GENERAL INFORMATION

Originally established in Montreal in 1876 as a branch of Laval Univ., the University of Montreal became autonomous in 1920, under a special Act of the Legislature of the Province of Quebec subsequently revised in 1950 (v. also Yearbook for 1929). It also enjoys certain privileges under a papal charter dating from 1919, is Roman Catholic in outlook and four out of the twelve Members of its Board of Governors are appointed by the Roman Catholic Hierarchy. The remaining eight Governors are French-Canadian business personalities. The Board is self-perpetuating. Financial affairs are under the direct supervision of an Executive Committee composed of five Governors, and pedagogical matters are determined by a Commission on Studies composed mainly of the Deans of the different Faculties.

Through affiliated Institutions, v. supra, as well as by itself, the Univ. caters for the educational needs of over 12,000 students, over 3000 of whom attend courses and lectures in the bldgs. of the Univ. proper.

The Univ. is owner in freehold of several acres on the western slope of Mont-Royal. The present bldgs. were erected between 1937 and 1941, at a cost of over $12,000,000. In 1947–48, an additional $12,000,000 was raised through public subscriptions for the purpose of completing and extending the present facilities, including the completion of the Hospl. (originally planned for 500 beds), a Union bldg., dormitories and a Sport Centre for the students, plus a pension fund for the professors and personnel.

LIBRARY, 275,000 vols. Each Faculty and School has the necessary teaching collections and laboratories.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Mount Allison Wesleyan Academy was founded in 1840. Charles F. Allison, Esq., of Sackville, New Brunswick, contributed the site and buildings as well as annual support for ten years. A similar Academy for young women, also a gift from Mr. Allison, began its work in 1854. The charter of 1858 conferred on Mount Allison Wesleyan College full Univ. powers in regard to courses of study and degrees in the various Arts and Faculties, and these powers are expressly continued to the institution under its present designation of Mount Allison University. The ultimate ownership of the Univ. is in the General Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada. By the basis of union this ownership is now vested in the General Council of the United Church. The direct govt. is, however, vested in a Board of Regents and a Senate, and the aforesaid General Council exercises a controlling influence on the affairs of the Univ. through the power of appointing a majority of the Regents. The Senate is a composite body consisting of members of the Faculty of the Univ., the Headmaster of the Mount Allison Academy and 12 Regents appointed by the Board. It is charged with the duty of regulating the strictly educational concerns of the Academy and the Univ. The general management of affairs is entrusted to the Board of Regents, which is also the supreme governing body of the Academy. The Board consists of 44 members; 24 appointed by the General Council of the United Church of Canada and 20 representatives of the Federated Alumni. In its internal administration, the Univ. has always been conducted on strictly non-sectarian principles.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Nova Scotia Technical College was authorized by an Act of the Provincial Legislature in April 1907 (N.S. Laws, 1907, Chapter 1, Act relating to Technical Education). The Act provided that: "There shall be established at Halifax an institution for the purpose of affording facilities for scientific research and instruction and professional training in civil, mining, mechanical, chemical, metallurgical and electrical engineering, or any other departments which may from time to time be added. The annual expenditure incurred in connection with the institution shall be defrayed out of the Provincial Treasury."

A site was provided by the Dominion Department of Militia and Defence on the condition that the Coll. would include military trg. as a required subject in all depts. of Engin. The erection of the main bldg. proceeded during 1908 and the Coll. was opened under the direction of Frederic H. Sexton, B.Sc. M.I.T., as Principal, with courses in Civ., Electr., Mech. and Mining Engin., in the autumn of 1909. The 1907 Act relating to Technical Educn. was repealed in 1947 and 2 new Acts, one relating to Engin. educn., the other to Secondary Technical educn., were passed by the Provincial Legislature. By these Acts the 2 branches of educn. mentioned above were placed under separate heads. Thus the Coll. will confine its activities to work of Univ. level only. Under the new Nova Scotia Technical College Act authority was given for the establishment of graduate studies and res., and provision was made for close co-operation between the Coll. and the Nova Scotia Research Foundation. A further expansion in 1947 was the addition of the Dept. of Chem. and Metallurgical Engin. Courses of instruction in this dept. were made available to students at beginning of 1947–48 term.

Applicants from other institutions of higher educn. for engineers will be admitted to the jr. yr. upon the presentation of credentials showing that the equivalent of the engin. courses given at the Associated Univs. has been completed. Any person may be admitted to advanced standing in the Technical Coll. by passing such examns. as are deemed necessary by the Coll. Faculty, or by presenting such certifs. of previous records of study or experience as shall satisfy the Faculty.

The Royal Military College of Canada, founded in 1876 at Kingston, Ontario, exists for the purpose of training cadets in the moral, mental and physical requirements for entry into the commissioned ranks of the active and reserve sea, land and air forces. The moral training includes the development of the essential characteristics of discipline and leadership. ## GENERAL INFORMATION

St. Dunstan's College, opened in 1855, was by Act of the Prince Edward Island Legislature granted a charter in 1917 as a University " with all and every the usual rights, powers, and privileges of such an institution." From 1892 to 1940, by virtue of affiliation with Laval University, the degrees of that institution were conferred on all those who completed the St. Dunstan's courses and successfully passed the examinations given by Laval Univ., but since 1940 the powers of its charter have been exercised in full and independent action. By virtue of its former privilege with Laval Univ., however, students from classical colleges in Quebec may attend St. Dunstan's for the last 2 yrs. of their baccalaureate course, write the Laval examn., and, if successful, obtain the Laval degree. English is the official language used in the lectures at St. Dunstan's.

The college is the Diocesan College of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Charlottetown and is co-educational. There are three residences for the male students (Main Building, Dalton Hall and Memorial Hall), each accommodating about eighty students. Fees per room—$70.

The Canadian Officers' Training Corps has a contingent on the campus and offers to selected students an opportunity to qualify for commissions in the Canadian Army. The University Naval Training Division also has a branch of its programme on the campus through which eligible college students may qualify for commissions in the Royal Canadian Navy (Reserve).

The principal athletic activities on the campus are football, hockey and basket-ball, and ample facilities are provided for these in football fields, an indoor skating rink and a large gymnasium.

The students' union co-ordinates all organized student activities on the campus, such as athletics, dramatics, debating, the publishing of the students' magazine, etc.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Sir George Williams College has developed from the formal educational work of the Montreal Young Men's Christian Association inaugurated in 1873. First classes at the University level were offered in 1929 in the evening division, and day courses in Arts, Science and Commerce were inaugurated in 1932. The members of the first class graduated in 1936 and by 1952 some 1624 degrees had been presented. Throughout this period the College had been conducted under the terms of the charter of the Montreal Young Men's Christian Association (consolidation June 1888). In March 1948, however, the College was granted a specific charter by the Provincial Legislature, establishing it a body corporate and politic, for the purpose of conducting a College or University in the Province of Quebec. Its historic connexion with the Y.M.C.A. is preserved by by-law.

Similar courses are offered and the same standards are maintained in both day and evening divisions, although evening students are required to attend for a longer period to complete degree requirements.

FACULTIES. The facs. of Arts, Science and Commerce are closely integrated under the general supervision of the Dean of the Coll. To ensure a broad general basis to the educational programme of each faculty, the work of the College as a whole is further organized in four divisions, each supervised by a Sr. Prof.: Natural Science Division—Sr. Professor S. Madras; Social Science Division—Sr. Professor J. W. Bridges; Humanities Division—Sr. Professor C. W. Thompson; Commerce Division—Supervisor, Assoc. Prof. P. T. R. Pugsley.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS. Satisfactory completion of a recognized secondary school programme; all students must have completed secondary school English, and prospective science students must have completed elementary algebra and plane geometry. Standing must be sufficiently better than mere " pass " to indicate ability for college work. Occasionally, mature students who have not completed secondary school are admitted conditionally, provided that various tests administered by the Coll. indicate that there is likelihood of their being able to follow college studies satisfactorily. See also Appendix I.

DEGREES AND DEGREE COURSES. 4 yrs., B.A., B.Sc., B.Com. (longer in the evening courses). No higher degrees are awarded. Attendance at lectures is required for all programmes.

DIPLOMAS. 2 yrs., Assoc. Arts, Assoc. Sc., Assoc. Com. (longer in the evening division). 4-yr. course for Dip. in Association Sc. for professional Y.M.C.A. Secretaryship.

FEES. Annually for tuition—Day Division: $225; plus $15 lab. fee for each course involving lab. work, $15 student society fee. Evening Division: $40 for each 8-month subject, $20 for each 4-month subject, plus $10 lab. fee for each course involving lab. work, and $5 student society fee.

USUAL LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION. All courses, except language courses, are offered in the English language.

PARTIAL STUDENTS. Non-matriculated students are admitted to evening courses for partial programmes, provided that their background is such that they may follow the courses desired.

VACATION COURSE. A summer session is offered each year in the evening division only, from June 1 to the middle of Sept.

PLACEMENT SERVICE. Placement service for students and graduates offered by the Student Guidance Office in conjunction with National Employment Service.

LIBRARY. 25,906 vols. Open shelf system.

LABORATORIES. Biol., Chem., Electricity and Physics.

RESIDENCE. Men students may reside in the Y.M.C.A. dormitories which occupy space in one of the buildings used by the Coll.

MILITARY TRAINING. College Contingents prepare students for commissions in Canadian Army (Reserve), Canadian Navy (Reserve) and R.C.A.F. Radar and Communications (Reserve).

STUDENT ATHLETIC FACILITIES. Gymnasium and swimming pool.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University of Toronto was founded by Royal Charter under the name of King's College, at York, in 1827, as the State University of the Province of Upper Canada, in close connexion with the Church of England. As the majority of the inhabitants of the Province were not Anglicans, this peculiarity of the Charter aroused strenuous opposition, and for twenty years attempts were made to obtain a modification of it, but with slight success. As a result, in 1841 the Methodists established a University at Cobourg under the name of Victoria College, and the Church of Scotland section of the Presbyterians a University at Kingston under the name of Queen's College. In 1828 King's College was endowed with 225,000 acres of Crown lands. In 1843 the erection of a building and the work of instruction began. In 1849 an Act was passed by which King's College was secularized and removed entirely from its connexion with the Church of England, its name being changed to the University of Toronto. In 1853 University College was created, which undertook the work of instruction, the University itself becoming merely a legislative and examining body. As a result of the secularization of King's College, the University of Trinity College was founded at Toronto in 1851, under the control of the Church of England. Proposals for the federation of the Universities were first considered in 1843, but it was not until 1890 and 1904 respectively that the Victoria University and the University of Trinity College were federated with the University. The transfer of the former to Toronto was completed in 1892, and of the latter in 1925. St. Michael's College was established at Toronto in 1852 by the Basilian Order. Although it had never been granted University powers, it was accorded the status of a federated College in 1890, declared a College in the Faculty of Arts in 1910 and ranks equally with the other three colleges. Knox College, established at Toronto in 1844 as a theological seminary in connexion with the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, was incorporated in 1858 by Act of Parliament, and federated with the University in 1890. Wycliffe College, founded in 1877 and incorporated in 1879, was federated with the University in 1890; its object is the theological training of candidates for the ministry of the Church of England in Canada. Emmanuel College came into being as a result of the union in 1925 of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational Churches. It is a College of Victoria University and is also separately federated to the University of Toronto.

THE UNIVERSITIES OF AUSTRALIA

[Specially contributed for this edition in September 1953 by A. J. T. Ford, M.C., B.Ec., Secretary of the Australian Vice-Chancellors' Committee.]

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

UNIVERSITY education in Australia had its origins a little over a hundred years ago when Universities were founded in New South Wales, the University of Sydney (1850), and in Victoria, the University of Melbourne (1853). In the other states Universities were founded as follows: in South Australia, the University of Adelaide (1874); in Tasmania, the University of Tasmania (1890); in Queensland, the University of Queensland (1909); and in Western Australia, the University of Western Australia (1911).

These Universities, though geographically widely distributed, nevertheless form a relatively homogeneous group owing to their general similarity of origin and constitution and to their relationship to the communities which they serve. All of them were established by Acts of the respective State Legislatures carried through in response to popular demands, in some cases with considerable financial assistance from private benefactors. They all receive substantial grants from the Commonwealth and State Governments, which have played an important part in their development. Like the British Universities generally, they are, by statute or Royal Charter, self-governing academic corporations.

In addition to this group of Universities, there are also two University Colleges. The first of these, the Canberra University College, was established at Canberra in 1930 by an enactment of the Commonwealth Government with the object of providing educational facilities at University standard in the newly developing Commonwealth capital. The Canberra University College is associated with the University of Melbourne, which is the examining and degree-conferring body. The second of the Colleges, the New England University College, was established in 1938 as a College of the University of Sydney. It is located at Armidale on the Northern Tablelands of New South Wales. These Colleges conform to the general pattern of the other Universities, though the scale of facilities and the range of studies available are naturally smaller.

In recent years two new Universities, both of which constitute departures from the traditional University pattern, have been established. The first of these, the Australian National University, was established at Canberra by an Act passed in 1946 by the Federal Parliament. The other, the New South Wales University of Technology, was incorporated by an Act of the New South Wales Parliament in 1949.

The Australian National University is a University of a special type as its activities are directed primarily to research work at the postgraduate level. The Australian National University Act provides specifically for the establishment within the University of the John Curtin School of Medical Research, a Research School of Physical Sciences, a Research School of Social Sciences, and a Research School of Pacific Studies. Considerable progress has now been made in the development of the University, though some delay has been occasioned by present building difficulties. With the exception of the Department of Medical Chemistry, which is located in London, all the departments of the University are functioning in Canberra, and postgraduate students are being accepted to study for higher degrees.

The New South Wales University of Technology is also an institution of a special nature. The objects of the University are to provide facilities for higher specialized training in the various branches of technology and science in their application to industry and commerce, and to aid through research the development and application of science to industry. With these objects in view, courses provide for extensive practical experience in industry under the supervision of the University. However, in order that graduates will not be handicapped by too narrow a specialization, there are in all Faculties courses in Language, Literature, Human Relations and Contemporary Civilization. Power to decentralize the University's activities, both in its co-operation with industry and in its teaching services, is given to the University Council, and it was under this authority that a College of the University has been established within the Newcastle Technical College.

CONSTITUTION OF UNIVERSITIES. A. Governing Bodies. The governing bodies in the Australian Universities are designated either the " Senate " (Sydney, Queensland, Western Australia) or " Council " (Melbourne, Adelaide, Tasmania, New South Wales University of Technology, Australian National University and Canberra University College). In their statutory constitution they present (except for the Council of the New South Wales University of Technology, see below) a generally similar composite character, while differing in the proportions of the component elements. Their membership varies in number from 18 to 32.

In every case there is a substantial proportion of representatives elected by the general body of graduates, varying from one-third to more than one-half of the total membership, but only in Adelaide does it form the preponderant element. In every University there is a more or less direct representation of the State on the governing body, either by nomination by the Governor-in-Council or by election by the Houses of Parliament, and in two cases by ex-officio representation of the State Departments of Education. The Melbourne University Act of 1923 introduced a novel provision in that the Government nominees now include representatives not only of Parliament but of manufacturing, commercial, agricultural and industrial interests, and a representative of the technical schools. The governing bodies invariably include representatives of the teaching staff, in some cases by independent statutory right and elsewhere as part of the general representation of the academic body elected by the graduates. Usually provision is also made for the election of representatives of the undergraduate body.

The Council of the New South Wales University of Technology differs from the governing bodies of the other Universities in that there is only one representative elected by graduates of the University. The Council comprises representatives of Parliament, industry and commerce, trade unions, technical education, professional bodies, the University of Sydney, and of the University's teaching staff, graduates and undergraduates.

B. Graduate Academic Bodies. As in the British Universities generally, there is in each of the Australian Universities, with the exception of the New South Wales University of Technology, another statutory academic body, consisting in the main, though not in all cases exclusively, of the general body of graduates. In those Universities in which the governing body is entitled Senate, the graduate body is called either Convocation or Council. When the governing body is styled Council, the graduate body is usually called the Senate, but in Melbourne and at the Australian National University it is known as Convocation.

Whilst the main effective function of this body is its electoral choice of its own representatives on the governing body, it has also, in several Universities, powers (often exercised through a Standing Committee) of deliberation, approval and confirmation in respect of matters submitted to it and in some instances of suggestion, but in no case of initiation, of University legislation.

C. Other Administrative Bodies. The general routine of studies and discipline is usually controlled by a " Professorial Board," whilst the special curricula of studies are the immediate concern of the Faculties and special Boards of Studies. Matters of discipline are in one or two instances dealt with by a special Proctorial Board or Board of Discipline.

FINANCES. The usual sources of revenue for the Universities established under State Acts have comprised, in addition to the grants from the respective State Governments referred to previously, income from students' fees and by way of donations or from endowments. However, in recent years the Commonwealth Government has also provided financial assistance to the Universities. This assistance took the form initially of grants to stimulate research in the Universities, and later the Universities were substantially subsidized to assist them to provide the facilities and staff necessary for the training of ex-Servicemen and women under the Commonwealth Reconstruction Training Scheme.

When the number of students attending the Universities under the Commonwealth Reconstruction Training Scheme began to decline in 1950, it became apparent that the consequent reduction in subsidies to the Universities would cause them serious financial difficulties. The Commonwealth Government accordingly appointed a Committee to enquire into the needs of the Universities both immediate and for long-term development. As a result of the interim report submitted by this Committee the Commonwealth Government enacted the States

Grants (Universities) Act, 1951. Under the Act the Commonwealth is providing grants to the States for University purposes of from £A803,000 to £A1,103,000 p.a. Since the initial Act the amount of assistance has been increased by an additional £A80,000 for the New South Wales University of Technology to take account of a large increase in student numbers since the enquiry by the Committee.

Grants to the Australian National University and the Canberra University College are made by the Commonwealth Government.

RESIDENTIAL COLLEGES. The founders of the first Australian Universities appear to have been influenced by the conception of a University which is embodied in the ancient residential foundations of Oxford and Cambridge. No doubt this could be attributed in part to the fact that they were contemplating Universities which were to serve the large, and comparatively thinly populated areas of the several Australian Colonies (long before their federation as States of a Commonwealth). Provision was therefore made at the outset for the establishment of residential Colleges which were conceived as religious foundations. These were entrusted to the Churches of the leading Christian denominations, namely, Church of England, Presbyterian, Methodist and Roman Catholic. The first Colleges provided for men, but not long after the founding of Colleges for women at Oxford and Cambridge, provision for residence of women students was made at Sydney and Melbourne. The Colleges in all the Universities are open to all students of good standing, without distinction of religious belief.

In order to understand the place which the College system occupies in the Australian Universities, it should be remembered that, while membership of a College implies membership of the University to which the College belongs, membership of the University does not necessarily imply membership of any of its Colleges. College tutorials are, therefore, supplementary to the teaching which the University provides for all its students (whether members of a College or not) and in consequence vary considerably from University to University. There is also considerable variation in the scale of College fees.

For a list of the Colleges and College fees payable see under the several Universities below.

The New England University College is different from the other institutions in that it provides accommodation for most of its students, who are drawn chiefly from the northern part of N.S.W. Unless their homes are in Armidale, students attending the College must take up residence.

University House at the Australian National University, opened early in 1954, provides accommodation facilities for single students and for some staff members. In addition, it provides up-to-date club facilities for members of the University.

FEES AND COST OF LIVING. The cost of living varies a good deal in different parts of Australia, but a student should be able to manage on £A450-£A500 a year. Board and lodging should not cost more than £A5 a week, and meals can generally be obtained at the Universities by members of " Unions " and others at a cost of from 3s. to 5s. Sydney University Union has a refectory seating 450, and one-half of it is open to all members of the University and their guests. Adelaide University has a refectory seating 400, Melbourne has a Union building containing dining-rooms seating 700, and Western Australia has at present accommodation in its dining-rooms for about 200. A fully developed Union at an Australian University also provides all the comforts of a non-residential club for a membership fee ranging from £A1 to £A3 : 13 : 6 a year. In Adelaide there is a compulsory fee of £A6 : 10s. a year which covers membership of the Union, Sports Association and the Health Service. Facilities for rowing, football, cricket, field hockey and other games are provided by the Sports Clubs for correspondingly moderate fees, and numerous inter-varsity contests are held in vacations under the auspices of the Australian Universities' Sports Union.

Residence at a College is optional, except at New England University College and at the Australian National University, where unmarried students will be required to reside in University House. College fees, which are entirely separate from University fees, are on an inclusive basis for residence and tutorial assistance, and range from £A100 to £A192 per annum. Special arrangements can usually be made for residence during vacations, an additional charge then being made. Many students live in College on a total income of something less than £A450 a year. Several of the Colleges have liberal endowments for Scholarships and Bursaries.

For University fees see under the several Universities below.

ADMISSION. See Appendix I.

THE ACADEMIC YEAR. Undergraduate status is ordinarily defined in terms of academic years of study, e.g. " first year," " fifth year," etc.

The academic year begins in March and ends in November or December. It is subdivided into Terms, usually three, which may, or may not, include special examination periods. The Universities of Melbourne and Tasmania and the Canberra University College have each four Terms, but the fourth Term in these cases is devoted to examinations.

The New South Wales University of Technology provides a number of courses which operate for two terms only each year—March to September. During the remaining five months of the year, students gain practical experience in industry under the supervision of the University.

Although the inclusive dates of the terminal periods show some discrepancy in the different Universities, arrangements have been made to secure the coincidence of a substantial part of the inter-term vacations.

PERIODS OF STUDY. The Universities require not less than 3 yrs.' study for a B.A. or B.Sc.—in most cases, 4 yrs. if taken with Honours. The curriculum for the first degree in Medicine covers 6 yrs. The time needed to graduate in Law is usually 4 yrs., but some Universities allow graduates in Arts to shorten the prescribed period. Since regulations do not always require each successive " year " to be taken as a whole, but allow credit to be given for subjects taken separately, many students, especially those able to give only part-time to their studies, spread their courses over periods longer than the normal. For information regarding other degrees and periods of study therefor, see under the several Universities.

CURRICULA AND COURSES. In general, it may be said that the character and range of studies in the Australian Universities correspond fairly well with those of British Universities of comparable size and organization. The subdivision of University studies into groups, under Faculties and Boards of Studies has, however, been carried further than is usually the case in British Universities. There has thus been a considerable accession of new Faculties beyond those traditionally recognized. The general principle has been largely, though not consistently, adopted that any definite and distinct curriculum, leading up to the award of a distinctive degree or degrees, warrants the creation of a separate and distinct Faculty as a Board for the regulation of the studies and examinations in such a curriculum. Concurrently with this development there has been a marked tendency to the specialization and multiplication of distinctive degrees, so that in some cases, even within the one Faculty, several distinctive degrees are obtainable along more or less differentiated lines of study.

A conspicuous instance of this is seen in the Faculty of Engineering in Melbourne, in which no fewer than eleven different degrees may be awarded as Bachelors and Masters of different branches of engineering —Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, Mining and Metallurgical, Master of Engineering Science—besides a Doctorate of Engineering.

For detailed information about the courses at any individual University, see under the several Universities below or refer to the Calendar or Handbook published by that University.

The following provides in the first place an outline of the nature of the courses available at the Universities of the six states. Later a separate reference is made to the courses at each of the Colleges, the Australian National University, and the New South Wales University of Technology.

Each of the Universities of the six states possesses Faculties of Arts, Science, Law and Engineering. All except Tasmania have Schools or Faculties of Agriculture.

Sydney and Queensland have Schools of Veterinary Science organized as separate Faculties. Melbourne, Western Australia, Adelaide and Tasmania provide only the first year of a Veterinary Science course in the Faculty of Science.

Sydney and Adelaide each have a separate Faculty of Economics, but as neither University has a Faculty of Commerce, all the various branches of both Economic and Commercial Studies are included in the Faculty of Economics. In Melbourne, there is a Faculty of Economics and Commerce, and in Queensland and Tasmania there are Faculties of Commerce. In each of the Universities (including Western Australia), the subject of Economics is represented by a separate Professorship, and Economics is ordinarily included as a subject which may be taken for an Arts degree.

In Sydney, Melbourne and Queensland there are Faculties of Architecture. At Adelaide there is a special course in Architecture within the Faculty of Engineering. In Melbourne and Queensland, courses within the Faculty of Engineering lead to degrees in Surveying.

Melbourne and Adelaide have each a Faculty of Music with a full Professorship and a Conservatorium. In Sydney there is a Conservatorium entirely independent of the University, which has, however, recently established a Chair of Music in the Faculty of Arts. In Western Australia there is a readership in Music in the Faculty of Education. In Tasmania, Music is not taught, but if studied privately credit may be given for one of the subjects of the Arts degree. In Queensland, Music may be taken as a subject of the first year of the B.A. course.

Melbourne and Queensland have Faculties of Education granting University degrees of Bachelor and Master of Education, previous qualification for another degree being a condition of entrance to the Education course. In each case, the Faculty contains several representatives of the State Department of Education. Tasmania has a Faculty of Education, having taken over the training of teachers from the State Education Department in 1948. A diploma of Education (available to graduates only) and a certificate for non-graduates are offered. Western Australia grants a first degree in Education, and recently established a postgraduate teachers' certificate course open to graduates of Western Australia or other approved Universities. Bachelors of Education may also proceed to the degree of Master of Education. In the other Universities, the subject of Education comes under the Faculty of Arts and enters into the composition of such alternative curricula for the Arts degrees as are specially adapted to the requirements of the professional training of teachers. Sydney now grants a degree of Master of Education, which may be awarded to graduates in other Faculties of not less than three years' standing who present a satisfactory thesis and pass an examination dealing with advanced work in education. The Professors of Education are usually, but not always, associated with the State Training Colleges. Special diplomas in Education are obtainable in the Universities of Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide and Queensland by University graduates.

Courses in Physical Education controlled by a Board of Studies and leading to a diploma are now available in each of the larger Universities except Sydney. A course in Physical Education is now given in Western Australia as an optional part of the Bachelor of Education degree course.

The University of Sydney made provision for the study of Theology in 1937 and Sydney now has courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Divinity and may confer the degree of Doctor of Divinity. In 1953 the University of Queensland established courses in Divinity: a degree course of three years' duration and a diploma course requiring a minimum of two years' study.

Canberra University College conducts courses in Commerce and Economics, Arts and Law; students comply with entrance conditions of the University of Melbourne, take the examinations and obtain the degrees of that University. In addition, there is a School of Diplomatic Studies which provides training for cadets in the Department of External Affairs. A graduate of an approved University who is not a cadet may be admitted to the course in Diplomatic Studies after consultation with the Department of External Affairs. A School of Oriental Languages has recently been established at the College providing tuition initially in Chinese and Japanese; the teaching of Russian will also be placed within the School.

The New England University College conducts courses in the main Arts and Science Departments, in many cases to Honours standard. First-year courses for Sydney degrees in Medicine, Veterinary Science, Agriculture and Forestry are available, while students may attend the first-year Pharmacy course. Graduate students may take the course for the diploma in Education.

