.

The Colls. also maintain Fellowships for the furtherance of research, and a large number of Scholarships. The title of scholar is awarded on purely intellectual grounds, but no Coll. emolument other than an allowance for rooms is paid to an undergraduate scholar unless he satisfies the Coll. that his circumstances justify the payment.

NON-COLLEGIATE STUDENTS reside in licensed lodgings or in "Houses" recognized by the Non-Collegiate Students' Board. Such students by becoming members of Fitzwilliam House obtain opportunities for taking part in communal life (dining in Hall, belonging to athletic clubs, etc.) similar to those enjoyed by members of Colleges.

ADMISSION. See Appendix I.

The ADVISER TO OVERSEAS CANDIDATES FOR ADMISSION (N. S. Wilson, M.A. Pemb.), whose office address is 1A Rose Cresc., Cambridge (Telephone: Cambridge 57390), is prepared to correspond with applicants for admission (other than candidates for admission to courses of research) resident outside the U.K., and with Government Depts. and other agents acting on their behalf.

The DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION (Prof. of Educn.—G. R. Owst, Litt.D. Emm.; Director of Women Students—Miss M. A. Wileman, M.A. Oxon., M.A.; Sec. of the Dept.—A. G. Hunt, M.A. Pet.), 17 Brookside, Cambridge (Telephone: Cambridge 4357), is under the general control of the Education Syndicate. Postgraduate students enter for the one yr.'s professional course leading to the Certificate in Education awarded by the Cambridge Institute of Education and, if graduates of another University, must become members of the Univ. The Institute's examinations are not open to external students.

RESEARCH STUDENTS. Each application for admission must be made to the Secretary of the Board of Research Studies, and must be accompanied by (i) a diploma or other certif. of graduation at a Univ.; (ii) a statement of the course of research which the applicant desires to pursue, together with evidence of qualification, attainments and previous study; (iii) a statement of the degree, if any, for which the applicant wishes to be a candidate; (iv) a certif. or declaration of the applicant's date of birth. In exceptional cases persons who are not graduates may be admitted. The application is not granted unless it appears that (a) the course of research can conveniently be pursued within the Univ., and (b) that the applicant has produced adequate evidence that he is qualified to enter upon the proposed course. Before admission he is required to become a member of a College, or a Non-Collegiate Student. Sec. of the Board of Research Studies: L. M. Harvey, M.A. Correspondence should be addressed to the Secretary at the Old Schools, Cambridge (Telephone: Cambridge 54451).

A Research Student pursues his course under direction and supervision, prescribed by the Degree Committee of the Faculty concerned. If he should wish to obtain a degree elsewhere he may, after he has pursued his studies in the Univ. for not less than 2 terms with regularity and industry, receive a certificate to that effect signed by his supervisor and by the V.-C. After a course extending over 2 yrs. and residence in the Univ. for at least 6 terms (Cambridge graduates, 3 terms) after admission as a Research Student, the M.Sc. or M.Litt. degree may be obtained. For the Ph.D. degree (v. p. 24) 3 yrs. are ordinarily required. One year of the 3 yrs.' course may be remitted if the applicant satisfies the Board of Research Studies that he has done at least a yr.'s satisfactory research work before admission to Cambridge Univ. For any degree 6 terms' residence is essential.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS AND STUDENTSHIPS, ETC., are generally open only to members of this Univ. For details see Student's Handbook (Univ. Press), which also gives details of College Entrance Scholarships. For POSTGRADUATE AWARDS open to graduates of other Univs., see Appendix II.

DOMINION AND COLONIAL EXHIBITIONS. In view of the difficulties experienced by Dominion and Colonial students in competing for scholarships and exhbns. in the open examn. held each Dec., Trinity Coll. is prepared to consider applications made by Dominion and Colonial Univs. on behalf of their students for the grant of exhbns.; value £40 a yr. either more or less according to holder's financial circumstances. Candidates must apply through the principal authority of their Univ. Applications for next award must reach the Senior Tutor, Trinity Coll. (from whom particulars should be obtained), by May 1, 1954.

EXPENSES. Since each student, in addition to Univ. fees, pays bills to a College (or to the Non-Collegiate Board), and the charges vary from College to College, a concise general estimate gives only a rough indication, which may be supplemented by particulars obtained from the College of the student's choice; but the total annual expenditure of a student, exclusive of initial, occasional and additional expenses and of vacation expenses, may be fairly estimated at not less than about £350.

The items on which this estimate is based include an allowance for board and lodging, personal expenses (books, travelling, clothes, clubs, etc.) together with Univ. and Coll. fees. The excluded initial expenses include caution money, which is returned when the student leaves the University (in certain Colleges caution money takes the form of a payment in advance, term by term, towards the next term's bill), College admission fee (£2 to £5), matricn. £5. The "occasional" fees are for examns., about £12, and degree fees, £3. The "additional" expenses include laboratory fees for technical and scientific subjects (an additional £10 to about £25), cost of attendance at long vacation courses.

The UNIVERSITY APPOINTMENTS BOARD (for names of officers see "Administrative and other Staff," p. 95) is responsible for all matters concerning employment suitable to members of the University. Address: 6 Chaucer Rd., Cambridge. Telegrams: Appointments, Cambridge. Telephone: 54242/3.

The OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE SCHOOLS EXAMINATION BOARD, established 1873, examines or inspects and reports on the work of schools which provide education of the highest grade. It also holds yearly examns. and awards a General Certificate of Education which exempts the holder, under certain conditions, from Responsions and the Previous Examination, the minimum entrance requirements of London and other Univs., and the Preliminary examns. of various professional bodies, etc. For L.E.A. and State Scholarships, see pp. 9-10. The Regulations of the Board are published by the Oxford and Cambridge Univ. Presses (post free 1s. 10d.). Secs.: at Cambridge—A. E. E. McKenzie, M.A. Trin., 10 Trumpington St. (Telephone: Cambridge 4658); at Oxford—G. J. R. Potter, M.A., 74 High St. (Telephone: Oxford 3549).

The UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE LOCAL EXAMINATIONS SYNDICATE, instituted in 1858, is one of the eight examining bodies in England and Wales approved by the Ministry of Education for Sec. school examns. Its membership includes Univ. members, principals of schools and representatives of Local Educn. Authorities. The Syndicate conducts school examns. in Gt. Britain and overseas and examns. in English for students whose mother tongue is not English.

School Examns. in Gt. Britain. The examn. for the General Certif. of Educn. (at Advanced and Scholarship levels in June and at Ordinary level in July and December) is entrusted to a School Examns. Committee, one-half of whose members are teachers appointed by the Joint Committee of the Four Secondary Associations. School teachers, as members of Subject Committees, and as examiners, take a prominent part in this examn. The Certif. exempts the holder, under certain conditions, from Univ. entrance requirements and the Preliminary Examns. of various professional bodies, and is endorsed by the Ministry of Educn. For L.E.A. and State Scholarships, see pp. 9-10.

School Examns. Overseas. The Oversea School and Higher School Certif. Examns. are held in December in India and Pakistan, Malaya, West and East Africa, the Sudan, S. Rhodesia, the West Indies, Mauritius and elsewhere in conjunction with the Educn. Authorities, and in schools for the British community in some foreign countries. Government Scholps. to Univs. in Gt. Britain are awarded on these examns. in a number of colonies. The subjects of these overseas school examns. correspond closely to those of the General Certif. of Educn. and carry the same exemptions.

Examns. in English. These examns. for students whose mother tongue is not English are conducted in association with the British Council, and are held in Gt. Britain and about 38 countries overseas. The Certif. of Proficiency in English which exempts the holder from the entrance test in English at certain Univs., and the Diploma of English Studies, which is intended to be of the same standard as a first examn. for a Univ. hons. degree, carry the official approval of the Ministry of Education. There is also an examn. for a Lower Certif. in English.

The examn. for the Cambridge Certificate in Religious Knowledge is held in June; this Certif. is designed for teachers, Church Workers and others who desire a satisfactory proof of their knowledge of the subject.

The BOARD OF EXTRA-MURAL STUDIES undertake the liberal education of adults, mainly in the Eastern Counties, and in a few centres further afield. The Workers' Educational Association, together with other voluntary associations and the Local Education Authorities, are represented on the Board and are closely associated in the arrangement of its teaching work. Consultation also takes place through the Regional Consultative Council for Adult Education in the Eastern Counties. The teaching of the Board consists mainly of (a) Univ. Tutorial Classes, extending over three winter sessions; (b) Univ. Sessional Classes, usually of 20-24 meetings; (c) Univ. Extension Lecture Courses, usually of 10-12 meetings; (d) other special courses, many of a pioneer type.

Staff. The Board employ a number of pt.-time lectrs. and tutors, and have a staff of 17 full-time tutors and lectrs., including Resident Tutors in 7 county areas who, in addition to teaching, exercise a general supervision over the work of the Board and assist in the development of adult educn. in these areas.

Bursaries. The Board award annually bursaries to men and women in the adult educn. movement who have shown themselves to be capable of profiting by a course of Univ. study, but who, for various reasons, have not had the opportunity.

Summer Schools. The Board hold Vacation Courses, including (a) an annual Summer School, in co-operation with the W.E.A., mainly for students from Tutorial and Sessional Classes, including a training course for potential tutors in adult educn.; (b) Vacation Courses for students from overseas, mainly Europe; (c) Occasional Summer Schools, in co-operation with Facs. or Depts. of the Univ., to meet special requirements. For an experimental period, including the next 3 yrs., the Univ. will place Madingley Hall at the disposal of the Bd. in vacations for the arrangement of residential courses for adults.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was established in 1832. The College of Medicine, founded in Newcastle in 1834, was associated with the Univ. first in 1852 and more closely in 1870. The Durham College of Physical Science, later Armstrong College, was founded in 1871 in Newcastle as a part of the Univ. The reconstitution of 1937 carried the process further, establishing a central financial control. It also merged the two Newcastle Colls. in King's College, Newcastle upon Tyne.

The Univ. now consists of the Durham and Newcastle Divisions, see below. Three colls. elsewhere are affiliated to it, see pp. 118-119.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Leeds School of Medicine, founded in 1831, and the Yorkshire College of Science, founded in 1874, were united in 1884. The Coll. formed part of the Victoria Univ. from 1887 to 1904, when a Univ. was established in the city of Leeds by Royal Charter.

As the Univ. has developed during the past half-century, accomm. has been provided by the construcn. of a number of bldgs. and by the conversion of property, largely situated nr. the Univ., for the use of depts., halls of residence, etc. The Brotherton Library was completed in 1936 and the Parkinson Bldg., which contains the Central Court, a number of depts., lecture theatres and admin. offices, was opened in 1951.

CONSTITUTION. The Court is the governing body of the Univ. and is empowered to regulate and determine all Univ. matters in the ways required by the Charter and Statutes. The Council is the executive body of the Univ.

and exercises such powers as are granted to it by the Court and by Statute. Included among the powers of the Council by Statute are the institution, after a report by the Senate, of teaching offices, and the management of the financial affairs of the Univ. Subject to Statutes and Ordinances and to review by the Court, the Senate controls and generally regulates instruct. and educn. The Chancellor is the Head and Chief Officer of the Univ. and is President of the Court and the Council. In the absence of the Chancellor, the Pro-Chancellor presides at meetings of these two bodies; the Vice-Chancellor is ex officio Chairman of the Senate. The Chancellor, Pro-Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor are elected by the Court on the nomination of the Council.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University authorities desire that it should be clearly understood that they can accept no responsibility for any information concerning examns. or procedure except such as is contained in the latest edition of their own official Regns. These can always be obtained on application at the Univ. offices.

The Univ. was constituted by Royal Charter in 1836 as a body empowered to grant degrees to students of approved institutions after examn. and, until 1900, its work was confined to the examn. of students. The system whereby entrance to its examns. was restricted to students of certain affiliated Colleges was abolished, except for examns. in Medicine, in 1858. In 1878 its degrees were thrown open to women, London being the first of the Univs. of Gt. Britain to adopt this policy.

In 1900 the Univ. was reconstituted so as to strengthen the ties between it and the institutions engaged in Higher Education within a radius of 30 miles. The Senate was empowered to admit as Schools of the University institutions, situated within the administrative county of London and not carried on for the private gain or profit of the owners, which provide education of Univ. standard, and required to obtain reports at prescribed intervals on the efficiency of such schools. A special form of recognition could be given to an institution within the same area founded for research or the cultivation of any special branch of science or learning, and the Lister Institute of Preventive Medicine has been admitted in this category.

The two original Colls. of the Univ. have been incorporated in it, Univ. Coll. in 1905 and King's Coll. in 1908, by special Acts of Parliament.

Further changes in the constitution of the Univ. were made by the Statutes under the University of London Act of 1926. These Statutes came into force in March 1929. The most important change was the creation of a new body known as the Court, which is responsible for the finances of the Univ.

COURT. Under the Statutes. the Court has the custody, control and disposition of all the property, funds and investments of the Univ. and controls its finances. One of its most important duties is to apply for the grants for Univ. purposes to the University Grants Committee, the London County Council, Home Counties and other public bodies, and to distribute the sums so received between Univ. Institutes and those Schools which receive financial aid from the Univ. Prior to the reconstitution the Govt. grant had been allocated to Schools by the U.G.C.

The Court is also responsible for the development of the Bloomsbury site and the Buildings.

SENATE. Under the Statutes the Senate is the supreme governing and executive body of the Univ. in all academic matters. All Appointed Teachers at Schools of the Univ. are appointed by the Senate, which also has power to recognize as Teachers of the Univ. members of the teaching staff of certain approved public educational institutions, whether Schools of the Univ. or not. Matriculated students of Schools of the Univ. or those studying under such Recognized Teachers are eligible under certain conditions for registration as Internal Students, and are allowed, after pursuing Approved Courses of Study, to enter for the "Internal" examns. of the Univ. External Students may pursue their studies where and how they please, and are admitted, without any conditions as to attendance at Approved Courses (except in Med., Dental Surg., Pharm., Mining, Metall., Engin., Anat. and Archit.), after a period of Registration, to examns. for degrees in all subjects. The examns. for Internal and External students are in some cases separate, in others identical.

INCOME (1951–52). The total income of the Univ., including all its Schools and Institutions, for recurrent purposes during the year ending July 31, 1952, was £7,631,847. Treasury grants represented 66·6 per cent. of this total, grants from other Govt. departments 0·8 per cent. and grants-in-aid from Local Authorities 4·5 per cent. Fees (including Ministry of Education Tuition Grants for Teachers in training) represented 15·1 per cent. of the total University income. Endowments for both particular and general purposes provided 2·3 per cent., and Donations and Subscriptions 1·5 per cent. of the total Univ. income, while Contributions for Services Rendered accounted for a further 3·1 per cent. and Income from Other Sources 6·1 per cent.

The UNIVERSITY LIBRARY is a general library including all subjects studied in the Univ., but it is specially strong in the humanities. It contains over 550,000 vols. and over 3000 current periodicals, and provides reading accommodation for nearly 400 readers and an extensive loan service for members of the Univ. Among its special collections are the Goldsmiths' Library of Econ. Lit. (c. 60,000 vols. and pamphlets); the Durning-Lawrence Library containing an important collection of books by and about Sir Francis Bacon and a good working library on Shakespeare including the four folios; the De Morgan Library of mathematical and astronomical books; the Quick Memorial Library of books on education, especially rich in old text-books for the schoolroom; the Harry Price Library of magical literature; and the Eliot-Phelips Collection of Spanish books and works on the history of Spain.

The Music Library contains books and periodicals on music, music scores, gramophone records and pianola rolls, and is equipped with audition rooms. The Photographic Department is equipped to produce photostats, microfilms, enlargements, reflex and diazo copies, and work is undertaken both for Institutes and members of the Univ. and also for those unconnected with the Univ.

Each School and Institution of the Univ. has its own Library, and some particulars of these will be found below. For further details of the libraries of the Univ., see R. A. Rye: Students' Guide to the Libraries of London, 1927; R. Irwin: The Libraries of London, 1949; and L. M. Harrod: The Libraries of Greater London, 1951.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Inst. was establd. as pt. of the post-war expansion of the Univ. of London and occupies premises near the Senate House. Its aim is to act as a focal point for legal res., to provide seminar classes for students reading for higher degrees in law at a School of the Univ., and to build up a good working res. library in law. Teaching at the Inst. is undertaken by members of the law teaching staffs of Colls. and Schools in the Univ. with a Fac. of Laws, in addition to the Dir. of the Inst.

The Inst.'s Library now consists of about 33,000 books, some 5000 of which were bequeathed to the Univ. by the late Dr. Charles Huberich. The Inst. has acquired practically all U.K. law reports and Statutes and basic works, particularly those of use for seminar purposes. In addition, the Nuffield Foundation have generously made available £10,000 for the purchase of legal lit. relating to the Dominions and Colonies. Through this benefaction, the Inst. is making good progress towards the creation of a comprehensive library of British Commonwealth law. The U.S. section of the library is being considerably enlarged and many current U.S. periodicals not taken elsewhere in England are regularly received, and an attempt is being made to acquire earlier volumes as quickly as practicable.

The Institute has collated particulars of legal res. undertaken in Britain and the Commonwealth, and is in a position to pass this information on to res. workers and other enquirers. An annual list of topics in progress is prepared.

Admission to the Inst. may be granted, without fee, to teachers of law in Univs. and Univ. Colls., both in the U.K. and overseas, and to teachers in other Law Schools who are qualified to become members of the Soc. of Public Teachers of Law; to postgraduate students engaged on approved res., and to other Univ. students attending a class or seminar at the Inst.; and to other persons by permission of the Dir.

Persons who already hold a res. degree or have published the results of their researches, or have had considerable training or practical experience in the law, may be admitted to the use of the Inst., either on payment of a fee, or without fee, if duly invited and willing to assist in the work of a seminar held at the Inst.

Postgrad. students, whether reading for a degree or dipl. or not, must register at a Coll. or Sch. of the Univ. with a Fac. of Laws (viz. King's Coll., Univ. Coll., L.S.E. and the Sch. of Oriental and African Studies). When so registered, they will become eligible, on the recommendation of their teachers, for admission to the Institute.

PUBLICATIONS. Annual Report presented to the Senate; annual list of Legal Research Topics in British Univs. Library publications: No. 1, A Survey of Legal Periodicals held in British Libraries (1949); No. 2, Union List of Commonwealth Law Literature in Libraries in Oxford, Cambridge and London (1952).

THE YEAR 1951–52

The Library increased by 4635 books to a total of 30,550 on July 31, 1952. The number of readers during the session was 231.

SECRETARY/LIBRARIAN—A. R. HEWITT.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Inst. was establd. in 1949 to promote advanced study of the Commonwealth. Its field of interest is primarily, but not exclusively, that of the social sciences. It encourages collaboration at postgrad. level between workers who are employing different techniques of res. in the study of Commonwealth problems. It provides a meeting-place both for postgrad. students and members of the academic staffs of Univs. and res. institutions in the U.K. and overseas countries of the Commonwealth. Seminars, usually of the "inter-disciplinary" type, are held for advanced students during the Univ. terms. Admission to them is on recommendation by supervisors of studies or at the discretion of the Dir.

LIBRARY. The library does not set out to compete with the great collections but selects material of special value for res. and postgrad. teaching. It places particular emphasis upon primary material relating to govt., econ. and social development, race relations and demography, and with this object it regularly acquires official publicns., stats., guides to archives, etc., of the U.K. and Commonwealth countries. It is also acquiring a good selection of sec. works on the development of the Commonwealth during the past century. It subscribes to periodicals of significance for the study of the Commonwealth.

A strong bibliographical section is being built up by the acquisition of bibliographies, indexes to periodical lit., guides and indexes to govt. and parliamentary papers of the U.K. and Commonwealth countries, and similar aids to res. A bibliography of bibliographies in the library is maintained and a register of res. in progress and of deposited theses in London and other U.K. Univs. is being compiled. It is hoped to assemble, so far as possible, similar material relating to res. being done in other parts of the Commonwealth.

Particulars as to admission and forms of applicn. may be obtained from the Secretary/Librarian.

The Institute publishes an Annual Report.

THE YEAR 1951–52

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded by Dr. George Birkbeck in 1823 "for the purpose of giving education to students in the principles of the Arts they practise, and in the various branches of Science and useful knowledge." The principal aim of the College is to enable men and women engaged in full-time occupations during the day to employ their leisure in reading for first degrees in Arts and Pure Science or to engage in research with a view to higher degrees in these Faculties. While the College is primarily intended for evening and part-time students, undergraduates may in their final year be admitted to full-time study and

THE YEAR 1951–52

BUILDINGS. The removal from the old premises in the City to the new building in Malet St. was completed in the early autumn of 1951 and the process of settling in continued over much of the early part of the session. Owing to the absence in the new building of lecture rooms for the Fac. of Arts the benefit has accrued almost entirely to the Fac. of Science, to the Depts. of Geog. and Psychol. (which are common to both Facs.), and to the Library. Accommodation for lectures in the Fac. of Arts was generously provided by the Inst. of Education, the Sch. of Oriental and African Studies, the Sch. of Slavonic and East European Studies, the London Sch. of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine and the Senate House.

The construction of an assembly hall to seat 200 was begun during the year.

ANNIVERSARY. The 128th anniversary of the foundation of the Coll. was celebrated on April 23, 1952, when the oration was delivered by Sir Maurice Bowra, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Oxford, who spoke on "The Study of Literature."

OTHER EVENTS. Dr. A. L. Goodhart, Master of University Coll., Oxford, delivered the Haldane Memorial Lecture, his subject being "The Purpose of a University."

On January 31, 1952, Dame Helen Gwynne-Vaughan, G.B.E., opened the Gwynne-Vaughan Research Lab. which commemorates the work done by her late husband and herself in the Dept. of Botany.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded by Royal Charter in 1907 for the purpose of giving the highest specialized instruction and providing the fullest equipment for the most advanced training and research in various branches of Science, especially in its application to Industry, the Imperial College includes as integral parts the following Associated Colleges with the departments and (in brackets) sub-departments attached to them:

ROYAL COLLEGE OF SCIENCE: Botany (Biochemistry, Plant Physiology, Plant Pathology, Bacteriology); Chemistry (Agricultural Chemistry, Food and Drugs), Inorganic and Physical, Organic; Geology, except the sub-depts. of Mining Geology, Oil Technology; Mathematics; Meteorology; Physics (Technical Optics, Applied Geophysics); Zoology and Applied Entomology.

ROYAL SCHOOL OF MINES: Metallurgy, Mineral Dressing, Mining, Mining Geology, Oil Technology.

CITY AND GUILDS COLLEGE: Aeronautics (Aerodynamics, Aero-Structures, Aircraft Propulsion); Engineering—Chemical and Applied Chemistry, Civil, Electrical, Mechanical.

The total staff is about 275. The College is a School of the University in Science and Engineering. Students who are registered as candidates for one of the Associateships and who have qualified for entrance to the University of London are eligible for the B.Sc. Degree of the University in the Faculties of Science and Engineering, on the courses and examinations for the relative Associateship, if the University's regulations are complied with. The courses of study are designed for students of University standard whose vocations will be concerned with the scientific aspects of industries. The buildings occupy about 8 acres and cost with equipment about £1,500,000. There is also a Field Station at Silwood Park, Sunninghill.

ADMINISTRATION. The administration of the Imperial College is vested in a Governing Body consisting of 52 members representing the Crown, the self-governing Countries of the Commonwealth, the Ministry of Education, the University of London, the London County Council, the City and Guilds of London Institute, the Royal Commissioners for the Exhibition of 1851, the Royal Society, the Teaching Staff of the Imperial College, and learned societies concerned with industries. The Rector, as chief administrative officer of the Imperial College, and the three Deans are also members.

LIBRARIES. The Library of the Science Museum is available for the use of Students, and each Dept. is provided with a special Library.

ADMISSION. The conditions of admission are as under, but the College reserves power to admit in special cases candidates whose qualifications do not in every respect coincide with those prescribed, but whose previous training fits them to take full advantage of the course proposed; the prescribed qualifications give no right to admission, but will be considered with others of which the candidate may give evidence. For admission to first-yr. courses candidates must normally have qualified for Univ. Entrance and have passed at Advanced level in the Gen. Cert. of Educn. or its equivalent, in Chem., Physics, and Maths.; requirements vary somewhat according to the course. A limited number of students are accepted to take a Prelim. (Inter.) course which is held at Battersea Polytechnic. This is restricted to those entering the Royal School of Mines or those taking courses in Bot., Geol., Physics and Zool. at the Royal Coll. of Sc. The minimum age for admission is 17. Women are admitted on the same terms as men.

DIPLOMA AND OTHER COURSES. The undergraduate courses extend over 3 yrs. and lead up to an Associateship (A.R.C.S., A.R.S.M., A.C.G.I.), and to the B.Sc. (Special) or B.Sc. (Engineering) Degree as the case may be. The Associateship and the Degree are awarded on the same examinations. The postgraduate courses and research lead up to the Diploma of Membership of the Imperial College (D.I.C.), and to the higher Degrees of the University of London. Special arrangements are made for graduates and persons engaged in scientific industrial pursuits.

FEES. Entrance, £2; Tuition per session (Oct.-June), for full-time undergraduate students, £60; for part-time, at the rate of £63 per session; for full-time postgraduate students (a) carrying out research, £30 per session; (b) taking courses of study, £60 per session; for part-time, at the rate of £33 and £63 per session respectively. An additional charge may be made for expensive apparatus or chemicals.

SCHOLARSHIPS. Royal Scholps., Entrance Scholps. and Exhibitions for undergraduate courses awarded on an examination held at Schools; Special Scholps. available in Mining.

POSTGRUADATE AWARDS open to graduates of other Univs.: see Appendix II.

AFFILIATION, ETC. The Univ. of Sheffield is associated with the Coll. for Advanced Studies in the Metallurgy of Iron and Steel.

In collaboration with L.S.E. the Coll. arranges courses in Postgrad. Studies in Technol., Econ. and Admin.

APPOINTMENTS BOARD. The Coll. Appts. Bd. assists Associates and Members of the Coll. to find employment on the completion of their Coll. courses.

HOSTEL. There is a residential hostel at the College, with accommodation in the women's wing for 13 students, and in the men's for 76; fees: £13-£15 per term. Meals are provided by the Refectory at about 7s. per day, at present. Enquiries should be addressed to the Hostess, Imperial College Hostel. There is also a Hall of Residence at 50 Holland Park (Telephone: Park 7041), with accommodation for 15 students.

STUDENTS' UNION. The Imperial College Union building in Prince Consort Road is the home of the various student organizations, including the Imperial College Union, the Royal College of Science Union, the Royal School of Mines Union, the City and Guilds College Union, and a large number of Societies and Athletic Clubs. There is a College Refectory in the building, and a College Bookstall.

PUBLICATIONS. Annual Report; Calendar; Prospectus; Careers Pamphlets. No charge is made for any of these publications.

GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORY. As a result of the recommendations of the Reay Cttee. in 1908, the School was established by Royal Charter in 1916 as the "School of Oriental Studies, London Institution," in Finsbury Circus; it was granted the status of a School of the Univ. and was later allocated space for a permanent (not yet fully completed) bldg. on the Bloomsbury site of the Univ. In 1938 among other amendments to the Charter the title of the Sch. was changed to "School of Oriental and African Studies." At outbreak of second World War it moved to Christ's Coll., Camb., but later returned to Lond. A large no. of intensive courses were given for service personnel, esp. in Chinese, Japanese, Burmese, Arabic, Turkish, Persian and Urdu, and much translation work was done for the various Ministries as well as censorship duties. Largely as a result of the Sch.'s initiative an Interdepartmental Commission was set up under the Earl of Scarbrough's chairmanship to report on the provision for teaching and res. at Univ. level in Oriental, Slavonic, E. European and African studies. The Commission recommended a substantial expansion of existing facilities and from 1947 large grants for Oriental and African studies have been made by the U.G.C. In accordance with the Commission's recommendation that the whole field of Oriental and African Studies should be developed in Lond., as against a more restricted development in other Univs., the Sch. devoted its energies in the 1st post-war quinquennium to building up strong, coherent academic depts., in which a proper balance is sought as between linguistic and cultural studies, and the classical and modern aspects of those studies. Since then the staff has been steadily strengthened by numerous new appts.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The School, founded by the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain in 1842, was admitted as a School of the Univ. in 1925. Control of the School was transferred from the Pharmaceutical Society to a Company limited by guarantee in 1949. A Royal Charter of Incorporation was granted to the School in 1952. The Council of the School, as now constituted, includes representatives of the Univ. of London, the Pharmaceutical Society and the Academic Board, as well as certain co-opted members. There is an Academic Board which acts in an advisory capacity. The School will move to a new building in Brunswick Sq. as soon as this is completed.