Students of the Australian National University may normally proceed (after three years' work) to the Ph.D. in any of the schools of Medical Research, Physical Sciences, Social Sciences and Pacific Studies, or, alternatively, to an M.A. or M.Sc. in the appropriate field (usually after two years' work).

The New South Wales University of Technology at present has Faculties of Applied Science, Architecture and Engineering and provides undergraduate courses leading to degrees in Science (Applied Physics, Applied Chemistry, Chemical Engineering and Wool Technology), Engineering (Mechanical, Electrical, Mining and Civil) and Architecture. Postgraduate courses are also provided, leading to the degrees of Master of Science or Master of Engineering.

The Universities of Melbourne (1946), Sydney (1948), Western Australia (1948), Adelaide (1949), and Queensland (1950) have established the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, for which graduates of certain standing are eligible upon the successful completion of a full-time course, generally of two years' advanced study and research in the University. The University of Tasmania (1946) and the New South Wales University of Technology now provide courses for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy for graduates in Science and Engineering only, and some other Universities have similar Faculty limitations.

Professional Schools and Research Institutes. The Universities of Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide and Queensland each possess well organized and equipped professional Schools under their Faculties of Medicine and Dentistry. These Schools have long been, and are now, mainly responsible for the training of the medical and dental professions in Australia. In Western Australia a Faculty of Dental Science was established in 1946 and the establishment of a medical school is under consideration.

The Universities of Sydney and Melbourne appoint Clinical Supervisors to each of the Teaching Hospitals to co-ordinate the clinical training of students. Thus an extensive and varied clinical field is secured, not only for undergraduate training, but in increasing measure for more advanced and specialized postgraduate study and research in conjunction with the scientific laboratories of the Universities and other research institutions. Many postgraduate diploma courses are offered, including diplomas in Psychological Medicine, Dermatological Medicine and Clinical Pathology at Sydney and Australian diplomas in Public Health and Tropical Medicine and Hygiene from the School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine in the University of Sydney, and similar courses in the University of Melbourne. Both these Universities also grant diplomas in Ophthalmology, Laryngology and Otology, in Gynæcology and Obstetrics, in Therapeutic and Diagnostic Radiology and in Anæsthesia.

A Biophysics Section was established in Queensland in 1937 to manufacture radon and to carry out other work in connexion with the treatment of cancer. In Adelaide, the Anti-Cancer Campaign Committee maintains a radium and deep X-ray clinic at the Royal Adelaide Hospital, and a plant at the University for the production and manipulation of radon. Under an arrangement with the University of Melbourne the Commonwealth Government maintains there an X-ray and Radium Research Laboratory. At the University of Sydney a group of young members of the staffs of the medical and allied departments are continuing fundamental work on cancer and medical research problems which is financed by the Medical Research and Cancer Research funds.

In 1925 the University of Adelaide established the Waite Agricultural Research Institute, an important centre for research in agricultural and allied subjects at Glen Osmond, four miles from the city. The University of Western Australia also has an Institute of Agriculture (established in 1938) which serves as a centre for research in Agriculture and is located in the University grounds.

There are various University and associated Research Institutes in Adelaide, Melbourne and Sydney, where investigation is carried on into problems of Pathology, Bacteriology, Pharmacology, Radiotherapy, Cancer Research, Animal Nutrition, Animal Health, Entomology, etc.

DIPLOMAS. Numerous University diplomas are now obtainable in various branches of study in the Universities of Australia. They may be classed under three categories: (a) those obtainable by graduates as supplementary qualifications in particular subjects after special courses of study. To this group belong the postgraduate Medical diplomas already mentioned and also certain diplomas in Education; (b) diplomas obtainable by non-graduates after shorter or less comprehensive courses of study than those required for a University degree covering the same subject. This group includes certain diplomas in Commerce, Public Administration, Agriculture, Engineering, Music and Dramatic Art; (c) diplomas in subjects, usually of limited range, for which no special University degree is available, e.g. Journalism, Pharmacy, Anthropology, Town and Regional Planning and Social Studies. The present tendency is to reduce the number of sub-graduate diploma courses while extending the range of postgraduate diplomas.

From the beginning of 1951 the New South Wales University of Technology assumed responsibility for the provision of twenty diploma courses in Engineering, Applied Science and Architecture, which were previously provided by the New South Wales Department of Technical Education. Students attending these courses have matriculated in the University and the courses require five or six years' part-time attendance concurrently with employment in industry. Having qualified for the diploma, the student may be admitted to the appropriate degree course with advanced standing and so proceed to the degree of Bachelor by further part-time attendance over at least two years.

EVENING LECTURES. Full University courses of evening lectures in Arts, and in some cases in Science, Commerce and Law subjects, are provided by the Universities of Adelaide, Melbourne, Sydney, Queensland, and Western Australia and by Canberra University College to enable a degree in those Faculties to be obtained by persons whose occupations preclude their attendance at the University during the day. At the University of Tasmania some lectures are given in the evening, while at the New England University College the time-table between 4 P.M. and 6 P.M. is so arranged that teachers and others employed in Armidale or district may undertake courses leading to the B.A. degree.

EXTERNAL STUDENTS. Only in special circumstances is external tuition permitted outside a State. Under the Regulations of the Universities of Melbourne and Queensland, attendance at lectures is not compulsory except in specified subjects. (These include most scientific subjects which require laboratory facilities.) It is therefore possible, though not common, to obtain an Arts degree as an external student. In Western Australia correspondence classes for external students are carried on in most Arts subjects, and in most subjects for the B.Ed. degree, under the guidance of tutors and with the help of a circulating reference library. Melbourne also provides correspondence tuition in certain subjects, but only for students resident in the country districts of Victoria. Canberra University College does not accept external students.

The Universities which permit the enrolment of external students, or provide for correspondence tuition, in general limit such facilities to residents within the State in which the University is situated. Queensland University does provide some external tuition for students in Australian territories outside the Australian continent, and external correspondence tuition has been provided by different Universities to members of the British Commonwealth Occupation Forces in Japan.

In the Universities of Adelaide and Tasmania exemption from some of the lectures of a course may be granted in special cases in which reasonable cause is shown.

In all the Universities there is provision for the recognition, for degree purposes, of various courses of instruction in institutions such as Technical Schools and Colleges.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION LECTURES. University Extension Lectures were instituted at Sydney University in 1886 and at Melbourne in 1891. In 1913 Workers' Educational Associations were formed in all the States, except in Western Australia, to give effect to a movement for bringing the Universities into closer relationship with the masses of the people. The movement was fostered by State grants and grew rapidly. Apart from Melbourne, where the W.E.A. has been merged in the new Council of Adult Education separately financed by the State Government, each University co-operates with the W.E.A. in the formation of a joint committee, which appoints tutors and supervises the work with the help of a University officer—the Director of Tutorial Classes. The total number of extension students throughout Australia is over 6000. In addition to these courses, a great many preparatory classes, study circles and summer schools are organized by the Association, numerous courses of public lectures are delivered, educational conferences promoted and an extensive book service is carried on. In Victoria, adult education is the responsibility of a statutory Council of Adult Education working in liaison with an Extension Committee in the University. A correspondence study department has been inaugurated in connexion with the W.E.A. activities in Queensland. Western Australia has no W.E.A. organization, and the work is under the control of an Adult Education Board representative of University and other interests acting under the University Senate. The Adult Education Board conducts lectures in the city and suburbs and books from the Adult Education Library are available to metropolitan and country subscribers. In addition, the Board organizes Discussion Groups, Music Recitals, Film Shows and performances of Drama and Ballet in town and country areas and conducts an annual Summer School at the University. At the New England University College the Senior Staff Tutor in charge of Tutorial Studies organizes adult education classes and activities in centres widely scattered over the New England region.

OVERSEAS SCHOLARSHIPS. Scholarships or grants-in-aid for study overseas are awarded by individual Universities and by such bodies as the British Council, Carnegie Corporation of New York, Nuffield Foundation, Gowrie Trust and the United States Educational Foundation in Australia (Fulbright Scheme). These scholarships enable selected students to extend their studies in the postgraduate field and are a valuable link between the Universities of Australia and those of England and the U.S.A.

COMMONWEALTH SCHOLARSHIP SCHEME. The Commonwealth Scholarship Scheme, which was established by the Commonwealth Government, came into operation on January 1, 1951. Under the Scheme, 3000 scholarships are provided each year for open competition to students who wish to undertake courses at Universities and other approved institutions of higher education. Scholarships are awarded entirely on merit and no regard is paid to the means of the student's parents. Scholars who undertake approved full-time courses on a full-time basis may apply for a living allowance which is payable subject to a means test. Applicants and their parents must be resident in Australia at the time of the award of the Scholarship and must intend to remain permanently in Australia.

INTER-UNIVERSITY ORGANIZATIONS. After a conference held at Sydney in 1920 the Australian Universities established a Standing

Advisory Committee to deal with matters of common interest. The office of the Committee, now known as the Australian Vice-Chancellors' Committee, is located at the Australian National University in Canberra. The Committee meets at least twice a year, usually in March and October, or more frequently should occasion demand. In addition, an annual conference of the Registrars of the Australian Universities is held, usually in August, under the auspices of the Committee. Emeritus Professor S. H. Roberts, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Sydney, is the present Chairman of the Committee, and the Secretary is A. J. T. Ford. Enquiries should be directed to the Secretary, Australian Vice-Chancellors' Committee, c/o Australian National University, Box 4, G.P.O., Canberra, A.C.T.

In order to ensure that a flow of trained personnel from Universities would be sufficient to meet the needs of the country during the war and post-war periods the Commonwealth Government in 1942 set up the Universities Commission.

Under the Education Act of 1945, which established the Commonwealth Office of Education, the Universities Commission was made a permanent body functioning within the framework of the Commonwealth Office of Education, which provides a Secretariat for the Universities Commission. The Director of the Office of Education, W. J. Weeden, is Chairman of the Universities Commission, which confers from time to time with the Vice-Chancellors' Committee. The Commission has its head office at Grace Building, York Street, Sydney (postal address: Box 3879, G.P.O., Sydney), and branch offices in each State (except Tasmania).

The Universities Commission administers the Commonwealth Reconstruction Scheme under which ex-Servicemen are trained at University level, and is responsible for the co-ordination of policy in respect of the Commonwealth Scholarship Scheme. In addition, the Commission advises the Commonwealth Government on other matters relating to University training and associated matters as are referred to the Commission for advice.

The Commonwealth Office of Education, inter alia, is responsible for the administration of schemes sponsored by the Commonwealth government for the training at University level of students nominated by participating South-East Asian countries.

In addition, it is responsible for administering the State Grants (Universities) Act under which the Commonwealth makes grants to the States for University purposes.

STATISTICS of University staff, students and finance are published annually in the official Year-Book by the Commonwealth Bureau of Census and Statistics, from which a more detailed bulletin in typescript form may be obtained (see p. 1707).

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was established by Act of the provincial legislature in 1874. It began with endowments of £A20,000 each from Sir W. W. Hughes and Sir Thomas Elder, a land grant of 50,000 acres (subsequently repurchased by the govt. for £A40,000), a site of 5 acres in the city and an annual govt. subsidy of 5 per cent. on endowments. The original site was increased to 8 acres in 1920, to 14 acres in 1927 and in 1929 to 27 acres. The govt. subsidy on endowments is limited to £A40,000. The Council consists of the Chancellor, the Vice-Chancellor, 20 members elected by the Senate and (since 1911) 5 elected by Parliament. State grants (apart from the subsidy on endowments) for annual running costs have been increased from time to time and amounted in 1951 to £A398,842, excluding an amount of £A65,000 for the Waite Agric. Res. Inst. The total value of the endowments is over £A1¼ million, and the income in 1952 was £A654,601.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Australian National University was founded by an Act of the Parliament of the Commonwealth of Australia in 1946. The Act provided for the establishment at Canberra of a Univ. consisting of a Council and Convocation, and graduate and undergraduate members. The Council is the governing body of the Univ., but in the Univ.'s early years, until July 1951, its affairs were in the hands of an Interim Council. The permanent Council, which was constituted in 1951, consists of not more than thirty members, including the Vice-Chancellor, four members elected by Parliament, up to eight appointed by the Governor-General, up to nine elected by Convocation, three elected by the academic staff and two by students. The sr. academic body of the Univ. is the Board of Graduate Studies, which consists of the Dirs. and Profs. The Board assists the Council by tendering advice on all questions affecting education, learning and research in the Univ. There is also a Faculty (in the English sense) within each of the Res. Schools. Convocation will eventually consist mainly of the Council and graduates of the Univ., but at the outset the opportunity was taken to add to it the Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor and five other representatives of each other Australian Univ. institution. Under the founding Act, the primary function of the Univ. is to encourage and provide facilities for postgraduate research, both generally and in relation to subjects of national importance to Australia.

RESEARCH SCHOOLS. As was contemplated by the Act, the Univ.'s activities are in the first instance concentrated on the establishment of four Research Schools—the John Curtin School of Medical Research (named after Australia's wartime Prime Minister), and Research Schools of Physical Sciences, Social Sciences and Pacific Studies—the development of other Schools and the offering of undergraduate courses having been indefinitely deferred.

It is intended that each School should be led by a Director, but the responsibility for the organization of the work of particular Depts. within the Schools will rest with their professorial heads. A Director has been appointed in the Research School of Physical Sciences, but in the other three Schools Deans have been appointed as a temporary measure. In addition to the Directors and Professors, the staff comprises permanent Readers, Senior Fellows and Fellows, and short-term Sr. Research Fellows and Research Fellows. The Univ. is seeking to provide members of staff with the most favourable feasible conditions for the advanced prosecution of research. They will have their whole time available for research, their teaching and administrative duties being of a quite minor kind. They will have opportunity to move about among their colleagues in Australia. Professors will be at liberty to take a yr.'s study leave with full salary after each 3 yrs. of service, Readers after each 5 yrs. of service and a Fellow after each 6 yrs. of service.

All Depts. of Res. Schools, except that of Med. Chem., are now located in Canberra. The lab. block of the Res. Sch. of Phys. Scis. has now been completed, and the remaining Depts. are housed in temp. bldgs. pending the construction of permanent bldgs.

Each Dept. of the Res. Schools accepts a small number of graduate res. students of first-class calibre, the general minimum entrance qualification being a Master's degree or its equivalent in a University of sr. standing. (See also Appendix I.) Each student is assigned to a supervisor, and pursues a course of res. under supervision. Subject to certain conditions, the student may proceed to the Ph.D. degree (normally after three yrs.' work) or an M.A. or M.Sc. (usually after two yrs.' work). The Univ. will also confer the degrees of D.Litt., D.Sc. and LL.D. for distinguished work in appropriate fields published by persons with a real connexion with the Univ.

INCOME. The Univ. receives a statutory grant and additional funds are voted annually by the Commonwealth Parliament for bldgs., etc.

ANNUAL FEE: £A52 : 10s. (covers all charges except board and residence).

RESIDENCE. Single students are normally required to live in University House (see below), and married students within easy access of the Univ. precincts. Master of University House: Prof. A. D. Trendall.

SCHOLARSHIPS. From 1948 to 1951 the Univ. awarded some 75 res. scholps. to relatively recent graduates of high promise, for study abroad. At present the Univ. offers 15 scholps. annually, but they are now intended mainly to support some specially able students working in the Univ. itself. In addition, two or three general scholps. are still offered to graduates to work abroad in fields not covered by the Res. Schools. The emoluments of the scholps. tenable in the Univ. vary according to the scholar's circumstances, but are of the order of £A615-£A750 p.a.

The Univ. from time to time issues invitations to distinguished sr. scholars to visit Australia, conducting discussions with interested people not only in Canberra but in the other Australian Univs.

LIBRARY. The Library, which was assembled in Melbourne and brought to Canberra late in 1950, now comprises some 70,000 bound vols. and about 20,000 vols. in the Oriental collection.

BUILDINGS. The Univ. site consists of 204 acres of well-situated land in the Canberra suburb of Acton. The first permanent bldg. to be erected is the lab. of the Res. Sch. of Physical Sciences. University House, which will provide collegiate accomm. for about 100 single staff members and graduate students, and form a social centre and fac. club for the Univ., will be opened in 1954. The labs. for the John Curtin School of Medical Res. are at an early stage of bldg. and bldgs. for the other two schools, the Library and ancillary services are being planned. Housing is a major problem in Canberra and in the present difficult situation the Univ. has undertaken some responsibility for finding living accomm. for the members of its staff. Flats and houses are being built.

PUBLICATIONS. The Univ. has not as yet published a Calendar; enquiries should be made of the Registrar. A news bulletin describing the Univ.'s development is issued gratis every few weeks, and will be supplied on request.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Univ. was founded in 1853 by an Act of the Victorian Legislature and declared open in 1855. In 1854 a site of about 100 acres was reserved for Univ. purposes. Schools of Law and Med. were established in 1857 and 1862 respectively. The ceremonial Wilson Hall (destroyed by fire in 1952) was opened in 1882, a year after women students were first admitted. Residential colleges were established as follows: Trinity, 1872; Ormond, 1881; Queen's, 1888; Newman, 1919. The Conservatorium of Music was opened in 1895 and the College of Dentistry affiliated with the Univ. in 1904. A year later schools of Dent. and Agric. were established. By 1909 more than 1000 students were attending the Univ.; this had risen to 2000 by 1920, and during the ensuing 10 yrs. schools of Arts, Anat., Bot. and Geol. were built and the Univ. Press established. In 1935 the Univ.'s first salaried Vice-Chancellor was apptd., previous holders of that office having acted in an honorary capacity. 1937 saw the establishment of Union House, a recreation centre for students, now 4000 strong, and the opening of Univ. Women's College, to which major extensions were made in 1952. Chem. and Comm. buildings were opened in 1939. The student body increased from 4400 in 1939 to 9100 in 1947; this influx necessitated the opening, in 1947, of a branch of the Univ. at Mildura, where, for 3 yrs., first-year students in several Facs. were trained. Numbers have since fallen to 7320 in 1952.

CONSTITUTION. The Council is composed of 32 members—elected by graduates (10); representatives of the teaching staff (5); of affiliated colls. (2), undergrads. (2); apptd. by the Govt. (8) (3 being Members of Parliament, the others representing business interests and technical schools); ex officio (3); and co-opted members (2). Convocation (the body of grads.) elects a Standing Cttee. with certain legislative and advisory functions. There is a Professorial Board, and individual courses are controlled by Facs. and Bds. of Studies.

INCOME. In 1952, expenditure amounted to £A1,502,632 (including £A26,564 for new bldgs.) as against total income of £A1,768,203, which included £A36,872 of the Commonwealth Govt. Grant in respect of 1951, £A153,528 donations and bequests for capital purposes and £A85,000 proceeds of fire insurance on Wilson Hall. The State Govt. has fixed an amount of £A568,000 as its contribution to the Univ. during the present financial year.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Incorporated by Act of N.S.W. Parliament in April 1949, The New South Wales University of Technology was established to meet the urgent demand in Australia for increasing numbers of technologists and applied scientists, and to provide them with means of advanced training and res. Provision is made for the govt. of the Univ. by a Council representative of Parlt., industry and commerce, the trade unions, technical educn., professional bodies, the Univ. of Sydney, and of the Univ.'s own teaching staff and its undergraduates and graduates. The Council may provide courses in Applied Sci., Engin., Technol., Commerce, Industrial Organization and such other related courses as it deems fit, and may, after examn., confer the several degrees of Bachelor, Master and Doctor, and such other degrees and such certificates in the nature of degrees or otherwise as it thinks fit. Power to decentralize the University's activities, both in its co-operation with industry and in its teaching services, is given to the Council, which is authorized to establish and maintain branches, depts. or colls. at Newcastle, Wollongong, Broken Hill or such other places in the State of New South Wales as it may approve. The first coll. of the Univ. was established at Newcastle in Dec. 1951, and is controlled by the Council. A cttee. of members of Council with experience of educational and industrial requirements at Newcastle advises the Council on the development and management of the Coll.

INCOME for yr. 1951–52, £A719,953 (84 per cent. from State Parliament grants, remainder from fees and contributions from industry and other sources). Pending the completion of its own bldgs. and the acquisition of equipment, the Univ. has at its disposal the resources of the Dept. of Technical Educn.

FACULTIES AND DEANS. Applied Sci.: Prof. A. E. Alexander (Appl. Chem.); Archit.: Prof. F. E. Towndrow; Engin.: Prof. D. W. Phillips (Min. Engin.).

LIBRARY. The Univ. library is at present incorporated in the Sydney Technical Coll. library. Vols., 45,614; accessions, 1952, 3940.

ADMISSION. See Appendix I.

PUBLIC EXAMINATIONS. See Appendix I.

DEGREES. 4 yrs.: B.Sc. Pass, Hons. (Appl. Chem., Chem. Engin., Appl. Phys., Wool Technol.), B.E. Pass, Hons. (Civil, Electr., Mech., Mining); 6 yrs.: B.Arch. Pass, Hons.

HIGHER DEGREES. M.Sc., M.E., at least 2 yrs.; Ph.D., at least 3 yrs.

COURSES. First degree courses instituted in Civil, Elect., Mech. and Min. Engin. in March 1948, this initial step being made possible by the work of the Development Council, apptd. in Aug. 1947. Degree courses in Appl. Chem.

and Chem. Engin. began in March 1949, Archit. in 1950, Appl. Phys. and Wool Technol. in 1951.

Two features are emphasized in undergrad. courses. The first is incorporation in the syllabus of industrial experience to supplement lab. and lecture-room work at the Univ. (in the Fac. of Engin., 5 months p.a., supervised and organized to suit the stage and syllabus of each course). The second is the compulsory study of general subjects, such as English, Hist., Econ. and Psychol. These courses are designed to broaden the experience and interests of the student.

From beginning of 1951 the Univ. assumed responsibility for provision of 20 dipl. courses in Engin., Appl. Sci. and Archit., previously provided by the N.S.W. Dept. of Technical Educn. Dipl. courses require attendance for 5 or 6 yrs., pt.-time concurrently with employment in related occupation. Students attending have matriculated and are registered students of the Univ. On the certif. of the Univ. that the course has been completed the Dept. of Technical Educn. issues the dipl. of the A.S.T.C.; the student may then be admitted to degree course with advanced standing, proceeding to Bachelor's degree by 2 yrs.' further pt.-time attendance in a Conversion Course.

Facilities are available to students already in employment and enrolled in appropriate dipl. courses to transfer at certain stages to degree courses at the Univ. Conversion Courses, which began in 1950, permit those who hold such qualificns. from Technical Colls. and from other Univs. to resume their studies and proceed to a degree or higher degree of the Univ.

FEES (all figures are in Australian currency). Undergrad.: Matricn., nil; Graduation, nil; B.Sc. courses, £90-£120; B.E. courses, £120; B.Arch. course, £120. ## GENERAL INFORMATION

The Univ. was established by an Act of the local legislature in 1909, and the entire management and control are in the hands of a Senate. Until Nov. 1943, the Senate consisted of 20 members—10 appointed by the State Government and 10 elected by the Univ. Council (consisting of all members and past members of the Senate; all graduates of the Univ. of 3 yrs.' standing; persons appointed by the Government as representative of commerce, industry and scientific assocns.; benefactors, etc.). Under the "University of Queensland Act Amendment Act of 1941," which came into operation on Nov. 8, 1943, the number of Government representatives on the Senate was increased to 15, making the total number of members 25 instead of 20. The Univ. is subsidized by the State Government. The amount of subsidy for the first teaching year (1910) was £A5500. It has since been progressively increased and was £A546,920 in 1952, of which £A158,630 was repaid to the State Govt. by the Federal Govt.

Up to 1931 the grounds and buildings facing the Brisbane River and adjoining the Botanical Gardens included, in addition to the main building and recreation grounds, 6 floors of three blocks of the Central Technical Coll. buildings. The remainder of these blocks had to be taken over by the Univ. in 1932, in order to accommodate the increased number of students. Owing to the rapid growth of the Central Technical Coll., as well as the Univ., the Univ. is unable to obtain any more accommodation in the Coll. buildings.

The present site belongs to the Central Technical Coll. and is used only temporarily for Univ. purposes. The permanent site of the Univ., consisting of 223 acres, is situated on the Brisbane River in the suburb of St. Lucia. It has a river frontage on three sides, and was the gift of Dr. and Miss Mayne, Brisbane. The erection on the St. Lucia site, by the State Government, of buildings to house all departments except those concerned with the work of the later years in the Faculties of Medicine and Veterinary Science, which are situated at Herston and Yeerongpilly respectively, is well advanced. The Main Building at St. Lucia was first occupied at the end of 1948 and now accommodates the Facs. of Arts, Commerce, Law and Educn., the Depts. of External Studies, Physical Educn., and Surveying, the Main Library, and a skeleton admin. staff. The Chem. Bldg. at St. Lucia was occupied early in 1950 and the Geol. Bldg. early in 1951. A 90-ft. extension of the Main Bldg. to provide admin. accomm. has now been completed; and work on the Phys. Bldg. is progressing.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded in 1850, the University of Sydney is the oldest Univ. in Australasia. Its development has been largely due to private benefactions. The Act of Incorporation provided for the appt. of a Senate of 16 Fellows (later increased to 26) and a statutory grant of £A5000. The first Provost and Vice-Provost (later entitled Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor) were elected the following yr., and the first 3 Profs. arrived in Sydney from the U.K. in 1852, the yr. of the Univ.'s inauguration in the Sydney Coll. bldgs. (now occupied by Sydney Grammar Sch.) in College Street. The first matriculation examn. was held in Oct. The Sydney Coll. bldgs. proved to be inadequate, and the State Govt. made a grant of 128 acres of land (later increased to 141½ acres) at Grose Farm on the w. boundaries of the city, with provision for sub-grants by the Senate for 4 Colls. and for subsidies towards the Coll. bldgs. and the salaries of their hds. The Univ. was transferred to this, its present site, in 1857. St. Paul's College (C. of E.) was estd. in 1854, St. John's (R.C.) in 1857, St. Andrew's (Presb.) in 1867, The Women's College (undenominational) in 1889, Wesley College (Methodist) in 1910 and Sancta Sophia College (R.C. Women) in 1929. All were built on Univ. land and subsidized on equal terms.

Most of the Univ. buildings have been provided from public funds. The Great Hall, a replica of Westminster Hall, London, was opened in 1859 and the main bldg. completed the following yr.

The Univ. was granted a Royal Charter in 1858. Women were not admitted to membership of the Univ. until 1881; they were given the same rights as men 3 yrs. later. Up to 1890 all students except graduates in Arts were required to attend one year in Arts before entering upon special studies.

CONSTITUTION. The body politic and corporate of the Univ. of Sydney consists of a Senate constituted of 4 fellows apptd. by the Governor, 1 elected by the Leg. Council, 1 by the Leg. Assembly, 10 by the grads., 3 by the fellows, 1 the Vice-Chancellor of the time, 5 rep. of the teaching staff, 1 (a grad.) rep. of the undergrads. The Chancellor and Deputy-Chancellor are elected by the Senate from its own members. The Chancellor or, in his absence, the Deputy-Chancellor, presides at all meetings of the Senate; if both are absent, a chairman is elected by the fellows. The entire management of the affairs, concerns and property of the Univ. is controlled by the Senate, which makes the by-laws and regulns. subject to approval of the Governor, who is the Visitor to the Univ. No religious test is administered to any person.

INCOME (1952), £A1,364,212 : State Govt. grants, 32 per cent. ; Commonwealth Govt. grants, 23 per cent. ; fees, 39 per cent. ; endowments, 2 per cent. ; other, 4 per cent.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The New England University College was established as a branch of the University of Sydney on Jan. 1, 1938, by the Senate of the Univ. of Sydney under powers given to it by the University and University Colleges (Amendment) Act of 1937. It was established in accordance with the expressed wish of the people of Northern New South Wales and for the purpose of providing educn. at Univ. level for country students particularly. New England thus became the first experiment in Univ. decentralization in Australia, unique in this country in being almost wholly residential. The N.S.W. Govt. bore the cost of converting the property to its present use and of providing additional bldgs., and has more recently provided funds for the building of temp. hostel accomm. to house 78 students. The Commonwealth Govt. made funds available under the Commonwealth Reconstruction Training Scheme for the erection of another large bldg. to provide additional lecture-rooms, labs. and staff studies.

INCOME (1952). £A163,197 (grants from Commonwealth and N.S.W. Govts., 82 per cent.; residential fees and sale of produce from Univ. farm, 12 per cent.; lecture fees, 5 per cent.).

FACULTIES AND CHAIRMEN OF FACULTY CTTEES. Arts, Dr. K. A. McKenzie; Science, Dr. A. Stock.

LIBRARY. Dixson Library, approx. 25,000 vols., together with a large number of periodicals.

LABORATORIES, ETC. A FIELD STATION for research into properties of the ionosphere has been established. The Univ. Coll. has also been chosen as the site of the labs. connected with a large C.S.I.R.O. Field Res. Station of 4500 acres situated about 10 miles from Armidale. The UNIVERSITY FARM of 500 acres will provide facilities for field studies connected with the proposed Facs. of Animal Husbandry and Agricultural Economics.

ADMISSION. See Appendix I.

DEGREES AND DEGREE COURSES. Courses and examns. in all subjects are substantially the same as for those subjects in the Univ. of Sydney. Students graduating from the Fac. of Arts take the degree of B.A. (Pass and Hons. Schools) of that Univ. Courses of lectures are given in English, Latin, Economics, Hist., Economic Hist., French, German, Philos., Psychol., Educn., Geog. and Maths. Economics may be taken at New England as a major subject over 3 yrs. (Pass) or 4 yrs. (Hons.) for the B.A. Students who wish to proceed to the B.Ec. may attend at New England such courses as are common to the Sydney Facs. of Arts and Economics, afterwards transferring to Sydney to complete their courses. Students graduating from the Fac. of Science take the degree of B.Sc. (Pass and Hons. Schools) of the Univ. of Sydney. Courses are given in Maths., Phys., Chem. (Org. and Inorg.), Bot., Zool., Geol. and Geog. First-yr. courses for Sydney degrees in Med., Vet. Sci. and Agric. may be taken at New England, and students may also pursue the first-yr. For. and Pharmacy courses. Graduate students may take the course leading to the Sydney Dipl. in Educn. Graduates in certain subjects may also proceed to the Master's degree of the Univ. of Sydney.

POSTGRADUATE STUDY AND RESEARCH. Facilities available, especially in Hist. and Economics, Chem., Phys., Bot., Zool., Geol. and Geog.

STUDENT RESIDENCES. Accomm. at the Univ. Coll. itself for 78 students; 8 hostels in Armidale can accommodate a further 120 students. The weekly charge to students for full board and lodging is £A3 : 10s. Except for those whose homes are in Armidale or who are married, all students are required to come into residence.

UNIVERSITY MILITARY FORMATION. " D " Co. of the Sydney Univ. Regiment is recruited at the Coll.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE. Each student is required to contribute £A1 : 10s. yearly to a medical fund which entitles him, under certain conditions, to free medical treatment while in residence.

SPORT. An active Sports Union provides for all major sporting activities. The new Consett Davis Memorial Playing Fields provide for football, hockey, baseball and basket-ball. A cricket oval and six new tennis courts are expected to be ready shortly.

STUDENTS' UNION. At present the Students' Union has quarters in " Booloominbah " itself. Plans and specifications of " Forster House," the proposed Students' Union, have been completed.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Established by Act of the State Legislature in 1911, the University opened its first session in 1913. Its present site of 165 acres is at Crawley-Nedlands on a bay of the Swan estuary about 4 miles from Perth. On the site are extensive playing fields and two open-air theatres. The main University buildings, including Winthrop Hall, the student block, the Arts lecture-rooms and the Library, were made possible by a bequest of £A425,000 of Sir J. Winthrop Hackett, the first Chancellor of the Univ., and to-day are known as the Hackett Memorial Buildings. A further amount of £A140,000 bequeathed for the purpose to the Church of England, led to the establishment of St. George's Coll.

A building and re-equipment programme of £A350,000 has been carried out since the war, and large-scale bldg. developments, including the establishment of a Medical School, are contemplated in the near future.

The University at present receives a statutory annual grant from the State Government and additional annual appropriations for current revenue from the same source. Total expenditure on all activities, including Public Examns. and Adult Educn., was £A420,000. An amount of £A60,000 from various sources was devoted to research.

The administration is vested in a Senate of 21 members, of whom six are nominated by the Government and seven are ex-officio or co-opted members. A second body with mainly elective and revisionary functions is known as Convocation. Convocation elects 6 members of the Senate. The teaching staff elects 2 members.

GENERAL INFORMATION

In 1929 the Canberra University College was constituted by an Ordinance of the Australian Capital Territory, the Canberra University College Ordinance. The main function of the University College is to establish courses of lectures for degrees and diplomas in co-operation with one or more of the existing Universities in Australia. Co-operation was obtained with the University of Melbourne in 1930 and the University passed a temporary regulation which was extended from time to time, and which was amended in 1951 to read as follows:

"THE CANBERRA UNIVERSITY COLLEGE. (1) Any student taking any subject proper to the Faculties of Arts, Science, Law or Commerce and with the permission of the appropriate Faculty receiving the necessary instruction in such subject at the Canberra University College may upon payment of the following fees be admitted to examination at Canberra upon terms and conditions prescribed by the appropriate Faculty: For each subject, £1 : 1s. (2) Subject to the provisions of Regulation LVI, and to such standing resolutions of the Professorial Board as may apply in the case of persons holding full-time University appointments the Canberra University College shall be recognized as a part of the University of Melbourne for the purpose of accepting any full-time member of the teaching staff of the College as a candidate for the Ph.D. degree. (3) For the purpose of this Regulation the appropriate Faculty shall enquire into the teaching and facilities for study in any subject proper to it and if considered necessary appoint inspectors to visit the College and report thereon. (4) All teaching appointments proposed by the Council of the College shall be submitted to the Council of the University for its concurrence before the appointments are made. (5) This Temporary Regulation shall remain in force until the 31st December 1953."

The University College is financed by an annual grant from the Commonwealth Government, and fees received from students. The grant for 1952–53 was £73,620.

The Ordinance incorporates a Council of the College, which consists of ten members, nine appointed by the Governor-General on the advice of the Minister for the Interior (of whom two are nominated by the University Association of Canberra), and one being a member of the teaching staff co-opted by the Council. The Chairman of the Council is appointed by the Governor-General from among the members of the Council. A new Ordinance is being made which will provide for an enlarged Council including representation of academic staff and grads.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was founded, as a purely examining University, by an Act of the Colonial Govt. in 1870. It received its Royal Charter in 1876. Its constitution is defined in the N.Z. University Act, 1908, and subsequent amendments. The most important of these later amendments was that of 1926 by which the Univ. was re-established as a federal Univ. consisting of the four constituent University Colleges. Strictly speaking, the two Agricultural Colleges do not form part of the federal structure, but in effect they are constituent Colleges with representation and status similar to that of the four Univ. Colls.

* Member of the Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth.

The government of the Univ. is vested in the Senate, advised on academic matters by the Academic Board, which represents the Professorial Boards of the six Colleges, and on entrance matters and legal education by the Entrance Board and the Council of Legal Education. The Senate consists of a Chancellor, Pro-Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor, 4 members nominated by the Governor-General, 8 appointed by the governing bodies of the University Colleges, 1 by the School of Agriculture, 1 by the Senate, 5 by Convocation, 3 by the Academic Board, the Academic Heads of the constituent Colleges and the Director of Education.

In the early days, when only undergraduate work was attempted, the function of the Univ. was mainly examining. Since the reconstitution of 1926, as the Colleges have grown in size and importance, responsibility for teaching and examining has been transferred to them under a general supervision exercised by Academic Board and Senate. The federal University is now largely concerned with wider problems of the promotion and co-ordination of University education and research and, within recent years, has established a University Press, a Research Fund (at present £15,000 p.a.) and a University Grants Committee. It supervises higher teaching appointments in the Colleges, and the governing bodies of the Colleges cannot make any appointment to a Chair without the prior approval of the Senate. A Professor so appointed becomes a "Professor of the University."

The University owns, in Wellington, University House, which contains its administrative offices and the Senate Room.

MATRICULATION. The principal examn. qualifying for matricn. is the Entrance Examn. held in Dec., when the candidate is required to pass in English and in 3 other subjects selected from appropriate groups of subjects. For certain of the professional courses, candidates are recommended to include certain suitable subjects in their Entrance qualificn. The Entrance qualificn. may be granted alternatively on the basis of the Univ. Entrance Scholps. Examn., for which 5 subjects are required at a standard from 1 to 2 yrs. in advance of the Entrance Examn.

Thirdly, special provision is made for the admission to certain courses of students who have reached the age of 21 yrs. and who give evidence of some reasonable educational background though they have not passed the Entrance Examn. This admission is later confirmed on results gained.

Students from overseas are admitted at the discretion of a Cttee. of the Senate if they have passed an approved Entrance Examn. in a Univ. overseas, or if they have passed such an examn. at a standard which appears to the Cttee. to be the standard of Univ. Entrance in New Zealand.

Under present regulns. the Entrance Examn. is no longer in any way related to the School Certif. Examn. in New Zealand, that examn. normally being taken at least a yr. before the candidate takes the Entrance Examn.

EXTERNAL STUDENTS. Provision is made in certain faculties (notably Arts, Comm. and Law) for the admission to degree examns. of students exempted from attendance at a College. Exemption is available only to students domiciled in N.Z. and in N.Z. Island Territories.

ACADEMIC YEAR. Teaching extends from March to Oct. or Nov., in three terms, Autumn (March–May), Winter (June–Aug.) and Spring (Sept.–Oct. or Nov.).

GENERAL INFORMATION

Created by Provincial Ordinance, 1873, and affiliated to the Univ. of N.Z., 1874. The first Prof. was apptd. in 1873 to fill the Chair of Chem. Value of lands, bldgs., equipment, etc., £687,500; annual Govt. subsidies and grants for 1952, £173,000.

Originally vested in a Bd. of Governors consisting of 23 members who were named and apptd. for life, the govt. of the Coll. is now in the control of the College Council, which consists of the Rector (ex officio), 18 members apptd. or elected, by the Governor-General (3), by Canterbury members of the 2 Houses of Parlt. (3), by Graduates of the Coll. (6), by Canterbury Sch. Teachers (3) and by members of the Canterbury Sch. Cttees. (3). In addition, there are two Council members apptd. by the Professorial Board, a member representing Lectrs. and a member representing the Students' Assocn. The term of each member is 3 yrs., with one-third of each group retiring in rotation each yr. A Professorial Council, set up in 1877 and reconstituted as the Professorial Bd. in 1896, originally included all full Lectrs. In 1925 membership was limited to Profs. and such Lectrs. as were apptd. by the Council. In 1948 the 1st appt. was made of a full-time Rector, who is the academic head of the Coll. and the permanent Chairman of the Professorial Bd.

There have been several special schools connected with the Coll. The Sch. of Art, opened in 1882, in 1950 became a Fac. of Coll. The chief special sch., that of Engin., has developed greatly since its establishment in 1890. A Sch. of Agric. was opened at Lincoln in 1880, administered by the Coll. until 1897 when it became sep. instn. as Canterbury Agric. Coll. Until 1948, 4 important secondary schools were also administered by the College.

First permanent bldg. opened in June 1877, and erection of bldgs. continued till 1923. In 1949 the Council decided to proceed with the transfer of the Coll. to a larger site, and plans have been approved for the use of an area of about 130 acres for this purpose.

UNIVERSITIES OF THE UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA

HISTORICAL SUMMARY (originally contributed by Professor Ritchie of Cape Town, revised by Sir Carruthers Beattie, formerly Vice-Chancellor of the University of Cape Town, and subsequently revised annually by the Vice-Chancellors' Committee). The history of higher education in S. Africa covers but a comparatively short period of time. It may be said to have had its beginnings when, in 1829, the S. African College (now incorporated in the Univ. of Cape Town) was founded, as a proprietary institution, by a number of progressive citizens of Cape Town, assisted by subscribers from various parts of the country. This institution was, at its inception and for a long time afterwards, not much more than a higher-class school, but it had within it the possibilities of growth and started with very high aims. It had a very chequered history for some time, and was on more than one occasion in danger of extinction, but it gradually acquired a stronger position on ceasing to be a proprietary institution and receiving support from the public funds. For 20 years it remained the only educational establishment in S. Africa which aspired to anything beyond the range of elementary education, but in 1849 a rival College (the Diocesan) was started under the ægis of the Episcopalian Church at Rondebosch, a suburb of Cape Town. A few years later, in 1855, a somewhat similar College, St. Andrew's, was founded in Grahamstown, in the eastern part of the Cape Colony. Under the Governorship of Sir George Grey there was founded, in 1855, the Grey College at Bloemfontein in the Orange Free State, the first attempt at higher education beyond the borders of the then Cape Colony. None of these Colleges was well equipped, and most of the work done by them was school work rather than Univ. work, but they gradually acquired a growing influence and formed centres at which development was only a question of time. A very strong impetus in the direction of higher education was given in 1858 by the establishment of a Board of Examiners in Literature and Science. This Board had in view in the first instance the testing by means of examination of the competency of candidates for the Civil Service and public offices, but it soon extended its scope and started examinations on more distinctively Univ. lines, corresponding roughly to Matricn., B.A. and M.A. The competition between the existing Colleges caused by these examns. had undoubtedly a strong influence on the growth of these Colleges and the greater attention paid to subjects beyond the mere school range. This Board continued to exist until 1873, when a successful attempt was made to institute a Univ. for S. Africa. The Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope, which was then founded, continued to exist until the beginning of 1918, when it was transformed into the Univ. of S. Africa, with its administrative seat at Pretoria. This Univ. was modelled on the lines of London Univ., as then existing, as a purely examining body. It was governed by a Council, half of whose members were nominated by the Government, half elected by the members of Convocation. It had no constitutional connexion with the Colleges which prepared students for its examns., but the members of the Council who were elected by Convocation tended gradually to be almost entirely members of the teaching staffs of the various Colleges. In this indirect fashion the Colleges had a considerable influence on the development of the Univ. and the extension of the range and scope of its examns. Almost at the same time as the founding of the Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope there was passed by the Cape Parliament a Higher Education Act, which gave definite salary grants to the professors at recognized Colleges. This Act, together with the new impulse given to higher education by the new Univ., had a very marked influence on the development of the Colleges, which now began to increase in staff and numbers of students. The new College of Stellenbosch (afterwards the Victoria College and now the Univ. of Stellenbosch) was founded in 1874, and grew very rapidly, until it was a formidable rival of the older College at Cape Town. Other Colleges were founded also at Somerset East (Gill College) and Port Elizabeth (Grey Institute), but these had only a very short term of life. At a considerably later period, as S. Africa grew in population and wealth, other Colleges sprang into existence. A College for women (the Huguenot College) was founded at Wellington in 1898 and continued until the end of 1950, when it ceased to exist. In 1904 St. Andrew's College at Grahamstown separated its College department from its school, and the former became incorporated as the Rhodes College. In the same year a School of Mines which had been founded in 1896 at Kimberley was transferred to Johannesburg, and afterwards developed into a College for higher education generally, which is now the University of the Witwatersrand. In 1908 a Univ. College was founded at Pretoria,* and in 1909 a similar College was instituted at Pietermaritzburg, Natal.†

In 1904 there began a movement for the institution of a teaching, in place of the examining, Univ., and the controversy regarding the rival claims of a federal and a single-college Univ. continued for a number of years. An Inter-Colonial Conference on Univ. Education in 1908 reported in favour of a federal scheme, but nothing came of its decision. A new factor in favour of a teaching Univ. was introduced by the munificent gifts for this purpose of Mr. Alfred Beit, his brother, Mr. (later Sir) Otto Beit, and Sir Julius Wernher. In consequence of these gifts, various attempts were made by the Government to solve the knotty question of reconciling claims of the existing Colleges with the institution of one or more teaching Univs. A parliamentary committee deliberated on the subject in 1913, and a Commission was appointed in the same year and, after taking evidence, issued its report in 1914. This Commission proposed two Univs., one consisting of a federation of the S. African College and the Victoria College, the other of a federation of the remaining Colleges (Rhodes College being allowed the choice of joining whichever federation it pleased), but the proposal led to no practical result, chiefly owing to the objection on the part of the two oldest and strongest Colleges, at Cape Town and Stellenbosch, to the loss of their independence. The problem was at length solved in 1916 by giving charters to both the S. African College and the Victoria College, and by the reincorporation of the old Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope as a federal Univ. embracing all the other Colleges under the name of the Univ. of S. Africa.

The three Acts passed by the Union of S. Africa in 1916 were to the following effect :

I. The Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope became the Univ. of South Africa, with its administrative seat at Pretoria.

II. The South African College became the Univ. of Cape Town, with which is incorporated the S. African College. Its seat is upon the Groote Schuur estate on the eastern slopes of Table Mountain.

III. The Victoria College, Stellenbosch, became the Univ. of Stellenbosch, with its seat in the division of Stellenbosch in the Province of the Cape of Good Hope.

These Acts also made provision for the establishment of a Joint Matriculation Board (see Appendix I) and a Joint Committee for Professional Examinations (see p. 1079).

The three new Universities of Cape Town, South Africa and Stellenbosch came into being in 1918. The University of South Africa began with six constituent colleges, viz. : Huguenot (Wellington) ; Johannesburg ; Natal (Pietermaritzburg) ; Orange Free State (Bloemfontein) ; Rhodes (Grahamstown) ; and Transvaal (Pretoria).

In 1921 the teaching institution at Potchefstroom was admitted as a constituent college. It was not long, however, before a movement began for the incorporation of the constituent colleges as independent teaching Universities, except Huguenot which ended its career in 1950. The first constituent college to come into being as a University was that of Johannesburg (University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, 1922) ; followed by Pretoria (University of Pretoria, 1930), Natal (University of Natal, 1949), Orange Free State (University of the Orange Free State, 1950), Rhodes (Rhodes University, 1951) and Potchefstroom (Potchefstroom University for Christian Higher Education, 1951).

With the disappearance of all its constituent colleges the University of South Africa was re-incorporated under the same name in 1951 as an examining body for external students. It has a Division of External Studies.

In 1923 the South African Native College at Fort Hare,* established primarily for the benefit of the native races in South Africa, was incorporated under the Higher Education Act of that year and prepared students as external candidates for examinations conducted by the University of South Africa until its affiliation with Rhodes University in 1951.

Each of the nine Univs. is governed by Council and Senate.

The Senate of the Univ. of South Africa as reconstituted in 1951 consists of two members appointed by the Council, Director and Professor of the Division of External Studies and lectrs. of the Division who are heads of depts. recognized by the Council for representation on the Senate, two representatives of the Senate of each of the other Univs. in South Africa, and not fewer than eight other persons who are Professors or lectrs. at the other Univs. in South Africa. The Senates of the other Univs. consist in each case of the Principal or Rector, the Vice-Chancellor, two additional members of the Council appointed for a prescribed period, and the Professors and, in addition, at Pretoria and the Orange Free State, Heads of Depts., and at Natal, Directors or Heads of such research institutes as fall under the control of the Council, and the Librarian of the University. At the Univs. of Cape Town and the Witwatersrand two Assessor members are elected annually by the Lecturers.

All the Universities offer degrees in the ordinary Arts and Sciences and one or more of them provide training for the following professions, e.g. Agriculture: Natal, Pretoria, Stellenbosch; Architecture: Cape Town, Natal, Pretoria, Witwatersrand; Dentistry: Pretoria, Witwatersrand; Engineering: Cape Town, Natal, Stellenbosch, Witwatersrand; Fine Art: Cape Town, Natal, Witwatersrand; Forestry: Stellenbosch; Medicine: Cape Town, Natal, Pretoria, Witwatersrand; Music: Cape Town, Orange Free State, Rhodes, Stellenbosch, Witwatersrand; Theology: Potchefstroom, Pretoria, Rhodes, Stellenbosch; Veterinary Science: Pretoria; Commercial and Legal Training: all the teaching Universities. Schools of African Life and Languages have been established at four of the Universities.

The training of secondary teachers has been left to the Universities, and all the institutions endeavour to carry out this training. The training of primary teachers is, to a much smaller extent, provided for in the Universities, the main work in this instance being carried on in training colleges under the provincial Departments of Education.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Established by an Act of 1909, Natal University College was opened in 1910 in the Town Hall and moved in 1912 to its own buildings (which, with equipment, cost £60,000) in the suburb of Scottsville, Pietermaritzburg. A new Science block and a women's hall of residence were added in 1921 and a residence for men in 1928. A new wing was added in 1934 and a Library and Fine Arts School in 1936. In 1926, a site of 50 acres at Stellawood, Durban, was presented by the Corporation of the City of Durban, for the erection of an Engineering College. An amount of £50,000 was donated by Mr. T. B. Davis in 1924 for this purpose. Howard College, as it is called to-day, was opened in Durban in 1931. A new Commerce Building, situated on a central site in the city of Durban, was added in 1936. By virtue of Act No. 4 of 1948, the Natal University College was incorporated as the University of Natal. It came into legal existence as an independent University on March 15, 1949, and, in addition to fulfilling its previous functions, is now entitled to examine its own students and grant degrees and diplomas.

The University consists of the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Principal, Council, Senate and Convocation of the University; the professors, lecturers and other teachers; the directors or heads of research institutes controlled by the Council; and the students of the University. The Chancellor, elected by the Council, is the head of the University, and as such is empowered, in the name of the University, to confer all degrees. The chief academic and administrative officer of the University is the Principal, who is ex officio a member of the Council and the chairman of the Senate. The Council, which elects its own chairman, is the governing body of the University and administers its affairs and property.

LOCATION. The Univ. is the only Univ. inst. in S. Africa which functions in two large cities, viz. Pietermaritzburg and Durban. These cities are 56 miles apart. The full-time staff of the Univ. organize and conduct the work. For some subjects pt.-time staff are engaged annually. The newly established Fac. of Medicine for Non-European students has commenced its activities at Wentworth College, where medical students will receive their period of pre-medical training extending over 2 yrs.

GRADUATES' ASSOCIATION. Prior to 1949 the chief assocn. of graduates was known as the Natal University College Union, founded in 1922. ## GENERAL INFORMATION

The beginnings of Rhodes University date from 1855, when St. Andrew's College was founded at Grahamstown. For many years, this School prepared students for degree examns., as well as for the usual school examns. In 1878, the School established a separate College dept. for the purpose of preparing students for the examns. of the Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope. In 1904, generous financial support from the Rhodes Trustees, the citizens of Grahamstown and the public bodies of the Eastern Cape, made it possible to separate this Coll. dept. from the Sch. and it was incorporated by Act of Parliament as Rhodes University College. The Coll. continued to prepare students for the degrees of the Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope until 1916, when it became a Constituent Coll. of the Univ. of S. Africa. In 1949, Parliament passed an Act incorporating the Coll. as Rhodes University, which came into being on March 10, 1951. From the same date, the S. African Native Coll. (now the University College of Fort Hare) was affiliated to the new Univ.

* Associate Member of the Association of Universities of the British Commonwealth.

The Univ. now owns an impressive array of buildings erected progressively since 1914 on an excellent site, the nucleus of which was donated to the Coll. by the Govt. All the bldgs., which comprise administrative, academic and residential blocks, are situated within easy reach of one another, and of the Univ. sports fields.

The Leather Industries Research Inst. originated as a Tanning Res. section of the Chem. Dept. and gradually developed, until in 1942 it was able to move into a separate bldg. and became an independent Dept. In 1946, it was formally constituted as a Research Inst. under the control of the C.S.I.R., but it still remained closely associated with the Coll.

CONSTITUTION. The Univ. consists of the Chancellor, the Principal, who is ex officio the Vice-Chancellor, the Vice-Principal, who is ex officio the Pro-Vice-Chancellor, the Council, the Senate and the Convocation, together with the profs., lectrs., other teachers and the students.

In 1881 the Arts Dept. was granted a charter and accorded its status and constitution as the "Stellenbosch College" by private Act of Parlt. In 1887 (the year of the Golden Jubilee) Her Majesty consented to the College's being named "The Victoria College of Stellenbosch." By the Univ. of Stellenbosch Act, No. 13 of 1916, the Coll. on April 2, 1918, was incorporated as the University of Stellenbosch, and in addition to fulfilling its previous functions is entitled to examine its own students and grant degrees.

The Fac. of Agric. aims at the promotion of agric. sci. and development of agric. in the Union. Particular attention is given to the training of future farmers. By Act No. 45 of 1926, the Elsenburg Sch. of Agric. and the Fac. of Agric. of the Univ. were amalgamated to constitute "The Stellenbosch-Elsenburg College of Agriculture of the University of Stellenbosch." In accordance with this Act, the Fac. of Agric. and For. "shall be for all purposes the Fac. of Agric. of the Univ. and shall have all such rights and privileges and be subject to all such duties as are laid down by the Univ. of Stellenbosch Act, No. 13 of 1916." By this amalgamation the Fac. of Agric. and For. is brought into more intimate touch with practical farming and matters relating thereto, so that its activities are more extensive than those of the original Fac. In close connexion with the Univ. is the Western Province Fruit Res. Stn. of the Union Dept. of Agric., where there are facilities for postgrad. res. in all branches of fruit production and fruit and vegetable processing. Several of staff members of the Res. Stn. are members of teaching staff of the Univ. The Dept. of For. is attached to the Fac. of Agric.

Res. work forms an important part of the activities of this Univ. In Depts. of Educational Psychol., Psychol., Sociol., Geog., Hist., Agric., Bantu Langs., Ethnog., Afrikaans-Nederlands, Geol., Biol., Law and Econ., special attention is devoted to South African problems. Since 1923, the results of res. work have been published regularly in the Annals of the Univ. The Univ. Council also awards a special grant for carrying on scientific investigational work.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, has developed out of the South African School of Mines, which was established at Kimberley in 1896 and was transferred to Johannesburg in 1904, taking then the name of Transvaal Technical Institute and becoming later the Transvaal University College (1906), the South African School of Mines and Technology (1910), and the University College, Johannesburg (1920). In 1921 University College, Johannesburg, was reincorporated as the University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, with effect from March 1, 1922. # THE UNIVERSITIES OF INDIA

[Contributed by Samuel Mathai, M.A. Oxon., Secretary of the Inter-University Board of India.]