All undergraduate entrants to the School work for the B.Pharm. Hons. degree. All depts. of the School are available for postgraduate and research work, and the respective Professors and Heads of Depts. are always prepared to advise students wishing to undertake research.

All students are entitled to use the Library of the Pharmaceutical Society, which is in the same building.

The School is open to men and women students. Foreign students are admitted on the same terms as British, but are expected to produce identification papers.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded in 1826 and opened Oct. 1, 1828, under the name of "The University of London," the College was incorporated as "University College, London," by Royal Charter in 1836. On Jan. 1, 1907, it was incorporated in the University of London.

LIBRARY. The College Library contains about 600,000 books and pamphlets, some of which are inaccessible owing to shortage of accommodation following the destruction of the Library buildings during the war. The General Library and part of the main building have now been restored, but some sections of the Library are in temporary premises elsewhere in College.

The Library contains books in all subjects taught in College, and is particularly strong in archæology (Yates Library), Egyptology (Edwards Library), London history, American and Latin-American history, Scandinavian studies, and the biological and medical sciences. A list of the most important special collections is given in the College Calendar; some of these are among the books not accessible at present.

The libraries of the Folk-Lore Society, the Geologists' Association, the Hertfordshire Natural History Society and Field Club, the Malacological Society, and the London Mathematical Society are deposited in the College Library, whilst those of the Viking Society for Northern Research and of the British Society of Franciscan Studies are now the property of the College.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Federation was established by the Senate in 1945 for the further development of postgraduate medical education in London. It was incorporated by Royal Charter in March 1947, and admitted as a School of the Univ. in Dec. 1947. The purpose of the Federation is to provide organized and correlated facilities for postgraduate teaching and research for qualified medical practitioners from the U.K., the Dominions, Colonies and abroad, and to co-operate with Univs., Medical Schools, the Royal Colls. and other bodies in their provisions for postgraduate medical education. The Federation provides: (i) Training for prospective specialists, supplementing the work of the undergraduate medical schools. (ii) Advanced revision for practising specialists. (iii) Instruction for medical practitioners who, though not specialists, desire more detailed knowledge of any branch of medicine. (iv) Continuing education of general practitioners.

The Federation comprises at present: Federated Institutes—Postgraduate Medical School of London, Institute of Psychiatry, Institute of Laryngology and Otology, Institute of Ophthalmology, Institute of Child Health, Institute of Obstetrics and Gynæcology, Institute of Neurology, Institute of Orthopædics, Institute of Dental Surgery, Institute of Cancer Research. These have been approved by the Senate for recognition as Federated Institutes. Associated Institutes—Institute of Diseases of the Chest, Institute of Cardiology, Institute of Dermatology, Institute of Urology, Institute of Basic Medical Sciences. These are in various stages of development and expansion with a view to recognition in due course.

The provision for postgraduate education at the Institutes and the hospls. associated with them includes full-time and pt.-time courses of advanced instruction, clinical clerkships, junior and senior resident hospl. appts. and opportunities for research. They provide instruction for the relevant branches of the M.D., M.S., M.D.S. and Ph.D. degrees and the postgraduate diplomas in Clinical Pathol. and Psychol. Medicine of the Univ.

The Federation organizes short courses for general practitioners at hospitals in the four London Metropolitan Regions ; these include a number of courses consisting of half-day sessions, at undergraduate and postgraduate teaching hospitals. The administration of the Federation is carried out by the Central Office, which maintains a bureau of information on postgraduate medical education in the U.K.

The Federation awards a limited number of Travelling Fellowships annually to medically or dentally qualified men and women who are holding appts. or are engaged in postgraduate study at undergraduate or postgraduate teaching hospls. or medical schools of the Univ. of London.

Following the institution of the National Health Service in July 1948, the Federation appointed to the staff of the Central Office a Regional Adviser for Postgraduate Medical Educn. in each of the four Metropolitan Regions to carry out the policy of the Univ. and the Federation in arranging postgraduate education for the practitioners, both specialist and general, in the Region. They are members of the administrative staff of the Central Office (see p. 354.).

GENERAL INFORMATION

Owens College, named after a Manchester merchant who bequeathed £96,000 for its foundation, was opened in 1851. The Manchester School of Medicine was united with it in 1872. The Charter of 1880 by which the Victoria Univ. was founded established a federal constitution and made Owens a constituent Coll. of the Univ. Subsequently Univ. Coll., Liverpool, and Yorkshire Coll., Leeds, were admitted as constituent Colls. A new Charter was issued on July 15, 1903, reconstituting the Univ. under the name of the Victoria Univ. of Manchester and freeing it from liability to admit or remain in association with any Coll. other than Owens, and on June 24, 1904, the Act for the incorporation of Owens College with the Univ. was passed. In 1905, on the establishment of the Faculty of Technology, the work of Univ. standard at the Municipal School (now College) of Tech. was included in the Univ.

Most of the buildings erected from time to time during the past 50 years are situated in the city. The Departments of Bacteriology, Preventive Medicine and Pathology are ½ mile distant, adjoining principal hospitals. The main athletic ground (30 acres) is at Fallowfield, about 1½ miles distant, while a further 50 acres at Wythenshawe, about 3 miles distant, are also being brought into use.

CONSTITUTION. The governing body of the Univ. is the Court of Governors, whose executive committee is the Council: the Senate, which consists of all the Profs. of the Univ., regulates academic matters. Faculties are controlled by their own boards within the authority granted by Senate and Council. The Chancellor presides over the Court, the Council elects its own Chairman, the Vice-Chancellor presides over the Senate.

INCOME (year ended July 31, 1952). Total Income £1,224,584. (Treasury grants, 72·1 per cent.; fees, 13·6 per cent.; other Govt. depts., 2·8 per cent.; endowments, 5·8 per cent.; local authorities, 2·5 per cent.; other items, 3·2 per cent.)

The books on scientific subjects remain in the old (Christie) building, which also contains the Library of the Manchester Museum. The library includes the private collections of Profs. Freeman, Stanley Jevons, Alexander and Gordon and Dr. Christie. Scientific periodicals are taken in by the Univ. in co-operation with the Manchester Literary and Philosophical Society, so that between them all the most important are available for both. The Medical Society's and the Radford Library (over 96,900 vols.) are housed in the Med. School, and available for students. The Library for Deaf Education (over 8300 vols.) is available to all interested in the educn. of the deaf. The MSS., both Eastern and Western, are notable for their fine examples of calligraphy and illumination and for their many important texts, on papyrus, parchment and other materials. In addition there is an extensive collection of charters, manorial and legal records and family muniments relating to almost every county in England. The ancient Chetham Library (100,000 vols.) has valuable mediæval MSS. and printed books of 17th and 18th centuries and specializes in local history and topography. The Municipal Reference Library (400,000 vols.) is a valuable collection of books and periodicals, which includes a Technical and Science Library of 79,000 vols., 27,000 of these consisting of British, American and Dominions patent specifications. One of the most important Special Reference Collections deals with British Parliamentary Papers from 1833, with a considerable number of an earlier date. ## GENERAL INFORMATION

The Univ. originated in the Adult School established in 1798, the Mechanics' Institute and the People's College, developments leading to the Univ. Extension Lectures inaugurated in Nottingham in 1873—the first in the country—by the Univ. of Cambridge. An anon. gift of £10,000 in 1875, encouraged the Corporation of Nottingham to erect a bldg., maintain it, and supply instruc. The bldg., in Shakespeare St., was opened in 1881 as the University Coll., Nottingham, incorporated by Royal Charter in 1903. There were at first 4 professorships (Lit., Phys., Chem., Natural Sci.); by 1903 3 new depts. were added; 7 further depts. achieved independent entity by 1914.

A large estate some 3 miles W. of Nottingham, and new buildings completed in 1928, were provided by the late Lord Trent, giving room for expansion. In 1938 a supplemental Charter reconstituted the governing body, providing for much wider representation. The Coll. was relieved in 1945 of responsibility for evening and part-time education in the area; in 1947 the Midland Agricultural Coll. at Sutton Bonington became the Coll. Sch. of Agric., and an Inst. of Education was founded. Between 1945 and 1949, 5 new depts. and 6 new professorships were established. Since 1948, when the Univ. Charter was granted, 140 acres have been purchased, bringing the site to a total of 260 acres, and new bldgs., including a Hall of Residence, have been erected.

INCOME (1951–52). Total income, £453,040. Percentages derived from principal sources: Parliamentary grants, 60·6 per cent.; fees, 20·1 per cent.; local authority grants, 16·1 per cent.; endowments, donations and subscriptions, 2 per cent.; other income, 1·2 per cent.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Monasteries and abbeys brought clerks to Oxford in early Norman times, but the Univ. was not established until the reign of Henry II. About 1167, foreign-born scholars were driven out of Paris, and the rapid development at Oxford indicates that students transferred there. In the 13th century the influence of the Dominicans, Franciscans and Carmelites deeply affected the advancement of learning in Oxford, and the first three Colls. (University, Balliol and Merton) were endowed. St. Mary's Church was the official centre of Univ. life until, in the 15th century, the Divinity School was built. From the 13th century onwards a succession of Charters from the Crown strengthened the position of the Univ. In the Renaissance period the Univ. flourished, and 5 more Colls. were built. During the Reformation the Colls. suffered from confiscations of land and revenue, and the character of the Univ. changed with the dissolution of the monasteries. In 1571, the Univ. was incorporated by Act of Parliament, and much reorganization followed. The important code of statutes introduced in 1636 by Archbishop Laud, Chancellor of the Univ., remained in force with certain modifications for about 150 yrs. During the Civil War, the Univ. supported the King, who made Oxford his headquarters, and Parliament was held there. Under Cromwell, who was Chancellor from 1651 to 1657, an attempt was made to restore standards of work and discipline. Towards the end of the 18th century, the standard of studies rose as written examns. gradually took the place of oral examns. The constitution was revised in 1854 after a Royal Commission, and a Statutory Commission made comprehensive changes in 1877. College Statutes were re-made and studies reorganized. The professoriate was increased and re-endowed. In 1871, religious tests were abolished, and the M.A. degree was thrown open to nonconformists. Thereafter the hist. of the Univ. was one of steady progress and expansion. The Royal Commission of 1920–21 made no drastic changes, but the Statutory Commission which succeeded it adapted the existing machinery to meet the needs of the times, one result being that the Univ. was given an annual Treasury grant.

CONSTITUTION. The Congregation of the University consists mainly of the teaching and administrative elements in the Univ. and Colleges. It is the principal legislative body in the Univ. and, subject to the postponing power of Convocation explained below, can adopt, reject or amend legislative proposals submitted by the Hebdomadal Council. Convocation, a larger body consisting of all Masters of Arts and Doctors of the Faculties of Divinity, Civil Law, and Medicine who have their names on the Univ. books, has the power of postponing, but not of rejecting or amending, Statutes or Decrees which have been passed by the vote of less than two-thirds of the members of Congregation present and voting. It also confers honorary degrees and degrees granted by Diploma. It sanctions petitions to Parliament, and authorizes the affixing of the Univ. seal when necessary. The Hebdomadal Council consists of the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, immediate ex-Vice-Chancellor (for one year after the expiry of his term of office), or one of the Pro-Vice-Chancellors who has not held the office of Vice-Chancellor, the Proctors, and 18 members elected by Congregation. It takes the initiative in all legislation of the Univ. and forms the central administrative body. Other important bodies, endowed with considerable powers and responsibilities, are the General Board of the Faculties and the Curators of the University Chest.

There are 14 Faculties, namely: Theol., Law, Med., Literæ Humaniores, Mod. Hist., Engl. Lang. and Lit., Med. and Mod. Langs., Oriental Studies, Phys. Sciences (including Maths.), Biol. Sciences, Social Studies, Anthropol. and Geog., Music, Agric. and Forestry. The organization of teaching, res. and examns. in the various subjects is in the hands of the several Faculty Boards, except that in the case of Psychology power is vested in a Bd. of Studies. The work of the Faculty Boards and Board of Studies is subject to the control of the General Board of the Faculties. A Faculty Board is in part composed of members elected by the Faculty.

The Chancellor, elected for life by Convocation, is a non-resident Officer. The executive power is chiefly in the hands of his Deputy, the Vice-Chancellor, who is annually nominated by him from among the Heads of Colleges, and the Proctors annually elected by the Colleges, Halls and other Societies in rotation.

The Colleges are corporate bodies distinct from the Univ. They manage their own property and elect their own officers; and the Proctors have no power within their walls. Their Statutes, however, render them subject to certain Univ. Statutes which deal, among other things, with reservation of a proportion of Fellowships for Univ. teachers and officers, the assignment of Fellowships to University Professorships, the admission of undergraduates, contributions for Univ. purposes, the presentation and audit of accounts, and the special examination of catering accounts. The relation between the Univ. and the Colleges is intimate. The great majority of the members of the Univ. belong to the Colleges, and all who belong to the various Colleges are at the same time members of the Univ. Teaching is given partly by Univ. Profs., Readers, Lecturers and Demonstrators, partly by the more numerous body of College Tutors and Lectrs.

Under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1923, which set up a Statutory Commission for Oxford, new Statutes were made for the University and for the Colleges. These Statutes were laid before Parliament and received the approval of the King in Council. A summary of the most noteworthy changes embodied in them, prepared by Sir Henry Sharp, K.C.I.E., the Secretary to the Commission, will be found in the Yearbook for 1929, pp. 221 and 222.

ADMISSION. See Appendix I.

ADMISSION OF NON-MEMBERS OF THE UNIVERSITY (a) TO LECTURES. Admission to lectures in the Schools (but not to classes, seminars or informal instruction) is granted on certain conditions to persons who are not members of the University on payment of £5 a term, or, if admission to lectures in one Faculty only is desired, of £3 a term, or, where special privileges have been granted, without fee.

Fees are to be paid at the Office of the University Chest, Clarendon Building, Broad Street. Other enquiries should be made of the Clerk of the Schools at the Examination Schools.

Non-members of the Univ. may attend lectures and classes in Mod. Foreign Langs. on payment of fees varying from 10s. to 15s. per term for one hour a week. Application should be made to the Clerk of the Curators, Taylor Institution.

(b) TO REGISTER OF RECOGNIZED STUDENTS. 1. A Board of a Faculty or a Board of Studies may place the name of any applicant on the Register provided that the applicant (a) is not a member of the Univ., (b) possesses the qualifications required from candidates for admission to the status of Senior Student, (c) is placed under a Director of Studies appointed by the Board. 2. Application for admission as a Recognized Student shall be made to the Secretary of Faculties for submission to the appropriate Faculty Board or Board of Studies and shall be accompanied by (a) evidence of the degrees previously obtained by the applicant, (b) a statement of the proposed subject of study, (c) a certificate from a Prof. or Head of a Dept. of the Univ. supporting the application. 3. Every Recognized Student shall pay to the Curators of the Univ. Chest (a) a fee of £5 : 5s. on admission or readmission to the Register, (b) a terminal fee of £5 so long as his name is on the Register, (c) a composition fee under the provisions of Statt. Tit. XIX. § 26 (£10 or £6) if he is working as a student under regular instruction or supervision in any of the depts. or instns. included in the schedule attached to that sub-section, (d) a supervision fee of £5 or a tuition fee of £8 in every Term in respect of which he shall have been certified by his Director of Studies to have received supervision or tuition, as the case may be. 4. A Recognized Student shall cease to hold that status (a) if he shall have failed to pay the fees required under clause 4 (b), (c) or (d), (b) if his name shall have been removed from the Register by the Faculty Board or Board of Studies concerned. 5. Every Recognized Student shall be entitled: (i) to use the Univ. Libraries subject to the provision of the statutes governing particular Libraries; (ii) to attend lectures advertised in the lists of Boards of Faculties and Studies provided that attendance (a) at lectures described as seminars or classes or informal instruction shall be subject to the permission of the holder, (b) at lectures given in any Coll. bldg. shall be subject to the right of the Coll. concerned to refuse admission; (iii) to work in any Univ. Dept. or Instn. subject to the agreement of the Head of that Dept. or Instn. and subject to the provisions of clauses 3 (c) and 4 (c) above if the Dept. or Instn. is included in the schedule attached to Statt. Tit. XIX. § 28. 6. No Recognized Student shall have his name on the Register of Recognized Students for more than 3 terms. 7. A Faculty Board or Board of Studies shall have power to remove from the Register the name of any Recognized Student which it has placed on the Register.

ENTRANCE SCHOLARSHIPS (£100) AND EXHIBITIONS (£40-£80) are awarded by the various Colleges. Their actual value, in the large majority of cases, is £30 a year (or its equivalent), but a scholar or exhibitioner, after election, may be granted an additional sum not exceeding the advertised maximum of his award if he supplies satisfactory evidence that he is in need of further assistance.

THE ACTING ADVISER OF OVERSEAS STUDENTS. See under "University Administrative and other Staff," above.

INCORPORATION. Members of the Univs. of Cambridge and Dublin can be, under certain conditions, "incorporated" into this Univ., i.e. admitted to the status and degree held in their own Univ. Notice of intention to incorporate as an undergraduate must be sent to the Registrar through the Head of a Coll., Hall or Society. The privileges of incorporation as a graduate are limited to (a) B.A., M.A., B.D., D.D. of those Univs., LL.B., LL.D., M.B., M.D., M.Chir. of Cambridge; (b) Sc.D., Mus.D., Litt.D. and Ph.D. of Cambridge or Dublin, if, being qualified, candidate also incorporates as M.A., or is eligible for membership of Congregation if voted M.A. by Decree. Graduates in Law of Cambridge shall, when incorporated, become B.C.L. or D.C.L., and Sc.D.s, Mus.D.s and Litt.D.s of Cambridge or Dublin shall become D.Sc., D.Mus. and D.Litt. of Oxford. Any applicant for incorporation must have kept by residence at his Univ. before taking his degree the same number of terms that he would have been required to keep at Oxford for the corresponding degree. If incorporating into two degrees, only the fee for the higher degree is payable. While an undergraduate is allowed to incorporate as a matter of course, a graduate must first satisfy the Hebdomadal Council that there are adequate reasons, e.g. that an educational post has been obtained at Oxford.

In 1910 a Delegacy for WOMEN STUDENTS was constituted, and provision made for recognition by the Univ. of Societies for their reception for academical study, students on the books of such Recognized Societies being accorded a privileged status. Under the provisions of a Statute approved by Convocation on May 11, 1920, which came into force on Oct. 7, 1920, women may be matriculated and admitted to degrees in the Univ. In that year the Delegacy for Women Students was abolished. Previous to matricn. a woman must have been admitted as a member of one of the 5 Societies of Women Students. A woman may be admitted to Responsions before matricn. provided her name is sent in to the Asst. Registrar by the Head or a Tutor of a Soc. to which she bona fide desires admission. Women members of the Univ. are admitted to all degrees under the same conditions as those prescribed for men as regards standing, examns., course of study, exercises and fees, and under analogous conditions as regards residence. A Women Students' Property Committee administers all property vested in the Univ. for the benefit of women members of the Univ. generally, and in particular the Nettleship Library and Bertha Johnson Loan Fund.

The number of resident undergraduate members of St. Anne's College (who keep statutable residence in hostels or houses approved by the Council of the College) is limited to 220 (exclusive of "Advanced Students," and persons provisionally accepted as "Advanced Students" by Faculty Boards before coming into residence, being graduates of other Univs.); but in the first 4 yrs. after incorporation by Royal Charter (granted on May 19, 1952) a number in excess of 220 by 40, 30, 20, and 10 in each succeeding yr., is permitted to reside.

The number of undergraduates in residence at the other Societies of Women Students is limited by Statute to 190 (exclusive of "Advanced Students" and persons provisionally accepted as "Advanced Students" by Faculty Boards before coming into residence, being graduates of other Universities) in the cases of Lady Margaret Hall, Somerville Coll., St. Hugh's Coll. and St. Hilda's Coll.

TERMS. The Academical year, which begins in Oct. and ends in July, consists of 3 terms, Michaelmas, Hilary and Trinity, beginning, respectively, on Oct. 1, Jan. 10, and the Wednesday after Easter Day, and ending Dec. 17, the day before Palm Sunday, and the Saturday after the first Sunday in July. Residence within the walls of a College or Hall, or in licensed lodgings,* during a certain number of terms, usually 9, and never less than 6, is a condition of admission to any degree. Full terms: 1953–54—Oct. 11 to Dec. 5; Jan. 17 to March 13; April 25 to June 19.

DEGREES. B.A., M.A., B.Litt., D.Litt.; B.Sc., D.Sc.; B.Phil., D.Phil.; B.D., D.D.; B.C.L., D.C.L.; B.M., B.Ch., M.Ch., D.M.; B.Mus., D.Mus.

The degrees which are open to graduate students of other Univs. who are qualified for matricn. at Oxford are those of B.A., B.Litt., B.Sc., B.Phil., D.Phil., B.C.L. and B.D.

ARTS. Examns. in Arts, more usually called "Schools," are sharply divided into Pass and Honour examns.; in the former there is but one standard, in the latter successful candidates are distributed into 3 or 4 classes. No one is admitted to a place in the Class Lists who has exceeded a certain number of terms reckoned from Matricn. No conditions of residence are attached by the Univ. to either Pass or Honour examns.; it is simply for the attainment of the degree of B.A. that residence is obligatory. Every Coll., Hall and Society, however, has its own rules with regard to both residence and the entry for examns. A candidate for the degree of B.A. must (1) reside at the Univ. as a matriculated member during 9 terms, unless he is privileged as a member of another Univ. or as a "Service" Student; (2) pass or obtain Honours in the following examns., namely:

(a) Responsions. This is the Entrance Examination to the University. It must be passed, or some examn. accepted as equivalent to it, before matriculation. Names of candidates must be entered through an officer of the Society to which they intend to belong. See Appendix I.

(b) The 1st Public Examn. This consists of (1) Honour Classical Modns., (2) Hon. Math. Modns., (3) Hon. Sci. Modns., (4) Law Modns., (5) Prelim.

* In special circumstances leave to reside in a house which has not been licensed may sometimes be obtained.

Nat. Sci., (6) Prelim. Geography, (7) Prelim. Mod. Langs., (8) Prelim. Mod. Hist., (9) Prelim. English, (10) Prelim. Classical (Gk. and Lat.) and Or. Langs., (11) Prelim. Theol., (12) Prelim. Phil., Pol. and Econ., (13) Prelim. Music. In order to pass the Examn. a candidate must pass in one of these subjects.

(c) The 2nd Public Examn. This consists of (a) a Pass School and (b) an Honour School. (a) Contains a large variety of subjects, and candidates taking it are required to pass in 3 of these, of which one must be a language-subject other than English. (b) Includes the following, a class in any one of which is sufficient: Literæ Humaniores (Philos. and Ancient Hist.); Maths.; Nat. Science (Phys., Chem., Physiol., Zool., Bot., Geol., Biochem. or Engin.); Jurispr.; Mod. Hist.; Theol.; Oriental Studies (Sanskrit, Arabic, Hebrew, Persian, Egyptian or Chinese); Engl. Lang. and Lit.; Mod. Langs. (French, German, Ital., Span., Russian, Mediæval and Mod. Greek, or Portuguese); Philos., Politics, and Econ. (Modern Greats); Geog.; Agric.; Forestry; Psych., Philos., and Physiol.; Music.

Under certain conditions, members of other Univs. and officers not under 21 yrs. of age who have held for not less than 3 yrs. a Commission in H.M. Regular Forces, and been seconded or specially relieved from active duty by the Admiralty, War Office, Air Ministry or India Office for the purpose of attending an academic course of not less than 2 yrs., may be admitted to the status of "Senior Student" and "Service Student" respectively, and obtain exemption from Responsions, and, under further conditions, from the 1st Public examn., as well as a remission of 3 terms of the necessary residence (v. Appendix I).

ADVANCED STUDY AND RESEARCH. The DEGREES B.Litt. and B.Sc., instituted in 1895 in order to encourage special study and research, are granted upon the satisfactory completion of an approved course of special study or research pursued under supervision and for the most part at Oxford and of at least 6 terms' residence. Application to enter upon such a course may be made by any person who produces sufficient evidence of his ability and (1) is a member of the Univ. who has passed the examns. for the degree of B.A., or (2) has taken an approved degree at an approved Univ., or (3)—for the B.Litt.—has obtained an Oxford diploma with distinction, or is held by the Board of the Faculty to be fully qualified to engage in research. Applications must in all cases be made to the Secy. of Faculties through an officer of the Society to which the candidate belongs or desires to belong. Residence as a member of the Univ. for 6 terms is a necessary condition for either degree. A candidate for the B.Litt. must first undergo a course of training in research methods and then do a special piece of research work and write a thesis, and may be required to pass a written examn. For the B.Sc., which is confined to the Faculties of Science, Medicine, Anthropology and Geography, and Agriculture and Forestry, no probationary period is prescribed. The B.Phil. degree, instituted in 1946, is similar.

Of a similar nature, but of a much higher standard, is the degree of D.Phil., instituted in 1918 (v. p. 24).

The higher degrees, D.Litt. and D.Sc., instituted in 1900, are awarded to graduates of Oxford for published work of outstanding merit.

THEOLOGY. The B.D. degree is open to candidates of over 26 yrs. of age who have passed a Qualifying examn. in Christian Theology, pursued a course of study therein extending over 6 terms, resided for 6 terms, and submitted a thesis of sufficient merit in some branch of the subject. No candidate may present a thesis until he has passed the Qualifying examn., which is open to Oxford M.A.s, to persons who have, not less than 5 terms previously, passed all examns. for the Oxford B.A., and, under certain conditions, graduates of other Univs. First-class or second-class hons. in School of Theol. exempts from this examn.

The degree of D.D. is open to those who have been admitted to the Oxford degree of B.D., subject to certain conditions of standing, provided they have submitted a thesis, or published work, of sufficient merit in some branch of Christian Theology.

LAW. The examn. for the B.C.L. degree is open either (1) to B.A.s of the Univ. or (2) under certain conditions (including residence for 6 terms) to graduates in Arts, Philos., Science, or Law of other Univs. The subjects are Jurispr., Roman, Engl., Roman-Dutch, and Internat. Law.

MEDICINE. The B.M. degree is open only to B.A.s of the Univ. who have passed certain examns. in Med. and Nat. Science. The total period of study for the degree (including the scientific subjects studied in the Arts course) is generally about 6 or 7 yrs., of which 2 or 3 may be spent in London in preparation for the more strictly professional subjects of the 2nd B.M. examn. The M.Ch. degree is open to candidates who have passed all the examns. for the B.M. and B.Ch., and have held for at least 1 yr. an approved appt. or appts. in approved hosps., which must include 6 mos. in a resident post in charge of general surgical patients at a recognized teaching hosp. A candidate for the D.M. must be a B.M., and have entered on the 30th term from matricn. and had his name on the books of some Coll. or Hall or Society for 20 terms.

Senior Students may be exempted from the preliminary examn. in Physics, Chemistry, Zoology and Botany, in consideration of equivalent examns. passed at their previous Universities.

MUSIC. The degree of B.Mus. is open to candidates who have been admitted to the degree of B.A. with 1st or 2nd class honours in Music and have also passed an examn. in Music and composed a Musical Exercise under conditions laid down by Statute. Residence for 9 terms is required. A B.Mus. may qualify for the degree of D.Mus. by submitting a musical composition for approval and passing a further examn. in Music, but cannot submit a composition until the 9th term after his admission to the Baccalaureate.

Men and women undergrads. are also accepted in a ground branch for training in Fighter Control duties. Arrangements are made for those members who go overseas on conclusion of their Univ. Courses to be transferred to the Non-Training List. The Sqn. is a recognized channel of entry for permanent commissions in the R.A.F., either flying, technical, fighter control or medical. Direct entrants from the Univ. can qualify for an antedate of seniority, depending upon the class of degree obtained. Candidates are subject to the appropriate R.A.F. medical examns. on entry. SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS. College Entrance scholarships are very numerous and valuable. The Univ. scholarships and fellowships are usually open only to members of specified standing. For those open to graduates of other Univs. see Appendix II.