THE Universities of India are not descended from ancient seats of learning like Nalanda and Taxila, but are a result of the "British connection." The unsettled conditions of the country in the 18th century had brought education to a low ebb; and when the East India Company became rulers of the country they were confronted with the task not only of restoring political order but also of setting up an educational system suited to the needs of the day. When the problem of education was taken up by the Company there were two schools of thought: one held that the education of India must consist in the main of Oriental classics and Eastern learning; the other argued that the best thing for Indians was to learn the English language and acquire a knowledge of Western literature and science. The "Anglicists" triumphed over the "Orientalists": the Company decided to set apart money for "English" education in India. Meanwhile English schools and colleges had already been established in the "Presidency towns" of Calcutta, Bombay and Madras at the beginning of the 19th century by British missionaries and others, and leading Indians had expressed themselves in favour of English education.

The first proposal for founding a University in India was made by the Council of Education in Bengal in 1845, but was not accepted by the Board of Directors of the East India Company, who thought it somewhat premature. But during the parliamentary enquiry into the condition of India which preceded the renewal of the Company's charter in 1853 the need to create a properly articulated system of education from the Primary School to the University stage was recognized. As a result of this, the foundations of University education were laid in the country by the establishment of the Universities of Calcutta, Bombay and Madras in 1857. The model for these Universities was London University which was then a new institution. London at that time was a purely examining body, admitting to its tests only students trained in affiliated institutions. As the Calcutta University Commission of 1917–19 pointed out, this system of affiliation of collegiate institutions by a University which confined itself to examining the candidates sent up by these institutions "had the advantage of costing very little. It enabled all the existing collegiate institutions, whether Government or missionary, to be worked into the same scheme, and promised to provide a quite impartial mode of testing the qualifications of students for Government service. Above all, it gave freedom to the non-Government Colleges—all, at that date, mission colleges—to carry on their work in their own way, and offered them help from public funds for the secular side of their work."

For twenty-five years the three Universities of Calcutta, Bombay and Madras were found adequate to the tasks entrusted to them. But during this time, with the establishment of new colleges in various towns, the territorial jurisdiction of these Universities increased greatly. The jurisdiction of the University of Calcutta extended at one stage from the Panjab to Burma, covering the whole of North India. The creation of the Universities of the Panjab (now in Pakistan) and of Allahabad in 1882 and 1887 relieved Calcutta University of some of its responsibilities.

For nearly thirty years more no addition was made to the number of Universities in India. But important reforms in the constitution and functions of the existing Universities were recommended by the Act of 1904, which was based on the report of a Universities Commission appointed by Lord Curzon, then Governor-General of India. This Act empowered the Universities to appoint professors and lecturers of their own, to set up museums, libraries, and laboratories, and to undertake teaching. As a result of this Act some of the Universities set up University colleges and made arrangements for postgraduate teaching at the University—although by far the greater part of the teaching continued to be done by the affiliated colleges.

In 1913 the Government of India issued a Resolution drawing attention both to the need for more Universities and for a better type of University education. " At present," the Resolution observed, " there are only five Indian Universities for 185 arts and professional colleges in British India besides several institutions in Native States. The day is probably far distant when India will be able to dispense altogether with the affiliating Universities. But it is necessary to restrict the area over which affiliating Universities have control, by securing, in the first instance, a separate University for each of the leading provinces in India, and, secondly, to create new local teaching and residential Universities within each of the provinces in harmony with the best modern opinion as to the right road to educational efficiency."

This Resolution led to the birth of a number of new Universities in the first quarter of the 20th century. Yet another influence on University educational policy in India was the Report of the Calcutta University Commission under the chairmanship of Sir Michael Sadler, which deliberated from 1917 to 1919. In addition to supporting the move towards unitary, residential, teaching Universities, the Commission recommended that Universities should be relieved of their Intermediate * work so that they might concentrate on real undergraduate and postgraduate work. Although Calcutta University itself did not put into effect most of the recommendations of the Sadler Commission, those recommendations greatly influenced the growth of University education in other parts of India. Not only have a number of unitary Universities been established, but new affiliating Universities have been created to relieve older Universities of part of their territorial jurisdiction or to enable them to become unitary Universities.

In 1948, the Government of India appointed a University Education Commission " to report on Indian University Education and suggest improvements and extensions that may be desirable to suit present and future requirements of the country." The Commission's report was published in 1949.

There are to-day 29 Universities in India. They are, in the order of their foundation: Calcutta, 1857; Bombay, 1857; Madras, 1857; Allahabad, 1887; Banaras Hindu, 1916; Mysore, 1916; Patna, 1917; Osmania, 1919; Aligarh Muslim, 1920; Lucknow, 1921; Delhi, 1922; Nagpur, 1923; Andhra, 1926; Agra, 1927; Annamalai, 1929; Travancore, 1937; Utkal, 1943; Saugar, 1946; Rajputana, 1947; Panjab, 1947; Gauhati, 1948; Roorkee, 1949; Poona, 1948; Jammu and Kashmir, 1948; Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, 1949; Karnatak, 1950; Gujarat, 1950; Visva-Bharati, 1951; Bihar, 1952.

Of these, Allahabad, Banaras, Aligarh, Lucknow, Annamalai, Roorkee, and Visva-Bharati are unitary Universities. The creation of Bihar University with its headquarters at Patna has relieved Patna University of its affiliating functions; Patna University is now confined to the city of Patna, but it is not strictly a unitary University as the teaching is carried on in a number of autonomous colleges in the city. Similarly, the University of Delhi was until recently a semi-unitary University, made up of constituent colleges, but the latest amendments of the Delhi University Act have given it certain affiliating functions. Both Patna and Delhi are, however, in the technical sense, " teaching Universities."

Of the others, all except Agra University have important teaching functions, although they are in the main affiliating Universities. Agra has some fifty colleges scattered over the States of Uttar Pradesh and Madhya Bharat under its jurisdiction. It was created to enable Allahabad to become a unitary University. The Universities of Jammu and Kashmir and Panjab (India) are the result of the partition of the Indian sub-continent into India and Pakistan. The colleges in these two territories were formerly affiliated to the University of the Panjab (Lahore), and it became necessary after the partition to create new Universities to which they could be attached.

Roorkee and Visva-Bharati are unique institutions in India. Roorkee is an Engineering University. It grew out of the Thomason Engineering College and at present has only a Faculty of Engineering. Visva-Bharati, which was given a charter by the Government of India in 1951, was founded as an international cultural centre by the poet Rabindranath Tagore in 1921. It has certain distinctive characteristics of its own and is an attempt " to develop a basis on which the cultures of the East and West may meet in common fellowship."

In addition to the Universities mentioned above, mention must also be made of two other institutions which have University standing. Serampore College (near Calcutta), founded in 1818 by European missionaries, received in 1827 a Royal Charter from King Frederick VI of Denmark (to which Serampore then belonged) and this was confirmed by the British Government in 1845. But this Charter was not utilized till 1915 when degrees in Divinity were granted by the University for the first time. The position now is that in the Faculties of Arts and Science Serampore College is affiliated to Calcutta University, but in the Faculty of Theology the College functions as an independent University.

The Shreemati Nathibai Damodher Thackersey Indian Women's University (usually known as " Women's University ") at Bombay was founded in 1916 to provide an education " specially suited to the needs and requirements of women." The University has now received a Charter from the Government of Bombay and awards its own degrees.

Although the growth in the number of Universities is, to a very great extent, the result of splitting up the older Universities, it does imply an increase in the number of persons receiving a University education.* The growth of the University population in India has raised several problems. While on the one hand this growth is an expression of a commendable desire to participate in higher learning, it is also, to some extent, the result of the absence of adequate opportunities of employment in industry and business for boys and girls leaving school. The presence in the Universities of a number of students who cannot benefit by a University education tends to affect academic standards. Also the somewhat rapid spread of University education raises problems of staff, library and laboratory equipment, suitable buildings for teaching and for residence. The problem of the medium of instruction is an added difficulty to the situation. Experiments in using an Indian language as the medium of instruction at the University stage are being tried by two or three Universities. Elsewhere English is still the medium. But the standard of English has been affected adversely in recent years by several factors, not the least of which is a psychological one.

University authorities are, of course, conscious of these problems and difficulties, and efforts are being made to deal with them. It may be hoped that after the initial period of unsettlement caused by political, economic and psychological factors, the Universities will be able to settle down to teaching and research of the highest order consistent with the scholarly traditions of India.

CONSTITUTION. There are variations in the constitutional framework of the different Universities, the functions of the various " authorities " being somewhat different in each case. But the general pattern is the same. The authorities of Universities are the Executive Council (called the Syndicate in some Universities), the Court or Senate, the Academic Council and the Faculties. The Executive Council (or Syndicate) and the Court (or Senate) have the responsibility of framing Statutes and Regulations and dealing with all matters connected with the organization and administration of the affairs of the University. They are composed of persons representing various interests in the life of the University and the community in which the University exists. Most of the members of these bodies are elected by different constituencies, but a few are nominated by the Chancellor.

The Academic Council deals with academic questions generally, and is chiefly concerned with courses of study and the organization of teaching and examinations. It co-ordinates the work of the various Faculties of the University. The usual Faculties are those of Arts, Science, Medicine, Law, etc. The head of a Faculty is called the Dean and is usually a Professor of the University. It is the Dean's business to attend to the framing and working of the various courses of study in his Faculty. A Faculty usually has several Boards of Study to help it to frame syllabuses in different subjects, to appoint examiners, etc. Faculties which are concerned exclusively with subjects of post-graduate study, such as education and law, tend to become somewhat like autonomous colleges ; but Faculties of Arts, Science, etc., have to co-ordinate the work of undergraduate and postgraduate classes, and, in the case of the affiliating Universities, have to deal with a large number of institutions. These Faculties consist of a number of Departments (e.g. English, Sanskrit, History, etc.) and each Department has its own Head or Chairman or Director who is responsible to the Dean.

AFFILIATION OF COLLEGES. Applications for affiliation are generally submitted to the Syndicate, which must be satisfied as to the managing agency, teaching staff, provision for residence of students, equipment, financial resources, suitability of fees, etc. If granted, the course or courses in respect of which the College is affiliated are specified. Affiliated Colleges must comply with requests by the Syndicate for information, submit themselves to inspection under the Syndicate's orders, and take such action as may be ordered consequent upon such inspections. In Calcutta University affiliation questions are dealt with by the Senate. The powers of affiliation by the University can, in some Universities, only be exercised subject to the approval of Government.

TERMS. University examinations are, with few exceptions, held between March and June. Admissions are made as a rule in June or July, though in some cases regular work does not commence till Sept. or Oct. Some Universities have two terms in the year and the others have three.

ADMISSION TO THE UNIVERSITIES. The examination qualifying for admission to a University in India is the School Leaving or Matriculation Examination taken at the end of the high school course. In some parts of the country the Matriculation Examination is conducted by the University. Elsewhere it is conducted by the Government or by a High School Board. Overseas certificates like the London Matriculation Certificate, the Univ. of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate's Higher School Certificate, the Oxford Local Examinations Delegacy's Higher School Certificate, and General Certificates of Education awarded by the same bodies, are also accepted as entrance qualifications. In Uttar Pradesh, there is a Board of Intermediate Studies which provides a 2-year course after the School Leaving Examination and holds the Intermediate Examination which is the entrance qualification to the Universities of Allahabad, Lucknow and Agra. In Delhi there is a Higher Secondary course which is a year longer in duration than the typical High School course in the rest of India, and the passing of the Higher Secondary Examination (conducted by a Board of Higher Secondary Education) entitles a student to admission to the 3-year course of the Delhi University. Students who have passed the Matriculation or School Leaving Examination have to put in a year's Preparatory work at the University and to pass a Qualifying Examination which is equivalent to the Higher Secondary Examination.

COURSES. The ordinary University course (other than certain professional courses) is of 4 years' duration after Matriculation. At the end of the first 2 years there is the Intermediate Examination. Students may choose one of a number of groups of subjects and the Intermediate Examination may be one in, for example, Arts or Science or Agriculture or Commerce. The successful candidate then commences the B.A., B.Com., B.Sc. or other Bachelor degree course. The degree course is usually of 2 years' duration. At the end of the 2 years a student appears for the degree examination (B.A., B.Com., B.Sc., etc.). The successful candidate obtains a Pass or Honours degree according to courses taken or marks obtained. In some Universities, however, there are, in addition to the 2-year Pass courses, separate Honours courses which are of 3 years' duration after the Intermediate.

After the Bachelor's degree, there is the Master's degree, which is awarded after a further period of 1 or 2 years of study and passing a further examination. In the Universities of Annamalai, Andhra, Madras and Travancore, however, Honours graduates in Arts and Science are awarded the Master's degree without further examination after the lapse of a certain period of time. Therefore, in these Universities the M.A. or M.Sc. degree examination is identical with the B.A. or B.Sc. Honours examination.

Most of the Universities have, in addition to courses in Arts and Science, also professional and technical courses in Agriculture, Commerce, Education, Engineering and Technology, Law, Medicine (including Nursing, Pharmacy, Veterinary Science, etc.), Indian Music, Oriental Languages, etc. The usual degrees are Bachelor of Science in Agriculture (B.Sc.Ag. or B.Ag.), Bachelor of Commerce, Master of Commerce (B.Com. and M.Com.), Bachelor of Teaching (B.T.) and Master of Education (M.Ed.), Bachelor of Engineering or Bachelor of Science in Engineering (B.E. or B.Sc.Engg.), Bachelor of Science in Technology (B.Sc.Tech.), Master of Science in Technology (M.Sc.Tech.), Bachelor of Laws and Master of Laws (B.L. or LL.B. and M.L. or LL.M.), Bachelor of Medicine and Surgery (M.B., B.S.), Master of Surgery (M.S.), Doctor of Medicine (M.D.), Bachelor of Science in Nursing (B.Sc. Nursing), Bachelor of Pharmacy (B.Pharm.), Bachelor of Veterinary Science (B.V.Sc.), Bachelor of Oriental Languages, Master of Oriental Languages (B.O.L., M.O.L.). There are, in addition, several " Titles " in Oriental Languages given by different Universities. These titles, which are usually Sanskrit or Arabic or Persian, signify various degrees of achievement in the Oriental Language studied. The literal meaning of some of the titles would be " the proficient one," " the learned one," " the skilled one," " the expert," " the great teacher," etc. The standard of scholarship required for the titles is usually quite high, but nomenclatures are used in different Universities with different significance. The names of degrees at Visva-Bharati are different from those at the other Universities.

Agriculture. B.Sc.(Ag.) is a 2-year course after the Intermediate at Agra, Allahabad, Baroda, Calcutta, Gauhati, Gujarat, Karnatak, Nagpur, Osmania, Patna, Poona; and the Universities of Andhra, Banaras, Bombay, Delhi, Madras and Mysore have a 3-year course after the Intermediate. At the Panjab and Rajputana Universities the degree is called B.Ag. and is of 2 years' duration after the Intermediate.

Commerce. With the exception of Annamalai, Jammu and Kashmir, Roorkee, Travancore and Visva-Bharati, all the Universities have a Commerce degree course which is usually of 2 years' duration after the Intermediate. At Agra, Delhi and Panjab Universities it is a 3-year course. At Rajputana it is a 2-year course for those who pass the Intermediate Commerce Examination and 3-year course for others. Madras has a B.Com. Honours course which is of 3 years' duration. The M.Com. course is of 2 years' duration after the B.Com.

Education. Except Andhra, Roorkee and Utkal, all the Universities have courses in Education. The B.T. or B.Ed. is a postgraduate course of 2 years' duration. There are also in several Universities diploma courses in Education which are of 1 year's duration.

Engineering. The B.Sc.Engg. or B.E. course is a post-Intermediate course. At the Universities of Aligarh, Andhra, Annamalai, Calcutta, Madras, Osmania, Panjab, Rajputana, Saugar and Travancore, it is a 4-year course. At Agra, Banaras, Mysore, Patna, it is a 5-year course. At Roorkee it is a 3-year course and at Baroda, Bombay, Gujarat and Poona it is a $3\frac{1}{2}$-year course.

Law. With the exception of Andhra, Jammu and Kashmir, Roorkee and Visva-Bharati, all the Universities have courses in Law. The B.L. or LL.B. is a postgraduate course of 2 years' duration at all the Universities except at Bombay, where it is a 2-year course after the Intermediate. At Andhra a post-Intermediate course of 3 years is available in addition to a postgraduate course of 2 years. The LL.M. or M.L. degree can be taken 2 years after the B.L. or LL.B. degree.

Medicine. The M.B., B.S. course is of 5 years' duration after the Intermediate at the Universities of Agra, Bombay, Delhi, Gujarat, Nagpur, Osmania, Panjab, Rajputana, Travancore and Utkal. At Andhra, Calcutta, Gauhati and Mysore, it is of $5\frac{1}{2}$ or 6 years' duration. At Lucknow and Madras it is a 4-year course after the Intermediate. Aligarh has a course in Unani Tib * (B.U.T.) which is of 5 years' duration. Banaras has a course in the Ayurvedic system of Medicine, which is of 6 years' duration. The degree given is Ayurvedacharya.

Degrees in Veterinary Science, which are usually of 4 years' duration after the Intermediate, are given by the Universities of Agra, Bihar, Bombay, Madras and Saugar. Degrees in Nursing are given by the Universities of Calcutta, Delhi and Madras. It is a 2-year course after the Intermediate at Calcutta, a 4-year course after the Qualifying Examination at Delhi and a 3-year course at Madras. Degrees in Pharmacy are given after a 3-year course after the Intermediate by the Universities of Agra, Banaras, Bombay, Madras and Rajputana.

* Traditional system of Medicine usually practised by Muslim physicians; distinct from Ayurveda, the traditional Hindu system of Medicine.

Oriental Languages. Titles and degrees in Oriental Languages are given by the Universities of Allahabad, Andhra, Annamalai, Banaras, Jammu and Kashmir, Lucknow, Madras, Nagpur, Osmania, Patna, Rajputana, Travancore, Utkal and Visva-Bharati. The duration of the course varies greatly. Some are post-school, and some postgraduate. The " titles " correspond to degrees and diplomas.

Theology. Degrees in (Hindu) Theology are awarded by the University of Banaras after various courses. Aligarh awards degrees of Bachelor, Master and Doctor in (Islamic) Theology. Osmania also has Bachelor's, Master's and Doctor's degrees in (Islamic) Theology. Serampore College awards the B.D. and M.Th. degrees and L.Th. diploma in (Christian) Theology.

The Master's degree course requires specialization in one subject. The Master's degree course is not usually a research course, but in some Universities there is provision for a dissertation to be presented by a candidate in lieu of a part or the whole of the M.A. or M.Sc. examination. There is also provision in some Universities for part of the course to be completed in the first year (called M.A. or M.Sc. Previous examination), so that for the final examination candidates have to prepare only the rest of the course.

Research degrees are usually of the same pattern as in British or American Universities. Students select a field of research and under the guidance of a teacher appointed for the purpose work for at least 2 years after a postgraduate degree and present a thesis. Except where M.A. or M.Sc. is a research degree, the first research degree is Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D. or D.Phil.). There are higher degrees like D.Litt. and D.Sc. In the Faculty of Law there is the degree of Doctor of Laws (LL.D.) for which one may supplicate with a thesis. The higher doctorates may also be conferred on distinguished persons honoris causa. Some Universities have a junior research degree called Master of Literature (M.Litt.).

Cost of Living. The cost of living varies in different Universities. In colleges in the smaller towns it may be about Rs.70 p.m.* inclusive of tuition fees, and in the larger cities it may be twice as much or more. Conditions of life vary greatly from place to place and hostel to hostel, and no simplified general statement of the cost of living can be given which would be of much practical value. A large number of Indian University students are, however, " day scholars " who have only to pay tuition fees to their College or University and whose cost of living depends on the standard of living in their homes.

Inter-University Board. In 1920 a Committee was formed for drafting an outline of the functions and constitution of an Association of Indian Universities. The project was further advanced at the Congress of Universities of the British Empire at Oxford in 1921 and at a Conference of Indian Universities held at Simla in 1924.

In accordance with a resolution passed by the Simla Conference, the Inter-University Board was established to co-ordinate the work of the Universities and to provide a forum for the exchange of information and opinion among the Universities. The Universities of Ceylon and Rangoon (Burma) are members of the Inter-University Board of India.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Act VIII of 1926 of the United Provinces Legislature, which received the assent of the Governor-General on Oct. 20, 1926, provided for the establishment of a University "for the purpose of affiliating the colleges associated with the University of Allahabad..." so as to set the latter free to function as a unitary, teaching and residential institution. It empowered the Agra University to affiliate colleges in the Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Bharat, Vindhya Bharat, Ajmer and Bhopal, except within the limits of the Universities of Allahabad and Lucknow. To supplement the work in affiliated colleges the University may institute teaching posts at selected centres.

Five categories of persons are eligible, subject to prescribed conditions, for degrees and other academic distinctions: (a) candidates who pass the University's examinations after pursuing an approved course at an affiliated college; (b) teachers who pass the University's examinations; (c) inspecting officers in the Department of Education who pass the University's examinations; (d) research workers; (e) women who have carried on private study. Lectures and instruction may be provided by the University for, and diplomas may be granted to, persons other than students of an affiliated college.

The supreme governing body of the University is the Senate, the other principal authorities being the Executive Council, Academic Board, Board of Inspection, and Faculties of Arts, Science, Law, Commerce, Agriculture, Engineering, Medicine and Veterinary Science. The Vice-Chancellor, an honorary officer elected by the Senate, is the principal executive and academic officer.

Students are not eligible for admission to a degree course unless they have passed the Intermediate Examination of the Board of High School and Intermediate Education of the Uttar Pradesh, or of an Indian University incorporated by law, or an equivalent examination.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Founded in 1887, the Univ. concerned itself mainly with examinations, having no teaching staff (except that of its School of Law) until 1914. Thereafter it established Chairs and Readerships, etc., for research work in Economics and Modern History for graduate students. In Jan. 1922 was passed an Act (which came into operation in July 1922) for the reorganization of the Univ. as a unitary, teaching and residential institution, with control, however, over the quality and character of the teaching in "Associated" colleges. The Muir Central College became the nucleus of a teaching University, the jurisdiction of which was limited to a territorial area of ten miles' radius from the Convocation Hall of the Univ. Within this area there are six institutions which supplement instruction given in the Univ. The Women's Dept., which undertakes full instruction for the degree course, has now been transferred from the Crosthwaite Girls' College to the Univ. area. From 1922, the Agricultural Institute, Naini, was recognized as a Coll. for the B.Sc. degree in Agriculture. From 1950, the C.M.P. Degree Coll. and the Ewing Christian Coll. were recognized as colls. for B.Sc. classes.

LIBRARY, 151,970 vols. Darbhanga Reading Hall. There are also departmental libraries for the use of teachers. A LABORATORY is attached to each of the Depts. of Physics, Chem., Bot., Zool. MUSEUMS in connexion with Econ. and Com. Depts. ART COLLECTION: A beginning has been made with a project for an Art Gallery. D. N. Bonarjee of Gola Gokarnnath and others have presented valuable paintings.

English is the usual language of instruction. From July 1951, however, as an optional and experimental measure, Hindi has been introduced in some of the undergrad. classes.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Bombay University was established in 1857, but until the passing of the Indian Universities Act of 1904, the function of this University, in common with the others, was limited to examining candidates and arranging for the courses of study which led up to its degrees. Under the Act of 1904, it acquired the right of organizing teaching, arranging for Univ. extension lectures, and of publishing such works as were necessary for the direct educational work it was to carry on. By the Act of 1928, the constitution of the Univ. was considerably altered. By reducing the proportion of the nominated to the elected members in the Senate, and by throwing open the Senate to the representatives of a larger variety of interests, the Act of 1928 ensured the independence of the Univ. for all practical purposes, and made the Univ. a more popular and representative institution than it had been. Under the Act, the executive functions of the Univ. were carried on by the Syndicate, and most of the academic work was looked after by the Academic Council.

One of the main ideas underlying the Univ. Act of 1928 was that the Univ. should directly conduct postgraduate teaching and res. in all branches of learning. The Univ. accordingly arranged for postgraduate instruction and research through its own depts. as well as through the teachers in affiliated colls. and recognized postgraduate institutions, recognized as Postgraduate Teachers of the Univ. The Univ. School of Economics and Sociology was started in 1919 with Prof. Patrick Geddes as the first Prof. The Univ. Dept. of Chemical Technology was established in 1934 with the help of donations from generous philanthropists. The Univ. Depts. of Statistics, and of Civics and Politics, started functioning during the year 1948–49. The Dept. of Civics and Politics forms part of the Sch. of Econ. and Sociol.

As far as undergraduate education was concerned, the Univ. was an affiliating Univ. Before the establishment of the Univ. of Sind and of regional Univs. in Bombay State, the jurisdiction of this Univ. extended over the whole of the former Province of Bombay and Sind. The Univ.'s jurisdiction was then confined to the limits of Greater Bombay, but the Univ. was reconstituted in view of the establishment of regional Univs. in Bombay State.

The Univ. was reconstituted by the Bombay University Act, 1953, consequent upon the establishment of other Univs. as a measure in the decentralization and reorganization of Univ. educn. in Bombay State. The new Act came into operation from June 1, 1953. Its special features are: (1) reconstitution of the Univ. as a teaching and federal Univ. All affiliated colls. become constituent colls.; (2) reduction in number of elections; (3) strengthening of academic element in Senate, Academic Council and Bds. of Studies; (4) creation of Bds. of Univ. Teaching, predominantly academic, empowered to control post-Inter. and postgrad. instruction in affiliated colls. and recognized instns. and to make recommendations to Syndicate for conducting such instruction in Univ. colls. and instns.; (5) extension of the powers of the University to include such activities as extra-mural teaching, Univ. extension courses, training of students for competitive examns. for service under Union and State Govts., establishment of an employment Bureau, students' Unions and Bd. of students' welfare, and provision for recognition of instns. of res. and specialized studies by Syndicate.

The new Act makes a great advance over the Act of 1928 in the matter of the Univ.'s control over post-Inter. instruction in the colls., which become integral parts of a federal Univ. system; the Univ. will be in a position to improve post-Inter. instruction by husbanding the resources of the colls., avoiding duplication and encouraging specialization; it can undertake post-Inter. instruction in its own instns., if necessary.