The Rhodes Scholarships were founded in 1902 under the will of the late Cecil John Rhodes. The value of each is at present £500 a yr. The Scholarship is tenable at the Univ. of Oxford, and may be held for 3 yrs. Appointments are made for 2 yrs. in the first instance, and a third year is granted only if it is eminently in the interests of a scholar's immediate studies and future career.

Rhodes Scholars may, if the conditions are approved by their own College and by the Rhodes Trustees on the recommendation of the Warden of Rhodes House, either postpone their third year, returning after a period of work in their own countries, or spend their third year in postgraduate work at a Univ. of Gt. Britain, and in special cases at a Univ. on the continent of Europe, in the overseas Dominions, or in the United States, but not in the country of their origin. The conditions of the competition in each country or community are fixed from time to time by the Trustees.

In his will, Mr. Rhodes expressed the wish that "in the election of a student to a Scholarship, regard shall be had to (1) his literary and scholastic attainments; (2) his fondness for and success in manly outdoor sports, such as cricket, football, and the like; (3) his qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindliness, unselfishness, and fellowship; and (4) his exhibition during school-days of moral force of character, and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates."

The Dominions and Colonies. An annual Scholarship is assigned to each Province* of Canada; to each State of the Australian Commonwealth; to the Dominion of New Zealand (2); in South Africa to the Province of Natal, the Transvaal, the Orange Free State, the Cape Province, the S.A. College School in Cape Town, the Diocesan College School of Rondebosch, the Paul Roos Gymnasium (formerly the Boys' High School, Stellenbosch), and the St. Andrew's College School at Grahamstown, in alternate years to the Eastern Province, and not more than three annually to Rhodesia. The Colonies of Jamaica, Bermuda and Malta have each an annual Scholarship. There is at present one annual Scholp. for India, and one for Pakistan.

In founding these Scholarships, Mr. Rhodes stated that he did so because he believed that the education of young Colonists at one of our residential Universities would "broaden their view," "instruct them in life and manners" and "instil into their minds the advantage to the Colonies as well as to the United Kingdom of the retention of the unity of the Empire."

United States of America. 4 Scholarships are assigned annually to each of 8 regions, and are awarded among candidates sent forward from each State, of which there are 6, in the region. The reason given by Mr. Rhodes for founding the American Scholarships is his "desire to encourage and foster an appreciation of the advantages which I implicitly believe will result from the union of the English-speaking people throughout the world, and to encourage in the students from the U.S. . . . an attachment to the country from which they have sprung, but without I hope withdrawing them or their sympathies from the land of their adoption and birth." The American Oxonian, the official magazine of the Alumni Assocn. of American Rhodes Scholars, is published quarterly.

Number actually in residence, 1952–53, 163 (86 from the Brit. Commonwealth and 77 from the U.S.A.).

General. Candidates must be between 19 and 25 years of age and unmarried. They must be citizens of the country from which they come—usually with 5 yrs.' domicile; and must have at least 2 yrs.' standing at a regular degree-granting College or Univ., except in a few special cases. The OXFORD DELEGACY OF LOCAL EXAMINATIONS, Merton Street (Telephone: 2456), holds examns. and awards a G.C.E. in the summer and autumn, at centres in Gt. Britain and Northern Ireland, in Malta, and at a few other overseas centres. Successful candidates will, on certain conditions, be exempted from Responsions, the Cambridge Previous, various matricn. examns. and Univ. Intermediate Examns. State Scholps. and Major Scholps. of certain L.E.A.s are awarded on the results of the G.C.E.* The Regulations (post free 1s. 6d.) may be obtained from the Secretary of Local Examinations, 12 Merton Street. The Examination is open to persons of both sexes. There is an age limit below which candidates may not enter except under certain conditions. Candidates need not be in attendance at any educational institution.

In Summer 1952 the G.C.E. was held at 706 centres, of which 21 were overseas. The total number of candidates was 27,642, of whom 4020 took some papers at Advanced level.

In Autumn 1952 the G.C.E. was held at 368 centres, of which 13 were overseas. This examn. was limited to Ordinary level papers and there were 6442 candidates.

EXTRA-MURAL STUDIES. The Delegacy for Extra-Mural Studies is concerned with the promotion of the liberal studies of adults, through classes and courses, principally in Oxfordshire, Berkshire and Buckinghamshire, North Staffordshire, Kent and East Sussex, and the City of Lincoln. The constituent cttees. of the Delegacy, through which it functions, are the Tutorial Classes Cttee. and the Univ. Extension Lectures Cttee. It co-operates closely with L.E.A.s, with the W.E.A. and with other voluntary organizations.

The work is carried on through (a) 3-yr. tutorial classes, the students of which pledge themselves to complete the course, and to undertake reading and written work under the guidance of the tutor; (b) preparatory tutorial classes, of 1 yr.'s duration; (c) Univ. sessional classes, usually of 20 to 24 meetings; (d) Univ. extension lecture courses, usually of 6 to 24 meetings; (e) residential summer schools, including vacation courses for overseas grad. students; (f) shorter residential courses; and (g) courses, of work of comparable standard, for members of H.M. Forces.

The Warden of Wedgwood Memorial College, Barlaston, North Staffs., is one of the Delegacy's extra-mural tutors. The Delegacy co-operates also with the Y.M.C.A. residential college at Kingsgate, Kent.

The cttees. of the Delegacy employ 31 full-time tutors and lectrs. (see p. 434) resident in the areas covered by the Univ.'s extra-mural activities.

The Delegacy offers a number of scholps. to enable suitable men and women in the adult educn. movement to come up to the Univ. and read for degrees. They may also recommend the admission of adult students to the Univ. without the necessity of passing Responsions.

Address: Rewley House, Wellington Square, Oxford (Telephone: 57203). Secretary to the Delegacy, F. W. Jessup, B.A., LL.B. Lond., M.A. St. Joh., F.S.A. Organizing Sec., Tutorial Classes Cttee., F. V. Pickstock, M.A. Qu. Sec., Univ. Extension Lectures Cttee., D. J. Wenden, M.C., M.A. Wadh.

EXPENSES. "It is not possible to make any general estimate of the cost of a University course, which varies with different Societies and depends upon the student's own means and tastes. It must suffice here to enumerate certain items common to all undergraduates, and to recommend persons anxious for further details to consult the authorities of the Society which they wish to join."

The General Information pamphlet quoted in the paragraph above also specifies the following items: — I. Payments on Commencing Residence:

* See pp. 9-10.

University—Matricn. fee, £6. College—(1) Admission fee, average £15. (2) Caution money (returned when name is removed from the books, and often in part on taking a degree). Varies for Commoners from £30 to £10. Scholars are sometimes excused altogether. II. Payments during Residence: University—(1) Dues, £6 : 6s. p.a., paid terminally for twelve terms; thereafter £1 p.a. (except for M.A.s). (2) Examn. fees, about £10 in all for the B.A. course, exclusive of Responsions. (3) Degree fees, B.A., B.Litt. or B.Sc. degrees, £7 : 10s. College—(1) Tuition fee, usually £45 p.a.: it is increased for students who read science or require extra tuition. (2) Subscriptions to Clubs vary; say, £8 : 8s. to £10 : 10s. p.a. (3) The method of reckoning fees and charges varies. In some Colls. there is an inclusive charge of £65 to £70 per term. This charge covers item (1), board (breakfast, lunch, dinner), lodging, service, fuel and lighting (but not personal laundry). Some Colls. scale the charge according to the rooms occupied; some make other minor adjustments. In other Colls. the main items are included in a terminal composite fee of about £65 per term, the remaining items being charged separately. Either system leads to a total Coll. bill of between £80 and £100 per term. (4) Degree fees, which vary between £5 and £1.

The scale of charges is under consideration in many Colls. and may be adjusted to meet any considerable changes in maintenance and service costs.

CONSTITUENT INSTITUTION

The NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH IN DAIRYING, Shinfield, nr. Reading (Telephone: Reading 83103), established by the Ministry of Agric. and Fisheries in 1912, forms part of the Univ. (Director—H. D. Kay, C.B.E., Ph.D. Camb., D.Sc. Manc., F.R.S.). It is governed by a Board consisting of representatives of the Ministries of Agric. and Health, R.A.S. of England, British Dairy Farmers' Assocn., Nat. Farmers' Union, etc. It has eight Depts.: Chemistry, Bacteriology, Feeding and Metabolism, Dairy Husbandry, Nutrition, Physics, Physiology, Dairy Engineering; and three Sections: Statistics, Dairy, and Isotopes.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Based upon the local Oxford Univ. Extension Centre and the local Schools of Sci. and Art, and deriving its first impetus largely from Christ Church, Oxford, a University Extension College was opened at Reading in 1892. In 1902 it established a claim to a State grant as a Univ. Coll. In 1904 and 1905 it received endowments of land and money from the Palmer family. Wantage Hall, endowed by Lady Wantage, was built in 1908 as a residence for men students, the declared policy of the Council being to make residence in a Hall the rule and not the exception. An Endowment Fund of £200,000 was subscribed in 1911 by the benefactors already mentioned. The Univ. was established by Royal Charter on March 17, 1926. Among various developments two call for special notice. One is the establishment, in connexion with the Coll. and Univ., of the National Institute for Research in Dairying. The other is the bldg. and endowment of the Library, the costs of which were defrayed by Mr. Alfred Palmer and members of his family; the bldg. constitutes a memorial to the late Rt. Hon. George William Palmer, one of the chief benefactors of the Coll.

The Univ. has steadily grown. Because of the inadequacy of its present site, it acquired in 1947 the freehold of the Whiteknights Park Estate of nearly 300 acres of parkland (approx. one mile from centre of Reading), to which it is hoped ultimately to transfer the whole Univ.

LIBRARY, 103,330 vols., including Overstone collection (7500 vols.) of books on Polit. Econ. (pubd. before 1850), English and French thought during 18th century, and topography (especially Northamptonshire); 25,000 pamphlets. 550 periodicals are received. MUSEUMS: Zool., Hist., Archæol., and English Rural Life. LABORATORIES: Bot., Chem., Geol., Mech., Microbiol.,

Physics, Psychol., Zool. Fine Art Studios. School of Music. Agricultural Machinery Hall. Two farms (359 and 400 acres) and Horticultural Station.

FACULTIES AND DEANS: Agric. and Hortic., Prof. R. H. Stoughton (Hortic.); Letters, Prof. J. M. R. Cormack (Classics); Science, Prof. A. A. Miller (Geog.).

SCHOOLS: Art, Music.

ADMISSION. See Appendix I.

DEGREES. B.A., M.A., D.Litt.; B.Sc., M.Sc., D.Sc.; Ph.D. The B.Sc., M.Sc. and D.Sc. are obtainable in the Faculty of Agriculture and Horticulture as well as in the Faculty of Science. The Senate may decline to admit to a degree course a person whose place of residence during term is at too great a distance from Reading.

An oral examination forms part of the Final examn. for a B.A. degree with honours, except in Mathematics, and, at the discretion of the Examiners, may form part of the First University Examn. in Arts or of the Final Examn. for the B.A. degree, or of the Intermediate or Final Examn. for the B.Sc. In the Final Examn. for the B.Sc. in the Faculty of Science, candidates are examined upon either a general course of study (normally 3 subjects) or a special course; honours can be obtained in either case. The Final Examn. (Special) is ordinarily taken after passing the Final Examn. (General). The course for the degree with honours extends over 4 yrs. in the Faculty of Agriculture and Horticulture and, in certain cases, in Arts and in Science.

UNIVERSITY DIPLOMA COURSES are as follows: 3 yrs.—Fine Art, Landscape Architecture; 1 yr.—Adv. Landscape Architecture; and 1 yr. (postgrad.)—Agriculture, Agricultural Econ., Hortic., General Bacteriol., Agric. Chem., Education, Social Study, Technical Physics.

A limited number of students is accepted each year in preparation for the National Dipl. in Dairying (Technol.) (2-yr. course).

TUTORIAL SUPERVISION. Every student following one of the organized day courses or a specially arranged day course involving frequent attendance at the Univ. for at least 2 terms is placed under the supervision of a tutor.

A RESEARCH BOARD promotes research and original work in the Univ. (apart from the National Institute for Research in Dairying). It administers funds entrusted to it for the purpose, and issues an annual record and report.

TERMS. 3, each of 10 weeks, the first beginning on the first Friday in Oct. Vacations of 4 weeks at Christmas and 5 weeks at Easter.

RESIDENCE. All students following full courses of day study, unless residing with parents or guardians, are ordinarily required to reside in a University Hall of Residence. (For Wardens see "Administrative and other Staff," p. 475; for Fees see "Expenses," infra.) For Men: Wantage, Upper Redlands Rd., 122 students (Telephone: R'dg. 81198); St. Patrick's, Northcourt Ave., 142 students (Telephone: R'dg. 81583); Whiteknights Park House, 23 students (Telephone: R'dg. 81782). For Women: St. Andrew's, Redlands Rd., 132 students (Telephone: R'dg. 3069); Wessex, Redlands Rd., 85 students (Telephone: R'dg. 2265); St. George's, Elmhurst Rd., 72 students (Telephone: R'dg. 81528); Mansfield, Kendrick Rd., 65 students (Telephone: R'dg. 931). Full-time day students living in recognized houses or at home in or near Reading, are associated in St. David's Hall, a non-residential club.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Univ. was founded by Charter, 1893. As the result of an enquiry held by a Royal Commission in 1916–18, a Supplemental Charter was granted to the Univ. in 1920, which introduced many changes, the most important being the establishment of a fourth constituent Coll. at Swansea, and the substitution of the Academic Bd., composed of representatives of all the Univ. Facs., for the former Univ. Senate which had been made up of all the Hds. of the teaching depts. in the three constituent Colls. A further Supplemental Charter was granted in 1932 providing inter alia for the institution of the Welsh National School of Medicine as a School of the Univ., and for the recognition of Schools of Theology at the Collegiate centres. The teaching for initial degrees is undertaken by the constituent and associated Colleges and by the Welsh National School of Medicine, and matriculation in the Univ. is open only to students of those institutions; in the case of an associated Theological College, only to students who are graduates of an approved University. The Technical College, Cardiff, is associated for the purpose of providing courses of study for the degrees of B.Pharm. and B.Arch. The Univ. prescribes conditions under which it awards initial degrees to students of the Colleges and of the School of Med. and conducts the final examns. An Academic Advisory Committee deals with the conditions on which School-Leaving certificates are accepted by the Univ. for matriculation, and with other matters lying in the borderland between School and Univ.

The admin. offices, assembly hall, some common rooms, and some of the Sci. depts., are accommodated in a mansion in Singleton Park, presented, together with about 46 acres of land surrounding it and 15 acres for playing fields, by the Corporation of Swansea, which also gave £50,000 towards the cost of Sci. bldgs. ## GENERAL INFORMATION

The Coll. was founded by Royal Charter in Aug. 1949, and was opened in Oct. 1950. Situated at Keele Hall, where there is an estate of 154 acres, it is about 3 miles due west of Newcastle under Lyme.

CONSTITUTION of the Çoll. follows pattern of modern Univs. with one important deviation. There is a Court, a Council and a Senate with the usual division of powers and duties, but in addition an Academic Council, the majority of whose members are representatives of the Univs. of Oxford, Manchester and Birmingham, and whose approval is required on all matters of academic importance.

INCOME. Income and expenditure of the Coll. will rise each yr. with annual intake of 150 students, until 1954–55, when student nos. will be approx. 600. For 1952–53, with 450 students, income excluding residential fees was approx. £150,000. Approx. percentages from different sources: Govt., 72 per cent.; Local Authorities, 18 per cent.; Fees, 10 per cent.

BOARDS OF STUDIES. Humanities: Sec., Prof. W. W. Chambers; Soc. Studies: Sec., Prof. B. R. Williams; Science: Sec., Prof. I. N. Sneddon. Facs. have not yet been instituted.

LIBRARY. Bldg. of Library started at end of 1949. Contains over 60,000 vols.

LABORATORIES. New labs. in sep. bldgs. are being erected for Phys., Chem., Biol. and Geog. The first stages have been completed and practical classes were held in all from Oct. 1952. Small Geol. Lab. in which present classes are held. New Geol. Lab. planned.

DEGREE COURSES. The Charter empowers the Coll. to grant its own degree of B.A. The first yr. of the 4-yr. course consists of a compulsory course of lectures identical for all students but with tutorial work adjusted to individual needs. This course is concerned with the heritage of civilization, present-day activities and the methods and influence of the experimental sciences. During the last 3 yrs., students must select not less than 5 subjects, which must include at least 1 from each of 3 groups: the Humanities, the Social Studies and the Sciences; 2 of these 5 subjects must be studied at principal level throughout the whole of the 3 yrs. Subjects taken at subsidiary level are studied for either 1 or 2 yrs. The B.A. degree will be awarded with Hons. where sufficient merit is shown. During these last 3 yrs., an educational dipl. course may be taken concurrently with the B.A. studies. This dipl. is recognized by the Ministry of Educn. A Social Studies dipl. may also be taken along with the normal B.A. studies.

Members of staff and postgrad. students of the Coll. may, under approved conditions, be accepted as candidates for the degrees of M.A. and Ph.D. of the Univ. of Birmingham.

ADMISSION. Ordinarily, candidates must be over 17, possess the normal Univ. entrance qualifications required by other U.K. Univs. and produce a satisfactory testimonial from their headmaster. Provision is made for the admission of adult students. See also Appendix I.

FEES. There is an inclusive fee of £40 p.a. covering matriculation, registration, Students' Union, tuition and all examn. fees. Graduation fee: £5 : 5s.

Coll. of N. Staffs., Keele, Staffs. Residential fees are £115 per session of 30 wks. Arrangements will be made for the admission of 150 first-yr. students each yr., of whom approx. two-thirds will be men.

STAFF RESIDENCES. It is intended to build residences for all teaching and some other staff. A Principal's Residence, 21 new houses, 15 bungalows and 4 lodges are available; 18 more houses under construcn.; two blocks of flats planned.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE. All students examined soon after admission by Coll. Medical Officer. A bldg. is set apart as a Sick Bay. Resident matron-nurse.

The Univ. is now represented on the Advisory Committees for the management of the Tutorial Classes for adults instituted by the Edin. Educational Authority, in co-operation with the Edinburgh W.E.A. Certificates gained at the courses qualify for endorsement on teachers' certificates.

UNIVERSITY TRAINING CORPS. The University Training Corps is organized in six Sub-units of the following arms: Artillery; Engineers; Electrical Engineers; Signallers; Intelligence; and Infantry. UNIVERSITY HEALTH SERVICE. The University provides facilities for routine medical examinations for each first-year student, and radiological examinations of chest for all students annually. It also provides a consultative and domiciliary medical service with special hospital facilities for the treatment of sick students. This dept. works in the closest liaison with the Student Accommodation and Welfare Office and the Physical Education Department.

UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC FACILITIES. Facilities exist for the playing of most games. Some games, however, are not played by students either because there are no facilities within the University or the games themselves do not make sufficient appeal—among these are real tennis, rackets, baseball, and ice hockey. HISTORIES OF THE UNIV. (all O.P.): Bower, Alexr., chiefly compiled from original papers and records never before published, 3 vols., Edin., 1817–30; Dalzel, Andrew (ed. by D. Laing), with a Memoir of the Author (by C. Innes), 2 vols., Edin., 1862; Grant, Sir Alexr., the Story of the Univ. during its first 300 years, 2 vols., London, 1884; by various contributors, edited by Turner, A. Logan, 1883–1933, Edin., 1933.

UNIVERSITY PRESS. The University Press was instituted by the Univ. Court in 1945 and is administered by a combined Committee of Court and Senatus which control the general policy and select MSS. for publication. Its main object, rendered possible by bequests applied for the purpose, is the publication, in the best traditions of Scottish typography and book-production, of works of academic merit which cannot be produced on a commercial basis owing to their restricted appeal and may incur a loss; but the Committee are prepared to publish works of wider appeal, though still of literary merit, which will help to offset any such loss. Books published are advertised and sold by Messrs. Oliver and Boyd, Ltd., the sole agent for the Press.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded in 1796 under the will of Prof. John Anderson, Anderson's College was, in 1886, joined with the College of Science and Arts (1823), the first "Mechanics Institution," and with the Atkinson Institution (1861) in the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical College. In 1912 the Governors received Royal authority for the title, Royal Technical College, Glasgow. The Coll. was affiliated with the Univ. of Glasgow in March 1913.

The Coll. operates under the City of Glasgow Royal Technical College Scheme, 1935, of the Educational Endowments Commission, and has a Bd. of Governors (30), half of whom are apptd. by local authorities, public bodies, Faculties and Institutions.

The present Coll. bldg., completed in 1910, has a floor space of over 7 acres, and the Governors have approved an Extension Scheme on an adjoining site to add approx. one-third more accomm. and to provide extensive Engin. labs.

Under the affiliation ordinances, the Coll. provides full qualifying courses for degrees of the Univ. of Glasgow in Engin., Appl. Chem., Pharmacy and Archit. For the Associateship of the Coll. (A.R.T.C.), courses of 4 yrs. are provided in Civ., Mech., Electr., Chem. and Mining Engin., Naval Archit., Chem. and Technical Chem., Metall., Appl. Phys., Pharm., Food Sci., Microbiol., Bldg. and Textile Technol. The D.R.T.C. is no longer awarded. Entrance qualifications. for the Associateship Courses are given in the Prospectus of Day Classes. In the School of Bakery and the Dept. of Textile Technol., the Coll. provides 2-yr. Certif. Courses.

The Glasgow School of Architecture is constituted by the Coll. and the Glasgow School of Art under a Jt. Cttee. of Governors, and issues Dipls. in Archit. (5 yrs.) and Postgrad. Dipls. in Town Planning. With the Glasgow and West of Scotland Commercial College, the Coll. forms the Glasgow School of Management Studies and makes jt. provision of courses in Personnel Management (1 yr.), Works Management, etc.

In Evening and Pt.-time Day Classes the Coll. offers a very wide range of technological training at advanced and postgrad. level. Under the scheme of the W. of Scotland Jt. Cttee. on Classes in Sci. and Technol., the Coll. classes form the apex of a technological educn. triangle, and pt.-time students from all parts of the W. of Scotland complete their courses at the Royal Technical College.

The Coll. policy of fostering res. is greatly strengthened by an active relationship with res. associations and with industry. This adds to the resources of the New Development Fund for Res., and permits the provision of facilities for work on live problems and res. in all branches of engin., chem. and pharmacy, which are organized under the supervision of Coll. staff.

LABORATORIES for undergrad. and postgraduate work and LIBRARIES for ref. and current lit. are provided in every dept. in the Coll. The Andersonian Library, commemorating the Founder of the Coll., houses an extensive range of technical and scientific publicns. (over 30,000), including many of historical interest, the Founder's library and the James Young collection of early alchemical, metallurgical and chem. bks.

FORMER STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION. Formed in 1936. Copies of the Annual Report of the Coll. are circulated to all members and social functions arranged regularly. Branches of the Assocn. are active in Glasgow, London and S. Africa. Life membership is available to qualified applicants at a fee of £1 : 1s.

The student body acts through the Students' Representative Council and joins with others in the Scottish Union of Students. Queen's College was established by Royal Charter in 1845, opened in Nov. 1849, and linked with Colleges at Cork and Galway as the Queen's University in Ireland in 1850. Originally there were three Faculties, Arts (with Science and Literary divisions), Medicine and Law. In 1879 Queen's College became a constituent coll. of the Royal University of Ireland. The governing body was the purely academic College Council. At the turn of the century private benefactions led to increased bldgs. and addtl. staff. In 1908 the College became the Queen's University of Belfast. The Senate became the governing body, consisting of representatives of the public life of Ulster, of the Professors and of graduates. The identification of the new Univ. with the interests of Ulster became closer on the establishment in 1920 of the Govt. of Northern Ireland from which the Univ.'s income is largely derived on the advice since 1945 of the University Grants Committee whose help has been made available. This identification of interest is evidenced by the new Facs. which were created, namely: in 1910 Science and Economics; in 1921 Appl. Science and Technol. with the co-operation of the Belfast College of Technology; in 1924 Agriculture, whose work is co-ordinated with that of the Ministry of Agriculture for N. Ireland; and in 1926 the Faculty of Theology, most of the teaching for which is given in the Presbyterian College, Belfast, and in Edgehill Theological College, Belfast. Since 1939 the number of students has doubled and there has been a great increase in the number of teaching staff. To house the additional students and staff a substantial blding. programme is in progress.

CANADIAN UNIVERSITIES*

[Contributed by Dr. G. P. Gilmour, President and Vice-Chancellor, McMaster University.]

UNIVERSITY work in Canada began in 1789, when the University of King's College was founded in Windsor, N.S., but most Canadian Universities date from the 19th century, e.g. Dalhousie, 1818, McGill, 1821, Toronto, 1827, Acadia, 1838, Queen's, 1841. In Western Canada all Universities except Manitoba were opened in the 20th century, e.g. Saskatchewan, 1908. In recent years, several new degree-conferring institutions have been recognized. Quebec gave a charter to Sir George Williams College in 1948, for work begun in 1929; and Ontario to Carleton College in 1952, for work begun in 1942, and to Assumption College, 1953 (formerly an affiliate of Western Ontario); and Memorial was founded in Newfoundland in 1949. In many cases, University status has come to institutions that had already operated for many years as educational centres, often as preparatory schools or theological Colleges, e.g. Laval, given a Royal Charter in 1852, is the outgrowth of work dating back to 1635; Montreal, which operated as a branch of Laval from 1876, became autonomous in 1920; and McMaster, whose charter dates from 1887, is the outgrowth of work begun in 1857. In Western Canada, the work of the provincial Universities was anticipated through the existence of Colleges affiliated with institutions in Central Canada, and through the establishment of theological Colleges, e.g. Emmanuel College, Saskatoon, 1879. These have now become affiliated with or absorbed into the Universities, but the pattern has not entirely disappeared, e.g. Ottawa still maintains a connexion with 5 small Roman Catholic Colleges in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

It is to be remembered that the term "Canada" is nationally applicable only since 1867. The Universities of the Maritime Provinces were for the most part established when Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were not part of Canada. "Canada," prior to 1867, referred only to the territories embraced by Quebec (Lower Canada) and Ontario (Upper Canada). The western Universities were established, as a rule, shortly after the provinces were created out of the western territories. Something of the origins of Canada's population is reflected in the curricula, e.g. the greater emphasis on classical studies in the centre and east, and the offering of Scandinavian languages in the west. The great emphasis on extension studies at Alberta is a reflection of the provincial decision to associate such work with the University, whereas in Saskatchewan most extension work that is not for academic credit is separate from the University.

The term " University " is used somewhat loosely in Canada, and a complete legal list would not reflect actual conditions. In at least three cases (Trinity and Victoria in Toronto, King's in Halifax), University charters are in abeyance except for Divinity, by reason of federation ; in some other cases (e.g. Collège Ste-Anne, Church Point, Nova Scotia), institutions that operate essentially as Colleges have charters entitling them to University powers ; and in others (e.g. Sir George Williams College, Montreal, and Carleton College, Ottawa), work done under the College title is of a range comparable to that in a number of smaller Universities. Work in Universities ranges from the complex federated organization of Toronto, including both federated Universities and affiliated Colleges, or that at Laval, which includes forty-nine affiliated institutions, to smaller foundations of a unitary type, involving fewer than three hundred students. McGill, for example, gives twenty-seven types of degrees and ten diplomas or certificates, while Nova Scotia Technical College gives only the degrees of Bachelor and Master of Engineering. In Ontario, to take another example, only Toronto has a College of Education ; and, until the recent establishment of a Faculty of Law at Toronto, all legal education in that Province was directed by the Law Society of Upper Canada.