GENERAL INFORMATION

In July 1854 the Court of Directors of the East India Company sent a despatch to the Governor-General of India in Council directing the organiza- tion of the Universities of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay. In pursuance of that despatch the University of Calcutta was incorporated on Jan. 24, 1857. Modelled on the University of London, then a purely examining body, the functions of the University were limited to the conduct of examinations and the award of degrees. The jurisdiction of the University extended at first throughout practically the whole of northern India, but the territorial jurisdiction has now been limited to the State of West Bengal only, and further limited by the establishment of Visva-Bharati. The West Bengal Secondary Educn. Bd. took the Univ.'s control of management and examn. of about 1100 High Engl. Schools in W. Bengal in 1951.

According to the recommendations of the Universities' Commission, the Indian Universities Act of 1904 was passed. Act VIII of 1904 empowered the University to make necessary arrangements for the instruction of students by appointing Professors and Lecturers, maintaining Libraries and Laboratories, etc. Though most of the teaching continued to be imparted in the affiliated colleges, teaching in some of the higher branches began to be organized under University management. The organization of higher teaching and research was made by the Senate mainly on the initiative of the late Sir Asutosh Mookerjee, Vice-Chancellor from 1906 to 1914 and 1921 to 1923. In 1917 a new scheme for Postgraduate teaching and research centralized postgraduate teaching in Calcutta within, and under the control of, the University.

The departments of Postgraduate teaching in Arts, Science and Technology are placed under three Councils, with three Executive Committees, responsible directly to the Senate. The University now provides for Postgraduate teaching in: (1) English; (2) Sanskrit; (3) Pali; (4) Arabic; (5) Persian; (6) Hebrew; (7) Syriac; (8) Greek; (9) Latin; (10) French; (11) German; (12) Modern Indian Languages, Bengali, Hindi, Urdu, Assamese, Oriya; (13) Comparative Philol.; (14) Mental and Moral Philos.; (15) History (including Ancient Indian History and Culture and Islamic History and Culture); (16) Economics; (17) Political Science; (18) Commerce; (19) Maths. (Pure and Applied); (20) Physics (Pure and Applied); (21) Chemistry (Pure and Applied); (22) Physiol.; (23) Botany; (24) Geol.; (25) Zool. and Comparative Anat.; (26) Psychol. and Appl. Psychol.; (27) Anthropol.; (28) Statistics; (29) Geography; (30) Radio-Physics and Electronics; (31) Education.

Provisions for B.Sc. (Technol.) courses in Jute, Textile and Leather Technol. have been made and arrangements for teaching are being made in some Colls. which have sought affiliation. M.Sc. (Tech.) courses in Appl. Chem., Appl. Phys. and Radio-Phys. have been provided in Postgrad. Technol. Dept.

The Department of Postgraduate Teaching and Research in Arts is located in the Asutosh Building. Postgraduate Teaching and Research in the different branches of Scientific and Technological studies are carried on in the University College of Science at 92 Upper Circular Road and 35 Ballygunge Circular Road, where opportunities for research have been provided by the establishment of extensive Laboratories and up-to-date Workshops. This has been possible mainly through the generosity of the late Sir Taraknath Palit, the late Sir Rashbehary Ghose and the late Raja of Khaira. The University maintains a staff of whole-time and part-time teachers. The Institute of Nuclear Physics and the Institute of Radio-Physics and Electronics have been established at 92 Upper Circular Road.

The Univ. buildings include a Senate House, the Darbhanga Building, with Law College, Hostel and Univ. offices, the Univ. Press, the Asutosh Building for postgraduate classes in Arts, postgraduate offices and the Univ. library, three buildings for the teaching of Postgraduate Science courses at 92 Upper Circular Road and 35 Ballygunge Circular Road. LABORATORIES (in Univ. Coll.

of Science): Phys. and Chem. (Pure and Applied), Applied Maths., Psych., Biol., etc. Inst. of Nuclear Physics. MUSEUMS: Asutosh Museum of Indian Art (including Art collections of the late Puranchand Nahar) and Museums attached to the Anthropological and Commercial sections of the Univ. The University Press is accommodated in a separate building at 48 Hazra Road, Calcutta.

The usual Language of Instruction is English.

CONSTITUTION. The Syndicate consisting of 17 members is the executive authority of the Univ. The Vice-Chancellor is the Chairman and the admin. is carried out by the Vice-Chancellor and Syndicate. The Senate, consisting of 100 elected or nominated members, 9 ex-officio members and the Chancellor, besides one honorary Fellow, is the supreme law-making body, having power of making appts. and creating posts and depts.

The newly passed Calcutta Univ. Act envisages many radical changes. Regulations in accordance with its provisions are being framed. It provides for Senate, Syndicate, Academic Council with larger representation of elected elements, besides normal Faculties, Bds., etc.; and for decentralization of postgrad. teaching. Arrangements for first elections to the Senate according to this Act have been made.

LIBRARIES. The University Library is under the management of the Library Executive Committee, subject to the general control of the Syndicate. It is for the use of Resident Fellows, Registered Graduates, Research Scholars, Readers, Professors, Lecturers and students of Postgraduate classes, and Teachers of the Undergraduate classes of this University. It contains over 220,113 vols., excluding pamphlets and periodicals, and a fairly large collection of Bengali and Tibetan MSS. and Rotograph copies of Persian and Arabic MSS.; 593 books of the Sung Dynasty Tripitaka were presented by the Consul-General for China. The Reading Hall accommodates over 300 readers at a time and remains open for 14 hours on all working days and 7 hours on Sundays.

Besides this central library, there are other libraries attached to the Univ., viz. Law College Library and Libraries of the Departments of Science.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was established by the Delhi University Act (Act VIII of 1922). The three existing men's Colleges in Delhi—St. Stephen's Coll., Hindu Coll., and Ramjas Coll.—were recognized as Colls. of the Univ. and their teachers as Univ. teachers. The Univ. began to function with the Facs. of Arts and Science; the Fac. of Law was instituted in 1924.

The original idea of the Govt. and Legislature was the establishment and incorporation of a unitary teaching and residential Univ. on the model recommended, in the case of Dacca, by the Calcutta Univ. Commission, and it was expected that such a Univ. would be developed gradually within five yrs. But this could not be achieved. The Univ. continued to recognize several colls. in which instruction was provided under prescribed conditions and in which provision was made for residence of students. Although the Univ. had been freed from the defects of a purely affiliating institution, it had given its constituent colls. ample scope to develop their resources in co-operation with each other and with the Univ. From 1933, when the Univ. was given a permanent home in the Old Viceregal Lodge, and plots of land in the Estate earmarked for the constituent colls., the idea of a federal Univ. gradually took shape. Both the Govt. of India and the Univ. authorities intended that the Univ. should be transformed into one of the federal type, in which each constituent coll. should be prepared to forgo some measure of its autonomy in order to share in, and contribute to, the life and govt. of the Univ. as a whole.

The last decade has witnessed rapid growth and development of the Univ. When the late Sir Maurice Gwyer became Vice-Chancellor, he submitted a five-yr. programme of development to the Govt. of India, which they accepted. The Govt. promised a grant of Rs. 37½ lakhs during 1943–48. With the aid of these grants, the Univ. instituted Professorships in Econs., Hist., Maths., Phys., Chem. and Bot., and the number of Readers and Lectrs. was also increased. The Univ. was also able to construct a number of new bldgs.

Postgraduate courses, limited to M.A. in the earlier years, were extended to other subjects. Owing to the large influx of population after 1947, the number of students has increased considerably and new Colls. have been started. The Delhi Sch. of Econ. and the Sch. of Social Work have become recognized institutions preparing students for the M.A. Degrees in Econ. and Social Work respectively.

The Univ. also accepted the extension of the degree course from 2 yrs. to 3 yrs. as part of the reconstruction scheme for Higher Sec. educn. in Delhi. The scheme includes inter alia : the abolition of the Inter. Examn., the extension of the High School Course by one yr. (i.e. extension from 10 to 11 yrs.), and the institution of a 3-yr. degree Course in the Univ.

To implement this idea an Act (Act No. XXIV of 1943) to amend Act VIII of 1922 was passed by the Central Legislature. The amending Act inter alia provides for the appointment of a whole-time paid Vice-Chancellor and has revised the Constitution of the Cttee. of Selection concerned with appt. and recognition of teachers. Teachers employed by the Colls. are " recognized " by the Univ. Such teachers can impart instruction only in approved subjects. All recognized teaching in connexion with courses of study is under Univ. control.

The Delhi University Amendment Act, 1952, has made important changes, based on recommendations of Univ. Educn. Commission, 1950. Apptmt. to membership of authorities will be by rotation by seniority instead of by election. The Univ. now becomes a teaching and affiliating Univ. The affiliated Colls. would, however, be permitted to impart instruction only up to Bachelor's degree. The jurisdiction of the Univ. has been extended over the whole of Delhi State, instead of being limited to a radius of 10 miles from Convocation Hall. The President of India, who was the Chancellor, has now become the Visitor of the Univ. and the Chancellor will be an officer elected by the Court. Provision has also been made for the apptmt. of a Pro-Vice-Chancellor, if need be, to assist the Vice-Chancellor.

CONSTITUTION. The Chancellor is the head, the Vice-Chancellor the principal executive and academic officer, of the Univ. The following are the principal

Univ. authorities: the COURT, consisting of about 100 members; the EXECUTIVE COUNCIL, which is the executive body of the Univ. It consists of about 17 members and controls and administers Univ. property and funds; the ACADEMIC COUNCIL is responsible for the maintenance of standards of instruction, education and examn. within the Univ. It advises the Executive Council on all academic matters. Each FACULTY, subject to the control of the Academic Council, has charge of the teaching, courses of study and research work in such subjects as may be assigned to it by the Ordinances.

GENERAL INFORMATION

More than thirty years ago the idea of having a University in Maharashtra was conceived. It was felt that it would be difficult for the Univ. of Bombay, whose jurisdiction extended over four distinct linguistic regions, to provide adequate facilities to meet the demand for higher education throughout the entire province. Applications for admission to Colleges were increasing and even the holding of examinations was taxing the resources and organization of that Univ. In 1924, the Setalvad Committee on University Reforms, which recommended the establishment of regional Univs. in the Province of Bombay, pointed out the suitability of Poona as such a University centre. This project was taken up by leading educationists, literary associations and cultural organizations in Maharashtra, but it was not until 1942 that the Provincial Government appointed a committee to report on the form, constitution, jurisdiction and financial implications of a Univ. for Maharashtra. Although the committee, presided over by the Rt. Hon. M. R. Jayakar, submitted its report in the following year, difficulties created by the second World War prevented its implementation. It was not until 1948 that the Univ. of Poona was established; it occupied the old Government House, at Kirkee, which was provided by the Bombay Govt. The new Univ. is closely associated with the life and thought of the people of the region, which has a long and distinguished intellectual tradition. Though situated in Poona, the Univ.'s activities are spread over the whole area inhabited by the Marathi-speaking people. It is intended, as the Report of the Committee which framed its scheme observed, that the " Univ. will keep in view the special needs, interests and traditions of Maharashtra and its people without losing sight of its essential character as a University, i.e. a seat of universal learning which recognizes no frontiers except those of the human mind itself."

The Univ. of Poona, as envisaged by the Jayakar Committee and constituted by the Legislature, is neither a purely affiliating nor a purely unitary and teaching Univ. It combines the features of both these types. It aims at creating for the Poona area a central teaching organization beyond the intermediate stage of instruction, and the whole of the postgraduate teaching and research work in the entire University area will be conducted under its direct control. But up to the intermediate stage in the Poona area and the graduate stage in outside places, instruction will continue to be given by the Constituent and Affiliated Colleges subject only to the general supervision of the Univ. It is not contemplated that all the staff, equipment and bldgs. of such post-intermediate Colleges in Poona will belong to the Univ. which will, however, be able to draw freely on these resources. The Univ.'s library, laboratories and full-time teaching staff will be mainly used for postgraduate teaching and research in selected subjects. For the present, the Univ. has decided to appoint seven Profs. and four Readers as its own teachers in the different subjects.

Among the distinctive features of the constitution of the Univ. is its provision for the widest representation of the various elements in the life of the region in the composition of the Court, the general legislative and deliberative University body. Linking academic and non-academic sides is the Executive Council, which possesses complete control over the finances and routine working of the Univ. Apart from its general direction of policy, the Court has no control over the day-to-day business of the Univ.

No discrimination is made toward students on the ground of sex, race, creed, class or religious or political belief.

The usual LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION is English, except in Mod. Indian Lang. classes, where the lang. concerned is used.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The idea of a University at Jaipur—whether only for Jaipur State, or for the whole of Rajputana and Central India—can be traced to the twenties of this century. It was, however, on Jan. 8, 1947, that the Act for a federal University for Rajputana was promulgated by the States that had decided upon this joint action. In July following the Univ. began to function.

The jurisdiction of the Univ. extends over the ring-shaped region comprising the whole of Rajputana minus the centrally administered " island " of Ajmer-Merwara at the centre. The area consists of the former seven political units: (1) Bikaner, (2) Jaipur, (3) Jaisalmer, (4) Jodhpur, (5) Matsya Union (consisting of the former 4 states of Alwar, Bharatpur, Dholpur and Karauli), (6) Rajasthan Union (consisting of the former ten states of Banswara, Bundi, Dungarpur, Jhalawar, Kishangarh, Kotah, Pratapgarh, Shahpura, Tonk and Udaipur) and (7) Sirohi. The seven units were later integrated into a single political unit of Rajasthan (March 30, 1949) and the University Act was, in consequence, amended.

The Univ. controls the High School Examn. as well as Univ. education, and the Bd. of High School Education is one of the "Authorities" of the Univ. With the Senate at the base and the Syndicate as the apex, there are two bodies between them—the Academic Council to deal with collegiate questions and the Bd. of High School Educn. to look after the schools. This system of four "Authorities" forms a strong, stable structure for the Univ. The usual languages of instruction are English and Hindi.

INCOME (Jan. to Dec. 1951). Rs. 10,06,921, of which Rs. 5,00,207 were received from examn. fees. Expenditure during the yr. was Rs. 8,39,308.

GENERAL INFORMATION

After the separation of Orissa from Bihar and the creation of a new Province of Orissa in April 1936, a strong desire was expressed among the leaders of the Province to establish a separate University in Orissa. In 1942 a Committee was formed under the presidentship of Pandit Godavarish Misra, M.A., B.T., then Minister of Education, Orissa, to frame and draft the University Bill, which, after being passed in the Orissa Legislative Assembly, received the assent of the Governor of Orissa on Nov. 23, 1943, and from that date Utkal University came into being under the Utkal University Act, 1943 (Orissa Act XIII of 1943).

Utkal University is at present a Univ. with which there are affiliated 16 colls., of which 11 are First Grade Colleges, 3 Second Grade Colleges, 1 Medical College and 1 Training College. ## GENERAL INFORMATION

The aims of the Univ. are to study the mind of Man in its realization of different aspects of truth from diverse points of view; to bring into closer relationship with one another, through study and research, the different cultures of the East on the basis of their underlying unity; to approach the West from the standpoint of such a unity of the life and thought of Asia; to seek to realize in a common fellowship of study the meeting of the East and the West, and thus ultimately to strengthen the fundamental conditions of world peace through the establishment of free communication of ideas between the two hemispheres; and with such ideals in view, to provide at Santiniketan a cultural centre where research into and study of the religion, lit., hist., sci. and art of Hindu, Buddhist, Jain, Islamic, Sikh, Christian and other civilizations may be pursued along with the culture of the West, with that simplicity in externals which is necessary for true spiritual realization, in amity, good fellowship and co-operation between the thinkers and scholars of both Eastern and Western countries, free from all antagonisms of race, nationality, creed or caste.

HISTORY. Visva-Bharati grew out of Santiniketan Asrama founded in 1863 by Maharshi Devendranath Tagore. The Asrama was meant to be a retreat where seekers after truth might come and meditate in peace and seclusion. In 1901 an experimental school was started at Santiniketan by Rabindranath Tagore with the object of providing for a limited number of children an education which would not be divorced from Nature, where the pupils could feel themselves to be members of a large community. Since 1921 Santiniketan has been the seat of Visva-Bharati, which was incorporated as a Univ. by Act XXIX (1951) of the Indian Parliament. Visva-Bharati is an all-India institution with students and teachers drawn from all over India, with a proportion of teachers, students and visitors from abroad. Students live a communal life.

In addition to the Central General Library (containing about 100,000 vols.), there are sectional libraries attached to various depts. The Univ. has its own Hospl. with a Medical Officer and his assts. Sick-rooms at the women's hostel. Men have sep. hostels attached to various depts., while women students have a common hostel called Sri-Sadana.

Besides the academic institutions mentioned below, the Univ. conducts 2 Depts.: one for Rural Reconstruction and the other for publication of books of educational and cultural interest. The Palli-Samgathana Vibhaga (Rural Reconstruction Institute) at Sriniketan is concerned mainly with a comprehensive study of the problems of rural life in its social, cultural, economic and other aspects and extension work in the villages on the basis of such a study. The Institute maintains a model primary school for rural children, a teachers' training school for serving primary education in rural areas, as well as an agency for propagation of folk education and social education. There is a section for rural industries where training is provided to apprentices in a variety of crafts.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The University was founded in 1942 by the incorporation of the Ceylon University College, established in 1921, and the Ceylon Medical College, established in 1870. It occupies temporarily the premises of the two Colleges in Colombo, but new buildings are being erected in Peradeniya, four miles from Kandy, on the banks of the Mahaweli-ganga below the Royal Botanic Gardens.

The Facs. of Arts and of Oriental Studies moved to Peradeniya in Oct. 1952 and the General Administration in June 1953. When the whole University is moved there it will become entirely residential. The site covers 2200 acres; much of it is too steep for buildings and has been acquired for protective purposes. More land will be required for the Faculty of Medicine and new Faculties. The main buildings are being erected to a plan formulated by Sir Patrick Abercrombie and Mr. Clifford Holliday.

The LANGUAGE OF INSTRUCTION in all Facs. is English, but courses in Sinhalese and in Tamil are given in those languages.

LIBRARIES. The main Library (which has now moved to Peradeniya) contains 80,000 vols., but there are sectional libraries attached to the laboratories. The Univ. makes a grant to the Ceylon Medical Library, which is used as the Library of the Fac. of Medicine. LABORATORIES. Science Labs. in Thurstan Rd. (moving to Peradeniya in 1956); Medical Labs. in Kynsey Rd.; Dental Labs. in Ward Place. HOSPITALS. The Colombo General Hospital, the De Soysa Maternity Hospital and the Dental Institute are teaching hospitals. Medical students also use the Medical Research Institute and the Kalutara Public Health Centre.

UNIVERSITIES OF PAKISTAN

[Contributed by Professor M. Timur, then Vice-Chancellor of the University of Peshawar.]

PAKISTAN came into existence on Aug. 15, 1947. The new State of Pakistan contains five provinces of the old undivided India: East Bengal, West Panjab, Sind, North-West Frontier Province and Baluchistan. There were three Universities in this territory at the time of the Partition. The oldest among these was the University of the Panjab which was established in 1882 with powers to hold examinations and grant degrees to students of affiliated Colleges. It provided instruction only in Law and Oriental Languages. Since 1919 it has organized teaching departments for postgraduate instruction in Physical and Social Sciences, Commerce, European Languages, Dentistry and Islamic Theology. The Medical, Engineering, Veterinary, Agricultural and Training Colleges are administered by different departments of the Provincial Government but are under the control of the University in academic matters.

The University of Dacca was established in 1921 as a teaching and residential University. After the formation of the State of Pakistan in 1947 it was empowered to affiliate all educational institutions in East Bengal which prepare students for examinations higher than the Matriculation and High Madrassa standard. It has teaching departments in Physical and Social Sciences, Medicine, Engineering, Agriculture, Law, Education, Oriental Languages and Islamic Culture.

The University of Sind was established in 1947. The Colleges of the Sind province are affiliated to it. Most of the teaching work is done by the affiliated Colleges, but a scheme for taking over postgraduate teaching under the direct control of the University is under consideration. It has started teaching departments in Sindhology, Education and Religion.

The Universities of Karachi and Peshawar were founded in 1950. The existing Colleges in the Karachi Federal area which were affiliated to the University of Sind before its establishment are now affiliated to the University of Karachi. The new University has under consideration plans for starting postgraduate teaching departments. The Colleges in the North-West Frontier Province are affiliated to the University of Peshawar. Instruction up to the B.A. and B.Sc. degree standard is given by the Colleges. The University has its teaching departments for postgraduate study in English, Economics, Mathematics, Arabic, Education and Law. The Engineering department of the University prepares students for the B.Sc. degree. It has plans for opening teaching departments for postgraduate study in Physical and Social Sciences, European Languages and Islamic Theology.

A University was established in 1953 at Rajshahi in East Bengal. It has no teaching departments as yet, but will act as an examining body for its affiliated Colleges (see pp. 1406-1409).

MEDIUM OF INSTRUCTION. The Pakistani Universities conduct their teaching and examinations on the same lines as English Universities.

The medium of instruction at the degree stage is English except in the Urdu College at Karachi. The courses of study are similar to those in English Universities. Since 1947 there has been a movement to attach increasing importance to the study of the Urdu language and Islamic Theology. Departments for the study of these subjects have been established in almost all Universities. Urdu has been introduced in the Intermediate Colleges as an alternative medium of instruction to English.

ADMINISTRATION AND CONTROL. The Universities of Pakistan are statutory bodies based on the acts of provincial legislatures, in the case of Karachi on the act of the Central legislature. The legislative authority is vested in the Senate and the executive authority in the Syndicate or the Executive Council. Academic matters are under the control of the Boards of Studies, Faculties and the Academic Council which co-ordinates the work of the Boards and the Faculties. The income of the Universities is derived from the fees of students and from grants from the Provincial and the Central Governments.

ADMISSION AND DEGREES. The minimum requirement for entering a University is the Matriculation examination of a Pakistani University, which is generally taken at the age of 16, or an examination which is recognized as its equivalent by the various Universities. Two more years are required for taking the Intermediate examination. The B.A. or B.Sc. (ordinary) degree is granted after a further study of two years and the B.A. or B.Sc. (Honours) degree after three years. The Master's degree is granted after one or two years' study after the B.A. or B.Sc. degree. In the ordinary course a student may take his M.A. or M.Sc. degree at the end of the sixth year after passing the Matriculation examination.

The first medical degree (M.B., B.S.) is taken after a study of 5 years after passing the pre-medical Intermediate examination in Physics, Chemistry, Botany and Zoology. The B.Sc. degree in Engineering is taken after a study of three years after passing the Intermediate examination in Physics, Chemistry and Mathematics. The LL.B. degree is taken after a study of two years after the B.A. degree. The Ph.D., D.Phil. and M.D. degrees are conferred after a course of advanced study and research extending over two or three years. Candidates entering upon a course of study for the Ph.D. or D.Phil. must have taken the Master's degree of a Pakistani University or of some other approved University. Candidates for the M.D. degree must have taken the M.B., B.S. degree or a degree which is recognized as equivalent to it. Candidates on completion of research must present a thesis and submit to oral examination on that thesis.

The University of the Panjab also gives diplomas in various subjects. Of special importance are diplomas in the Classical and Pakistani languages, Arabic, Persian, Urdu, Panjabi and Pashto. The oriental titles, Maulvi Fazil (Honours in Arabic), Munshi Fazil (Honours in Persian), Adib Fazil (Honours in Urdu), are conferred on those who pass the Honours examinations in the relevant subjects. The University of Peshawar gives the diploma of Honours in Pashto only.

TERMS. In the Universities of the Panjab and Peshawar the academic year is divided into three terms, which run from about Oct. 1 to the third week of Dec.; first week of Jan. to end of March; middle of April to end of June. At the University of Dacca, the three terms run from about July 1 to Sept. 15; Oct. 16 to Dec. 20; Jan. 2 to April 15. In the Universities of Sind and Karachi the academic year is divided into two terms, which run approximately from the beginning of June to the end of Oct.; beginning of Nov. to the end of March.

RESIDENCE. Residence is provided for a large number of students in the hostels maintained by the Universities or affiliated Colleges.

EXPENSES. It is not possible to make any general estimate of the cost of a University course, which varies with the Universities and the type of study. The cost of living is higher in the big cities like Lahore and Karachi than in Dacca and Peshawar. The Engineering and Medical courses cost more than the ordinary Arts and Science courses. The monthly expense of a student may therefore vary from Rs. 80 in Dacca and Peshawar to Rs. 150 in Lahore and Karachi.

(Note. Rupee = 2s. 2d. approximately.)

THE INTER-UNIVERSITY BOARD. For the purpose of discussing problems which affect the Universities in general and also for exchange of views on Inter-University relations, a body representing the six Universities of Pakistan and the Central Government has been established, which meets once a year. The Standing Committee of Vice-Chancellors acts as the executive body and meets twice a year. The Secretary of the Board for the calendar year 1954 is M. Bashir, B.Sc. Edin., Registrar of the University of the Panjab.

The EDUCATION DIVISION OF THE OFFICE OF THE HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR PAKISTAN, 39 Lowndes Square, London, S.W.1 (Telephone: Sloane 3402), obtains admission to educational institutions in the United Kingdom for Pakistani students and gives advice and help on all educational and welfare matters. Students in Pakistan intending to proceed abroad for further studies should consult the Information Bureau of the University in their area in the first instance. Parents or guardians who wish to send minors for schooling may arrange with the Education Division for the children to be placed under guardianship of the Educational Attaché, who will make provision for their welfare and the administering of their funds.

Educational Attaché: A. M. Chowdhury, M.A. Dacca; Assistant Educational Attaché: A. G. Butt, M.A.; Sr. Education Officer: S. B. Zaman, B.A. Madr.; Education Officers: L. Aird, B.A. Durh.; G. M. Mumtaz; P. Rieger, B.Sc. (Econ.) Lond. (Registrar); Z. Hossain (Welfare Officer).

GENERAL INFORMATION

The idea of a separate University for Sind was first broached in 1886, when the then Principal of the D. J. Sind College, Karachi, predicted that the province would need a separate University to serve its distinctive cultural needs. In 1940 the autonomous Govt. of Sind appointed the Sind University Committee to go into the entire problem of a separate Univ. The Report of the Cttee., issued in 1941, covered the entire field of organizational and academic issues involved. But action on the Report was delayed till a regular Bill for the creation of a separate Univ. for Sind was introduced in the local legislature in 1945, and became an Act in 1947.

Since a separate Karachi University for the Karachi Federal Area was established as from session 1951–52, the headquarters of the University of Sind were moved from Karachi to Hyderabad in May 1951.

The University is now an affiliating, examining and teaching Univ. Most of the teaching work is carried on by the affiliated colls., but postgraduate teaching under the direct control of the Univ. has been started and there are schemes for the taking over by the Univ. of all postgrad. teaching and research. The dept. of Sindhology is designed to organize extensive res. work in the hist., lit., lang., folk-lore, economic conditions and material resources of the Province of Sind.

A Univ. township scheme has been prepared and has been approved in principle by the Provincial and Central Govts. The scheme envisages the establishment of the following institutions under direct Univ. control : Educn.

Dept. with Model Primary Sch. and Model Collegiate Sec. Sch.; Arts Colls.; Commerce Colls.; Law Coll.; Sci. Coll.; Engin. Coll.; Technical Inst.

A FOREIGN UNIVERSITIES' BUREAU OF INFORMATION has been set up to guide all students in West Pakistan who desire to study in the Universities of U.K. and U.S.A.

UNIVERSITY INSTITUTIONS IN THE COLONIES

THE provision of facilities for higher education within the Colonies has a long history; Codrington College, Barbados, founded in 1710, and Fourah Bay College, Sierra Leone, founded in 1827, have since 1875 been affiliated with the University of Durham (see p. 119). The present phase of exceptionally rapid development, however, dates from the end of the 1939–45 war. In June 1945 reports were published of the Commission on Higher Education in the Colonies under the chairmanship of Mr. Justice Asquith, of its West Indies Committee under the chairmanship of Sir James Irvine, and of the Commission on Higher Education in West Africa under the chairmanship of Colonel Walter Elliot (Cmd. 6647, Cmd. 6654, Cmd. 6655, H.M. Stationery Office). These reports recommended that additional University institutions should be created within the Colonies, formulated the principles on which they should be developed, proposed the establishment of an Inter-University Council through which the Universities of the United Kingdom could assist, and provided detailed plans for new University colleges in the West Indies and West Africa. After the liberation of Malaya, a commission under the chairmanship of Sir Alexander Carr-Saunders (Report, Col. 229, H.M. Stationery Office) visited the area and recommended that a University of Malaya should be established by the amalgamation of the King Edward VII College of Medicine (founded 1904) and Raffles College (founded 1928).

In this post-war development, the two existing Universities of Malta (founded 1769) and Hong Kong (founded 1911) have been strengthened, a new University of Malaya founded, three new University Colleges created, the University College of the West Indies, the University College of the Gold Coast, and University College, Ibadan, Nigeria, and Makerere College (founded 1922) raised to the status of the University College of East Africa.

All the Colonial Universities and University Colleges are autonomous corporations, established by local ordinances or, for the University College of the West Indies, by Royal Charter. With minor variations, their constitutions provide for a Council, with a majority of lay members and some academic representatives, and a Senate or Academic Board, wholly academic in membership.

The institutions have relatively small endowments, among the largest being £1 million for the University of Hong Kong in 1951 from Japanese assets available under the peace treaty, and nearly £1 million for the Faculty of Agriculture at University College, Ibadan, from the Nigerian Cocoa Marketing Board. They receive most of their recurrent income from the local governments in the form of block grants, not internally earmarked. Local governments have given generous sites for the new Colleges, for instance areas of five square miles each for the University College of the Gold Coast and University College, Ibadan, and over one square mile in Jamaica for the University College of the West Indies. In addition to substantial capital gifts for buildings and equipment from local governments and private sources, Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom has contributed £7 million for capital purposes from funds available under the Colonial Development and Welfare Acts of 1945 and 1950.

The three Universities award their own degrees. The four University Colleges provide courses leading to the degree examinations of the University of London, with which they are in special relationship; by this arrangement the academic boards of the Colleges work out with the University special syllabuses adapted to local conditions, and members of the College staffs assist in the examining of their own students. In addition to courses leading to University of London degree examinations, the University Colleges provide, in some subjects, courses leading to their own diplomas and certificates.

The academic year is from Oct. to June, except at Makerere, where it is from March to Dec. The institutions, except Malta, are either wholly, or for the majority of students, residential. The language of instruction is English.

All have Faculties of Arts and Natural Science; all, except the Gold Coast, Medicine. Social Sciences are taught at Hong Kong, Malaya, Gold Coast and Makerere; Veterinary Science at Makerere; Engineering and Architecture at Malta and Hong Kong; Dentistry at Malaya; Theology at Malta and Gold Coast; Law at Malta; Education at Hong Kong, Malaya, West Indies, Gold Coast and Makerere. West Indies, Gold Coast, Ibadan and Makerere have departments of Extra-Mural Studies.

All are active centres of research as well as of teaching. At three of the colleges, West Indies, Ibadan and Makerere, regional Institutes of Social and Economic Research have been established with grants under the Colonial Development and Welfare Acts.

In addition to the three Universities and four University Colleges, there are in the Colonies several other institutions of research and higher education, including two specialized agricultural colleges, the Imperial College of Tropical Agriculture, Trinidad, and the College of Agriculture, Mauritius.

THE INTER-UNIVERSITY COUNCIL FOR HIGHER EDUCATION IN THE COLONIES, 1 Gordon Square, London, W.C.1. (Telegrams: Interuniv London; Telephone: Museum 8916). The Inter-University Council was created in March 1946 by the Universities in Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the existing Universities in Colonial territories, at the invitation of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, for the purposes of—

The University was founded in 1949 by Ordinances of the Governments of the Federation of Malaya and of the Colony of Singapore. It was formed by the fusion of the two existing Colleges in Singapore, The King Edward VII College of Medicine and Raffles College, and full University teaching began in session 1949–50.

The buildings of the two former Colleges, with additional accommodation, are being used until completely new buildings are erected on a site in the Federation of Malaya near Johore Bahru. ## GENERAL INFORMATION

The University began as a Jesuit College instituted in 1592 by Pope Clement VIII, who gave it the power of conferring degrees in Philosophy and in Theology. It is still housed in a building erected by the Jesuit Fathers. Its Medical Faculty originated in a School of Anatomy founded in 1674 by Grandmaster Nicolas Cottoner in the Great Hospital of the Order, which accommodated 745 patients. Fra Emmanuel Pinto de Fonçeca, Grandmaster of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, with authority from Pope Clement XIV, raised the College to University status in 1769.

By an Ordinance promulgated in 1947, the Univ. is governed by a Council consisting of the Chancellor as President, the Vice-Chancellor and Rector Magnificus as Vice-President, a representative of the Inter-University Council for Higher Education in the Colonies, six members from the Legislature of Malta, six members elected by the Senate of the Univ., one member from the Guild of Graduates and three members appointed by the Chancellor in consultation with the Vice-Chancellor. A Senate consisting of fourteen members, twelve elected by the Faculties and two appointed by the Chancellor, to deal with questions regarding teaching and discipline, was also instituted by this Ordinance.

The Council is the supreme authority of the University.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The College is an independent institution. Its Council was incorporated by the University College of the Gold Coast Ordinance, 1948, and has consisted partly of members of the public and partly of academic members; the Council has been advised by an Academic Board consisting of all Heads of Departments, with the Principal as Chairman. As the basis of a new Ordinance, to replace the 1948 Ordinance, the College has developed a constitution providing for a Chancellor, Court and Senate. Under this new constitution the College remains autonomous, having control of its policy and finances. Legislative and executive authority is vested in the Senate, which consists of all full-time teaching and administrative officers of the College above a certain seniority. Many executive duties and the duty of submitting resolutions to the Senate are entrusted to the Council of the Senate, which is elected by the Senate and is advised by the Academic Board, the Financial Board and the Board of Delegates (representing the Halls of Residence), all of which consist of members of the Senate. The Court consists partly of members of the public and partly of members of the Senate. Certain financial matters are reserved to a Joint Finance Committee consisting of members of the Court and of the Council of the Senate.

A site of five square miles near Accra, presented by the Government, is being developed for the permanent buildings of the College. Meanwhile the College has been housed in buildings of the Achimota School and in temporary buildings in the same area. An initial grant of £896,000 was made in 1948 by the Gold Coast Cocoa Marketing Board, which also made in 1950 a further grant of £1,000,000 for the development of a Department of Agriculture and associated Science Departments. The Gold Coast Government has granted £1,100,000 for permanent buildings and equipment and also made special grants totalling £330,000 for temporary buildings to accelerate the development of the College's Departments. H.M. Government have granted £400,000 from Colonial Development and Welfare funds towards a Hall of Residence. Annual revenue is voted quinquennially by the Legislative Assembly.

Of the permanent buildings the first Hall of Residence (Legon Hall, accommodating a Master, 8 resident Fellows and 200 students) has been occupied, and work is in progress upon the second and third Halls which accommodate 200 and 350 students, respectively, together with a number of Fellows.

The College was admitted in 1948 to special relationship with the University of London as recommended by the Asquith Commission (Report on Higher Education in the Colonies, 1945).

GENERAL INFORMATION

Makerere College was founded in 1922 as a Technical Sch. under the Educn. Dept. of Uganda Admin. It rapidly broadened its educational aims and raised its standard of work, for even in quite early yrs. its potentialities as a centre for advanced educn. were not ignored. Following the De la Warr Report in 1937,* which pointed to the future of the Coll. as a centre of higher studies in E. Africa, under the inspiration of Sir Philip Mitchell the Coll. was presented with land and an endowment and a nucleus of its bldgs. Work on the present admin. block was inaugurated by H.R.H. the Duke of Gloucester, and the block with its twin chapels was completed in 1941. Support and benefactions from African and European sources have consolidated the inter-territorial status of Makerere. On the recommendation of the Asquith Commission in 1945 it was definitely decided that the Coll. should become the centre of Univ. studies in E. Africa. A Scheme of Special Relationship with the Univ. of London was entered into at the end of 1949, whereupon the Coll. assumed its present title. Courses leading to the General Degrees of the Univ. of London in Arts and Sci. started at the beginning of 1950.

The govt. and admin. of the Coll. follow the provisions of the Makerere College Act, 1949, and so far as these are applicable, the established practices and conventions of English Civic Univs.

The policy of the Coll. is that it shall be open to all students, regardless of race, colour and religion, who have the academic qualifiens. nec. for admission. Entries are accepted from any of the E. African Territories, i.e. Kenya, Uganda, Tanganyika and Zanzibar. Entries from N. Rhodesia and Nyasaland, as well as from the southern part of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, are also considered.

On admission to the Coll., students reside in one or other of the Halls of Residence: Mitchell Hall (accomm. 214 men students) or Northcote Hall (180 men students). There is one hostel for women students, which will accomm. approx. 12, and a new hall has now been built for women which will accomm. 50 students. It is planned to build another Hall, similar to Northcote Hall, to accomm. a further 180 men students. At the Med. Sch., there is accomm. for med. students in the clin. yrs. of their course. At Kabete, Kenya, there is accomm. for Vet. Sci. students.

A large building programme, financed mainly by a grant of £1,100,000 under the Colonial Development and Welfare Act, is at present under way, consisting of a new Arts Block, Phys. Lab., Chem. Lab., Staff Houses and the Halls of Residence mentioned above. When completed (it is hoped by 1955) the number of students accommodated will be 630, including 50 women.

Its main function is field res. in Uganda, Kenya, Tanganyika and Zanzibar, covering anthropological studies in particular tribes, or urban surveys and comparative studies of particular aspects of problems of interest to all E. African Territories in the field of sociol., econ., psychol., public admin. and law, and linguistic res.

The PHYSIOLOGICAL AND BIOCHEMICAL RESEARCH SCHEME—Dir., Prof. E. G. Holmes—was established in 1947 under the auspices of the Colonial Med. Res. Cttee. It gives res. facilities to staff of dept. of Physiol., and to certain visiting res. workers (at present 3, from the Med. Res. Council). Its establishment was recommended and planned by a Cttee. of the Commission on Higher Educn. in the Colonies under the chairmanship of Sir James Irvine,* then Principal and Vice-Chancellor of the Univ. of St. Andrews. It is an autonomous institution, governed by a Council to which each of the British Caribbean Colonies nominates a member and on which the Senate and the Inter-Univ. Council are represented. The Senate consists of members of the teaching staff with the Principal as Chairman. A grant has been made from Colonial Development and Welfare funds towards the capital costs, and recurrent expenditure is met from the revenues of the Caribbean Colonies. Undergraduates were first admitted in Oct. 1948. The Govt. of Jamaica has given on lease for 999 years a site of over one square mile about seven miles from Kingston.

LIBRARY. The Library was transferred to the new permanent bldg. in May 1952. (22,918 vols., 3256 pamphlets, 158 maps, 152 microfilm and film-strips, 70,590 periodicals, 13,876 Govt. serials, 563 calendars.) The Library now exchanges publications with 374 libraries, institutions, societies and publishers.

At the Commemoration Day Ceremony, Feb. 16, 1952, the Chancellor, H.R.H. Princess Alice, on behalf of H.M. Queen Mary, presented to the Library a collection of 322 vols. from the Library of H.M. in Marlborough House.

TEACHING HOSPITAL. In 1952 the University College Hospital opened for the admission of patients with 215 general Med. and Surg. beds and in 1953 the Obstet. Block was opened. 35 students are now receiving their clin. trg.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Incorporated in 1921 and reincorporated by Royal Charter in 1926, the College aims at promoting the study of and conducting research in tropical agriculture in suitable surroundings and creating a body of British expert agriculturists well versed in the knowledge of the cultivation of land in the tropics, of chemists, and of scientific advisers possessing an intimate knowledge of the means of combating pests and diseases. The College buildings are at St. Augustine, near St. Joseph, Trinidad, on land granted by the Govt. of Trinidad and Tobago.

To meet the expanding work of the College a comprehensive building programme has recently been completed, in addition to the provision of new staff and student quarters. A new Biology Bldg. and new Sugar Technology Labs. were completed in 1950–51, the former housing the Depts. of Botany, Plant Pathology and Entomology and the latter the Dept. of Sugar Technology. Through the generosity of Cadbury Bros., Ltd., the Coll. has acquired a 426-acre estate, which is being developed as a cocoa experiment station. 300 acres of land were acquired from the Trinidad Govt. in 1947 which are being developed as a mixed farm for investigational and instructional purposes.

The foundation-stone of the new buildings and laboratories was laid by Sir Samuel Wilson, Governor of Trinidad and Tobago, in 1924. An Instructional and Experimental Sugar Factory, towards which British sugar machinery manufacturers contributed plant worth £20,000, was opened in 1925 and has recently been modernized. The Milner Hostel and College Dining Hall were completed in 1927. A Plant Quarantine Station to serve the British West Indies, British Guiana and British Honduras was completed in 1933. A Cacao Research Scheme was inaugurated in 1930. This is financed by contributions from the main cacao-growing Colonies and from some of the more important British cocoa and chocolate manufacturers. New schemes of research into sugar, bananas, cocoa and soils were approved during 1947. Two of these, for bananas and sugar, are on a 5-yr. basis and the other two, for cocoa and soils, are on a 10-yr. basis. The soils scheme is financed wholly from Colonial Development and Welfare funds, while in the case of each of the other three the different industries are bearing a share of the cost.

The income of the College is derived from contributions by the principal British and West Indian Colonies, the Imperial Government, and various Associations, Companies and individuals.

The academic year extends from Oct. 1 to June 30.

COURSES OF STUDY. (1) A 3-yr. course leading to a Diploma of the College (D.I.C.T.A.) either (a) in Agriculture or (b) in Sugar Technology, designed primarily for students from the West Indian Colonies and admission to which is limited, save in exceptional circumstances, to students from the Caribbean area.

(2) A 2-yr. course leading to an Associateship of the College (A.I.C.T.A.) in Agriculture, open to students who obtain the Diploma with credit and to postgraduate students. The period of study to cover all requirements is 2 sessions of 3 terms each.

(3) A 1-yr. course leading to an Associateship of the College (A.I.C.T.A.) in Sugar Technology, open to students possessing the Diploma in Sugar Technology of the College or acceptable graduate qualifiens. in Science.

(4) A 1-yr. postgraduate course, leading to a Diploma in Tropical Agriculture (D.T.A. Trin.), necessitating not less than 1 yr.'s postgraduate training or experience before entry. This course is open to Colonial Office probationers who have already had a one-year postgraduate course at Cambridge and to students possessing a degree in Agriculture or Natural Science or a Diploma of an approved Agricultural College involving at least a 3-yr. course of study in Agriculture or Horticulture together with at least 1 yr.'s approved postgraduate training, either at Cambridge or elsewhere, or who possess approved equivalent postgraduate experience.

(5) Special courses, particulars of which may be obtained on application to the Registrar.

TUITION FEES. Diploma Courses: British subjects from contributing colonies, £25 p.a.; other British subjects, £50 p.a.; Foreign subjects, £100 p.a. A limited number of students from contributing colonies on the nomination of the respective Governments are admitted without payment of tuition fees. Associateship and Postgraduate D.T.A. Courses: British subjects, £75 p.a.; Foreign subjects, £125 p.a. Special Courses: British subjects nominated by Govts. of contributing colonies, £15; other British subjects, £75; foreign subjects, £125.

EXPENSES. The following figures are given as an approximate estimate for students coming from a country to which they cannot return for the Long Vacation: Living, £22 : 10s. per mo.; 1st and 2nd yrs. 12 mos. (each £270); 3rd yr. 9 mos. (£202 : 10s.). Subscriptions, say, £5 p.a. Books, tours, pocket-money, etc., a minimum of £150 p.a. (1st and 2nd yrs.); £112 p.a. (3rd yr.). To these must be added the fees set out above, and also cost of passage to Trinidad in the first, and from it in the third, year. In the case of students attending the College for one year, the expense will be approx. that of the third year, with the cost of return passage added. West Indian students who can return home for the Long Vacation and who are reasonably careful find it possible to cover all essential expenses, exclusive of the cost of passages and tuition fees, for about £350.

STUDENTS FROM INDIA AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES. Applications for admission from students from the British Commonwealth including India and Pakistan should be submitted through the appropriate High Commissioner or other official Govt. representative in London.

The Academic Board will consider applications from students who are not British subjects on their producing evidence of having attained a standard equivalent to that prescribed by the regulations and of possessing an adequate knowledge of English. It is managed by Executive Cttees. (one for each of the two units comprising the Univ. Coll.) in London and by a Council in the Sudan, and advised by an Academic Bd. composed of hds. of Depts. with the Principal as Chairman. Gordon Memorial College was opened by Lord Kitchener as a primary school in 1902, became a secondary school in 1909, and in 1945 a number of Higher Schools in Admin., Agric., Arts, Engin., Sci. and Vet. Sci., which had been formed independently of each other during the years 1938–45, were consolidated into the Coll. In 1947 a School of Design was added, but in 1950 this was transferred to the Khartoum Technical Inst. The Kitchener School of Medicine was opened in 1924 as a memorial to Lord Kitchener. In 1951 the two institutions were brought together under the title of University College of Khartoum.

[This statement relates only to the admission of students proposing to take full courses for a first degree. For conditions relating to recognition of study at other Universities and admission for higher degrees, v. pp. 13-24 and under the several Universities. Students desiring to study in a University without intending to graduate are generally admitted if they satisfy the Univ. authorities that they are qualified to profit by the course of study they propose to take, and if accommodation is available for them.]

GENERAL OUTLINE

A comparison of the University regulations regarding admission discloses a general agreement in principle, with certain divergencies in application. Before inserting a student's name in matricula, all the Univs. require evidence that the applicant's intellectual equipment fits him to undertake a course of study for a degree. This is tested either by an entrance examn. held by the Univ. concerned, or by the candidate's performance in an alternative exempting examn. In many cases there are additional Faculty requirements to be satisfied before a matriculated student may pursue a specific degree course. Most of the Oxford and Cambridge Colleges require candidates to pass a College entrance examn. in addition to satisfying the Univ. entrance requirements.

Early application is advisable for admission to a University, and frequently there are last dates for receipt of applications for entrance to the different Faculties of a University.

The introduction in England and Wales of the General Certificate of Education and the consequent cessation of the School and Higher School Certificate examns. (except for the Univ. of Cambridge Local Examns. Syndicate's Oversea Certificates) have affected not only the list of equivalent examns. accepted by Univs., but, in some cases, the holding of special entrance examns. by individual Univs. London no longer holds a Matricn. Examn. or a special Univ. entrance examn. (private candidates are, however, accepted for the General Certificate examns.

held by the Univ.). The Univ. of Wales has also ceased to hold its Matricn. Examn. On the other hand, the Univ. of Durham retains an entrance examn., and the Univ. of Nottingham a special entrance examn., to which in each case certain classes of candidates may enter by permission. At Oxford, regulations for Responsions (and exemption therefrom), and at Cambridge the regulations for the Previous Examn. (and exemption therefrom), have been revised.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS—ENGLAND AND WALES. The Ministry of Education in Circular 168 (April 1948) announced the acceptance of the main recommendations of the 1947 Report of the Secondary School Examinations Council. In principle the course of action which the Council unanimously recommended in their Report can be simply expressed. It recognized that the schools alone were in a position to decide what courses were best for their pupils, and that they needed the utmost freedom and flexibility to give effect to their judgements. At the same time it recognized the practical necessity of a system of external examns. to provide selective tests for those who wished to compete for scholarships at Univs. or other institutions, and a test of a qualifying nature for those who, having followed courses substantially beyond the statutory minimum leaving age, wished to establish competence in certain subjects, e.g. for entrance to a Univ. or profession. Apart from such necessary external tests, the testing of achievements in the schools would become a matter for the schools themselves.

Accordingly, in 1951 the examn. for the General Certificate of Education superseded the School and Higher School Certificate examns. Papers are provided at two levels: Ordinary and Advanced, with Scholarship papers available to serve a selective purpose. The standard of pass at the Ordinary level is approximately that of Credit in the School Certificate: a pass at the Advanced level approximates to a Higher School Certificate Principal pass. All subjects are optional and there are no minimum or group requirements. The examn. is open to all candidates, whether attending school or not, who are 16 by Sept. 1 in the year of examn., and a General Certificate of Education is issued to every candidate who reaches the pass standard in any subject at the Ordinary or Advanced level.

In April 1952, the Secondary School Examns. Council presented their second and unanimous Report to the Minister at the conclusion of a review of the new examn. in the light of the principles underlying their 1947 Report, and of experience of the examns. held in 1951. In this Report the Council reaffirmed the view that the standard of the Ordinary level pass should represent approximately that of the School Certificate Credit, and other views expressed in their 1947 Report. But, while they saw no reason to change the main structure of the examn., they were impressed by certain difficulties associated with the age limit. They were also aware of a demand for some mark of grading on the certificates, which they believed to be both possible and desirable at the Advanced level. In Circular 251 (April 1952) the Minister gave effect to both of the Council's recommendations. As a result, from 1953 onwards:

(i) the age limit will be retained, but the head of a school will have full discretion to enter pupils who are not 16 by Sept. 1, if he certifies that it is educationally desirable for them to take the examn. in the particular subjects offered at the time proposed, and that they have pursued a course of study with such a degree of competence as to make it very probable that they will pass in those subjects ;

(ii) a Distinction endorsement to a pass at Advanced level can be awarded to candidates whose performance merits it.

The examns. are conducted by the approved Examining Bodies,* over whom the Minister of Education exercises a co-ordinating authority with the help of the Secondary School Examns. Council, composed of representatives of Univs., local education authorities and teachers' associations, and members nominated by the Minister of Education, with a Chairman appointed by the Minister.

The new examn. for the General Certificate of Education has been accepted, subject to various qualifications, by all United Kingdom Univs. and a number of professional bodies for the purpose of exempting candidates from entrance and other examns., in the same way as were the School Certificate and Higher School Certificate examns. Transitional provision is generally made for the acceptance of a School Certificate Credit or Higher School Certificate pass in a subsidiary subject as equivalent to a pass at the Ordinary level in the General Certificate of Education, and of a Higher School Certificate pass at Principal level as equivalent to a pass at the Advanced level in the new examn.

A substantial degree of inter-availability of minimum entrance requirements to Univs. has been achieved consequent upon the individual Univs. deciding to frame their requirements in the light of the following resolution passed at a meeting of Univ. representatives convened in Nov. 1948 by the Committee of Vice-Chancellors and Principals :

" That in order to secure the maximum inter-availability in entrance requirements and in order to meet as far as possible the wishes of the schools, this meeting of representatives of Universities strongly recommends for the serious consideration of all Universities the adoption, for a period of five years, of the following scheme : (i) in order to satisfy minimum University entrance requirements, a candidate must pass in English Language and in either four or five other subjects ; (ii) the subjects must include (a) a language other than English and (b) either mathematics or an approved science ; (iii) at least two of the subjects must be passed at the advanced level ; (iv) candidates who offer only four subjects in addition to English Language must pass at one and the same sitting in two subjects at the advanced level and in one other subject not related to the subjects offered at the advanced level."

Oxford and Cambridge have decided not to require the passing of two subjects at Advanced level from candidates who seek exemption from Responsions and the Previous Examn. respectively by way of the General Certificate of Education. Oxford has retained the requirement of a pass in two languages other than English, one of which must be either Latin or Greek, but at Cambridge, while Latin or Greek is still required, two other approved subjects may be offered in place of the second language other than English.

There are also certain other minor differences of interpretation, according to local circumstances, concerning the subjects which the several Univs. recognize as approved subjects of matriculation, approved science subjects and subjects related or unrelated to other subjects. Some Univs., however, have decided to regard as eligible for matriculation candidates who possess a General Certificate of Education which is certified by the appropriate official as satisfying the matriculation requirements of another Univ. in Great Britain or Northern Ireland under that Univ.'s conditions for recognizing the General Certificate of Education.

SCOTLAND. Under Ordinance No. LXX of the Courts of St. Andrews, Glasgow, Aberdeen and Edinburgh Univs., the Scottish Univs. Entrance Board was constituted to determine the requirements qualifying applicants to enter upon a course of study leading to a degree of a Scottish Univ. and to issue certificates attesting the educational fitness of applicants who have fulfilled these requirements.

Applicants should note, however, that the Board's certificate may not qualify them to study for a particular degree if they have not a sufficient knowledge of a subject or subjects required in one or other of the prescribed curricula for that degree. They are therefore advised to ascertain from the Univ. which they propose to enter whether they need to obtain passes in additional subjects or at higher standards. See also pp. 1534-1541.

The Board's Regulations are contained in a leaflet published in Feb. every year. These prescribe for the recognition, on certain conditions, of Certificates awarded by the Scottish Education Department, English School and Higher School Certificates, the English General Certificate of Education, certain certificates awarded by overseas Univs. and State Education Departments and, for those who do not qualify completely, or at all, by these certificates, provide a Preliminary Examn. twice annually, in March and Aug.

NORTHERN IRELAND. The Senior Certificate of the Ministry of Education of Northern Ireland is accepted, subject for subject, by the Queen's Univ. of Belfast in lieu of its Matriculation examn. subject to the following provisos: (a) that the whole examn. has been passed, and (b) that a minimum of three Credits has been obtained. For applicants from other parts of the United Kingdom and overseas countries Belfast accepts, subject for subject, certain other certificates.