Whatever their origins, Canadian Universities have in general a constitutional pattern differing from that in Great Britain and some other Commonwealth countries in that salaried members of the Universities other than executive heads may not sit on the Board of Governors (Trustees, Regents, etc.), which has the financial direction of each University, and which makes or confirms academic appointments, determines salaries, manages investments, erects buildings, sets fees, etc. These Boards are variously elected or appointed, and may include government appointees, representatives of the graduates, or members elected by church courts or religious orders. In some cases, they are wholly or in part self-perpetuating bodies. Teaching members do, however, sit on, and in practice usually dominate, the Senate of a University, which body decides questions of admission, examination and curriculum, authorizes degrees (both in course and honorary), and has all academic questions as its province, acting usually on the advice of the academic staff on its Council. The executive head of a University is generally Chairman or leader of the Senate, but is almost never Chairman of the Board. There is thus no close parallel to the type of " University Court " known elsewhere, nor to the corporate authority of a group of Fellows. The term " Fellow " therefore carries with it no financial authority, and need not involve faculty membership. The title " Dean " is a permanent one, Deans being the appointees of the administration, usually through the Senate with the approval of the Board.

As regards degrees, it should be noted that all degrees beyond that of Bachelor (M.A., M.Sc., Ph.D., etc.) involve examinations and theses or substantial essays, and such degrees are seldom open to anyone who has not taken an honours course as an undergraduate or who has not covered equivalent departmental studies as a prerequisite, if he has taken a general degree or comes from another University. Generally speaking, undergraduates are not permitted to specialize in their honours subject until they have completed certain general subjects, e.g. history or literature in the case of Science students and a course in Science in the case of Arts students.

While there is no case in which the appointment of the executive head of a University is made, or is subject to review by a political body, all Universities operate under Acts or Charters granted by governments and must, if changes in authority, organization, etc., are desired, secure the necessary enabling amendments. Within the terms of the various Acts or Charters, the Universities have full autonomy, the relative powers and membership of Boards and Senates being outlined in the Acts. Senates are in all cases elective or appointive bodies of limited membership, there being no such thing as Senate membership belonging of right to all or certain graduates.

Except in Western Canada, nearly all Canadian Universities were established by or with the active support of church bodies, but the majority are now private or quasi-private foundations. One might divide Canadian Universities into (1) those which are legally controlled by or connected with a religious group : Laval, Montreal, Ottawa, St. Dunstan's, St. Francis Xavier, St. Joseph's, Mount St. Vincent, by Roman Catholics ; King's, Bishop's, Trinity, by the Church of England ; Mount Allison, Victoria, by the United Church of Canada ; Acadia, McMaster, by Baptists ; (2) those that are essentially provincial Universities, with varying degrees of state direction : New Brunswick, Memorial in Newfoundland, Toronto, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia ; (3) independent foundations, depending on endowment and private benefactions, usually with additional state support : Carleton, Dalhousie, McGill, Queen's, Western Ontario, Sir George Williams. No brief statement can make clear the diversity among the Universities.

Under the British North America Act, education in Canada is a provincial responsibility, there being no Dominion Office or Minister of Education. Recently, as noted below, the Canadian Government has given financial aid to Universities. Considerable variety exists as regards Provincial Government aid to Universities. Seven provinces (British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, New Brunswick and Newfoundland) have provincial Universities, in most cases receiving a major part of their income from government sources ; in Ontario and New Brunswick there are also private Universities ; and in Quebec, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island all Universities are private. The pattern of provincial support varies as regards private Universities. In Nova Scotia, for example, University grants have to date been comparatively small, but Nova Scotia Technical College is supported entirely from provincial revenues ; while in Ontario, grants are received by Queen's, Western and Carleton College, and McMaster and Ottawa receive grants for such of their work as is legally not under " sectarian " control.

In Canada to date, Universities have not been the recipients of private benefactions in amounts comparable to those in the United States or Britain.

Higher education in Canada has a recognizable pattern and atmosphere, but there is no uniformity in entrance standards or curriculum emphasis. (See Appendix I.) Canadian higher education shows clearly the marks of Canadian educational and political history, and the influence of British (both English and Scottish) and American models. The marks of Canadian history can be seen in the existence of a distinct system of French-language University education, chiefly in Laval and Montreal with their affiliated " Classical Colleges " ; in various federation plans that have brought together Colleges of denominational origin and of secular foundation (notably in Toronto, Manitoba and Western Ontario) ; in the existence of a number of Universities that have maintained, to a greater or smaller extent, denominational ties (e.g. Acadia, Mount Allison, Bishop's, McMaster, Trinity and Victoria) ; and in the unusual number of degree-conferring authorities in the Maritime Provinces (where at least fourteen such authorities exist), as compared with the Western Provinces (where only one University authority exists in each Province). A few Universities operate under Royal Charters, but most have been incorporated by provincial legislatures. British precedents account for the existence of Colleges within Universities, academic titles (Principal, Provost, Warden, etc.) that reflect either English or Scottish origin, and provision for specialized undergraduate study leading to honours degrees (in most cases requiring an extra year of undergraduate study and the maintaining of superior grades). American influence can be seen in the development of Faculties and Schools, and in the fact that there has been in Canada much the same succession of development as in the United States, first, of private or quasi-private Universities (including many with original or continuing denominational connexions), second, of State Universities (notably in Western Canada), and third, of Graduate Schools (or limited programmes of graduate studies leading to the degrees Master and Doctor). Many academic titles (President, Dean, Associate Professor, etc.) also reflect American nomenclature.

Recent developments of note have been the growth in undergraduate numbers, increased graduate studies, extension services and financial assistance to Universities by the Government of Canada.

Growth in undergraduate numbers has been due to increase of population, rising standards of living and increased opportunities for professional training. In the fifteen years between 1933–34 and 1948–49, the number of full-time undergraduates increased about two and one-half times. Allowing for recent recession of numbers, after the graduation of ex-Service personnel receiving special benefits, the numbers to-day would be approximately double those of 1933, about 60,000. Staffs and buildings at Universities have been increased to care for these larger numbers, except that in Medicine it is impossible to train sufficiently greater numbers.

Graduate studies, formerly quite limited because of Canadian reliance on British and American graduate facilities, have increased in the same period by roughly the same proportion. Formerly, English-language graduate studies beyond the degree of Master were offered almost exclusively at Toronto and McGill. In recent years, a number of other Universities have offered Ph.D. studies within a narrow range of selection, chiefly in Science, and doctoral studies are now offered also at Queen's, McMaster, Western Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. In the calendar year 1952, the number of Doctoral degrees completed in Canada was 188, of which 62 were in French-language Universities, and the number of other graduate degrees 894, of which 198 were in French-language Universities. These figures do not, however, adequately represent the scope of graduate studies in the French system.

Extension services are showing a marked increase. In large urban centres Universities offer a variety of evening courses for academic credit, and many Universities conduct summer schools, attended in many cases by members of the teaching profession. One institution, Sir George Williams College in Montreal, enrols the majority of its students in evening classes. Extra-Mural studies are comparatively limited in scope. Adult education, in the form of courses and special lectures without academic credit, is becoming increasingly important.

Financial aid to Universities from the Government of Canada began in 1951, subsequent to the Massey Report,* when $7,000,000 was made available under Order-in-Council, and divided among Universities and Colleges according to the population of each Province and the number of full-time students in each University within the Province. The purpose of the grant was to defray part of the increased cost of University education, definitely including the Arts Faculties, in view of the declining value of endowment and the effect of taxation and inflation. These grants are not designed to provide for expansion of facilities or to give special assistance to Universities maintaining professional and scientific courses at high expense. The criterion of local need has not been introduced, nor any conditions attached to the spending of the grant. Provincial rights and duties in education continue unchanged. The final four years of study in classical colleges affiliated to French-language Universities, and which in principle form the Faculty of Arts of these Universities, were recognized as equivalent to undergraduate studies in English-language Universities. No attempt was made to arrive at a uniform level of University entrance throughout the nation.

The plan to give federal aid has not been easy to administer. The Government of Quebec in 1953 refused to implement the plan within the Province lest its conception of provincial autonomy in education suffer, and as a consequence the Quebec universities did not receive aid. Another difficulty arises from the difference in per capita amounts, as based on provincial population and student numbers, with Newfoundland receiving a disproportionately large per capita sum and Nova Scotia and Manitoba relatively meagre amounts. How to observe constitutional niceties and accomplish the purpose of the grant at the same time is a delicate problem.

ENGLISH-LANGUAGE UNIVERSITIES. Under the system operating in these Universities, including English-language Roman Catholic institutions, students enter either by Junior Matriculation or by Senior Matriculation. The latter requirement is increasing. These examinations are set in the various provinces, usually by joint action of the Universities and the Department of Education. The list of required and optional subjects differs between provinces and varies as regards the requirements for entrance into various degree courses. Universities admitting by Junior Matriculation normally offer a four-year course leading to a pass or general Bachelor's degree, which can be obtained in three years from Senior Matriculation. For honours degrees, an additional year of study is required in most Universities, and honours students are usually in separate classes. See also Appendix I.

The requirements for entry on non-Canadian certificates into the Universities of Canada differ considerably. Students in other parts of the Commonwealth who plan to attend a Canadian University should write directly to the Registrar of the University in which they are interested.

In all Universities a number of lecture courses are required in each year, and examinations on these courses must be taken at the end of each year. In some honours courses, " comprehensive examinations " are also required. Some Universities operate on a year system, requiring a specific group of required and optional subjects to be taken at the various levels, while some others operate more nearly on the credit system common in parts of the United States.

English-language Universities are co-educational in all but a limited number of courses, such as Nursing and Household Science.

Few Universities offer complete residence accommodation. Especially in large urban centres, the majority of students live at home or in boarding-houses. Most Universities provide, through student unions, space for social gatherings and for meals.

FRENCH-LANGUAGE UNIVERSITIES. In the French system, a student receives his Baccalauréat at a Classical College, which corresponds to a French Lycée. He then goes to the University for his Licence or his Doctorat, or for a professional course such as Medicine, Engineering or Dentistry. French-language Universities also admit into certain courses, such as Engineering and Agriculture, students who have taken preparatory work in a French high school, modelled more closely along English high school lines. Separate classical colleges are operated for men and women, but the Universities are co-educational in most courses.

DATES AND VACATIONS. In all the Universities of Canada, students are admitted only in the autumn, and the session lasts approximately from late in September to the middle of May. During the long summer vacation, the majority of students obtain employment. Faculties of Engineering, for example, require their students to gain practical knowledge in the Engineering field during the summer.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND ATHLETICS. During the session, the students provide a wide variety of social and recreational activities for themselves. These are under the control of a central committee or council and are more highly organized than they are in the United Kingdom Universities. Organized athletics, too, are usually under the control of a central committee representing the students, the University administration and, frequently, the graduates.

THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF CANADIAN UNIVERSITIES. The approved Universities and Colleges of Canada have as their official organization the National Conference of Canadian Universities, which meets every summer to discuss matters of common interest. This Conference is closely associated with The Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth and nominates the two representatives of the Canadian Universities on the Executive Council of that body. The Conference publishes an annual Report and a Yearbook of Canadian Universities. The latter is published biennially, and may be obtained from the Secretary, N.C.C.U., care of University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, Sask., Canada, at the price of $2.

FURTHER INFORMATION. A convenient and recent historical sketch may be found in W. Kirkconnell and A. S. P. Woodhouse: The Humanities in Canada, 1947. Statistical information appears in The Canada Yearbook, and special information is issued from time to time by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the most recent being Higher Education in Canada 1946–48 (1951), issued by authority of the Minister of Trade and Commerce, price 35c. An historical introduction to the Universities of Canada appeared in the Universities Yearbook, 1949–50 (A.U.B.C.), and earlier editions.

OTHER EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS. Not all educational institutions of University grade appear under University titles. Three examples are the Maritime School of Social Work, the Nova Scotia Technical College in Halifax and theological schools. The Maritime School of Social Work, Halifax, N.S., co-operates with various Universities in Nova Scotia. It gives a diploma for two years of study, degrees being the responsibility of the co-operating Universities. In other parts of Canada schools of social work form an integral part of individual Universities, including Laval, Montreal, McGill, Toronto, Western Ontario and British Columbia. The Nova Scotia Technical College in Halifax (see p. 822) is the direct effort of the Province to provide engineering education. It is supported entirely from provincial revenues and receives students who have already covered work in Acadia, Dalhousie, King's, Mount Allison, St. Francis Xavier, Memorial University of Newfoundland and St. Mary's. The Technical College offers two years of what is usually a five-year course, leading to the degree of B.E., and later to the degree of M.E. In other Canadian provinces such work is carried on by a Faculty of Engineering or Applied Science connected with single Universities. Theological education is conducted through Faculties of Theology or through independent theological colleges affiliated with one or more Universities. Theological degrees are not granted by provincial Universities. At Toronto, for example, degrees in Divinity are conferred by Trinity, Victoria, Knox, Wycliffe and St. Michael's. A list of theological colleges appears in the Yearbook of Canadian Universities.

The CARNEGIE FOUNDATION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF TEACHING, an agency for payment of retiring allowances to college professors, and for educational enquiry, was established by Andrew Carnegie in 1905 through an initial gift of $10,000,000 as endowment, to provide retiring pensions for teachers of Universities, Colleges and technical schools in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland.

The Foundation is controlled by a self-perpetuating board of 25 trustees, chiefly presidents of Colleges and Universities. In 1952, the total general endowment was $11,552,705; assets were $12,255,587.

Since 1905, the Foundation has disbursed, to 5048 persons, some $61,041,136 in free retiring allowances, disability allowances and widows' pensions, in 168 Colleges, Universities and technical schools. In 1952, allowances and pensions were being paid to 2089 persons, and 392 persons remained on the Foundation list, on May 1, 1952, as having expectations of award of retiring allowances.

The list of those eligible to receive free allowances was closed in fact in 1931; additions to the list may not legally be made.

The efforts of the Foundation towards the advancement of teaching are indicated by its studies on pension matters, in medical education, the teaching of physics, legal education, engineering education, college athletics, graduate education, training of teachers; by the study of the relation of secondary and higher education in the State of Pennsylvania; and by co-operative enterprises undertaken with other educational agencies.

Its publications, classified as annual reports, bulletins, supplementary publications and miscellaneous publications, have reflected the course of higher education during the past 45 yrs. The publications are available in academic and public libraries.

The Foundation does not award fellowships or scholarships of any kind, and publishes results of research only of those undertakings with which it has been in close touch.

The administrative offices of the Foundation are at 522 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. Its president is Oliver C. Carmichael. The secretary is Robert M. Lester; the treasurer is C. Herbert Lee.