In all cases subjects are accepted only if recognized for the particular Faculty to which admission is desired. See also pp. 1541-1543.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS FROM THE COMMONWEALTH OVERSEAS AND FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES. As regards a student educated in another country the regulations are drafted on the understanding that the application of the ordinary entrance tests might be inappropriate owing to these tests having been framed with reference to secondary education curricula different from those which obtain in his own country, or to the student having reached a stage in his education at which the passing of ordinary entrance tests would involve a wasteful repetition of preparatory studies. They accordingly provide for the submission by such a student of other evidence of academic qualificns.: ordinarily, certifs. (relating to, for example, Dominion Matricn., or Baccalauréat, examns.), which would entitle to admission to an approved Univ. in the student's own country, together with such further evidence as may be necessary to ensure that no student shall be admitted to a course of study for a degree without a reasonable prospect of his being able to pursue it to graduation (in particular, if the student be one whose mother tongue is not English, evidence that he has a sufficient mastery of this language to enable him to follow courses of instruction conducted in English). When certificates are in a foreign language they should ordinarily be accompanied by a certified English translation. Unless the certificate shows on its face that it would admit the holder to a Univ. in his own country it should be accompanied by a letter to this effect from the Registrar of such a Univ. or by an authenticated declaration by a Government official or the local British Council Representative or by an official of an Embassy, Legation or Consulate of the country to which the applicant belongs, testifying that the certificate would entitle the holder to enter on a regular course of study in a Univ. in that country. Intending students should apply for information to the Registrar of the Univ. in which they desire to be matriculated. The regulations are summarized below under each Univ. or group of Univs.

It does not follow that any student, although having the minimum educational qualifications for admission in accordance with the preceding paragraphs, will in fact be admitted to a Univ. in a particular year. Most Univs. have, under present conditions, long waiting-lists from which selections are made for the offer of actual places as new students. It is therefore desirable that any prospective entrant from overseas should make application as early as possible and should submit particulars of any further educational distinctions which he may possess. In general, in the absence of exceptional circumstances (such as the lack of appropriate facilities for study in the applicant's own country *) the United Kingdom Univs. are at present unable to offer places for undergraduate study to students from overseas in preference to those from this country, but this does not apply to the same extent to applications at the postgraduate level.

* Students from Colonial territories for whom on this ground a special quota of places is often set aside should apply through their local education service.

Full information regarding admission to the constituent Univs. may be obtained from the Secretary, 315 Oxford Rd., Manchester, 13.

2. As from May 1, 1951, up to and including Oct. 31, 1955, the Univ. entrance requirements of the Joint Matriculation Board will be satisfied by any one of the following qualifications: I. A General Certificate of Education which fulfils the prescribed conditions (v. pp. 1497-1499). II. Examn. of the Jt. Matricn. Bd. (This will usually be a pass at the Ordinary level in the G.C.E. examn.)

Science and Technology. Information concerning specified subjects in which qualificns. are required for entry to particular courses is obtainable from the Registrar.

Medicine. M.B., Ch.B.—Chem. at the Ordinary standard in the G.C.E. examn., or at the subsidiary standard in the Higher School Certif. examn., and Maths. at the Ordinary standard (alternative or ordinary syllabus) in the G.C.E. examn., or at the " Pass " standard in the School Certif. examn.

Dentistry. B.Ch.D.—Maths., Chem. and Phys. at least at Ordinary standard in the G.C.E. examn.

Exemptions. In certain circumstances, applicants for admission to courses leading to the degrees of B.A. and B.Sc. in Special or General Studies may be exempted by the Boards of the Faculties concerned from one-year courses and corresponding examns. if they possess qualifications obtained in the examination for the General Certificate of Education or other equivalent examn. of a sufficiently high standard. Exemptions will not be automatic and, in the case of B.A. applicants, will be granted only in exceptional cases. Subject to a minimum attendance in this Univ. of two years and to the approval of the Senate, members of other Univs. which require residence as a condition of graduation may be permitted to count their studies and examns. (other than the Final Examn.) therein towards graduation in Leeds.

Liverpool. No person may register as a student who will not have attained the age of 17 yrs. on or before Dec. 31 in the yr. for which entry is sought.

Arts. Applicants for the Faculty of Arts must have passed in two subjects of the General Certificate of Education at the Advanced level, and in Greek or Latin or Maths., if not included in these two subjects, at the Ordinary level.

Candidates who have qualified in Maths., but not in Greek or Latin, will be required: (a) For the degree of Bachelor of Arts in General Studies to take not less than five courses of the nine required from the following subjects: Geog., Economics, Economic History, Sociol., Political Science and Psychol. (b) For the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Special Studies to present themselves in any one of the following four schools: Geog., Economics, Social Science, Psychol.

Architecture. All applicants for admission to this School must have passed the Joint Matriculation Board's requirements for entry on a degree course.

Science. Particulars of the amount of knowledge (in terms of the syllabuses given in the Joint Matriculation Board publication: Examination for the General Certificate of Education, 1951) assumed as a basis for introductory courses, may be had on application to the Registrar; from whom also may be obtained details of qualifications necessary for exemption from the first session of a course of study in this Faculty.

Medicine, Dental Surgery. The Faculty recommends that the subjects of Physics and Chem. should be included at least at the Ordinary level in the subjects taken in the General Certificate of Education. Exemptions will be granted in the individual subjects of Physics, Chem. and Biol. in the First M.B., Ch.B. or B.D.S. or L.D.S. examns. to candidates who have passed in such subjects at the Advanced level in the examn. for the General Certificate of Education; but as soon as accommodation and teaching staff are available all exemptions from the courses of study and examns. for the First M.B., Ch.B. or B.D.S. or L.D.S. examns. will be withdrawn.

Law. The Faculty will not regard with favour any applicant who intends to become a Solicitor or a Barrister and who, at the date of entry into the Faculty, does not possess the qualification for exemption from the Preliminary Examn. of the Law Society or for admission as a student into one of the Inns of Court, as the case may be.

Engineering. Courses in the Faculty of Engineering are designed on the assumption that students have some previous knowledge of Maths., Physics and Chem. Candidates are recommended to present in the Examn. for the General Certificate of Education (a) Maths. at the Ordinary standard (Syllabus II); and (b) either Physics or Chem. (or, preferably, Physics and Chem.) at the Ordinary standard. In view of the small number of places in the first year of study, candidates are recommended to obtain qualifications which will exempt them from the first year of study and from the Intermediate B.Eng. Examn.

Exemption from the first year of study and Intermediate B.Eng. Examn. may be granted, under certain circumstances, to candidates who have passed the Examn. for the General Certificate of Education* of the Joint Matriculation Bd. and whose performace in a prescribed combination of subjects is satisfactory.

Candidates who have passed the Examn. for the General Certificate of Education but have not reached a sufficiently high standard for exemption from the first year of study and Intermediate B.Eng. Examn. may be considered for such exemption, provided that they satisfy the examiners in Pure Mathematics and Applied Mathematics separately in the Intermediate Examn. before entering the Univ.

Veterinary Science. The Faculty does not insist on any particular qualification beyond the fulfilment of the requirements of the Joint Matriculation Board to enter on a degree course. It recommends, however, that the subjects of Physics and Chemistry should have been studied up to the Ordinary level of the General Certificate of Education.

Exemptions are not granted in First-Year subjects passed at Principal standard by holders of a Higher School Certificate or at the Advanced level in the examn. for the General Certificate of Education.

Manchester. Minimum age limit for admission to the Univ. : 16 yrs. for men, 17 yrs. for women.

The requirement of Latin may be waived for students entering by means of Mature Matriculation. 2. Law—Latin. 3. Technology—Maths. (Note : Where Maths. is specified as a Faculty requirement a pass at the Advanced level in "Maths. and Theoretical Mechanics" will be accepted.) The attainment of at least School Certificate Credit standard in the relevant subject will continue to be accepted until further notice.

Sheffield. No student under the age of 17 may be admitted to a degree or diploma course except with the special permission of the Senate.

Arts. With certain exceptions to be mentioned below, candidates who have not passed in a language in the recognized qualifying examn. for entry upon a degree course must, before admission to the Intermediate course, satisfy the Hd. of the Dept. concerned that their knowledge of the lang. is sufficient for them to profit by the course in that subject. Similarly, a student who wishes to include

Pure Science. Students desiring to enter Special Honours Schools may be allowed to take the higher courses of instruction for the first-year qualifying examn. in one or more of the subjects: Maths., Physics, Chem., Zool., Bot., Geol., and Geog., if they have passed in the respective subjects at an approved standard in the Advanced papers of the General Certificate of Education.

Engineering. For admission to degree courses in Civil, Mechanical, Electrical Engineering and Mining, applicants should have passed at a satisfactory standard the Advanced * papers of the General Certificate of Education in Maths., Physics and Chem. Applicants for admission to degrees in Fuel Technology should have obtained passes at Advanced* level in the General Certificate of Education in Maths., Physics and Chem. Applicants for admission to a degree course in Glass Technology who have reached a standard satisfactory to the Faculty in Maths., Physics and Chem., all at the Advanced level, will be exempted from the Intermediate examn. in these subjects.

Metallurgy. Applicants for admission to degree courses in Metallurgy are advised to include Maths., Physics and Chem. in the examn. for the General Certificate of Education. Candidates who wish to be admitted to the first year of the Honours course must have passed the Advanced papers in these three subjects at a standard satisfactory to the Faculty.

Medicine. Applicants should normally have reached at least the Ordinary standard in the General Certificate of Education in the subjects of Chem. and Physics, and preferably also Biol. Exemption from the first examn. for degrees of M.B., Ch.B. or for degree of B.D.S. may be gained under conditions which should be ascertained by application to the Dean of the Faculty (or to the Director of Dental Studies in the case of B.D.S.).

Each case in which this power has been exercised shall be reported to the Faculty of Arts and the admission of a student under this provision shall be subject to confirmation by that Faculty.

(f) Ordinary Class of Music.

Attendance on this class shall not normally qualify for graduation unless, before admission to the class, the student has either (a) produced evidence that he has passed in Music on the Higher standard in the Leaving Certificate Examination, or (b) attended the Elementary Class and satisfactorily performed the class work; but the Head of the Department shall have power to accept such other evidence of proficiency in Music as he may deem equivalent. Each case in which this power has been exercised shall be reported to the Faculty of Arts, and the admission of a student under this provision shall be subject to confirmation by that Faculty.

(g) Honours Class of Gaelic. Attendance on this class will not qualify for graduation unless, before admission to the class, the student has passed in the degree examination in Latin on at least the Ordinary standard.

Science.

(1) Ordinary Classes of Mathematics, Natural Philosophy and Astronomy.

Attendance on any of these classes shall not, except as hereinafter provided, qualify for graduation unless, before admission to the class, the student has produced evidence that he has passed in Mathematics on the Higher standard in the Leaving Certificate or the Preliminary Examination or on the corresponding standard in another examination recognized as equivalent: but a student not so qualified, if for special reasons he has been admitted to any of these classes by the Head of the Department concerned and has passed in Mathematics on the Higher standard in the Spring Preliminary Examination of the same academic year, may make application to the Senatus for the recognition of such pass, and, if such recognition is granted, his attendance and class record will be allowed to qualify for graduation.

(2) Classes in Double-course subjects.

Attendance on any of these classes shall not qualify for graduation on the Higher (Double-course) standard unless, before admission to the class, the student has passed on the Ordinary (Single-course) standard in the same subject.

(3) Before presenting themselves for examination in a Double-course subject candidates must have attended at least two qualifying courses in that subject. One of these courses must be a higher course and all courses in any subject except Mathematics must include practical or laboratory work.

(4) A qualifying course in any subject shall normally extend over three terms, but the Senatus, with the approval of the University Court, may sanction partial courses of not less than one term's duration, and two or three such partial courses shall be held to be equivalent to a full normal course in such cases as the Senatus, with the approval of the University Court, may determine and under such rules as may from time to time be made for that purpose.

Engineering.

(1) Mathematics (1st Course) and Mathematics (2nd Course).

These classes may not be taken in the same academic year except by express permission of the Faculty of Engineering.

(2) Mathematics (1st Course) and Applied Physics (Ordinary).

Attendance on these classes shall not normally qualify for graduation in Engineering unless, before admission to the class, the student has produced evidence that in the Leaving Certificate or the Preliminary Examination, or in another examination recognized as equivalent, he has passed in Mathematics on the Higher standard, or that he has diligently attended a non-qualifying course in Mathematics: but the Head of each of the Departments concerned shall have power to accept such other evidence of proficiency in Mathematics as he may deem equivalent.

St. Andrews. There is no minimum age limit for admission to the Univ.

(passes at Advanced level in the General Certificate of Education are considered as equivalent) in Latin or Greek or Maths. and a language other than English, or German and another modern foreign lang.

Faculty of Science. Students proposing to take a graduating course must satisfy conditions for admission to certain classes which are an essential part of the degree course. Normally the classes of Natural Philosophy (Physics) and Chem. are compulsory. For entrance to the Nat. Phil. class a pass in Maths. on the Higher standard in the Scottish Leaving Certif. or equivalent is required (passes in the G.C.E. Examn. in Additional Maths. or in Maths. on the Alternative Ordinary syllabus are accepted as equivalent). For entrance to the Chem. class, a pass in Science (including Chem.) on the Higher standard in the Scottish Leaving Certif. is required; a pass in Chem. at Ordinary level in a G.C.E. examn. is not accepted as equivalent, but a student who is well qualified in other Sciences and has passed Chem. on the Ordinary level may be admitted to the Univ. and allowed to enter the Chem. class if he passes a class entrance examn. in Chem. during his first term at the Univ. A student who is well qualified in Maths. and Phys. may replace Chem. in his degree course by Applied Maths. and need not have the normal qualificn. in Chem.

(B) CANADA *

[Contributed by Professor Léon Lortie, University of Montreal.]

The educational qualifications for admission to a first degree course in Canadian Univs. vary from one province to another and, in certain cases, from one Univ. to another within the same province. There are also differences in the subjects required for different courses in the same University. But if allowance is made for individual variations owing to differences in local conditions, language or orientation, there is a general pattern that applies to regulations governing the admission of students to a first degree course across Canada. Except in a very few cases, there is actually little difference in the amount of knowledge that is required for that purpose even if, at first sight, there should be some question as to how much can be learned in three or four years of secondary school. It may also appear that French-speaking institutions, mainly in the Province of Quebec but also in the Maritime Provinces and in Ontario, deviate widely from the general pattern but, as far as qualifications for a first degree are concerned, the present practice in the collèges classiques of Quebec makes it easier to bring them into line with other Canadian institutions. There is practically no difference when Science courses, both Pure and Applied, are considered, between Laval and Montreal Univs. on the one hand and any other Univ. in Canada.

In all Canadian Univs. a candidate for admission to the first yr. of a course leading to a first degree is required to have completed a course of secondary education and obtained a diploma or certificate, issued by the Dept. of Education of the province in which the Univ. is located. Since the Univs. in many provinces are state-controlled or state-supported, there is a normal articulation between the secondary school leaving examn. and the admission requirements of the Univs. Otherwise the candidate is required to write the Matriculation or Entrance examn. conducted by the Univ. From one province to another certificates of High School leaving examns. may be accepted in so far as they meet the admission requirements of each individual University.

The problem of admitting students from foreign countries, more especially the United States, is not an easy one. McGill Univ., which receives numerous applications of that kind, has recently joined the College Entrance Examinations Board, a U.S. organization set up to facilitate the work of evaluating the academic knowledge and aptitude of candidates. As a rule, Canadian Univs. accept no secondary school certificate from any province or country at its face value, because they know that such certificates may vary widely from one to another both in the nature and in the breadth of the subjects covered and also because their own Faculties have different requirements. In dealing with such certificates, there is a standard practice among Canadian Univs. which is well set out in the following extract from the 1952–53 Calendar of the University of British Columbia :

* See also the Admissions paragraphs in the entries for the Canadian Universities above, e.g. for Acadia, see p. 666.

"A candidate who wishes to enter by certificate other than a Matriculation or University Entrance certificate issued in British Columbia should submit the original certificates to the Registrar. He should in no circumstances come to the University without having first obtained from the Registrar a statement of the value of the certificates he holds, as these may lack one or more essential subjects, or the work done in a subject may not be adequate, or, again, the percentage gained may not be sufficiently high. Moreover, it must be remembered that a certificate may admit to one Faculty and not to another. When an applicant's diploma or certificate does not show the marks obtained in the several subjects of the examination, he must arrange to have a statement of his marks sent to the Registrar by the Education department or University issuing such diploma or certificate."

This statement applies, mutatis mutandis, to all Canadian Univs. even if, like the following, they accept pro tanto certain certificates issued in Great Britain. McGill states that the General Certificate of Education, with passes at the Ordinary level in five subjects, will be the normal minimum standard of admission for candidates from England and Wales. At Queen's, a General Certificate of Education with passes in at least five subjects, of which two must be at the Advanced level, is recognized as equivalent to the Ontario Grade XIII certificate in the subjects in which at least 50 per cent. has been made in each paper. At Western Ontario, a General Certificate is accepted in lieu of Grade XIII work provided it shows standing in either five or six subjects, with at least two of these subjects at the Advanced level (English Lit., a lang. other than Engl., and either Maths. or an approved Sci. subject must be included).

Secondary education is not completed in the same number of yrs. in each Canadian province but, with a few exceptions, the contents of the secondary courses do not differ widely from one province to another. One must also note that graduation from a High School does not necessarily entitle a candidate to be admitted to a first degree course, unless a definite number of prescribed subjects have been taken by him in the secondary school examns. The number of such subjects is usually from five to seven (many including two papers) and the nature of these subjects varies from one course to another. English is always required (or French, in those institutions where that language is the medium of instruction), with usually another language (ancient or modern), History, Latin or Maths., a Science and one or more options from a rather generous list in most Univs.

It would be quite impossible to list all the various qualifications required by each Canadian Univ. and it would surely be misleading to summarize them. A survey is presently being made under the joint auspices of the Canadian Education Association and the National Conference of Canadian Universities, which will cover the whole field and it is expected that the report will be voluminous. The following table (v. pp. 1547-1549) attempts to present the general pattern that exists in each province, but it should only be considered as a bird's-eye view of the present situation.

Such variations as may be apparent in this list may give the idea that there is a degree of confusion, but Canada is well known for her effort to achieve unity in diversity and the apparent lack of uniformity in entrance requirements does not hinder the quality of the academic work of Canadian Univs. Each of them is adapted to the needs of the local population from which it draws the great majority of its students and manages to bring the latter from apparently different levels of previous schooling to a degree of higher learning that is practically comparable across the country.

Notes on Terms used in the Table

Grade XI. Canadian children are usually about 6 yrs. old when they first go to school. The term " Grade XI " in the table indicates that the student has been attending school for eleven yrs. Similarly " Grade XII " indicates twelve yrs.' school attendance. The average age of students entering University is 17 or 18 yrs. but exceptional students and a few of those who have attended special preparatory schools may be a yr. younger.

Junior Matriculation. The educational minimum acceptable for admission to most Canadian Universities is Junior Matriculation, which is also called Pass Matriculation, Middle School or Secondary School Graduation, and usually corresponds to the termination of Grade XI (except in Ontario and British Columbia where Grade XII is required for a similar certificate). Saskatchewan and Alberta have no Junior Matriculation.

Senior Matriculation. In each province, a twelfth (or thirteenth in Ontario and British Columbia) yr. is available which leads to the level of Senior Matriculation. Except in Ontario, where Toronto, Queen's and Western Ontario demand this higher certificate for entrance to all or to certain Faculties, this extra yr. practically corresponds to the first yr. of a Canadian Univ. course and, wherever accepted, reduces by one yr. the duration of the University course, save in British Columbia where partial credit only is granted.

(C) AUSTRALIA

[The statement which follows relates only to the admission of students proposing to take full courses leading to a first degree. For information regarding admission to courses leading to higher degrees, see the entries for the several Universities.]

GENERAL NOTE

The primary and secondary educational systems of the Australian States are the responsibility of the various state govts. Consequently they differ in many respects. However, they are all alike in that they prepare students to the standard necessary for matric. at the Univ. or Univs. established in their home state. In all cases there is some liaison between the state educational system and the Univs. in that state to ensure that candidates coming forward to the Univs. will be able to comply with the matric. requirements.

There is no provision for jt. matric. in Australia, each Univ. controlling its own admission requirements. Thus the Univs. of Adelaide, Melbourne, Queensland, Sydney, Tasmania and Western Australia and the New South Wales University of Technology have individual matric. requirements which are specified below.

The New England Univ. Coll. is a coll. of the Univ. of Sydney and requirements for matric. are those of the Univ. of Sydney.

The Canberra Univ. Coll. by arrangement with the Univ. of Melbourne conducts courses leading to degrees in that Univ. and consequently its admission requirements are those of the Univ. of Melbourne.

The Australian National Univ. was established primarily for post-grad. research and study and does not conduct courses leading to a first degree. The minimum academic requirement for admission to the Univ. is a Master's Degree (or its equivalent) from an Australian or other recognized Univ.

The admission requirements of the Australian Univs. have the same purpose, being designed to ascertain whether candidates are educationally fitted to undertake courses leading to a first degree. This may be done either at an examn. conducted by the Univ. or alternatively at an examn. conducted by the State Educn. Dept. In some cases passes are required in special subjects for entrance to the different Facs., in addition to the requirements for matric.

Although the requirements for entrance to the various Univs. are not uniform, all possible reciprocity is exercised in the interchange of students, whether from Australian or British Univs. In general the Univs. will admit to matric. ad eundem statum a student who has matriculated or qualified to matriculate at another Univ. of recognized standing, but in some cases the passing of special subjects at matric. standard, or of compulsory "prerequisite" subjects for particular courses, may be required.

Special facilities are offered for matric. in some Univs. to persons of mature age who have not had the opportunity of qualifying in the ordinary way and who pass certain special entrance tests.

Public Examinations in Australia

The following is a list of the public examns. in each state recognized by the Univs. for matric. purposes, except as indicated by an asterisk. The examns. are fully recognized only by the Univ. conducting them, though, as mentioned above, qualification for matric. by a student at the Univ. of his home state is generally recognized, in so far as standard is concerned, by the other Australian Univs.

| State | Examination | Secondary School Year in which Examination normally taken | Conducting Body |
|---|---|---|---|
| New South Wales and Australian Capital Territory | *Inter. Certif. E. | 3rd yr. | N.S.W. Dept of Ed. |

| | Leaving E. | 5th yr. | Univ. of W. Aust. |
| | Matric. E. | 5th yr. | Univ. of W. Aust. |

In each state the average age of entrance upon Univ. study is 17 plus.

Examns. are also conducted in Music in each state under the general auspices of the Australian Music Examns. Bd.

(a) United Kingdom and Dominions. Qualifications which entitle the holder to matric. in the corresponding Fac. in any recognized Univ. of the U.K. or of a Dominion are accepted, provided that the subjects prescribed for S. Australian candidates are included. The English G.C.E. is accepted on a basis similar to that required by English Univs., provided that certain subjects (other than English) specified at Leaving standard by Adel. have been passed at the Advanced level.

(b) Other Parts of the British Commonweatth. The requirements for candidates from other parts of the British Commonwealth, especially from South-Eastern and Eastern Asian countries, are at present (April 1953) under revision. In general it may be assumed that the new requirements will conform to those of U.K. Univs., so far as standard is concerned, and will include the specially prescribed subjects required by Adel. of its local candidates.

Candidates from India and Pakistan are required to have passed at a good standard in their own Univ.'s Inter. Examn. in Arts or Sci. and to have included in that examn. Engl. and such other prerequisite subject or subjects as may be specified in the Adel. requirements.

Law. Latin at the S. Australian Leaving Examn.

Arts. Either Latin or Greek at the S. Australian Leaving Examn.

A candidate who is unable to present acceptable evidence of matric. work done elsewhere must pass in appropriate subjects at the S. Australian Leaving Examn.

Mature Age

No provision on account of age is made for modification of the normal requirements for matric.

Special Cases

The Matric. Bd. may consider applications from candidates who have qualifications in secondary educn. but have not satisfied the normal requirements for matric. The Bd. usually does not exempt such a candidate from the specified entrance requirements, but it may admit him for 1 yr. under conditions which it specifies and which must be fulfilled within 1 yr.

TASMANIA

General Requirements

Examns. at which qualifications for matric. are obtained are (a) the Matric. Examn. conducted by the Univ.; (b) the Schools Bd. Certif. Examn. conducted by the Schools Bd. of Tasmania. Engl. Expression and 2 other subjects may be passed at the Schools Bd. Examn. or at the lower pass standard of the Matric. Examn. The remaining 3 subjects must be passed at the higher pass standard of the Matric. Examn. Students may be exempted from the requirement of having to pass in subjects of both groups (c) and (d), provided that a subject of one of the groups is passed and that a certain subsidiary standard is reached in a subject of the other group. Engl. Expression, one lower pass and the 3 higher passes must be gained in 2 sittings, examns. held in Dec. and the following Feb. counting as one sitting for this purpose. The remaining lower pass may be gained at any sitting. Schools Bd. subjects and corresponding Matric. subjects may not both be counted, e.g. Schools Bd. Maths. II may not be counted if Matric. Maths. A has been passed.

The normal minimum age for admission to Matric. is 17 yrs. but students under this age may be admitted if considered by the Professorial Bd. to be of exceptional ability. Persons over the age of 23 yrs. may be admitted to Matric. without having complied in full with the ordinary requirements.

Students who gain partial qualifications elsewhere may be awarded Matric. on passing such subjects of the Matric. Examn. as may be prescribed by the Professorial Bd.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

General Qualifications for Matriculation

The minimum age for matric. is 17 yrs. The normal method of satisfying minimum entrance requirements is by means of a qualifying examn. in which candidates must pass in Engl. and any 4 of the following subjects: Latin, Greek, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Hebrew, Russian, Hist., Indust. Hist. and Econ., Geog., Maths. A, Maths. B, Appl. Maths., Phys., Chem., Biol., Geol., Agric. Sci., Physiol. and Hyg., Music, Drawing.

The qualifying examns. include the W. Aust. Leaving Certif. Examn. held annually in Nov. and the Matric. Examn. conducted by the Univ. of W. Aust. in Feb. each yr. The prescribed subjects must be passed at not more than 2 examns., the Leaving Certif. Examn. and the Matric. Examn. being regarded as separate examns. Admission to the Matric. Examn. is restricted to persons who seek to complete matric. requirements and to be admitted to the Univ. in the same yr. There are no special requirements for entrance to any Fac.

Special Exemptions

Students of mature age may be admitted without passing the normal matric. examn. The age varies according to the Fac. concerned and in some cases a special mature age examn. is held, while in others students are required to provide satisfactory evidence that they possess educational qualifications sufficient to enable them to take the proposed course.

Exempting Qualifications

(i) Matric. in the corresponding Fac. in any other Univ. in Australia, N.Z., the U.K. or other approved Univ., Coll. or Inst.

(ii) Graduation in a Univ. in Australia, N.Z., the U.K. or other approved Univ.

(iii) Certifs. from other countries will receive separate consideration. Candidates from overseas must submit satisfactory evidence that they are qualified for the courses they propose to enter, including evidence of sufficient knowledge of the Engl. lang.