The CANADIAN BRITISH EDUCATION COMMITTEE has been established to encourage students leaving school in Great Britain to take a course at a Canadian University. The idea of the committee is that this not only makes the best introduction to Canadian life for those who intend to make their career in the Dominion, but that the experience of a Canadian University will tend to produce a graduate of fresh outlook and wide interests who will be well fitted to make a career in any part of the world.

McGill University and the University of Toronto both reserve a number of places for students under this scheme. Those sponsored by the committee are allowed by the Treasury to exchange sufficient sterling into Canadian dollars to cover the cost of their courses; many students earn part of their expenses by working during the long summer vacations. The committee has no Scholarships to offer except 10 bursaries of $300 each, tenable for 1 yr., which are offered to students from the United Kingdom who wish to study mining engineering or geology at a Canadian University. The committee does not sponsor students until they have gained advanced standing in the General Certificate Examination, except for certain faculties; e.g. Agriculture, Engineering, Mining, etc., in which the first yr. of the University curriculum includes technical courses that cannot be studied at school.

Further particulars may be obtained from the Hon. Secretary, The Canadian British Education Committee, 62 Trafalgar Square, London, W.C.2.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was created in 1906 by an Act of the first session of the first legislature of the Province. In Jan. 1908 Dr. Henry Marshall Tory entered on his duties as President. The Senate supervised all phases of the institution's activities until 1910. At that time a Board of Governors was constituted and was given charge of the Univ.'s business affairs. This form of government remained substantially unaltered until 1942, when a new Act reduced the size of the Senate and transferred most of its academic functions to the General Faculty Council.

The Provincial Legislature has established a close relationship between the Univ. and the professions by giving the General Faculty Council jurisdiction over the educational standards of Agrologists, Architects, Chartered Accountants, Dentists, Engineers, Land Surveyors, Lawyers, Music Teachers, Pharmacists, Physicians and Surgeons, Registered Nurses and Veterinary Surgeons.

The University of Alberta, whose property covers 949 acres (Campus, 225 acres; Farm, 724 acres), is situated in the city of Edmonton, the capital of the Province of Alberta. Its grounds border the wooded southern bank of the North Saskatchewan river. To the original residence buildings, Athabasca Hall (1911), Assiniboia Hall (1912) and Pembina Hall (1914), were added the Arts Building (1915), the Engineering Laboratories (1919) and the Medical Building (1921). In 1922 the neighbouring Strathcoma Hospital was acquired and became the University Hospital, an important factor in the training of medical students. Clinical teaching facilities were greatly increased by the erection of the Mewburn Pavilion for war veterans by the Dept. of Veterans' Affairs in Feb. 1945 and the expansion of the maternity and pædiatric portions of the Hospital in 1950. A new Nurses' Residence was opened in 1947 and expanded in 1950, and the Aberhart Memorial Sanatorium was opened in Feb. 1952 for tuberculosis patients. Following the great increase of the numbers of students at the end of World War II came the extension of the West and East wings of the Medical Building in 1946 and 1947 and the commencement of the Rutherford Library which was opened on May 15, 1951. The Faculty Apartment Houses, built to accommodate some of the married members of the rapidly growing faculty, were opened in 1947. A Students' Union bldg. was completed in 1950, as well as a new bldg. to accommodate the Provincial Laboratory of Public Health.

In 1944 the University assumed responsibility for all teacher training in the province and on April 1, 1945, took over the Provincial Normal Schools and their staffs. The Calgary Normal School, which was housed in the building of the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art, became the Calgary Branch of the University.

GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORY. Conceived by a cttee. of the Ottawa Y.M.C.A. in 1938, the Coll. had its beginning in 1942 when a group of interested citizens established the Ottawa Association for the Advancement of Learning. In that year evening classes of the first and second Univ. years were opened under the name Carleton College. An Inst. of Public Administration was added in 1943, and later absorbed by the Coll. Special matricn. courses for veterans were offered in the years 1945–46. These were the first day classes. Both day and evening curricula were expanded until, by 1949, they included full undergrad. courses in Arts, Sci., Comm., Journalism, Pub. Admin. and Engin. A course leading to a grad. Dipl. in Pub. Admin. was added in 1952, and a School of Pub. Admin. established in 1953. The Coll. operated in rented quarters until 1946, when it acquired a bldg. of its own. Subsequently, a students' union, a library and a bldg. to house the Sch. of Pub. Admin. were added, and 130 acres of land acquired for development of a new campus. In 1952 the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario passed The Carleton College Act, enlarging and specifying the Coll.'s university powers. In the same year the Coll. was made a member of the National Conference of Canadian Univs.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Dalhousie College, founded in 1818 by the ninth Earl of Dalhousie, has been discharging University functions since 1863 when it was reorganized and reopened with a staff of six professors. From 1879 development was rapid, helped by the benefactions of G. Munro of N.Y. ($350,000), A. McLeod of Halifax ($65,000) and Sir Wm. Young ($88,000). In 1883 the Fac. of Law (first of its kind in the Commonwealth) was established, and in 1906 Pure Sci. united with Arts to form the Fac. of Arts and Sci. Appl. Sci. was replaced by the Fac. of Engin., which was later reduced to a Dept. by agreement with other Maritime Univs. when the N.S.T.C. opened for professional teaching. In 1911 the Fac. of Med. and in 1912 the Fac. of Dent. assumed full teaching duties. The Maritime Coll. of Pharm. was given quarters in the Univ. in 1911. The Fac. of Grad. Studies, offering instruction in Arts, Sci., Med. and Law, was established in 1949.

In 1912 $400,000 was collected for an additional site (40 acres) and bldgs. towards which Andrew Carnegie gave $40,000. Other gifts from the Carnegie Corporation and the Rockefeller Foundation permitted expansion of facilities for the Med. Sch. after 1918. In 1923 the Univ. of King's Coll., in association with Dalhousie, was given a site on the new campus, which also contains the Provincial Archives and the Maritime Labs. of the Nat. Res. Council. The International Commission for the Northwest Atlantic Fisheries accepted the Univ.'s invitation to establish its permanent headquarters in Dalhousie in 1953. The latest addition is the Arts and Admin. Building opened in 1952.

Appointments to the Board of Governors are made by the Govr. in Council on the nomination of the Board.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Opened in 1789 at Windsor, N.S., the University was established by Provincial Statute and granted a Royal Charter by King George III in 1802. In Sept. of 1923 King's removed to Halifax and became associated with Dalhousie University, as far as Arts and Science are concerned. The academic facilities in Arts and Science are shared by the students of both Universities for the time being, but King's retains complete control of her Divinity School, as well as of her present endowments, administration of residences and all internal matters. Under the terms of the agreement between Dalhousie and King's, the University was re-established in Halifax by means of private subscriptions and with the financial aid of the Carnegie Corporation, which endowed the teaching of Liberal Arts. The new buildings, costing $450,000, were opened for the session 1930–31. The University is governed by a Board consisting of the Bishops of the dioceses of Nova Scotia and Fredericton, the President and the Treasurer of the University, ex officio, together with 10 members elected by the Alumni Association, 8 elected by the diocesan Synods, and 4 co-opted by the Board.

FACULTIES AND DEANS, v. p. 728.

LIBRARY. About 30,000 volumes. The library has some forty incunabula and a fair number of illuminated mediæval MSS. It is particularly rich in books of the 18th century, when the College was founded. The Library specializes in Divinity and Arts, although other fields are also represented. It has also a very fine collection of United Empire Loyalist china, which was collected in 1880 by Mrs. Weldon, a daughter of Thomas Chandler Haliburton, to mark the centenary of the landing of the Loyalists in the Saint John River Valley.

DEGREES. The degrees granted by King's in the Faculty of Divinity are the Bachelor of Sacred Letters (B.S.Litt.), the B.D. and the D.D.; diplomas of Licentiate of Theology and Scholar of Theology are also awarded. There is no provision for external degrees. The language of instruction is English. King's also is a partner in a School of Journalism in association with two other local Universities. Dalhousie Univ. awards the degrees in Arts and Science only.

SCHOLARSHIPS. There are 6 or more Foundation Scholarships on entrance, worth $600 each, and 5 or 6 Chancellor's Scholarships of the value of $1600 each, the latter being provided for boys who wish to enter business.

ADMISSION. The minimum entrance requirements are either the Grade XI examinations of the Provinces of Canada, provided the certificate covers English, two foreign languages (Latin is required for Arts), History, Algebra, Geometry and a Science, or the matriculation examinations of any recognized Univ., providing the same subjects are offered. Overseas students are granted pro tanto recognition in certificates, which they offer on entrance. See also Appendix I.

PUBLICATION. Calendar (annual).

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Univ. was founded by the Seminary of Quebec in 1852 under a Royal Charter. A general supervision of teaching and discipline is exercised by the Archbishop of Quebec as Visitor and Chancellor Apostolic and President of the Conseil Supérieur of Bishops of the ecclesiastical province of Quebec. The Profs. of the Faculties of Theology, Canon Law and Philosophy are nominated by the Visitor, those of other Faculties by the Conseil de l'Université, composed of the Directors of the Seminary of Quebec and 3 Senior Profs. of the Faculties of Theology, Arts, Law and Medicine, and the Deans of the Faculties of Philosophy, Letters, Sciences, Social Sciences, Agriculture and Forestry and Surveying.

LIBRARIES: General, 275,201 vols.; others, 899,089 vols. GENERAL MUSEUM: Director: A. Jobin. LABORATORIES: Chem., Phys., Bact., Biol., Physiol., Anat., Pathol., Clinic., Physio-pathol., Biochem., Bot., Mineral., Geol., Optics, Hygiene.

Diament, Dir.; History and Geography, Prof. M. Trudel, Dir.

DEGREES, DIPLOMAS AND TEACHING ACTIVITIES. The Univ. perpetuates the stages by which a Degree was, and still is, reached in the Univ. of Paris. The Baccalauréat ès Arts (B.A.) is not the equivalent of any of the English Degrees, but is an official certificate (recognized by the Govt.) that the student has successfully completed his literary and scientific studies, and is entitled to begin his professional studies in law, medicine, or applied sciences, or the higher studies. It is obtained before he leaves the affiliated Institute, Seminary or College at which he has studied. Students who reach a certain standard in both letters and sciences obtain the B.A. After the B.A. the student may proceed to the Baccalauréat in Theology (3 yrs.); in Philosophy (2 yrs.); in Social Sciences (2 yrs.); in Civil Law (4 yrs.); in Music (2 yrs.); in Pharmacy (3 yrs.); in Surveying (3 yrs.); in Agriculture (4 yrs.); in Medicine (2 yrs.); in Commerce (2 yrs.); in Education (1 yr.); in Applied Sciences (5 yrs.); in Household Sciences (2 yrs.). The course for the Licence covers 3 yrs. after the B.A. in Philos. (L.Ph.); 2 yrs. in Letters (L. ès L.); 3 yrs. in Sciences (L.Sc.); 3 yrs. in Law (LL.L.); 4 yrs. in Theol. (L.Th.); 2 yrs. in Music; 2 yrs. in Social Sciences; 2 yrs. in Education. To obtain the Doctorate it is necessary to support successfully in public a thesis and propositions as in French Univs. The D. en M. or M.D. is granted after 6 yrs.' study, by examn.

The Diploma in Forestry is awarded after 4 yrs.' study in the Faculty of Surveying and Forestry.

The Faculty of Sciences provides a 5 yrs.' course leading to the Baccalauréat in Applied Sciences, or to a Licence and to a Doctorate in Sciences.

The Univ. has granted affiliation to about 70 private schools for boys and girls. At the age of 12 yrs. the children may choose between the primary course, a certificate being granted, after Univ. examn., at the end of the fourth year, and the classical course of the first degree (High School, 4 yrs.), with a certificate of matriculation at the end of the fourth year. The main difference between the two courses is the teaching of Latin, and the advanced teaching of Mathematics and of History, in the High Schools.

The High School course is given in Schools limited to such a course, or in Colleges and "Séminaires," which give, after the High School course, the teaching usual in Colleges of Arts. In these last institutions Greek is taught for 4 yrs.; Philosophy (theory, history, essays) for 2 yrs.; Latin for 6 yrs.

GENERAL INFORMATION

McMaster University, named after Senator William McMaster (1811–87), whose will provided its original endowment, operates under the terms of an Act of Incorporation granted by the Legislative Assembly of Ontario in 1887 and revised in 1949. The University corporation consists of the Board of Governors, sixteen of its eighteen members being elected by the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec. Academic work is directed by a Senate composed of the members of the Board of Governors and representatives of the faculty and the graduates. There are no religious tests for students, but persons holding regular teaching appointments under the Board of Governors must be members of an evangelical church. This does not apply to members appointed to the Hamilton College staff.

Historically, the University is the outgrowth of educational work begun in Canada Baptist College, Montreal (1838–49). But the educational programme, of which the Univ. is the continuing result, dates from 1857, when the Canadian Literary Institute was founded in Woodstock. The theological part of the work of this co-educational school was transferred in 1881 to Toronto, where a building had been erected for it by Senator McMaster. It took the name Toronto Baptist College. The Institute then became Woodstock College, which continued as a preparatory school for boys until it closed in 1926. The two colleges formed the nucleus of McMaster Univ. when it was incorporated in 1887.

Changed educational conditions led in 1927 to the decision of the board of Governors to move the Univ. to Hamilton, which decision was approved by the Convention, the removal being completed in 1930, the forty-first academic session opening on the new site.

In Jan. 1948, an important reorganization of the Univ. for purposes of administration and finance was carried through. Students and academic depts. were divided into three colleges: The Divinity School, a College of Theology operated mainly on a postgraduate basis; University College, the Arts College of the Univ., in which all Junior Division students are registered; and Hamilton College, which maintains under its own Board of Governors the depts. of Physics, Chem., Mathematics, Geog., Geol., Bot., Zool. and Nursing Education. Hamilton College is an affiliated college of the Univ., legally and financially independent, but under the academic control of the Univ.'s Senate.

INCOME for July 1951 to June 1952. Endowment, $88,953; Grants—Govt., $459,024; Other, $49,193; Fees, $276,835; Sundries, $31,058; Ancillary enterprises, $254,472; total, $1,159,535.