(D) SOUTH AFRICA

GENERAL. The qualificn. for entrance to a course of study for a first degree of any Univ. in South Africa is the Matric. Certif. of the Joint Matriculation Board for the nine Univs. in South Africa, or a Certif. of Exemption issued by that Bd. The Bd. was established by Act of Parliament passed in 1916 and has conducted the Matric. Examn. since 1918. Before that the Matric. Examn. was conducted by the now defunct Univ. of the Cape of Good Hope. For all practical purposes, therefore, the only recognized qualificn. for admission to a course of study for a first degree is the Matric. Certif., or the Exemption Certif. of the Bd. A successful candidate at the Matric. Examn. may be awarded either a School Leaving Certif. or a Matric. Certif., depending upon the subjects passed and the standards attained in specific subjects. The School Leaving Certif. is not an entrance qualificn. for a course leading to a degree, although it may be accepted by the Univs. for admission to courses of study leading to certain dipls. and certifs.

APPROVED SUBJECTS FOR THE MATRICULATION EXAMINATION. The list of approved subjects is as follows:

Section A. 1. English (H.) * (not to be taken with 2); 2. English (O.) *; 3. Afrikaans (H.) (not to be taken with 4, 5 or 6); 4. Afrikaans (O.) (not to be taken with 3, 5 or 6); 5. Nederlands (H.) (not to be taken with 3, 4 or 6); 6. Nederlands (O.) (not to be taken with 3, 4 or 5); 7. Latin; 8. Greek; 9. French; 10A. German A; and 10B. German B; 11. Portuguese; 12. Hebrew; 13. (not to be taken with 17 or 18); 17. Physics (not to be taken with 27); 18. Chem.; 19. Biol. (not to be taken with 20 or 21); 20. Bot.; 21. Zool.; 22. Geol.; 23. Agriculture; 24. Housecraft and Hygiene; 25. Hist.; 26. Geog.; 27. Mechanics; 28. Book-keeping and Commercial Arithmetic; 29. Art; 30. Music; 31. Geometrical Drawing.

Section B (may be taken only as 6th or 7th subject in the examn.). 32. Commerce; 33. Shorthand and Typewriting; 34. Additional Maths. (may not be taken without 15); 35. Nederlands (may be taken only by candidates also offering 3; and only up to March 1955).

Candidates are required to take, at one and the same examn., not fewer than six or more than seven subjects, and to pass in not fewer than five subjects with not less than 33⅓ per cent. in each of the five, and obtain a fixed minimum aggregate. Candidates so passing obtain EITHER School Leaving Certificates, if the subjects passed include (i) an official lang. (i.e. English or Afrikaans) † on the Higher Grade; (ii) Maths.

* H. = Higher Grade; O. = Ordinary Grade.

† The medium of instruction in the teaching Universities is predominantly either English or Afrikaans, viz. English at the Universities of Cape Town, Natal, Rhodes and the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, and Afrikaans at the Universities of the Orange Free State, Potchefstroom, Pretoria and Stellenbosch. The University of South Africa conducts examinations in both media for external students and it has a division of External Studies.

or a Sci. ; (iii) the other official lang., on the Higher or Ordinary Grade, or an approved Bantu lang. (i.e. 13, 14, 14A or 14B) or Latin or Greek or French or German or Hist. or Geog. or Portuguese or Hebrew or other lang. in which the Board decides to conduct an examn. ; (iv) and (v) any two subjects (not already taken) selected from Section A of the above list of approved subjects ; OR Matriculation Certificates, if the subjects passed include four subjects in each of which the candidate has obtained the Matric. standard of 40 per cent., viz. (I) an official lang. (i.e. English or Afrikaans) on the Higher Grade ; (II) the other official lang., on the Higher or Ordinary Grade, or an approved Bantu lang. (i.e. 13, 14, 14A or 14B) or Latin or Greek or French or German ; (III) Maths. or a Sci. ; (IV) Maths. if not taken under (III) or another lang. from (II) or Hist. or Geog. or Portuguese or Hebrew or other lang. in which the Bd. decides to conduct an examn. Candidates who are awarded a Matric. Certif. must have either (i) included in their four subjects Maths. or an approved lang. other than English or Afrikaans or Nederlands, or (ii) taken Maths. or an approved lang. other than English or Afrikaans or Nederlands, as a fifth subject, and obtained not less than 33⅓ per cent. of the total marks.

The four Provincial Depts. of Education in the Union (Cape, Natal, Orange Free State and the Transvaal) conduct examns. for a sr. certif. on syllabuses approved by the Bd. These examns. are recognized by the Bd. for exemption from its own Matric. Examn. subject to conditions prescribed by the Bd.

FACULTY AND DEPARTMENTAL REQUIREMENTS. Although the Bd.'s Matric. Certif. or Certif. of Exemption is the normal requirement for admission to a Univ., certain subjects are prescribed by the Univs. as prerequisites for enrolment in some Depts. or Facs. A student is advised to have a broad general educn. and to take for the Matric. Certif. at least two of the subjects, Maths., Latin, Greek, French, German, in addition to both official langs., i.e. Afrikaans and English. Maths. is essential for Agric., Archit., Forestry, Med. and Quantity Surveying, and highly desirable for courses in Accountancy, Engin., Land Surveying and Sci. A knowledge of Latin of matric. standard is necessary for Law. Further particulars of Fac. and Departmental requirements should be obtained direct from the Registrars of the individual Univs., not from the Joint Matriculation Board.

OVERSEAS EXAMINATIONS. The Bd. recognizes for purposes of exemption School Certifs. issued by a number of overseas bodies if the Certifs. entitle the holder to unconditional admission to an approved Univ. in the country of origin and the subjects passed and the standard attained are in accordance with the Bd.'s regulns. for its own Matric. Certif. As examples, a Credit in a subject for the Cambridge School Certif. and for the School Certif. of the Joint Matriculation Board of the Northern Univs. in England (cf. p. 1496) is accepted as equivalent to a "40% pass," and a pass in a subject for the Higher Certif. of the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examn. Board is accepted. Exemption is given subject for subject (English Lang. is recognized as fulfilling the requirement for exemption from English, but not English Lit.).

The Board may issue either a Certif. of full exemption or a Certif. of conditional exemption which may be converted into a Certif. of full exemption if the holder fulfils specified conditions within a prescribed time.

Overseas qualificns. recognized by the Bd. include: the School Certifs. awarded by each of the eight Examining Bodies in England and Wales recognized by the Ministry of Education for England and Wales (v. supra, p. 1496); the General Certifs. of Educn. awarded, in and after 1951, by the same eight Examining Bodies; the Higher School Certifs. of five of these Examining Bodies (i.e. Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examn. Bd.; Northern Jt. Matric. Bd.; London Univ.; Oxford Local Examns. Delegacy; Univ. of Cambridge Local Examns. Syndicate; Central Welsh Bd.); Intermediate Examn., First Class, of Indian Univs.; Matric. or other entrance certif. of other approved Univs.; Leaving Certif. of Education Depts. or Secondary Schools entitling holder to admission to an approved Univ.; Leaving Certifs. of Education Depts. of Scotland and Eire; Hoofdakte (Holland).

SPECIAL EXEMPTION. Non-matriculated candidates over the age of 25 who desire to proceed to a degree and are not eligible for exemption under the ordinary regulns. may, under certain conditions, be specially exempted from Matric. on the recommendation of a Univ. Such candidates cannot be admitted to a degree unless they have not only completed the curriculum for the degree but have also fulfilled any other conditions for exemption from the Matric. Examn.

A full and official statement of the Matriculation requirements of the South African Universities is contained in the annual Matriculation Examination Handbook published by the Joint Matriculation Board, P.O. Box 392, Pretoria, South Africa. Full details of each University's Faculty and Departmental prerequisites, which are additional to the Joint Matriculation Board's requirements, should be obtained direct from the Registrar of the University, not from the Joint Matriculation Board.

COMMONWEALTH STUDIES IN UNITED KINGDOM UNIVERSITIES

A summary of the regulations governing the admission of students from the Commonwealth overseas to the United Kingdom Universities will be found in Appendix I above.

Appendix II lists many Fellowships and Scholarships which are tenable at United Kingdom Universities and University Colleges and for which graduates from the Commonwealth overseas are eligible to compete. University teachers on study leave, and postgraduate research workers, wishing to travel to the United Kingdom from another part of the Commonwealth, should note especially the Commonwealth University Interchange arrangements summarized on p. 1568. The awards listed in Appendix II are " open," i.e. not restricted to graduates of any one University. There are also other, restricted, awards, e.g. the Beaverbrook Scholarships tenable only at London University by graduates from the University of New Brunswick, Mount Allison University and University of Bishop's College, Lennoxville; the " Toronto " Fund, administered by Manchester University, from which grants are made to Canadian students, with a preference for those from the University of Toronto, who wish to conduct postgraduate study or research at Manchester; and the " 1940 Toronto Fund " (set up in 1947 with funds derived from contributions from Oxford parents of children who received hospitality in Canada during the war), from which grants are made to undergraduates or graduates of the University of Toronto who wish to attend a United Kingdom University.

Commonwealth Fellowships are sponsored by the Carnegie Corporation of New York in collaboration with the Institute of Commonwealth Studies (University of London), the Royal Institute of International Affairs, London, and St. Antony's College, Oxford. A limited number of fellowships is offered from time to time to scholars in Commonwealth Universities to enable them to spend a period of approximately 1 yr. at one of the collaborating institutions. The fellowships are by invitation only and individual applications are not entertained.

There are ample facilities at United Kingdom Universities and Colleges for the study of the Commonwealth and Colonial aspects of a great many subjects, including Agriculture, Anthropology, Archæology, Botany, Economics, Geography, History, Law, Medicine (especially Tropical Medicine), Politics and Zoology. For details, see individual University entries above and the official publications of the various Universities. Attention is drawn to the following appointments and institutes BRISTOL. Professor of Imperial History; Lecturer in Colonial History and Administration.

CAMBRIDGE. A Smuts Memorial Fund, raised by public subscription to commemorate General Smuts' part in the development of the conception of the Commonwealth, has been presented to the University for the endowment of Commonwealth Studies at Cambridge. The establishment of a Smuts Professorship of the History of the British Commonwealth was a first charge on the fund, and P. N. S. Mansergh, O.B.E., B.Litt., M.A., D.Phil. Oxon., has been elected the first Professor. A Board of Managers will make recommendations from time to time for the advancement of Commonwealth Studies, in the widest sense of the term, by the use of the remainder of the income of the fund.

LONDON. The University of London established in 1949 an Institute of Commonwealth Studies, with the object of promoting the study of Commonwealth problems (see p. 217); further information from the Librarian/Secretary, 27 Russell Square, London, W.C.1. The University maintains the following Chairs and Readerships in Commonwealth subjects: Chairs—Commonwealth Affairs; Imperial History; Education, with special reference to Education in Colonial Areas. Readerships—Colonial Administration; Imperial History; Law, with special reference to administration of Law in Colonial Territories.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Trinity College was founded and incorporated by Royal Charter in 1592 as "Mater Universitatis," but no other College has been founded, so that "Dublin Univ." and "Trinity College" are practically interchangeable terms. The Corporation of the College was put on its present basis by Letters Patent in 1637. Letters Patent of 1911 transferred the powers of making statutes from the Crown to the Corporation, subject to the consent of a majority of the Fellows and the approval of the Visitors. The general government of the College is in the hands of the Board of Trinity College, which consists of the Provost, Senior Fellows, 2 representatives of Junior Fellows and 2 representatives of the non-Fellow Profs. The Univ. Council, formed by representatives from the Board and various Faculties and Schools, has the right of nomination to most Professorships, and in conjunction with the Board can make changes in the curriculum, but otherwise has only advisory functions.

The College occupies a large site in the middle of the city, with ample grounds for recreation and athletics.

INCOME (1952–53). Total income, £246,000 (Govt. grant, 35·5 per cent.; endowments, 29 per cent.; fees, 35·5 per cent.).

The LIBRARY of Trinity College has enjoyed since 1801 the privilege of receiving a copy of every book published in the United Kingdom. It contains about 532,000 printed books, amongst which there is, in the Fagel Library, a group of early pamphlets relating to the Dutch and English East and West India Companies. The MSS. are over 2000 in number, and include an important collection in Irish. A General Catalogue of the MSS. was published in 1900, and a Revised Catalogue of the Irish MSS. in 1921. A Catalogue of Printed Books in the library in 1872 was published in 1887. The Lecky Library, based on the library of the historian W. E. H. Lecky, caters for the schools of Hist., Econ. and Legal Sci. There are smaller libraries in the Schools of Mod. Langs., Med., Maths., Nat. Scis., Geog., Philol. and Educn.

MUSEUMS. The scientific museums include Zool. and Comp. Anat., Geol. and Mineral., Anat., Path. The Zoological collection is one of the best in the country. # APPENDIX VII

ANGLO-AMERICAN ACADEMIC RELATIONS

A summary of the regulations governing the admission of American students to United Kingdom Universities will be found in Appendix I above.

Appendix II lists many fellowships and scholarships which are tenable at United Kingdom Universities and University Colleges and for which American graduates are eligible to compete. Appendix III, although it does not claim to be exhaustive, contains information about some of the more important postgraduate awards, e.g. the Commonwealth Fund, English-Speaking Union, Henry, King George VI Memorial, Procter and Smith-Mundt awards, tenable in the United States of America by British graduates. For Fulbright and Marshall awards, see below. The awards noted in Appendices II and III are "open," i.e. not restricted to graduates of any one University. Some United Kingdom Universities have also arranged direct exchanges of their staff, graduates or senior students with American institutions, e.g. St. Mary's Hospital Medical School (University of London) has a regular exchange scheme at graduate level with the Peter Brent Brigham Hospital, Boston (associated with Harvard University); and the University of Glasgow exchanges a scholar annually with Cornell University.

There are facilities at many United Kingdom Universities and Colleges for the study of American aspects of such subjects as History, Literature and Economics. For details, see individual University entries above, and the official publications of the various Universities. Attention is drawn to the following:

CAMBRIDGE. Pitt Professorship of American History and Institutions. The Professor is elected annually, with tenure for one year. Salary, £1950 p.a. 1953–54: C. D. Edwards, Director of the Bureau of Industrial Economics, Federal Trade Commission, Washington; 1954–55: J. H. Brebner, Professor of History at Columbia Univ.

LONDON. Commonwealth Fund Professorship of American History, tenable at University College. The Commonwealth Fund of New York appropriated $214,500 in 1929 to endow a Department of American History at University College, University of London, including a professorship and assistants. Present holder: Professor H. Hale Bellot, M.A. Oxon. A sum of £4991 was raised in London and New York, the income of which is available for the library of American History at the College and the library on the same subject at the Institute of Historical Research, University of London, Senate House, London, W.C.1.

MANCHESTER. Department of American Studies. The Dept. was instituted in 1948, when Prof. I. L. Kandel, formerly Professor of Education at Columbia Univ., was appointed Professor of American Studies; he retired in 1950. The Dept. gives courses which may form part of the Ordinary degrees of B.A., B.A.(Mus.), B.A.(Com.) and B.A. (Admin.); research students are also accepted. The staff of the Dept. consists of 1 Lectr., 1 full-time and 1 pt.-time Asst. Lectr. See also p. 374.

OXFORD. George Eastman Visiting Professorship. At the time of his election, the Professor must be an American citizen "eminent in teaching or research in any branch of University study." Period of appointment is normally from 1 to 5 years. Appointments are made to the Professorship with a view to the representation of different subjects of study by successive appointees. 1953–54: W. Van O. Quine, M.A. Ball (Harvard).

Harold Vyvyan Harmsworth Professorship of American History. At the time of his election the Professor, whose term of office is 1 to 5 years, must be an American citizen. 1953–54: R. A. Billington, Ph.B. Wis., M.A. Mich., Ph.D Harv.

WALES. University College of Wales, Aberystwyth. Lectures are given in the Dept. of History on the History of the United States of America 1783–1941. The lecturer appointed is normally a specialist in American History (at present A. A. Conway, M.A. Lond.).

SIR GEORGE WATSON CHAIR OF AMERICAN HISTORY, LITERATURE AND INSTITUTIONS, founded 1920. The holder, in alternate years a British and American authority on one of the subjects, delivers a course of lectures at a British University or other institution. Lecturer, 1953: R. F. Harrod. Subject: "The Dollar." Lecturer, 1954: Dr. Robert Hutchins. Subject: "The Idea of an American University." The Foundation is administered by the Sulgrave Manor Board and all communications should be addressed to the Secretary (G. M. Veit, M.A.), 37 Charles St., Berkeley Sq., London, W.1. Telephone: Mayfair 7400, ext. 20.

UNITED STATES EDUCATIONAL COMMISSION IN THE UNITED KINGDOM. Under the provisions of the Fulbright Act of the United States Congress, part of the currencies and credits of other countries (including several in the Commonwealth) acquired by the United States through the sale of surplus property abroad can be used for educational exchanges. Scholarships for research and study in Britain or the Colonies are available to American graduate students, and awards are also made to visiting American professors and lecturers and advanced research students, while sterling grants covering transatlantic fares and United States rail costs are made to British professors, lecturers, research workers and graduate students going to American Universities, the funds available to the Commission allowing for an expenditure up to £357,000 p.a. The Fulbright programme in the United Kingdom is administered by the United States Educational Commission in the United Kingdom, which was established by an agreement between the United Kingdom and the United States Governments in Sept. 1948 as a joint Commission of seven British and seven American members.

MARSHALL SCHOLARSHIPS. To express the United Kingdom's gratitude to the United States Government and people for the European Recovery Programme, H.M. Government has, under the Marshall Aid Commemoration Act, 1953, established a scheme of scholarships tenable at Universities and University Colleges in the United Kingdom by citizens of the United States. The scheme is administered by a Commission of nine persons under the chairmanship of Sir Oliver Franks, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., C.B.E., the Executive Secretary being Dr. J. F. Foster, of 5 Gordon Square, London, W.C.1. Twelve scholarships, tenable for two years with a possibility of extension to a third and of a normal value of £550 per year, with transatlantic fares, are offered each year to United States graduates of both sexes under 28 years of age. High academic ability and wide interests are demanded of the candidates. The primary selection of scholars is made in the U.S.A. by regional committees whose secretariates are at H.M. Consulates-General in New York, New Orleans, Chicago and San Francisco, where full particulars and application forms may be obtained. The first Marshall Scholars will enter British Universities in October 1954, the closing date for applications having been September 1, 1953.

INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY ORGANIZATIONS

THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITIES (I.A.U.) was formed, and its constitution adopted, by the delegates of 167 Universities and institutions of higher learning from 52 different countries, at the International Conference of Universities held at Nice in Dec. 1950. The first steps towards its formation had been taken by the Preparatory Conference of Universities organized at Utrecht in Aug. 1948 by UNESCO, in collaboration with the Netherlands Government.

The purpose of the Association, as defined in its constitution, is " to provide a centre of co-operation at the international level among the Universities and similar institutions of higher education of all countries, as well as among organizations in the field of higher education generally." The organs of the Association are: the General Conference of Universities, meeting at least once every five years; the President of the Association, elected by the General Conference and holding office until the next meeting of the General Conference; the Administrative Board of the Association, of which the President of the Association is chairman; the International Universities Bureau, (I.U.B.), which is the Association's secretariat and maintains documentation, information and research services at the disposal of all institutions of higher education. It also publishes quarterly the Bulletin of the International Association of Universities, together with a series of special brochures (No. I—Health at the University; No. II (in preparation)—The Financing of Higher Education). Other publications include: Report of the International Conference of Universities, Nice, December 1950 (1951); University Degree Systems (1952); The Rôle of the Universities, by Dr. B. A. Houssay (1952); International List of Universities (1952 and 1954); Provisional Report, 9th Dec. 1950–31st Jan. 1952, and Report of the Administrative Board for the years 1952 and 1953.

The following are at present in office: President of Association and Chairman of Administrative Bd., Dr. Jean Sarrailh, Rector, Univ. of Paris; Vice-President of Association and Vice-Chairman of Administrative Bd., Dr. S. C. Roberts, Univ. of Cambridge; Members of Administrative Bd., Vice-Chancellor E. Ashby, The Queen's Univ., Belfast; Vice-Recteur J. Baugniet, Univ. Libre de Bruxelles; Rettore C. Cereti, Univ. di Genova; Prof. M. C. Chagas, Univ. Nacional de Brasil; S. R. Dongerkery, Registrar, Univ. of Bombay; Prof. W. Erbe, Univ. of Tübingen; Prof. M. H. Fisch, Univ. of Illinois; Recteur L. Garrido, Univ. Autonoma Nacional de Mexico; President M. V. De Los Santos, Univ. of Manila; Prof. J. Nielsen, Univ. of Copenhagen; Dean F. Rogers, Harvard Graduate School of Arts and Sciences; Prof.

T. Saglam, Univ. of Istanbul; Rector A. Siassi, Univ. of Teheran. Secretary-General of Association and Director of International Universities Bureau, H. M. Keyes. Postal Address: 19 Avenue Kléber, Paris 16. Telephone: Kléber 52-00, Balzac 24-08.

INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS AND LECTURERS. I.A.U.P.L. took shape from the amalgamation of two sources: the movement towards co-operation among University personnel, under the name of the International University Conference, which was inaugurated by the United Kingdom Association of University Teachers in 1934; and the activities and discussions of University teachers and research workers who were temporary inhabitants of Great Britain during the recent world war and who, with some British colleagues, formed themselves into the Association of Professors and Lecturers of the Allied Countries in Great Britain. Provisional statutes of I.A.U.P.L. were adopted at the Oxford Conference in 1944, and definitive statutes at the Brussels Conference in 1947.

I.A.U.P.L. is a democratically constituted, federal organization of separate national associations of University teachers. Since its formation I.A.U.P.L. has grown considerably in membership of national sections and groups, and in 1953 comprised 25 such affiliated associations, representing a total membership of some 56,000 University teachers. Each of the affiliated national associations retains its identity and autonomy. There are some individual members of I.A.U.P.L. where such national, University or College staff associations do not exist.

The broad aims of I.A.U.P.L. are the development of academic fraternity among University teachers of the various countries across national and faculty boundaries; the protection of the independence and freedom of teaching and research; the furtherance of the interests of University teachers; and the consideration of any academic problems, whether initiated by the Association itself or referred to it by Governments, or Universities, or by UNESCO.

I.A.U.P.L. is a non-governmental, non-political, non-sectarian body. It is recognized as holding consultative status by UNESCO and by other United Nations organizations. It works in friendly co-operation with similar organizations in other fields of University work and life.

Its academic programme has comprised: the scheme for the establishment of an International Universities Bureau (1948) (see p. 1702), and of an International Institute of Social Sciences (1949) (this project is still under discussion by a UNESCO committee); the report on Student Health Services (1950); on Recurrent Long Leave (1950); a continuing report on the Equivalences of University Degree Systems (1948, 1950, 1953); a study on the Exchange of University Personnel (1953); a continuing report on Academic Freedom; a comprehensive study of the conditions of Salary, Superannuation and Status of University Teachers in various countries; and a current enquiry into the relations between Scientific Research in Universities and in industry. In its coming programme I.A.U.P.L. intends to study the questions of the place of the Universities in training for management and executive posts in industry, visiting professorships and staff-student committees.

These and other topics of interest to all University teachers are discussed at annual international conferences which, since the war, have been held at Oxford, Brussels, Paris, Basle, Florence, Nice and Amsterdam. The 1954 Conference is to be held in Vienna.

Journal—Communication, normally published 3 times a year. General Secretary—Professor F. T. H. Fletcher. Organizing Secretary—Dr. Livesey Haworth, 19 Dunraven Street, London, W.1. Telephone : Mayfair 5934.

THE INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN, founded in 1919, is a world-wide organization of women who have had a University training. Membership is open to all qualified University women without distinction of race, religion or political opinion, through National Associations which are affiliated in over 30 countries, with a total membership of over 146,000.

The aim of the Federation is to promote understanding and friendship among University women of different nationalities, and so to further their common interests and to develop sympathy and co-operation between their countries. The Federation offers members research fellowships, travel facilities, opportunity for exchange of posts and an organization for combined action to improve their professional status. Since 1936 it has built up special funds to assist University women in distress as a result of war or political upheaval.

The work of the Federation is planned by a Conference of delegates of the National Associations, of which there can be only one affiliated from each country. The Conference meets every three years to receive reports, to elect officers, to define policy, to consider new developments and to discuss questions of general interest. Between Conferences there are meetings of the Council, on which each National Association has one representative, and of Standing International Committees responsible for the direction of special activities. The International Headquarters Office in London acts as a co-ordinating centre.

The publications of the Federation include the International Glossary of Academic Terms (1939), Human Rights : the Task before Us (1950), an annual Report and a periodical News-Letter.

Executive Secretary—Miss M. C. Hermes, M.B.E., B.A. Postal Address : 1 Sedding St., London, S.W.1. Cables : Ifederuw, London. Telegrams : Ifederuw, Knights, London. Telephone : Sloane 8281.

WORLD UNIVERSITY SERVICE (formerly International Student Service) has developed from the feeling for mutual assistance between members of the world University community which led to the formation of the University Committee of the Imperial War Relief Fund in 1920.

W.U.S. to-day is a fellowship of over thirty national committees co-ordinated by an International Secretariat in Geneva. It seeks to promote the free flow of information and to create a spirit of understanding between members of Universities and Colleges throughout the world. In war-devastated and undeveloped countries W.U.S. helps to establish new student hostels, clinics, sanatoria, rest centres, and refugee camps ; as far as its funds permit, it provides drugs, supplementary food and clothing for individual students and lecturers in need, and books, stationery, laboratory equipment and periodicals are sent to Universities where they are lacking. In Britain, students are recruited by W.U.S. for overseas conferences, study tours, seminars and vacation courses, travel bursaries often being made available. Hospitality is sought for colonial and foreign students in Britain, and W.U.S. seeks to develop the interest of British students in University life abroad.

The International Headquarters of W.U.S. is at 13 rue Calvin, Geneva, Switzerland.

UNESCO AND UNIVERSITIES. UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, directly and indirectly fosters international contacts among Universities all over the world and encourages them to give mutual assistance in various fields of their activities. The annual UNESCO publication, Study Abroad, lists more than 43,000 fellowships offered by Governments and other bodies to students of various nations to enable them to study abroad.

UNESCO gave impulse and assistance to the representatives of various national Universities in the organization of two University Conferences: at Utrecht in 1948 and at Nice in 1950. (See I.A.U. above.)

UNESCO maintains close working relations with the international University bodies listed above and with the international student organizations. All these organizations benefit from a special consultative arrangement with UNESCO.

The working programme of UNESCO includes several activities of importance to the Universities, such as, upon their request, assisting them to obtain books and other equipment; helping certain countries to find University teachers abroad; publishing quarterly lists of University staff wishing to consider a teaching assignment abroad; organizing assistance to refugee students; maintaining special regional offices throughout the world to promote co-operation among scientists in the area; offering assistance to international organizations in all fields of education, science, and culture, and promoting the creation and development of such organizations; promoting the creation of research centres on an international basis (e.g. a computation centre); working for an improvement in scientific abstracting. The Universities of different countries often provide UNESCO with experts to carry out these projects.

The programme of UNESCO is carried out by the 69 Member States, assisted by a secretariat, headed by the Director-General. Postal Address: 19 Avenue Kléber, Paris 16. Telegrams: Unesco Paris. Telephone: Kléber 52-00, Balzac 24-02.
